Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Chairman, during the year, the EDD made substantive progress in strengthening Bermuda's Family Office Solutions Framework, collaborating with the Ministry of Economy and Labour HQ, the Ministry of Finance, the Bermuda Monetary Authority, the Registrar of Companies, and key industry stakeholders. The framework is to offer comprehensive support for ultrahigh-net-worth families, ensuring asset protection, legacy preservation, flexible governance, and integrated lifestyle services.

This initiative underscores Bermuda's commitment to providing a stable, compliant, and competitive environment for family offices, reinforcing the Island's appeal to international investors.

The EDD also contributed to Bermuda's legislative modernisation efforts, and specifically to the passage of the Companies and Limited Liability Company Amendment Act 2024, which removes the requirement for ministerial consent for leasing property for employee accommodations. This reform streamlines business operations while maintaining Bermuda's regulatory integrity. Additionally, ongoing work includes the introduction of public benefit companies and the simplification of private trust company regulations, as well as easing administrative burdens, further enhancing Bermuda's attractiveness as an investment jurisdiction.

Key legislative changes include the Trusts Exemption Amendment Order, which simplifies the regulatory requirements for Private Trust Companies by eliminating the need for Ministerial consent when adding trusts. Furthermore, the EDD supported the Government's review of industry-proposed amendments to Bermuda's Trustee Act 1975, which would allow trustees to align investment strategies with contemporary family values, including responsible and sustainable investing. This review is ongoing. The upcoming Benefit Entities Bill to support the introduction of public benefit companies is another forward-thinking initiative designed to facilitate impact-driven corporate structures, enabling businesses to achieve financial returns while delivering positive social and environmental outcomes.

Madam Chairman, in 2025/26, the EDD will continue advancing key legislative efforts, including the Family Office Solutions Framework and the rollout of the Maritime Business Permitting System. In the future, these Research and Legislative Support performance measures will be rolled into those of the next programme, Analysis and Policy.

Programme 9403—Analysis and Policy

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Chairman, over the past fiscal year, the department's Analysis and Policy Division has primarily focused on engaging with the community, composed of employers, investors, partners, educators, as well as learners, primarily in the various fields of emerging technology.

1. Publishing Articles and Editorial Content. Once again, the EDD exceeded its target for this performance measure by making more enhanced use of its social media channels and other tools. The department uses both traditional media and social media throughout the year to keep the public informed of its work, aware of its initiatives and projects, and invited to benefit from its offerings. It also uses well-known magazines and journals to increase awareness of its activities. Looking ahead, the EDD plans to continue sharing updates with the various media outlets so the public can stay informed about its efforts and accomplishments.

2. [Completing Stakeholder Engagement Initiatives.] The EDD continues to support innovation and workforce development through strategic collaborations that extend to digital literacy, cybersecurity, entrepreneurship, and emerging technologies. The EDD advances local talent and positions Bermuda as a global hub for technology and innovation.

- a. Cybersecurity 101. The EDD awarded a grant to cover hacking techniques, malware, and defence strategies through hands-on training. Plans for future sessions are underway.

And so, what I am doing right now, Madam Chairman, is just highlighting the initiatives that the Economic Development Department has actually executed on as it pertains to capacity building through stakeholder engagement enforcing strategic partnerships. And so, you can see that we have executed on cybersecurity training with CyberSmarts pilot. We also support the Annual Business Awards in the technology category through the BDC. The EDD funded three innovations sprints, which include projects like Genomics [NFT] and Digital [Medical] Twin. We also assisted with the funding of the Technology Leadership Forum and with summer internship. We initiate community offerings and skill and capacity development activities such as the FinTech Training Programme. We run monthly FinTech webinars.

And also, the EDD was very instrumental in the Bermuda Coders Initiative. The Bermuda Coders Initiative is a three-year programme that offers free digital skills for all residents. It was launched with support from the UAE and through it, participants can earn certifications and enhance Bermuda's tech-readiness and workforce development goals.

Looking ahead to the 2025/26 fiscal year, the EDD remains focused on delivering ongoing business services initiatives and projects. This includes continued support for the growth of emerging sectors. The department is also committed to boosting and promoting the value of Bermuda-based talent—highlighting the skills, experience, and professional networks that [local] workers bring to incoming investors and employers.

I think what is important is that we make the appropriate connection between the way in which the world is evolving in technology and ensuring that we invest in the human capital so that we have inclusive growth in Bermuda. What we do not want to see is we have emerging sectors, we have emerging use of technology, and we do not see the equal integration of the human capital development in our community. And so what EDD is doing is striking an appropriate balance in terms of promoting new industry, promoting the utilisation of technology but also ensuring that we invest in the people of Bermuda to bring them along the journey with us.

Programme 9405—Concierge and Engagement

Hon. Jason Hayward: The EDD's Concierge and Engagement Services Division provides assistance to international businesses that choose Bermuda as their preferred jurisdiction to domicile. The services provided benefit the overall economy by allowing the efficient inward flow of investment into Bermuda. And that is an important feature of the value proposition of Bermuda. When persons are looking for places to domicile they are also looking for soft landings and the EDD is well poised to provide the support to ensure that the person gets the personal services that they require, that they can engage in an efficient and effective manner with government departments that they require, as well as ensuring that the capital that they wish to invest in Bermuda goes directly into the corporate structure that they set up as well. So, kudos to the EDD for the work that is being done in that particular area.

I think it is important to recognise that there is high demand for companies to domicile in Bermuda. If you look at the statistics that the BMA puts out, you will see that there is an increase in licensing in a number of categories. And so, there are companies that are still seeking to domicile in Bermuda. We are held in high esteem as it pertains to our regulatory environment, especially in the area of digital assets. And there are a number of companies who are looking to domicile in Bermuda as well. As those companies are seeking Bermuda, they are also seeking clarity on the process of having boots on the ground and the EDD plays a very significant role in bridging that particular gap.

Madam Chairman, by streamlining and expediting government processes, the EDD helps shorten the time it takes for new companies to set up and start operating in Bermuda which allows for faster job creation and revenue generation—and that is the aim of that concierge service—to ensure that the capital is put to work in a very efficient and effective manner.

Madam Chairman, I invite Honourable Members to note these initiatives are a testament to Bermuda's ongoing activities as it pertains to economic diversification. The EDD is responsible for ensuring that we have full execution of the items within the Economic Development Strategy.

I would like to let the Shadow Minister know that my team is currently working on reports for the first strategic priority areas underneath the Economic Investment Strategy. We will clearly outline the progress that is being made in that particular space. And so, if he wants to reserve questions regarding that, I will defer those to when those reports are submitted. It is my aim to submit those reports in this House, in this particular session, on an ongoing basis.

But what we want to do is ensure that they are presented in a clear manner. What I just don't want to do is just highlight 50 initiatives that we are executing on. What I want to do is put it in an organised manner so that persons know how the strategic initiatives in the Economic Development Strategy are actually being executed on in an individual level and that the work that we are doing directly aligns with that particular initiative as well.

BERMUDA ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION (BEDC)

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to present the budget for the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation, a quango under the Ministry of Economy and Labour. The grant, through the Economic Development Department, can be found on page C-19 of the Budget Book.

Madam Chairman, the mandate of the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation (BEDC) is to oversee the operations of the Economic Empowerment Zones (EEZs), to provide financial support and technical advice to small- and medium-sized businesses, to manage the operations of outside vendor markets, and to managing vendors and issuing vending licences. The organisation's key objective remains to assist the Government in encouraging economic growth for Bermuda's local small- and medium-sized businesses.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Jason Hayward: A total of $2,238,752 has been allocated as a grant for this quango for 2025/26, which represents no increase from the previous year.

The total current expenditure for the BEDC is estimated to be $5,344,000—

[Pause]

The Chairman: Is that correct, Minister?

Hon. Jason Hayward: No, no. What happens is . . . it's a number that is written and the wording of that number. And so, I thought I would cheat and just read the wording of the number, and the word number is actually not correct. And so that messed me up a bit. So, I'll go ahead and just read the actual number—

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Jason Hayward: —which is $5,344,252.

[Pause]

Hon. Jason Hayward: So overall, that is just is a decrease of $421 million, or 7 per cent, compared to 2024/25. This decrease is due primarily to the reduction in anticipated revenues as there will be no increase in the Government grant, there will be less carryover funds from 2024/25, and revenues from fees for services will be less.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Jason Hayward: The BEDC has carried over $2,000,000 into 2025/26 for major capital investment projects and initiatives aligned with the Government's Economic Recovery Plan and economic development goals. Specifically, investment in the development of the Vertical Farm project to facilitate food security, lower food cost, develop farm co-ops, and create jobs in a newly evolved area of the agriculture industry.

Manpower

Hon. Jason Hayward: For all it achieves, the BEDC is a relatively small and agile organisation. There is a staffing complement of 18 [full-time posts].

I think what is most impressive about BEDC is the work that it actually does. If you are a small- or medium-sized business in Bermuda, there is no doubt that you are well aware of the services of the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation. And if you were not aware, I would like to highlight some of the services that they do provide. But when we look at business advisement and engagement, the BEDC conducted over 625 client meetings in 2024/25 providing confidential business advice tailored to entrepreneurial needs.

This is important to note. When we look at 625 client meetings in 2025, we talk about the number of engagement and touch points with Bermuda's actual entrepreneurs. These services received a 92 per cent satisfaction rating from exit surveys. In addition, 219 business visits were conducted in 2024/25 through weekly walkabouts within the EEZs enhancing support for local enterprises and promoting connectivity. Twelve businesses opened in the EEZs bringing 21 jobs to the market.

And so, I think it's important when we look at this, there is a great appetite for entrepreneurship and small business development that we ought to continue to highlight. Without getting into the weeds of debate about doom and gloom, I want to say that the numbers actually reflect that there is great interest in expanding business offerings in Bermuda. There is confidence in our economy and persons are seeking out assistance for their ideas.

What we want to do is ensure that we have our entrepreneurship ecosystem that supports our budding entrepreneurs, and that is the work that the BEDC is primarily doing. When we talk about 12 businesses opened up in EEZs, we are talking about 12 businesses in either the small Somerset village area in the town of St. George's, or we are talking about in North East Hamilton, and 21 new additional jobs created. I think that is a testament to the work that is done to strengthen support for persons in those areas. But that is only a fraction of the jobs that are created outside of our economic empowerment zones.

The BEDC has provided financial support and approved 24 microloans, providing $687,000 in financing to local micro-, small- and medium-sized enterprises. BEDC also supported clients and maintaining financial stability while managing its loan portfolio. And so, the BEDC just doesn't issue loans to our entrepreneurs, they also provide ongoing support. And so, it's kind of our nurturing environment.

I had the pleasure of touring Economic Development corporations in the East Coast of the United States and the majority of the small businesses that start up in those citizen states survive as a result of incubator and accelerator programmes providing the necessary support. And I think that this is what we're talking about. When we have a support of entrepreneurship ecosystem, we are talking about these things sometimes in the microloans and the additional support that organisations like the BEDC provide.

In 2024/25, the BEDC received 733 payments on microloans and interest totalling $531,000 which includes 35 business owners paying off their loans fully to BEDC.

So, what does that tell us, Madam Chairman? That actually tells us that persons are being supported. They are in a position where they're paying back their loans and we had 35 businesses who would have obtained loans from the BEDC, whose loans are fully paid off in the last fiscal period. And so that kind of talks to a testament of the business survival in Bermuda.

We would hear stories that businesses are closing down on an ongoing rate, but what we see is that persons are able to make their financial obligations and also to the extent where they pay off their loans as well. I think what's also important is that the BEDC continues to increase the membership on its business register. And its membership on its business register increased by 333 entrepreneurs or 15.4 per cent in 2024/25 and it currently has a total registration of 2,528 registrants.

Madam Chairman, 72 per cent of the new members identify as sole proprietors and 15 [per cent] as vendors, and 62 [per cent] were registered as starting a new business. So, 62 per cent of the 333 new business registrants were starting a new business. That is well over 150 new small- and medium-sized businesses that have been started in Bermuda in 2024/25. I think that is encouraging. It shows a level of resilience, but it shows that Bermuda does have an entrepreneurship spirit, and we need to find better ways of unlocking the potential that the residents of Bermuda actually have. But I believe that these numbers are a clear testament that there is confidence in the economy and persons are opening up business and they are seeking support to do so.

The Chairman: If I could be excused for just a second, Minister.

We are currently at 12:27 pm. The house normally breaks for lunch at 12:30 pm. I don't know whether you want to move on to the next heading or you've got some of this you want to continue or . . . I just wanted to make you aware of the time.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Chairman, what I will do is I will ask for us to break for lunch and when we return from lunch, I will finish this head, which would include the BEDC and the BDA. I will have one final head to produce and then we can engage in meaningful debate with the Opposition thereafter.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

The Honourable Minister has made a motion that we break for lunch.

Any objections? If not, the House is adjourned until 2:00 pm.

Proceedings in Committee suspended at 12:28 pm

Proceedings in Committee resumed at 2:01 pm

[Mr. Christopher Famous, Chairman]

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2025/26

[Continuation thereof]

The Chairman: Good afternoon to the Honourable Members and listening audience. We are now in the Committee of Supply for the further consideration of Estimates and Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26, the Ministry of Economy and Labour.

The Honourable Jason Hayward, shall now proceed.

HEAD 94—ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT

[Continued]

2024/25 ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, before the lunch break, I was highlighting the accomplishments of the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation, or organisation, which champions economic growth and the entrepreneurial spirit in Bermuda. I was highlighting the expansion of businesses which were seeking their services and the level of support that they actually provide.

I do want to add that in the Economic Empowerment Zones [EEZ] the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation has facilitated the progress of potential residential and mixed-use developments in the newly established South East Hamilton EEZ, as well as in the EEZs in Somerset, St. George's and North East Hamilton. This is happening underneath the remit of the [Urban] Development Authority, a body that was developed to attract investment in those zones. Certainly, what we are aiming to do is ensure that we have an increase in our housing inventories, and we want to incentivise investment in our Economic Empowerment Zones so that they can be vibrant communities.

The BEDC continues to support community events and markets throughout the Island. On average there were roughly around 40 vendors and 1,000 attendees, when we start to talk about the Court Street vendors markets that were put on, as well as other vendor programmes and markets that were put on throughout the Island. We see over 100 businesses at times participating in these particular events. So, there are alternative types of businesses outside of brick and mortars, and we do have a large, active, vibrant vendor population within Bermuda.

A programme that I am extremely proud about is the Enterprise Bermuda Incubator and Accelerator. This flagship programme nurtured 22 entrepreneurs in 2024 delivering intense one-on-one mentorship training and resources.

Mr. Chairman, earlier I spoke about the valuable contributions that incubators and accelerators make in the survival of small businesses and how they nurture and unlock the entrepreneurial spirit that exists within our economy. BEDC also offered four-week courses in 2024/25. There were 96 participants who took courses on Entrepreneurship 101, Mindset 101, and QuickBooks 101. BEDC also held 11 seminars and webinars with over 500 participants equipping entrepreneurs with the skillsets for business success. Again, these numbers indicate that there is a robust pipeline of persons seeking to expand their entrepreneurial endeavours in Bermuda.

BEDC also looks to inspire the future, and the Youth Outreach [programme] is something that is also commendable. In 2024/25 the BEDC engaged with over 930 students in both private and public sector organisations. Programmes at Warwick Academy and Dellwood Middle School introduced "Kidpreneurs" to foundational concepts including business planning [and] entrepreneurial mindset. We also had participation at various career fairs such as the Berkeley Career Fair and "Wave of Opportunity Pitch Competition" finals which had 225 attendees.

In the BEDC they continue to ensure that they have the appropriate exposure to international experiences, allowing companies to scale beyond Bermuda shores. We also put workshops on to support the development initiatives within our local sports clubs. We had a scheme where we looked to utilise underutilised commercial kitchens for small business owners so that they can have a cost-effective culinary space. And that will foster the growth and innovation of their particular businesses. [That also included] subleasing kitchens to entrepreneurs. And those entrepreneurs generated $42,500 in revenue in 2024/25.

The Economic Development Corporation also has a "Mind Your Business" radio programme with over 500 hours of content reaching 3,364 viewers on their platform. We continue to celebrate Global Entrepreneurship Week, and in 2024 we engaged with 1,100 entrepreneurs and stakeholders. We've also extended strategic partnerships. That was all the work that we've done in the previous fiscal period.

Mr. Chairman, in the 2025/26 fiscal period, we will develop a robust National Entrepreneurship Strategy for Bermuda. We believe that entrepreneurship is one of the most important drivers of job creation and economic growth. It is crucial that we develop vibrant, formal, small and medium-sized businesses in Bermuda. And I think that the energy we are going to place on developing and executing a National Entrepreneurship Strategy will demonstrate that this Government has [set] out its priorities clearly as it pertains to the support that we're going to provide for entrepreneurs.

We are also mandated with executing cooperative legislation as an alternative to traditional business models, but cooperative business models are business models that are used effectively worldwide. There are cooperatives in almost every industrial section. I think when we look at cooperatives in Bermuda, we look at it from a shallow standpoint in terms of we look at a cooperative grocery store. But there are a number of cooperatives that you can have in almost every industrial sector. It can also help with our housing inventory, if people want to come together in a cost-effective way and have housing cooperatives and things of that nature. But what we want to do is we want to ensure that we have the proper framework in place for persons who want to engage in cooperative activity to effectively execute on those ideas.

We have worked to streamline the registration process for entrepreneurs, so this is what we will be moving forward with in 2025/26, making it easier for persons to register as an entrepreneur and move from a concept stage into the actual execution of their business plan.

And it should come as no surprise that the BEDC is currently partnering with an organisation for large-scale vertical farming in Bermuda. We want to ensure that we utilise technology and innovation in our agricultural sector. We want to ensure that we have options for greater levels of domestic food security. We see a shrinking agricultural sector on an ongoing basis. That is a trend that we do not want to see continue. We want to maximise our capacity to ensure that we have a stable and sustainable food supply. The large-scale vertical farm is only one element of utilising technology and agriculture. That is part of a greater integrated agricultural strategy.

But in conclusion, Mr. Chairman, I think it is clear for all to see that based off of the budget that was actually provided to BEDC they have done a phenomenal job with the work they have actually executed on. BEDC's initiatives to empower entrepreneurs and revitalise communities has contributed significantly to Bermuda's economic resilience throughout 2024/25. BEDC has demonstrated unwavering commitment to innovation inclusiveness and growth. The team is led by the Executive Director Erica Smith. And I believe that this department is truly poised to drive greater impact in 2025/26, building on the successes that we have seen in 2024/25. I think this House can collectively agree that the work that BEDC is doing is money well spent.

This ends my presentation of the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation, but I'll move on to the next.

BERMUDA BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Bermuda Business Development Agency [BDA] transitioned into an Investment Promotion Agency. They have been allocated a budget of $4,230,000, and that can be found on page C-19 in the Budget Book. The BDA was founded in April 2013. It was designed to operate independently as a private-public partnership dedicated to driving inward investment and supporting sustainable growth for Bermuda. They have a number of flagship events that they host domestically on a yearly basis that we can certainly see the promotion of brand Bermuda and expose international guests to our value proposition.

But I would like to highlight more specifically some of the work that they will be doing in 2025/26 and some of the work that they will be . . . that they executed in 2024. Under the enhanced IPA [Investment Promotion Agency] framework the BDA has adopted a data-driven approach to prioritise specific markets and sectors where Bermuda holds distinct competitive advantages with a particular focus on the United States, Canada and the UK, the BDA is actively advancing five key pillars:

- High-Net-Worth (HNW) Services: Which includes the Economic Investment Residential Certificate, Family Offices and Trust.
- Technology: Which includes Digital Assets, Insurtech/FinTech, Regulatory Sandboxes, and Compliance.
- Financial Services: Which includes Asset Management, Hedge Funds, Insurance-linked Securities (ILS), and Fund Administration.

- Insurance & Risk: Which includes Reinsurance, Captives, Climate Risk Solutions, and Life and Annuity Products
- Infrastructure: Where we can see greater emphasis on hotel development, housing, sub-sea cable projects, and space and satellite ventures.

By focusing on these priority sectors and key international markets, the BDA is positioning Bermuda to attract high-quality investment that directly supports the Island's broader economic development goals. This approach enables the BDA to channel resources towards the most promising opportunities, fostering innovation, stimulating job creation, and enhancing Bermuda's global competitiveness. By aligning its efforts with clearly defined pillars, the BDA is not only diversifying the economy but also strengthening its resilience ensuring long-term sustainable growth that benefits businesses, residents and the wider community.

Mr. Chairman, as articulated the BDA has transition to an investment promotion agency. This transition marks a significant step forward in how Bermuda attracts, supports and retains investment. In 2024, the BDA completed Phase 1 of this transformation which focused on strengthening its internal foundation. This included a detailed benchmarking analysis to assess Bermuda's global position, a review of key industries to identify growth opportunities, enhancement to our organisational structure, and upgrades to our data system and customer relation management tools to improve investor engagement.

The BDA is now progressing through Phases 2 and 3 advancing in parallel. In Phase 2 they are focused on building the tools, technology and team to support a more proactive and competitive investment strategy. Staff have participated in target training and development initiatives. Phase 3 centres on the implementation using refined market data to guide outreach, deepening engagement in priority markets and embedding a performance-led approach across functions. The transformation reflects our commitment to delivering measurable outcomes enhancing Bermuda's global competitiveness and securing sustainable, long-term economic growth.

Mr. Chairman, while the BDA transitions to an Investment Promotion Agency it has been busy also focusing on the key strategic focuses of the previous year. And I don't believe that we've seen a compromise in the capabilities of the organisation as it has gone through its transition.

And as a result, they have a long list of key achievements for 2024/25 fiscal period. [These achievements were:]

Economic Investment Residential Certificate Programme (EIRC)

- We saw the Economic Investment Certificate Programme surpass the $500 million in direct and associated investment mark.
- We attracted high-net-worth individuals through a streamlined concierge-style process.
- Supported economic growth via investment in real estate infrastructure and job creation.

Google's Nuvem Subsea Cable

- The BDA played an instrumental role in securing Google's new transatlantic cable connecting Portugal, Bermuda, and the United States.
- Supported the development of Bermuda's submarine cable legislation and global digital infrastructure.
- Enhanced Bermuda's connectivity, supporting FinTech, Digital Assets, and innovation-driven investment.

And so, it is one where the initial investment is from the company but then there is also the subsequent value-added from that where we see the rest of the country and the rest of our business community able to capitalise off of that.

Bermuda Risk Summit 2024

Hon. Jason Hayward: They continued to host the Bermuda Risk Summit 2024 which is actually a flagship event of the BDA. That continues to have direct economic impact, and they estimate around $2.5 million of direct economic impact. But then what we do is we have ongoing impact in terms of companies who are seeking to domicile in Bermuda, having a better understanding of Bermuda's business ecosystem, having a better understanding of Bermuda's value proposition, and coming to the decision that they may want to domicile their company in Bermuda to take advantage of our regulatory environment, to take advantage of our very sophisticated business environment, our legal system, as well as operating in a safe, secure, politically stable jurisdiction.

London and Middle East Business Development Tour

Hon. Jason Hayward: The BDA continued his work in London and the Middle East in terms of development.

WAIPA Membership

Hon. Jason Hayward: And they also joined the World Association of Investment Promotion Agencies [WAIPA] which ensures that they keep up with global best practice standards.

Trust Law Reform

Hon. Jason Hayward: There is work in trust and law reform as well as global business development and stakeholder arrangements and a number of events throughout the world. This department has been extremely active, and I'm pleased with the work that is actually being executed by this particular agency. From an economic development standpoint what you have seen me layout is a comprehensive and robust set of activities that improve our business environments, seek to attract investors, but also leads to ongoing continued growth and development.

Global Business Development and Stakeholder Engagement

Hon. Jason Hayward: When we have a business sector that is expanding, I think the proof is in the pudding as it pertains to the Government's investment in economic development agencies that lead to us changing laws and also us having companies aware of what Bermuda has to offer and landing those companies on our shores.

There are some who support the notion that somehow economic development happens on its own without any intervention by the Government and as a result there should be no credit from the Government taken in those particular spaces. But that couldn't be farther from the truth. The truth is we have dedicated agencies which are set up to support economic growth, economic development, the retention and the expansion of industry in Bermuda.

These achievements reflect the BDAs unwavering commitment to driving strategic sustainable growth for Bermuda. And I would like to thank the team of the BDA, led by the Managing Director Kendaree Burgess, for their commitment to advancing Bermuda's future.

Mr. Chairman, this ends my presentation on Head 94, Economic Development Department.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

For the benefit of the listening audience and the Honourable Members in the House, we are in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.

Honourable Minister Jason Haywood of the Ministry of Economy and Labour has finished his presentation and—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Oh, you have got another head.

HEAD 99—LABOUR

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, I will now present Head 99, Labour.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Jason Hayward: This can be found on pages B-198 through B-200 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure.

Mr. Chairman, the mandate of the Department of Labour is, To provide services to support and foster positive employment relations and harmonious industrial relations within Bermuda in alignment with international best practices.

A total of $1,199,258 has been allocated for this head, which represents a reduction of $72,650 from the previous year. This head constitutes 4.35 per cent of the total budget allocated in the Ministry. This change is primarily due to a reduction in funds allocated for staff and accommodation rentals for the department. It is anticipated that the department will be fully staffed in the second quarter of the financial year resulting in the reduced salary allotment and accommodations rental funds required for the full complement of staff. And so that basically says, Mr. Chairman, that we have prorated the funds so that we anticipate scaling up and we recognise that we did not need the total amount of funds for the entire fiscal period.

Mr. Chairman, the budget allocated for the Department of Labour provides for operational oversight that guides the Labour Relations Officers and the Labour Inspectors to ensure that existing policies and procedures are adhered to and that the department's operations are aligned with the current legal framework and international best practices. Currently the department oversees the certification and decertification of unions in the workplace, investigates and conciliates employment, labour and wage-related complaints, in both the private and public sectors, while also ensuring the statutory minimum hourly wage rate.

The department promotes dispute resolution and prevention as well as employee engagement management by offering free and unbiased training and workshop opportunities on its own and in conjunction with other Government departments, quangos and private organisations such as the Department of Workforce Development, the Human Rights Commission, the Bermuda Health Council and the Women's Resource Centre.

The department also provides guidance and conciliation services regarding various employment matters from the receipt of an employment or minimum wage complaint through to the settlement or referral of the same to the Employment and Labour Relations Tribunal.

Mr. Chairman, the department is continuously reviewing ways to strengthen wage protections and recently made changes to the Employment Act 2000 to increase the [severance] allowance for long-serving employees from 26 weeks wages to 32 weeks wages. Further amendments to the Act were also made to safeguard the leave entitlement of employees who receive the minimum hourly wage rate as a part of their wages.

Mr. Chairman, $130,000 is allocated to the operation of the Employment and Labour Relations Tribunal which is responsible for the hearing and adjudication of unresolved employment and labour-related disputes. These funds are also allocated for the use of the Employment and Labour Relations Tribunal to defend against judicial review proceedings should the need arise.

The department has allocated $16,600 for the continued training of current staff and the training of new staff in dispute resolution and the labour inspection which may consist of overseas, virtual and local vendor training. The department aims to utilise such training to resolve matters through conciliation and reduce the number of complaints referred to the Employment and Labour Relations Tribunal for adjudication, improve legislative compliance and strengthen harmonious industrial relations.

As we look at Manpower, the department currently has an establishment of 10 full-time equivalents which consists of the Director of Labour, the Labour Relations Manager, Office Manager, three Labour Relations Officers, three Labour Relations Inspectors, and a Tribunal Coordinator.

With the transition from a section within Ministry Headquarters to a department and the decrease in the complement of staff from five substantive post holders to three in the 2024/25 budget year, the department has been working diligently with DEOD [Department of Employee and Organizational Development] to recruit for the following positions: a Labour Relations Manager, two Labour Relations Officers, three Labour Relations [Inspectors] and one Tribunal Coordinator. It is anticipated that recruitment for the above-mentioned posts will be completed by August 2025.

And one would ask the question regarding the reduction of staff, but we did also in that fiscal year have a number of individuals were seconded into the Ministry of Labour to assist with our staffing complement so that we could continue to effectively execute the work that needed to be executed on. So, while it was not mentioned in the full-time equivalents, I would not want you to ask, How are we carrying out our mandate with the reduction of staff? Because we did get assistance from other departments to ensure that the Department of Labour remains staffed up so that it could carry out its duties.

Performance Measures by Business Unit

Hon. Jason Hayward: When we look at Performance Measures, I am pleased to report the department's breakdown of activity as follows:

There were 812 employee and wage-related dispute inquiries lodged with the department. I am going to repeat that, Mr. Chairman. There were 812 employee and wage-related dispute inquiries lodged with the department—638 were consultations and 174 were filed pursuant to the Employment Act 2000, the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 2021 and the Employment (Minimum Hourly Wage Entitlement) Act 2022.

What that means is that people continue to seek the services of the Department of Labour as it pertains to their rights under the laws of Bermuda. We will do a better job in the 2025/26 fiscal period to promote worker's rights so that they are abundantly clear and their employers are abundantly clear. But we still have 174 of those complaints or those inquiries that led to those individuals filing disputes.

The Department of Labour provides a fundamental and critical role in assuring that the standards that are set out in our laws are maintained. I can't underpin the importance of ensuring that we have the necessary labour protections in place to protect the workforce in Bermuda. We want to believe that we operate in a world where people will simply do the right thing and that is not the case. We have laws in place, and we have enforcement in place because we find out that at times there is intervention required from the Government to support the workers of this country. And by us indicating that we are even strengthening the Ministry, the Department of Labour by number one, removing it from just a unit and giving it its proper prestige as a department as well as ensuring that it has the appropriate staffing complement speaks to where the Government is investing in ensuring that the workers of Bermuda operate in a harmonious work environment but that their rights are actually protected and that they can get adjudication in a timely manner for their complaints.

A further breakdown of complaints filed and investigated by the department

- 81 pertaining to terminations;
- 30 pertaining to wages;
- 11 pertaining to constructive dismissals; and
- 52 complaints regarding lay-offs, maternity leave, vacation pay, redundancy pay, overtime pay, union certification and collective bargaining agreement procedures.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Jason Hayward: In the upcoming year, Mr. Chairman, the department will continue to offer seminars, workshops and presentations to employer and worker groups and individuals to broaden their understanding, reduce employment and wage-related complaints and ensure that they feel supported. To achieve this the department will continue its collaboration with partnered stakeholders and Government departments.

The department will also continue to evaluate the effects that legislative changes have had on the working population and keep abreast of international best practices to ensure that our national legislation is up to date, and the protection of employee rights remains at the forefront.

And so, the Employment Act, [Mr.] Chairman, I view as a breathing document, a living, breathing document. And you should anticipate ongoing changes to the labour standards that support the workers of Bermuda.

The department will continue to provide support to the Labour Advisory Council and the Wage Commission, in its pursuit to recommend a living wage for Bermuda.

The Department will continue to liaise with the UK Office and keep abreast of the happenings within the International Labour Organization to ensure compliance with the various conventions and recommendations critical to the advancement of labour rights within Bermuda.

The department will continue its close relationship with other Departments of Labour within the Caribbean region through the exchange of ideas, information and experiences to promote innovation, accelerate problem-solving and boost productivity.

The Department of Labour will collaborate with other relevant departments and stakeholders to advance equal pay for equal work legislation and prioritise policies related to raising the retirement age.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the staff of the Department of Labour, led by Director, Gabrielle Cann, as well as the members of the Employment and Labour [Relations] Tribunal, for their hard work. As the Department of Labour continues to provide excellent service to the people of Bermuda and deliver in accordance with their mandate, their dedication to maintaining balance within the world of work is noteworthy. Their commitment and effectiveness necessitate the highest level of recognition.

Mr. Chairman, this ends my presentation on Head 99, the Department of Labour. And with that I conclude my presentation on the 2025/26 Budget of the Ministry of Economy and Labour.

Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

For the benefit of the listening public, we are now in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. Honourable Minister Jason Hayward has finally concluded his presentation for the Ministry of Economy and Labour.

And I now invite others to take the floor.

The Chair recognises the Honourable Vance Campbell from constituency 9, Smith's West.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I also would like to thank the Minister and his members of staff on an extremely comprehensive brief. I feel that the Minister had a camera in the room when I was formulating my questions. So, I think that our—

The Chairman: Are you saying that all of your [questions] have been—

Mr. Vance Campbell: I didn't say that. I didn't say that.

[Laughter]

Mr. Vance Campbell: No, but the brief was quite comprehensive, and I have no problem in saying that.

I will ask some questions that were probably already answered, but bear with me if that is the case. In any event, I believe it is worth hearing the answer again. It is extremely difficult to monitor your questions and hear everything the Minister says, so in some instances, I only received . . . or managed to note part of the answer.

So, I will begin on page B-172 with the Ministry of Economy and Labour Headquarters. I will start with the mission statement which says, To establish effective policy that helps foster economic growth and the expansion of jobs. My question is, How has the number of people leaving Bermuda, i.e., emigration, especially of Bermudians impacted the economic growth and the expansion of jobs in the local economy, first and foremost, and (b) in the international business area?

My second question is very similar, again, still on page B-172, mission statement. It is very similar to the first question, but if we can get some understanding as to how has the ageing population of Bermuda impacted economic growth and the expansion of jobs (a) in the local economy and (b) in international business?

This is more of an observation than a question. I did note in objective number 4, on page B-172 the addition of the word "timely" in there. And I was wondering if there was any consideration to add the word or words to the effect of "accuracy" as is located in department objective number 6 on the same page.

We can move down to the General Summary on page B-172. I did note, and it is a simple, it looks as though the headings were not adjusted on that particular—

The Chairman: The Chair recognises the Minister who is going to give clarity.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Yes, the Ministry did submit a revised schedule with the corrected headings to the Budget Office, and so that has been corrected. My apologies. I do have it notated here that there needs to be changes in terms of the General Summary dates that are in the Budget Book.

So, when we approved the pages and the heads, we just asked for the necessary amendments to be approved as well.

The Chairman: Is that clear enough for you, MP?

Mr. Vance Campbell: Yes, I figured that was it. There are a lot of pages in this book, so things will be missed. But the main thing is, I believe the numbers were correct underneath. We were able to figure that out.

Moving down to the General Summary. This is under business unit 54010. It says, Consumer Affairs. It had a revised estimate for 2024/25 of $250,000. Am I correct in . . . I thought I heard the Minister say that this was in relation to the cost-of-living unit—I may not have the exact name correct—that was transferred briefly into the Ministry and out again.

If we can move to the Subjective Analysis on page B-173, looking at Salaries. There is a reduction of $65,000 with the total budget estimate of $575,000. I missed the Minister's explanation of this. So if he doesn't mind repeating that, it would be much appreciated. And I am not complaining when Government reduces an expense, so don't get me wrong. That is not necessarily a bad thing.

The budget estimate for Travel, still on page B-173, has an increase of $38,000 or 46 per cent. I was just wondering, again, a breakdown as to why there is this anticipation of increased travel. We go down to Communications, I am not exactly sure, I know a lot of times Communications is more than just cell phone and landline for the company. But I see, again, a decrease of $7,000 in this area. I am just wondering if there was a simple explanation for that. Again, not complaining when Government saves money.

Again, if the Minister can provide the explanation, looking at Advertising and Promotion. There was a 50 per cent reduction in that. There is a lot going on in the Ministry Headquarters. I am not sure if a lot of the activity that rests outside of the Headquarters, but within the Ministry is actually the promotion and advertisement of that is done at Headquarters, so an explanation for the reduction of 50 per cent in the Advertising and Promotion.

Professional Services on page B-173. This also dropped by $40,000 or 13 per cent from the 2024/25 original estimate. It is also $285,000 less than the revised 2024/25 number. Was this as a result of a contract reaching completion or was there an anticipation of engaging a consultant that did not happen? Or did not happen as early as it was anticipated?

If the Minister can advise, how many consultancy agreements, service contracts that the Headquarters has, and what they are for and the individual value of each and what is the start and finish date of each?

If we go down, still on page B-173, also a question on the Consultancy Contracts and Service Agreements. Are any of these included in budgeted salaries? I know that—

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, if I can just ask the Member to clarify that question. It is not clear on what is [being asked] as it pertains to whether or not the consultancy funds allocated in the budget under Consultancy . . . Is the Member asking whether or not it is also included under Salaries? Or whether or not consultants are included under the Salaries line item?

Mr. Vance Campbell: Well, particularly, I am . . . the scenario as it relates to that portion of the question, that asks if anything is in Salaries, particularly, I am thinking of a scenario where a consultant is hired specifically to fill a role because of an employee not being onboarded or being out for whatever reason for a lengthy period of time.

Again, on page B-173, Materials and Supplies. My question around this is more what goes into Materials and Supplies. I tend to think of stationery and supplies. But there is also, it would seem no real correlation to the number of employees and what goes into Materials and Supplies, so just some clarification on that.

If we can look at some of the Performance Measures, move on to page B-174. And I look at the first thing under business unit 54060, the revised forecast for 2024/25 was moved down from 100 per cent and this is percentage of Throne Speech initiatives completed during the fiscal year. That was moved, the revised anyway was moved, from 100 per cent to 60 [per cent]. And we are looking at 100 per cent. Again, just asking, is that something that can be accomplished or is it slightly optimistic to believe that 100 per cent will be completed during the year?

And if I could back up one second to page B-173, I would just like to know, as far employee numbers, how many of the anticipated five, or the estimated five FTEs are posts that are filled versus funded but unfilled, and are there any unfunded unfilled posts in the Ministry Headquarters?

Back to the Performance Measures on page B-174, again, under business unit 54060 Administration. I am looking at the Performance Measure that states the variance approved, between approved estimates and actual current account expenditure for the Ministry of Labour, the original 2024/25 forecast was plus or minus 5 per cent. The revised for 2024/25 was plus or minus 10 per cent and the target outcome for 2025/26 is the plus or minus 10 per cent. I see this as a relaxation of the target but, again, that is without having intimate knowledge of what actually may have or what portion of the expenditures in the Ministry are prone to fluctuations that would warrant this shift. So if the Minister can provide some clarification on that it would be much appreciated.

And moving to business unit 54210 Immigration Appeals Tribunal, there are two performance measures, percentage of tribunals held and number of immigration tribunals still outstanding at the end of the period. I just need clarification from the Minister, is this a target of just having three tribunals or anticipating having three tribunals a year? Or is this actually three tribunals that are anticipated to be held and completed?

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Go ahead, Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Just seeking clarity on the question. The numbers that are in the Book are either two or zero. The Shadow Minister mentioned—

The Chairman: The numbers in the Book are—

Hon. Jason Hayward: Are either two or zero being outstanding. And the Member mentioned three. I don't know where the number three came from. So, if he can reference that in line with what we have set out in the Performance Measures that are in the [Budget] Book.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Okay. I may be overthinking this but under Percentage of the Tribunals Held, it says 33 per cent and then the next performance measure say Number of Immigration Tribunals still Outstanding. So, if 33 per cent are held and two are still outstanding, that would mean the total starting with would have been three. But my question is, Is that three actual tribunals or the anticipation of maybe having three tribunals a year based on the needs or the matters that are brought before the Ministry Headquarters? Does that help, Minister, to understand that?

[No audible response.]

Mr. Vance Campbell: Okay.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Mr. Chairman, I may wish to come back to [Head] 44, if you don't mind, if I come across something in my notes that I may have missed, but at this particular time I would like to move to Head 14, the Department of Statistics. And I will be starting on page—

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Yes, Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: If I can ask the Honourable Member whether he wishes to do it head by head so we can deal with these substantive questions on this particular head before moving to the next head. This will enable us to keep up with the questions, and it will also allow me to provide clarity on some of the questions he may have posed. I think it is just functional if we can do it head by head. It allows us to better track the questions and provide the clarity that the Honourable Member would like.

The Chairman: Honourable Member, you have an offer on the floor.

Mr. Vance Campbell: I have no problem with that. Whatever is going to get us the answers and get the listening public some understanding of what is behind the numbers. But I believe I may have some colleagues who may be looking to speak as well, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Okay. So, for the benefit of the listening audience the Minister has made an offer to allow the answers to be given head by head and the Honourable Member from constituency 9 has accepted that offer.

Mr. Vance Campbell: With the understanding that if I have a question later on I can come back.

The Chairman: It is the Opposition's debate, Member. You have one hour and five minutes.

Minister, do you wish to proceed with some answers for this head?

Hon. Jason Hayward: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I thank the Honourable Member for his questions. When I look at the questions posed there around our population numbers and how that impacts the expansion of jobs, what I would say is [that] despite any notions regarding our population numbers, the facts remain that Bermuda's economy is continuing to grow year over year. When we look at the quarterly numbers, the economy continues to grow, and we do see an expansion of businesses and expansion of jobs both in the domestic sector and what we would consider to be international business. Overall, there has been job growth, IB job growth is up. Unemployment is actually down. So, I do not believe that it is having a significant impact on sustainability as it pertains to that particular question.

The next was in reference to our ageing population. This Ministry has gone out in front of this and put out a position paper as it pertains to our ageing population and the impacts it will have on our economy if not addressed. I would say an ageing population does have an impact on the sustainability of any economy worldwide. You cannot detach the two. But what I would say is that we haven't seen signs of critical trends heading in the wrong direction. And so we still have economic growth which I believe is robust and sustainable. We still have an increase of jobs.

What we are going to find is challenges regarding a labour shortage that we may have in workforce mirroring, which means matching the supply of labour and the demand of labour within our economy. The Ministry of Economy and Labour has also put out a position paper regarding the retention of our local workforce. And in that particular paper we talked about skillset shortages and labour force shortages and so there will be a heavier requirement on expatriate labour to fill some of the jobs that exist within our economy.

But the Ministry is also looking on retention policies. How do we train persons who have turned the age of 65 within our workplace? I don't support the notion that once one turns the age of 65 they expire from the workplace. And as a result, the Ministry is looking at that. I do take note of the question, or the comment the Honourable Member made regarding timely and accurate. We can accept that the data we put out should be timely and accurate. I think accurate is a given in that particular sense. And we would not want to just focus on the timeliness of the data. But it is not a substitute for us not having accurate data, it being timely. I think they run hand in hand. There is no . . . it makes very little sense to have timely data that is not actually accurate. And that is something that I do not support.

As it pertains to Consumer Affairs, up until September 2024, well, from the previous September 2024 to February 2025, the section of Consumer Affairs was underneath the Ministry of Economy and Labour. And that section would also receive supplemental funding in the mid-year review and the Minister of Finance made additional allocations. As a result, inclusive of the Cost of Living Commission would have been all of the funds associated with the Consumer Affairs Department which now lies underneath another Ministry.

The reduction of salaries in B-173, the reduction of $65,000 of the total budget. The decrease has to do with the transition of a post to the new Department of Labour.

Under the line item on Head 44, under the object code description of Travel, the Honourable Member asked about travel activity. I would say that as the Minister responsible for Economy and Labour part of my role and responsibility is to go out to the world and promote Bermuda's value proposition. Having a Minister as part of the delegation oftentimes has a greater level of impact to those who are promoting Bermuda. And they often aim to include the Minister for a number of reasons. Number one, to attract the top brass of a company to be in the meetings that they actually are requesting, but it also provides speaking engagements. And then we also want to expend economic cooperation agreements with other nations around the world. And so there will be a requirement for the Ministry of Economy and Labour to remain on the road.

The BDA has a full calendar of events as it pertains to its action on the road. Not all of the events require the attendance of the Minister, but there are events that require the Minister's attendance. And [this] also affords the Government speaking engagements in front of the right people at the right time. And so, when we start to talk about expanding the Ministry and competing, when we look at . . . we start to talk about other jurisdictions, eating our food, they have very aggressive strategies. And what we cannot do is rest on our laurels and believe that everybody understands and knows Bermuda's value proposition. So, there is need for the Minister and staff, not just the Minister, but staff within the Ministry of Economy and Labour, to be on the road as well. And so that is why you see an increase in that particular travel budget.

We are able to better budget for travel now than in previous years, the reason being is we have had proactive meetings with the BDA who now have laid out a full calendar of events in a timely manner which would allow us to budget for those particular events. Additional to that, if we have flagship events where there is an expectation that the Minister attends, whether it be the RIMS Conference where Bermuda still coins itself as the Risk capital of the world, we want to move as it pertains to putting a framework in place for our digital economy. We are viewed highly in . . . as a well-regarded regulatory jurisdiction for digital asset companies.

If we move past the notion that this is an area where it is populated with crypto fanatics, we now see large-scale institutional investment going into digital assets with reproval companies and reproval individuals associated with those companies. And so we are competing with jurisdictions around the world. We are competing in the area of trust. We are competing in the area of high-net-worth individuals. We want to be extremely competitive to attract funds, the fund management businesses back to Bermuda. We were the leaders of, or the inventors of the first Modern Captive. Bermuda had a marked position surpassed by none in the captive industry, but what you have seen is that position abate. And we cannot continue to allow persons to, what we say, eat our lunch. And if we want to ensure that we maintain our level of competitiveness, we need to be on the road.

And so, the Minister attends a fraction of overseas engagements, but it is extremely useful for those who are promoting Bermuda as a jurisdiction to have the Minister as part of the delegation, leading the delegation at times and speaking directly with counterparts overseas for economic cooperation but also being a front-facing ambassador and advocate for Bermuda.

The Communications budget did decrease by $7[,000]. But what you will see overall is that the overall Ministry budget has decreased. And so, notwithstanding you see increases in some areas. They had to be offset by decreases in other areas. And so, this is a matter of prioritisation. And what we said is that we will lean on DCI and other agencies more for communication where they have the capacity and the Ministry can draw down its budget in that particular area and strengthen its budget in other areas, which I just articulated, like travel.

The Honourable Member also highlighted the reduction in Advertising and Promotion. And I think that now that we have restructured BDA we can now lean on the BDA for heavier advertising and promotion. Where we had some challenges with that in the past, I think that the Ministry had a desire to increase our global impact and as a result we allocated funds to ensure that we got Bermuda's message out there. Now that the BDA has transitioned into the Investment Promotion Agency then they can take on more of the heavy lifting regarding advertising and promotion as well as the Economic Development Department. I would also like to say that the individual departments have marketing and promotion budgets within their departments as well and we will lean on those department budgets as much as we possibly can.

When we look at the Professional Services decreasing by $40,000, this was another area in which we determined that we were going to transition to ensure that we met the budget ceiling that was set per Ministry. And we had allocated funds in that particular budget to do a full study regarding emigration. That study has now been completed and so we do not need funds to repeat that study again. I would say that when you look at the Ministry's consultancy budget and consultancy agreements and contracts, we had none. What we did do is we set funds aside for where we may need consultancy for legislative support. And so, what we said is that we have a number of departments that may need consultancy in terms of broad Throne Speech policy initiatives. And as a result of that, instead of trying to determine which department gets the funds, we said to ourselves, We will put in place the consultancy funds in the Ministry to support those Throne Speech items and then support the relative departments. And so Honourable Member Campbell, the Ministry of Economy and Labour does not have any active consultancy contracts. I think that may be music to your ears, as well, Mr. Chairman.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: For the benefit of the listening audience, the Honourable Minister Jason Hayward has explained why his Ministry has reduced costs.

Continue, Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Honourable Member asked what was included in the meagre $31,000 for Materials and Supplies. And so the department needs to operate and that includes general stationery supplies, office supplies. In the olden days it may have been used to purchase tea and crumpets for government departments, but we now have Keurig machines, and they support the pods that go into the particular machine but also water, printing, business cards, dishwashing liquids, the pens required for the Minister to sign documents, the ink that goes into the printers—

[Laughter]

Hon. Jason Hayward: I believed I looked into the cabinet and there were trash bags that were purchased as well. And so those are the general items that fall under office material but . . . I want to progress so I don't take up too much time on this.

Also, when we look at the revised forecast in the Performance Measures, when we look at Throne Speech initiatives and you see 60 per cent, that was 60 per cent not because we didn't believe we could not execute on our Throne Speech initiatives but some of these initiatives were shared with other ministries and departments. So, we can do our portion of the work, but the Throne Speech initiative would not be fully complete if it relied on the Ministry of Finance to execute on those particular items. We can now say that where we have Throne Speech items that are solely reliant on the Ministry of Economy and Labour, we have reviewed those items, and we can move that benchmark to 100 per cent and we are confident that we can execute on our particular items.

When we look at the variance of 10 per cent, when we contracted the budget we said that we may have reduced line items a little bit too much to meet the budget ceiling, Honourable Member Campbell, and as a result this gives us greater flexibility to move money when required, understanding that the overall budget has been reduced. So I think it is a matter where we tightened up our belt, but we are also allowing ourselves to effectively operate rather than tightening up our belt and then we cannot move money where it may be required.

When we look at the Immigration Appeals Tribunals, which are actually outstanding, this is legacy items. The way in which I explained it is that you would have had a person who made a complaint. When we are trying to form a tribunal to adjudicate that complaint, we cannot get in contact with the respondents. At times our respondent may or may not have left the Island, or they have dropped the matter, notwithstanding that they made the complaint. And so, we will try to work this year to close out those particular items and that is why you will not see two listed in the 2025/26 outcomes.

All positions are funded and filled in the Ministry of Economy and Labour with the exception of one special advisor who is allowed for the Minister under law.

Mr. Chairman, I believe that is the answers to the majority or all of the questions that were asked by the Honourable Member and I will ask him to continue on with questions for the remaining heads.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Honourable Member, you can resume your robust questions.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I ask your permission just to ask one follow-up question of the Minister based on one of his answers. Do I have your permission?

The Chairman: You have 45 minutes; you can ask all the questions you wish.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Okay. The Minister when providing the explanation for Professional Services indicated there was a study completed on emigration. When can we expect to hear what those results are?

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, I expect to table a report in Parliament in this session explaining the results of the emigration study and making it clear the factors which are considered when persons want to leave the Island, for persons who have left the Island, what were the driving factors around that, and from their standpoint what is required to change in order to entice them to return back to Bermuda as well.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, Minister.

I would like to move on to Head 14, Department of Statistics. I will start on page B-175, looking at the Department Objectives. Please, Minister, forgive my ignorance when it comes to statistical tools. But in objective 1, it talks about utilising innovative digital tools. And when I see the word innovative that means something that is fairly recent to the market. Are we talking about a tool specifically designed? Or are we just talking about using the modern technology changes that we see on a regular basis when you talk about these innovative tools? And if it is a specific set of tools related to statistical information, then has the procurement process commenced and if so, do we have any idea what they will cost? And in what way do they improve accessibility to statistical data and information? And if we are not using these tools and we are moving in that direction, will the transition to these tools cause any delays or interruptions in the publishing of key statistical reports?

Still on page B-175, objective 2, I am not sure, again, Data Quality Frameworks. The target says Ensure the collection, compilation and production of statistical outputs based on the most current international statistical methodologies, standards and best practice by using data quality frameworks by March 2026.

Again, is that a specific set of data frameworks to the Department of Statistics? And what are we using now if the target is to use those by March of 2026? How much would it cost? Again, will the transition to these tools cause any delay in publishing key statistical reports?

So, if I could go down to objective number 4, on page B-175, it talks about engage in targeted external and internal training and development to build the statistical capacity required to sustain a high-performing department by March 2026. My question around that is, Have the training and development needs already been identified? And I ask that question in particular because the training budget on page B-176 is the same as 2024/25 original. So there has been no increase in the training budget, but I see that as . . . [objective] number 4, as one of the objectives. So, I am just trying to relate to the budget being the same and the need to . . . or the objective to increase or have this targeted external and internal training.

If we could move down on page B-175 to the General Summary, and I would also refer to page B-176, the Full-Time Equivalents, business unit 24010, Census and Special Surveys. This is classified under monthly to annual surveys. And we have an increase of $152,000 under business unit 24010 versus the original 2024/25 budget. I am just wondering, again, the Minister may have explained this, but I may have missed it. So, just an explanation for that increase of $152,000.

Business unit 24015, the Administration. That budget estimate is $204,000 more than the 2024/25 original. Is part of that due to the additional full-time equivalent that is listed on page B-176? If not, what is the reason?

Business unit 24020, Core Statistics and Publications. The budget estimate is $72,000 more than the 2024/25 original. Again, an explanation from the Minister would be great. Again, he may have mentioned this, as I said when I began.

We look down to business unit 24025, Core Annual Surveys, and the budget estimate is $218,000 more and I believe the Minister mentioned that this was due to the salary uplift and a partially funded position. If I could just get confirmation on that.

So, moving on to business unit 24055, where the budget estimate of $551,000 is $4,000 less than the 2024/25 original. I believe, again, the Minister said there was a shift in budget allocation that was partially offset by salary uplifts. If the Minister can confirm that, that my understanding was correct.

And we go down to business unit 24065, Household Expenditure, again remaining on page B-175, under the General Summary. Household Expenditure Survey, the budget estimate is $174,000 or 118 per cent more than the 2024/25 original. Again, confirmation that this is to do with the Household Income and Expenditure Survey 2024.

And Professional . . . and the consultancy contract related to that. Just a quick question for the Minister, has this commenced? And when is the anticipated completion date?

If we could move to the Subjective Analysis on page B-176, Salaries. We have a budgeted amount for 2025/26 of $2,331,000 which is $388,000 or 20 per cent higher than the 2024/25 original. I believe the Minister said this is to do with the increase in the number of full-time equivalents and the uplift, a combination of the two. I require confirmation on that.

I did have a question on the wages, but the Minister explained that the budget amount of $139,000 for 2025/26 was to accommodate temporary staff related to (I believe) the census or one of the surveys. I am happy with that.

The Professional Services, the budgeted amount is $515,000 versus $245,000 original 2024/25 budget. That is an increase of $270,000 or 110 per cent. And if I am correct in my understanding, and I just need confirmation from the Minister, this was to do with the hire of individuals to conduct interviews. No? Well then, I definitely would like clarification on that.

Also, as I asked under the previous head, are there any . . . what are the number of consultancy agreements at the Department of Statistics? What is each for? What is the value of each and what is the start date and finish date of each?

We are still on page B-176, the Office Rental is $161,000 which is the same as the previous year. I would just like to ask the Minister if this space is a shared space with other parts of the Ministry and if so, do the other parts of the Ministry share in the rent expense? I am just trying to determine how scattered the different components of the Ministry might be.

Just moving on to page B-177 . . . sorry. Before we move on to page B-177, page B-176, did I hear correctly when we are looking at the full-time equivalents, I have a note here that there were nine vacancies in the past year due to retirements. Is that . . . did I hear correctly on that? How many of these posts on page B-176, Employee Numbers, are filled versus funded but unfilled? And are there any unfunded, unfilled positions in the Department of Statistics?

Moving to Performance Measures on page B-177, business unit 24010, Censuses and Special Surveys. Can the Minister explain why under Performance Measures for this business unit, if we look at business unit 24015, Administration, we have a performance measure of improved accessibility to statistical data through innovative digital tools, this has been discontinued. There was a target of a 15 per cent increase in 2023/24. I am just curious as to why this is no longer a target. It would seem that you can always increase accessibility, at least up to 100 per cent.

In the next column, Raise the profile of the department. Some of these are, obviously, if you are ... some of the ... the quantity of posts. I am just wondering why in some of these instances there is only post. Is it one post per month? Are these monthly reports? Or monthly items that you are reporting on, hence it makes sense for one per month? And the same, one per quarter, one per year, are these things like the newsletter is one per year? Is that because you only produce one newsletter a year? I am not sure why it wouldn't be more if you do produce the newsletter, for example, more than one a year.

And I will pause there for now, Mr. Chairman, so that Minister and his staff can respond.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I thank the Honourable Member for his questions. When we look at the questions which were asked, especially around Innovation and Consultancy, I can advise that the Department of Statistics does utilise digital tools and certainly we have engagement for consultants for the purpose of optimising the process for statistical outputs like the consumer price index. While this process actually began in earnest in 2024/25 fiscal year, we have gone through a process of robust tasking and verification in place to ensure that there is no lapse in data outputs. And so we are doing ... what we can do is a standard way of compiling data along with the digitised or the new way of utilising tools to ensure that there is accuracy. And additionally, utilising digitisation for the online census that we seek to embark upon.

The Department of Statistics works under the National Data Quality Assessment Framework, which is a standardised metric of determining improving data quality within statistical agencies. It comes at no cost, and it adds additional verification layers for publications to improve the efficiency. When we look at the training, the training budget does not have any increase. But when we look within where training actually emanates from, as an associate member of CARICOM the department has access to the online in-person training sessions. Some of these are free while others are in-person. In the case where they are in-person, the department benefits from a mixture of funded opportunities and self-funded opportunities and so we find that statistical officers are actually sponsored to attend overseas training. And so, it is a mixture, so not all of the training burden is placed on the department by being an associate member of CARICOM. We get to take advantage of the training opportunities provided. We often engage in these training sessions across various areas and work programmes, at least one per month.

When we look at the business units, I just want to confirm that most of the Honourable Member's assumptions were correct regarding the uplifts that he actually stated. I will provide the clarity. So for business unit 24010, Censuses and [Special] Surveys, we see that $152,000 has been allocated, which is an increase. Most of that will be allocated towards temporary staff for the conducting of the Census and Survey information. When we start to look at business unit 24015, there is an increase of $204,000. The increase is due to the public service increases, the salary uplift and also partial funding of a statistical systems manager and additional funding to allocate to the senior statistician position where the job review anticipates an uplift. And so those are there ...

I am going to jump to the targets and the [Member] did ask about the one-monthly social media post, one monthly messaging app, one quarterly online notice and one annual newsletter. I will state that we have exceeded those targets, and I did indicate that we did have 12 monthly social media posts, 12 monthly messages, one online notice per quarter, and we did execute on the one newsletter.

When we look at the Core Statistics, there is an increase of $72,000 and that is for the negotiated salary uplift plus the conversion of a Census and Survey clerk position to statistical officer post.

And then when we look at the Core Annual Survey, 24025 and the uplifts associated with that. Yes, it has to do with the salary increases but also a partially funded assistant statistician for the Census and Survey clerk positions.

When we looked at the Census and Survey research unit, we see a decrease of $4,000 but that is offset between what we would consider the budget being transferred and salary increases and the negotiated salary uplift. In addition to that, we will also partially fund an assistant statistician, and we did have a post conversion in that particular area.

And when we look at business unit 24065, the Household Expenditure Survey was not due to temporary staff but it was due to the professional services for processing the 2024 Household Income and Expenditure Survey. So, we do need specialist assistance with the processing of the collected Household Income and Expenditure Survey, and that is where that line item, that increase ... That satisfies two questions in one, Honourable Member, as you did ask in terms of professional services, what was that uplift associated with?

When we look at the Performance Measures and the removal of the Performance Measures, the exercise that I asked the staff to actually go through is identifying performance measures where they make sense and whether or not performance measures need to be removed. And so, we looked at the associated goals and determined whether or not the performance measure made sense and in line with their goal. It made sense not to just have performance measures for performance measures sake. What you now see is the beginning of a revision of performance measures. Moving forward what you will actually find is those actual performance measures you are going to have revisions on an ongoing basis because the performance measures will actually reflect not just standardised performance measures but what is required to execute on the objectives that the department has set for that particular fiscal period.

I think I answered in terms of data quality and assurance and that is just an ongoing exercise that we do in terms of ensuring that we have incorporated international best practice. There was a specific question regarding contracts. We did have a management service contract which was an internal contract. And it was from the 1 September 2020 to 31 August 2023. No, no, I'm sorry. The rent was paid to Gibbons Management Services Limited. That is a contract that we do have for rent. The Department of Statistics is the sole department in that particular office.

And then there is another contract which is from 1 April 2024 to 31 March 2025. That is an $84,000 contract and that is to develop standardised and streamlined solutions to automate and validate labour intensive processes. Like I said, in terms of the CPI and other areas where we are looking to incorporate technology and that is with Info DaticsTech

There are currently 14 substantive staff and five temporary additional staff. All vacancies are now due to retirements and others are due to officers pursuing other opportunities. So not all of those vacancies were as a result of retirement.

Some of those positions that we had were unfunded positions and now that we are open for recruitment, we are actually funding those positions, so you see the reverse. We did not have vacant, funded positions that we didn't utilise. We had vacant unfunded positions that are now funded.

Mr. Chairman, I think that answers the vast majority of questions that were asked. I ask the Member to proceed with his questions.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Honourable Member, the Chair suggests you be succinct in your questions.

[Laughter]

Mr. Vance Campbell: Just one quick question before we move off of Head 14. It is at the bottom of page B-177. The last Performance Measure, Target response rates for major statistical surveys. We have some target outcomes. I just want to know how these targets compare to the results achieved in other jurisdictions, if the Minister knows.

The Chairman: Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: That is a question that I will endeavour to get the answer for the [Member]. I don't think he has provided my team adequate time to do jurisdictional reviews of survey response rates.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Yes, Minister. Your brief would have been quite helpful. I could have sent my question in advance, you know.

Anyway, I do appreciate . . . we joke. But the brief has been extremely comprehensive.

Moving on to Head 27, Immigration. We are on page B-179, the mission statement. It says, Facilitate economic growth for the benefit of Bermudians, residents and visitors while protecting Bermuda's borders. I don't see . . . and perhaps it is just hidden in the language of the department objectives. I don't see where there is an objective to facilitate economic growth. Perhaps it is, like I said, hidden in the language as it refers to many enforcing and providing advice and that sort of language. Maybe it is hidden in there rather than explicitly stated.

If I go to the General Summary, the business unit 37010. For now, what I am going to do is skip over to the Subjective Analysis on page B-180. Again, let's go to Professional Services. The budget estimate for Professional Services is $236,000, a decrease of $713,000, or 75 per cent. I believe the Minister said this is as a result of the reduced need of consultants who were hired to assist with the backlog in work permits, or applications in general. I'm not sure which one it was. If we could get clarification on that. And what was the total sum of their contract? When did it begin and when did it end?

Still on page B-188 under Revenue, we note that there is a $66,000 budgeted amount for Penalties. And I am wondering if that is the anticipated revenue based on the announced sort of zero tolerance policy that the Minister announced on April 22 at a press conference. I know in the Government's Budget Statement it spoke, the Minister spoke, under Economy and Labour that the reform measures were related to (if I remember correctly) English proficiency and layoffs. I believe today in his brief the Minister may have mentioned another area of reform. I can't remember exactly what it was. I think it had something to do with digitisation and maybe expediting using that digitisation to expedite the processing of work permits. I am happy to be corrected on that.

So I guess my other question to the Minister is we now have the report on emigration, when . . . the report, or we have the survey completed, once we have the report in a final state, when do we . . . or [when] does the Minister think we will start addressing some of the items outlined in that report so that we can reverse the effects of the emigration? So that they do not become . . . or do not reach the point where they may have an impact on the experience that potential investors and international business [have] in a negative way.

With that, Mr. Chairman, I take my seat.

The Chairman: Minister, please proceed, with succinct answers.

Hon. Jason Hayward: I will do, understanding time.

As it pertains to the department's objectives, emigration is a natural feature whether it be the tourism business development or economic development. It goes without stating that emigration is a critical lever to ensuring that we have a sustainable economy. And as a result, while it is not stated as an objective, it is embedded in those principles of economic development.

I would also state that the revision for the reduction of the professional services budget, I indicated that we have transferred the activities from temporary staff to full-time staff members where we were able to undertake successful recruitment. As a result, that would be the substantial reduction in that particular budget.

I would say that the $66,000 that was budgeted for Penalties is a conservative estimate of what we will receive based off of us ensuring that persons are adhering to our immigration policies. And I want to stress that we put immigration laws and policies in place for them to be adhered to and there are penalties in place, and we ask employers and employees to conduct themselves in an orderly fashion to ensure that we do not have to move down a place of penalties.

As it pertains to Immigration Reform, I do not want the [Member] to confuse immigration reform with the reform that we are doing to the Work Permit Policy. And so the first . . . some of the changes that you spoke about earlier have to do with changes to the Work Permit Policy regarding language requirements and layoffs. The overall immigration reform is much broader than that and it includes enforcement, it includes digitisation, and it includes using immigration as a lever for greater levels of economic activity.

The Chairman: MP, you still have another five minutes of questions.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to move to Head 60, Workforce Development. I have two questions in this area. One being, What were the issues with the old Job Board which led to its . . . I believe it has been shut down, Minister, or is going to be, and replaced. What will the expected improvements be?

With some of the scholarships that are offered, the scholarships, if we go to page C-19, we see Scholarships, 6866. Are these scholarships to overseas entities or is it scholarships for local opportunities for . . . and what is the . . . for this amount here, the budgeted amount of $400,000. What is the number of scholarships that will take care of? And what are the obligations to the scholarship recipients? Are there some obligations for them to return and work for government? Or anything along that line?

Yes, that will be it, Mr. Chairman, for this head.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, the Job Board was monolithic, meaning that it only had capacity to post jobs and have people apply for jobs. What we are going to integrate is a more dynamic system that will have additional features which allows for more information regarding occupations in all industrial categories. It would have the education requirements. It would have the experience requirement. It will provide a complete career path trajectory. It will have testimonials from members who work in that industry. Also, it will be embedded with training programmes. The functionality will be much greater than the current functionality of the Job Board. So, it is a complete enhancement of the product that we currently have.

As it pertains to scholarships, overseas and local scholarships are provided. We provide 4,000 scholarships. The scholarships are primarily based off of high-demand occupational categories. We did state that part of the reduction of local workforce was that we would transition into tying scholarship awards to that person's ability to return to Bermuda and work after a seven-year period. We still think it is important that people get overseas training.

There are currently 34 individuals who are on scholarships. And we do not have stipulations, but we are going to move to an area where there are stipulations as it pertains to persons coming back and working in our local economy.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Mr. Chairman, with the remaining . . . what is it? A minute that I have? Is it a minute?

The Chairman: You're wasting it. You're wasting it.

[Laughter]

Mr. Vance Campbell: Moving to Head 94, Economic Development. I noticed that there is under unit 9405, business unit 104120, Concierge Services. There is a zero budgeted amount for the Concierge Services. And I may have missed it, but has this service been absorbed into one of the other business units? I do note that under programme 9405 on page B-197 there still exists the performance measures. So, I am just wondering if that was the reason why there is zero, because it was absorbed into another area of the [concierge] service.

Hon. Jason Hayward: That assumption is correct. It was absorbed into Administration.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Time? Okay.

The Chairman: You have literally 30 seconds.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thirty seconds.

The Chairman: Make it succinct.

Mr. Vance Campbell: I will spend that time, again, thanking the Minister for his comprehensive brief. And also, his members of staff who I am sure contributed greatly to that. I wish I had more time—and this is no fault to the Minister. He was generous in the time that he left—to get into the detail of some of the work that is being done by the BEDC and the Bermuda Business Development Agency. But again, thank you to the Minister and the members of his staff. Thank you.

The Chairman: That concludes the debate on the Ministry of Economy and Labour. The Minister will now move his heads.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, I move Heads 44, 14, 27, 29, 60, 94 and 99 and be approved as . . . there were amendments that were required to be made. So, should I state “as amended”?

The Chairman: Yes, please.

Hon. Jason Hayward: As amended.

The Chairman: It has been moved that Heads 44, 14, 27, 29, 60, 94, and 99 be approved with amendments. Are there any objections to that motion?
No objections; agreed to.

[Motion carried: The Ministry of Economy and Labour, Heads 44, 14, 27, 29, 60, 94 and 99 were approved as amended.]

The Chairman: That concludes this debate, and we will now have another.

The Chair will now change to the Honourable Member Linda Smith, from constituency 31, Southampton West Central.

[Pause]

[Ms. Linda Smith, Chairman]

The Chairman: Good afternoon, Honourable Members and the listening audience.

We are in the Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. In the Ministry of Health to be led by the Honourable Kim Wilson, JP MP. The heads today are Heads 21, 22, 24, and 91.

Minister.

MINISTRY OF HEALTH

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Madam Chairman, I would like to move the following heads, namely Head 21, Ministry of Health Headquarters; Head 22, Department of Health; Head 24, Hospitals; and Head 91, Health Insurance be now taken under consideration.

The Chairman: Please proceed.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Madam Chairman, before I begin I would like to pay homage and extend my gratitude to the hard-working men and women at the Ministry of Health as well as the quangos that are associated under Health, namely, the BHB and the Health Council for their continued hard work and dedication, particularly as they assist in the Government's initiatives in moving Bermuda forward and creating healthy people and healthy communities.

Madam Chairman, with the assistance of those persons who I have just thanked I will endeavour to provide a very comprehensive brief, that hopefully will provide assistance as well as clarification to some answers to questions that may arise.

I note that previously all four of these heads had received a five-hour time period. Last year was the first time that it was reduced to four and it did not provide for sufficient time for me to complete the detailed brief, which is very lengthy because it is a very big Ministry. However, I will undertake to provide any unanswered questions to my Honourable Member who sits opposite to me following the conclusion of this day.

Madam Chairman, the Ministry of Health Estimates of Revenue, Expenditure, Performance Measures and FTEs [full-time equivalents] are found on pages B-149 through B-170 of the Budget Book. The Capital Development and Acquisition estimates are found on pages C-5 and C-12 of the Budget Book. And the Grant Estimates are found on pages C-18 and C-19 of the Budget Book.

Madam Chairman, the Ministry of Health has been allocated a total of $245,440,000 for the fiscal year 2025/26 for its headquarters, the Department of Health, Hospitals and Health Insurance Department.

HEAD 21—MINISTRY OF HEALTH HEADQUARTERS

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, today I am pleased to present the budget for the Ministry of Health and its departments and quangos starting with Head 21, the Ministry of Health Headquarters. And Madam Chairman, that can be found at pages B-150 through B-153 of the Budget Book.

Mission

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, the mission of the Ministry of Health Headquarters is To make Bermuda healthier by improving accessibility to quality health care services.

The Head 21 budget reflects the efforts of headquarters to create a health system that is financial sustainable and operationally efficient in meeting the health needs of the population.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, a total of $15,634,000 has been allocated to Head 21 Headquarters for 2025/26 which represents an increase of 52.0 per cent or $5,332,000 over the budget of the fiscal year 2024/25. This constitutes 6.4 per cent of the total budget allocated to the Ministry of Health.

Revenue Overview

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, the Ministry of Health Headquarters is estimated to generate $28,000 during the 2025/26 fiscal year, down from 61 per cent from the $72,000 in revenue in the previous fiscal year. This reduction is attributed to a smaller projected number of registrations for doctors during the 2024/25 fiscal year.

General

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, I will now address the first programme under Head 21, General.

Line item 2101, General. Madam Chairman, the programme 2101, General, comprises 15 FTEs. The programme's total budget found at page B-150 of the Budget Book is $13,398,000.

General Administration

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Of that $6,923,000 has been allocated to 31000 General Administration. This represents a 74 per cent or a $2,923,000 increase compared to fiscal year 2024/25. The General Administration budget covers expenses associated with the day-to-day operations of the Ministry including the Accounts Section and the Project Management Office (or PMO) for implementing universal health coverage (UHC). For the UHC a total of $462,000 has been allocated for human resources within the PMO. And Madam Chairman, hereinafter I will refer to the Project Management Office as the PMO and Universal Health Coverage as UHC.

A total of $462,000 has been allocated for human resources within the PMO including a director, project manager, business analyst, and executive assistant. Additionally, $1,238,000 was allocated for the operations of the PMO, including the engagement of subject matter experts, marketing and communications.

Line item 31000, General Administration. Madam Chairman, the Government is committed to the creation of an equitable, integrated and sustainable health system that prioritises the health needs of the population. To this end, the Ministry of Health in collaboration with its key partners and stakeholders is leading the multi-year journey towards delivering universal health coverage. Universal health coverage seeks to ensure that all people can access essential health services without encountering financial hardship. This requires continued efforts to strengthen primary care services for health promotion, disease prevention, and early detection and management of health conditions before they become more costly to treat.

Achieving UHC also requires a system-wide transformation that aligns health care delivery with the principles of accessibility, affordability and quality. Madam Chairman, this includes leveraging data to drive evidence-based decision-making, investing in health care workforce development and integrating services across sectors to ensure continuity of care. As Bermuda's population ages and we continue efforts to address the burden of chronic diseases, the health system must adapt to meet evolving needs whilst also maintaining fiscal responsibility. The Ministry of Health remains focused on long-term reforms that will support healthier communities, reduce disparities in health outcomes, and build a foundation for a stronger more resilient health care system.

Madam Chairman, health care in Bermuda remains amongst the most expensive globally. Persistent inefficiencies, inequalities and access and disparities in health outcomes underscore the need, the urgent need, for reform. The implementation of UHC is intended to address these issues by closing coverage gaps, improving health system performance whilst reducing fragmentation, and ensuring the financial sustainability of health care through international best practices. In this regard, the UHC project management team has been coordinating several work streams of projects in consultation with key stakeholders to achieve the following:

- The mapping and redesign of integrated care pathways for diabetes, chronic [kidney] disease and mental health for coordinated and patient-centred care.
- Drafting an actuarial model of a core benefits package to meet population needs.
- Modelling of a single payer to reduce fragmentation and improve the affordability of care.
- Development of population health metrics.
- Assessment of health workforce gaps.
- Drafting of a national patients Bill of Rights.
- Development of a multimedia campaign to keep the public informed of UHC updates; and finally
- Drafting of national clinical standards for common chronic diseases.

Madam Chairman, these foundational efforts represent critical steps in the long-term transformation of Bermuda's health system. By aligning clinical, financial and operational elements, the Ministry of Health aims to ensure that health services are not only more accessible but also more equitable and effective.

Madam Chairman, as we continue the multi-year journey of implementing UHC, our commitment remains clear: To ensure that every resident of Bermuda has access to the diagnostic treatment and medications they need when they need them without encountering financial hardship. In alignment with this vision during the current fiscal year the Ministry of Health will begin the first phase of UHC implementation by enhancing the benefits offered under the Health Insurance Plan. And here and after I'll refer to that, Madam Chairman, as HIP, and FutureCare.

As part of this initial phase, both plans will be expanded to include an annual preventative doctor's visit and increased prescription drug coverage provided at no additional cost to the policyholders. These enhancements reflect our commitment to prioritising prevention and ensuring that essential health services are accessible and affordable for all. Under these improvements active policyholders will gain greater access to routine care helping to detect health concerns early and manage chronic conditions more effectively.

In addition, there will be an increase of $2,000 in annual prescription drug coverage for both plans, raising HIP's total benefit coverage to $3,000 and FutureCare's coverage to $5,000 per year. Access to prescription medications is a cornerstone of effective health care particularly in our fight against noncommunicable diseases such as diabetes, hypertension, and heart disease, conditions that are regrettably prevalent in our population and contributed significantly to long-term health complications and health care costs. Ensuring that individuals can afford and obtain the medications they need without delay or financial hardship is critical to managing these conditions and preventing avoidable hospitalisations or deterioration in health.

Madam Chairman, recognising the growing health care needs of our senior population the Ministry of Health is also actively reviewing options to broaden specialist coverage under the FutureCare plan. As individuals age, they are more likely to require ongoing management of complex and chronic health conditions such as cardiovascular disease, arthritis, diabetes, and neurological disorders that often necessitate access to specialised medical expertise. Expanding access to specialty care will not only improve individual health outcomes but also provide more timely interventions and can prevent complications, reduce hospital admissions, and limit the need for emergency care. This approach supports a more proactive and coordinated model of care that emphasises continuity, early detection and appropriate treatment. The Ministry of Health will continue to explore this approach with the aim of empowering seniors to live healthier, more independent lives, supported by the services and resources they need to effectively manage their health conditions.

Madam Chairman, these changes represent a significant step forward in strengthening our health care safety net, improving health outcomes, and reducing out-of-pocket expenses as we move steadily towards a more equitable health care system. As we move forward with the first phase of UHC implementation, the Ministry of Health recognises that the involvement of health care providers is essential to the success and sustainability of health care reform. The Ministry is therefore committed to continued engagement with health care professionals through the relevant forms coordinated by the UHC Project Management Office. Providers are vital stakeholders in the delivery of health services and their expertise, experience and frontline insights are critical to shaping a system that is both effective and responsive to the needs of the population. By working in partnership, we can assure that service delivery models are practical, well-supported and aligned with the goals of improving access, quality and outcomes across the health care system.

Madam Chairman, in the coming weeks the public can expect the launch of a comprehensive communication strategy that will provide pertinent information on the overall vision, key concepts, and progress on specific initiatives under UHC starting with the HIP and FutureCare enhancements. This strategy, Madam Chairman, will ensure that individuals, families, health care providers, and other stakeholders are well informed about what UHC means for them, how it will be rolled out, and how it aims to improve access, affordability, and quality of care. The UHC Project Management Office will continue fostering transparency, encouraging dialogue, and building public trust as we work together towards a stronger, more equitable health care system.

Madam Chairman, the PMO will continue to play a central role in guiding the financial and structural planning necessary for the successful implementation of UHC. This includes overseeing the actuarial analysis, cost projections, and fiscal modelling required to support a cost-contained sustainable and phased rollout. These technical assessments are essential to ensuring that decisions are evidence-based and that resources are allocated efficiently to deliver the greatest impact.

Madam Chairman, in the current fiscal year the PMO aims to present to the Cabinet a comprehensive set of options for their core benefits package comprising essential health services that are aligned with the most pressing health needs of Bermuda's population. Modelling for the package has already begun and careful consideration of cost-effectiveness to ensure that the package will deliver the greatest benefit for each dollar spent. The objective, Madam Chairman, is to define a set of services that are accessible to all residents, promote prevention and early intervention, and reduce the long-term burden of diseases.

Additionally, the PMO will outline the proposed structure and operational functions of a single-payer system which is intended to streamline administrative processes, centralised funding flows, and maximise efficiencies within the health care system. This approach reduces duplication, complexity and fragmentation while still allowing residents the freedom to choose their own health care providers. Most importantly, single-payer systems have been shown globally to improve health outcomes by eliminating barriers to access and fostering a more coordinated and proactive model of care. These key decisions will serve as foundational steps in building a more integrated, equitable and financially responsible health care system for Bermuda.

Madam Chairman, the PMO will also support the Ministry's efforts to draft the legislative framework needed to guide the critical components of achieving UHC, such as stewardship and governance, health care service delivery, health care financing, health workforce, health technology, and digital health information systems. These components are the critical building blocks for effective health system reform. Such reformation cannot be achieved in the absence of partnership and strategic collaboration. Therefore, the PMO will continue to validate technical outputs and build consensus on key policy and operational elements of UHC by continued collaboration with the Clinical Senate and forums for health financing, health advocacy, health insurance, and health providers to advance key milestones needed for successful UHC implementation for Quarter 3 of 2025/26.

This collaborative approach ensures that the legislative and policy framework are grounded in the realities of Bermuda's health system and reflect the insides of those delivering and receiving care. As progress continues, these partnerships will be instrumental in identifying practical solutions to implementation challenges and building the broader support needed to sustain reform over time. Ultimately, the success of UHC will depend not only on sound policy and legislation but also on the strength of the relationships and the trust built throughout this process.

Mental Health

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, the Ministry of Health continues implementation of the 2024 mid-year budget in the amount of $2.29 million on a comprehensive programme of mental health support initiatives. To date, Madam Chairman, targeted investments have been made in raising community awareness of mental well-being, building community capacity for support, and continuing engagement with adolescents for prevention, early intervention, and community-based care.

The Acute Adult Mental Health Integrated Pathway and the research led by Daniel Cavanagh and his team on youth mental health were instrumental in identifying key recommendations that have driven the priorities of mental health investment. Challenges such as anxiety, stress, violence, and substance abuse have placed immense strain on our health care services, schools and community organisations underscoring the urgent need for sustained and comprehensive mental health support. In response, the Ministry is leading efforts for youth-focused mental health first aid training, establishing a national mental health advocacy organisation and enhancing support for community members to identify and support persons who may be experiencing a mental health challenge.

Madam Chairman, by investing in programmes that promote prevention, early intervention, crisis response, and mental health awareness we aim to reduce the long-term impact of untreated mental health conditions. Organisations such as Age Concern Bermuda utilised its grant to establish a comprehensive programme focused on improving the mental well-being of older adults. The initiative aims to raise awareness about the mental health challenges seniors face and provide educational opportunities to equip individuals with the knowledge and tools to address these issues. The programme targets older adults, their families, informal caregivers and professional caregivers.

Madam Chairman, the Family Centre utilises its grant to strengthen its intensive counselling services which focus on early detection and intervention for mental health challenges in children and teens, age 4 to 18 years of age. These free services include screening to identify at-risk youth and offering intake or referrals to appropriate agencies. The programme provides a safe space for children, teens and families to heal, build coping skills, and address trauma, emotional and social challenges.

Madam Chairman, funding for the Women's Resource Centre was used to support its comprehensive, therapeutic services programme which includes individualised counselling, community support groups, and mindfulness and wellness activities. The initiative addresses the critical gap in mental health services for uninsured and underinsured women experiencing mild to moderate mental health conditions. Without access to publicly funded care many of these women face significant challenges in daily life, including employment and parenting, often leading to reliance on social services. This collaboration with the Ministry of Health aims to expand access to essential mental health support, promote emotional well-being and foster long-term empowerment and resilience as well as self-sufficiency.

Madam Chairman, among men, the key barriers to mental health seeking are financial hardship, social stigma, and the belief that seeking help undermines masculinity. These factors often lead men to delay care until they are in crisis. To address this, Madam Chairman, funding to the Men's Access to Support and Counselling, or MASC, is being used to support expanded outreach and support for young and adult men for mental health services. By removing financial barriers, particularly for those who are uninsured or underinsured, the initiative promotes earlier intervention and supports long-term mental well-being. The investment is also aimed at shifting cultural attitudes towards men's mental health encouraging openness and fostering emotional resilience.

The Bermuda College Foundation which is responsible for fundraising and stewardship of donations to the Bermuda College has taken a proactive role in supporting student well-being, recognising that the long-term sustainability of Bermuda College depends on the health and success of its students. The Bermuda College Foundation is committed to fostering both academic and personal development of students including mental wellness. With its funding, a professional team will be established to drive action in the areas of prevention and early intervention, stigma reduction, and mental health literacy, improved access to services for youth and families, and advancement in research and policy.

Madam Chairman, a central focus of our efforts is expanding access to counselling, therapy and crisis intervention services. By increasing the capacity of these services, we can ensure timely care for individuals facing emotional distress, crisis situations, and long-term conditions. This expansion will reduce wait times and ensure that underserved populations have equitable access to necessary mental health support and resources.

In addition to enhancing service delivery public education campaigns will continue to play a role, and a key role at that, in reducing the stigma surrounding mental health. These campaigns will encourage individuals to seek help without fear of judgment ultimately leading to higher participation in mental health screenings and early intervention programmes. And by addressing concerns early we can help prevent more severe mental health challenges from developing.

Madam Chairman, the appointment of a mental health programme coordinator has been instrumental in managing these initiatives, fostering collaboration, and ensuring the efficient use of resources. Looking ahead, one of our key goals is the establishment of a national mental health coordinating and advocacy entity. This centralised body will oversee mental health awareness, education, and policy coordination simplifying the navigation of the mental health system and ensuring that individuals can easily access the support they need. Progress is already underway with the development of a national mental health website and the identification of the right leadership will be crucial to the acceleration of these efforts.

Madam Chairman, this month the Ministry of Health officially launched Mental Health Anti-Stigma Month, dedicated to opening minds, shifting narratives, and bringing mental health out of the shadows. Under the theme, "We are not an Island." The campaign emphasises community solidarity and the importance of mental well-being. Throughout the month a series of events are being facilitated in partnership with several community partners including youth workshops, public forums, community art projects, therapy dog sessions, and training opportunities. These activities are designed to foster dialogue, build empathy, and create safe spaces for individuals to seek support.

And as I pause, Madam Chairman, because it is, like I said, the month of May launched the Mental Health Anti-Stigma [Month] campaign, a lot of schools and other organisations jumped onboard. And even in today's newspaper, Warwick Academy did a series on "Buzzing with Wellbeeing," (B-E-E). And their logo was a bee. And they did a drive-in event. They had a Grub Day to raise awareness towards Amber's Wings, which is an organisation that supports mental health. And they had a BEE Kind event. Bee Kind to You. Bee Kind . . . Beelieve in Yourself, and [You] Beelong Here. So, we're trying to encourage other members of the community to recognise the importance of mental health awareness, and in particular, to do things to break the silence and reduce the stigma. So, kudos to Warwick Academy.

Madam Chairman, this ends my presentation on business unit 31000, General Administration.

Grants Administration

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning now, Madam Chairman, to 31015 Grants Administration. I'm turning now to page B—sorry page C-18, which are the Grants. And it outlines the Health Ministry's grants to various agencies that deliver critical frontline services supporting public health and social assistance, as well as a grant dedicated to health education initiatives. The total budget for this business unit is $5,849,000. And these grant funds are allocated as follows, Madam Chairman:

- $3,000,000—for the Lady Culpit Compassionate Association (or the LCCA). And that's to cover overseas medical care for uninsured and underinsured persons.
- $1 million—for the Bermuda Health Council.
- $100,000—for Age Concern to operationally support the activities focused on raising awareness, and providing learning opportunities related to the mental well-being of older adults as part of the previously mentioned supplementary and mental health initiative
- $120,000—for the Family Centre to assist with the delivery of counselling services delivered at no charge to families in Bermuda with children between the ages of 4 and 18 years old. Also, as part of the supplementary mental health initiative.
- $100,000—for the Men and Masculinity Support Centre of Bermuda (or MASC) to provide counselling and support services for men as part of the mental health initiative.

- $570,000—for the Bermuda college foundation in support of mental health initiatives to establish collaborative and sustainable suicide prevention initiatives, to reduce risk factors, and increase factors that are preventative, protective, and promote resilience. This is also part of the supplementary mental health initiative that I spoke about a few moments ago;
- $100,000—for the women's Resource Centre to assist with programmes that support women in poverty and transition by providing access to therapeutic services with individual counselling, community support groups, mindfulness, and wellness activities, and support services—including access to housing and food, employment and educational support. And this is also part of the mental health initiative.
- $63,000—for the Sexual Assault Response Team (or SART) to provide comprehensive support to survivors of sexual assaults.
- $105,000—for the Dr. Barbara Ball Public Health Scholarship; and - $691,000—in other grants.

Madam Chairman, the LCCA has been an integral part of the Bermuda community since 1932. Since the 1950s it has been supporting residents who required overseas medical treatment that is not locally available. Today the LCCA manages the Patient Overseas Financial Aid Programme assisting individuals with limited or no financial means to access necessary care abroad by helping them to identify appropriate solutions. This support is particularly important in exceptional cases where a patient is responsible for medical treatment that costs more than $50,000.

Madam Chairman, the Dr. Barbara Ball [Public Health] Scholarship is given in honour Dr. Barbara Bertha Ball who was the first born Bermudian woman to practice medicine in Bermuda. And every year the Ministry of Health awards the scholarship to Bermudian students with proven financial need who wish to pursue careers or professional development in public health. This year awardees received scholarships between the sum of $6[,000] and $9,000 each in support of continuing their university studies. This scholarship supports students and studies in various health care disciplines that directly address Bermuda's public health priorities.

It reflects the Government's commitment to building a stronger health care workforce, an essential component of both the Bermuda Health Strategy 2022–2027 and the Universal Health Coverage [UHC] agenda. Investing in the next generation of doctors, nurses, allied health professionals, public health leaders, and care workers is critical for addressing the Island's growing and complex health needs. With an ageing population, a high burden of chronic disease and ongoing challenges in mental health, long-term care and primary care access the demand for skilled health care professionals is only increasing.

The Ministry of Health will continue efforts to encourage scholars to pursue health careers especially in underserved and high-demand areas because it is vital to us building a resilient health system. These students are not just recipients of support, they are future care givers, future innovators, and future advocates who will shape the health and well-being of the nation for generations to come.

Bermuda Health Council

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The Bermuda Health Council. Madam Chairman, I want to highlight the work of the Bermuda Health Council. It's a quango under the Ministry of Health. In these dynamic times for Bermuda's health system, the Health Council has emerged as one of Government's most strategic partner agencies, bridging expertise with execution, policy with people, and innovation with prudent fiscal discipline.

Madam Chairman, the Bermuda Health Council remains committed to ensuring quality, accessible and cost-effective health care for all residents. And the Bermuda Health Council is a major part of the engine driving critical transformation in our health system. With a legislated mandate to regulate, coordinate, and enhance the delivery of health services, the Council plays a crucial role in driving key regulatory functions, enforcing compliance measures, and supporting system-wide reforms that aim to improve health outcomes and financial sustainability.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, Expenditure Overview.

The Bermuda Health Council's budget for fiscal year 2025/26 totals $4,833,000, excluding potential capital expenditure and reflects a modest increase of 5 per cent over last year's allocation. Despite a confirmed operational grant for the new year matching the past few years of $1 million, the Council remains committed to executing its crucial functions with discipline and impact. As such, the Council is expected to operate this fiscal year at a deficit and will use various efficiency mechanisms and revenue-generation options during the year in an effort to be budget-neutral.

The key areas of expenditure for the Bermuda Health Council are as follows:

- Payroll expenses in the amount of $3,171,000 reflecting the retention of core talent and targeted use of subject matter experts. This includes the expected new hire to meet critical project demands.
- Building expenses in the amount of $431,000 to ensure secure and functional infrastructure for operations. And this accounts for the increase in building rental payments.

- Operational expenses in the amount of $260,000 to support digital modernisation, stakeholder outreach, and compliance activities; and finally
- Professional fees in the amount of $858,000 to enable the strategic use of consultants in actuarial modelling, regulation health technology, and data analytics. This is in support of UHC and other system-strategic reforms.

Madam Chairman, it is important to note that funding needs originally identified for capital investment in corporate IT infrastructure, disease registry development, and progress on digital platforms will be paused only if new revenue opportunities emerge. This adaptive approach ensures fiscal prudence whilst maintaining readiness to scale key innovations when financially viable.

Revenue Overview

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The Council projected revenue for 2025/26 stands at $4,549,000 marking a 1.19 per cent increase from the prior year. And the major sources of revenue include, Madam Chairman, Government Operational Grant in the amount of $1 million; Mutual Reinsurance Fund in the amount of $2,978,000; and Licensing Registration Contract and Programme Service Fees in the amount of $570,810.

The Bermuda Health Council will continue to diversify and strengthen its revenue streams through partnerships, strategic grant applications, and targeted services delivery—both locally and if available abroad. For example, there are other countries within the region that are at different stages of UHC implementation that may benefit from the Health Council's expertise. The pursuit of revenue generation options ensures that no opportunity is missed to advance health reforms, support innovation, and build sustainable infrastructures locally by way of additional funds.

Positioning and Priorities

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, a drug's formulary plays a critical role in managing medication costs by guiding the selection of clinically effective and cost-effective treatments. It supports negotiations for better pricing and helps balance coverage with affordability ensuring that patients have access to essential medications. Meaningful engagement with key stakeholders, including health care providers, pharmacists, patients, and other relevant experts is essential in developing a formulary that reflects the health needs of the population. And in this context the Bermuda Health Council has held five Pharmacy and Therapeutics Committee meetings and coordinated with four local medical experts to inform decisions on the inclusion of cardiac, pulmonary, and diabetes medications.

Madam Chairman, significant progress has been made to date as the Council has introduced 64 essential medicines on the Bermuda drug formulary with over 164 unique doses. Additionally, the Council has proposed a reduction in the pharmacy dispensary fee from $42.50 by 17.6 per cent to $32.00, along with the proposal to cap the mark-up of the landed cost of formulary medicines at 25.0 per cent to enhance price control. Finally, the Council has transitioned drug application processes to the Asana system for preliminary approvals and renewals and has developed a formulary education plan to engage and inform stakeholders. These measures reflect our continued commitment to working with the relevant stakeholders to improve medication affordability and ensure equitable access to essential treatments for the Bermuda population.

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: Just while we take a very quick break, just to repeat that we are now in the Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/[26]. We are hearing from the Minister of Health, the Honourable Kim Wilson, JP MP. And we are under Head 21 right now, which is the Ministry of Health.

Minister.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you.

Moving forward, the Bermuda Health Council remains . . . (just a minute) committed to ongoing stakeholder consultation on the proposed pricing structure for the drug formulary. A key priority will be the establishment and standardisation of processes for the pricing and procurement of formulary medicines to ensure consistency, transparency, and cost-effectiveness. Additionally, the Council will prioritise updating the Bermuda Health Council Drug Formulary Regulations of 2021 to strengthen its mandate particularly in relation to the monitoring and evaluation of the formulary's performance and impact. To support its educational mandate, the Council has also developed a formulary education plan aimed at increasing awareness and understanding among internal and external stakeholders in sharing informed participation and effective implementation.

Madam Chairman, the Bermuda Health Council continues to be at the forefront of modernising our regulatory framework, driving digital health transformation, and elevating evidence-based and strategic accountability and transparency across the health system. Through its convening power it has brought together insurers, providers, policymakers, and patients to create smarter solutions for today's most pressing health challenges. Today these health challenges are broad, ranging from health professional regulatory administration, long-term care and the development of care pathways, to procurement optimisation, legislative review and more.

Over the past year the Council has made significant strides in modernising the regulatory framework, enhancing digital licensing, and improving compliance enforcement. Key achievements include

- continued operation of a blockchain-enabled online credentialing system for health professionals streamlining registration and renewal process;
- strengthening the kidney transplant coordinator programme, noting that during fiscal year 2025, the kidney transplant coordinating team progressed an agreement with the United Kingdom to expand our options for accessing cost-effective, quality transplant centres that have the potential to save over $100,000 per transplant episode;
- enhancement of health business licensing and compliance enforcement ensuring adherence to regulatory standards;
- refinement of regulatory oversight for health insurers, ensuring compliance with mandated coverage requirements and patient protections;
- advancement in data collection and system monitoring ensuring better access to information for policymakers and the public;
- stakeholder engagement infrastructure and development in preparation for the implementation of universal health coverage;
- health technology assessments for a more rigorous evaluation of new medical devices and treatment options; and
- public education and health system awareness campaigns to improve public knowledge about health care access and patient rights.

Madam Chairman, although its scope of work is extensive, the Council consistently demonstrates timely financial transparency by closely collaborating with the Auditor General and producing unqualified audited financial statements year after year. The Health Council's annual reports and financial statements are completed through fiscal year 2023, the fiscal year 2024 is in progress, and the fiscal year 2025 documentation is being organised. The Health Council's highly skilled and experienced team of 25 continues to have a successful paperless office with most information-sharing occurring electronically.

The Council is enhancing its IT tools to improve efficiency and cost-effectiveness for the Government and the health system. It recently began managing a project to upgrade the central repository and online directory for health and social care services using artificial intelligence to improve system navigation for residents.

In the upcoming fiscal year the Council will continue advancing the historic initiatives while placing greater emphasis on expanding UHC, improving health service provider oversight, and refining the digital credibility system to streamline health care workforce management. More specifically, the planned and continued projects include

- The development of the helpinghub.bm as a centralised health care directory to help residents easily access a database of health services, businesses and professionals.
- The advocacy for the adoption of a patient's Bill of Rights to ensure transparency, fairness and protection for all health care consumers.
- The onboarding of additional health care professionals for the expansion of the digital credentialing system to streamline regulatory monitoring.
- The strengthening of accountability measures to improve quality, safety and financial sustainability through hospital oversight and governance enhancements.
- The strengthening of oversight of the businesses of health service providers to ensure that they are safe, effective, responsive and caring and well led.
- The strengthening of policies and monitoring frameworks for residential care and nursing homes for long-term care regulations and support.
- The expansion of the use of digital systems for better integration, safer data sharing, and improved continuity of care.
- The use of advanced predictive analytics through actuarial modelling to improve financial planning and evidence-based policy decision-making.
- The establishment of a clinical research repository to support medical research and international collaboration, including the sharing of regional genomic related research data.
- The fostering of collaborative and collaboration with local and international partners through public-private partnerships to drive innovation and system improvements.
- The expansion of UHC implementation efforts through the development of policy frameworks and strategic implementation plans for health financing reform.
- The provision of workforce development and internship programmes for skill building among emerging professionals in the health care and health system administration sector; and
- The continued enhancements of the integrity of health system data sets to support evidence-based decision-making, health care planning, and financing.

These priorities are not just tasks. They are strategic levers to create a healthier Bermuda. The Health Council seeks to remain a cost-effective agency that delivers real value for public investment.

Madam Chairman, I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to the outgoing board members from the 2024 calendar year for their dedication and contributions to the Bermuda Health Council. Their expertise and guidance were invaluable in advancing the Council's mission and driving important health system reforms.

I would also like to sincerely thank both returning and new board members for their commitment to the Bermuda Health Council. Their expertise is vital in advancing the mission of the Council and improving health care regulation, access, quality and sustainability.

Madam Chairman, the board members of the Bermuda Health Council for the fiscal year 2026 are as follows:

Dr. Sylvanus Nawab, who is the Chairman; the Deputy Chair is Dr. Nicola Paugh; the board members are Dr. Darrien Ray; Dr. Myra Virgil; Dr. Nicola Paugh; Dr. Samantha Scott O'Bannon; Mr. Andrew Simons; Ms. Ariana Caines; Ms. F. Ann Daniels and Lucia Pendleton and Ms. Lauren Bell.

Ex officio members include, Madam Chairman, Dr. Ricky Brathwaite who is the CEO of the Bermuda Health Council; Dr. Shaun Ramroop who is the Chief Medical Officer; Mr. Chid . . . the FS, financial secretary—Sorry. The financial secretary for the Ministry of Finance—

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Pardon. Chidozie Ofoego. Thank you.

And Keechia Tuckett who is the Permanent Secretary for the Ministry of Health. And on behalf of the Ministry of Health I thank the Bermuda Health Council for its continued collaboration and commitment to transparent, equitable and evidence-based decision-making in the interests of the people of Bermuda. Madam Chairman, this ends my presentation on line item 31015, Grants Administration.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

We are in the Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. We have just moved from Head 21, moving on to Head 22, the Department of Health.

Minister, if you'd like to proceed.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Yes, I will. Thank you.

Corporate Services

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Corporate Services, 31020.

Madam Chairman, the estimated budget for Head 21, Corporate Services Unit is $626,000. This unit encompasses the core leadership and strategic planning functions of the Ministry of Health. It includes the policy directorate which is responsible for the formulation, coordination, and evaluation of health policies and legislative frameworks. In addition, it comprises the staff members who work directly with me, as the Minister, providing critical support in decision-making, stakeholder collaboration, and communication of government priorities. The senior management team also forms an integral part of this unit offering executive oversight and guidance in the development and implementation of health policy, regulations, and national strategic initiatives. Together this unit ensures that the Ministry remains responsive, evidence-driven, and aligned with the broader goals of health system reform and service delivery improvement.

Madam Chairman, this concludes my presentation of business unit 31020, Corporate Services.

National Health Emergency

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Moving now to 31997, National Health Emergency.

Madam Chairman, for the 2025/26 [fiscal year] there have been no budget allocations for the National Health Emergency unit representing a 100 per cent cost-savings, compared to $82,000 previously allocated for Health Disaster Coordination. Since the COVID-19 pandemic, the Ministry of Health has significantly strengthened its capacities to manage public health risk and emergencies. Through the development of a robust system and a national public health emergency response plan, the Ministry has positioned itself to respond more effectively to future challenges. With a focus on building back stronger, the budget allocation for this unit has steadily declined since budget year 2023/24, as response capacities have grown in resilience. Having stronger preparation and response systems in place, allows the Ministry to better allocate funds to critical areas of service delivery and long-term health system improvements.

Madam Chairman, this ends my presentation on the business line item 31997 National Health Emergency. This completes my presentation on all the business units under programme 2101, General.

Madam Chairman, I will now present the second programme, Head 21, the Office of the Chief Medical Officer.

Office of the Chief Medical Officer

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, I will now present the second [programme under] Head 21, the Office of the Chief Medical Officer, [2102]. The expenditure overview is as follows.

The estimates of expenditure and revenue for the FTEs for programme [2102], Office of the Chief Medical Officer (OCMO) under Head 21 are found on pages B-150 through B-152 of the Budget Book. It's total budget for fiscal year 2025/26 is $2,236,000 which funds three business units, namely: 31030, Health Care Registration and Regulation; 31040, Epidemiology and Surveillance Unit; and 31050, Port Health. The office consists of 13 full-time equivalents.

Madam Chairman, the OCMO, has a pivotal role in safeguarding public health through regulation, oversight and strategic leadership. Its key mandates are

- registration and regulation of health care professionals;
- pharmaceutical drug control;
- epidemiology and surveillance;
- statutory public health responsibilities; and
- health, emergency planning, resilience and response.

Health Care Registration and Regulation—31030

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: An allocation, Madam Chairman, of $853,000 was made for the health care registration and regulations business unit. The Office of the Chief Medical Officer oversees the registration and reregistration of medical practitioners and the regulation of pharmacies in Bermuda. It also provides administrative support to the Bermuda Medical Council, with the Chief Medical Officer (CMO) serving as its executive officer. The office ensures compliance with best practice clinical standards, manages patient concerns and upholds the quality of medical and pharmaceutical care. Additionally, it administers the Professional Conduct Committee for Medical Practitioners.

Madam Chairman, over the past year, the section has effectively administered a range of professional services to Bermuda's health care sector. This includes managing the registration of over 200 medical practitioners, holding full registration and processing more than 250 controlled pharmaceutical drug licence applications. These efforts ensure compliance with regulatory standards and contribute to the maintenance of high-quality health care services on the Island. The registration section consistently meets its performance targets by maintaining accurate health care professional registries and providing essential support to statutory boards in their registration and complaints handling responsibilities. This ensures that only qualified professionals are authorised to practice thereby safeguarding public health and enhancing the quality of health care services in Bermuda.

The OCMO's role in safeguarding public health through a range of statutory and regulatory functions is invaluable. These responsibilities encompass advising government departments on health-related matters, facilitating legislated health functions and supporting the essential regulatory work of statutory boards and councils. Additionally, the OCMO serves as Bermuda's public health focal point acting as the primary communications channel for health-related information from regional and international authorities such as the World Health Organization, the Pan American Health Organization, the United Kingdom Health Security Agency, and the Caribbean Public Health Agency. Collaborations with these international partners provide Bermuda with access to facilities for developing and training public health professionals. Furthermore, these partnerships support and implement strategic plans and offer technical assistance for the prevention, mitigation and management of public health emergencies, including preparations for disaster management and extreme weather events.

Madam Chairman, this ends my presentation on the business unit line item, 31030, Health Care Registration and Regulations.

Epidemiology and Surveillance Unit—31040

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The Epidemiology and Surveillance Unit (ESU), Madam Chairman, has been allocated $842,000 for fiscal year 2025/26. The ESU monitors the prevalence of infectious diseases and select chronic noncommunicable diseases on the Island to mitigate their spread and impact. The unit also collects data from health care providers and laboratories conducting investigations into unusual disease occurrences. Integral to its functions, the ESU implements contact tracing and case management to prevent and/or control potential disease outbreaks.

Madam Chairman, in November 2024, Bermuda faced a significant public health challenge with the emergence of a measles outbreak. The two cases linked to international travel marked the first cases of measles since 1990. The ESU team successfully coordinated the national response, working alongside the Department of Health, health care professionals and community stakeholders. The ESU ensured the outbreak was successfully contained.

The ESU and the CMO also worked with international partners at the United Kingdom Health Security Agency, the Caribbean Public Health Agency and the Pan American Health Organization to ensure the national response was effective. The ESU undertook activities including rapid case identification, contact tracing, public awareness and a period of enhanced surveillance. The outbreak was declared ended in February 2025, and the response of the ESU team was described as impressive by international public health agencies.

In the wake of these measles outbreaks and these cases, the ESU will conduct an after-action review in May 2025 and this will focus on evaluating the response efforts, identifying gaps and opportunities for improving preparedness for any potential future outbreaks. In 2024/25, 97 per cent of communicable disease investigations were initiated within the established time frames by ESU.

The Chairman: Minister, could you please just confirm what page you're on at the moment?

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: I am reading from . . . excuse me. Line item 31040, which is on . . . [page] B-150.

The Chairman: Yes.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Do you have it, Madam Chairman? Page B-1540 [sic]?

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Sorry, [page] B-150, line item 31040, Epidemiology and Surveillance.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: You are welcome.

Yes, line 31040, the Epidemiology and Surveillance Unit has been allocated $842,000 for fiscal year 2025/26. The ESU monitors the prevalence of infectious diseases and select chronic non communicable diseases on the Island to mitigate their spread and impact. The unit also collects data from health care providers and laboratories conducting investigations into unusual disease occurrences. Integral to its functions, the ESU implements contact tracing and case management to prevent and/or control potential disease outbreaks.

As I indicated previously, Madam Chairman, 97 per cent of communicable diseases were investigated and initiated within the established time frames, as set by ESU. The ESU team regularly conducts community health surveys to assess and document the health status of Bermuda's population. One such initiative, which you have heard us speak about in this Honourable Chamber, is the STEPS to a Well Bermuda survey. This survey aims to provide a comprehensive snapshot of risk factors for chronic non-communicable diseases, like diabetes, heart disease and certain cancers.

The data collected from these surveys are instrumental in shaping public health priorities and informing strategic planning for the future. By understanding the prevalence of various health conditions and risk factors, policymakers can develop targeted interventions to improve the overall health of the population. The findings from the STEPS survey will also support Bermuda's ongoing health system reform efforts. In this regard, the ESU team will continue to lead the STEPS survey and anticipates completing the data collection process in 2025. Their efforts are crucial in ensuring evidence-based decision-making to enhance health outcomes for our population.

Madam Chairman, in response to the rising prevalence of noncommunicable diseases in Bermuda, the OCMO is actively developing chronic disease clinical standards and guidelines. Collaborating closely with the UHC [universal health coverage] project management team, the CMO is facilitating the creation of clinical standards for the treatment of common diseases in Bermuda. This initiative involves health care professionals and specialists for both the public and private sectors, ensuring a comprehensive approach to chronic disease management.

The CMO further supports UHC efforts by chairing the Clinical Senate and participating as a member of the UHC Steering Committee, thereby contributing to the strategic direction and implementation of these initiatives. These efforts are critical to ensuring consistency, quality and equity in care across the health system. By establishing national clinical standards, the Office of the Chief Medical Office aims to align care practices with international best practices while adapting them to Bermuda's unique health care contexts.

This work will help reduce variations in treatment, promote evidence-based decision-making and improve patient outcomes, particularly for conditions such as diabetes and hypertension. As Bermuda continues to pursue universal health coverage, the development and adoption of standardised clinical guidelines will serve as a foundation for improving the effectiveness and efficiency of health services across the Island.

The ESU team has been instrumental in building capacity for health emergency responses in Bermuda. Their work ensures that this country can rapidly detect, assess and respond to health threats, minimising the impact on the population. ESU played a pivotal role in completing the Public Health Emergency Response Plan, which will be simulated in June of 2025.

The simulation will serve as a critical test of the plan's effectiveness allowing for the identification of gaps, refining of protocols and strengthening of interagency collaboration. The office works closely with the Health Disaster Coordination Unit to coordinate efforts and enhance Bermuda's preparedness for public health emergencies. This plan is scheduled to be updated biannually to ensure its relevance and effectiveness and underscores the Ministry's commitment to maintaining a high level of preparedness and resilience in the face of evolving public health risks.

Madam Chairman, this ends my presentation for business unit 31040, Epidemiology and Surveillance.

Port Health—31050

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning now to line item 31050, which again can be found at page B-150, Port Health.

Madam Chairman, the Port Health business unit has a budget allocation of $541,000 for fiscal year 2025/26. This unit will take on the responsibility of monitoring arriving travellers, conveyances and commodities at the airport and other ports of entry in order to provide controls against any infectious diseases arriving on the Island from overseas. These functions were previously under the Environmental Health programme but were moved to better align with the objectives of the OCMO.

The OCMO plays a pivotal role in protecting public health in Bermuda through its comprehensive pharmaceutical drugs control responsibilities. By registering pharmacies and overseeing the importance of prescription drugs, the OCMO ensures that controlled substances are brought into the country solely by authorised health care entities. This oversight is crucial in maintaining the integrity of Bermuda's health care system and protecting the public from potential harm.

Furthermore, Madam Chairman, the OCMO's commitment to compliance with international standards is evident in its adherence to the quotas for controlled drugs allocated to Bermuda. Regular reporting of import data to the International Narcotics Control Board (INCB) in Vienna underscores Bermuda's dedication to upholding global drug control conventions. Additionally, the OCMO ensures that all imported medications comply with the Pharmacy and Poisons Act 1979, which is a key piece of legislation that regulates the importation, sale, and distribution of drugs and poisons in Bermuda.

Madam Chairman, through these rigorous measures the OCMO not only ensures the safety and efficacy of pharmaceutical products available in Bermuda but also reinforces the Island's commitment to maintaining high standards in public health and regulatory practices.

This ends, Madam Chairman, my presentation on business unit 31050, Port Health. This ends my presentation on programme 2102, the Office of the Chief Medical Officer and this concludes my presentation on Head 21, Ministry of Health Headquarters.

HEAD 22—DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, turning now to Head 22, which can be found on the following pages, B-154 through B-157 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure in the Budget Book.

It gives me great pleasure again to present the budget for Head 22, the Department of Health, pages B-154 through B-157. The total current expenditure is estimated at $36,764,000 for the 2025/26 budget year. This is an increase of 17 per cent, or $5,464,000, compared with the original 2024/25 budget. The 2025/26 budget allocation for Head 22 also constitutes 15 per cent of the overall budget for the Ministry of Health.

Vision and Mission

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The Department of Health's vision is Healthy people and healthy communities. The department's mission is To promote and protect optimum health and well-being in Bermuda. Madam Chairman, 296 Department of Health officials—and I'm still on page B-157—work within 27 Public Health programmes to assume the health and well-being of the population. The 2025/26 estimate is an increase of 20 posts, or 7 per cent over post levels from budget year 2024/25. The total number of FTEs reflects the unfreezing of posts from the 2024 to 2027 fiscal year and the reorganisation of the Occupational Safety and Health, Port Health and Child Care Regulations and Child Health business units of the Department.

It is important to note, Madam Chairman, however, that the apparent increase in 2025/26 is artificial and represents the restoration of 14 posts that were deliberately unfunded in the previous budget year.

Madam Chairman, you will recall that in my budget brief from last year and the mid-year supplemental brief that the Ministry of Health committed to funding 14 posts so that they can be recruited in this budget year 2025/26.

Madam Chairman, the projected revenue for the Department of Health found at page B-156 is $3,755,000 and that represents various fees, equipment and medication.

Madam Chairman, I will now address the first programme [under] Head [22], Administration, 2102 [sic]. Madam Chairman, I am at 2205.

The Chairman: Could you reference the page, please?

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: I am looking at it now, Madam. Just a moment. [Page] B-155.

The following submissions are between pages B-154 and B-157.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Administration—2205

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, the Department of Health Programme, 2205, Administration comprises the business units of Administration, Health Promotion, Comprehensive School Health and Child Care Regulations and the Administration's programme consisting of 15 FTEs.

Are you with me? Okay. I'm turning now to line item 32230. That's still on page B-155.

This line item 32230 represents a $995,000 budget item and this represents an increase of $530,000. This business unit, Madam Chairman, is responsible for providing strategic direction, overseeing the recruitment and retention of a competent workforce to ensure that the department delivers quality public health services to the community, management of the department's infrastructure (including facilities, vehicles and information technology), and budget monitoring and management. This business unit comprises only three FTEs and this is insufficient for one of the largest government departments.

There is a proposal under consideration to supplement human resources to better position the Department of Health for modern and strategic service delivery and for change management that will be driven by the transition to universal health coverage and an ageing population. This will include the addition of a Health Informatics Manager and a Health Planning and Performance Manager. These functions are key for population health management programmes that public health systems use to assure results when delivering services to make populations healthier, ultimately promising strong return on investment through improved population, health outcomes and efficient service delivery.

Madam Chairman, for the 2024/25 fiscal year, the department achieved a 92 per cent staff retention rate and is aiming for 95 per cent retention rate by reintroducing and continuing opportunities for recognition, like the long service awards, bonuses for exceptional performance and the revision of job descriptions to ensure equitable compensation. The department also continued providing training and development opportunities, including reassignments to projects and roles, to demonstrate public health competencies to sustain an optimal retention rate. The department is in the process of completing succession planning to address attrition over the next 10 years due to retirements, contract expirations, resignations and promotions, and provide opportunities for staff development and preparation of the next generation of leaders.

With a large percentage of contract workers, the department has made efforts to recruit and retain Bermudians for many of these specialised posts. These include bursary students and trainees in these hard-to-fill posts, including Public Health Nurses, Environmental Health Officers, Speech and Language Pathologists, Physiotherapists and Laboratory Analysts.

Madam Chairman, two Cabinet memos were approved in 2024/25 fiscal year, which included a reorganisation of the Environmental Health section and the Office of the Chief Nursing Officer. This resulted in new and redefined posts to ensure the modernisation of public health services. The department still has challenges in recruiting and filling posts within a timely manner and has introduced key performance indicators to measure the length of time for local and overseas recruitments. The Department of Employee and Organisational Development supports the Department of Health to address the backlog of recruitment, which has remnants of the COVID-19 pandemic, the aforementioned hiring freezes and natural attrition for a large department to ensure that we meet the targeted outcomes.

Programme managers have also been trained as recruitment managers themselves to lead in the recruitment drives, thereby reducing the length of time of recruitment. In this way, additional resources are being engaged to bear on the ongoing need to recruit approximately 20 to 30 posts annually. To keep pace with turnover, two or three department of head recruitments must occur each month and more recruitments are needed to make headway into the pool of vacant posts that arose from the above-mentioned reasons.

Madam Chairman, this ends my presentation on business unit 32230, Administration.

Health Promotion—32240

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: I am still at page B-155, turning now to line item 32240, Health Promotion. The 2025/26 budget estimate for the Health Promotion and Wellness business unit of the Department of Health, listed at cost centre 32240 on page B-155 is $773,000, and this is a 24 per cent increase over the year 2024/25 and [is] accounted for not only by salary uplifts but also additional modest funding for health promotion events and funds that will support adolescent mental health training.

Madam Chairman, the first strategic principle of the Bermuda Health Strategy is health promotion, which emphasises the importance of encouraging healthy living and preventative care as foundational elements of a strong and sustainable health system. The Health Promotion and Wellness Programme plays a central role in this effort, working to develop and implement public health policies, programmes and educational tools that empower individuals and communities to make informed choices about their health. In collaboration with public health partners, the programme focuses on raising awareness, reducing risk factors and fostering environments that support wellness through the lifespan.

A key element of successful health promotion is health literacy, the ability of individuals to obtain, understand and use health information to make appropriate decisions. Higher levels of health literacy are directly linked to better health outcomes as they enable individuals to navigate the health system more efficiently adhering to treatment regimes, engage in preventative behaviours and manage chronic conditions. Equally important is the promotion of behavioural change, which involves shifting long-standing habits related to diet, exercise, smoking, alcohol use and medication adherence. These behaviours are among the leading contributors to non-communicable diseases which are prevalent in Bermuda and pose significant burdens on individuals, families and the health system.

By investing in health promotion that strengthens health literacy and encourages positive behavioural change, the Ministry of Health is laying the groundwork for a healthier, more empowered population. These efforts not only improve individual well-being but also help to reduce the long-term demand on health care services. They help to lower system costs and support the broader goals of universal health coverage. In essence, health promotion is not just about preventing illness. It is about creating a culture of wellness where people are informed, engaged and supported in leading healthier lives.

Madam Chairman, the annual health promotion calendar is a product that the Health Promotion Programme uses to inform the public of the many health promoting activities and observances of the department and community health partners. In the 2024 calendar, each month focused on a healthy recipe using fruits and vegetables that are grown locally. I want to take a moment to recognise the late Pauleter Stevens, who was the Health Promotion Officer who was responsible for coordinating the production of the health promotion calendar. Pauleter was a true champion for public health and a stalwart with the Health Promotion and Wellness Office. Her passion and dedication were evident to every facet of her work, and she will be deeply missed by all those who knew her.

Madam Chairman, two of the Department of Health events of the calendar that Health Promotion annually sponsors are Public Health Week and Celebrating Well. The 2024 theme for Public Health Week was "Protecting, Connecting and Thriving: We are all Public Health." Each day of Public Health Week focused on a particular public health topic and identified ways to make a difference on that topic.

The topics were community, healthy neighbourhoods, violence prevention, sexual and reproductive health, mental health and food and nutrition. Activities related to each topic were offered to the community and a highlight was the "Let's Talk Mental Health" that featured a panel of local mental health professionals providing information and answering audience questions regarding mental well-being.

Madam Chairman, the Celebrating Wellness Week is an annual event geared towards increasing awareness and promoting measures to address the epidemic of non-communicable diseases which continue to severely impact the health economy and development of Bermuda. The 2024 focus was "Power Through Collective Action: Good Health is Our Right," and this event featured community partners who provided information, health screenings and activities to promote healthy living. To combat noncommunicable diseases, we need to make commitments to live a healthy lifestyle by moving more every day, choosing water, eating more vegetables and protecting our mental well-being. It is important to note that we must work together as a community if we are going to promote mental well-being and tackle the chronic diseases and noncommunicable diseases, modifiable risk factors for diseases like diabetes, heart disease and cancer. The goal of the Department of Health is to reduce the number of Bermuda residents who are at risk of chronic disease.

In 2024, Madam Chairman, the Department of Health, in collaboration with the Bermuda National Athletics Association, the Ministry of Social Development and Seniors and the Ministry of Youth, Culture and Sports hosted the second annual Move More Bermuda Senior Games. The Move More Bermuda Senior Games is part of the Department of Health's Move More Bermuda campaign, which was launched in 2011, and these initiatives aim to promote the importance of incorporating physical activity into our daily lives. We celebrated people 50 years and older who enjoy being active and enjoy a little healthy competition. The Move More Bermuda Senior Games provided our participants with various track and field events that suit their abilities and preferences.

There are many benefits for those persons over 50 and having an active lifestyle. According to the National Institute of Ageing, staying active can help an individual to maintain and improve their strength, have more energy, improve their balance, manage and prevent some diseases, sleep better, reduce stress and anxiety, reach or maintain a healthy weight, control their blood pressure and perk up their mood. More than 50 local competitors participated in the event, and it is scheduled to take place again in June of 2025. I would invite all Honourable Members 50 and older to join with me as we participate in the Move More Senior Games.

Madam Chairman, continuing the work of destigmatising mental health, in 2024, there were 32 professionals who formed the second cohort of the Community Adolescent Mental Health Training Programme. The cohort was comprised of professionals from the Department of Education, the Department of Child and Family Services and the Department of Health. Participants in this programme learned about stigma, completed the youth mental health first aid course which was facilitated by Dr. Judith Bruce Golding of Mental Health First Aid [England] and local instructors Dr. Allison Daniels and Ms. Yosefyah Spence. They learned about adolescent development, signs and symptoms of common disabling mental health problems and crisis situations, when and how to refer students and how to promote anti-stigma in the school environment. Several trainings are scheduled for 2025.

Madam Chairman, additionally, in 2024 we commissioned an instructor training course through Mental Health First Aid [England] and we trained five local professionals and three from two Overseas Territory (UKOTs) islands to be instructors in youth mental health first aid, thereby strengthening our local capacity to offer more sessions. These sessions empower adults to recognise the signs of mental health challenges in young people and respond with appropriate support. The inclusion of participation from other UK Overseas Territories also fosters regional collaboration and knowledge sharing, helping to build a stronger, more resilient mental health network across our island communities.

Madam Chairman, the Health Promotion team started the refresh of the Well Bermuda Health Promotion Strategy, with assistance from the UK Health Security Agency. The refresh commenced with a desktop review of the strategy and related documents, such as an action plan, progress reports and presentations, Government policies and other related Bermuda Government strategies. This was completed by interviews with relevant stakeholders in Bermuda, including those who were directly involved with the Well Bermuda Strategy and those whose work is related but have yet to be actively involved. The review aimed to understand progress and achievements in data across the objectives and priorities of the Well Bermuda Strategy, to understand the challenges reported by stakeholders in delivering the core objectives and to collate views of future priorities for health improvement and health promotion.

And finally, Madam Chairman, the Health Abets Podcast was launched in April of 2024, and the aim of this podcast is to discuss everything from A to Z on healthy living with the mission of empowering, informing, motivating Bermuda's residents. Currently, the podcast episodes are featured on the Department of Health's Facebook and YouTube channels.

Madam Chairman, this ends my presentation on business line item 32240, Health Promotion.

Comprehensive School Health—32265

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning now to line item 32265, Comprehensive School Health and that can be found again at page B-155 on the Budget Book. And this is also referred to, Madam Chairman, as Healthy Schools. The line item budget for this is $170,000, which is a significant increase from previously $157,000. The Healthy Schools Programme promotes health in schools through government departments such as Education, National Drug Control and Mirrors, Child and Family Services, community health partners such as the Bermuda Diabetes Association, Bermuda Cancer and Health, the Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute and the Department of Health school-based programme including Child and School Health, Nutrition Services, Oral Health, Community Rehabilitation Services and Environmental Health.

The Healthy Schools Programme collaborates with the schools to implement the 10 components of health and ensure integration of those components with academics. The 10 components include physical education, nutrition education, mental and emotional health, health services, healthy environment, health promotion for staff, substance abuse prevention, family and community involvement, health and safety education and school policy and the environment. In 2024/25, 80 per cent of . . . 25 of 31 schools took part in the programme, adopting the 10 components. Schools receive feedback about what health looks like on their campuses and tips for making improvements. And each spring schools compete in a self-assessment that reflects the 10 components of health and how they comply with this year's health components. And then the progress of schools is celebrated at the annual Healthy Schools Awards ceremony held in May. And that was actually held last week. So honourable colleagues will probably hear more about that and the schools that participated.

So, Madam Chairman, in compliance with the school nutrition policy, the Healthy Schools team is working more closely with the Department of Education to limit all fast-food deliveries to schools for any reason and fast food-focused fundraising to no more than once a month. Healthy Schools has provided schools with recommendation for non-food related fundraisers as well as rewards. And all public and private schools have at least one filtered bottle filling station and/or a filtered water system making fresh, clean water the easiest choice. Healthy Schools also supports and recognises those schools that choose to implement their own water-only policy.

Madam Chairman, in 2025/26, Healthy Schools will continue to encourage schools to grow edible plants, fruits and vegetables. Additionally, to help students understand their own health-related fitness, Healthy Schools will continue to work with the Department of Education's Curriculum Officer for Physical Education and Health to improve the completion of the FitnessGram assessments for P5 to S4 students in terms one and three. Meetings are planned to encourage schools to integrate small bursts of physical activity throughout the day in the classroom and to present strategies on how they can implement the daily mile with students and staff each morning.

A healthy lifestyle assembly is provided by Healthy Schools in as many preschools, schools and camps as possible that includes fun and interactive discussions about the importance of adopting, practicing and maintaining healthy habits and lifestyles. Healthy Schools has also designed a Wellness Wednesday calendar that preschools and schools can use to highlight a healthy habit each Wednesday. Students and staff are also encouraged to practice the healthy habit throughout the week. Healthy Schools has also developed a school health policy manual that schools can reference when they have a question or concern related to safety and health at school. All schools have received copies and are due to receive the 3rd edition.

Madam Chairman, for the environmental component, Healthy Schools and the Department of Education's facilities management in partnership with the Environmental Health Department will carry on working closely with school custodians and cleaning companies that clean schools to raise school's environmental cleanliness standards through frequent cleanliness inspections and . . . they are monitoring tools and provide feedback to each school custodian for improvement.

In addition, since 2020, Healthy Schools has been working with the public and private schools to improve compliance with the Bermuda Schools asthma policy and ensure optimal environmental health in schools by having schools reduce clutter in classrooms and other school areas and eliminate the use of scented plug-in air fresheners and aerosol sprays.

Madam Chairman, since the summer of 2021, Healthy Schools has been coordinating out-of-school camps during all school breaks and after school programmes throughout the school year. To ensure children's safety and health, Healthy Schools provides support and public health updates, monitor safety and health standards, and conduct surveillance visits as needed. Discussions are planned to begin setting standards for camps to ensure the safety and health of all children enrolled in out of school camps and after school programmes.

Madam Chairman, finally, during 2025, the Health Promotion team plans to conduct the World Health Organisation's Global School Health Survey as part of its ongoing efforts to better understand and support the health and well-being of young people. This internationally standardised survey collects crucial data on health behaviours and protective factors among students, including physical activity, diet, mental health, substance abuse and exposure to violence. The insights gained are vital for the development and implementation of evidence-based health programmes, policies and initiatives tailored to the specific needs of Bermuda's youth. By identifying emerging trends and risk factors early, the survey enables targeted prevention strategies, promotes long-term health and strengthens disease prevention and efforts within this key population group.

This ends my presentation on business unit line item 32265, Comprehensive School Health.

Turning now to 32290, still on page B-155, is Child Care Regulations.

The Chairman: Minister, before you continue, can I just remind the listening audience what they're hearing here? Thank you.

Listening audience, this is a reminder that we are in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. We are now in debate on the Ministry of Health being led by the Honourable Minister Kim Wilson, JP, MP, and we are under the Head of Department of Health.

Minister Wilson, thank you.

Child Care Regulations, 32290

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you. Madam Chairman, this is the budget as it relates to Child Care Regulations or the CCR business unit. And again, I am on page B-155 and their budget is $510,000, and this increase of 38 per cent or $140,000 is entirely due to staffing and budgeting for four posts to sustain the programme.

This business unit is responsible for the registration certificates of day care providers and licences for day care centres. For the fiscal year 2024/25, Madam Chairman, 85 per cent of day care providers and day care centres received the S.T.A.R.S. inspections and those were completed. The CCR team was able to investigate complaints within the allocated time frame (48 hours) for concerns for children's safety and five days for non-safety risk complaints. This was due to clear procedural guidelines and productive partnerships with the relevant agencies when conducting joint investigations. Following the inspection period, the CCR team created focused professional development workshops to help address areas of growth for day care centres and day care providers. These workshops, in addition to access to pre-recorded professional development sessions, assisted with meeting the target of offering the total hours of recommended professional development for the day care providers and the day care centres.

Madam Chairman, our young children deserve the highest quality of care and education, and the field of early childhood education is constantly evolving. Continuous learning is not only essential for professional growth, but keeping up with the advancements in the field allows providers and centre staff to refine their skills, expand their knowledge and become more effective in their roles, thereby increasing the quality of care. Knowing how important professional development is to those working with children, the Child Care Regulations team started the developing professionals training in 2024. These three monthly professional development training sessions available to all providers and centre staff allow participants to gain knowledge and skills on a variety of topics based on trends observed by the [CCR] staff or based on the recommendations of participants, and we look forward to expanding the list of presentations as the series grows.

Madam Chairman, the second cohort of the Child Care certificate programme commenced in September 2024, and we are excited to see persons interested in a career in the field of early childhood, taking advantage of this opportunity at the Bermuda College. These participants can apply the knowledge and skills that they have gained in the classroom during their practicums in our four- or five-star rated centres. Without the collaboration between CCR, the Bermuda College and Department of Education, this second cohort would not have been possible, and this is a win-win for all parties involved.

Madam Chairman, there continues to be an increase in providers and centres that not only meet the minimum requirements by law, but choose to exceed them by implementing the best practice standards which are evaluating using an inspection tool referred to as the S.T.A.R.S. The S.T.A.R.S. inspection is a comprehensive tool looking at areas such as supervision, health, safety, learning environment and materials, caregiver competencies and parent/family engagements to list a few. The S.T.A.R.S. tool allows the officers to evaluate various aspects of child care while providing support and guidance throughout the process.

The aim is to ensure safe and enriching environments for our children to grow and to develop where quality continues to be raised. The public is now able to access a list of all day care providers and day care centres that are licenced and registered with the Department of Health by parish and S.T.A.R.S. rating. This is in addition to a summary report that allows parents to see how the provider or care centre performed on their S.T.A.R.S. inspections in [20]22 and [20]23. The summary report lists the individual areas inspected and how well they performed, and this tool is a starting point for parents when considering the best placement for their child.

The CCR website also has a checklist and a booklet to assist parents with what to look for and what questions to ask to help them make an informed decision.

Madam Chairman, the CCR team continues to make improvements to its programme using the data from the relationship-building and collaborative collaboration survey. The data shows that the team has made gains in several areas and the work to collaborate continues. The CCR team is committed to work together with the sector to achieve its mission: Happy, healthy and safe child care.

Madam Chairman, this ends my presentation on business line item 32290, Child Care Regulations, and this ends my presentation on programme 2205, Administration at page B-155.

Community Health, 2201

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The second programme I would like to present is under Head 22 and it is Community Health and that's at page B-154, line item 2201.

The Department of Health's programme again comprises 13 business units and it is again at page B-154, and I will go through those units and the total budgetary allotment for those 13 business units is $26,741,000. This represents an increase, Madam Chairman, of 15 per cent over the 2024/25 original budget and is on par with the salaries uplift that's already been previously mentioned.

The budget units for the Community Health programme consist of 221 FTEs. Starting with line item 32000, Lefroy [House] Care Community and 32015 Sylvia Richardson Care Facility and again, Madam Chairman, I am still on page B-154.

The Department of Health operates two exemplary long-term care facilities. The Sylvia Richardson Care Facility in St. George's and the Lefroy House Care Community in Sandys. The 2025/26 budget estimate for Lefroy Health Care Facility listed at business unit 32000 on page B-154 is $5,321,000. The 2025/26 budget estimate for Sylvia [Richardson] Care Facility listed at business unit 32015 represents $6,000,212. These amounts are increased by 6 [per cent] and 4 per cent, respectively, from the original 2024/25 budget amount.

Both facilities, Madam Chairman, provide care and promote independence and optimal health for persons age 65 years and over who have significant nursing and care needs requiring 24-hour facility-based care. The two facilities are residential care communities providing comprehensive medical, nursing, environmental and recreational services to the resident and respite care elders. Our aim is to maintain and improve quality of life for elders and their loved ones. The demand for nursing beds continues to far exceed capacity. Sylvia Richardson and Lefroy House collaborate with Ageing and Disability Services, community health and the social work teams from the Department of Health and the Bermuda Hospitals Board to prioritise and fill the vacant beds as they become available.

At Lefroy House, infrastructure projects continue to improve and optimise the living space for elders. The kitchen, dining hall and storage areas have been completely refurbished and the staff lounge and toilet facility renovation is complete. Windows and doors have been replaced in the administration and main buildings. The entire roof of the main building was recovered and waterproofed. Replacement of the internal sealing material in the communal areas is underway. With the completion of these major works the restricted operating licence has been lifted with the Regulator allowing full occupancy of which the premises can have—which is a total of 32.

Respite care will recommence once the shipment of new beds is received in the weeks ahead. Day care can no longer be facilitated due to the increased level of care that the residents and elders require, given that over 80 per cent of the residents have dementia and that their client profile creates its own staffing constraints. The activities programme has been restructured to accommodate the needs of the current clientele as we aim to provide elders with meaningful engagement.

Finally, educational opportunities have been facilitated so that the staff have the required skill set to continue to provide a high level of care. General repairs and maintenance, at Lefroy maintain a safe and comfortable environment for our resident elders and staff. However, a new build is planned due to the demand for beds. Plans to build a new Lefroy House at a new location are still moving forward as architectural firms have been invited to submit proposals for a design competition for a new build. Three firms have been shortlisted for the conceptual design phase and the winning firm is to receive $70,000 and the opportunity to design the new Lefroy facility. The deadlines for the submissions of this competition were 2 May of this year.

Madam Chairman, the Sylvia Richardson Care Facility, has been accommodating at-risk seniors referred from emergency admission via Ageing and Disability Services, investigations and proposals for increasing the capacity of Sylvia Richardson Care Facility, leveraging the existing staff and facilities to increase the long-term care capacity in Bermuda are underway.

Madam Chairman, maintaining the required minimal staffing levels 24-hours per day, whilst ensuring coverage is found for staff who are out on sick leave and vacation have resulted in significant overtime expenditure. The operating costs have increased significantly, especially the cost of supplies, food and utilities. Additionally, the repair/replacement of equipment and maintenance costs have increased. New beds have been purchased and are being shipped. Overall, the performance measures indicate a positive trend in preventative care and a higher percentage of residents receiving physicals and a low incidence of severe pressure sores requiring treatment or hospitalisation. However, there are areas needing improvement, such as the need for educational initiatives for key preventative measures like reducing urinary tract infections, falls and pressure sores.

Madam Chairman, efforts were made to survey family members of the residents of Sylvia Richardson Care Facility with phone calls made to connect with relatives to ascertain their feedback on the facility's service delivery. However, only 12 out of 42 family members completed the survey. While some families indicated they would participate later, feedback from the 12 respondents showed mixed opinions. Approximately one-third felt communication could be improved to better involve and inform them about their family members well-being. On a positive note, about one-third expressed satisfaction with the care provided by Sylvia Richardson Care Facility, noting the clean environment and that their loved ones appeared well cared for. Conversely, around 14 per cent of family members suggested that certain staff members would benefit from more training and dealing with elderly residents with dementia.

Madam Chairman, ongoing education and training are critical to enhancing the skills and knowledge of the nursing home staff. Staff development has a direct correlation with improved patient care, resident satisfaction and overall necessary skills to respond efficiently to the evolving needs of the residents, particularly in an era where health care is consistently changing. Recent studies have shown that a well-trained staff is essential in reducing errors in health care and improving the quality of life for residents. Thus, this increased allocation is not merely an expense but a strategic investment in the nursing homes foundational elements. The Sylvia Richardson Care Facility management and staff are committed to enhancing the quality of care through staff education and necessary physical improvements. With the increase in the education budget and the attention to furnishings and equipment needs, the nursing home is positioning itself not only to maintain its high standards, but also to an exceptional living environment for the residents and ensure that staff are fully prepared to meet the evolving needs.

This ends my presentation with business line item 32000, Lefroy [House] Care Community and 32015, Sylvia Richardson Care Facility.

Community Health Administration, 32010
and Community Health, 32060

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Madam Chairman, turning to 32010, Community Health Administration and 32060 Community Health.

The 2025/26 budget estimates for business line items. 32010 Community Health Administration and 32060 Community Health, which [funds] the nursing team—we are still at page B-156—and represent $1.573 million and $2.301 million, respectively.

Community Health nurses' budget for 2025/26 will increase by $475,000, which represents a 26 per cent. The Community Health Administration Business unit consists of administration support and health education. The cost centre provides administrative support for the programme for preventative and curative services, including child, school, travel, immunisation, community nursing, sexual and reproductive health, nutrition, clinical laboratory, rehabilitation, speech and language pathology, as well as two long-term care facilities and vaccine storage, medical office supplies and logistics. The programme assures coordination and conditions in which the facilities can operate safely, effectively and efficiently for clients and staff.

Madam Chairman, options to redesign the Hamilton Health Centre are being explored to modernise and provide the services needed, particularly for persons with disabilities, mobility, adaptive equipment, access, safety and health functionality, and privacy considerations. The recruitment of new staff anticipated with the Community Health Administration reorganisation requires capacity for redesigned workspaces to enhance the public health programme.

The risk assessment revealed privacy as one of the leading concerns in all clinical areas requiring strengthening. Additionally, the Mangrove Bay Clinic's renovation plans have progressed slowly, but it is at the general contractor selection stage. Vehicular replacement included four electric vehicles to the fleet with good effect for teams within the Community Health section.

Madam Chairman, the social work team remains in demand, with one additional FTE position filled. In 2024, there were a total of 109 new referrals in addition to the existing case log. Of the new referrals, 65 per cent of the clients were discharged following resolution of the primary issue. This is reflective of the team's effective and efficient role to help meet the increased needs of the community and connect persons with the appropriate services. The main reasons for social worker referrals are financial hardship, care support and care home placement assistance. Case complexities are related to a lack of health insurance, limited access to essential medications, and the inability to secure affordable housing. Collaborations with NGOs to address homelessness continue.

Madam Chairman, the predominance of the referrals has been received through the adult preventative health community nursing programme, which has been instrumental in identifying persons in need. There were 1,851 service events, which included home and office visits, collaboration and correspondence with other agencies, family correspondence and transportation assistance. In addition, biweekly participation in long-term care referrals team meetings occurred to ensure an efficient admissions process to the Government's long-term care facilities and for seniors.

The community health nursing team comprises a team of highly skilled, dedicated and community nursing staff. Currently the team operates with only five full-time nurses and one temporary relief nurse. To address the current staffing deficiencies and strengthen our capacity to meet the growing health care demands of our community, we have recruitment drives ongoing. Another recruitment drive will be conducted this year to on board two more full-time public health nurses. Despite the challenges posed by the existing staffing levels, our team has consistently delivered quality, professional care, maintaining a patient-centred and evidence-based health care approach.

Madam Chairman, the use of Penelope software for case management and electronic documentation reflects a commitment to staying technologically advanced and is aligned with the Government's initiative to be paperless. Numerous efforts have been made to streamline processes and make referral forms and policies available online for other stakeholders to utilise. Although this is still a work in progress, completion before the end of the fiscal year is anticipated.

Madam Chairman, the initiatives undertaken such as the Adults Preventative Clinic and the HEARTS initiative demonstrate a proactive approach to promoting healthy living practices and addressing prevalent health issues like hypertension, diabetes and cardiovascular disease. The team continues to provide excellent teaching to those within our services. Throughout the 2024/25 year, 54 acute preventative clinics were held once weekly with 566 patients seen for new and follow-up appointments, wound care, education, blood pressure and glucose monitoring as well as other types of education. In February 2025, the clinic days increased, adding an additional half-day for adult health clinics. The increase in patients, clinic days and complexity of cases highlights the need for additional adult health services, improved access to families that can meet these needs, advanced nurse practitioners and programmes for the adult population in Bermuda. The addition of a Community Health social worker has been a necessary asset to the team due to the number of complex social issues being encountered.

Madam Chairman, as Bermuda's population continues to age and experience an increasing prevalence of chronic illnesses, the demand for health care services across acute community and home settings is projected to continue growing. While the need for long-term care, skilled personal home care, respite and palliative care rises there is a shortage of health care professionals to meet these demands. Addressing these demands requires a shift from the traditional physician centred model of care to one that leverages the diverse skill set of a range of trained and quality health professionals, including advanced practice nurses. This year, the Ministry of Health will seek to expand the role of advanced practice nurses, as a part of the health care workforce strategy.

Madam Chairman, advanced practice nurses are trained at the master's or doctoral degree level and are certified to deliver care within their competencies. Advanced practice nurses with training and qualification and clinical assessment and prescribing have an essential role in health care delivery, including the assessment, diagnosis, treatment and management of patients across various settings.

Madam Chairman, advanced practice nurses play a pivotal role in increasing equity, access to quality primary care services, especially for health promotion, disease prevention and management of chronic conditions. In Bermuda's health care system, there are significant opportunities to optimise the role of advanced practice nurses, particularly by allowing them to practice autonomously, including prescribing medication within their areas of expertise. Additionally, collaborative practices with advanced practice nurses have been demonstrated to improve patient outcomes whilst alleviating physician workload, reduced wait times, improving patient flow and enhancing efficiency. The Ministry acknowledges the need to ensure appropriate accountability and infrastructure to support the integration of advanced practice nurses into the health care system and to update legislation to protect the title of advanced practice nurses and regulate their practice. And we are committed to consulting with regular health professionals to discuss the way forward.

Madam Chairman, the HEARTS initiative continues to advance, with 119 clients on the registry who have attended the clinic since commencing in 2022. Much effort and training has been conducted to ensure adequate follow-up patient education and support for these those participating. The community health nurses have also ensured that our homebound population continues to be serviced and seen through home visits, reducing the burden of acute care services. There have been 6,916 home visits conducted within the community, providing wound care management, maintaining client independence and offering additional support with health care needs after hospital discharge, education, long-term care assessments and other health care management needs.

A significant number of clients associated with two or more agencies, and a substantial portion of the client list requires a high level of support within the community. Madam Chairman, 31 per cent of the community nursing caseload receives financial assistance and finds it challenging to meet their basic needs.

Madam Chairman, patient surveys have been conducted showing 100 per cent satisfaction with the timely responses of the Community nursing team and accessibility. It is particularly noteworthy that clients reported being either very satisfied or extremely satisfied with the services provided, reflecting a high level of patient containment.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. If we could take a short break here. We are at the halfway mark, two hours into the four-hour debate on the Ministry of Health. We are now going to change out the chair and we welcome to the Chair, MP Scott Pearman of consistency 22.

[Mr. Scott Pearman, Chairman]

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Members, and the listening public.

We are listening to the debate for the Committee of Supply for the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditures for the budget year 2025/26. This is two hours into a four-hour debate, and we have been listening to the Honourable Minister Kim Wilson, JP, MP, Minister of Health.

Minister, you have the floor. Please continue.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, throughout the year, the team has participated in 16 health promotion activities and educational sessions, conducting health screenings and referring clients according to their needs, demonstrating a comprehensive and proactive approach to health maintenance. The team also collaborated throughout the hurricane season and was readily available with staff attending the hurricane shelter at CedarBridge Academy last August.

Mr. Chairman, that ends the presentation of business unit line item 32010, Community Health Administration and 32060, Community Health.

Child Health, 32030

Expanded Programmes on Immunisation, 32070

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, turning now to 32030 Child Health and 32070 Expanded Programmes on Immunisation. I am still reading from page B-154 of the Budget Book, in which Child Health listed at 32030, received $3,124,000 and the Child Health budget has increased by $49,000 or 2 per cent. The Child Health Unit consists of four sections: immunisation, child health, school health including asthma education, and travel health.

These sections, Mr. Chairman, provide preventative and curative health services for infants, children, adolescents, adults, seniors and the travelling public. These are conducted through various clinics, schools and community settings. Services include health and developmental assessments, screening, referrals, treatment of minor ailments, health education, health promotion, anticipatory guidance, adult and senior immunisations and travel consultations for travel to high-risk areas.

Mr. Chairman, Bermuda's Expanded Programme of Immunisation (or EPI) plans for the needs of vaccines in the child, adult, senior and travel health immunisation schedules. EPI procures most of its vaccines through the Pan American Health Organization Revolving Fund. This process assures safe, effective and quality vaccines. Universal access for many of the vaccines is provided through the public and private sectors. As the Department of Health undergoes a structural reorganisation, the EPI programme under its business unit 32070, will work across programmes for the needs of individuals at all stages of life, and this will impact business unit 32030, Child Health, as funds will need to be reallocated to 32070, the Expanded Programme in Immunisation. And this programme has been funded for $1,003,000.

Mr. Chairman, the Expanded Programme of Immunisations in Bermuda provides equitable and high-quality immunisation services to the population, particularly targeting infants, children, pregnant women, adults, seniors, travellers and vulnerable groups. The programme aligns with global immunisation targets and public health guidelines established by the WHO and the Pan American Health Organization. The EPI programme continues to play a critical role in ensuring the health and well-being of Bermuda's population, by delivering essential vaccines to prevent communicable diseases and prevent the importation and transmission of diseases.

Post COVID-19, Mr. Chairman, the declining vaccination rate have highlighted the importance of sustained immunisation efforts. Public concerns and misinformation continue to affect immunisation, particularly for the MMR (the measles, mumps and rubella) and booster vaccines. Notably, the measles outbreak in November 2024 underscored the importance of maintaining high immunisation rates and rapid response mechanisms.

Public Health Officers swiftly implemented outbreak containment measures, including emergency vaccination clinics, public awareness campaigns and private sector involvement. This resulted in coverage of the first dose of the MMR achieving the target of 95 per cent by the end of 2024. However, children who are appropriately vaccinated by two years of age remain below the target of 75 per cent, despite the primary series of whooping cough, tetanus, pertussis, diphtheria, polio and Haemophilus influenza achieving 90 per cent.

This requires more work through the vaccine hesitancy strategy to develop trust and collaboration with the community, key leaders and health professionals. Strengthening the information system and timely reporting has realised popular and positive results through the use of electronic immunisation registry.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Health administered 814 flu doses across the eastern, central and western areas of the Island during the annual Flu Express. Clients were able to get fast-tracked if they registered and made payments online, which improved customer experience. The total flu vaccines given between October 2024 to January 2025 was 1,691. Distribution to private facilities was 1,461. A total of 6,000 doses were procured and 2,790 doses were distributed. This does not include what was imported by the private sector.

Mr. Chairman, I will now turn to the other three sections of 32030, Child Health Programme. The Child Health continues to face human resource challenges but is actively recruiting in all areas to maintain high quality standards and services for child health and school health services. Despite this challenge, the Child Health Programme has achieved positive outcomes with 88 per cent of parents of newborns receiving home visits within 14 days of birth and all (100 per cent) of mothers being screened for maternal well-being at six weeks. Health visitors who are advanced practice nurses are essential in delivering health services to families with children under five. Feedback from the First 1,000 Days Integrated Pathway community survey emphasised the need for additional antenatal support. And in response health visits have begun offering antenatal home visits as a universal service to pregnant women. Feedback has been positive so far and visitors plan to continue the service to meet the community's needs.

Additionally, initiatives to promote and increase breastfeeding rates have yielded positive results, with the exclusive breastfeeding rate at six weeks rising to 44 per cent, up seven percentage points from the previous year. Activities such as antenatal breastfeeding classes promotion during Breastfeeding Awareness Month and collaboration with King Edward Memorial Hospital and the National Breastfeeding Committee will continue to attain favourable results.

Mr. Chairman, the School Health Programme is still operating with fewer staff than the full-time equivalent capacity. Despite these challenges, school nurses have diligently conducted health screenings and assessments for five-year-olds. This dedication is evident in the 96 per cent screening rate for the entire five-year-old cohort. In the prior school year, 48 per cent of school health assessments were completed, an increase of 19 percentage points over the previous year and 100 per cent of school health assessments were offered to all public schools. Last year, 21 per cent of five-year-olds were identified as overweight or obese, an increase of 1 per cent over the previous year. Addressing childhood obesity remains a key focus for school nurses, who are dedicated to promoting healthy habits and carrying out the necessary interventions.

Mr. Chairman, the School Health Programme collaborated with the Bermuda Public School system to engage in the signature discovery sessions at Whitney Institute Middle School. Through interactive session, students explored nursing as a potential career path. This is in alignment with one of Bermuda Health Strategy 2022-2027 principal themes: Strengthening Our Healthcare Workforce. The school Asthma Education Programme is also actively gathering student asthma registries from all schools on the Island, and this initiative focuses on educating school staff about asthma management and providing personalised teaching sessions for students who have missed school due to asthma.

Mr. Chairman, finally, Travel Health. Travel Health services continue to be in demand for the community, with 644 consultations in 2024/25, which represents an increase of 283 consults from the previous year, likely a change in trend due to post COVID-19. These consultations offer essential guidance on preventing waterborne, foodborne and vector-borne illnesses, equipping Bermuda residents with the knowledge they need to protect their health abroad. By providing this crucial service, Travel Health aims to reduce the risk of infectious diseases being brought back to Bermuda ensuring the safety and well-being of our community. Looking ahead, this unit will continue to adapt to evolving trends and providing timely, relevant services that help safeguard the health of our residents both at home and abroad.

Mr. Chairman, this ends my presentation for business unit 32030, Child Health and 32070, Expanded Programme on Immunisation.

Sexual and Reproductive Health, 32040

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning now, Mr. Chairman to line item 32040, still at page B-154, Sexual and Reproductive Health. Mr. Chairman, this was awarded the sum of $985,000. Savings are being achieved by delaying the recruitment of a vacant administrative post for part of the year.

Mr. Chairman, the Sexual and Reproductive Health Programme consists of two sub programmes: maternal health and communicable diseases. Sexual health requires a positive and respectful approach to sexuality and sexual relationships, and the programme addresses this through high quality information and education, treatment and interventions.

Mr. Chairman, women make up approximately 54 per cent of Bermuda's population. Of these, more than three-quarters, at any one time, want to either prevent or achieve pregnancy. It is crucial that women have a choice and control over reproduction to ensure pregnancies are planned and wanted, health is optimised before and during pregnancy and women who do not wish to have children can effectively prevent becoming pregnant. To reach these goals, the sexual and reproductive clinics offer comprehensive family planning services to the underinsured and uninsured populations at low cost.

Mr. Chairman, a planned pregnancy is likely to be a healthier one, as unplanned pregnancies represent a missed opportunity to optimise pre-pregnancy health. For this reporting period referrals for termination of pregnancy had decreased by 11 per cent in comparison to the previous year. Women seeking the service range in age from 17 to 38 and despite the declining number of referrals, young women remain the group at the highest risk of unplanned pregnancies. Outcomes for young parents and their children are still disproportionately suboptimum, contributing to intergenerational inequity with increased costs to the education, health and welfare services. Family planning is important for women of reproductive age, with contraception providing a longer opportunity to address any health issues in advance of a pregnancy, leading to better health outcomes. There was a 3 per cent increase this year in the number of women accessing Sexual Reproductive Health clinics for contraception and family planning information.

Mr. Chairman, the World Health Organization recommends a minimum of four antenatal visits as more and better-quality contacts with health professionals will help to facilitate timely detection of risk, reduce complications and lead to healthy outcomes. In Bermuda, 74 per cent of women attending Sexual Reproductive services had four or more antenatal contacts, of which 42 per cent were transferred care to OB/GYNs once they acquired health insurance, 5 per cent left to deliver abroad, 2 per cent miscarried and 2 per cent had pre-term labour. These figures underscore the importance of continued efforts to enhance access to antenatal care and ensure that all expectant mothers receive the support they need to achieve the best possible outcomes for themselves and their babies.

Mr. Chairman, the human papilloma virus, or HPV vaccine, has proven to be a highly effective tool in reducing the incidence of anti-genital cancers and genital warts in both men and women. By preventing the spread of high-risk strains of HPV vaccines significantly lowers the risk of developing several types of cancer, including cervical, anal and throat cancers, as well as genital warts. Since the introduction of the HPV vaccine through the Sexual Health clinics, 82 per cent of females and 18 per cent of males have received the vaccine. This initiative primarily targets individuals who may not have received the vaccine during adolescence, ensuring that even later in life they are protected from the associated risk of HPV infection. As we continue to promote this vaccine, it is essential to recognise its long-term benefits, not just in terms of cancer prevention, but also in reducing health care costs associated with the treatment of HPV-related diseases. Increased uptake of the vaccine is in both genders will help prevent future cases of HPV-related cancers, leading to healthier outcomes for the community overall.

Mr. Chairman, sexually transmitted infections including HIV pose significant public health challenges and can lead to severe long-term health complications if left undiagnosed and untreated. These complications may include infertility, chronic pain, cancer and increased susceptibility to other infections. In the past year, a total of 4,152 STI screening tests were conducted through the Bermuda Sexual and Reproductive Health Clinic at a cost exceeding $70,000. These screenings are a vital part of our public health strategy aimed at detecting infections early and ensuring timely intervention.

Mr. Chairman, of the individual screened 1,348 people received comprehensive STI testing, with 35 per cent found to require treatment. This significant percentage highlights the importance of making screening service accessible, confidential and stigma free. By identifying infections early we are not only able to prevent further health deterioration in individuals, but also significantly reduce the risk of onward transmission within the community. Moreover, early detection and treatment are essential tools in curbing the spread of STIs and managing and mitigating the broader impact on public health. Ongoing investment in STI screening, public education, and access to treatment ensures that individuals are empowered to take control of their sexual health.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation on line item 32040, Sexual and Reproductive Health.

Physiotherapy, 32080
Occupational Therapy, 32120

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning now to line item 32080, Physiotherapy and 32120 Occupational Therapy and I am still on page B-154, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The 2025/26 budget estimates for the respective line items are $1,284,000 and $1,164,000, respectively. Both budget amounts have increased by 6 [per cent] and 7 per cent, respectively, year over year from 2024/25 original estimates.

Mr. Chairman, under the remit of Community Rehabilitation Services, Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy Services aimed to maximise the functional potential of children with delays in normal motor development or people with physical movement challenges. This rehabilitation service which spans the age spectrum, is organised into three teams: early interventions, school-based therapy and seniors. The staff is comprised of nine registered occupational therapists and eight registered physiotherapists, one coordinator and one team administrative assistant who is shared with the Speech and Language Pathology Service.

To strengthen Bermuda's health care workforce, trainee physiotherapist positions have been initiated. One position is already filled and recruitment for the second position is underway. Furthermore, investments in professional development have led to all paediatric therapies and most adult therapists obtaining certification in neurodevelopment treatment, enabling them to more effectively address complex neurological conditions, including stroke, developmental delay, cerebral palsy and various other neurological conditions. With an early intervention team, dedicated specialist OTs and PTs provide early intervention for babies and young children ages zero to four at risk of developmental delays and or disability.

The OT and PT early intervention services aims to complete a full assessment of referred clients within 20 working days to ensure the appropriate interventions provided and to mitigate any delay in function. Approximately 93 per cent of referrals were received for PT services and 84 per cent for OT were assessed within the established time frame this fiscal year, while an estimated 91 per cent of clients on the PT caseload and 100 per cent of clients on the OT caseload were making steady progress towards their goals that were established.

Mr. Chairman, improvements in staffing have contributed to better outcomes even as demand for both early intervention OT and PT services remains high. Additionally, outreach initiatives have been expanded to equip parents and caregivers with practical strategies and home programmes ensuring early and effective intervention. Assessment clinics are held weekly to promptly identify and address sensory motor delays in babies and young children, thereby enhancing their functional potential and quality of life. Furthermore, parent and multidisciplinary training sessions have been delivered throughout the year, which have effectively reduced the number of referrals from the early intervention team to school-based services.

Mr. Chairman, the school-based paediatric therapy team aims to increase early recognition of sensory, motor and developmental delays and provide a more equitable service for school-aged children throughout the year, not just during school term time. The OT and PT school-based service aims to complete a full assessment of referred clients within 20 working days. Approximately 59 per cent of referrals received for PT services and 73 [per cent] for OT services were assessed within the established time frame and an estimated 87 per cent of school-aged children for PT caseload and 84 per cent for OT caseload were progressing towards established goals. While the school-based PT team experienced a period of reduced staffing which resulted in fewer clients being assessed within the established time frames, effective teamwork and collaboration, particularly in the delivery of home and classroom programmes for parents and caregivers helped to mitigate these challenges.

Mr. Chairman, during the current fiscal year, the team successfully conducted sensory motor screening for each child entering primary one in the government school system. Additionally, services were extended to summer camps attended by children with complex medical needs, ensuring the preservation of skills acquired during the school year and mitigating the risk of regression. Furthermore, this year selected students based on their level of severity and in alignment with the programme's intervention goals participated in intensive neural development treatment sessions as part of the Neuro-Developmental Treatment (NDT) certification workshop for therapists. Several children from the government school system, including Dame Marjory Bean Hope Academy, engaged in off-site intensive multidisciplinary OT, PT and SLP sessions.

Mr. Chairman, the OT and PT seniors team aims to support clients in remaining as independent as possible in their own homes. The seniors team conducts home safety and fall-risk assessments for all eligible seniors referred to minimise the risk of falls at home and in this reporting period, client and caregiver training was provided to maximise function and promote ageing in place. In addition, several health promotion and educational activities were conducted to further educate and promote healthy ageing within our community. The OT and PT seniors-based service aims to complete a full assessment of referral clients within 20 working days and approximately 96 per cent of the referrals received for PT services and 92 per cent for OT services were assessed within the established time frame and an estimated 72 per cent of clients on PT caseload and 77 per cent on OT caseload were progressing towards established goals

This ends my presentation with respect to line item 32080, Physiotherapy and 32120, Occupational Therapy.

Clinical Laboratory, 32090

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning to 32090, Clinical Laboratory and again I am still remaining on page B-154.

Mr. Chairman, the Clinical Laboratory received $893,000 and this budget reflects the merged laboratories which [were] once separately the Clinical Laboratory at the Hamilton Health Centre and the Bermuda Molecular Diagnostic and Research Laboratory, or MDL, in Warwick. The merged laboratory is now renamed and registered by the Bermuda Health Council as the Bermuda Government Clinical Lab. The 12 per cent budget increase is due to several factors. The Laboratory is now a separate facility which requires maintenance and utility operations. The operational cost of real time PCR, which is a gold standard for communicable disease testing, also contributes to the increase in cost. This testing methodology offers flexibility for the identification of new and emerging public health threats. Funding is also allowed in expansion of testing for non-communicable diseases, mainly for the adult health programme.

Mr. Chairman, the Clinical Lab is responsible for clinical laboratory diagnostic testing for the programme within the various clinics, such as the Maternal Health and Family Planning, the Communicable Disease Clinic, the Adult Health Programme, Child Health and Oral Health as needed and the clinical laboratory also serves as the public health laboratory for Bermuda, assisting with outbreak investigations and public health emergencies. The lab provides specimen referrals for highly infectious organisms that cannot be tested locally. The collaboration with the Caribbean Public Health Agency (CARPHA), as well as UK HSA can be arranged to provide advanced testing of diseases which has major public health significance.

The merged Bermuda Government Clinical Laboratory maintains accreditation standards under the Commission on Office Laboratory Accreditation (COLA) and upheld registration requirements by the Bermuda Health Council. The lab currently provides clinical chemistry, haematology, serology, immunology, microbiology and real time PCR using a robust quality assurance system. Molecular testing for sexually transmitted infections such as gonorrhoea and chlamydia continue to be the gold standard for STI identification. The laboratory has performed 5,867 sexually transmitted diagnostic testing during the last budget year, which is approximately 26 per cent of the overall diagnostic testing provided by the Government programme. Mr. Chairman, 3.5 per cent of the testing is clinical chemistry. There has been significant decline in COVID-19 testing, which is constituting less than 10 per cent of the total number of diagnostic testing. This decline is due to less screening for the coronavirus.

Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to report that the forecast performance measures were mostly achieved. The target goal outcome for communicable disease testing was underachieved due to several changes in location. The outcome for non-communicable disease testing has increased, which is due to the adult health programme and as the Clinical Laboratory continues to expand, this will influence the performance measures for non-communicable disease testing. The Government Clinical Laboratory continues to enrol in proficiency testing as a quality assurance measure providing competency and assessing the capabilities of all who work within the laboratory. The Bermuda Government Clinical Laboratory continues to expand the testing for government programmes using a newly installed chemistry analyser and an immunoassay analyser.

The objective of expanding clinical chemistry testing is to provide diagnostic support as it relates to the adult health programme targeting the underinsured and uninsured populations. The aim is to make diagnostic testing available to all who require support in health care. The lab aims to provide real time PCR trichomoniasis testing in men, which is not routinely screened due to the sample and testing requirement. The lab aims to offer real time PCR for influenza A and B providing subtyping, such as H1N1 and H3 at full capacity in 2025/26. As most clinical diagnostics [are] using real time PCR, these tests are considered laboratory developed tests and the lab continues to undergo a rigorous test regime to ensure the data is of excellent quality.

Wastewater surveillance remains an activity to perform in [2025]/26, as this can provide early warnings of potential public health threats, which will require action. The lab also specifically aims to study antimicrobial resistance, COVID-19 and other projects deemed necessary.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation for business unit line item 32090, Clinical Laboratory.

Speech and Language, 32100

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning now to 32100 Speech and Language. I'm still on page B-154 and they received in their budget $1,971,000 and this represents a 20 per cent increase over the 2024/25 original estimate accounts for the recruiting of two vacant speech language pathologist posts.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Health, Speech and Language Programme provides speech, language and feeding/swallowing assessments and intervention services across the community. When fully staffed, the programme consists of 14 speech and language pathologists, one trainee post and one programme coordinator. Of these, three speech and language pathologists provide early intervention services in collaboration with the Department of Education's Child Development Programme for children aged from birth to four or five years of age. Eight speech and language pathologists are school based, providing services across all levels of Bermuda Government schools ages four to 18. One speech and language pathologist provides services to students with special needs who attend Dame Marjorie Bean [Hope] Academy which houses students between four and 18. And one speech and language pathologist providing services to our adults and senior population. Four posts were vacant in 2024, and the recruitment drive has recently finished with seven interviews held. Recommendations have been made for recruitment and onboarding to occur immediately.

Mr. Chairman, speech and language pathologists work closely with parents, school personnel, allied health professionals and private homes and clinic settings to raise awareness of speech and language delays and disorders, to provide functional communication skills as well to prevent life threatening complications that may occur during feeding and swallowing. Speech and language pathology therapy services include the provision of prevention and promotion information, screenings and assessments, consultations as well as interventions. Objectives are measured in terms of the provision of timely and responsive assessments. Services also include the delivery and provision of treatment for those identified as needing intervention client improvement, that is the effectiveness of treatment is measured by the reduction in the severity of the communication/swallowing challenges. This year, the wait list numbers for early intervention services are still high, but we are happy to report that they are lower than the last reporting period. While current programme time guidelines aim to provide an initial assessment for young children within three months of initial referral, the average wait is six months or less. Additional staffing will be key in achieving this target.

In 2024, Mr. Chairman, 50 cases were referred to the school-based programme. All students who were referred received an initial assessment within the programme's time guidelines of 35 working days. Once identified as needing services, clients are provided with therapy interventions. Currently there are no school-based students on a wait list. Clients are reassessed on a routine basis to assess their status and measure progress. This also serves as an indication to determine if services are still required. A combined 382 cases were followed for intervention by speech and language services this year. Caseloads vary between 50 and 70 clients per officer. Services to middle and senior schools have been adapted to be provided through a consolidative model, where the therapist provides school personnel and parents with the appropriate resources and strategies for clients with complementary direct services.

Mr. Chairman, this ends my presentation of business line 32100, Speech and Language.

Nutrition Services, 32110

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning on to 32110, Nutrition. Still on page B-154.

Mr. Chairman, the Nutrition Services business unit received $286,000 and this represents an increase of 13 per cent from the last fiscal year. And this increase is justified given the high incidence of diet related disease in Bermuda. About half of the increase is from salary uplift and regrading and the remainder is intended to enhance the programme. In 2024/25, Nutrition Services operated as a sub programme under both the Community Health and the Health Promotion and Wellness units. The programme has a staff of two public health nutritionists who support government and nongovernmental organisations and promoting healthy lifestyle behaviours and preventing of chronic diseases through consolidated nutrition services across Bermuda's population. The programme services include, but are not limited to health promotion, nutrition policy development, development and implementation of community-based nutrition programmes, consultation and community nutrition education, quality assurance visits, medical nutrition therapy, nutrition research, assessment and monitoring of the nutritional status of the population, and training and education.

Nutrition Services aims to deliver community programmes that raise awareness of health strategies for improved eating habits and healthier lifestyles. These efforts align with the Department of Health's mission to protect and promote the health and well-being of the people of Bermuda. The focus is on reducing chronic diseases through sustainable nutrition intervention and health education to improve food security and good health. Two key intervention programmes aim to boost food security, namely the Bermuda Parish Garden competition and the Grow! Eat! $ave! programme. The gardening competition had 77 registrants in 2024, encouraging all skill levels to participate, leading to 34 successful garden submissions. Categories that entered include 17 small gardens, 21 large gardens, 6 community gardens and 17 school gardens and 16 nontraditional gardens. Since Grow! Eat! $ave! launched in 2017, it has received nearly 800 registrants, and this year there were 42 committed gardening graduates. Responding participants in the combined Gardening Intervention programme reported a 71 per cent increase in their consumption of the recommended five servings of fruits and vegetables.

Recognising the importance of enhancing Bermuda's nutritional environment, the refresh of the Well Bermuda Strategy will result in previous nutritional service goals of establishing community gardens in each parish. This effort has the potential to enhance access to affordable and nutritious food, foster community engagement and cohesion, and promote physical activity, eating healthy and mental well-being and we must continue to cultivate healthy communities and a healthy Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, the PIVIO nine-week lifestyle intervention programme, which saw high demand in 2024 with 23 participants, led to significant group health improvements, collectively 128 pounds of weight loss, 17 inches lost, decreased blood sugar by 64 points and decreased cholesterol by 361 points, decreased bad cholesterol, which is the LCD by 41 points and decreased levels of lipids and fats in the blood as triglycerides by 706 points. All respondents reported increased awareness with 74 per cent of participants indicating an increase in their consumption of the recommended five servings of fruit and vegetables from the lifestyle intervention programme. Half of those who did not report an increase cited cost as a barrier to consuming more fruits and vegetables. This programme has achieved significant results in positive challenges and lifestyle habits and behaviours. Unfortunately, barriers such as limited course availability and course cost hinder its ability to meet the high demand. Therefore, future investment in PIVIO is essential in teaching sustainable healthy habits.

Mr. Chairman, Nutrition Services received 82 medical nutrition therapy referrals from across the life course. Most referrals received were from internal sources. This may be directly related to nutritional services primarily supporting high-risk individuals who are underinsured or uninsured to ensure health quality and equity. Most referrals were adults from the Adult Health Prevention Clinic in support of the HEARTS programme. Group education classes will be incorporated to enable people to develop knowledge and skills in self-managed disease and confidence. To ensure compliance with the code of practice for nutrition standards, 18 senior homes annual inspections were completed in 2024 and 89 per cent of senior homes met the requirements for a nutritious and varied diet to promote good health.

Additionally, the Department of Corrections met the same requirement with assistance from Nutrition Services to support cost-effective menu planning. Further to this, Nutrition Services in collaboration with Age Concern to facilitate a nutritional education and curriculum in the senior homes supporting standardisation of food service and medical nutrition therapy. The monitoring assessment of compliance and nutrition policy from responding schools suggest 84 per cent compliance.

Mr. Chairman, due to the rising cost of food in Bermuda Nutrition Services conducted a pilot baseline survey to assess the extended food insecurity among users of the Department of Health Clinic. Food insecurity is defined as having limited or uncertain access to sufficient high-quality food to meet basic needs. The survey was based on the Hunger Vital Sign screening tool, which is a validated two-question assessment designed to identify households at risk of food insecurity. Respondents who answered true or sometimes true to either question: Within the past 12 months, we worried whether our food would run out before we got money to buy more; or, Within the past 12 months, the food we brought just didn't last, and we didn't have money to get more were classified as at risk for food insecurity. Preliminary findings suggest that 59 per cent of the respondents were at risk for food insecurity, providing critical insights for future intervention programmes and policy development.

This ends my presentation, Mr. Chairman, with line item 32100, Nutrition [Services].

Adult Health, 32130

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning now, Mr. Chairman, to 32130, Adult Health. This is again remaining on page B-154 of the Budget Book in which they were allocated the sum of $624,000.

The Adult Health programme consists of three sub programmes: correctional health for medical services to inmates and correctional institutions, occupational health for the medical assessment of recruits to the uniformed services, and occupational health services to government employees and hazardous and high-risk occupations and forensic services to the Bermuda Police Service and medical supervision of detainees and police custody.

Together, these services are integral to protecting public servants, maintaining institution health standards and promoting the humane treatment of individuals in custody. Recognising the scope and distinct nature of these services, the programme is proposed to be renamed Uniformed Services and Occupational Health. This new name more accurately reflects the breadth of medical oversight provided to uniformed personnel and high-risk occupational groups.

Mr. Chairman, during the prior financial year 1,761 medical consultations for persons in prison were conducted at the Westgate facility, 88 per cent or 176 new persons in prison received an initial medical examination within 72 hours of intake and 60 recruitment medicals were completed for the uniformed services, namely police, fire or corrections. During the same period, a total of 132 BPS forensic call outs were attended.

Mr. Chairman, although not budgeted for this fiscal year, the department seeks to return a full-time equivalent nurse position to this sub programme, as the lack of nurses impacts the department's ability to provide consistent services to uniformed services. The lack of a nurse for the sub programme has negatively impacted recruitment for the Bermuda Fire Service and the Department of Corrections for the two budget years and is particularly critical as we look to expand and provide occupational health services in the incremental package.

Mr. Chairman, the purpose of the incremental package is to provide routine health assessments, preventative health promotion and health education, as well as secondary screening services to the Department of Health employees, including Vector Control and health care workers. The aim is to modernise the approach around health maintenance, help maintain and manage the burden of illness for the ageing workforce, as well as increase our compliance with the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). It is anticipated that this will ultimately generate cost-savings for the Government of Bermuda and increase productivity.

Mr. Chairman, this ends my presentation for business unit 32130, Adult Health and this ends my presentation for programme 2201, Community Health.

Oral Health

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The third programme I will present is under Head 22, Oral Health.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, this is now at page B-155.

The Chairman: Yes, the top of page B-155.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you.

Oral Health—2025/26 budget estimate for this programme listed . . . will include business units 32150, 32155 and 32160, has $1,694,000. The Oral Health programme provides comprehensive public health dental services to Bermuda's school children aged zero to 18 and seniors aged over 65. The oral health services are based on high quality, patient-centred care including dental examinations, consultations, preventative and dental hygiene appointments, as well as a range of restorative clinical treatments including extractions and fillings. There is a strong emphasis on preventative care, especially for children and adolescents, and restorative and minor surgical procedures.

Mr. Chairman, oral health is not separate from overall health. It is a critical component of it. Poor oral health has been linked to a range of systemic conditions including heart disease and diabetes. For older adults, untreated dental issues can lead to pain, nutritional deficiencies and increased risk of chronic illness. In children, dental problems can affect growth, school performance and self-esteem. By promoting accessible, preventable, and restorative care, the oral health programme not only addresses immediate dental needs but also contributes to better long-term health outcomes and reduces the burden on other areas of the health care system.

This programme exemplifies the importance of integrated equitable public health services by prioritising the oral health of our youngest and oldest residents. Of utmost importance is the need to address their personal needs through human resources redevelopment to assure continuity of the full range of oral health services. Following the onboarding of two dentists, the St. George's dental services had been suspended for one year and resumed in October and it has been shown that the dental offices posts are hard to fill. To ensure continuity of care, patient treatments were accommodated by transferring all support staff to the Hamilton Clinic. Moving forward it is intended that all dental assistants are cross-trained and upgraded on their skills and knowledgebase to enable them to function in any capacity as their job description dictates. This process of retraining has begun through the introduction of one-on-one clinical rotations.

Mr. Chairman, the school-based programme is an essential part of oral health services for children in primary school upon age entering grade P1 and they are examined by the school health team to obtain baseline health status information and using the decayed, missing and filled teeth index. They are using this during the screenings to document the oral health status of each child. Annual screening using this tool serves to observe trends and introduce appropriate programmes to address oral disease and maintain healthy mouths. Children who are examined and who need urgent care, are referred to the clinic or their primary dental provider for immediate attention. In the past, the medical and dental teams made separate visits to the schools to conduct screening and gather information. And in the case of the medical team provided other services, such as immunisations. This way of operating between the medical and dental teams often presents a distraction for the school and students. However, this school year, the oral health and the medical teams have collaborated to provide the health screenings on the same day and time.

The ends my presentation, Mr. Chairman, for 2202, Oral Health.

Environmental Health, 2203

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The fourth programme I will present is Head 22, Environmental Health. Still on page B-155. Environmental Health [Programme] 2203 consists of five business units and the combined operational budget estimated as $4,217,000, and this represents an increase of 12 per cent over the 2024/25 original estimates and incorporates an increase in recruitment for some vacant posts of 3.5 FTEs. The Environmental Health Programme consists of 35 FTEs. [Business unit] 32170, Institutional Hygiene; 32171, Public Health Nuisance Pollution and Outbreak Control programme; and 32175, Environmental Health Administration.

The allocations for the heads that I just mentioned have been allocated $888,000, $62,000, and $1.65 million, respectively, Mr. Chairman. The Environmental Health Programme provides monitoring, investigative and regulatory services in diverse areas such as food safety, occupational safety, nuisance safety, water control and tobacco control. Additionally, the Environmental Health Programme has begun utilising a new data system to input plumbing information and the administration team has begun entering licence details in preparation for inspections to conduct their inspections on the cosmetology and food sector businesses for September 2025.

In April 2025, the Environmental Health Programme undertook a ServSafe training with the target participants including food handlers, managers, restaurant employees and other relevant stakeholders. Additionally, the Environmental Health staff will continue to focus on publicity, education and promotion to raise the profile of the environmental health, informing the public of the wide range of responsibilities and activities within the section. Finally, the Environmental Health programme hopes to gain two bursary students who will complete their qualifications for personal proficiency training and designation as environmental health officers at recognised universities and the expected benefit is for continued delivery of environmental health services by qualified Bermudians.

Vector Control, 32190

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, 32190, Vector Control was allocated $1.816 million, and Vector Control is a dedicated and hard-working team within the Department of Health tasked with protecting Bermuda from the potential spread of rodent-borne and mosquito-borne diseases such as—I am not even going to try to say that—leptospirosis, Dengue fever—

The Chairman: A valiant effort, Minister. There you go. Dengue fever, there we go.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: I can say that one and Zika and there's another one—Chikungunya . . . through—

[Crosstalk and laughter]

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: —through vigilant monitoring, surveillance and timely intervention, the team plays a critical role in preventing public health threats from taking root in our communities. And their work includes the systemic inspection of properties, treatment of mosquito breeding sites and rodent control measures, particularly in areas where high environmental risks exist.

In addition to the field operations, Vector Control places strong emphasis on public education and community engagement. The team regularly participates in outreach initiatives such as the Ministry of Health's wellness fairs, career fairs, school visits and other public events to raise awareness about the importance of environmental hygiene in disease prevention. Through these engagements, residents are empowered with practical information on how to minimise breeding grounds around their homes and businesses, safely storing waste and identifying early signs of vector infestation.

In November 2023, Mr. Chairman, a representative from Vector Control attended the Cayman Islands hosted workshop sponsored by the Pan American Health Organization on regional mosquito-borne diseases and this was held in collaboration with PAHO and CARPHA. These collaborative efforts are critical to ensuring that Bermuda remains well-prepared to respond to vector-borne disease threats.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation on 32190, Vector Control.

Occupational Safety and Health, 32270

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning to 32270, Occupational Safety and Health. The Occupational Safety and Health Office was allocated $386,000 and this unit inspects places of work throughout the Island, investigates serious workplace accidents and ensures Bermuda's workers safety through the development of policies and procedures such as the requisite training and permit system for asbestos abatement.

Safety and Health is onboarding two staff members as inspectors, and the goal is to sustain a proactive workplace inspection programme that guarantees compliance with all relevant regulations. Occupational Safety and Health staff will continue to focus on publicity, education and promotion to raise the profile of Occupational Safety and Health.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation on business line item 32270, Occupational Safety and Health.

Port Health, 32285

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning to 32285, Port Health. The Port Health Unit of the Environmental Health Programme plays a critical frontline role in safeguarding Bermuda against the international spread of infectious diseases. By monitoring arriving travellers, conveyances and imported commodities at the airport and other ports of entry, the unit provides a vital layer of protection that ensures early detection and timely responses to potential public health threats. This includes the inspection and risk management and assessment of cruise ships and other vessels, with a focus on hygiene standards, waste disposal practices, potable water safety and any signs of illness among passengers or crew. In close collaboration with Customs, the Department of Immigration and the Department of Marine and Ports, the Department of Health Laboratory and the Port Health Unit also oversees the safety of imported food products, pharmaceuticals and other high-risk consignments verifying that they meet public health and safety standards. Their responsibilities extend to issuing clearances for food shipments and ensuring that any goods requiring special handling, such as perishable items, are stored and transported under appropriate conditions.

More importantly, the Port Health Unit is central to Bermuda's compliance with the WHO's International Health Regulation 2005, which require Member States to develop core public health capacities at designated ports of entry. This includes the ability to detect, assess, report, and respond to public health events of international concern. By fulfilling this mandate, the unit supports Bermuda's global health responsibilities while protecting the Island from emerging diseases, food-borne illnesses and other cross-border health risk.

As global travel and trade continues to grow, the work of the Port Health Unit remains essential to maintaining Bermuda's bio security, public health resilience and international reputation as a safe and healthy [destination]. The Port Health unit is actively recruiting officers to ensure that they are able to deal with emergencies and so forth and the unit has implemented an emergency roll call-out rota. Finally, the Port Health Unit and its functions will move from 2203, Environmental Health Programme of Head 22 to the Department of Health, 2102 Office of the Chief Medical Officer, under Head 21 as the Ministry of Health Headquarters to better align this unit with this mandate under the Quarantine Act and Regulations 2017 in line with their reporting to the Quarantine Authority. Thus, this budget line is unfunded.

This ends on a presentation on business unit [32285], Port Health as well as 2203, Environmental Health.

Central Government Laboratory, 32203

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The fifth [programme] is Head 22, Central Government Lab.

Mr. Chairman, the Central Government Lab consists of business unit 32203 and that is the Forensic Analysis 2204, Central Laboratory and 32220, Water and Food Analysis. And I still am on page B-155. And the estimates of this business unit represent $1,066,000, and $598,000, respectively. And this represents an increase of 25 per cent and 3 per cent increase, respectively, from the 2024/25 budget. And the drivers of these increases, Mr. Chairman, are uplifts in salaries, increased call-out remuneration for fast-tracked cases, additional funds for laboratory supplies and lab gases, import duty, preventative maintenance contracts for equipment and increased electricity bills. The Central Government Laboratory programme consists of nine FTEs.

Forensic Analysis, 32200

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, the forensic analysis programme performed seized drug analysis and toxicology analysis. In this reporting year, the total of 6,777 exhibits were produced and processed. The laboratory continues to manage very large case submissions. The noteworthy ones are 32 kilogrammes of cannabis resin and there was a submission that was analysed resulted in 1,168 tablets found to contain 3,4-[Methylenedioxymethamphetamine] (MDMA) colloquially, known as ecstasy. The most labour-intensive case received for the reporting year was a suitcase of various items of clothing and a travel pillow and a garment bag which, when analysed was found to contain 5 kilogrammes of cocaine. The cocaine had been soaked into the items in an attempt to conceal it, which required laboratory techniques to extract the cocaine from the clothing. The process was very labour intensive and required a large volume of solvents.

Mr. Chairman, the laboratory continues to receive submissions of dangerous fentanyl and this reporting year, the fentanyl was presented in various forms of coloured tablets and a variety of coloured powders. The most concerning fentanyl submission contained a cocktail of drugs which in addition to the fentanyl, included cocaine, alprazolam (sold under the brand name Xanax), acetomorphine, caffeine, codeine, and dextromethorphan. The laboratory is committed to expanding its THC testing to include a variety of cannabinoids. There is a requirement to purchase a new high-performance liquid chromatograph to achieve this, and quotes have been received, and the procurement process has started.

Mr. Chairman, also toxicology analyses are performed on coroner's cases, cases of driving under the influence and urine analysis for stakeholder agencies. The compounds that are routinely tested are for the common drugs that are abused in Bermuda, which include cannabis, cocaine, heroin, ecstasy and fentanyl. These continue to be steady year on year increases in cases submitted to the laboratory, and this year has been no different. The lab processed 157 cases, as noted in the performance measures. However, the total amount of toxicology cases submitted to the lab was 367 and there is now a backlog of 210 cases. The backlog is being cleared, and these duties are currently shared with the government analyst and there is now a demand for a dedicated toxicologist to maintain this service and support the current staff. The increase in cases is requiring a marked increase in laboratory supplies and maintenance of analytical equipment. To maintain continuity with casework during periods of recruitment and staff shortages, the lab locum scientists are in route.

Mr. Chairman, this ends presentation of 32200, Forensics.

Water and Food Analysis, 32220

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Turning now to 32220, Water and Food Analysis. This programme performs analytical testing on potable drinking and non-potable water samples, dairy products and food. It is primarily a laboratory support service to Environmental Health with the results used to identify bacteriological and chemical risk in both human and animal health. It is through this collaboration that the Department of Health can maintain a low incidence of water and food-borne diseases. There was a total of 4,790 water samples tested during this reporting period, representing 17 per cent increase from the previous year. It is noteworthy that the water quality of our main bathing beaches continues to meet the United States Environmental Protection Agency's guideline value every week through our routine seawater testing.

Mr. Chairman, since August of 2024, there has been unprecedented challenges in procuring water sampling supplies due to ongoing supply chain issues. However, a workaround has been implemented. With respect to the performance measures, the programme continues to excel with respect to a turnaround time of five to ten days for disseminating water, dairy and food testing results and they were achieved 99 per cent of the time. And we are on target to accomplish the same for the next fiscal year.

Local milk samples are being analysed bi-monthly to determine whether they meet the legislative limits, as set out in the Public Health (Milk and Dairyfarm) Regulations 1952. Milk samples that have not met the legislative limits cannot be used for supply and are referred to the government veterinarian for assistance and intervention. There were a smaller number of dairy samples processed, and that shortfall was due to a shortage of human resources. The number of food samples tested remains low as Bermuda continues to maintain low incidence of food-borne disease, albeit a figure worth celebrating. From January to March each year, this programme maintains laboratory capacity with respect to food testing in collaboration with the Environmental Health Programme and 92 per cent of our proficiency test scores met international standards.

Finally, Mr. Chairman, the WHO and CARICOM have committed to the elimination of trans fatty [acids] globally and in the region by December 2025. The Government of Bermuda has made a commitment to enforce the ban on industrially produced trans fatty acids to promote healthier dietary options and reduce health risks associated with trans fats consumption. The presence of trans fats in foods, even in small amounts, poses a significant risk to our health and well-being. And to monitor compliance with the upcoming ban on industrial produced trans fats, the water and feed analysis programme is actively building local laboratory capacity to conduct food testing for trans fats content in preparation for the ban.

We will also continue with public education, which we feel is essential not only to help food producers, importers and retailers prepare for the ban, but also to raise awareness among consumers about the health risks associated with trans fats and the benefits of healthier alternatives. This initiative is being supported by UK Health Security Agency.

This ends presentation for line item 32220, as well as 2204.

Capital Development

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Real quickly, Mr. Chairman, the capital development estimates for the Department of Health are found at page C-5, total $3.124 million. Allocations have been made for Sylvia Richardson Care Facility in the amount of $300,000.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The refurbishment of the parish clinics in the amount of $2.204 million and the Lefroy [House Care] Community in the amount of $620,000.

Capital Acquisitions

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Capital acquisition estimates can be found at page C-20 of the Budget Book and amount to $107,000.

And that concludes the presentation for Head 22, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. If you want to grab a sip of water, having finished Head 22. We are currently about three quarters of the way through a four-hour debate on the Ministry of Health.

We are hearing from the Minister of Health, the Honourable Kim Wilson. The heads for the debate that have been covered thus far are Heads 21 and 22. We still have Heads 24 and 91 to go, although I note that they are theoretically shorter heads than the others, but we will see.

Minister, if you have had a moment to catch your breath and have some water—

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: I have.

The Chairman: You have the floor—Head 24 begins I believe at page B-166.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: That is correct.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister, the floor is yours.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: All right. I will speed read.

HEAD 24—HOSPITALS

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The Bermuda Hospitals Board delivers emergency critical care, acute care, chronic care, long-term care, learning disability, substance abuse and mental health services. BHB is the only provider of 24/7 health care services in Bermuda and their services are delivered through King Edward Memorial Hospital, Mid-Atlantic Wellness Institute (MWI), and Lamb Foggo Urgent Care Centre campuses. BHB serves Bermuda's resident population and has the second largest number of employees at 1,600 full-time and 200 on-call and local staff.

A total of $177.141 million operational grant has been allocated under Head 24—Hospitals, which represents an increase of 14 per cent, or $21,743,000 over the budget of fiscal year 2024/25. This constitutes 72 per cent of the total budget allocated to the Ministry of Health for 2025/26, compared to 77 per cent of last year.

Grants and Contributions

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: The Head 24 budget also comprises hospital patient subsidy in the amount of $112,498,000 for children, the aged and indigent. This amount remains unchanged from the previous year and a further $41,161,000 grant has also been allocated for services at MWI, which is relatively the same as last year and an operational grant of $22,482,000 has also been allocated.

Heading 2401, General
King Edward Memorial Hospital, 34000

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, the total current expenditure was $384 million and represents an increase of $3,000,000 or approximately 0.9 per cent higher than the budget for that fiscal year.

From June 2019, the BHB's funding model was changed from the government to a fixed grant, and this includes all services under the standard health benefit legislated from the Mutual Reinsurance Fund (MRF), a fixed grant to the Mid-Atlantic Wellness Institute and a grant provided to cover youth, aged and indigent patients. The MRF portion of BHB's revenue is a transfer of a portion of the funds from the Standard Health Benefit [SHB] premiums and as such is not a budgeted line item in the Budget Book, but it is a significant portion of the BHB's overall revenue.

The overall revenue cap for SHB, MRF and MWI grant has been relatively flat for six consecutive years, with an additional funding coming in the form of grants such as $17,000,000 operational grant and a $7.2 million capital grant in the last fiscal year. This revenue formed about 95 per cent of BHB's total revenue in the fiscal year. The BHB's management team has achieved an average of 6.4 per cent annual interim savings over the past five years.

Mr. Chairman, there are four additional revenue streams not reflected in the budget for Head 24. As mentioned, previously I spoke about the Mutual Reinsurance Fund payment, which is—BHB is funded by a portion of the standard premium rate paid by each person with insurance in Bermuda and this is meant to cover Standard Health Benefit services for the insured population. In 2024/25, the MRF payment totalled $171 million. Again, these are four additional revenue streams that are not reflected in the Budget Book.

So, the first one is the MRF transfer of $171,000,000. A small portion of BHB's revenues paid by individuals who do not have insurance and non-residents who need urgent or emergency care, and that represents 5 per cent of their total revenue. This revenue stream has been gradually increasing alongside the rise of tourism and is expected to grow further in the fiscal year following an increase in the hospital fees from 200 per cent to 300 per cent—these are the 4B codes that we refer to. And then the third one is BHB receives donations—in the fiscal year a donation of $500,000 was recognised by two patients with the cardiology unit. The Hospitals Auxiliary of Bermuda also has donated $350,000 for the purchase of two ambulances and other medical equipment.

Mr. Chairman, I certainly would like to pause for a moment and thank the Bermuda Hospitals Charitable Foundation, the Bermuda Hospitals Auxiliary Board for their generous donations and support for their assistance to BHB.

The Chairman: And whoever gave half a million is probably worth thanking too, I would have thought. But there we are.

[Laughter]

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Yes.

The Chairman: The whole House. The whole House.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, due to pressures of delivering health care within a capped revenue funding, BHB has seen its cash reserves [and is] currently maximising utilisation of a $25 million overdraft facility.

By the end of March, BHB had recorded a net loss of $15.5 million after taking into consideration savings, and this is $7.3 million better than the projected loss previously.

Net revenue was slightly above budget by $10,600,000 and expenses were $3,300,000, or 0.9 per cent above budget highlighting the efforts BHB staff have undertaken to control costs.

Mr. Chairman, the Bermuda Industrial Union staff had a cost-of-living adjustment, or COLA, of 4 per cent in October 2024. However, BHB's BPSU members to date have not received a COLA increase since 2018, although the negotiations for the 2022 period are ongoing.

Mr. Chairman, as of February 2022, savings totalled $23,000,000 with approximately $12 million year to date attributed to government concessions. This is concessions such as tax concessions for payroll and the like. The remaining savings have been achieved through a range of internal initiatives with a focus on disciplined financial management and keeping all expenditures below budget.

Mr. Chairman, you may recall that was announced [in] last year's budget. BHB is moving to implement part of the 2024 budget speech which was an initiative to bill people injured in road traffic accidents. And their work is ongoing to near completion for that. And this practice when put in place in 2019, when BHB was in—this practice will . . . Sorry, they are in the final stages of this practice so that persons who are injured—road traffic . . . basically subjugated claims. BHB will be looking to do that. I know you don't understand what I am saying.

Mr. Chairman, regarding the auditing process, BHB has had clean audited financial statements up to 2023, and 2022 and 2023 annual reports are completed or in their final process and the audited financial statements for 2024 and 2025 fiscal years are underway and is expected to be completed.

There have been numerous upgrades and improvements by BHB, and they have made substantial investments in capital and infrastructure to ensure quality care is provided to patients.

Capital projects and operational projects are being deterred or postponed due to financial pressures. They have made upgrades to the Sterile Processing Department, an upgrade at $4.5 million, and that's a major renovation that started in November to upgrade their Sterile Processing Department. Surgical tools are cleaned and packaged in this area, and it supports over 9,000 surgeries undertaken by KEMH per annum.

The current equipment is over 14 years old and this is with respect to the upgrade that I just spoke about and in the older part of the general wing. So the infrastructure is needed urgency. So many issues have affected the Sterile Processing Department, which, like I have said, they have just started those upgrades.

Pyxis upgrade is a medication management system used across BHB for clinical units, and they access this through an advanced medication cabinet called the MedStation that provides controlled access to key medications by nursing staff.

The new Acute Care Wing (ACW) generator. An additional generator was installed in the hospital in 2024, and this new generator provides additional added security to their electrical supply.

BHB replaced 129 older mattresses in the Acute Care Wing at a cost of $80,000. Diagnostic imaging equipment. Some of their diagnostic imaging equipment, I am sorry, in the Acute Care Wing is at least 10 years old, which is the expected end of life for such technology. Some equipment—there have been increasing number of times that the MRI and CT has been impacted and replacing the equipment means all Bermudians can benefit from the latest technology. To make the replacement programme more affordable, BHB has structured payments to the vendor over time.

Over the course of the fiscal year, work began on implementing a new human capital management system and a payroll system, and these systems are a major part of this project, expected to be completed within the last quarter of this fiscal year.

Two new oncologists have been hired this year and arrived in February, and two new oncology nurses have also been hired and brings the full complement of full-time oncologists to three and a full complement of oncologist nurses. This means that all new and current cancer cases can be cared for on Island, supporting inpatient and outpatient needs. And they are up to 300 oncology patients seen by the services each month. BHB remains grateful to the support of the Bermuda Cancer and Health Centre and P.A.L.S. to their support, while their recruitment process was being completed.

With respect to the oncologists and oncologist nurses, of course they are specialist positions. So hiring in general oncologists for Island services has been increasingly rare, and hiring time could take up to six months.

The Digital Health Trainee Programme was launched in November 2024 as a partnership with the Bermuda Government Workforce Development and the first cohorts consist of four staff members enrolled in two-year programmes, rotating every six months.

BHB signed a memorandum of understanding with the Minister of Education in November 2024, and they are now . . . which means BHB is now a learning partner for the new signature schools programme, specifically the health and social care signature programme, which will take place at The Berkeley Institute.

BHB also has awarded—and continues to invest in their future talent by awarding $190,000 in scholarships to 12 local students in this fiscal year. One of the scholarship awardees received $20,000 and is funded by GlaxoSmithKline and administered by the BHB.

Performance Measures

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: With respect to performance measures, Mr. Chairman, if I can turn to that real quickly.

The Chairman: Mm-hmmm.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Accreditation Canada is a non-profit organisation that works to improve the quality of health care services and more than 1,100 health and social service organisations in Canada and around the world have been accredited. BHB received its formal notice of achieving accreditation in fiscal year November 2023. They also received Accreditation Canada for their pathology departments. Primary stroke unit—this is more good news—achieved an inpatient benchmark and a critical stroke performance indicator in December 2024 and BHB received a faster average door to needle time for administering tissue plasminogen activator (TPA) and clot busting drug treatment to stroke patients. Getting the treatment within the required four-hour window can be the difference between a complete recovery and ending up with lifetime disabilities or even death.

Another issue—

[Pause]

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, the BHB remains focused on ensuring safe discharges and not discharging at any cost. However, data on inpatient bed weights continues to be influenced by the number of complex discharges, where external factors affect the discharge process.

BHB publishes a monthly KEMH performance report on its website, which highlights that wait times and inpatient beds have generally trended upwards throughout the year, with only brief periods of relief.

Data released in December of 2024 show that nearly half of its acute care beds were filled with patients who are medically fit for discharge. The average length of stay for these patients in the acute care wing units was over two months or 70 days. Of course, the knock-on impact, and we have talked about here in this Honourable Chamber, has led to the hospital . . . has been where they have at times had as many as 30 people waiting for beds in the emergency department due to bed unavailability throughout the rest of the hospital.

Improving care—the integrated care pathways, as we have discussed in this Chamber with respect to structured and multidisciplinary approach has been offered by BHB and that's with respect to the development of pathways involved in the collaboration with BHB staff, local urologists, the Daily Mail, P.A.L.S., and the Bermuda Cancer and Health.

Ongoing efforts to integrate care pathways for a more timely, efficient and high-quality patient experience have led to the release of new prostate cancer integrated care pathway and [information] booklets this month. An information booklet was also produced.

Optimising and upgrading the PEARL (Patient Electronic & Administrative Records Log) system. We have spoken about—that was a major upgrade to PEARL by the vendor. It was completed in 2024—that is their electronic medical records system.

Okay—returning to staff matters. All 1,800 staff were offered PIPA training. And Food Service improvement continues with a new room service experience for moms and kids in the Maternity and Gosling units. Following a three-month pilot, an a la carte menu has been established with a restaurant style option for special kids' options. MWI food service staff achieved a 100 per cent pass rate on a comprehensive food handling and safety course.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, completing the upgrade of the diagnostic imaging equipment in Acute Care Wing by fall of 2025, completing the upgrade of the Sterile Processing Department that I spoke about, upgrading the Maternity unit to remedy issues relating to the age of the infrastructure, continue the strategic planning process to prepare BHB's strategic plan for 2026 to 2030. Continuing optimising PEARL with annual vendor upgrades.

That concludes the presentation of Head 24.

HEAD 91—HEALTH INSURANCE

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Moving quickly to Head 91—Health [Insurance].

The Chairman: Thank you. Please do.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: This can be found at pages B-166 through B-170 of the Estimates of Revenue Book.

The mission of the Health Insurance Department is To provide equitable access to affordable benefits and collaborative programmes leading to improved community health outcomes. The budget for the Health Insurance Department is $15,901,000 and this represents an increase of $12,459,000 over last year. There are 18 full-time equivalents driving the important work of this department, and this number remains unchanged from the previous years.

If you turn to page C-19 of the Budget Book, it will show that $13,250,000 represents an increase of $10,950,000 and this represents the Health Insurance Fund. And this additional funding will enable the Government to meet its commitment to the rollout of phase one of UHC, starting with expanded access to essential health care services through the Health Insurance Plan and FutureCare. And this increase also supports the Government's commitment to remove the waiting period for the personal home care benefit.

General Administration

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Mr. Chairman, budget parity. This budget funds the Health Insurance Department, so it will be the Health Insurance Plan (or HIP), the FutureCare, the Mutual Reinsurance, the Government Subsidies Programme (which pays towards the hospitalisation cost of select populations) and the Health System Strengthening Fund.

The Health Insurance Plan covers policyholders under 65 years old and FutureCare covers seniors for hospital care and a variety of doctor visits, prescription drugs and outpatient services to ensure that the most vulnerable can access necessary health care services.

The head also manages the Mutual Reinsurance Fund, which helps to stabilise the health insurance system by redistributing funds collected from the standard premium to subsidise the cost of the Standard Health Benefit.

In life's most critical and vulnerable moments, whether facing a sudden stroke or requiring emergency air lifting for life-saving care, access to timely and affordable health can make all the difference. And, Mr. Chairman, the Health Insurance Department continues to serve as a vital safety net for those who need it most. Through the HIP and FutureCare, we ensure that Bermuda's most vulnerable have access to essential medical treatment without the fear of financial ruin or exclusion due to pre-existing conditions, as is the case in private insurance companies.

Importantly, HIP and FutureCare are non-discriminatory plans. There are no pre-existing condition exclusions. Coverage begins immediately, ensuring individuals are protected when they need care the most. And this level of access/inclusivity is uncommon and is a testament to our commitment of health equality, ensuring that everyone has access.

There are, of course, financial realities that we need to underpin, and we will continue to provide the provision of care. The cost of health care does continue to rise and the medical trend rate for HID, which reflects an annual health care inflation is approximately 8 per cent. And this is driven by multiple factors including increased utilisation of services, an ageing population and a growing burden of chronic diseases.

Since November 2021, HIP and FutureCare policies have not experienced an increase in premium. The monthly premium for HIP has remained at $459.24 and for FutureCare it is $530.14, and this reflected the Government's commitment to ensuring that the premium rates remain stable. However, to sustain the comprehensive and reliable nature of these benefits, and to ensure continued financial viability of both plans, a modest increase in premiums will be introduced this coming fiscal year and the next step in that, Mr. Chairman, is necessary to keep pace with ongoing medical inflation and increased service demands.

We are . . . I have spoken already about the increase, but drug benefits that we will see as we phase out UHC phase one for HIP and FutureCare patients.

Maternity benefits, Mr. Chairman, another crucial programme with the HIP is the Maternity benefit programme which is designed to provide financial support and essential health care services to expectant mothers during pregnancy, childhood and the postpartum period. This programme ensures that all pregnant women regardless of their financial situation can access the necessary medical care including prenatal visits, screening, [and] labour and delivery services. And this is a wonderful programme that was designed for women who are under- and uninsured to ensure that they and their babies get the best medical care, their children get the best intervention of early life and at the beginning stages of life, and they get [the] comprehensive provisions of the maternity benefits programmes. So, this is almost 100 qualifying women who were able to access this.

Personal home care benefit. I think we are all familiar with that. And that is where qualifying individuals can receive up to $60,000 of personal home care to help to keep people to age in place. So, it is not only for seniors but for persons who may have disabilities.

We will be looking to remove the 12-month required waiting period for persons to be able to enrol automatically in this coming legislative session.

Currently around 478 participants receive the personal home care benefit. And almost $6.6 million was paid out in claims for the personal home care benefit averaging approximately $13,000 per participant compared to 2023/24, which represents a 3 per cent increase.

And as I previously mentioned, Mr. Chairman, the Government is committed to eliminating the 12-month waiting period for the personal home care benefit. So, the Health Insurance Department is now positioned to facilitate immediate access. And this means seniors and people living with chronic conditions will be able to access this which will, of course, help with respect to provisions with . . . sorry. And this means that seniors and people living with chronic conditions and others who are seeking hospital discharge can receive the support that they need as quickly as possible.

The Enhanced Care Programme is still very successful. And we have seen 92 people actively participate, each of whom are eligible for four primary care visits annually without a co-pay along with access to critical medications. The feedback from the participants has been consistently positive, and clinical indications, which are more important, show that this cohort continue to show encouraging trends in not only the patient experience but their health outcomes.

Operating results. The HID fund—I will just talk about that really quickly because this is on the performance measures—has two products, like I said, HIP and FutureCare. There are approximately 3,771 projected FutureCare headcounts and 5,250 on HIP. Did I say that right?

The Chairman: Yes. You did. And we are on the performance measures—

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Yes. Thank you.

The Chairman: —Page B-170.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you. Thank you. Okay.

Still on performance measures. Premiums collected for FutureCare are projected to be $32.6 million which represents a 2 per cent increase. And HID is expected to collect $32.1 million. The Mutual Reinsurance Fund premiums play a critical role with sustaining the operation of the health system. And the fund in 2024/25, Mr. Chairman, collected $376.97 per month. And the current rate of the MRF would collect approximately $18,128,000. And if the headcount remains as is at 48.08 persons, 48,000, then it is anticipated that $217.5 million for fiscal year. And that headcount has increased by 1.1 per cent to 1.2 per cent over the past three years. Should this be a 1.0 per cent increase, the MRF is expected to collect a total of $219.8 million. [The] Health System Strengthening Fund, which has been allocated $1 million, is to support the implementation of UHC, Mr. Chairman.

I have spoken previously about the Project Management Office, that they are advancing the financial analysis and the actuarial modelling of the core benefits. And then the subsidy operating results. And that is under the performance measures as well—$134 million or 65,490 encounters. So that is with respect to the subsidy. And the Health Insurance Department continues to monitor the subsidies.

And then performance measures, real quick, part two, page B-70. The Health Insurance Department has reviewed and revised its performance measures to better align with the strategic goals involving demand. The recalibration reflects the broader commitment to continuous improvement and accountability in the delivery of the public health insurance. And HID is placing a renewed emphasis on emphasising stakeholder engagement, recognising the collaboration with policyholders, health care providers, and community organisations is critical.

I certainly want to pause real quick to provide my appreciation to the HID business partners including Sutherland Healthcare Solutions, Trellis Health, Argus Insurance, Global Medical Management Inc., and ProServe for their steadfast support of the department and offer again my thanks to the Health Insurance Department and the Health Insurance Committee who meet regularly to help to drive the agenda.

In closing, Mr. Chairman, the Ministry of Health carries a vital mandate to implement the policies, plans, and programmes necessary to build a healthier Bermuda. This budget reflects our steadfast commitment to this mission advancing a health care system that is more equitable, resilient, and sustainable through strategic reform and focused investment. Despite the pressures of rising health care costs, the Ministry continues to demonstrate sound financial stewardship through careful planning, collaboration, and so forth, Mr. Chairman. Across all business units, the Ministry's work is shaped by equity and access and outcomes, fiscal responsibility and sustainability, preventative care, early intervention support for the vulnerable populations, health system strengthening and integration, and workforce development and community engagement. As we advance towards health reform goals, this budget is more than a financial plan; it is a catalyst for meaningful change.

Mr. Chairman, as I indicated, I will end where I started thanking all the teams at the Health Department and the Ministry and the quangos for all their support in helping us drive Bermuda and creating a healthier Bermuda.

And I also do invite the Honourable Member . . . if there are any questions that we were not able to answer, I will submit to them in writing.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you very much, Honourable Members and members of the listening public.

We are in the Committee Supply for Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for budget year 2025/26. We are dealing with the Ministry of Health which was scheduled for some four hours. To be fair to the Minister, she has struggled valiantly with a very large brief.

We have about 20 to 25 minutes left. The Chair recognises the Honourable Member for constituency 7, the Shadow Minister of Health, MP Robin Tucker.

Ms. Robin Tucker: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

First, I just want to start by thanking the Minister for two things. One is for a very, very comprehensive brief this evening, and as well, all of the health care workers, health care providers, anyone at all who is involved in health care because it is such an important thing for us as a community no matter how difficult it may be. So, I just want to start by saying that.

Another thing that . . . I recognise I only have a short time. But I wanted to just very quickly say something. On Monday I had the unfortunate opportunity to be a patient at the hospital. Right?

The Chairman: Yes.

Ms. Robin Tucker: And as I was waiting, when I was in the ER, I had the opportunity to overhear people, I mean, just looking around the room and seeing all the people who were waiting like I was. I had the opportunity to overhear a conversation with one of the hospital staff about a little displeasure that their loved one was discharged from the hospital and they were back because of continuing issues. So, what that did for me was it reminded me that going into this budget debate, this debate is not, for me, as much about dollars and cents as it is about people. And so that is what that experience reminded me of.

With the time that I have left, I just want to say that my focus and a lot of the focus of my questions that I had prepared are around quality, transparency, and accountability. So, Mr. Chairman, if you do not mind, I would like to start with Head 24 . . . given, . . . in the interest of time. If I could start with the hospital.

The Chairman: Please, please proceed.

Ms. Robin Tucker: So, one of the things that is blatantly clear is that the hospital grant funding, the block grant, is not working. One of the things I want to point out is that between from 2019 to 2020, 2019 when the block grant actually started, to 2024/25, Mr. Chairman, $795 million was spent. If you look at the actuals in prior books, that is what it totals, $795 million. If we include what has been budgeted for 2025/26, Mr. Chairman, $177 million, that is a total of $972 million, almost a billion dollars, almost a billion of taxpayers' dollars that have been spent on the hospital and the hospital funding.

So, I do ask about accountability because we are heading in a direction of universal health care and, you know, the hospital, and where we go with that. We do not even know where we are going with this block grant funding.

So here are my questions:

- Would the Minister please confirm whether the Government has fully repaid the balance of the $31 million owed to BHB which was to be repaid monthly and completed by the end of fiscal 2024/25?
- When was the final monthly payment made, and what was the amount of the final instalment?
- Can the Minister tell us how the $22 million additional funding for the hospital was determined and how it is intended to be used to address the current operational and staffing needs especially given recent pay disputes and inflationary pressures?
- What month does the Government pay the block grant funds to the BHB, and what is the full amount that the BHB can expect to receive?
- Given past underfunding and delayed payments, what mechanisms are in place to ensure that the BHB receives full and timely payments this year?
- When will the block grant funding be revisited to ensure that funding is adequate to keep pace with medical inflation [and] that the model aligns with actual cost and capital spending?
- When was the last block grant financing review for the Bermuda Hospitals Board conducted and by whom, and what were the funding gaps identified?
- Can the Minister give assurance to the public that the current operational grant and patient subsidy allocation to the hospital are sufficient to meet growing demands of an ageing population and a population with increasing chronic conditions and demands on health services and rising health care costs?

- What reporting and oversight mechanisms are in place to monitor how the block grants are spent and to ensure accountability for both the Government and for the hospital?
- Will the Minister commit to publishing regular updates on hospital funding, expenditure, and outcomes to enhance transparency for the public?
- How is the hospital preparing for the transition to universal health care in 2026, and what operational or financial challenges are anticipated during this shift? And how is the BHB preparing to overcome them?
- Will the BHB receive targeted funding or resources to prepare for the transition to universal health care, and how will this affect its financial planning and service delivery?

The next question I have is on staffing. We know that there have been significant challenges in terms of recruitment and the like. There are a multitude of reasons why there is a challenge to recruit, but the question is: What are we doing to overcome it?

If I may, Mr. Chairman, may I quote the Minister from last year's budget debate?

The Chairman: Please.

Ms. Robin Tucker: It was in the Hansard. So, the Minister relayed a warning from a member of the World Health Organization who anticipated that in two years' time, we will have over 10 million shortages of health care professionals throughout the world. So, the internal recruitment issues mentioned already make challenging recruitment strategy much more difficult because we are not just competing with our neighbours next door, we are competing with the world in terms of having available resources.

Part of the reason we cannot attract people is our high cost of living. I mean, people hear about funding challenges. People hear about no salary increases in seven years. People hear about all those types of things, and then of course when you consider that you do not have sufficient staffing numbers then it immediately goes to, Is that going to lead to stress and burnout and extra overtime to cover vacant positions and the like?

So, I would like to know if the Minister can tell us what proactive changes to recruitment strategies and practices and additional steps have been taken to recruit to ensure that Bermuda's residents have sufficient health care professionals on the Island given that we are competing with the world for human resources. And I know that is a tall, tall, tall order, but I must ask the question because we have a hard enough time getting health professionals now. We cannot afford not to have sufficient . . .

I have more questions, but I can sit and wait a minute because if I can, I would like to have a few answers before we wrap up, if that is okay with you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Member.

Just to remind the Chamber for those who may not have heard. The Minister did very kindly indicate that she would give written responses or responses to questions if they were provided.

Is there any other Member who would like to contribute to the debate? If not, Minister would you like to bowl a few overs, or would you like to go back to questions from the Honourable Member?

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Okay. I do have the 14 questions, so let me just answer the ones that I do have. But like I said, I will provide these—

The Chairman: Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

And this may not necessarily be in the order in which they were asked, but I have the order in which they were asked.

What month does the Government pay the block grant to BHB, and what is the full amount? It is paid monthly on the fifteenth of each month.

What mechanisms are in place to ensure that BHB receives full and timely payments this year? Payments occur in a timely manner according with the grant letters that are in place between the Government and BHB.

What proactive changes are being done with respect to recruitment? I can speak to what the Ministry is doing, but insofar as what BHB is doing, no doubt they have similar challenges with respect to the worldwide shortage of nurses. But BHB continues to support talent development programmes.

I spoke about their scholarship programme, which is similar to what we have at the Ministry with respect to the Dr. Barbara Ball Scholarship so we are trying to encourage participation through higher education in roles of health care through the offering of scholarships through the Bermuda Government scholarships, the Dr. Barbara Ball scholarship. And then BHB also has offered scholarships to individuals that would hopefully come back and work for us. BHB is also, as I indicated, part of the education . . . What is it called? They are one of the cohorts that are providing at The Berkeley Institute the science/ (I cannot remember the name of it.) medical . . . What is it called? Signature school.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Right. Thank you. Thank you. So that that can help to encourage individuals and promote the provision of health care services in Bermuda as a career opportunity. (Just a minute.)

When was the final payment made, and what was the amount of the final payment? All payments were made by the 2024/25 fiscal year. (I am still reading.)

I can also say while I am getting more answers, Mr. Chairman, that the Government recognises that BHB is an important stakeholder within our health care system and that we value the vital services that they are providing to us, but we also remain committed to working collaboratively with them to ensure that the hospital has the necessary funding that they need to sustain and provide essential services to the community whilst also recognising that transparency and funding allocation are critically important. The issue as the Honourable [Member] Ms. Tucker, who sits in constituency . . . constituency . . .

The Chairman: Seven.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you—seven.

—mentioned the issue as it related to the block grant. That was introduced—appreciating that she was not here at the time when we introduced that—but it was a cost-saving measure. We were on our way to a million-dollar-cliff health care spend. Half of that was at BHB.

And we recognise that jurisdictions throughout the world have moved away from fee-for-service towards a block grant because not only is it more sustainable, [but] it makes sure that it is not having cost overruns. It is just a more efficient mechanism that hospitals are running throughout the world as a best practice to move away from fee-for-service to something that is more of a block grant system. So that is what we did.

We did a lot of work when we did health financing reform in 2017/18. And that was the decision of the trajectory that the Government chose to go on for a number of reasons not the least of which is the savings as it relates to controlling costs without sacrificing the provision of services.

[The] general vacancy rate is only 8 per cent actually at BHB. And the registered nurse vacancy is only 7 per cent. And again, as I indicated concerning the issue—it is question number 14 with respect to staffing—both BHB and the Ministry of Health are actively recruiting recognising that we are competing against other jurisdictions that are offering green cards.

So, we are competing against a number of other jurisdictions, but we are actively trying to recruit. But the general vacancy at BHB and the registered nurse vacancy is not as big as one might expect when I say 8 per cent and 7 per cent, respectively.

We are also working, Mr. Chairman, with the Health Council to review developing entry level pathways into new job categories such as the advance practice nurses that I spoke about and LPNs. I did speak about the signature school that BHB is now engaged with, with respect to The Berkeley Institute.

Workforce strategy work is underway as part of UHC, one of the initiatives. And also, when we spoke about the Bermuda Health Strategy 2022–2027, it was one of the eight pillars—workforce strategy and identifying what our workforce needs are in Bermuda and making sure that we take steps to ensure that we have a Bermuda population that is within our health care system. So, we will always need to rely on overseas talent, but we want to ensure that we can have and develop homegrown talent as well.

Yes. The Government agreed to pay the remaining $16.3 . . . I am sorry. This is with respect to . . . The question is: When was the final payment made, and what was the amount of the final payment? All the payments were made, Mr. Chairman, by 2024, and the Government agreed to pay the remaining [$]16.3 shortfall in October 2023 in six equal instalments. And that has been paid.

Ms. Robin Tucker: Mr. Chairman, sorry. While the Minister is—

The Chairman: Sorry. Is this a point of clarification?

Ms. Robin Tucker: It is a question.

The Chairman: Minister, do you take—

Ms. Robin Tucker: May I ask a question?

The Chairman: —a point of clarification?

Ms. Robin Tucker: No. Sorry.

The Chairman: Yes.

Ms. Robin Tucker: It is a question for you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Oh, I am sorry. Yes.

Ms. Robin Tucker: I just wondered while the Minister was waiting to get answers if I could just get one more question in there.

The Chairman: Minister, are you happy to have another question put?

Yes, please. The Honourable Member for constituency 7, you have the floor.

Ms. Robin Tucker: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I just wanted to know, in response to the Minister's answer about fee-for-service, if there was or if there is any consideration for having a blended model so fee-for-service for some things, grant funding for some, and capitated. Is there any sort of consideration in that regard?

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Member.

Honourable Minister for Health, are you prepared to proceed?

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Yes. Thank you.

The Chairman: We only have about two or three minutes left.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Yes, thank you.

Mr. Chairman, like I said, the Government's commitment when we did the health financing reform several years ago was an introduction of a block grant. However, we maintained discussions and a working group with the BHB so that we can look at revenue generation ideas. The 4B codes, which is a fee-for-service mechanism so to speak, have been expanded. We have increased the amount. I think it went from $200 to $300. So, we are looking at perhaps some other services that can be going into the fee-for-service.

We have spoken about the road traffic incidents that I spoke about. So those 4B codes are in essence separate and apart from the block grant. So, there are considerations as to what else can be potentially inserted into the 4B codes. But we always have to remember—whatever we are doing as it relates to inclusions into 4Bs—what impact it may have on the overall health system. So, all of this . . . You cannot just . . . When you . . . It is like Whac-A-Mole. You cannot just do one thing and then do not expect that there is going to be any type of consequence. We have to look at the overall health care system in totality.

We are looking at other mechanisms in these discussions, in these working group meetings with the BHB, to look at other mechanisms as it relates to how to make sure the funding is sustainable. And we are also looking at perhaps consideration of transferring some services that are currently performed in BHB out into the community, which may have cost-effective economies of scale. So, that is all a part of the conversations.

Again, as I have indicated previously, Mr. Chairman, as a Government we are committed to ensuring that the hospital has the financial resources that they require to provide the services that each and every one of us is expecting. However, we have to look at it in totality. We need to make sure that accountability exists. I think the Honourable Member spoke first about accountability. And that goes on both sides from BHB as well as the Government. We have to continue in those dialogues, and those dialogues are continuing regularly.

I just have to see if I have a couple more answers.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Members, while the Honourable Health Minister is looking—

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Yes.

The Chairman: Oh, you have got them?

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Yes.

The Chairman: You have the floor, Minister.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Yes. In addition to this, what other proactive steps are being taken for recruitment, practice, et cetera? The Department of Health is exploring options to provide housing for public health professionals upon their arrival to the Island because we recognise that the cost of living is one of the bigger barriers to recruitment. I have spoken about the bursaries and the trainee programmes.

With respect to the question . . . What information would the Minister commit to publishing [in] regular updates on hospital spending annual reports? This would obviously come from BHB not the Ministry. Annual reports up to 2023 have been completed, Mr. Chairman, which will speak to the updates with respect to the hospital funding because they produce their own reports. They have been produced up to 2023, and they are complete and close to being made public. That is for 2023.

And there is a quality and safety data report posted quarterly on the website of BHB and a monthly report as well with respect to the emergency department and bed-waiting data and real-time waiting time in the waiting room. And that is also produced monthly by BHB. So, the annual report is about to be public for 2023, and then there is a monthly report that is on their website. And again, that speaks to the question as it relates to the publishing of regular updates of the hospital spending that would come from them in their annual reports.

I think that might be half of the questions at least, but like I said, I did undertake to—

The Chairman: Well, I am afraid we are probably now at the end of time anyway.

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Okay.

The Chairman: So, firstly, thank you to the Honourable Minister of Health and thank you to the Honourable Shadow Minister of Health, respectively, the Minister Kim Wilson and MP Robin Tucker.

Minister, would you care to move your heads?

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Sure.

Mr. Chairman, I move that Heads 21, 22, 24, and 91 be approved as printed.

The Chairman: Yes, Honourable Members, it has been moved that Heads 21, 22, 24, 91 be approved.

Is there any objection to that motion?

There being none; agreed to.

[Motion carried: The Ministry of Health, Heads 21, 22, 24 and 91 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.]

Hon. Kim N. Wilson: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I move that the Committee rise, report progress, and ask for leave to sit again.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Members.

It has been moved by the Honourable Minister that the Committee rise and report progress and ask for leave to sit again.

Is there any objection to that motion?

There being none, the Committee shall rise, report progress, and ask for leave to sit again.

[Motion carried: The Committee of Supply rose and reported progress and asked for leave to sit again.]

House resumed at 8:03 pm

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Deputy Speaker, in the Chair]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2025/26

The Deputy Speaker: It has been reported that the Committee rise and report progress with leave to sit again. That was approved.

No objections to that?

There being none; accepted.

That takes us on to the next matter. I do understand that we have one matter to deal with today. And that matter will be done under the Honourable Minister of Economy and Labour, I believe it is.

Minister?

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam [Deputy] Speaker, I move that the Bill entitled the Department of Labour Act 2025 be now read the second time.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that the Bill labelled the Economy Labour Act 2025 [sic] be read a second time.

Did I say that correctly?

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Department of Labour Act 2025.

The Deputy Speaker: Oh, Department of Labour. Sorry.

Is that approved? Yes.
Minister, continue.

BILL

SECOND READING

DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR ACT 2025

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Deputy Speaker, I am pleased to introduce in the Honourable House today a Bill entitled the Department of Labour Act 2025. [It] provides for the continuation of the Department of Labour in legislation and appoints the Director of Labour as the public officer responsible for the supervision of the Department of Labour subject to the general direction and control of the Minister responsible for labour relations.

The Department of Labour, previously known as the Labour Relations Section, used to be a section within the Department of Workforce Development. In 2017, the section was separated from the Department of Workforce Development and placed within the Ministry of Home Affairs Headquarters as a standalone government section headed by the Manager of Labour Relations. All employment and labour-related legislation was amended to provide the manager with specific legislative responsibilities that were previously held by the director of Workforce Development.

Madam Deputy Speaker, in March 2023, the section was transitioned into the Department of Labour, and the Director of Labour post was created to ensure the efficient operation and management of the department. This meant, Madam Deputy Speaker, that the legislation, regulations, and orders prescribed to the department as well as any consequential legislation required amendment to correctly reference the department by name and appoint a Director of Labour as the public officer within the supervision of the department as legislation currently refers to the Manager of Labour Relations.

Madam Deputy Speaker, it is essential to ensure that the legislative responsibility for the department is correctly assigned to the head of the department, and this Bill achieves that.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to this?

I recognise the Member from constituency 9. Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

I just have a few questions for the Minister. The first one is: Why was this not done? I mean, this is fairly straightforward. It is making consequential amendments to some Acts and obvious amendments to principal Acts. Why was this not done in July 2017 when the Act was separated from the Workforce Development or when it actually transitioned from a unit into a department in March of 2023?

I think from earlier today in our debate it was mentioned that the staffing of this unit/department has been through using employees from other departments. Is that correct? And since . . . I know the director was announced in October of last year. I am just wondering, since then, has the director been the only full-time equivalent, and have they been working with employees from other areas or temporary employees from other areas?

So, the last question is: The net impact of this department to the Government coffers is . . . As far as expenditure, is that equal to the $1,199,000 as per page B-199 in this year's budget?

That is it, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to this Bill?

There being no other Members, Minister?

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Deputy Speaker, I did not hear whether or not the Opposition supports the Bill or not.

[Laughter]

Mr. Vance Campbell: Madam Deputy Speaker, a point of clarification, if the Minister will accept.

The Deputy Speaker: A point of information, you mean?

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Jason Hayward: Point of information.

[Inaudible interjections]

Some Hon. Members: What is it?

POINT OF INFORMATION

Hon. Jason Hayward: Oh yes. The Opposition does support this.

The Deputy Speaker: Okay. Thank you.

[Laughter]

Hon. Jason Hayward: Well, let me begin by thanking the Opposition for their support of this particular Bill.

The Department of Labour is extremely fundamental in terms of maintaining labour standards in Bermuda, in terms of ensuring that there are harmonious labour relations. And so, I will walk through the exercise of where we came from to where we are.

And so, in July 2017, when it was moved as a unit head and transitioned from the Department of Labour underneath the [Ministry of] Home Affairs, as I believe I indicated at that point in time, the appropriate title for the person who actually managed the section—because it was not a department—would have been the Labour Relations Manager. When the Labour Relations Section shifted ministries to the Ministry of Economy and Labour, the Ministry then thought it best fit to create a Department of Labour with the necessary administrative support so it can carry out the functions that are required to ensure we can achieve the objectives that are set out from the department. That meant that we do a management service review and identify positions. Once the positions were then identified, we were able to get Cabinet approval to approve the department.

When you create departments, you can create two departments two ways in government. It can be [an] administrative department, or it can be a statutory department. When it was deemed to be an administrative department, it was still fine where we had reference to the manager responsible for labour relations, but we thought it was a simple amendment to just change the Manager of Labour Relations to Director of Labour Relations. Chambers had then advised us that the process is not as simple as that. If you refer to a director, the director needs to be a director of a department, and the department has to be a statutory department in law. And as a result of that, we brought the legislation to first and foremost create a Department of Labour that will be a statutory Department of Labour, and then at the end of that process, we then were to transfer the responsibilities to the Director of Labour.

The Director of Labour is not the only full-time officer and has not been the only full-time officer within the Department of Labour. We are in a process where we do ongoing recruitment, and that is primarily for the positions such as labour inspectors and also labour relations officers who may have transitioned out of the department at that particular point in time.

But when it was a unit, it did have staff associated with the unit that transferred over into the department. Where there was a shortfall in human resources, we then seconded individuals in the department because it is such a fundamental role that these officers play that we thought it was important for us to have the appropriate coverage.

I want to underscore what the fundamental importance of this Bill [is] in the context of how it is actually going to continue to allow us to assist persons in need within the world of work—that is increasing labour standards, ensuring we have appropriate labour policy, ensuring that we advance labour rights, ensuring that we have harmonious labour relations and the approval of . . . (I wouldn't use the word approval) or the facilitation of assuring that labour disputes actually get adjudicated in an efficient and effective manner.

I think that the statistics I mentioned earlier when I was going through the brief of the department in terms of the number of persons who had called in for consultations regarding provisions of law underneath the laws that govern the world of work in Bermuda is a testament to the fundamental importance of assuring that we have an appropriate administrative body within Government that actually can support persons within the world of work.

The level of complaints and the nature of complaints were also something that we should find somewhat concerning as it pertains to persons who are seeking justice through the Employment and Labour Relations Tribunal for not being paid, not being paid redundancy, for not having the appropriate time underneath the Act, and things of that nature.

So, this is fundamentally important. I believe it is an important milestone in terms of us having a properly constituted department with [a] full complement of staff who have been identified in terms of need and our ability to ensure that we improve the workforce.

When we start to talk about human-centred policies, the Department of Labour is on the forefront of supporting workers in the world of work. Not just that, but [it is] also looking in the future and determining how the world of work will adapt and what policy changes may be needed, ensuring that we stay up in alignment with best practices from the ILO, and as a means of social protection. You know, working in dignity is one of the goals, the sustainable development goals, that the UN actually sets. And we should be advancing to or trying to accomplish those goals as best as we possibly can. And in this particular area we find that jurisdictions that actually support their workers have more productive environments, better conditions. We have persons working in dignity and in decency.

This department is also responsible for ensuring that the minimum wage provisions, which are set out in law, are actually adhered to and there is compliance with the minimum wage. When I came to this House some time ago and I got the full body of complaints from an immigration standpoint that pertain to contracts that were not amended to reflect the minimum wage, I saw the gravity of having a department that persons can rely on, that they can contact to get the justice that they deserve. Sometimes we rely on employers to simply do the right thing, and that is not the case. We need to have a regulated environment with consequences for those persons who do not follow our laws. The Department of Labour and the Director of Labour are at the forefront of that.

I think that the statutory responsibility shifting from the Labour Relations Manager to the director is appropriate. It makes perfect sense, but it had to be an organised transition that we can actually facilitate. I would say until this law comes into force, the statutory responsibilities today remain with the Labour Relations Manager and not the director. And so, you can see how you have an officer within the department that has greater statutory responsibility than the person responsible for the department, and that does not make much sense and is the not the appropriate way we should be governing ourselves.

With that said, Madam Deputy Speaker—

Mr. Vance Campbell: Minister, I had a question about—

The Deputy Speaker: Please speak to the Chair—

Mr. Vance Campbell: Sorry. I apologise.

The Deputy Speaker: —and please wait until you have a point of information that you would like the Minister to yield to?

Mr. Vance Campbell: That is correct.

The Deputy Speaker: Okay. Minister, do you yield?

Hon. Jason Hayward: Sure.

The Deputy Speaker: Okay. You have the floor.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Vance Campbell: Madam Deputy Speaker, I had a question about the net expenditure that this department would have on Government expenditure. The Minister may have forgotten that part of the question. And is it equivalent to the $1.99 . . . I mean the $199,000 that is in the Budget Book?

The Deputy Speaker: Okay.
Minister?

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Deputy Speaker, I would caution you to ensure that Members of this House recognise the rules governing debate—

The Deputy Speaker: Not reflecting on other debates, is that what you—

Hon. Jason Hayward: —where a Member can only speak once during debate, and there is no interjection for further questioning and answers as we are not in the Committee of Supply.

The Deputy Speaker: And you are correct. And you can do that in Committee of Supply.

Hon. Jason Hayward: That was the first infraction.

The second infraction that I will caution about is that we just did a full debate regarding the Ministry of Economy of Labour and the departments that fall under that, and we debated and approved the head related to the Department of Labour. So, it is the most absurd question when we are talking about the funding associated with the department that we just approved earlier within debate.

Notwithstanding that, Madam Deputy Speaker, I would like to move that the Bill be committed.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that the Bill entitled the Department of Labour Act 2025 be committed.

Any objections?

There being none; approved.

[I] call on Member Famous to come and take the [Chair].

House in Committee at 8:22 pm

[Mr. Christopher Famous, Chairman]

COMMITTEE ON BILL

DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR ACT 2025

The Chairman: Honourable Members and the listening public, we are now in Committee of the whole [House] for further consideration of the Bill entitled Department of Labour Act 2025. I call upon the Minister in charge to proceed.

Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, I move clauses 1 through 6.

The Chairman: It has moved that clauses 1 through 6 be approved.

Is there any objection to that motion?

No objection. Agreed to.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, this Bill makes provision to amend the Employment Act 2000 and the Trade Union Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 2021 with respect to the continuation of the Department of Labour under the supervision of the Director of Labour as the public officer responsible for the department. Related matters are provided for in Schedules 1, 2, and 3.

Schedule 1 amends the Employment Act 2000, Schedule 2 amends the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 2021 and Schedule 3 provides consequential amendments to various primary and secondary legislation; all amendments change the officer responsible in legislation from the Manager of Labour Relations to the Director of Labour.

Clause 1 provides a citation for the Bill.

Clause 2 amends the Employment Act 2000 to insert a new section 3AA that provides for the continuation of the Department of Labour, under the supervision of the Director of Labour, who is the public officer responsible for the department.

Clause 3 provides for amendments to the Employment Act 2000 as set out in Schedule 1.

Clause 4 provides for amends to the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 2021 as set out in Schedule 2.

Clause 5 provides for consequential amendments as set out in Schedule 3.

Clause 6 provides for commencement.

The Chairman: It has been moved that clause 6 [sic] be approved.

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: Any Members wish to speak to that?
No one? There is no one?

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: It has been moved that clauses 1 through 6 be approved.

Is there any objection to that motion?

Agreed to.

[Motion carried: Clauses 1 through 6 passed.]

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam [sic] Chairman, I move that Schedules—

The Chairman: Wait, wait, wait. Let's be clear. It is not Madam Chairman.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: We are not gender-fluid up here.
Please continue.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, I move that Schedules 1 through 3 be approved.

The Chairman: It has been moved that Schedules 1 through 3 be approved.

Is there any objection to that motion?

No objection. Agreed to.

Anyone wish to speak to it?

[Motion carried: Schedules 1 through 3 passed.]

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, I move that the preamble be approved.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the preamble be approved.

Is there any objection to that motion?

No objection. Agreed to.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Chairman, I move that the Bill be reported to the House as printed.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the Bill be reported to the House as printed.

Is there any objection to that motion?

No objection. Agreed to.

The Bill will be reported to the House as printed.

Thank you.

[Motion carried: The Department of Labour Act 2025 was considered by a Committee of the whole House and passed without amendment.]

The Chairman: Madam [Deputy] Speaker.

House resumed at 8:27 pm

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Deputy Speaker, in the Chair]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR ACT 2025

The Deputy Speaker: It has been reported that the Bill be reported to the House as printed and that was agreed to. So accepted.

So that moves us on. Today we have no further matters.

I do understand that the Junior Minister wishes to do something.

Junior Minister of Finance, you have the floor.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam [Deputy] Speaker, I have the honour to attach and submit for consideration to the Honourable House of Assembly draft Regulations entitled the Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025 proposed to be made by the Minister of Finance—

The Deputy Speaker: Junior Minister, can I get you to move the suspension of Standing Order 14 first, please?

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I am sorry.

The Deputy Speaker: Yes.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Got to get my glasses on.

[Laughter]

SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDER 14

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam Deputy Speaker, I move that Standing Order 14 be suspended to enable me to present a communication to the House.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that Standing Order 14 be suspended.

Are there any objections to that? To enable the Junior Minister to provide a communication to us.

No objections.

Continue.

[Motion carried: Standing Order 14 suspended.]

PAPERS AND OTHER
COMMUNICATIONS TO THE HOUSE*DRAFT REGULATIONS: GOVERNMENT FEES
AMENDMENT REGULATIONS 2025

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

I have the honour to attach and submit for consideration to the Honourable House of Assembly draft Regulations entitled the Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025 proposed to be made by the Minister of Finance under provisions of section 2(1) of the Government Fees Act 1965.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Junior Minister.

So approved.

That takes us to . . . there being no other matters to deal with. The third reading of the Bill.

SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDER 21

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Deputy Speaker, I move that Standing Order 21 be suspended to enable me to move the Bill entitled the Department of Labour Act 2025 be now read a third time by its title only.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that Standing Order 21 be enacted to enable the Minister to read the Bill the Department of Labour Act 2025 for a third time.

Any objections?

There being none . . .

[Motion carried: Standing Order 21 suspended.]

The Deputy Speaker: Minister.

BILLTHIRD READING*DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR ACT 2025

Hon. Jason Hayward: Madam Deputy Speaker, I move that the Bill be now a third time by its title only and passed.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that the Bill be read a third time by its title only and passed.

Any objections to that?

There are none. Approved.

[Motion carried: The Department of Labour Act 2025 was read a third time and passed.]

The Deputy Speaker: That brings us to the . . . I need a Minister to move . . . Yes.

ADJOURNMENT

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Madam Deputy Speaker, I move that the House now adjourn until Wednesday, [the] 21st of May at 10:00 am. And I do believe I have a Member who wishes—

The Deputy Speaker: That is okay.

[Laughter]

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that the House adjourn until Wednesday, 21 May.

Is there anyone that wishes to speak to the motion?

I recognise the Member from constituency 33. Member, you have the floor.

BERMUDA DAY

Mr. Jamahl S. Simmons: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

You know, for the past couple of weeks we have been talking a lot about not just how well aspects of our economy are doing, but we have also talked about the people who have been left behind.

Recently I had somebody stop me. And they said, Why are you spending all this money on these people who do not want to pay their way? You know, do not want to work. They are lazy. And just the whole nine. And it really struck to me how in the midst of all our wealth and prosperity there are still pockets devoid of compassion for each other.

We see too often in our community our neighbours struggling, and instead of offering compassion, we offer judgment. We gossip about them. We laugh about them. You know, we talk to everybody about them. Look at them. Look at them. So, we . . . The struggles that people are facing are being compounded by the judgment of their peers, the judgment of their communities, the degradation and the gossip, and the whispers and the laughing.

And we do not think sometimes, you know. You walk up to somebody and say, My God. You gained all this weight. But there are people who have mental issues where the medication they are taking to help them feel better made them gain weight.

You know, you will say to somebody, Oh, your shoes are falling apart. And you do not realise that they are paying all the money they have for their children to be educated, or even just to keep the lights on.

And so, we know as we come towards Bermuda Day, which was created specifically to engender unity in our community and engendered to help break down barriers in divide, I am asking each of us to think and see each other as human beings not sources of entertainment, not sources of degradation. I want us to see, and before we judge ask, you know. Before you look at somebody and you say [something], ask them, Are you okay? Do you need help? That is a change that needs to run through this community and a spirit that needs to run through this community because as we go to Bermuda Day and we talk about unity, unity begins with us getting back to being who we are as a people as we have been historically, people who look out for each other, people who care about each other.

We have always talked about each other, but now if we want to progress, we have got to change. We have got to change. And so, I am asking everyone, the next time you see somebody struggling, before you take a picture and pass it on, before you run to everybody and say, Look what happened to so-and-so, reach out. Knock on their door. Go to your neighbour and say, Look. Do you need some help? How can I help you? You know? Let's try and change that mind-set.

And I will ask that each of us have a very wonderful Bermuda Day even though we will be back here on Wednesday. I do not know if I will be speaking on Wednesday. But I would like to extend on behalf of my family and the team at constituency 33 a happy Bermuda Day to all Bermudians when it comes.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Members.

Is there anyone else who wishes to speak to the motion?

There being none, the House is now adjourned.

[Gavel]

[At 8:34 pm, the House stood adjourned until 10:00 am, Wednesday, 21 May 2025.]

BERMUDA HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY
OFFICIAL HANSARD REPORT
21 MAY 2025
10:03 AM

Sitting Number 10 of the 2025/2026 Session

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Deputy Speaker, in the Chair]

The Deputy Speaker: Good morning, Members.
We will have the prayers.

PRAYERS

[Prayers read by Ms. Kara Beale, Deputy Clerk]

[Gavel]

CONFIRMATION OF MINUTES

[Minutes of 16 and 19 May 2025]

The Deputy Speaker: Members are there any concerns about the Minutes for 16 May?

There being none, those Minutes are approved.

The Minutes of 19 May, any corrections?

There being none, they are also approved.

[Minutes of 16 and 19 May 2025 confirmed.]

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SPEAKER OR MEMBER PRESIDING

APOLOGIES

The Deputy Speaker: Members, the Honourable Speaker is absent. The Honourable Premier is absent. Honourable Member Famous has given apologies for his absence. Honourable Member Emilygail Dill has given apologies for her absence and Honourable Member Dickinson has given apologies for his absence.

Those are the notices.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

PAPERS AND OTHER
COMMUNICATIONS TO THE HOUSE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

PETITIONS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

STATEMENTS BY MINISTERS AND JUNIOR MINISTERS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

QUESTION PERIOD

The Deputy Speaker: Of course, there are none.

CONGRATULATORY AND/OR OBITUARY SPEECHES

The Deputy Speaker: I recognise the Member from constituency 29, the Deputy Premier.

Member, you have the floor.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy speaker, I would like the House to send congratulations to the Bermuda Snooker League. You will know that the Honourable Member Kim Swan mentioned the St. George's team winning a cup two weeks [ago]. Well, the Bermuda Snooker League is currently hosting the International Snooker Tournament, which is being held at the Spanish Point Boat Club. And I think it's only fitting that we mentioned some of the Members responsible for the organisation of such. And those Members are the President, Paul Fedden, Steven Bremar (and I declare my interest), my sister Penny De Silva, and many others that have taken part in getting this.

It's a huge undertaking because snooker tables, as you may know, Madam Deputy Speaker, are very heavy. When you have to break them down and install them, they are very, very heavy slates to put in place to make them work. So, there have been many other people who have helped to pull this event off, which we expect almost, I think 48 international visitors are coming down for the tournament.

Others that have been involved, and whom you will know, are Calvin Richardson, also known as "Squalla" from down the East End; Alan Smith, Aaron Bean, Tyler Moniz, Kyle Williams, Martin Siese, and I'm sure there are others. But I did go to the opening the other night and it was well represented and everyone, the international visitors, seemed to be really enjoying the Bermudian hospitality and they will be here for the next week.

So, my hat goes off to all of them for making this event the success that it is.

Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Deputy.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Minister from constituency 15. Minister, you have before.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker. And Madam Deputy Speaker, I'd like to start my comments by saying these come from a position of my professional status rather than my personal, and I would like to congratulate the St. David's Cricket [Club]. And you probably won't hear me say that much in a personal capacity at all, but I want to congratulate them, the St. David's Cricket [Club], and associate the Vice President of Cleveland County, and another supporter of Cleveland with those, and yourself, Madam Deputy Speaker, because St. David's Cricket Club has secured the Premier Division 2020 league title as of last week. And I particularly want to shout out to the captain of St. David's Cricket Club, who is my constituent, Mr. Derrick Brangman.

You would all know Mr. Derrick Brangman as a Cup Match player and also three-time MVP of the Bermuda Cricket Board. So, he is the captain of that team. And I thought it only fitting that I rise to my feet this morning and congratulate St. David's Cricket Club on the first trophy that has been, you know, produced this cricket season. And it hurts so much to say that, as you know, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Also, I'd like to congratulate Miss Caitlyn Bobb. I'm not sure if that was done the other day, but she was very successful in an ACC championship, of winning the 400 metres which we have seen recently. So, I'd like to congratulate her.

I'd like to be associated as well with the comments from the Deputy and Acting Premier on the snooker. I will be making an appearance at some point this weekend. You know, I had to explain to some in my office what snooker was. But congratulations on being able to bring tournaments. And as you would know, Madam Deputy Speaker, it is always important to see sporting competitions and sporting groups come to Bermuda because, although it is all in good spirit of competition, it is also additional tourists to the Island.

So, thank you Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 26. Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: Thank you very much, Madam Deputy Speaker.

It is with some sadness that I have to stand this morning to say that the Death Angel has not been very happy with us in Warwick of recent, taking some of our constituents at a very early age. So, I am asking if this House can send condolences to two families in my constituency. And the first one is the passing of Katherine Ann Ming, whose husband is Roirdon Ming, which a lot of people I think may know of Spice Hill Rd. I remember speaking to Mrs. Ming just before the election in February. And we were having such a good time on her porch that I forgot I had to go next door. And all of a sudden, I heard that she took sick and passed just recently. So, I asked that condolences be sent to her husband, her children Selina, Selica and Sabrina as well.

The next family that I wish to talk about is Miss Marie Saltus, who passed. She was from Bulkhead Drive in Warwick. I know her son, Darian Bean is certainly going to miss her very much because I think they were very, very close. Mrs. Saltus was not that young; but at the same time, I still think that she was taken a bit too early. And I would ask that the condolences be sent to the family.

I didn't get the opportunity earlier to associate myself with the passing of Mrs. Minna Scott of Spice Hill as well. In fact, her son actually was in this House at some point in time. And he and I know each other well. So, I ask that I be associated with those condolences as well.

Thank you very much.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 28. Member you have the floor.

Mr. Dennis Lister III: Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker, and to our listening audience.

I would also like to be associated, Madam Deputy Speaker, with the condolences being sent to [the family of] Mrs. Minna Scott. Her grandson was a very good friend of mine from school days and we still keep in touch today. So, I would just like to be associated with the comments and just send my condolences to the Scott family. I would like to associate MPs Lawrence Scott and Scott Simmons.

I would also like to send condolences to the family of Mr. Thomas Lauwaske Jones. While I didn't know him, he was the son of Thomas and Paulette Bailey. His younger brother is best friends to one of my younger brothers. He had his incident happen around a similar time that my mother was in Agape House, so our families went through a time of grieving at the same time. So, I just wanted to send condolences to the family of Mr. Thomas Jones.

Also, to the family and to a relative of mine, the family of Mr. Alan Stacy Gilbert, who passed and was buried this week. I would like to associate MP Scott Simmons. He was a family member. And, while I hadn't seen him in recent years, I do remember in my younger years always running to him, and he was always had a smile on his face, and we shared a good laugh. So, condolences to the Gilbert family.

And, on a lighter note, I would also like to add my comments to those of Minister Darrell's, in regard to Miss Caitlyn Bobb. The 400 metres that she ran, she did that in 51.11 seconds, which was a personal best not only for herself, or a national Bermuda best, but also for her school, a record for her school, Virginia Tech.

Also, I would like to send congratulations to Miss Sheayla Cann, who also over the weekend participated in the Coastal Athletic Association Women's Track and Field Championship. I would also like to associate Minister Wilson. She finished silver in the 800 metres in a time of two minutes, seven seconds, 7.89 seconds. And so as again, I always like to highlight Bermudians, especially young Bermudians participating, competing, rather, locally or internationally and representing Bermuda well.

And lastly, I would just like to commend . . . well, while it hasn't happened yet today, the West End Primary School is hosting and holding their Heritage Day celebration. And the theme is The Future is Now, where they will be doing a parade and a marathon in and around the Somerset community, and that again is—

The Deputy Speaker: See how the West copies the East?

Mr. Dennis Lister III: What does it say? The best is in the West. But I'd like to just send . . . as I said, it hasn't happened yet, but I commend the West End Primary School for recognising our history and our culture and starting young, getting the children to understand what the history and culture is all about.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Minister from constituency 4. Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker.

I don't know if this was done in the House already, but if it was, I do definitely want to be associated with it, and that is the recognition of the teen services Outstanding Teen Awards that had taken place earlier this month. And want to take the opportunity to for us to send congratulatory remarks to all of those teams who participated and who were recipients of the award.

I had the opportunity last night to attend a reception for all of the outstanding teams that were awarded. And I just wanted to share with this House and the members of our community that we have some outstanding young people in Bermuda. And every year . . . we know this, but we tend to focus on the negativity and the sort of situations as it relates to our young people. And we need to take more opportunity to highlight the positivity of our young people. We had young people who were . . . there were about 12 awards that were given. And they had over 200 nominations of outstanding young persons, particularly for the different awards.

If you allow me, I'd just like to announce the winners of the special categories, if I have enough time, but [they are]

- Most Progress: Aleigha Trott and Kameron McNeil
- Community Service: Milan Nisbett
- Spiritual Leadership: Kaelyn Fleming and Daequan Dixon
- Sport: Charlotte Millington and Jake Smith
- Public Speaking: Helena Thomas and Guyen Bean
- Entrepreneurship: Shia Bean and Michael Scott
- Visual Arts: Ella Hubbard and J'yindae Preece
- Stem: Sophia Perrin and Remy Donawa
- Perseverance: Alyssa Walsh and Mikale Willis
- Performing Arts: Hannah Taylor and Jack McDonnell
- Vocational/Technical Arts: Jordan Mello and Michael Darrell
- Leadership: Kaelyn Fleming and Elias Baia
- Academic Achievement: Ryanna King and Jaden-Alex Walrond
- Hospitality: Canasia Wolffe and Olly Cherry
- Special Recognition: Kijali Jean-Marie
- Outstanding Overall: Esi Naylor

So, I do want to publicly congratulate all of those outstanding teens and all of our young people who are doing some amazing things in Bermuda. Well done!

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister. Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise Member Simmons from constituency 32.

Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Scott Simmons: Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker. Good morning, colleagues.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I rise in this Honourable House to ask that condolences be appropriately sent to the former Chief Inspector, Mr. Hilton Wingood. I ask that if we haven't—

The Deputy Speaker: So yes, associate yourself.

Mr. Scott Simmons: Very well. I will associate myself, if you have already seen to it. But Madam Deputy Speaker, I had the opportunity of going to his service, which was held just in the early part of this week. It was a wonderful service. I had the opportunity of serving on the Bermuda Police Service with Chief Inspector Hilton Wingood, and I found him to be a stately man, a wonderful chief inspector who I had a very brief encounter with, because, Madam Deputy Speaker, when I joined the police service, went through the training school and when I was I was attached with, I believe it was, now, Superintendent Tracy Adams. And we went to the West End Division with Clara Saunders and under Sergeant (I can't think of his name now).

But at any rate, Madam Deputy Speaker, when I walked in the door, I was sent to immediately speak to the chief inspector. And we sat down. He spent quite a long time regaling the police service, bringing me up to date. And then he said to me young constable, I wish you all the best. So, I looked at him and he said this is my last day. My first, his last.

And Mr. Wingood was well known in the community. I knew him for a long time. It was a sad day. And then, of course the West End Police Division was taken over by Chief Inspector Larry Smith LSM, GPMG.

He will be much remembered. He will be revered. And I wish for certainly condolences to be sent out to his family.

Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member, Linda Smith, from constituency 31.

Ms. Linda Smith: Correct. Thank you, Madam. Deputy Speaker.

I just wanted to associate with myself with the comments made by the Honourable Minister with respect to the Outstanding Teens award and congratulations to all the participants and certainly the winners. And I think it does speak about, you know, the quiet people in this community that are doing the good things and the right things. And it is nice when you the spotlight can be on them. So, congratulations to them.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you.

Ms. Linda Smith: And I associate the Honourable Member Robert King, with my comments. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 24. Member, you have the floor.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker, I just want to be associated with the comments for Minna Scott, who is my great aunt. She and my grandfather are brother and sister. And she was a darling lady. If a flower was to represent a person and personality, her flower would be the rose. It was beautiful, fragrant, but still thorny at times. So, she did not mince her words, and she let you know how she felt at all times. She was a staunch Seventh-day Adventist supporter and spread the gospel as much as she could, and made sure that everybody made it into heaven by celebrating and observing the Sabbath.

I would also like to be associated with the comments and the congratulations for Teen Services. I would declare my interest. It was founded by my mother, Olga Scott, and I never knew why I wasn't able to participate in the Outstanding Teen award when I was younger and my mother told me because it wouldn't be fair to the others, and the others would have to have a chance of winning. And so, I still believe that to this day.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: But it is good to see her legacy live on. I am a proud uncle, and my nephew was nominated for one of the categories. But once again it is just good to see her legacy live on. It shows that the future of Bermuda is in good hands.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member, Miss Tucker from constituency 20 . . .

Ms. Robin Tucker: [Constituency] 7.

Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Thank you so much. I just wanted to associate myself with the condolences expressed for Mrs. Marie Ismay Saltus. Particularly for her brother, who is a constituent. Mr Earl Lee Bean, and his wife, Mrs. Olney Bean, and as well as Shawnette, Shari[-Lynn] and Syreeta. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member Tucker from constituency 7.

Any other persons wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 30.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker, and good morning.

I rise to give condolences to the family of Jasmin Smith, who unfortunately lost her life in the incident—the horrendous incident—that happened at Legends in Somerset. And I knew that we—

The Deputy Speaker: You want to be associated.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: I want to be associated. I knew that it was spoken about, but I wanted to speak about her specifically because as a fellow Raleigh alumni at Raleigh, Bermuda, it has been a very rough year. Losing her and Jawonday Smith in such a short span of time, people who really epitomise what it was to be a Raleigh Bermuda member and give back to the community and also, you know, have a story of redemption, as well, and getting back on the right path. And so, you know, I wanted to also extend my condolences to the Raleigh alumni who are grieving the loss of two very crucial members of this organisation. And I hope that you know her family and all the families affected and all her loved ones find some solace in each other during these difficult times.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

Well, I just want to say a short congratulatory comment to the great Warriors from St. David's in winning the 2020 league. And I thank the Member from constituency 15 for sharing how great they are and hopefully they will go on to win the knockout competition as well. So, I had to be associated with those comments.

Thank you, Member.

MATTERS OF PRIVILEGE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

PERSONAL EXPLANATIONS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

NOTICE OF MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT OF THE HOUSE ON MATTERS OF URGENT PUBLIC IMPORTANCE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

NOTICE OF MOTION

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

And that brings us to the Orders of the Day.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Deputy Speaker: Resumption in Committee.
[Deputy] Premier, please.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, Madam Deputy Speaker, I move that the House do now resume in Committee of Supply to consider the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for 2025/26.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that we move to Committee of Supply.

Are there any objections?

There being none, so moved.

I ask for Member Simmons to assume the Chair.

House in Committee at 10:27 am

[Mr. Scott Simmons, Chairman]

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2025/26

The Chairman: Good morning, Honourable Members, and to the listening public. We are now in Committee of Supply for further considerations of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26, where Heads 86, 23 and 55 will be considered and now will be debated.

I call for the Minister in charge to proceed.

I recognise the Honourable Minister Tinee Furbert, Minister (if I am correct) of Youth, Social Development and Seniors.

Honourable Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Good morning, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Good morning.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: I move that the following heads: Head 86, Ministry of Youth Social Development and Seniors Headquarters; Head 23, Child and Family Services, Head 55, Financial Assistance be now taken under consideration.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the heads be now taken under consideration.

Any objection?

There is none.

Honourable Minister, you have the floor.

MINISTRY OF YOUTH, SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT AND SENIORS

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to present the 2025/26 budget estimates for the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors which comprises the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors Headquarters, inclusive of Ageing and Disability Services, the K. Margaret Carter Centre, the Office of Youth Affairs; the Department of Child and Family Services and, the Department of Financial Assistance.

Mr. Chairman, the 2025/26 budget allocations for the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors will demonstrate that there is a continued commitment with funding to support Bermuda's population during their lifespan, which includes our most vulnerable and cherished population groups, that is our children (including youth), persons with disabilities, and our seniors. To this end, Mr. Chairman, we have ensured that the services and programmes offered by the Ministry will directly impact and improve their overall well-being and quality of life.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry focused on numerous national priorities during the last budget year, which are ongoing and will continue in the upcoming 2025/26 budget year. I will briefly highlight these as follows:

Mr. Chairman, the Steering Committee for the National Intellectual Disabilities Plan, is a non-statutory body that includes representation from a cross-sector of the community who have technical expertise, and first-hand experience interacting with persons with intellectual disabilities. The Committee members represent the public and private sectors; Non-governmental Organizations (NGOs) and civil society, and has been charged with overseeing the implementation of the five-year National Plan for Adults with Intellectual Disabilities and their Families 2023-2028.

The aim of the National Plan is to facilitate cross-sector collaboration to identify and address the gaps to improve services and supports to ensure adults with intellectual disabilities have healthy and happy lives.

Three priorities were selected as the starting point for executing the National Plan which included:

1. Quality Support and Services;
2. Policy, Regulation and Accountability; and
3. Advocacy and Communication.

The work of these sub-committees will be shared later in the brief under the Ageing and Disabilities Services initiatives.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors is committed to creating a more inclusive Bermuda by empowering adults with disabilities and their families, strengthening the Government's commitment to uphold the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and aligning with the UN 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development Goal [5], Good Health and Well-Being; and Goal 10, Reduce Inequalities ensuring persons with disabilities in Bermuda do not get left behind.

Mr. Chairman, the first Gender Affairs Council established in 2023 was given the mandate to propose legislative changes to the Government; review policy initiatives; and evaluate programmes that ensure gender equality, as well as ensure Bermuda's compliance with the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women.

Mr. Chairman, last year the Council developed a work plan that included reviewing the CARICOM

Regional Knowledge, Attitude, and Practice (KAP) Tool. The KAP Tool provides a regional model that aims to address the gaps in comprehensive, reliable, comparable data on what people in the region know (based on their knowledge) about violence against women and girls, what they think about the issues (their attitudes), and how social norms might influence their experience of the issues (practice). The development of the KAP Tool is supported by UNICEF and the Gender and Development Programme within CARICOM to support the development of a standardised model on social/gender norms and violence against women and girls to enable the formulation of evidence-based programmes aimed at changing social norms to strengthen this area of prevention.

Mr. Chairman, the Council has developed recommendations and a framework on how the KAP Tool will be adapted for Bermuda. This framework aims to assist government departments and organisations in collecting accurate data on Knowledge, Attitudes, and Practices to support strategies and support informed decision-making about social/gender norms.

Mr. Chairman, to engage the public and raise awareness on gender matters within the community the Gender Affairs Council created an Instagram account which provides information about the role and responsibilities of the Council and gives a brief biography of members serving on the Council. The Instagram page is @gender.affairs.council.bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, this year in support of International Women's Day, the Gender Affairs Council highlighted Bermudian women past and present who have accelerated action in the community, Jessica Cooper Lewis (Paralympian Athlete), Cindy Clarke (Director of Public Prosecutions), Dame Pamela Gordon (former Premier of Bermuda), Dr. Barbara Ball (Physician, Politician and Social Activist), and Gladys Misick Morrell. The Chair of the Gender Affairs Council also presented an affirmation on behalf of the Council during the opening of the Women's Resource Centre International Women's Day Celebration on March 7, 2025, and at the Government of Bermuda's first "Empower, Thrive and Shine: Women's Wellness Celebration Fair."

Mr. Chairman, [ensuring the best interests], protection and safeguarding of our children is imperative. In support of this, during the past year, the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors continued to strengthen the Litigation Guardian Framework by setting up building blocks for a long-term, sustainable litigation guardian service.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry officially established the Office of the Litigation Guardian as part of the Ministry and identified a private, secure meeting room for the litigation guardians to meet with children and their families. Also, a pool of lawyers who specialise in child care was developed to serve as litigation counsel when appointed by the courts. Additionally, a public information pamphlet was produced in December 2024 explaining the work of the litigation guardian service to enhance public awareness of the role of the litigation guardian.

Mr. Chairman, the UK Foreign Commonwealth Development Office continued to provide the Ministry with the technical expert support of consultant Mr. Anthony Douglas CBE, a former chief executive of England's Children and Family Court. In March this year, the Ministry hosted a series of meetings, discussions and work sessions for the Judiciary, Litigation Guardians, and community partners, all who impact the lives of our children in some way.

Mr. Chairman, in November 2024, the Ministry organised its third awareness campaign last year to observe the United Nations International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women and Girls and the launch of the 16 Days of Activism. The theme was (hashtag) #NoExcuse, which emphasised the importance of collective investment and continued action. The theme urged individuals, communities, and governments to unite in the fight against violence against women and to invest in long-term solutions.

The Ministry actioned its investment by proposing a perpetrator treatment services programme that will be launched later this year, hiring a domestic violence social worker who commenced in April of this year, and providing a grant of $150,000 to the Centre Against Abuse to support their services within the community to prevent violence against women.

Mr. Chairman, as part of the campaign the Ministry held a groundbreaking roundtable focus group session that brought together the Attorney General and Minister of Justice, Government Senators, the Deputy Police Commissioner, officers from Department of Child and Family Services, and representatives from the Gender Affairs Council, Women's Resource Centre and Centre Against Abuse. This collaborative initiative provided a forum for the discussion of pressing issues concerning domestic violence and support for abused women in Bermuda, which aligned with global efforts to eliminate violence against women and girls and work towards helping them rebuild their lives.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry continued its joint partnership with the UN Women and UNDP participating in the Joint Sustainable Development Go-Fund Programme entitled: Building Back Equal through Innovative Financing for Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment. In partnership with UN Women, the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation [BEDC] and UN Development Programme, (the Joint Programme) was advanced by offering initiatives and services to support opportunities for women, persons with disabilities and youth who own Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises [MSMEs] in Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, in July and September 2024, UN Women, through the partnership with the Ministry and BEDC led virtual training sessions on Women's Empowerment Principles (WEPs) 101 and the Gender Gap Analysis Tool for Business Growth in Bermuda. WEPs are a set of guidelines established by UN

Women and UN Global Compact to promote gender equality and women's empowerment in the workplace, marketplace, and community. The guidelines provide a framework for businesses, regardless of size, sector, or geography on how to empower women in these spaces. Several corporate businesses, organisations and financial institutions were invited to participate.

Mr. Chairman, to further advance the UN Joint Programme, in August 2024, the Ministry, in collaboration with UN Women Multi-Country Office, Caribbean and BEDC, launched an initiative calling for specialised and experience business services providers to offer their business and technical expert services to women, persons with disabilities and youth entrepreneurs in need to help contribute to the growth and sustainability of their business. These services were in the areas of accounting, financial services, digitalisation, and e-commerce.

A total of 18 women entrepreneurs benefited from this opportunity, a first of its kind in Bermuda, assisted many women entrepreneurs to bridge gaps they identified in their businesses, but at the time could not financially afford technical and business services. This initiative empowered these women to develop new ideas and skills, ensuring they do not get left behind as women business owners.

Mr. Chairman, as part of the UN Joint Programme Building Back Equal through Innovative Financing for Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment, the Ministry, BEDC, UNDP, and UN Women, in collaboration with the Founder Institute the world's largest pre-seed startup accelerator advanced the initiative, Rise and Scale: Bermuda Business Accelerator. The initiative aimed to foster an inclusive entrepreneurial ecosystem in Bermuda through a five-week intensive accelerator programme that was offered from September to November 2024 and aligned with the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

Mr. Chairman, the Founder Institute recruited 21 entrepreneurs in Bermuda, referred to as founders, comprising 20 women, inclusive of one with a disability and one youth. These Bermuda Founders had the opportunity to have 16 mentors who actively engaged with the founders during the programme. During the five-week programme, the founders engaged in areas such as developing revenue and business models, business pitch development, preparing their business to go to market, scaling their business, mentor feedback, and reviewing potential funding needed from investors.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry hosted the five-week programme Rise and Scale: Bermuda Business Accelerator 2024 Pitch Forum on October 17, 2024, at the HSBC Harbourview Centre. This provided a forum for 11 Bermuda founders to pitch their businesses to investors and international partners during a live recording. This event allowed the business owners to showcase Bermuda's emerging role as a hub for impactful and inclusive business growth. The winner of the Pitch Forum, Mrs. Antiona Holder the owner of DigiRoo and Kids Digital Wellness, was given the opportunity to attend the annual Founder X Conference held in Texas, USA, in March 2025.

Mr. Chairman, in October 2024, the Bermuda/UN Joint Programme concluded. As a country, much was accomplished to empower the Bermuda community in advancing gender equality and sustainable development through government departments, agencies, banks, entrepreneurs, NGOs, and the general public. This programme laid a strong foundation for the continued growth to empower vulnerable sectors within our community, specifically women, persons with disabilities and youth entrepreneurs.

Mr. Chairman, the UN Joint Programme with Bermuda aligned with the Government's commitment to advance gender affairs and uphold its obligation to the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination. During this upcoming year, the Ministry will explore opportunities for sustainability by offering Women's Empowerment Principles training, hosting an annual Rise and Scale Bermuda Business Accelerator and Pitch, and creating a platform to provide professional services to women, persons with disabilities and youth to ensure the sustainability of the Joint Programme. This will help Bermuda to further achieve the UN Sustainable Development Goals, in particular, Goal number 5, Gender Equality; Goal number 8, Decent Work and Economic Growth; and Goal number 9, Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure.

Mr. Chairman, on October 10, 2024, Bermuda became the first British Overseas Territory to have the United Kingdom extend the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, something as a country we should be extremely proud of. This achievement signifies a journey that has been years in the making, which fulfils the pledge made by the Government in its 2020 Speech from the Throne to seek the extension to ensure persons with disabilities, irrespective of their type of disability, can enjoy fundamental human rights and freedoms. This extension safeguards the rights, dignity and full participation of more than 3,000 persons living with disabilities in Bermuda, which the Government remains committed to.

Mr. Chairman, the UK extension signifies the strengthening of protections of all persons living with disabilities in Bermuda and secures their rights to civil; economic; political and social rights; and freedoms enjoyed by all other members of our society. By working together Bermuda would continue to comply with the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and be able to achieve the UN Sustainable Development Goals by 2030, particularly Sustainable Development Goal 3, Good Health and Well-being; Sustainable Development Goal 5, Quality Education; Sustainable Development Goal 8, Decent Work and Economic Growth; Sustainable Development Goal 9, Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure; Sustainable Development Goal 10, Reduce Inequalities; Sustainable Development Goal 11, Sustainable Cities and Communities; and Sustainable Development Goal 16, Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions.

Mr. Chairman, the National Child Safeguarding Committee is a statutory body that was established under section 11A of the Children Act 1998, to carry out specific functions to combat sexual exploitation and abuse of children. To uphold its statutory duty in areas of combating sexual exploitation and abuse of children in Bermuda and in alignment with the Committee's National Policy for Working Together to Safeguard Children, a sub-committee was formed to conduct research and make recommendations to close identified gaps that hinder the existing recruitment screening process for persons seeking employment or volunteer to work with children directly (i.e., nursery school teacher) or indirectly (i.e., a school custodian).

Mr. Chairman, the subcommittee has reviewed Bermuda's current position on recruitment screening processes for persons working or volunteering with children and has undertaken a jurisdictional review of countries such as, the UK, Australia, and Jamaica to provide insight on how these countries conduct their recruitment screening processes when working with vulnerable populations like children. These recommendations will be presented to the National Child Safeguarding Committee at large this fiscal year, for discussion and further direction.

Mr. Chairman, during the past year, the Ministry promoted its services and programmes directly associated with social protection efforts for seniors and persons with disabilities through radio talk shows, "Let's Get Social," "The Golden Hour," in-person meetings with various senior clubs and churches, at guest speaking events and proclamations which included:

- International Day of Persons with Disabilities [2024]
- World Homeless Day [2024]
- International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women [2024]
- Human Rights Day [2024]
- International Women's Day [2025]

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry has demonstrated that during the past year, the public purse was steered toward direct investment supporting our community and all persons across their lifespan, from birth to death.

Mr. Chairman, I will now move on to the summary of the fiscal year 2025/26 current account budget estimate for the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors, which is found on page B-290 of the "Approved Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the Year 2025/26."

The Ministry's total budget estimate for the fiscal year 2025/26 is $91,274,000.

The Chairman: Members, we remain in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.

The Honourable Minister, Tinee Furbert, the Minister of Youth, Social Development and Seniors . . . and Members, as a further reminder, this debate is four hours. It began at 10:30 exact . . . am I correct? It began at 10:30 am, exact. So, we will go on for four hours, and at 12:30 we will be taking a break.

Minister, you can resume.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

This represents an increase of $5,979,000 or 7 per cent compared to the original estimate of $85,295,000 for fiscal year 2024/25.

Mr. Chairman, the breakdown of the Ministry's current account budget estimate for 2025/26 by head as shown on page B-290 is as follows:

- Head 86, Ministry Headquarters, $14.11 million, a 23 per cent increase.
- Head 23, Child and Family Services, approximately $21 million, a 7 per cent increase.
- Head 55, Financial Assistance, approximately $56 million, increase of 4 per cent.
- Overall Ministry Total $91.2 million, increase of 7 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, this summary shows that the 2025/26 current expenditure allocations for all heads within the Ministry have increased. I will explain the details of these increases further in this budget presentation.

The Chairman: Go right ahead, Minister.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

HEAD 86 - MINISTRY HEADQUARTERS

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the current account expenditure for Head 86, Ministry Headquarters, can be found on pages B-290 to B-293 of the Estimates Book.

The Ministry Headquarters is responsible for the budget of 10 business units

- 96000—Administration;
- 96040—Ageing and Disability Services;
- 96050—K. Margaret Carter Centre;
- 96060—Policy Development;
- 96070—Grants to the Third Sector;
- 96080—Youth Office;
- 96090—Youth Grants and Investments;
- 96100—Youth Community Centres;
- 96110—Before, After, and Out of School Programmes; and
- 96120—Youth Policy.

Mr. Chairman, the mission of the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors Headquarters found on page B-291 is the protection of all individuals during their lifetime and facilitation of well-being. The five objectives of the Ministry Headquarters are also found on page B-291.

Mr. Chairman, the General Summary of the Ministry's budget on page B-291 shows that the total budget allocation for the Ministry Headquarters for fiscal year 2025/26 is $14,111,000, distributed amongst the 10 business units representing a net increase of $2,617,000.

I will now share details of each of these business units, commencing with business unit 96000, Administration.

The Chairman: Go right ahead, Minister.

Business Unit 96000—Administration

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the 2025/26 budget for the Administration business unit 96000 of $1,625,000 compares to the $1,352,000 originally budgeted in fiscal year 2024/25. This reflects an increase of $273,000, or a 20 per cent increase, as shown on page B-291, which primarily accounts for salary uplifts to substantive staff resulting from union negotiation agreements and increase in rental fees and the cost of materials and supplies.

Business Unit 96040—Ageing and Disability Services

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, I now present the budget for business unit 96040, Ageing and Disability Services or ADS, which can be found on page B-291.

Mr. Chairman, ADS has been allocated a budget of $1,902,000, for fiscal year 2025/26. This allocation is 43 per cent or $570,000 more than the budget allocation in fiscal year 2024/25. This increase includes the mid-year supplementary funding of $120,000.

Policy and Program Development

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, Ageing and Disability Services (ADS) continues to lead the planning and coordination of policies and programmes for the protection of seniors and individuals with disabilities. In October 2024, Bermuda reaffirmed its commitment to disability rights by ratifying the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, reinforcing the Ministry's efforts in this area.

The Disability Advisory Council (DAC) of which ADS is an ex officio member, continues to work alongside community organisations, advocating for the advancement of efforts aimed at improving the lives of persons with disabilities and reviewing government policy to provide feedback and advice from a disability perspective.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry fulfilled its 2021 Throne Speech commitment with the launch of the National Disability Register mobile app on April 24, 2024, at City Hall. The Register serves as a centralised source of accurate, up-to-date data to inform, programing and support in areas such as health, education, and employment. To date, 102 individuals have registered, and ADS remains focused on increasing its participation.

Mr. Chairman, the National Disability Register app allows Ageing and Disability Services to collect, store and manage critical data on persons with disabilities, which is accessible on the Apple App Store and Google Play.

Mr. Chairman, the introduction of the National Disability Register is a pivotal step and underscores the Government's commitment to persons with disabilities by upholding the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and achieving the UN Sustainable Development Goal, SDG 10, Reduce Inequalities.

Mr. Chairman, following the extension of the United Nations Convention of the Rights of Persons with Disabilities to Bermuda in October 2024 and in line with the 2025 Throne Speech, ADS commenced a review of Bermuda's existing legislative framework for disability rights and inclusion. This initiative champions the rights of individuals with disabilities to access the same opportunities and services as everyone else, ensuring dignity, autonomy, and inclusion for all and ultimately a more equitable society.

Mr. Chairman, additionally, under this broader policy and programme remit, ADS is also responsible for processing duty relief exemption requests for materials to facilitate persons ageing at home and for medical or adaptive equipment in relation to disability conditions. To that end, ADS received and approved eight duty relief exemptions this past year compared to two in 2024/25. We are keen to advance the uptake of this exemption relief over the upcoming fiscal year through collaborative initiatives.

Mr. Chairman, a significant achievement was the completion of the National Seniors Strategy 2024-2030, a first for Bermuda and fulfilling the Government's 2020 Throne Speech commitment. The National Seniors Strategy [NSS] is a framework to ensure Bermuda's seniors and future generations age with dignity. Developed in collaboration with the Bermuda Health Council with extensive consultation, the National Seniors Strategy was launched in December 2024. It addresses senior challenges while highlighting opportunities to enhance well-being, health, and quality of life. The strategy emphasises a collaborative approach across all sectors to create an age-friendly Bermuda.

In February 2025, ADS advertised for a Project Manager to establish and implement the infrastructure and steer the National Seniors Strategy, along with coordinating the development of Long-Term Care actions that fall under this broader strategy.

Mr. Chairman, while the recruitment of the Project Manager is still in progress, this has not delayed the commencement of critical work under the National Seniors Strategy within the remit of this Ministry. During the past fiscal year, several national policy and programme initiatives have already been initiated that include:

- The establishment of a long-term [care] working group: The Ministry is working in partnership with the Ministry of Health and other key stakeholders. A working group was established to facilitate both immediate and long-term solutions facing the long-term care sector, focusing on the current community and hospital bed crisis.
- Amendments to the Senior Abuse Register Act 2008: The drafting of amendments to the 2008 Act is in progress to help strengthen and clarify existing authority and intervention options and lay the foundation of a legislative framework needed for adult protection.
- Development of an integrated care pathway for Dementia: The Ministry contracted with the Bermuda Health Council to conduct research and stakeholder engagement to identify current local practice, service availability and gaps, international best practices and viable local solutions for quality dementia prevention, diagnosis and care. The Council will produce a proposed integrated care pathway to streamline, standardise and enhance current dementia care and support. This is part of the Ministry's commitment to address dementia and a key focus of the National Seniors Strategy.
- Collaboration on the development of an Office of Public Guardian ADS is working with the Ministry of Justice to ensure high-risk welfare cases are managed under the appropriate entity and to address the broader needs of the community in this area. This service is critical for our community, and a pilot programme will be developed to help define the scope and role the Office of the Public Guardian will hold.
- The development of Senior Day Care Facility: The initiative aims are to
 - o Enhance quality of life and reduce social isolation among seniors, particularly those with dementia or cognitive impairments.
 - o Alleviate financial, physical, and emotional stress on caregivers through structured programmes and services.
 - o Provide onsite, best-practice training in dementia-specific care for health professionals and students.

Mr. Chairman, the Gilbert Institute school site was identified as the location for the facility. Enhancing accessibility and implementing robust safety measures will be key to ensuring the facility meets the needs of seniors and promotes their independence. Additionally, incorporating sensory-friendly elements in both indoor and outdoor spaces will create a therapeutic environment conducive to their care.

On page C-8, Capital Development, a total of $1.5 million has been allocated this fiscal year to hire an architectural firm and start the building designs for this project. A project manager has already been identified and engaged, and the Ministry is actively collaborating with the Ministry of Public Works to advance the project. 25

Education and Awareness

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, education and awareness is another important component to ensure our community knows how to protect itself from senior abuse, plan for their future, support inclusion and upholding disability rights, and identify and locate available services and supports to meet their needs.

During the last fiscal year, ADS held 19 education and awareness events, well exceeding its projected number. This includes the second annual Seniors Tea held in June 2024, which successfully hosted over 100 seniors. The theme of the tea for seniors was dementia prevention and support, with presenters from Dementia Bermuda and NorthStar Dementia.

The feedback from participants and partner agencies was extremely positive and again resulted in invitations for further community engagement. I would like to acknowledge and thank the generosity of our partners who made the event possible, including: the Bermuda Police Service who volunteered to serve our seniors at the event, the Open Door Christian Assembly for offering their Hall and equipment at no cost, and the Northlands Primary School choir for an uplifting performance.

Other community awareness activities during the past year included:

- Radio and podcast interviews on tips to prevent abuse, understanding domestic abuse and gender-based violence.
- Domestic Violence Day Proclamation and awareness event that ADS helped to co-organise and participated in as a member of MARAC [Multi Agency Risk Assessment Conference].
- Presentations to organisations on abuse prevention including but not limited to: HSBC customers focusing on scam prevention; Chamber of commerce members on senior abuse and domestic violence; as well as abuse prevention tips to four seniors' clubs, and at the Age Concern annual info session.
- In recognition of United Nations Day for Persons with Disabilities on December 3 to promote the rights and well-being of persons with disabilities in all realms of society and helps to increase awareness of the challenges they face. The theme for 2024 was: "Amplifying the leadership of persons with disabilities for an inclusive and sustainable future."

An awareness raising event took place at City Hall, including a ministerial proclamation and speeches by leaders in our community, including Sacha Richardson, Chair of the Disability Advisory Council, Lisa Reed Executive Director of the Human Rights Commission, Sherri Lynn Lilley founder of Inspire, and Solay Thomas a member of Special Olympics. The primary message shared was "Nothing About Us Without Us" which emphasises the critical importance of people with disabilities being in the room, as leaders, to help shape inclusive futures.

Case Management

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, case management represents the primary programme under ADS business unit 96040. Case management clients include seniors and persons over 18 years old with long-standing disabling conditions and are divided into general case management and adult protection services. General case management services include needs and service identification and system navigation and support coordination. Adult protection pertains to seniors and persons with disabilities who are at risk of abuse, neglect or self-neglect. The team strives to provide compassionate and accountable support to members of the community as needed.

Mr. Chairman, in 2024/25 ADS had a total of 389 cases, an 18 per cent increase from the previous year. Of these cases, 228 were general case management cases, including 26 cases of persons under 65 years of age, of which 8 included abuse allegations. The remainder of the total cases were senior abuse referrals totalling 161 reports received. The reports, identified were categorised as: 5 per cent for physical abuse

28 per cent for financial exploitation
23 per cent for psychological abuse
11 per cent for neglect and
3 per cent for sexual abuse

Of these reports received, to date:

24 [per cent] were substantiated
54 [per cent] were unsubstantiated
22 [per cent] are pending, as they are still under investigation

The increase in senior abuse cases and decrease in general case management cases for persons over 65 years, compared to previous years and projections, is due to changes in how data is logged and reported. However, overall, the trend remains as expected, that the number of reports and cases managed by this office is increasing each year due to an ageing population and increased awareness of the ADS services.

Mr. Chairman, over the course of the last year, the case management programme made key advancements internally and maintained key external partnerships to strengthen our responses to the needs of persons with disabilities and seniors from an adult protection and general case management perspective. ADS continues as a core member on key committees including:

- MARAC—the multi-agency risk assessment committee for high-risk domestic violence cases, to be discussed further in another section of this brief;

- SART—the Sexual Assault Response Team;
- The Transition Team—established to help identify and plan for service needs for persons with intellectual disabilities as they age.
- Long Term Care Working Group.

Mr. Chairman, for fiscal year 2025/26, ADS continued the development of a Structured Decision-Making Framework completing the first phase. This framework will help staff with consistent decision-making but also generate necessary data to further develop the programmes. ADS contracted Evident Change, a US-based company specialising in this field.

The first phase of this project, consisting of the intake and safety assessments, included the tools; development, integration and certification in the case management software, testing and staff training. The second phase is a strength and needs assessment tool, which should commence development in the second half of this upcoming fiscal year.

Page C-15, Capital Acquisitions, shows that $103,000 has been budgeted this year for continued work to build the case management system.

Mr. Chairman, professional development is critical to the practice of social work and training and education opportunities. During 2024/25, two staff members attended the National Adult Protection Association conference in New Mexico. This conference brings together US-based practitioners for three days of presentations and information sessions on best practices and promising practices in adult protection. Another two staff members completed the Older Person Domestic Violence training, an intensive five-day specialised online course for experienced practitioners under the SafeLives curriculum.

Mr. Chairman, in September 2024, as part of the mid-year supplemental funding, a hardship fund of $120,000 was allocated for case management support. These funds were used for critical services or interventions required to ensure the safety or welfare of seniors. To date, this has included grocery cards, cleaning services where the state of the home was preventing care services from entering, and temporary emergency funding support. The intent is to target a portion of funds for a specified pilot programme based on needs identified, such as hearing aids and hearing tests for seniors.

Mr. Chairman, as result of the Ministry's commitment to dementia support services, a dementia pilot programme, managed by ADS, commenced in October 2023 with funding extended in six-month increments up to June 2025. As recently presented in a House of Assembly's Ministerial Statement, between September 2023 and December 2024, a total of $96,000 was allocated to the dementia services pilot programme. The funds contributed to the provision of dementia needs assessments and case management services to 111 persons in the community.

This service provides critical support to families and individuals with dementia due to the long-term degenerative nature of the condition, the impact it has on support persons, and the challenges experienced with navigating a complicated and incomplete care pathway.

In addition, this programme has also greatly benefited the ADS case management programme, whose high caseload limits their support for these clients and families in general. The pilot programme is reaching its capacity, requiring more sustainable and systemic solutions, which the Ministry is engaging in.

Business Unit 96050

K. Margaret Carter Centre (KMCC)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the K. Margaret Carter Centre (KMCC) provides direct support for adults with intellectual disabilities in the community through comprehensive day programme services and case management.

For the fiscal year 2025/26, on page B-291, the K. Margaret Carter Centre has a budget allocation of $2,343,000. his budget funds 12 programme staff, two bus drivers, three administrative operations staff, and three service providers who all assist in the delivery of services to 39 clients at KMCC.

Mr. Chairman, this past year, KMCC continued to provide programmes, five days per week, to service users across six client groups with programme and staff development efforts taking place in the following areas:

- The continuation of a once weekly hot lunch programme that promotes client involvement in the preparation of meals, affording 29 participating clients access to quality meals in response to reports of poor nutrition and growing concerns of food insecurity amongst the client population.
- Regular bake sales promoting culinary and vocational skills development amongst participating clients.
- Seventeen clients successfully demonstrated improvement in life skills goals, exceeding the established target.
- Achieving the target outcome of increasing client fitness initiatives from five to six including water aerobics, walking, track and field, chair yoga, soccer, and aerobics.
- Participation in key events such as the International Day of Persons with Disabilities [2024] proclamation, "A Motown Christmas Musical" put on by the clients with staff support, and the annual Mates & Dates Valentines Dance hosted in collaboration with the Mid-Atlantic Wellness Institute's Community Intellectual Disabilities Team (CIDT) and Carter House Charity.

- Expanded involvement with community stakeholders increased from 13 to 15 surpassing the targeted goal and enhancing the quality of programming by offering additional engagement opportunities for service users.
- Continuation of both a monthly multidisciplinary team meeting, as well as a monthly transition team meeting, that include involvement from community partners to better understand and respond to the support requirements of current and potential clients.
- Increased compliance with First Aid OSHA standards by ensuring that 100 per cent of staff are First Aid/CPR certified.
- Ongoing efforts to increase compliance with Fire Safety & Emergency standards, including gathering estimates on upgraded comprehensive monitoring systems that would allow for a more effective response to emergency situations that arise.
- Identification of the need to expand programmes to allow for a seniors group, for clients aged 55 years and older with intellectual disabilities, who would largely benefit from structured and supportive engagement activities that are less rigorous than other client groups.
- Identification of the need to expand staffing resources to include an additional Case Manager, Paraprofessional, and Nurse to provide more comprehensive services.

Mr. Chairman, it is important to note that the K. Margaret Carter Centre has undergone a leadership transition, with the Administrator post becoming vacant in November 2024. As of the latter part of January 2025, this position has been temporarily filled by an Acting Administrator while recruitment continues for a substantive appointment. Despite the absence of a permanent Administrator, there has been specific programme enhancements, which have already been implemented.

These include:

- Restructuring the programme format to establish seven distinct core programmes, each with clearly defined criteria for engagement, group function and mandate, and a set maximum client capacity with consideration of the level of support needs within each group.
- Development of a Safeguarding Policy and a Behaviour Support Policy, to better align KMCC practices with international standards.
- Establishment of formalised entry and exit criteria to assess the needs of potential clients and ensure that KMCC has the appropriate resources to provide effective support.
- Engagement in professional development focused on psychological safety in the workplace, aimed at fostering a more cohesive and supportive environment for staff, which in turn benefits client care.

- Facilitation of a comprehensive programme design consultation process involving staff, parents/guardians, and clients to evaluate the programme's strengths, identify service gaps, and explore opportunities for ongoing development and improvement.

Mr. Chairman, the K. Margaret Carter Centre received a mid-year supplementary funding of $668,930, which has played a critical role in enhancing its service delivery and supporting ongoing development efforts. This funding has directly enabled:

- Hiring an additional case manager and paraprofessional to improve staff-to-client ratios; and a nurse and behaviour specialist.
- Expanding the day care hours at KMCC from 3:00 pm to 5:45 pm for those parents and guardians who worked until 5:00 pm and needed the extended day care for their loved ones.
- Renovations of the former woodwork room to create an appropriate space for a specialised day programme for its clients who have aged and are now seniors.

On page C-8, Capital Development, $45,000 has been budgeted for this upcoming year to cover the requisite renovations.

Mr. Chairman, we remain committed to ongoing development efforts that directly benefit clients while promoting overall well-being and quality of life.

Mr. Chairman, I will move on to business unit 96060, Policy Development (page B-291).

Business Unit 96060 Policy Development (page B-291)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: For fiscal 2025/26, Mr. Chairman, $157,000 was allocated for policy development. This is an increase of $2,000, reflecting a salary uplift offset for the one full-time equivalent as shown on page B-293. This policy resource supports the Ministry's policy commitments, which include Throne Speech and the Government's platform initiatives.

Mr. Chairman, $3,695,000 has been allocated for the fiscal year 2025/26 for business unit 96070, Grants to the Third Sector, as shown on page B-291. This is an increase of $590,000, or 19 per cent, reflecting the inclusion of grant funding for The Teen Services and The Teen Haven, which have shifted from the Department of Child and Family Services to the Ministry Headquarters where all other third sector grants lie.

Youth Affairs

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, I will now present the fiscal year 2025/26 estimates of expenditure and revenue for the Office of Youth Affairs, which can be found on pages B-291 to B-292 of the Estimates Book.

The Chairman: Very well, Minister. Go ahead.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, as shown on page B-291, the total 2025/26 budget allocation for all four programmes Youth Development, Youth Outreach, Youth Services and Youth Policy, is $4,389,000, an increase of, $729,000, an increase of 20 per cent.

Programme 8602, Youth Administration
(shown as Youth Development)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the allocated budget for fiscal year 2025/26 is $691,000. This reflects an increase of $75,000, or 12 per cent, as shown on page B-291.

Mr. Chairman, within this youth development programme, $556,000 will cover business unit 96080. This allocation is $40,000 higher, or 8 per cent more than in 2024/25. The allocated funds provide for salaries, training, recreational services, supplies and other funds to ensure the operations of the Youth Office, which has now relocated to Verita's Place, 5th Floor, 65 Court Street, Hamilton.

Mr. Chairman, the allocated budget for business unit 96090, Grants and Investments, is $135,000. This is an increase of $35,000, or 35 per cent, compared to 2024/25. This funding is vital for youth-focused organisations and groups working to develop and empower young people.

In 2024/25, in collaboration with the Department of Child and Family Services, TOYA co-hosted a safeguarding child protection workshop for youth organisations that receive grants to inform them about governing policies and legislation. This training affords grantees an opportunity for improvement through awareness and aligns with Goal 1.2 of the National Youth Policy, work with youth-focused organisations to ensure they have a safeguarding policy in place.

Programme 8603, Youth Outreach

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget allocation for business unit 96100, Youth Community Centres is $1,713,000, an increase of $135,000, or 9 per cent compared to 2024/25. These monies will cover the cost of operations for the three community centres [located at] the Eastern Zone Community Centre in St. George's, the Sammy Wilson Central Zone Community Centre in Hamilton, and the Western Zone Community Centre in Sandys.

The increase in funding of $135,000 is attributed to expanded hours of work for the community workers to support parents and guardians who work shift hours and need to have their children in a safe environment. Many parents/guardians working in the restaurant and retail sectors in the city that close 9:00 pm or later require suitable evening care.

As a result of this need, the central zone community centre team designed a programme that provides school-pick up services, assists children with homework, project assignments, life skills and meal plans. This resource proved viable and, in the fall, will expand to assist parents/guardians working in healthcare and uniform services.

The Western Zone Community Centre extended its operational hours on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays to support its surrounding community. The additional operational hours provide safe spaces for young people to have healthy engagement through sport, recreation and dining. This initiative is designed to engage the whole family featuring friendly competition that facilitates gaming for all ages.

The Eastern Zone Community Centre highlights the importance of supporting our ageing population through its programming, which is centred around the preservation of the matriarchs and patriarchs in their community. Many of the activities offered at the Eastern Zone Community Centre are designed to ensure interaction between seniors and youth through the form of storytelling/tales of old Bermuda. These interactions aim to teach our youth respect and lessons by embracing the words and wisdom of our treasured seniors. This setting also allows our youth to share their aspirations and educational pursuits to gain advice from our seniors.

Mr. Chairman, the Youth Community Centres have 20 full-time equivalents (FTEs) for fiscal year 2025/26, shown on page B-293. These workers facilitate a variety of community enrichment programmes for seniors, adults, youth, and children providing engaging activities for the whole family that promotes the section's aim in empowering youth, families, and our communities.

Programme 8604, Youth Services

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, business unit 96110, Before/After/Out of School Programmes has been allocated a budget of $1,802,000, shown on page B-291. This is an increase of 23 per cent, or $336,000 in comparison to fiscal year 2024/25. This increase reflects adjustments made to salaries, communications, materials and supplies for 15 youth programmes.

The objective of Youth Services is to provide safe spaces for youth during periods of the year when schools are closed or not in operation due to school mid-term or holiday breaks. The youth programmes facilitate engagement that infuses developmentally appropriate activities to deter our youth from antisocial behaviour. Additionally, there is a renewed commitment to the care and employ of the neurodivergent population.

Mr. Chairman, during 2024/25, Youth Services supported approximately 550 preschool, primary and middle school-aged participants in the after school programme; and 1,650 preschool, primary and middle school participants in the out of school programmes across the Island.

There are a total of 28 full-time equivalents committed to these programmes, an increase of 8 per cent compared to 2024/25, shown on page B-293. Just over 60 seasonal workers are employed with Youth Services and just under half are local college students. This employment supports the advancement of Goal 4 in the Youth Policy, which is to increase youth employment opportunities.

Programme 8605, Youth Development

Hon. Tinee Furbert: For fiscal year 2025/26, Mr. Chairman, $183,000 has been allocated to business unit 96120, Youth Policy, shown on page B-291. The budget is designated for salaries, workshop facilitation, conference materials and supplies.

Mr. Chairman, this programme is responsible for the coordination of the National Youth Policy and the execution of the activities to progress the policy. The working group for the policy is in its third year of implementation of the eight policy goals, focusing on developing and empowering Bermuda's youth.

The working group consists of a cross-section of individuals representing the public and private sector, youth organisations, youth activists, youth creatives and entrepreneurs supported by the Office of Youth Affairs ex officio.

There is one full-time equivalent, as shown on page B-293 responsible for providing technical advice and support to the working group for advancing the National Youth Policy priorities.

Performance Measures

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the performance measures for the Office of Youth Affairs can be found on pages B-295 to B-296 of which all target outcomes were met during 2024/25.

Mr. Chairman, business unit 96090 funded 15 grants to youth organisations and groups in 2024/25. These organisations have invested countless hours into the development of Bermuda's youth and include:

- Ambers Wings: This programme aligns with National Youth Policy Goals numbers 2 and 8, by supporting young people to be well prepared socially, emotionally, and academically for post-secondary success, ensuring equal access to opportunities and resources.
- Big Brothers Big Sisters: The programme aligns with National Youth Policy Goals numbers 1 and 3 by providing quality mentoring support to young people in need to help them reach their full potential through social development.
- Connectech Coding: This programme provides safe spaces and places for young people to socialise and develop; supporting young people to be well prepared academically for post-secondary success; develop their skills in technology and promotes young people's core skills and competencies aligning with Bermuda's employment needs and the National Youth Policy Goals 1, 2 and 4.

- Children's Reading Festival: This initiative designed for children up to age 14, provides free books and activities to promote literacy. The purpose of the festival is to encourage children to enjoy reading, inspire imagination and creativity through fine arts and provides access to resources for parents, ensuring support for children goes beyond the event. The festival aligns with National Youth Policy Goal 2 by providing an opportunity that supports children in achieving their full potential in learning, development and education.
- Delta Gems provides activities and supports developing girls ages 14 to 18 to reach their goals, which aims to prepare them socially, emotionally, and academically for post-secondary success, which aligns with National Youth Policy Goal 2 and 3.
- Delta Netfest engages young girls in sport and connects them to physical and mental health professionals, which promotes the advancement of National Youth Policy Goal 5 to encourage youth in sport, culture and recreation and Goal 6 to support young people to be active and healthy.
- Bermuda Overseas Foundation. This programme aligns with National Youth Policy Goals 3 and 4 in that mentorship and support are provided to at-risk youth, which provides the skills and encouragement to steer them away from anti-social behaviour.
- Bermuda Sea Cadet Association aligns with National Youth Policy Goals 5 and 6 by offering a range of developmentally appropriate community sports and recreational programmes, which encourage young people to establish a healthy balance in their lives.
- Dibia Dream prepares young people with the skills needed to assist them in attaining post-secondary success; and provides support through a STEAM-based programme and sport. This programme aligns with National Youth Policy Goals 2 and 5.
- Footy Promotions. This programme aligns with National Youth Policy Goal 5 by providing developmentally appropriate community sports programmes that are fun to young and encourages the engagement of parents and guardians in physical activity with their children.
- Phenomenal People supports young people to be prepared socially, emotionally, and academically for post-secondary success through young people's contributions to public dialogue, such as providing their views on proposed Government policies; and supports Goals 2 and 7 in the National Youth Policy.

- Raleigh International aligns with National Youth Policy Goals 3 and 5 by providing mentorship and support to empower at-risk youth through training that provides knowledge and skills to young people and their families.
- Skills Development. This programme supports young people to be prepared socially, emotionally and academically for post-secondary success and ensures that young people have access to increased tertiary education and vocational training in support of Goals 2 and 4 of the National Youth Policy.
- Family Centre provides various programmes and services in a safe place for young people and provides young people an opportunity to contribute towards public dialogue by exercising their voice to express views on issues within the community, such as Government policies, and suggestions on proposed policies and programmes aligning with National Youth Policy Goal 1.
- WindReach provides support and services to enrich the quality of life for young people with diverse support needs by providing a safe environment for young people free from discrimination and ensures equal access to opportunities and resources supporting National Youth Policy Goal 8.

During 2025/26, the Office of Youth Affairs will continue to support organisations that are committed to making impactful change to empower Bermuda's youth. Additionally, Mr. Chairman, during 2024/25 two youth investments aligned with National Youth Policy Goal 5.3, were given as a short-term sponsorship to young people who wish to pursue their recreational passions in areas including the arts, oration, culinary arts, science, technology, engineering and math (STEM). The first two recipients to receive this sponsorship were:

- o Carter Murray, an eight-year-old prodigy student at the Bermuda Institute who showed proficiency in math and represented Bermuda USA Calculation Contest. He was the only international student to participate.
- o Christian Warren, a seventeen-year-old who is determined to become Bermuda's youngest commercially licensed pilot to fly at 25 years old. He completed flight school training last summer; these hours will go toward his Commercial Pilot Licence.

Mr. Chairman, the performance measures of the Office of Youth Affairs, shown on pages B-295 and B-296, provide evidence of a productive year.

- o The Performance Quality Inquiries were executed at the end of every term, meeting the targets to ensure markers could be identified for programme improvements.

- o The Community Enrichment Programme courses and participants exceeded the count forecasts with the introduction of mindfulness engagements.
- o The National Youth Policy Working Group met regularly last year, surpassing the target due to additional meetings set for consultations with overseas partners and to review research on the formation of a youth council.
- o The number of youth platforms exceeded expectations with the introduction of additional schools to the Zone-In rota.

Other Youth Initiatives

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, during the past year there were opportunities created to engage young people and show appreciation for those who work with them.

The first ever Middle School Mash Up was held April 18, 2024, whereas eligible students participated in a day of Xtreme Sports to develop and enhance team building skills. This event provided TOYA with an opportunity to gain invaluable insight on how to retain the engagement of young people.

- From April 22 through 26, 2024, the team acknowledged staff during the after school programme Professional Week with activities that gave clients and the public opportunities to express their appreciation.
- The TOYA team had an opportunity to reach the wider community at the Bermuda Day 2024, and introduced The Office of Youth Affairs through an interactive game called 'Finding TOYA', which enabled the public to gain a better understanding and appreciation for the goals and objectives of the National Youth Policy; the alignment of TOYA's services; and how all residents can become involved.
- The National 18+ Youth Conference and activities were held from July 15 to 21, 2024. Intentionally unconventional, this allowed for interaction with young people across the Island. The TOYA team promoted the National Youth Policy goals during evening socials, county games, talks with radio personalities and across all social media platforms.
- On August 12, 2024, International Youth Day was observed with a proclamation to declare the Government's commitment to youth by establishing the entity Youth Affairs.
- An Anti-Bullying Week campaign culminated on the steps of City Hall from November 11 through 15, 2024, with testimonies to bring awareness to eradicate the antisocial behaviours associated with bullying.

- The National Mini Youth Conference “Big Up Yaself” and your mental health was held on January 30 and 31 2025, at the Botanical Gardens. This two-day event yielded the presence of over 200 students participating in workshops and mindfulness activities.
- A Neurodiversity Week Awareness Campaign held March 17 through 21, 2025, was a soft launch to the expansion of services within the Before, After and Out of School Programme. This engagement has fostered public and private collaboration, which will assist TOYA with better equipping programme facilitators.

Mr. Chairman, Youth Outreach, through the Community Centres successfully ran over 90 Community Enrichment Programmes for three terms, September to November, January to March, and April to June. These programmes focused on the social development of the whole family, engaging seniors, adults, youth, and children.

Mr. Chairman, after a year of research and a consultation pilot programme assessment, the Before School Programme successfully launched two additional programmes at the Elliot and Francis Patton primary schools. This service is critical for parent/guardians who must attend work early hours before the school day commences.

Mr. Chairman, the employees at the Office of Youth Affairs known as TEAM TOYA are to be congratulated for the set-up of their new office. This team is committed to serving Bermuda's young people looks forward to collaborating with youth organisations and groups. This synergy is vital to keeping our young people motivated in maximising their skills and talents.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes the presentation on the fiscal year 2025/26 budgetary allocation for Head 86, Section: The Office of Youth Affairs.

The Chairman: Thank you very much, Minister.

We remain in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. We just completed Head 86. We are doing Heads 23 and 55.

Go ahead, Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I am actually going to give a breakdown of the budget allocations on page C-21 of the Budget Book.

The Chairman: Oh, go right ahead, Minister.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The following charities and organisations will receive a grant from the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors to provide our community with the resources and social services needed to support our vulnerable population groups:

- Grant to External Bodies has been allocated $220,000 for ad hoc requests made by social services organisations during the year.

- Youth Organisations as well as Voluntary Youth Organisations and National Youth Choir that provide youth services and programmes in alignment with the goals of the National Youth Policy will receive [in aggregate] $130,000.
- Age Concern programmes consist of information, advice, and referral services via their call centre. Other support and services provided are financial support for groceries, prescription drugs, and minor home repairs. A grant allocation of $25,000 will be provided.
- To uphold the Ministry's commitment to our senior population, grants totalling $1,170,000 has been allocated to nursing homes Matilda Smith Williams and Lorraine's Nursing Home.
- Seventy-five thousand dollars has been allocated to the Women's Resource Centre, to enhance the lives of women in Bermuda and its vision is to be the leading resource and voice for women in Bermuda. And this is actually the Transformational Living Centre.
- The Centre Against Abuse will be allocated a grant of $150,000 as they continue to provide crisis support services for victims of domestic abuse and sexual assault.
- Care of the Blind now known as Vision Bermuda is the only organisation on the Island to provide a full range of specialist services for persons within our community with low or no vision. They will receive a grant allocation of $30,000.
- A $50,000 grant has been allocated to Meals on Wheels, which supports vulnerable members of our community through the lunch service of Meals on Wheels.
- Salvation Army. The government is committed to our homeless population and to ensure they have accommodations and services. A grant of $550,000 will be given to Salvation Army Shelters.
- The Summerhaven facility provides residents of our community who have physical disabilities the opportunity to live independently and will be given a grant of $600,000 to support their operational costs.
- The Packwood Nursing Home has been allocated $350,000.
- The charitable organisation HOME will receive $70,000 to continue its work with the homeless.
- Tomorrow's Voices provides services to individuals in our community who are diagnosed with Autism or on the Autism Spectrum. A grant of $30,000 has been allocated as financial support.

Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, I will now present the combined subjective analysis of current account estimates for the Ministry Headquarters as found on page B-292 of the Estimates Book.

Salaries

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget allocated for salaries is $4,880,000, an increase of $651,000. This salary allocation covers the Ministry's 87 full-time equivalents, found on page B-293. The salary growth reflects increases in manpower due to new social sector programmes, such as the Seniors Intellectual Disability Day Programme and additional employee costs as a result of expanded hours of the day care programme at the K. Margaret Carter Centre. The increase is also explained by additional funding for negotiated salary uplifts for 2025/26.

Wages

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the increase in the budget allocation for wages of $392,000 supports a cost-of-living increase for non-unionised youth programme coordinators, programme supervisors, and programme workers community workers, as well as additional funding for two supervisors, all of whom are employed within the Office of Youth Affairs. As well, extra funding has been appropriated for wage uplifts for unionised industrial employees.

Training

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, $56,000 has been allocated to facilitate professional training for employees during fiscal year 2025/26, representing an increase of $43,000. This increase is due to Ageing and Disability Services funding a four-day joint safe training course to include other government departments in the forensic interviewing of older persons.

Transport and Travel

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the $3,000 budgeted for transport for fiscal year 2025/26 is on par with the prior year. The increase of $12,000 for travel is budgeted to cover overseas travel for conferences and technical meetings.

Communications

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, communications, inclusive of phones, courier and postal costs, is budgeted at $128,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, indicating an increase of $7,000. The increase reflects new expenses for telephone rentals and cell phones for the Youth Policy section, as well as modest increases by the Ministry HQ and the Youth Office.

Advertising and Promotion

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, advertising and promotion costs increased by $39,000. This increase is attributed to various planned marketing campaigns by Ageing and Disability Services on financial abuse and scams committed against vulnerable persons; and by the Office of Youth Affairs to promote year-round recreational and social experiences within the Community Centres, and to bring awareness of youth initiatives and events planned by the new Youth Policy section.

Professional Services

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, professional services of $1,658,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, increased by $515,000. This increased level of funding reflects the allocation of monies to fill a social sector gap and provide specialist domestic abuse perpetrator treatment services.

Monies are also included to advance planning and implementation of the National Seniors and Long-Term Care Strategy by the Ministry, and also funding for case management coverage and welfare guardian support needed by Ageing and Disability Services.

Rentals

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, $235,000 was budgeted for rentals, an increase of $1,000. This increase represents a reduction in equipment rentals, offset by an increase in rented facilities to host workshops and conferences by the new Youth Policy section and the Youth Office.

Repair and Maintenance

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, in fiscal year 2025/26 repair and maintenance has been allocated $209,000, or $41,000 more than the budget allocation for fiscal year 2024/25. This increase in funding covers the cost of a variety of repair and maintenance expenses anticipated by the Community Centres including but not limited to industrial cleaning of floors, minor interior building repairs, pest control, and equipment maintenance. Also, increased funds have been allocated to maintain an ageing bus operated by the K. Margaret Carter Centre.

Insurance

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, $72,000 is budgeted for insurance costs for fiscal year 2025/26. The reduction in costs of $42,000 is representative of a decline in the number of clients at the K. Margaret Carter Centre who require HIP health insurance coverage.

Energy

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, energy costs increased by $27,000 to $181,000. This increase will cover the costs of electricity for the Youth Office which recently moved from a shared rental space to its own office.

Clothing, Uniforms and Laundry

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, costs for clothing, uniforms and laundry account for $12,000. The marginal increase of $1,000 will cover the costs to replenish uniform shirts, jackets and protective wear for the caretaker groundsman and community programme staff.

Materials and Supplies

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, $417,000 has been allocated for materials and supplies for fiscal year 2025/26. This increase of $160,000 reflects the costs of added social sector programmes, such as, vocational supplies and equipment for the new Senior Intellectual Disability day care programme at the K. Margaret Carter Centre; sport and fitness equipment, educational supplies, and vocational hardware for the extended day care programmes at both the central and western zone Community Centres; and recreational supplies to facilitate the Conference to Consultation held by the Office of Youth Affairs. The increased costs will also cover supplies needed by the Youth Policy section.

Equipment

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, equipment expenses have an allocation of $26,000, a reduction of $16,000 from fiscal year 2024/25. Refurbishment works to fire and safety systems at the three community centres were completed in fiscal year 2024/25, and thus only maintenance works needed to be budgeted for this year.

Other Expenses

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, $186,000 has been allocated for other expenses, which is an increase of $166,000 above fiscal year 2024/25. This increase will support new social sector programmes such as Ageing and Disabilities Services' Seniors Hardship fund, which will cover the costs of food, medication, utility bills or short-term housing for vulnerable persons in a crisis; and the central and western zone Community Centres will provide meals during their extended day care programmes.

Grants and Contributions

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the allocation for grants and contributions for fiscal year 2025/26 is $3,825,000, an increase of $620,000. The increased budget supports additional funding to youth organisations offered by the Office of Youth Affairs, and new funding for dementia care navigation and intervention services offered by the Ministry. Also, grant funding for Teen Services and Teen Haven has shifted from the Department of Child & Family Services to the Ministry Headquarters.

Revenue Summary (page B-292)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The majority of the $643,000 in revenue earnings reflect after-school vouchers purchased, and online payments by parents and guardians to have their children participate in the after-school programmes offered by the Office of Youth Affairs.

Employee Numbers (Full-Time Equivalents) (page B-293)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, on page B-293, you will note that there are 87 full-time equivalent positions for the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors Headquarters for fiscal year 2025/26. This covers four full-time equivalents for Headquarters Administration; 11 full-time equivalents in Ageing and Disability Services; 19 full-time equivalents employed with the K. Margaret Carter Centre; 1 full-time equivalents within Policy Development; and 52 full-time equivalents for the Office of Youth Affairs.

Performance Measures (pages B-294 to B-296)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, performance measures for sections in the Ministry Headquarters are outlined on pages B-294 to B-296.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Ministry Headquarters team for their diligence and for remaining committed to delivering the requisite services for our community.

Mr. Chairman that concludes my budget presentation for Head 86.

The Chairman: Thank you very much, Minister.

I will remind Members that we are in Committee of Supply for the consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. The Minister will proceed with Heads 23 and 55, or as she sees fit.

Minister.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I now wish to present fiscal year 2025/26 Estimates of Expenditure for Head 23, the Department of Child and Family Services—

The Chairman: Go ahead.

HEAD 23—DEPARTMENT OF CHILD AND FAMILY SERVICES

Hon. Tinee Furbert: —which are found on pages B-297 to B-303 of the Estimates Book.

Mr. Chairman, the mission of the Department of Child and Family Services is Protecting children by strengthening families. The objectives of the department are found on page B-297.

The department carries out its objectives by providing investigative services; day care services; care and protection services for children; residential and home-based services for families; assessment; intervention and counselling services for children, adolescents and families.

Mr. Chairman, on page B-298 of the Estimates Book, a total of $21,133,000 has been allocated for Head 23 for fiscal year 2025/26. This represents an increase of $1,453,000, or 7 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Child and Family Services continues to focus on developing an integrated service that allows children, adolescents and families to receive services that are appropriate and coordinated and meet challenges they face. These challenges can include but are not limited to: uninvolved parenting; limited parenting capacity; social and life skills; housing; employment; budgeting; abuse of substances; anti-social behaviour; cognitive debilities; education; mental health conditions and anger management.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Child and Family Services is responsible for promoting and protecting the best interests and social well-being of children, adolescents, and their families and meets these responsibilities with the operations of five programmes:

- Programme 2301—Services to Children and Young Persons
- Programme 2302—Services to Individuals and Families
- Programme 2303—Residential Treatment Services
- Programme 2304—Administration
- Programme 2305—The Mirrors Programme

Mr. Chairman, the US Council on Accreditation has approved the Bermuda National Standards, which is used locally for accreditation of entities including the department who manages children. The Bermuda National Standards Committee provides that review and accreditation. I am happy to report that, in accordance with the requirements from the Council on Accreditation standards, five sections within DCFS (Intake and Investigations, Assessments, Counselling and Life Skills, Family Preservations and Foster Care are all accredited.

Mr. Chairman, service improvements have been achieved by the Department of Child and Family Services Implementing a strategy that begins with the enhancement of a Structured Decision Making tool, designed specifically for Bermuda, taking into account our cultural identity and social norms. The Structured Decision Making assessment tools allow staff to objectively determine safety and risk for all children and their families who are referred to the department. This tool utilises a comprehensive assessment that ensures clients receive the appropriate support and/or services from the appropriate agency. This process reduces referral duplication, closes previously identified gaps in service delivery and increases overall efficiency and effectiveness of programmes.

Utilisation of this tool has resulted in an improved, comprehensive service delivery system that has increased response time to initial referrals. Also, this tool further enhances appropriate prioritising of referrals according to risks; and ensures that the highest risks are addressed first resulting in better responses and positive outcomes for clients.

Mr. Chairman, I will now address each programme and business unit for the department as set out on page B-298.

Programme 2301, Services to Children and Young Persons

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, Business Unit 33010, the Happy Valley Child Care Centre has a budget of $1,200,000 for fiscal year 2025/26. The output measures for the Happy Valley Child Care Centre are found on page B-301 of the Estimates Book.

Mr. Chairman, Happy Valley Child Care Centre is the only Government-operated child care facility on the Island, which provides high quality child care for a maximum of 44 children whose ages range from three months to four years of age. Priority is given to children referred by helping agencies such as the Department of Child and Family Services, Teen Services, the Department of Health, the Child Development Programme and the Department of Financial Assistance. These agencies along with families experiencing various challenges account for 60 per cent of the Centre's intake.

Mr. Chairman, each year there is increased demand for child care placement at the Happy Valley Child Care Centre. For the school year 2024/25, Mr. Chairman, 75 applications were received for the 15 available spaces.

- Infant spaces were 5, they had 22 applications.
- Toddler spaces were 5, there were 40 applications.
- Toddler spaces for children born in 2024, there were no spaces and no applications.
- Preschooler Spaces 5, for children born in 2022. There were 13 applications.

Mr. Chairman, the previous . . . when we speak about toddler spaces, 5, there were children born in 2023.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The application process for the 2025/26 school year began on April 3, 2025. A PIPA privacy statement was created for this year's applicants. The statement included how application information collected is used, secured and disposed of. Online applications were released for download once the privacy statement was agreed to. On-site applicants signed the privacy statement prior to the submission of their application.

Mr. Chairman, to address concerns regarding the selection process for the limited number of spaces available annually, the Selection Committee has implemented a rubric and lottery system for applicants. This approach is designed to add greater objectivity and transparency, ensuring that all candidates are evaluated fairly and consistently.

Mr. Chairman, the Happy Valley Child Care Centre monthly fee is $400 for all children enrolled. However, if a child is in the care of the Department of Child and Family Services Director, they do not qualify for the Child Day Care Allowance and as such their costs are absorbed by the department.

Mr. Chairman, the estimated revenue for the fiscal year 2025/26 school year as shown on page B-299 is $192,000. It is important to note that the actual cost per child exceeds $400 per month. However, a subsidy is built into the fees which are considerably less than private child care facilities. Despite the low cost to parents, Happy Valley Child Care Centre is a first-class facility that is specifically designed to meet the comprehensive needs of young children, provides an extensive curriculum of high academic standards with trained teachers who are continuously involved in professional growth and development. The Centre offers enrichment programmes that encourage family and community involvement and builds upon child development.

In July 2024, Mr. Chairman, 17 children graduated from the programme and were all well prepared to attend preschool. Their accomplishments were celebrated with a school leaving ceremony at the Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute.

Mr. Chairman, in fiscal year 2025/26, Happy Valley Child Care Centre will continue to uphold its commitment to partnering with community resources, including the Child Development Programme, the Department of Health, and Fire and Life Safety Associates.

Happy Valley Child Care Centre will continue to serve as a community [service] site for public and private school students and the Workforce Development Summer Placement for university students. Happy Valley Child Care Centre also serves as a practicum site for Bermuda College students enrolled in the PACE programme for individuals furthering their education in early childhood education. CedarBridge Academy students do their child care as a profession course placement annually at the Happy Valley Child Care Centre.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the staff at the Happy Valley Child Care Centre, the Centre's active Parent Teacher Association, volunteers and community partners for their continued dedication to Bermuda's most valuable treasures, Our Children, Our Future.

Mr. Chairman, I will now speak to programme 2302, Services to Individuals and Families, found on page B-298.

The Chairman: Go right ahead, Minister.

Programme 2302, Services to Individuals and Families (Page B-298)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the activities covered under programme 2302 are:

- Business Unit 33020—Investigating and Screening
- Business Unit 33030—Foster Care
- Business Unit 33200—Counselling and Life Skills
- Business Unit 33240—Child Safeguarding

Mr. Chairman, the estimate for these three business units for fiscal year 2025/26 is $6,198,000, which represents a decrease of $37,000.

Mr. Chairman, the Intake, Investigation and Assessment section is responsible for providing comprehensive investigations and assessments to children who are referred for services. The 2025/26 budget estimate for business unit 33020 is $2,245,000, a decrease of 11 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Child and Family Services provides services and support for children and families referred for abuse or neglect. The department is committed to partnering with stakeholders to promote the safety and health of families while protecting children from abuse and neglect.

Mr. Chairman, all referrals that are made to the department are screened to determine if they meet the threshold for abuse and/or neglect utilising the Structured Decision Making Assessment tools. The performance measures for intake and assessments can be found on page B-301 of the Estimates Book.

Mr. Chairman, the Screening, Investigations, and Assessment teams have a combined total of 16 staff. The Screening team is comprised of five social work assistants who receive new referrals each day via email, the Kids-line, or from members of the public or professionals who walk into the department. The Investigations team includes five social workers who conduct inquiries on all cases screened to be investigated. The Assessment team includes three social workers who conduct assessments on all children who are referred from sections within the department.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Child and Family Services is mandated to provide services and operates 24 hours a day. Coverage is provided after work hours, weekends, and on public holidays on a crisis basis to the police, the hospital, and to members of the community. The department responded to 22 on-call or call-out referrals in 2024.

Mr. Chairman, in 2024, the Investigation team received 1,210 new referrals. This is an increase of 204, or 20 per cent, when 1,006 new referrals were reported. Mandated reporters referred 1,072, and 138 were referred from other sources in the community.

Mr. Chairman, the Investigation team utilised the Structured Decision Making screening assessments to determine the required response times. Mr. Chairman, 310 cases were screened out either they did not meet the threshold for a child abuse investigation, or they were duplicate referrals from another source; 856 were screened in for investigation and 44 were screened directly to the Counselling and Life Skills section for substance education.

Referrals for the following types of abuse comprised:

- Neglect—357: One hundred and ninety-eight, or 55 per cent of the neglect referrals were for children exposed to family violence; 51 were for inadequate food, shelter, hygiene, and 64 were for lack of supervision.
- Sexual Abuse—197: One hundred and twenty-two, or 61 per cent were sexual abuse referrals for child-on-child inappropriate sexual interactions or child-only matters.
- Physical Abuse—198, an increase of 113.
- Behaviour Problems—48, an increase of 24.
- Emotional Abuse—58, a decrease of 2.
- Service Requests—48, of which 14 were welfare home checks, 12 were local and 2 overseas.
- Suicidal Ideations/Attempts—3.
- Family In Need of Assistance—20, this may be cases of child beyond parental control, AWOL, suicide attempts/ideations.

Of the 1,210 new referrals in 2024, Mr. Chairman, 856 were screened in for investigation and 554 involved children. The referral numbers by age are as follows:

- 0-4 years—146
- 5-9 years—165
- 10-14 years—170
- 15-18 years—73
- Unborn—7

Mr. Chairman, the department is required to respond within 24 hours, five days or ten days, depending on the nature of the referral and the designated timeframe. The department received 235 referrals that required a 24-hour response; 591 referrals required a 5-day response; and 30 referrals required a 10-day response. Seven hundred and ninety six out of the 856 cases were screened for investigation and 93 per cent of them met response times.

Mr. Chairman, social workers conduct thorough, objective investigations that include interviewing child(ren), their parents and other witnesses or collateral contacts who may be relevant sources of information. Social workers must observe the child and their living conditions, the parent/child interactions and relationships, conduct further record checks and obtain all relevant medical and assessment reports when applicable.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Child and Family Services collaborates with the Bermuda Police Services on referrals received for physical, sexual abuse, severe neglect and behaviour problems. The MASH team (Multiagency Safeguarding Hub) that was established between the department and the Bermuda Police Services continues to review all referrals received every week. In the meeting, the team determines the investigation approach that is required for each case. During 2024, there were 853 cases discussed in the MASH meetings and 167 were jointly investigated by the Bermuda Police Services and the department.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Child and Family Services is also required to investigate mandated professionals that can include doctors, day care providers, teachers, coaches, religious officials, and youth leaders if an investigation identifies them as an alleged perpetrator.

A total of 60 investigations of professionals were conducted, an increase from 2023 when 23 investigations were carried out. The investigation social workers conduct interviews with the children, their parents or guardians, the mandated professional, and all relevant witnesses. These investigations may also involve the Bermuda Police if a criminal offence may have occurred. Of the 60 professional investigations conducted, 29 were in public schools, 23 private nurseries, 4 camps, 2 private schools and 2 Residential Treatment Services [RTS]. The outcomes were: 25 unsubstantiated, 6 substantiated, and 29 remain open with the Bermuda Police Services. One case resulted in the conviction of a mandated professional.

Mr. Chairman, the investigation social workers completed 524 safety assessments. This engagement with parents allows the department to ensure that the children are safe while working to preserve the integrity of the family.

Risk assessments are always completed after conducting a home visit and before a case is transferred or closed. The team completed 319 risk assessments. At the completion of investigations, there were 77 cases in need of case management and referred to the Family Preservation Team, 30 were referred to Counselling and Life Skills, 14 referred to the Assessments team, one to Foster Care, three to RTS and one to the Independent Living Programme.

At the end of December 2024, of the 856 cases screened for investigation in 2024, 709 were completed with outcomes, 128 remain open to the Bermuda Police, and 19 were pending.

Mr. Chairman, the Investigation Team provided 14 Presentations on Mandatory Reporting to the private and public schools, the Youth and Sport Afterschool Programme, Bermuda College students and all new employees. These presentations provide professionals with education on the Children Act, their duties as mandatory reporters, and the reporting process for child abuse matters.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the staff of the Screening and Investigations Team and the community stakeholders for their commitment to being the first response in promoting the safety and health of families while protecting children from abuse and neglect.

I would also like to thank the Assessments Team for empowering the family and enhancing family functioning through the comprehensive assessments they completed on at-risk children and families.

Foster Care, Business Unit 33030

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the foster care section of the Department of Child and Family Services is responsible for providing alternative living arrangements for children under the age of 18 years old who need out-of-home placement. The budget estimate for business unit 33030 for 2025/26 is $2,672,000. This represents an increase of $288,000.

Mr. Chairman, during 2024, a total of 61 children occupied foster care beds at some point during the year. This represents an increase of three children from the prior year. The team was also responsible for case management duties for the children's birth families and foster families. The team remains concerned about the complexity of the cases, which has magnified in terms of mental health, behavioural issues and school difficulties.

During the past year, the Foster Care Programme served a total of seven therapeutic foster children. The children in this category have a variety of physical, cognitive, emotional and behavioural challenges. Therapeutic Foster Parents are compensated at a higher rate than traditional foster parents. They sign contracts that outline the levels of care expected based on the children's needs.

Out of those seven children, two were referred to overseas facilities for a comprehensive assessment and were recommended for further overseas placement. By the end of 2024, a total of nine children left the Foster Care Programme. Three were reunified with a parent; Three were transferred to Residential Treatment Services; and three aged out of the Foster Care system.

Foster Parent Recruitment was conducted via several mediums that included developing graphics for social media messaging, conducting radio and web-based talks, using corporate newsletters and features in business magazines.

The Foster Care Coordinator interviewed 22 interested persons for foster parent recruitment. This was an increase of nine from the year before. Ten were approved and became foster parents. Despite the constant addition to the pool of available foster parents, the department continues to remain hard-pressed to recruit enough foster parents to be open, available, and suitable for emergencies and for hard to care for children.

Mr. Chairman, presently, the department has 12 sibling sets residing in foster care, and only two sets are able to reside together in the same foster home.

In May 2024, Foster Care Month, the foster care team held the Annual Appreciation Tea for Bermuda's Foster Parents. The Keynote Speaker was Ms. Lashunte Dill-Assing, who spent time in foster care as a youth and is now a registered nurse. This event was held at the Royal Hamilton Amateur Dinghy Club.

The Foster Care Programme ended 2024 with Christmas gift donations for all foster children. Items were generously donated from anonymous members of the public and the RenRe Insurance Company. Each child was gifted with multiple items for the holiday season. This initiative of gift donations from members of the public was fully arranged by the executive of the Foster Parent Association which is a registered charity.

The Angel Tree was publicised and was on display at Rosa's. Members from the public selected angels from the tree, which had the wish list items of foster children on them.

Mr. Chairman, the department acknowledges the foster parents of Bermuda. These are our unsung heroes who provide loving, stable homes to children who have experienced significant trauma as a result of abuse and/or neglect. Every day, they make a foster child's life better with their numerous acts of care and kindness.

Mr. Chairman, appreciation and recognition must also go out to the Foster Parent Association, that works in partnership with the foster care team. They provide extra support to foster children and foster families in the form of financial support for educational trips, specialised recreational programmes, laptops for senior school and tertiary education scholarships for foster youth post high school completion.

The Foster Care Team is to be commended as well for working through some very serious, complex and challenging cases.

Counselling and Life Skills, Business Unit 33200

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the purpose of the Counselling and Life Skills [CLS] business unit is to advance and promote the emotional well-being of youth up to 18 years of age and their families. The budget for business unit 33200 for fiscal year 2025/26 is $1,181,000. This represents a decrease of $8,000, or 1 per cent, compared to fiscal year 2024/25.

Mr. Chairman, the CLS team consists of a clinical supervisor and three social workers that provide strength-based, solution-focused, and client-centred services aimed at empowering individuals and families to make healthy life choices. The CLS team conducts in-person sessions and uses technology such as Cisco Webex, Zoom, WhatsApp, Microsoft Teams, and the telephone to conduct sessions.

Through these methods, CLS counsellors have been able to complete necessary assessments and screening tools for developing service plans. The team has access to remote testing, and this has assisted clients with having the flexibility to fill out counselling tools via computer instead of having to come in person in the office.

Mr. Chairman, referrals to CLS are primarily from external entities like the Department of Education, Child and Adolescent Services, and the public. These referrals are screened through the department's Investigation/Screening section, where interventions are determined using the SDM tool and then assigned for services.

A memorandum of understanding between the Ministry of Education and the Department of Child and Family Services mandates that all substance-related incidents in schools are referred to the department for assessment and education.

Mr. Chairman, in 2024, CLS received 110 referrals, a slight decrease compared to the previous year. Of these, 106 were approved to receive services and four were denied due to clients already being involved in external services. The referrals included 67 females and 43 males. Ninety-four clients were actually served in 2024, with 12 to receive services in 2025.

Mr. Chairman, the ages of the children served were as follows:

- Female clients:
 - o 0-4 years: 1
 - o 5-9 years: 8
 - o 10-14 years: 27
 - o 15-18 years: 14
 - o Over 18 years: 3
- Male clients:
 - o 0-4 years: 3
 - o 5-9 years: 8
 - o 10-14 years: 23
 - o 15-18 years: 7

In 2024, notably, the highest age group for both genders have traditionally been between the ages of 10 and 14 years old, and 15 to 18 years old. However, there was a shift in 2024, with females aged 15 to 18 years old, now outnumbering males aged 15 to 18 years old.

Mr. Chairman, in 2024, referral sources for the CLS team included:

- DCFS Teams (Investigations, Foster Care, Family Preservation, RTS, and Adoptions): 74 cases
- Court Social Worker: 1 case
- Schools: 29 cases

- Other (Police, KEMH, CAS, ILP [which is the Independent Living Programme]): 6 cases

Mr. Chairman, the CLS team has observed a continuing trend of adolescents using vapes in 2024. There was a shift in 2024 compared to 2023, whereas the number of females reported using was higher than their male counterparts. The average age for 2024 based on the data was 13 years old. However, it should be noted that there were children as young as 10 who were referred in 2024 for either experimenting or for having a vape pen in their possession. The referrals in 2024 were received from children as young as primary school age to middle to high school youth.

Mr. Chairman, it should be noted that 90 per cent of substance referrals are received from our schools. The other 10 per cent of referrals are sent in by the police or KEMH. Along with vaping, marijuana and alcohol use also remains prevalent among adolescents. Data from 2024 indicates that young people still appear to believe that substances are a healthy way to cope with life stressors, depression, anxiety, trauma, and grief. The complexity of family systems also underscores the need for co-parenting support and coping strategies for parents to help families effectively address mental health issues.

Mr. Chairman, CLS received a total of 46 substance referrals in 2024, and of these 43 referrals received services. The number of substance clients who received services in 2024 were 18 males and 25 females. The other 63 referrals were serviced either for trauma, domestic violence, behaviour, grief, mental health or parent/child relationships. It is not uncommon for clients in CLS to be receiving therapy for multiple issues that could be affecting their well-being. The CLS team conducted two substance groups for the year, in June and October 2024.

Mr. Chairman, several trends were identified in 2024 and included:

- Substance referrals for vaping and marijuana are still an issue with young people. This may be affected by legalisation in some jurisdictions despite this population being minors and their lack of understanding of the dangers of vaping.
- Grief counselling for children who have lost relatives as well as relationships with parents because of divorce.
- A growing need for co-parenting support based on issues of custody and divorce.
- Younger children being referred with complex neurodiversity behavioural issues, such as ADHD, ASD, who require a multidisciplinary team approach to address various needs.
- Parents requiring therapy support who themselves have experienced childhood trauma that is impacting them in adulthood.
- Younger children requiring therapy beyond talk therapy, such as play therapy, interventions to assist with self-regulation of emotions, such as somatic therapy, which focuses on the body and how emotions appear within the body, and movement therapy.

- A need for parenting skills services that help parents understand different developmental stages and what is appropriate behaviour during those stages.

These trends highlight the growing need for counselling resources to support parents, children, and adolescents that are affordable, evidence-based and relatable.

Child Safeguarding, Business Unit 33250

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, this year, $100,000 will fund the child safeguarding programme. As per the Child Safeguarding [(Miscellaneous Amendments)] Act 2019, children who are victims of sexual offences or who are convicted of sexual offences and serious personal injury receive both physical and psychological services, which translate to costs incurred for psychosexual assessments and counselling services.

Last year, seven children received psychosexual assessments. Six were victims of sexual offences and one was a perpetrator. All children subsequently received associated counselling services. One parent received a comprehensive parenting capacity assessment.

Mr. Chairman, I will now speak to: Programme 2303, Residential Treatment Services. Or should I pause?

The Chairman: I am prepared to accept, Minister, that it is 12:30, and that we can adjourn for lunch and return at 2:00. However, Minister, if you would like to continue.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: I will pause for lunch.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: The Shadow Minister agrees very well. Thank you, Minister, if you wouldn't mind bringing the [Committee] to adjourn for lunch.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I ask that we adjourn for lunch until—

The Chairman: Two o'clock.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Until 2:00pm.

The Chairman: Thank you very much, Minister. The [Committee] will adjourn until 2:00 pm.

[Gavel]

Proceedings in Committee suspended at 12:30 pm

Proceedings in Committee resumed at 2:02 pm

[Mr. W. Lawrence Scott, Chairman]

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2025/26

MINISTRY OF YOUTH, SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT AND SENIORS

HEAD 23—DEPARTMENT OF CHILD AND FAMILY SERVICES

[Continuation thereof]

The Chairman: We are here debating the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors, Heads 86, 23 and 55. This is a four-hour debate. We have gone through two hours of it, and we have two hours left.

I will give the floor to Minister Tinee Furbert.
Minister Tinee Furbert, you have the floor.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I would now like to speak to programme 2303, Residential Treatment Services, found on page B-298.

Programme 2303, Residential Treatment Services

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, programme 2303, Residential Treatment Services includes Family Preservation, Brangman Home, Youth Development Centre, Observatory Cottage, the Psycho-Educational Programme, Youth Residential Treatment and Independent Living.

This programme has a budget allocation of $10,388,000. This represents an increase of $1,618,000, or 18 per cent from the financial year 2024/25 budget allocation.

Family Preservation, Business Unit 33060

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget estimate for business unit 33060 for fiscal year 2025/26 is $3,836,000. The estimate is 121 per cent more than fiscal year 2024/25. This significant increase is related to the enhancement and expansion of social services provided to community for our high-risk families.

Mr. Chairman, the department's Family Preservation Team operates under a sound case management and assessment model, which comprehensively assesses family and child needs and develops service plans with the family, child and stakeholders to maximise intervention and positive outcomes for children and their families. The team provides ongoing intervention to monitor and ensure the safety of children at risk of abuse or neglect, assist families to improve family functioning, increase child well-being, reduce the need for placement in out-of-home care, and to enable children in out-of-home care to return safely to their families. The ultimate goal is to reduce or eliminate the circumstances in the family that have been or are causing abuse or risk of abuse (emotional and/or physical) to the child, and to maintain the child in the home environment.

Mr. Chairman, in order to achieve this goal, Family Preservation Services requires its social workers and social worker assistants to manage cases in compliance with the Council on Accreditation Family Preservation standards, in accordance with the Policies and Procedures of the department and the Structured Decision Making (SDM) assessment system for Child Protective Services (CPS). The social worker's frequency of contact with a family is determined by the family's assessed risk level. The higher the assessed risk for future abuse or neglect, the higher the level of intervention and engagement is required monthly. A household assessed as high risk requires a minimum of four face-to-face visits per month with parents/caregivers and children in addition to collateral contacts (for example: schools, therapists, doctors, mentors, et cetera); moderate risk requires a minimum of two face-to-face visits per month with parents/caregivers and children in addition to collateral contacts; low risk requires a minimum of one-face-to face visit per month with parents/caregivers and children in addition to collateral contacts.

The Family Preservation Team consists of two coordinators, eight social workers, eight social workers assistants and one administrative assistant.

Mr. Chairman, from January 2024 to December 2024, the Family Preservation Team served a combined total of 147 families and 257 children. This is an 8 per cent increase in families and a 7 per cent increase in children served over the prior year.

Caseload complexities and risk levels remained high throughout 2024, thus requiring a high number of face-to-face contact, multiple court appearances, family conferences and consultations with community and government stakeholders.

Mr. Chairman, all families involved with Family Preservation receive Family Strengths and Needs assessments and are reassessed every three months. These assessments help to identify the areas of need or development required within a family, as well as strengths within the family unit. It also serves as a guide for service planning.

Mr. Chairman, needs assessments completed on parents during 2024 identified three top areas of need affecting our parents/caregivers. These were:

- Mental Health/Coping Skills/Cognitive Functioning;
- Parenting Skills; and
- Resource Management/Basic Needs.

The needs assessments completed on children during 2024 identified the top three areas of need affecting our children. These are:

- Emotional/Behavioural challenges;

- Educational Concerns/Needs; and
- Family Relationship Challenges.

Mr. Chairman, during 2024, 44 new families, which included 77 children, were referred to Family Preservation. The reasons for the referrals were neglect, child exposure to domestic violence, emotional abuse and physical abuse.

Throughout the year a total of 29 families had their cases closed. All closed cases were void of child safety or child protection issues at closure. Of the cases closed:

- Fifteen or 52 per cent of case closures achieved Service Plan goals/no child protection issues at closure.
- Six families declined services. There were no child protection concerns at closure.
- Three families relocated overseas.
- Four transferred to Foster Care.
- One was sentenced to Corrective Training.

Mr. Chairman, Family Preservation workers attended 113 Family or Supreme Court hearings in 2024, a 30 per cent increase over 2023. The court appearances were for Care Order applications, reviews or discharges, Supervision Order applications, reviews or discharges, Protective Intervention Order applications, Juvenile Court matters, and Custody/Access matters.

Mr. Chairman, the department constantly assesses outcomes to determine if intervention is effective and when and where adjustments to service delivery need to occur. Performance outcome measures for 2024 were:

- Sixty-three per cent of households assessed for abuse/neglect demonstrated consistent behaviours or some improvement in behaviour in service plan goals.
- Sixty-three per cent of households assessed where risk of abuse/neglect decreased or remained low/moderate.
- Fifty-two per cent of families had cases closed due to achieving service plan goals, a 10 per cent performance increase from the previous year.

Mr. Chairman, in 2024, Department of Child and Family Services [DCFS] continued with its commitment to increase the skills of its front-line Family Preservation workers in engaging and meeting the needs of clients. Officers participated in Staff Safety Training, Mental Health First Aid for Adolescents and four attended the 39th Annual International Conference on Child and Family Maltreatment. This is a highly acclaimed conference that offers continuing education, networking opportunities and presents best practice standards on evidence-based practices and current trends in the child and family maltreatment field.

Mr. Chairman, at the core of Family Preservation is the understanding that if we can improve the functioning and circumstances of the parents/adult, caregivers of the children, we can reduce the risk of abuse and neglect of children. As such, training opportunities for staff are needed to increase their skills in engaging and providing intervention services to our families.

The Family Preservation Team continues to strive to provide effective services to children and families. Performance improvement is an ongoing endeavour, thus enhancing the opportunity for improved client outcomes.

Mr. Chairman, I will now speak to:

- Brangman Home, business unit 33070
- Youth Development Centre, business unit 33080
- Observatory Cottage, business unit 33090

Mr. Chairman, the budget allocation for business unit 33070, Brangman Home, is $1,195,000, a decrease of $62,000, or 5 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, business unit 33080, the Youth Development Centre's budget allocation is $306,000. This is an increase of $18,000, or 6 per cent.

The Observatory Cottage that falls under business unit 33090, has a budget of $1,172,000, a decrease of $311,000, or 21 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, Residential Treatment Services (RTS) provides group living intervention services to children between the ages of 12 and 18 years. These are adolescents who are deemed to be at risk in the community and require care and protection in a safe and structured residential environment. All children placed in this service have had their situation and circumstances considered by the Family Court, where it has been deemed appropriate for them to be placed on a care order and as such, become the responsibility of the Director of Child and Family Services.

Mr. Chairman, the RTS programme provides [services] 24 hours, 365 days a year. The young ladies are housed at the Brangman Home while the young men receive services at the Youth Development Centre.

The inclusion of family is paramount to the healing process of the children receiving services. The RTS programme allows for collaboration with the family and the community to understand the child's cultural experience through a trauma-informed care framework.

Mr. Chairman, we continue to see the impact of complex trauma on the adolescents served. Complex trauma is caused by the children's exposure to multiple traumatic events, often invasive and interpersonal in nature, and it is often wide-ranging with lasting effects. This impacts the goal of having children transition within 12 months. As a result, the services provided by RTS remain under a trauma-responsive lens. This is translated into the intake and assessment process, family engagement practice, crisis intervention, and both individual and group counselling. The trauma lens is also utilised in the reflective supervision of the staff and treatment team involved in the child's care.

Mr. Chairman, during last year, RTS provided comprehensive case management and intervention for children on transition in the community, as well as those ready for discharge. This included working with both the internal and external multi-agency teams involved with the children and families to ensure a seamless trauma-responsive transition. The families involved welcomed the partnership and requested continued engagement post the three months aftercare phase.

Mr. Chairman, the RTS programme faced many challenges in 2024/25, in relation to services received by children in care. Some required closer observation and monitoring with therapeutic interventions to prevent escalation. Moreover, some needed to be separated from within the facility and required additional support. Clients' services included crisis intervention and referrals to respond to critical incidents. Strong case management of children was essential through crisis management meetings, ongoing individual assessments, and service plans. Client profiles indicated that 92 per cent of children had come from single-parent households.

Additionally, both male and female profiles continue to reflect that 100 per cent of the children experiencing trauma included abandonment and abuse. During the year, there was an increase in the use of substance abuse by residents, 42 per cent of the young people in care engaged in substance use, including marijuana and tobacco; and more specifically vapes. This data demonstrates the wide range of specialist services required for dealing effectively with children and families.

Residential Treatment Services remained committed in striving for the success of our children in the education system and responded to the learning challenges. This year, an additional professional tutor was hired; each cottage now has professional academic support, leading to increased partnerships with the educational psychologists, paraprofessionals and social workers.

Mr. Chairman, RTS met the performance targets with 100 per cent of residents given independent treatment plans, 100 per cent had service plans and 100 per cent of residents had individual crisis management plans. The team focused on ensuring all plans were aligned to offer the best care for residents and continue to partner with key community stakeholders such as the Bermuda Police Service, Department of Education, Child and Adolescent Services, the Gang Violence Reduction Team, Department of Court Services, Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Bermuda and the Mirrors Programme.

Mr. Chairman, 187 coordinated services were provided with community partners, 217 individual counselling sessions, 290 group sessions and 187 family engagement sessions. RTS held 20 joint family group activities to build connections and improve interfamily relationships.

There were over 100 prosocial activities that took place within the cottages; this included engagement in sports, community programmes and other extracurricular activities expanding the residents' resiliency factors.

Mr. Chairman, RTS engaged in training to support the growth and development of the team which included participation in Therapeutic Crisis Intervention, Youth Mental Health First Aide training and Trauma Attachment Training using dialectical behaviour therapy skills. All staff participate in Relias training regularly, topics include conflict management, behavioural supports, suicidality and developmental concerns of adolescents.

Mr. Chairman, with a primary focus on establishing trauma-responsive environments for the children in our group homes, review and amendments are made to policies and procedures to reflect the principles of group home living. During the 2024/25 budget year, the DCFS administration continued its partnership with the Ministry of Public Works, specifically the Department of Public Lands and Buildings, to address ongoing building concerns at all three cottages; this included regular maintenance, addressing safety concerns and cottage improvements to better deliver a high-quality residential treatment program.

Mr. Chairman, I take this opportunity to thank the staff at the Residential Treatment Services and the community stakeholders for their commitment in providing trauma-responsive services to the residents of group living, to restore hope and build resiliency in their lives.

Psycho-Educational Programme, Business Unit 33100

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the Psycho-Educational (Psycho-Ed) programme was developed to clinically address children who could not be effectively treated in Bermuda or those who had exhausted all available local therapeutic treatment services. The budget estimate for business unit 33100 is $2,119,000. This represents less than a 1 per cent increase over 2024/25.

Mr. Chairman, local psychologists, psychiatrists and educational therapists have demonstrated an improved ability to diagnose various psychological, behavioural and educational problems. However, more Bermudian children are being identified with various psychological, social/emotional, and psychiatric conditions beyond the ability of our local service providers. The Psycho-Ed Programme allows the Department of Child and Family Services to have external input concerning clinical therapeutic intervention and aftercare services.

Mr. Chairman, the Psycho-Ed Programme provides children with protection, care, and nurturance by licensed and accredited therapeutic overseas facilities. The programme provides a safe, supportive, and therapeutic environment for each child while working collaboratively towards either family reunification or an alternative permanent option.

The Psycho-Ed Committee is comprised of representatives from:

- Child and Adolescent Services
- Ministry of Education
- The Department of Child and Family Services

The Psycho-Ed Committee met virtually twice a quarter during three quarters last year to review the status and make decisions on children referred for overseas placement or clinical assessment. The monthly meetings mark an overall improvement and committee for the benefit of the Psycho-Ed clients.

Mr. Chairman, in the best interest of the child, the Psycho-Ed Committee utilises an overseas service provider that specialises primarily in providing clinical neuropsychological assessments at Huntsman Mental Health Institute (HMHI). Implementing the neuropsychological assessment at HMHI assisted DCFS in obtaining a clear and comprehensive understanding of the specific needs of clients referred for an assessment.

The majority of Bermuda's children who were referred for a neuropsychological assessment were current Psycho-Ed clients who did not have an identified diagnosis or those who did not engage with our local service providers. The comprehensive neuropsychological assessment assisted in developing the client's individualised treatment plan that facilitated the most appropriate match of local community resources or identified an overseas therapeutic placement that matched the child's specific needs.

Mr. Chairman, 14 children participated in the Psycho-Ed Programme in 2024. Four children participated in an overseas neuropsychological assessment. Three children were assessed at Huntsman Mental Health Institute (HMHI) and one child at Harbor Point Behavioural Health. Two children completed their neuropsychological assessments at HMHI resulting in one child being diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder, returning to the local jurisdiction for active case management. And one child was referred for a long-term overseas therapeutic placement. One child remains at HMHI and has not completed the assessment process. One child who completed the neuropsychological assessment process at Harbor Point Behavioural Health was recommended for a long-term overseas therapeutic placement. Out of the remaining 10 Psycho-Ed clients, two children who were referred to Psycho-Ed were admitted directly into an overseas therapeutic facility for a long-term placement of nine to eighteen months, and eight children were already currently enrolled in a long-term overseas placement.

Mr. Chairman, all Psycho-Ed clients serviced overseas received the Global Assessment of Functioning (GAF) with a scoring range of 20 to 50. A score of 50 is defined as having serious symptoms or serious impairment in social, occupational, or school functioning, and 20 is defined as having a danger of hurting themselves or others. The result of low Global Assessment of Functioning (GAF) scores required that all Psycho-Ed clients receive intensive clinical treatment with a longer duration of treatment options coupled with one-to-one staff interventions, psychotropic medications, frequent team meetings, psychiatric hospitalisations, family intervention programmes, and overseas therapeutic visits.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry of Education (MOED) and the Bermuda Hospitals Board's (BHB) Child and Adolescent Services (CAS) face significant limitations in resources and capacity when serving clients diagnosed with conduct disorder, experiencing severe mental health challenges, presenting with complex behavioural needs, or those deemed high-risk within the community. As a result, multiple referrals are submitted to the Psycho-Educational Committee seeking approval for overseas therapeutic placements. These placements are requested for young individuals whose needs cannot be adequately met within our local school system or the existing therapeutic framework provided by CAS.

Mr. Chairman, DCFS continues to face significant pressure due to the limited resources offered by Child and Adolescent Services and the Ministry of Education's ongoing inability to adequately support children with severe behavioural challenges and intellectual disabilities. Although DCFS has a seat at the table on the High-Risk Intervention Committee (THRIC) to strategise how to manage complex cases, the department is not fully equipped to meet the growing volume and complexity of referrals from both MOED and CAS which includes non-acute mental health and psychiatric needs. This gap in service delivery highlights the urgent need for a coordinated response to meet the clinical needs of these children across all involved agencies.

Youth Residential Treatment, Business Unit 33110

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, business unit 33110, Youth Residential Treatment budget allocation for fiscal year 2025/26 is $1,087,000. This reflects a decrease of 13 per cent compared to fiscal year 2024/25. Mr. Chairman, Youth Residential Treatment [serves] as the administrative and professional services arm that delivers comprehensive support, including accounting, management, counselling, and clinical services to all residential homes and programmes. This business unit is responsible for identifying staff training needs, assessing the clinical needs of all children within the programme, and managing facility maintenance and repair issues, which are reported to the director for appropriate action.

Additionally, the unit oversees all Performance and Quality Improvement (PQI) efforts, ensuring that every programme within Residential Treatment Services consistently meets and maintains industry standards. During 2024, two hard-to-fill positions within Youth Residential Treatment were successfully staffed, strengthening the team's capacity to deliver high-quality care and support across all programmes.

Independent Living Programme, Business Unit 33240

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, business unit 33240, [on page B-298], Independent Living Programme budget allocation for fiscal year 2025/26 is $673,000, an increase of 4 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, the Independent Living Programme (ILP) is a pioneering initiative, offering a vital lifeline and safety net for young adults ageing out of the care of the director. This year, the programme celebrated two years of operations, providing the young adults with the support and resources necessary to successfully navigate the challenging transition into adulthood. By leveraging community resources and fostering a supportive environment, the aim is to ensure each participant has the best possible opportunity to thrive and create a successful, fulfilling future.

Mr. Chairman, at the start of 2024, the Independent Living Programme housed four residents. However, one female resident was terminated due to non-compliance. Subsequently, ten referrals were received and four were rejected. By the end of the year, Independent Living Programme was at capacity with nine residents—seven females and two males.

Two residents graduated from The Berkeley Institute. One high schooler moved to the Independent Living Programme in July, completed summer school, and is on the course to graduate from the CedarBridge Academy in 2025. One resident enrolled with the Adult Education School in December 2024 to obtain their GED. Also, each resident had some form of employment, whether full-time, part-time, summer employment, or apprenticeship. By the end of 2024, there were three residents employed full-time, three part-time, one seasonal, and two unemployed.

Mr. Chairman, during the past [year], Independent Living Programme staff addressed a total of seven employment-related incidents involving five residents. These incidents included concerns such as a lack of insurance and benefits coverage, dishonest employer practices, and questionable employment contracts. The Independent Living Programme staff provided individualised support to affected residents through advocacy, guidance, and resource navigation. In each case, residents were either directed to appropriate external supports or provided with alternative solutions to address their unique circumstances.

Mr. Chairman, life skills development continues to be a fundamental component of the Independent Living Programme, with a strong emphasis on equipping residents with the knowledge and tools necessary for successful independent living. Last year, group sessions were held that addressed a range of essential topics including, [for example,] tenancy, financial literacy, money management, utility bill management, meal planning and grocery shopping, legal awareness, understanding actions and consequences, job sustainability, personal safety and security, self-care, and common challenges faced by young adults.

In addition, the programme actively engaged community partners to deliver monthly workshops, contributing valuable expertise and perspectives aimed at enhancing the residents' life skills and fostering greater community connection.

Mr. Chairman, Renovations to the Independent Living Programme staff offices and boardroom commenced in November and are progressing steadily. Completion is anticipated by the end of May, May 31, 2025. These upgrades aim to enhance the functionality of staff spaces and support continued programme delivery.

In addition, the development of a new studio apartment is underway, which will increase Independent Living Programme's residential capacity to a total of 11 [rooms]. This unit has been thoughtfully designed to accommodate residents with disabilities, ensuring accessibility and inclusivity within the programme. When not in use for this purpose, the studio will serve as a transitional living space for residents who have demonstrated readiness for independent living, offering an opportunity to experience greater autonomy in the final stages of their Independent Living Programme journey.

Mr. Chairman, with the Independent Living Programme having celebrated its second anniversary, we have much to celebrate. Over the past two years the programme has served as a vital safety net for young adults, transitioning out of care of the director offering essential support during a pivotal stage of their lives.

I take this opportunity to extend my sincere gratitude to the dedicated staff of the Independent Living Programme and our community stakeholders. Their unwavering commitment has been instrumental in providing a lifeline to our young adults, empowering them to grow, gain confidence and move toward independence.

Programme 2305—The Mirrors Programme,
Business Unit 33140

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The Mirrors Programme, business unit 33140 is found on page B-298. Mr. Chairman, the budget allocated to the Mirrors Programme for 2025/26 is $869,000, an increase of 24 per cent. Mirrors has begun to rebuild its team since it transitioned to the Department of Child and Family Services. A full complement of staff is expected this year. One additional post, a Youth and Community Engagement Officer, will be funded this year and the Recruitment Manager post will now be fully funded this year for a total complement of six staff for the Mirrors Programme.

Mr. Chairman, we are honoured and pleased to continue our development of prevention programming for Bermuda, which is grounded in neuroscience of accelerated learning, counselling [pedagogy and andragogy,] and leadership principles which demonstrate the depths of programming Mirrors is using. Mirrors and its partners continue to develop the work in the Social Emotional Development and Life Coaching areas for our community. As an example of the high level of curriculum, the Western Association of Schools Colleges [WASC] accreditor observed the February 2025 camp, spoke with campers, staff, volunteers, leadership campers and parents with a positive report for re-accrediting our partner Quantum Learning Global, which extends the accreditation to Mirrors, producing WASC accredited programming. The Mirrors team is congratulated for this accomplishment.

Mr. Chairman, the new In-Power-Meant process developed by lead consultant Dr. Cheyenne Correia-Foster, is about social and emotional development and is very useful for life. Youth and volunteers have learned to identify who they are internally, to confidently express themselves externally, and to leave a positive impact on the world by elevating those around them. Mirrors continues its effort with relevant content to focus on the whole person and cycle of impact to support its primary population, youth well-being.

Mr. Chairman, Mirrors enrolled 30 youth in the October 2024 SuperCamp Senior Forum (Cohort 19) who are currently in their follow-through phase of the programme with a life coach, with expected completion in June 2025. This year, the students were separated by gender to provide more specialised monthly support services, and they continue to receive weekly life coaching.

Mr. Chairman, Mirrors is expecting to enrol a leadership senior group (cohort 20), in the upcoming year, of twenty-five 14- to 16-year-olds and five junior team leaders to travel to Singapore for the SuperCamp Senior Forum leadership experience. The focus is to build peer leadership skills and harness the peer influence such that they have a positive impact in their schools when they return. Their follow-through phase will be focused on experiential leadership skills development. Thirty volunteers who have demonstrated leadership qualities to coach the students will enrol. This focus will allow for positive peer influence on the school climate with the opportunity to accelerate positive community outcomes.

During 2024, Mr. Chairman, 60 middle school students participated in the All In! 8 Keys of Excellence [prefect] training across the three middle schools; 33 youth participated in the five-day SuperCamp Junior Forum workshop, and 20 youth were supported through the out-of-school suspension and drop-in service programme. All post-training surveys continue to receive 90 [per cent] to 100 per cent school-age levels in school reform positive experience ratings in content and experience. The team is engaging with the parish primary schools to explore serving the upper primary.

Mr. Chairman, PeerForward Bermuda travelled overseas in 2024 with a team of 16 peer leaders, four advisors, two college coaches and two support staff for the Mirrors-endorsed college and career readiness programmes at The Berkeley Institute and CedarBridge Academy. Thirty-two peer leaders attended the fall training in student engagement to execute the PeerForward journey, which moves from self-awareness and self-agency to community service. Service is about leading peers to build a college-going culture in their high schools to raise college enrolment and degree attainment. All trainings in the PeerForward programme received 100 per cent positive experience in content and experience.

The report from Bermuda College Fall 2024 enrolment indicated that 171 of the 198 high school graduates for 2024 came from public schools. Mr. Chairman, 99 students came from The Berkeley Institute and 72 came from CedarBridge [Academy]. Students are using Bermuda College as a pathway to degrees. College Promise and PeerForward, hosting college application days at the high schools, are making a difference in post-secondary enrolment.

Mr. Chairman, over 100 parents and students signed up to attend the 2025 Finding Fund$ for College webinars, and the focus has increased to engaging parents of students of all ages versus S4 parents to support families' proactive planning to build financial pathways for students to attend college. PeerForward is projecting to serve Berkeley and CedarBridge in the 2025/26 school year with the PeerForward programme and support from the Mirrors Alumni and Friends Association charity.

Mr. Chairman, 172 students provided art and digital submissions in the 8th Annual Art and Digital competition themed "Feels Like Home." Students won prizes for themselves and their schools to support the arts in school. The upcoming 2025 theme is "Faces of Bermuda" which will showcase student summer art.

Mr. Chairman, Mirrors continues to find ways to engage parents to attend training to build skills for positive youth development. Mr. Chairman, 384 parents participated in programming in 2024. The target was reduced based on transition activities and vacant posts. Mirrors has a secondary focus of building social emotional development in adult-serving youth. Mr. Chairman, 330 volunteers, educators and youth workers attended programming in 2024.

Mr. Chairman, 86 adults provided roughly 204 service hours, and 209 youth provided roughly 656 service hours in the Mirrors Field of Learning Garden. Students were able to engage in sustainable gardening curricula led by Mirrors team member, Nelson Bascome III, to transfer the knowledge in developing home gardens. Students were able to harvest vegetables, donating them across the Island to seniors, group living homes and families. The Mirrors Alumni and Friends Association will continue to support Mirrors in the upcoming year through the volunteer recognition scheme, the annual Bermuda-themed art competition, Southlands, PeerForward and other community engagements. Mr. Chairman, I take this opportunity to thank corporate Bermuda, the Alumni Board members and the Mirrors team for their commitment to the development of Bermuda's youth.

Mr. Chairman, I will now speak to programme 2304, Administration, found on page B-298.

Programme 2304, Administration

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, business unit 33120, Administration and business unit 33130, Grant Funding fall under programme 2304 with a combined budget estimate for fiscal year 2025/26 of $2,478,000, reflecting a decrease of $404,000 or 14 per cent.

Administration, Business Unit 33120

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the Administration section of DCFS is responsible for the general supervision of the sections within the department and the oversight of the Psycho-Educational Programme, the Mirrors Programme, Child Safeguarding and Court Social work. The budget estimate for business unit 33120 for this year is $2,383,000. This reflects a 2 per cent increase.

Mr. Chairman, staff development and training continue to be a strategic priority, purposefully aligned with the goal of delivering a seamless continuum of services that address the complex needs of our client population. To ensure staff remain current with best practices, a partnership has been maintained with Relias Learning Systems, DCFS's core web-based training platform. Relias offers a comprehensive library of accredited courses, endorsed by professional bodies such as the Council on Accreditation (COA) and the Child Welfare League of America (CWLA), which are regularly updated to reflect the latest research and standards in the field.

Mr. Chairman, DCFS is required to conduct Social Inquiry Reports (SIR) for both the Family Court and the Supreme Court. This section has one substantive social worker, and due to the increased requests for reports another social worker was reassigned to assist in reducing the backlog from the courts. The court social workers function autonomously from the other sections within the department to ensure that all comprehensive reports are compiled based on the information provided by the parties, their collateral supports, and the relevant services that may be involved with the parent, guardian and/or the children. The court social worker's primary focus is to recommend what is in the best interest of the children.

At the beginning of 2024, Mr. Chairman, 35 court matters were carried over from 2023 and the total number of new cases for 2024 was 50. In addition to the SIR requests, the court social workers were required to submit 32 updated or addendum reports to the courts. The court social workers appeared in Family Court 96 times and 26 times in the Supreme Court.

Mr. Chairman, many of the Family Court matters now include trials and require the court social workers to testify regarding their reports. This is a significant shift from previous family court practices, and trials often results in the social workers sometimes spending days in court, which significantly impacts their ability to meet requested timeframes for other SIR reports. There are delays in providing judgments that negatively impact the relevance of the Social Inquiry Reports. Social workers are often requested to provide an updated report due to the significant delay, and this can disrupt the lives of families and children. Efforts should be made to implement measures that ensure rulings are delivered immediately following hearings. Introducing a “child’s timescale” framework [could] prioritise timely resolutions while safeguarding the best interests of the child.

Mr. Chairman, in response to the recommendations of the SafeLives UK review, a Domestic Liaison social worker joined the Department of Child and Family Services in April. This officer brings experience as a complex needs independent domestic violence advisor and will work in partnership with the Centre Against Abuse. Their role includes providing specialised domestic abuse and sexual abuse support services to families and adults, promoting education and community awareness, offering case management, crisis intervention, and safety planning. The new addition to the team represents a welcome continuum in our efforts to safeguard children and families.

Mr. Chairman, the establishment of the Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conference (MARAC) was another SafeLives UK recommendation, which has been in operation during the past two years. Since April 2023, this dedicated team of professionals has been meeting regularly to review, assess, and ensure safety plans for referred high-risk domestic abuse and family violence cases. The MARAC team comprises representatives from the Department of Child and Family Services, the Bermuda Police Service—Domestic Violence Liaison and Vulnerable Persons sections—the Centre Against Abuse, and Ageing and Disabilities Services.

Mr. Chairman, from its inception in April 2023 until December 2024, MARAC has reviewed a total of 143 cases. These cases include couples, families with children, and seniors/vulnerable persons who experienced family abuse.

The breakdown is as follows:

- 69 new cases were referred between April and December 2023; while
- 74 new cases were referred from January to December 2024.

Of the 143 total cases:

- 25 involved vulnerable adults (seniors/disabled persons);
- 24 involved couples without children;
- 94 involved families with children or a child exposed to domestic abuse, which accounted for a total of 142 children exposed.

Mr. Chairman, during 2024, there were 14 reported recurrences of domestic abuse in households already open to MARAC. Alarmingly, 85 per cent of these recurrences involved child exposure to domestic abuse.

Furthermore, DCFS recorded 197 investigations for neglect in 2024, specifically related to child exposure to family violence/domestic abuse. This reflects an increase from the 157 investigations recorded at the end of 2023, continuing a concerning year-over-year upward trend.

Mr. Chairman, as a community, we must address these rising numbers with urgency. Evidence from our cases, alongside extensive international research, highlights the devastating effects of domestic abuse on a child’s development. During incidents of domestic abuse, even if a child is not physically harmed, the emotional and psychological damage from witnessing or simply being nearby during such events poses a high risk. Children exposed to domestic abuse face both short-term and long-term challenges.

Mr. Chairman, it is critical to recognise that children learn and are shaped by their environment from birth and even in utero. The harmful effects of domestic abuse must not be underestimated, and the community has a responsibility to act.

Grant Funding, Business Unit 33130

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget estimate for business unit 33130 for 2025/26 is $95,000, representing an 83 per cent decrease from 2024/25. This reduction is due to a shift of the grant allocation of $375,000 for Teen Haven and Teen Services from DCFS to the Ministry Headquarters.

Mr. Chairman, $75,000 in grant funding is to support the cross-ministry initiative and assist families in crisis through the development of coordinated, inter-agency responses that address urgent and multifaceted needs. This investment underscores a continued commitment to collaborative, holistic support strategies that create lasting impact where it is needed most. Mr. Chairman, $20,000 will be allocated to MARAC to cover education, promotion and awareness about domestic violence.

Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, I will now present the subjective analysis of current account estimates for the Department of Child and Family Services as found on page B-299 of the Estimates Book.

Salaries

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget allocated for Salaries is $11,926,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, an increase of $1,681,000, or 16 per cent more than the original budget for fiscal year 2024/25.

The salary growth largely reflects increases in manpower (FTEs) to ensure that a new community-based intensive model of intervention, i.e., the Intensive Family Preservation programme, can be implemented under the Family Preservation section. The increase is also explained by funding for an additional full-time equivalent for the Mirrors Programme, and one new full-time equivalent for the Foster Care programme. Finally, negotiated salary uplifts for public officers also explain the increase for 2025/26.

Wages

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the estimate for wages is $187,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, representing an increase of $11,000 compared to fiscal year 2024/25. This is due to the adjustment of an understated annual wage in the prior year; however, negotiated pay uplifts for industrial employees accounted for the majority of the increase.

Other Personnel Costs

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The budget expenditure allocated for other personnel costs remained unchanged from fiscal year 2024/25 to fiscal year 2025/26.

Training

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the $2,000 increase in training expenses for fiscal year 2025/26 is representative of new, specialised onboarding training for employees within the Family Preservation section.

Transport

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, expenditure for transport has been budgeted at $70,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, indicative of a $25,000, or 56 per cent, increase over the prior year. The Foster Care Programme provides transportation services for children to and from school and some after-school activities. The section has increased its transportation budget by this amount due to the number of children involved in several after-school activities, and special professional services that are time-sensitive.

Travel

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, total travel expenses have been budgeted at $252,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, an increase of $6,000 [over] fiscal year 2024/25. This represents minor increases in the amounts budgeted for overseas conferences and hotel costs for the Foster Care and Investigation and Screening programmes.

Communications

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, communications, inclusive of phones, courier and postal costs, are budgeted at $225,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, which represents a $37,000, or 20 per cent, increase over the budget allocation for fiscal year 2024/25. Additional staff hired for the new Intensive Family Preservation initiative will each require a cellular phone for safety purposes. Also, the Counselling and Life Skills section will be issued cellular phones during 2025/26, as their client base has increased, and more time is anticipated to be spent at the schools and meeting clients outside of the office. Lastly, the rise in the budget covers increased costs of local calls for the programmes having satellite offices.

Advertising and Promotion

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget of $18,000 allocated for advertising and promotion expenditures increased by $5,000 for fiscal year 2025/26. This is to support a planned campaign on mandatory reporting by the Investigation and Screening section. The Children Act 1998 requires service providers and anyone working with children to be listed as a mandatory reporter of neglect and/or abuse. In the interest of children, the campaign will provide information on what is reportable by professionals and to better inform the community about mandatory reporting.

Professional Services

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, Professional Services budgeted at $3,929,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, represents a decrease of $175,000. The Independent Living programme requires a security presence every night and weekends at the facility. Funding for this security was redirected from Professional Services to the Security Equipment (Minor Equipment) budget line in error. The necessary change will be made to the budget.

However, reductions were also made to professional services costs to support funding needed to cover increased transportation costs by the Foster Care section, additional communication expenses by the Counselling and Life Skills section and satellite offices, increased funding for food supplies, office supplies, stationery, printing and cleaning supplies across the various programmes, financing professional liability costs and covering maintenance expenses due to ageing assets and equipment.

Rentals

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the estimate for Rentals for budget year 2025/26 is $1,682,000, a decrease of $8,000 from the prior budget year. This decrease represents a minor adjustment to the rental budget within the Independent Living programme.

Repair and Maintenance

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, for fiscal year 2025/26, the costs of Repairs and Maintenance is $611,000, an increase of $64,000 over fiscal year 2024/25. The Brangman Home, Observatory Cottage, and Transitional Living programmes and Independent Living programme have each budgeted additional funds to carry out deep scale cleaning of their facilities on a quarterly basis.

Extra money has also been budgeted to cover vehicle maintenance to ensure staff are able to travel Island-wide to carry out their duties, and for ageing kitchen and office equipment at the Brangman Home.

Insurance

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the $3,000 increase in insurance costs will ensure that the annual re-charge for psychologist medical professional liability is covered.

Energy

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, for fiscal year 2025/26 the Energy budget has been allocated $318,000, representing a $14,000, or 5 per cent increase over fiscal year 2025/26. This increase will support fuel costs for two new vehicles to be used by the new Intensive Family Preservation programme.

Also, the Brangman Home and Observatory Cottage have marginally increased gasoline and electricity budgets, respectively, to bring into alignment with historical spending.

Clothing, Uniforms and Laundry

Hon. Tinee Furbert: For fiscal year 2025/26, Mr. Chairman, $176,000 has been budgeted for clothing, uniforms and laundry expenses.

This is a $5,000, or 3 per cent, decrease that is attributed to the Brangman Home redirecting funding from their clothing budget to finance increased gasoline costs, as mentioned.

Materials and Supplies

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the estimate for Materials and Supplies for fiscal year 2025/26 is $512,000, representing a $136,000, or 36 per cent, increase over the 2024/25 budget allocation. Two-thirds of this increase is due to the rising costs to provide children's meals within the Happy Valley Child Care Centre, as well as for residents within the Brangman Home, Observatory Cottage and Independent Living programmes.

The remaining one-third of the increase is explained by additional funding needed for office supplies, stationery, printing and cleaning supplies across the various programmes; and the Independent Living programme has also budgeted more for linen and toiletries for residents.

Equipment (Minor Capital)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, minor equipment expenses have been allocated $111,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, an increase of $83,000 over fiscal year 2024/25. The increase highlights an administrative error as these monies are earmarked for spending on contracted security services at the Independent Living programme, and not security equipment. The necessary change will be made to the budget.

Other Expenses

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget for Other Expenses increased by $25,000 for fiscal year 2025/26. This increase will support a new social sector initiative funded by the Administration section for a Hardship Support fund for families facing a financial crisis, i.e., those having insufficient money to cover the costs of food, medication, or utility bills.

The fund seeks to provide immediate assistance to people, pending being assessed by the Department of Financial Assistance, or for those who may not be eligible for financial assistance.

Grants and Contributions

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the amount allocated for Grants and Contributions for fiscal year 2025/26 is $685,000, representing a $451,000, or 40 per cent reduction in funding from fiscal year 2024/25. As shown on page C-21, grants awarded to Teen Services and Teen Haven (shown as Grant to YHED) have decreased by $375,000, since these grants have been transferred over to the Ministry Headquarters. Also, the grant for the Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Committee (MARAC) has been reduced by $76,000, as a social worker (Domestic Liaison) post has been created within Family Preservation, to provide these services. The remaining amount budgeted for MARAC will be spent on Domestic Abuse Awareness activities.

Revenue Summary (Page B-299)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, for fiscal year 2025/26, Revenue for nursery fees earned by the Happy Valley Child Care Centre is estimated to be on par with the 2024/25 estimate. Additional earnings of $33,000 are anticipated to be collected by the Independent Living programme in respect of residential fees from clients.

Employee Numbers (Full-Time Equivalents)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, on page B-300 you will note that there are 117 full-time equivalent positions for the Department of Child and Family Services for fiscal year 2025/26. This is an increase of 11 full-time equivalents compared to fiscal year 2024/25. The increase is explained by the addition of nine funded temporary additional posts budgeted for the new community-based, intensive model of intervention, Intensive Family Preservation programme, operating under the Family Preservation section.

The temporary additional posts include one Social Worker, Domestic Liaison; three Social Worker Assistants; four Social Workers; one Clinical Social Worker; and one Behavioural Support Specialist. In addition, one Youth and Community Engagement Officer post has been fully funded for the Mirrors programme, and one temporary additional Social Worker post complements the Foster Care team.

It should also be noted that during November 2024, the department completed a realignment of its positions relative to the approved organisational structure. This resulted in some positions being moved to other business units, and thus accounts for the remaining differences shown on page B-300.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes our presentation for Head 23, the Department of Child and Family Services. At this time, I extend my sincere gratitude to all the dedicated staff within the department for their unwavering commitment to the children and families of Bermuda. Though often unrecognised, their impact is undeniable.

The Chairman: And for the listening audience, we are in the Committee of Supply for further consideration of the budget for the country which is currently doing Head 86 . . . and Head 23 has just been completed by the Minister for Child and Family Services. We will be going into Head 55. This is a four-hour debate. We have done, roughly, just about three of those four hours. We have roughly 55 minutes left. This is being piloted through the House of Assembly by Minister Tinee Furbert.

Minister Tinee Furbert, you have the floor.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

HEAD 55—DEPARTMENT OF FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, I will now present the Estimates of Expenditure and Revenue for Head 55, the Department of Financial Assistance, which can be found on pages B-305 through B-307.

Mr. Chairman, the role of the Department of Financial Assistance [DFA] is to ensure that individuals with insufficient financial resources have access to services to gain, maintain, or regain a minimum standard of living while encouraging personal and economic independence. The services enable the individual to maintain dignity and self-worth and encourage the development of personal skills and resources.

The mission of the Department of Financial Assistance is found on page B-304 and is, To assist vulnerable Bermudians to maintain a minimum standard of living during challenging economic times.

Categories of Financial Assistance Awards

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, Financial Assistance is intended to assist with partial or full financial awards, in accordance with legislation, for items such as: food, rent, rest and nursing home fees, medication, utilities, home care and child day care. Approval for financial assistance is based on proven need, and a “means test” will assess the basic needs for a household to sustain monthly obligations either in whole or in part. Eligible and qualified clients on financial assistance, child day care allowance and the short-term relief benefit are categorised in one of six categories:

- Pensioners
- Disabled
- Earnings Low Employed
- Able-bodied and Unemployed
- Child Day Care Allowance
- Short-Term Relief Benefit

As of February 2025, the largest category of persons in need of financial assistance are pensioners, representing 53 per cent of total persons in receipt of financial assistance. The next highest categories are persons with disabilities at 36 per cent. Persons employed with insufficient earnings is at 7 per cent, followed by able-bodied unemployed persons at 4 per cent. Approximately 258 children were supported under the Child Day Care Allowance Programme during the same period.

Mr. Chairman, the monthly average number of new application submissions from the public currently stands at 50. The vetting process for each new application is meticulous, and officers in the department adhere to a turnaround timeframe of approximately two to three weeks from the time of receipt of each new application to completion of the vetting process. Whilst vetting new applications, the department continues to successfully service all existing eligible financial assistance and child day care allowance clients without interruptions.

Department Objectives

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the department's objectives can be found on page B-304, with legislation steering the core operational and financial activities of the department. The General Summary of expenditure for the department is shown on page B-305.

Mr. Chairman, the total expenditure for the financial assistance programme in 2025/26 is $56,030,000. This budget allocation covers expenditures for business unit 65050, Grants Administration and business unit 65080, General Administration.

Business unit 65050, Grants Administration, has a budget allocation of $51,289,000, an increase of $1,646,000, or 3 per cent more than in 2024/25.

The Grants Administration funding covers the social assistance and Child Day Care Allowance programmes as shown on page C-21. A total of $48,789,000 will be used to maintain the financial assistance programme and the short-term relief benefit programme. This is an increase of 3 per cent or $1,246,000 from the prior year. This increase is necessary to accommodate changes to legislation that will result in increases to client payouts.

A total of $2,500,000 will fund the Child Day Care Allowance programme. This is an increase of 19 per cent, or $400,000 from the prior year. This increase will also support increased child day care allowance payouts due to legislative changes.

Mr. Chairman, the total budget for 2025/26 for business unit 65080, General Administration, found on page B-305 is $4,741,000. This is an increase of $263,000, or 6 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, in its operational activities, the department continues to be guided by [the practices of] the National Association of Social Workers when managing relationships with financial assistance clients. In addition, the department collaborates with other licensed and accredited entities to provide supportive services such as health care assessments, psychological and psychiatric assessments, substance use disorder assessments and care placements. During fiscal year 2024/25, the department made strides in fortifying these collaborations, which will be explained further in this brief.

Mr. Chairman, the department will continue to collaborate with the department of Information and Digital Technology on the introduction of digital forms for persons making an application for financial assistance. The intent is to connect the public service with the people of Bermuda through comprehensive, secure, and accessible digital forms. Modern, innovative, digital technology facilitates internal efficiency and effectiveness and mobile working conditions. It is hoped that data gathering and reporting is expected to be less onerous in the very near future. This will improve the department's data analytics function and risk management.

Mr. Chairman, the department's compliance process facilitates the investigative, legislative, financial, and operational sections of the department to identify and prevent areas of potential fraud, abuse of the financial assistance system and overpayments to clients. Improvements can be measured by a more efficient turnaround of case referrals to Attorney General Chambers, random audit of client cases to detect any areas of concern, identifying red flags of possible fraud during assessments, and deploying preventative measures to manage the cost of awards per legislation and budgetary constraints.

Performance Measures

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the Performance Measures for the department can be found on page B-307. They demonstrate the achievement of public value to a vulnerable population group and are deliberately concise and precise. The focus is on measuring outcomes from the department objectives and other business improvements to better articulate the ability of the department in achieving effectiveness and service delivery. The department's performance measures are as follows:

Reduce Recoverable Debt from Prior Year

Hon. Tinee Furbert: This allows the department to eliminate waste and control budgeted amounts by effectively dealing with financial assistance fraud, reducing abuse of the system and overpayment of funds. The original forecast for 2024/25 was to reduce recoverable debt by 15 per cent from the prior year, and the revised forecast remains the same. The investigative officers remain committed to continuing their collaboration with Attorney General Chambers in the pursuit of legal recourse.

Reduce the Number of "Able-Bodied" and/or "Earnings Low" Clients from Prior Year

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The department provides a financial assistance award foundation that allows able-bodied unemployed, and earnings-low clients to become employed and employable without losing all financial assistance benefits. This has led to clients becoming employed, financially independent, and not dependent on financial assistance. Collaboration with the Department of Workforce Development has proven to be successful, whereby the use of personal employment plans encouraged clients' participation in employment opportunities that led to avenues for recipients to become financially independent.

The original and revised forecast for 2024/25 was based on the hope that with continual review and formulation of strategy, 10 per cent of clients that fall under the categories of able-bodied [unemployed] and earnings low, at fiscal year-end, will have been transitioned out of financial assistance and into sustainable work with independent living conditions. At the time of writing this brief, the actual outcome was 18 per cent, which is an increase of 8 per cent more than the original forecast for 2024/25. With continued collaboration with the Department of Workforce Development, the target outcome for 2025/26 is anticipated at 20 per cent.

Reduce Number of Legitimate Client Complaints from Prior Year

Hon. Tinee Furbert: This is aimed at improving service quality. The department addresses legitimate complaints via direct conversations with clients or in writing, and in many instances, issues are raised either at the departmental level or directed towards the Minister's office. Responses are provided in an efficient, fact-based, and timely manner without compromising professionalism. The original and revised forecast for fiscal year 2024/25 was a 50 per cent reduction of reported legitimate client complaints. This revised forecast was achieved, and the department will be benchmarked against a 75 per cent target for 2025/26. The department will continue to reinforce a work ethic of customer centricity and aimed at delivering consistent and professional service standards towards the delivery of excellence, at both the front end and back end, consistently and professionally.

Reduce Number of Review Board Appeals from Prior Year

Hon. Tinee Furbert: A Financial Assistance Review Board is appointed to hear appeals against the director's decisions to

- refuse application for an award,
- impose special conditions on an award,
- suspend in whole or in part an award,
- vary an award,
- to revoke an award, or
- require repayment of any sum of money as per legislation.

This performance measure is aimed at improving the overall administration of the Financial Assistance Act, the regulations and policy. The reduction in the number of legitimate client complaints led to a positive correlation, which resulted in only two registered appeals in 2024/25, compared to four from the prior year. In both cases, the Review Board supported the decision taken by the director. The target outcome for 2025/26 is anticipated to remain at 50 per cent reduction.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the total capital expenditure for fiscal year 2025/26 is estimated at $4,000, as shown on page C-16. This expenditure pertains to capital acquisition and will fund three laptops to be shared by the senior leadership and the financial assistance teams in documenting findings while working in the field.

Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the Subjective Analysis is found on page B-305 and explains the breakdown in expenditure for business unit 65080, General Administration as follows:

Salaries

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, a total of $4,175,000 will fund Salaries during fiscal year 2025/26, an increase by $402,000, or 11 per cent compared to 2024/25. This is attributed to the recently negotiated salary and wage collective bargaining agreement and the department's funding three vacant positions discussed under the Manpower section.

Training

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, training funded at $12,000 increased by $4,000, or 50 per cent, compared to the prior fiscal year. This increase is necessary to facilitate staff training.

Communications

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, Communications costs increased by $2,000 or by 15 per cent attributed to an increase in the cost of telephone installation and setup for vacant positions that will be filled in this year.

Professional Services

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, Professional Services funded at $300,000 decreased by $173,000, or 37 per cent. This decrease is due to a reduction in hiring local consultants.

Repair and Maintenance

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, funding for Repair and Maintenance increased by $8,000, or by 18 per cent. This increase covers higher software maintenance and office equipment repair and maintenance costs.

Materials and Supplies

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the funding for materials and supplies increased by $10,000, or by 7 per cent. This increase is due to anticipated higher operating expenditures for printing, office supplies and office cleaning.

Minor Equipment

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the increased expenditure for minor equipment of $10,000 will fund the replacement of office furniture and fixtures.

Manpower (Page B-306)

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the total full-time equivalent count is 41 positions compared to 38 positions in 2024/25. The department will fund three positions this year, which include an accounts officer to support both the short-term relief programme and handle the increase in accounting transactions due to the rise in the number of clients receiving financial assistance.

Investigations

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, as a summary of the department's investigative work to reduce fraudulent activity, officers continue to conduct investigations and pursue individuals or entities that commit fraud and abuse of the Financial Assistance system. The following three cases are based on actual occurrences and are provided to inform the public on the nature of fraud and abuse committed by persons who receive financial assistance.

Case Study 1: Pertains to Fraud Committed Due to Unauthorised Travel

Hon. Tinee Furbert: In 2024, the subject, who was deemed medically unfit to work received financial assistance to help with monthly household expenses. The financial assistance awards that were granted consisted of payments for rent, insurance and food items. When the subject's reassessment was due, which allows the department to determine continued eligibility for financial assistance, the subject was notified via post to submit the required reassessment documentation. However, the subject failed to submit the requested reassessment documentation despite repeated reminders. The department officers then conducted a home visit to check on the subject's wellbeing; however, the subject could not be located. Subsequent travel checks revealed that the subject had left the Island without notifying the Department of Financial Assistance, in accordance with legislative requirements. Therefore, the subject continued to receive financial assistance payments while not residing in Bermuda. This case was referred to the Attorney General's Chambers to recover any overpayments.

The Chairman: For the listening audience we are on . . . there is probably about 35 minutes left in a four-hour debate. This is being piloted through the House of Assembly by Minister Tinee Furbert. We are currently on Head 55, Financial Assistance.

Minister Furbert, you have the floor.

Case Study 2: Pertains to Fraud Committed Due to Unreported Employment and Income

Hon. Tinee Furbert: In 2024, the subject, was categorised as disabled and deemed medically unfit to work by a physician. Subsequently, the department received notification that the subject was employed at a local business. The matter was handed over to the department's compliance unit and the investigative officers investigated this matter. Digital evidence obtained confirmed that the client was indeed employed and was receiving income that was not disclosed to the department. Based on recent changes made to department's legislation, the department is now able to seek a second medical opinion on this subject to confirm the occurrence of any fraud. This matter is still under investigation.

Case Study 3: Pertains to Fraud Due to Misuse of Food Cards

Hon. Tinee Furbert: In 2024, the subject received food allowance via a department-issued food card. The department was notified by a member of the public that the subject was exchanging food items purchased via the food card for cash. An investigation was conducted and digital evidence secured confirmed allegations made against the subject. As a result of repeated abuse of the financial assistance system, penalties were applied to the subject as per legislation.

Mr. Chairman, there are 43 active cases under investigation due to fraud and abuse of the Financial Assistance system. The total reimbursable amount due to the government for these 43 cases was $329,758. For those cases handled by the Attorney General's Chambers, the department ensures all necessary evidence and supporting documents are available for court proceedings to recoup the funding. Other individuals are placed on a feasible repayment plan to recover the funds.

Suspicious activities are brought to the department's attention via field investigations by investigative officers, the department officers' observations, internal findings, and tips from the public. During 2024/25, the department received, on average, nine tips per month.

The department will continue to focus on standardising current procedures and clearly defining policies that govern operational activities. This process will also aid with the department's investigative officers documenting a blueprint for "Financial Assistance Typologies" which can be used in other jurisdictions as a point of reference for identifying patterns and trends of potential fraudulent activities.

Financial Assistance Social Worker

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the Financial Assistance (FA) social workers are committed to improving the department's social services delivery system. This is aimed at enhancing living standards and the overall well-being of financial assistance clients.

Building on process improvement initiatives that commenced in the prior year 2024/25, the social workers continued to re-engineer internal processes. Specifically, the process for the submission of client progress reports by residential mental health treatment facilities was addressed. That is, to ensure continuity of care for clients served, the process for a client's "step down" to a lesser level of care was efficiently facilitated through discussions and collaborations with the relevant agencies.

As part of its mandate, and given that Bermuda has a large ageing population, the Financial Assistance social workers continue to work collaboratively with the Bermuda Health Council to validate the bed capacity of each rest and nursing home. Through this collaboration, the Bermuda Health Council initiated their inspections of all rest and nursing homes, which are ongoing. The inspections consider the requirements of the department's most vulnerable financial assistance clients.

Collaborative Partnerships

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, during the fiscal year 2024/25, frequent collaborations occurred between the Financial Assistance social workers team, King Edward Memorial Hospital social workers team, and Ageing and Disability Services social workers. Partnership expansions and strengthening efforts continued through ongoing collaborations and more efficient meetings scheduled on a quarterly or biannual basis with respective partners and stakeholders.

The Financial Assistance social workers continue to have a successful collaboration with the Salvation Army to support clients with housing challenges and participate in the Drug Treatment Court and Driving Under the Influence Court to facilitate interagency collaboration. The department also partners with other agencies such as Dignity House, which is a residential mental health rehabilitation facility and Focus Counselling Services, which is a residential treatment facility that provides substance abuse disorder, [addiction and recovery support.]

Case Referrals

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, workflow trends continue to be highly concentrated on case conferences, case discussions, and individual counselling. Overseas medical transfers for financial assistance clients averaged between two to four per month, with longer stays due to more acute medical conditions and subsequent care being required. The Financial Assistance social workers' pre-screen support continues as a mechanism to facilitate the application process, specifically for pensioners and individuals with disabilities.

Community Outreach and Support

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, Officers in the Department work collaboratively with several Government ministries, departments, quangos and agencies to strengthen community partnerships and to ensure support for their clients. These include:

- Presentations to the Bermuda Housing Corporation and Focus Counselling Services enabling them to understand the department's mandate.
- Conducting site visits to rest and nursing homes throughout the fiscal year to survey each of the facilities and make sure that Financial Assistance clients are served in safe and healthy environments, and receive the appropriate services and programming, and quality care.

- Liaising with the Department of Education to facilitate the transfer of 3-year-old children in receipt of child day care allowance into the pre-school Bright Start Programme offered in the Government's preschools.
- Working with the Department of Parks to provide health insurance coverage for participants in their Skills Development Programme which is intended to provide hands-on skills and the enhancement of knowledge to help FA clients secure employment and reduce dependency on financial assistance.

During 2024/25, the Department of Financial Assistance also purchased school clothing and shoes from various Bermuda retail stores and distributed them to FA parents before the start of the 2024/25 school year.

Legislative Changes

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, in June 2024, the introduction of the Financial Assistance (Short-Term Relief Benefit) Act 2024 came into effect. The purpose of this legislation is to provide immediate financial support on a short-term basis to persons who qualify in the event of experiencing sudden financial hardship due to unforeseen circumstances.

This Short-Term Relief Benefit programme is not intended to be long-term, but rather short-term financial support to persons who qualify by providing $1,500 per month for a maximum period of three months in any given financial year. For the nine months the programme has been offered, a total of $20,000 has been paid out to persons due to termination from employment and domestic violence.

Mr. Chairman, the Financial Assistance Regulations 2004 were amended to add an expenditure line item for Personal Care Allowance in the Table of Allowable Expenses to provide a monthly Personal Care Allowance of $100 to all Financial Assistance clients who reside in licensed rest homes and nursing homes. This legislation became effective in February 2025 and allows for the purchase of personal care and health care goods and services, such as toiletries and grooming services.

Roughly, 229 FA clients will receive the $100 personal care allowance, of which 195 clients are pensioners and 34 clients are persons with a disability. The department is now working through compliance issues that must be addressed before the first payout is made this month of May.

Mr. Chairman, the staff at the Department of Financial Assistance continues to demonstrate professionalism and commitment to support disadvantaged and vulnerable Bermudians. For this, I continue to recognise and applaud the hard work and dedicated actions demonstrated by this department.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation on Head 55, the Department of Financial Assistance and for the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister Furbert.

Is there anybody else who would like to speak to that?

We have roughly about 26 minutes left.

I recognise the Member from constituency 31. You have the floor.

Ms. Linda Smith: Okay. Thank you very much.

First off, I want to thank the Minister for a very comprehensive brief today. Certainly, listening to her brief and some of the research I did in preparation for today . . . it is amazing the depth and breadth and scope of the work that this Ministry's does for the good of our community and its well-being. I am just grateful to everyone who participates in that, and I am particularly grateful for the people who are on the frontline 24/7 working in crisis situations. There must be days where there is great joy and there must be days where there is great sorrow and much concern for people who you want to help that maybe are becoming more difficult to help. So, keep up the good work. And thank you so much for the work you do.

We don't have a lot of time here for questions today, so I did want to sort of move along. So actually, I will direct my questions to section C, the capital accounts estimates, in particular [page] C-8 line item 75093, the Seniors Day Care Facility. I note that the total authorised figure (or TAF) is $6 million, and $1.5 million has been estimated for 2025/26. Could the Minister please provide some information on what each of these figures entails? In other words, what can we expect is going to happen in 2025 and then going forward? That is my question. Okay?

I do have another question in relation to section C, and that is [pages] C-27 and C-28. It is Schedule C, and it is the Government Department Accommodation Rental list. There are obviously a number of Youth, Social Development and Seniors property rentals listed on that Schedule and they cover a wide range of services that are quite self-explanatory. I do however note that the office rental space for the Ministry is amongst the most expensive on that list. Specifically, Veritas Place and Customs House on Front Street. These two rentals are considerably above the next most costly items on that listing, and I do have a couple of questions related to them.

The first being, on page C-28, the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors, and that is Heading 86, Headquarters, is listed as occupying the fourth and fifth floors of Veritas Place at an annual cost of $656,971 for one floor and $165,031 for another floor, respectively. I believe that, for the record and the Budget Book, that the Ministry is actually occupying the fifth and sixth floors and not the third and fourth. So, you may want to have a correction there. But I do question why one floor costs so much more than the other. In fact, it is $491,940 more expensive from floor to floor.

And still on that same topic, on page [C-]26, the Legislature is listed as renting the third and fourth floor of Veritas House for the House of Assembly, at $84,800 and an office for the Legislature at $98,980. My question is, Why is the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors paying so much considerably more than the Legislature? And those are being, as I mentioned earlier, $656,971—

The Chairman: Member, just remember—

Ms. Linda Smith: Sorry?

The Chairman: Just remember that you have to stick the Heads 86, 23 and 55 right now.

Ms. Linda Smith: Okay.

[Crosstalk]

Ms. Linda Smith: I'm there. I believe I'm there.

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: She was just under Head 2.

[Crosstalk]

Ms. Linda Smith: I'm not following. I'm sorry.

[Crosstalk]

Ms. Linda Smith: Sorry? I am just comparing . . . and I am repeating what I said just to put it in comparison.

[Inaudible interjections]

Ms. Linda Smith: For clarification, but if that is not necessary that is fine. Okay?

So those are my questions as they relate to section C. And I would like to then go back to . . . to go to section B. And on page B-292 of the Current Account Estimates, there is a $515,000 increase in Professional Services and I was wondering if the Minister could please provide some details on what that increase covers.

On page B-294, the Performance Measures, business unit 96000, General Administration. The first line item. The Ministry forecasts two compliance reviews in 2024/25 but completed one and has again targeted two for 2025/26. My question is, What are the compliance reviews being referred to here? In other words, what is the subject matter of the compliance reviews? What aspect of compliance?

Continuing on in Performance Measures, business unit 96040, Ageing and Disability Services. The third line item in that section, Accessibility Assessments, in 2023/24 there were 37, but this service was discontinued in 2024/25 and there is no estimate for this in 2025/26. My question is, What was that service and why was it discontinued?

Continuing on in Performance Measures, business unit 96040, Ageing and Disability Services. The seventh line down, Percentage of Senior Abuse Cases, opened after three months. We have gone from 48 per cent in 2023/24 to a forecast of 30 per cent for 2024/25, which was revised to 40 per cent and now is back to a lower target of 30 per cent. And my question is, Why is this target lower than it has been?

Performance Measures, business unit 96050, K. Margaret Carter Centre, fourth line down, to increase the number of community initiatives and stakeholder relationships. While the measure is increasing, the target for 2025/26 is actually decreased from 14 to 12. Perhaps that is an oversight, but I am just asking for clarification on that.

Continuing on with Performance Measures page B-295, business unit 96100, Youth Community Centres. The second line down. Projected number of community enrichment programme participants per annum. Original forecast was 900 for 2024/25 which was revised to 988. And the target for 2025/26 is again 900. My question is, What caused the increase? (Which is great.) And why hasn't the 2025/26 target been revised to target that higher number?

Under Head 23, Child and Family Services, which includes services to children and young persons, services to individuals and families, residential treatment, administration and the Mirrors programme. On page [B-]298, business unit 2302, Services to Individuals and Families. The overall budget of $6.9 million has been reduced by $37,000 with Investigation and Screening having been reduced by $267,000 which is considerable. While Foster Care has a considerable increase of $288,000 and I was wondering if the Honourable Minister could please shed some light on the reason for the shift in those two areas and what that is telling us.

On page B-299, the Salary estimate of $11.9 million is an increase of $1.69 million, or 16 per cent, over 2024/25 and $2.3 million more than 2023/24. Could the Minister please explain the increase from year to year and the growth from 2023/24 to this current 2025/26 estimate?

Also, the estimate for Professional Services on that same page, B-299, is down from $175,000, or 4 per cent, from the 2024/25 estimate of $4.1 million and more in line with the 2024/25 revised estimate but it is still a large number of $3.9 million. And my question is, What is included in those professional services and what does the Minister see is the trend there going forward?

On page B-300, the number of employees servicing Child and Family Services is estimated to increase by 11 per cent, and it appears that a majority of those are in the business unit 33060, Family Preservation. I was wondering if the Minister could please explain the nature of those additions.

On page B-[301], under Child and Family Services, Performance Measures, under business unit 33010, Happy Valley Child Care Centre, there is a performance measure target at 100 per cent for a minimum of 85 per cent of children to receive set developmental and educational milestones. And I am wondering if the Minister could please provide some examples of what those milestones might include. Thank you.

Also, in that same business unit, Happy Valley Child Care Centre, Satisfaction with services: Referral sources. The target has been lowered from 100 per cent to 95 per cent. What is the actual performance being measured? I wasn't clear. And why was it reduced?

Under business unit 33020, Investigation and Screening, Number of children abuse referrals responded to in the designated response lines. I am not actually sure what the designated response lines means. Perhaps we could have some insight into that. And also try to understand what is the relevance of a 90 per cent performance target in that category.

Under business unit 33070, Brangman Home, which I believe serves female residents between the ages of 12 and 18. Performance measure for Number of adolescents successfully transitioning out of Brangman Home and reintegrating into the family unit/permanent placement. It was wonderful to see that the revised forecast was considerably higher than the original 2024/25 forecast. In fact, it was revised upwards from 50 per cent to 80 per cent. And the 2025/26 forecast is for 90 per cent. So that is super encouraging. That is 40 per cent in the right direction. What does the Minister believe has contributed to this success? Because it is a great success, or it appears to be.

Page B-303, continuing under Child and Family Services and Performance Measures. Now this is an observation and a question from somebody who is really going through this for the first time. But page B-302, business unit 33090, Observatory Cottage, which I believe is the male equivalent of Brangman Home that services [females]. I note that the performance measures are different there with the measurements for Observatory Cottage being on things like timeframes for assessments, plans and group sessions. While the performance measures for the Brangman Home speaks more to the outcomes, things like average cost of service, number of clients with educational plans and successful transition out of the home. Would the Ministry consider aligning the performance measure of Observatory Cottage with Brangman Home? I just think it would provide much more information and would align those two.

Under business unit 33100, the Psycho-Educational programme which provides overseas therapeutic services. The second item says to ensure 100 per cent of families receive a minimum of three follow-up visits by a social worker per month for a minimum of six months at the completion of the reunification plan. The performance measure for this has remained consistent at 80 per cent. My question is, Why is that 80 per cent? And if you are getting there, why not try to push it a little further?

The next line item under business unit 33100, Number of clients receiving overseas assessments. The measurements are in the original forecast of 100 per cent for 2024/25 with a revised estimate of 30 per cent for 2024/25 and a target of 30 per cent for 2025/26. My question is, What is this actually measuring? And perhaps more informative information might be the number of clients receiving this service.

Business unit 33110, Youth Residential Treatment. The first line item to achieve and maintain 100 per cent compliance with the Child Act 1998 and the Children Amendment Act 2000 the performance measure target here is consistently 90 per cent. I am questioning why, particularly, it is adherence to the Act. It is not shooting and targeting 100 per cent.

Under business unit 33140, Mirrors programme, the performance measurement for Education status and non-offending status after two years of involvement in the programme is very impressive at 90 [per cent] and 95 per cent, respectively. However, the status with respect to employment is somewhat concerning; it is 50 per cent with a 2025/26 target of 55 per cent. My question is, Why is the performance in terms of enablement to get employment so low and why is the target not pushing a little harder?

Under Financial Assistance, page B-305 under Expenditures. I note that the estimate for 2025/26 is $5.6 million. That is an increase of $1.9 million from 2024/25. My question is, What is actually driving that estimate? Where does the Ministry see that trending?

Those are my questions. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Is there anybody else who would like to speak to Heads 86, 23 or 55?

The Chair recognises MP King.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I just have two questions which speak to all three heads. What is being done regarding Mediation Services? Because I know that was a key component of the work that the Department of Child and Family Services was doing before.

And the second one is, Seeing that the Cross Ministry Intervention Team [CMIT] was mentioned as a Throne Speech initiative to address the criminogenic risk needs and adverse charge or hold experiences towards putting the services in place so that families and children will get the requisite service, I didn't see any mention of that in the [Budget] Book itself, and I thought that was a bit unusual. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, MP King.

Is there anybody else who would like to speak to Heads 86, 23 or 55?

With none being recognised, Minister, would you like to take the remaining . . . what it looks like to be seven minutes to provide some answers?

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Yes, thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I just want to start with the last question that was in my head in regard to the question around CMIT. You would hear in our reporting in regard to CMIT, we changed the name from CMIT to Intensive Family Preservation, and I spoke about that a number of times within my budget brief.

Is that clear? Yes?

Mr. Robert King: Clear enough.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Okay.

I will go to the question in regard to the rental accommodation particularly for the Ministry Headquarters and the Office of Youth Affairs which occupies the Ministry Headquarters on the sixth floor and the Office of Youth Affairs which occupies the fifth floor and also has the basement area for storage.

That is an error in the Budget Book. I made that very clear. It is an error in the Budget Book. The actual cost for the sixth floor, in the Budget Book it says fourth floor, which we all know is for the Legislative Offices. Our floor is actually the sixth floor, and that cost is $97,773 per year. And the fifth floor is $101,949 per year. And again, that is inclusive of the basement level for storage as well.

Okay. There was a question in regard to the Mirrors . . . a question in regard to an increase in employees in 33060. This is due to the social initiative the Intensive Preservation, Family Preservation. There was a question around why the numbers have gone up. It is because we are including new staff levels to the Intensive Family Preservation programme.

There was question in regard to the percentage of senior abuse cases opened every three months, target is lower. Why is it lower for 2025/26? This is due to the introduction of the new Structured Decision-making Tool and planned changes to the investigation practices.

There was a question in regard to the Senior Day Care Facility cost. We did budget $1.5 million for fiscal year 2025/26. These are estimated costs that were provided by the Ministry of Public Works. However, this is an initial rough estimate. However, the estimate will be updated to a Class B estimate once the construction drawings are complete. Total cost projected of approximately $6 million under Projected cost for all construction and finished works. And this is inclusive of preliminary and contingency costs. So the $1.5 [million] is an estimation. And I am not saying we are going to use all $1.5 million for the architectural drawings and plannings for the Seniors Day Care Facility.

There was a question in regard to the accessibility consultations and assessments, why they were discontinued. This is due to the post being vacant. The person who fulfilled that post had retired and the role of accessibility assessment has now been moved to the Department of Planning who is taking on that role. So that role is now not within the Ministry. It is now with the Department of Planning.

There is a question in regard to the revised estimate of 988 and this is for the Community Enrichment Programme courses, page B-295. This is due to the unforeseen community partnerships that afforded additional courses to be facilitated. Therefore, it was reduced back to 900 as this reflects the 30 community enrichment programmes at a minimal of 10 participants required for each community centre to reach annually.

There was a question in regard to the Brangman Home asking for the Minister's consideration of alignment . . . let's see. Sorry, I will come back to that answer.

There was a question in regard to the professional services in page B-299 which includes services for the Domestic Abuse Perpetrator Programme that I spoke about in the media, as well as monies to advance the implementation of the National Senior Strategy. A question in regard to the Community Partnership for KMCC having decreased in the projected year of 2025/26 from 2024/25. The KMCC programme has recently undergone a strategic restructure to reprioritise long-term mutually beneficial community partnerships over a one-off or infrequent interactions. Additionally, KMCC is undergoing a period of significant transition with the expansion of programmes with new areas of the programmes being developed to create additional opportunities in other areas that will benefit clients.

In regard to referrals for investigations and assessment teams, they are assigned a designated response time of 24 hours, 5 days or 10 days utilising the structured decision-making tool. And the performance measure is to initiate the investigations 90 per cent of the time based on the designation.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The Mediation Services, I can answer that question really quickly.

The Chairman: That would be the last answer—

Hon. Tinee Furbert: All right.

The Chairman: —to give.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mediation Services continue to be provided through the Department of Child and Family Services. I have also spoken about this in the public.

That is . . . it is being subcontracted still through the Ministry. So, we still provide the mediation service through the Department of Child and Family Services.

The Chairman: Thank you for that, Minister.

That brings us to the end of our four-hour debate on the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors, Heads 86, 23, and 55.

Minister, if you want to move your heads.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Sure, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I move that Heads 86, 23, and 55 be approved as printed.

The Chairman: It has been moved that Heads 86, 23 and 55 be approved as printed.

Are there any objections?

If there are no objections, approved.

[Gavel]

[Motion carried: The Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors, Heads 86, 23 and 55 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.]

[Pause]

[Mr. Scott Pearman, Chairman]

The Chairman: Good afternoon, Honourable Members and members of the listening public.

We are in the Committee of Supply for the review of Estimates and Expenditures for budget year 2025/26 and we are just concluding the debate in relation to the budget for the Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors.

We are about to commence the debate with the Minister of Tourism [and Transport], Culture and Sport. And I am just waiting for the relevant Minister to get himself ready to address the Chamber.

I see the Honourable Minister, Owen Darrell. Are you ready, Minister?

Hon. Owen Darrell: Not yet.

The Chairman: Perfect. While you are getting ready, let me just say we will in this debate be covering the various heads, which are Heads 71, 20, 30 [sic] and 52. And in relation to Head 71, I understand that there was discussion between the Minister and the Opposition about how that would focus not on the issue of tourism but on the issue of sports in relation to Head 71. And I understand that has all been agreed and directed by the [Deputy] Speaker.

So, just to repeat: We will be hearing statements and questions in relation to Head 71, but solely in relation to Sport and then Heads 20, 30 [sic] and 52.

Minister, if you are ready, you have the floor.

MINISTRY OF TOURISM AND TRANSPORT, CULTURE AND SPORT

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Good afternoon to the listening public.

Mr. Chairman, I move that the following Head 20, Sport and Recreation; Head 52, Department of Culture be now taken under consideration.

The Chairman: Sorry, Minister. Let me just correct that. I have just been informed that Head 30 is not under consideration for this debate.

Hon. Owen Darrell: That is correct.

The Chairman: Thank you. Please continue.

HEAD 20—DEPARTMENT OF SPORT AND RECREATION

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to present the budget for Head 20, the Department of Sport and Recreation, found on pages B-237 through B-242 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure book. This budget invests in the growing participation supporting elite athletes and ensuring our community clubs and programmes continue to thrive.

Mr. Chairman, the mission statement found on page B-237 of the Department of Sport and Recreation is, to foster a vibrant sport and recreation culture in Bermuda by increasing participation, achieving regional excellence and ensuring equitable access to sports and recreational facilities. Through collaboration we aim to inspire and develop young talent, promote community well-being and elevate the value of sports and recreation in our society.

Mr. Chairman, a total of $9,948,000, as found on page B-239 of the Estimates Book has been allocated for this head. This represents an increase of $1,630,000, or 19 per cent higher from previous years. This change is primarily due to a transfer in Government golf courses and the Bermuda School Sport Federation to this head.

Mr. Chairman, the budget allocation of business unit, 30045, General Administration, is $991,000. An increase of $124,000, or approximately 14 per cent. This increase covers the cost of rent of the caretaker's house on Government islands. The allocated funds provide for the administration operations of the Department of Sport and Recreation Headquarters.

In addition, the Administration section provides administrative support for five programmes within the department and is responsible for monitoring departmental spending to ensure that policies and procedures are adhered to in achieving efficiency and effectiveness.

Programme 2002, Sport Development

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the Sports Programme Unit is operated through business unit 30055. The budget allocation is $658,000, an increase of $206,000, or approximately 46 per cent increase. This increase represents an additional staff member obtained through the transfer of the Bermuda School Sports Federation administrator to the department. The increase also reflects funding allocated for continued implementation of the ACTIVE Kid Sports Programme Academy which exposes young children to multiple sports. This initiative is Goal 1.2 of the National Sports Policy. Funding is also allocated for the organisation of a sports conference and expo which will feature overseas professionals who have provided sports education for athletes, coaches parents and administrators. This initiative supports Goal 1.3 of the National Sports Policy.

Business Unit 30065, Sports Investment

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, business unit 30065, Sports Investment, is dedicated to highlighting how Bermuda Government invests in the community through sports. In 2022, the National Sports Policy was updated with a five-year promise to raise the value of sport with the new vision that sport matters. To assist with the National Sports Policy business unit, 30065, and has been allocated a total of $2,106,000, an increase of $12,000 or approximately 1 per cent increase. Funds in this business unit are allocated through the Sports Investment programme which assist National Sports Governing Bodies with funding to develop sports through coach education, junior development and high performance. Twenty-eight sporting bodies have applied for the funding this year, up from 25 who applied in 2024/25.

Funding in the amount of $125,000 will be provided for the Bermuda Olympic Association, and $586,000 to the Bermuda Sport Anti-Doping Authority which is a statutory authority mandated to establish and enable Bermuda's athletes to compete internationally.

Mr. Chairman, during fiscal year 2025/26, the Department of Sport and Recreation in partnership with our recognised NSGB's intend to continue on focusing on all aspects of sports development to ensure National Sports Policy goals and objectives continue to be met.

Programme 23, School Sports Events

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the estimate for business unit 30025, School Sports Events is $43,000. This is a newly established business unit that represents the allocated funding for school sports in Bermuda. The funding will support the officer responsible for organising and administering school sports and events throughout the academic year. The value of school sports in Bermuda extends far beyond the playing field, Mr. Chairman, offering athletes numerous benefits to contribute to their personal growth, academic success, and overall well-being. The Government is committed to supporting school sports as it is a critical foundation and it is crucial for Bermuda's future athletes, helping them to develop their skills, develop their character, and develop the mind-sets needed to succeed both on and off the field.

Programme 23, Sports Initiatives and Awards

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the estimated budget for business unit 30030, Athletic Awards is $410,000, maintaining the same allocation as in fiscal year 2024/25. This unit funds the elite athletes through the Bermuda Olympic Association as well as the department's separate Elite Athlete Sponsorship Initiative Association and the department's . . . Additionally, it provides performance-based rewards through special grants from the Department of Sport and Recreation and the Outstanding Performance Incentive programme. In 2024/25, the department sponsored 31 elite athletes from 14 different sports bodies to assist with the achievement of their athletic goals. Two of the year's recipients were our female and male athletes of the year, Yushae DeSilva-Andrade as well as Jack Harvey. (I thought you would give a clap there.)

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: The sport of swimming, Mr. Harvey is from and Yushae DeSilva-Andrade—

[Desk thumping]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —is the sport of boccia. Yushae placed fourth in the Paralympics Games in Paris and won silver in the World Boccia Cup. In addition, Jack, from the sport of swimming, qualified for his first-ever Olympics in Paris where he made the Island proud as he won his heat and finished 39th overall. Both athletes made Bermuda proud and we are elated to be part of their sporting journey.

Mr. Chairman, this business unit also funds the National Junior Athletic Sponsorship programme which supports the development of Bermuda's junior athletes aged 15 to 19. This support aims to develop future elite athletes who will represent Bermuda at major international events.

Programme 24, Sports Facilities Management

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the budget estimate for business unit 30060, Sports Facilities Administration, is $2,640,000. There is an increase of $1,067,000 over 2024/25 budget allocations and this is 68 per cent. The variance in the budget reflects the transfer of the Government's public golf courses, Port Royal and Ocean View, to the Department of Sport and Recreation, coupled with the increase in the operational budget of the National Sports Centre.

Business Unit 30075 WMC Preece Softball Diamond

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, business unit 30075, the WMC Preece Softball Diamond is allocated $149,000. This funding covers wages of two industrial staff members and the cost of maintaining and operating the softball diamond.

Business Unit 30080, Joell Tennis Stadium

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, business unit 30080, the Joell Tennis Stadium is allocated $462,000. This business unit provides funding for salaries and wages of the workers for the facility, and it's also used to maintain and operate the facility that houses seven tennis courts and eight pickleball courts, Mr. Chairman.

Business Unit 30090, Motorsport Park

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, business unit 30090, the Motorsport Park, is allocated $8,000. There is no change to this business unit from 2024/25. The funds are used for insurance, maintenance, and water to the Motorsport Park.

Business Unit 30390, Sports Community Fields

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, business unit 30390, Sports Community Fields, is allocated $47,000. There is no change from last year and the funds for this unit are allocated for the maintenance and operation of community fields under the department's remit. These investments help ensure every Bermudian has a place to play, has a place to train, has a place to gather in an open and clean recreation area.

Programme 27, Camping

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the budget allocation for department's Camping program is $1,015,000, an increase of $44,000, or approximately 5 per cent increase. The budget for Camping on the Government islands breakdown by facility is unchanged from 2024/25. The allocated budget for Camping provides for the staffing operation and administration which includes 10 full-time staff who maintain the facilities and marine equipment. Last year 96 per cent of our clients who utilise our Island stated that their overall experience was satisfactory with over 5,000 users participating in safe, affordable camping experiences.

Business Unit 30180, Recreational Programme

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the budget allocation for the Recreational programme, business unit 30180, is $1,419,000, an increase of $95,000, or approximately 7 per cent. This increase aims to assist working-class parents by alleviating the stress and finding safe and affordable summer services for their children. This funding will increase the number of obtainable placements for campers through the Camp Connect Summer Day Camp programme.

Mr. Chairman, this programme typically supported approximately 1,700 school-aged children—1,700. We can happily report that as a direct result of last year's boost in funding, the programme serviced more than 2,773 children, an increase of 63 per cent. This further increase in financing should see another rise in participation of even more school-aged children. Preliminary [data] shows that we could have up to 4,000 campers this year, Mr. Chairman, in our Summer Day Camp programme. Approximately 150 part-time workers deliver this programme supervised by qualified educators. Also on offer is a special needs programme that provides care for children with exceptionalities.

Current Accounts Estimates

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the subjective analysis of current accounts estimates of the Department of Sport and Recreation is found on page B-239. I will highlight a few of them.

Salaries and wages will see a combined increase of $232,000, or approximately 17 per cent. Representing the transfer of the athletic administrator to the department, uplift in salaries, and incremental salary increase for staff.

Training has also increased by $6,000, or approximately 86 per cent due to staff training requirements and renewals in this upcoming year. This is due to recertification of staff and CPR and first-aid training, SCARS training, and fire safety training.

Rentals of our facilities has increased by $116,000, or up 50 per cent due to the addition of caretaker's rent in this year's budget.

Advertising and promotion for the department has increased by $9,000, or approximately 64 per cent for the advertising and promotion of Camp Connect, ACTIVE Kids, the Sports Expo, and school sports events.

Grants and contributions have increased by $1,062,000, or approximately 28 per cent, mainly due to the addition of a Golf Course Grant to the department. And this is on page C-20 of the Estimates Book Manpower. Mr. Chairman, the Department of Sport and Recreation administers six programmes and 16 business units for which manpower consists of 46 individuals as found on page B-240 of the Estimates and Expenditure Revenue for fiscal year 2025/26.

Mr. Chairman, I'm pleased to report that most of the department's forecast performance measures for 2024/25 were achieved. The performance measures for the Department of Sport and Recreation can be found on pages B-241 through B-242.

Business Unit 30030, Athletic Awards

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, this business unit is responsible for the Athletic Achievement Awards that the department gives out. Thirteen junior athletes from National Sporting Governing Bodies received the National Junior Athletics Awards with an average of $3,000 awarded to each recipient. This year saw Sam Williamson and Aiden Kendall become the third recipients of the Flora Duffy Award, where they were awarded $3,000 and $7,000, respectively, towards their pursuits of excellence in the sport of swimming and rugby.

Business Unit 30065, Sports Investment Programme

Hon. Owen Darrell: The department requires all National Sports Governing Bodies (NSGBs) to be compliant. To date, 27 NSGBs are recognised by the department [and] 23 recognised NSGBs have received funds to assist with the development of sports which includes junior programming, coaching, official development, and high performance.

Business Unit 30075, WMC Preece Softball Park

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, this business unit is responsible for the [WMC] Preece Softball Park where target of 500 participants was reached. This is directly attributed to the continued field improvements. Additionally, introducing youth baseball has made the facility more user-friendly and appealing. We commend the dedicated staff of the Softball Diamonding and the Softball Bermuda for their hard work and revitalising softball as a recreational sport of choice in Bermuda.

I would like to say, Mr. Chairman, that I retired from softball a couple of years ago.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: I retired, yes.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: I retired. I tell you . . . they had to put the fence higher for me.

[Laughter]

WER Joell Tennis Stadium

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, this business unit [30080] is responsible for the WER Joell Tennis Stadium where average monthly usage has increased up from 250 to 325 individuals using the facility each month. This increase was due to the installation of new lights at the facility for courts 1 through 3. And the addition of four pickleball courts.

Business Units 3150, 3160, 3165 and 3170
Camping Facilities

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, these business units are responsible for the government Camping Facilities. The number of campers who utilise this facility continues to rise. The programme exceeds the performance target of 2,200 campers to 5,735 campers. The camping section received an increased request for our camping facilities often having some facilities sold out during the first week of application. The department is very pleased to be able to serve the country all year round by providing safe, fun and local recreation areas especially during the holidays.

Business Unit 3180, Recreational Programme

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, this business unit is responsible for our recreational programmes. There was an increase in the Government Summer Day Camp participants from 1,600 students to 2,773 students. This increase was due to the rising demand for affordable, safe camps for students. The user satisfaction rate—I'm going to say this one slowly, Mr. Chairman. The user satisfaction rate of 97 per cent with 98 per cent of users willing to use this programme again.

Mr. Chairman, from the evidence of our performance measures, the Department of Sport and Recreation was able to have a successful year delivering valuable and very well-received programmes directly to the community.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, in the upcoming year 2025/26 the Department of Sport and Recreation will continue to meet our policy goals and objectives with our National Sports Policy. As you hear me say often, Mr. Chairman, sport matters. With the increase of funds allotted this year, we will host a Sports Conference and Expo. This event is designated and designed to bring together athletes, coaches, parents, and administrators as well as enthusiasts to promote sports development and sporting education, and networking.

Mr. Chairman, at our government facilities we will be starting the process of digital signage on all properties. The signage will enhance the user experience while allowing users to interact with the content for a personalised experience. Visual and audio components make information more accessible to individuals with varied needs.

This year the department offered a second year. The Camp Connect online registration system designed as a one-stop shop [for] parents. Camp Connect provides a platform to register for Summer Day Camps, including both public and private options. We welcome more private camps into the programme this year which will result in an increased number of participants. Our goal is to continue reducing the wait list for these programmes by expanding partnerships and offering a broader variety of camps. An exciting feature of Camp Connect is that all camps will be offered at an affordable rate making it easier for families to access quality and affordable, summer programmes. Through Camp Connect families will benefit from a greater selection of programmes, ensuring that every child has access to fun, enriching and budget-friendly summer experiences.

While we continue to strive to meet the needs of parents during the summer months, it must be acknowledged, Mr. Chairman, it must be acknowledged, that the demand for camp spaces exceeds our current capacity, even with the capacity doubling in the last two years. Our team is actively reviewing all applications. Our team is removing duplicate entries to ensure that every available space is allocated accurately and as fairly as possible.

Mr. Chairman, along with the Camp Connect Programme, we will also provide summer employment opportunities for young individuals interested in the child care field. The Summer Day Programme has been a cornerstone of our community for over 50 years, offering valuable experiences that many of our counsellors and specialists carry with them throughout their careers. This summer we are pleased to offer approximately 150 job opportunities, allowing young people to gain hands-on experience while contributing to a meaningful and enriching programme.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Sport and Recreation remains steadfast in its commitment to pursuing and achieving the target goals outlined in the National Sports Policy. Guided by the principle that sport matters, we look forward to the upcoming budget cycle with great anticipation, recognising the exciting opportunities that lie ahead for sports in Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, I extend my heartfelt thanks to the dedicated staff of the Department of Sport and Recreation, their tireless work continues to uplift sports and recreation across the Island, enriching lives of people of all ages. I also acknowledge the determination and achievements of our athletes. Their success inspires our entire community and motivates the next generation to aim high. Together with our staff, National Sports Governing Bodies, athletes, community partners, supporters, and swim coaches we are building a stronger culture of wellness, pride, and sporting excellence. I thank them all for their commitment and contribution to Bermuda's future.

Mr. Chairman, through the collective efforts of the department's staff, National Sports Governing Bodies, athletes, stakeholders, and most importantly, our valued supporters, we will continue to cultivate a culture of health, wellness and sportsmanship across the Island of Bermuda. I deeply appreciate their ongoing commitment and invaluable contributions to our sporting community.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes the presentation on the fiscal year 2025/26 on the budgetary allocation for Head 20, the Department of Sport and Recreation.

I move, once okayed by you, to Head 52 which is the Department of Culture.

The Chairman: Yes. Minister, just before you move on, let me just flag with you that on page B-238 in relation to item 2007, Camping, there seemed to be a discrepancy between what the Budget Book states and what you presented in your brief to the House. It it's not a huge discrepancy, but I just flag it in case you want to bottom it out at some future point.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, thank you. I will ensure that I have a look at that.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Owen Darrell: And it will be addressed later on in the presentation.

The Chairman: Thank you so much, Minister. And please, feel free now to move to, I believe, Head 52, Department of Culture.

HEAD 52—DEPARTMENT OF CULTURE

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, thank you.

I now present the fiscal year 2025/26 Estimates of Expenditure for Head 52, the Department of Culture, which can be found on pages B-258 through page B-263 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure Book.

The department's mission is To develop our creatives, preserve our heritage and celebrate our people. Culture shapes how we understand ourselves. As Bermudians, this budget reflects our continued commitment to honouring our heritage, supporting our creatives, and sharing our stories.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Culture administers two programmes and 12 business units. A general summary is contained on pages B-259 through B-260 of the Estimated Revenue and Expenditure for fiscal year 2025/26. The total estimate is $2,497,000. This represents an increase of $274,000, or 12 per cent over the 2024/25 original budget of $2,223,000. For the 2025/26 budget year, the Department of Culture remains committed to fostering Bermuda's cultural identity and supporting the creative pursuits of our artists and tradition bearers. Building on last year's success, the department will continue to focus on the programmes and initiatives that celebrate and preserve our heritage while also creating opportunities for innovation and growth within the cultural sector.

A key focus this year is expanding access to cultural spaces and resources which will be elaborated upon later in this brief. Additionally, the department will engage Bermuda's young and old through educational workshops, videos, lectures and cultural programmes designed to deepen their understanding of Bermuda's history and artistic legacy. Platforms showcasing the talents of our dancers, musicians, writers, Gombeyes, visual artists, actors and cultural practitioners will remain a cornerstone of the department's efforts to keep Bermuda's culture thriving. This increase reflects our investments in artists, cultural heritage, and national identity.

Mr. Chairman, I now outline the accomplishments and plans and changes in the estimates for the business units associated with the Department of Culture.

Business Unit 5202, Cultural Affairs

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the total amount budgeted under the business unit for Grants and Organisations. That is business unit 62000, Mr. Chairman. Let me go back up a bit. Cultural Affairs, 5202. Mr. Chairman, the total amount budgeted under this business unit for financial year 2025/26 is $317,000. This amount reflects an increase of $86,000, or a 37 per cent increase, as compared to the original budget for fiscal year 2024/25.

In the fiscal year 2024/25, Mr. Chairman, 30 individuals received Bermuda Arts Council [BAC] funding, while 16 organisations were funded through grants from the department. The Bermuda Arts Council grant, as you see on page C-20 of the Revenue and Expenditure book, has been increased to $167,000 for financial year 2025/26, an increase of $50,000, or 35 per cent. One of the primary roles of the Bermuda Arts Council is to review applications submitted by individual creatives and organisations for developing artistic projects and further educating themselves about their craft.

In 2024, BAC awarded $70,893 in individual and organisational grants and $20,000 in student scholarships. In the 2024/25 financial year, the Bermuda Arts Council awarded grants to a diverse group of creatives and organisations supporting a wide range of artistic endeavours. Individual grant recipients included Wendell "Shine" Hayward for free outdoor jazz concerts celebrating international jazz day. Hana Bushara for establishing a home studio to begin music composition. And Andrew Stevenson for his film series documenting humpback whales in Bermuda's waters. Additional awardees included Mischa and Gia Fubler for the creation of a children's book about Bermuda's Theatres Boycott. And Yesha Townsend for a creative writing residency at the University of the West Indies.

Organisations such as TROIKA Bermuda received funding for technical arts training programmes, while the Kaleidoscope Arts Foundation was supported in hosting a student portfolio class and a final art show. This year's grants also enabled projects spanning music, literature, visual arts and film, underscoring the Council's commitment to nurturing Bermuda's creative talent and cultural legacy. In addition to the individual and organisational grants that were awarded in 2024/25 fiscal year, the Bermuda Arts Council also awarded three student scholarships for the total of $20,000. Johnae Tucker is attending the London School of Musical Theatre, Honor Minors is pursuing her studies at Boston Conservatory at Berkeley, and Vidya Cannonier Watson has secured a place at the Trang Park School for Performing Arts in the UK.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Cousin in'it.

The Bermuda Arts Council awards took place in May of 2024, and they honoured six recipients. In 2025, the Bermuda Arts Council has revolutionised its grant system introducing a digital platform that offers a more streamlined and accessible process for local creatives aligning with international standards and grant-giving. These new categories aim to expand opportunities for both emerging and established artists emphasising accessibility, innovation and artistic growth.

The increase in budget allocated towards the Bermuda Arts Council for the 2025/26 financial year is to support its restructuring process. The department would like to acknowledge the hard work of the Bermuda Arts Council, particularly the Arts Council Chair. And what an artist and graphic designer she is, Ms. Shanna Hollis.

Heritage grants. Mr. Chairman, in addition to the fine work of the Bermuda Arts Council, the department recognises the importance of supporting our tangible cultural heritage. Government plays a vital role in assisting Bermuda's museums and cultural institutions. In the 2024/25 financial year the department awarded Heritage Grants to the Bermuda Historical Society, Bermuda National Trust, St. George's Historical Society Museum, the St. David's Islanders and Native Community, Friends of St. Peter's Church, and Bermuda's nine Gombey troupes. These heritage grants totalled $73,000. The Department of Culture also provided a grant to the Bermuda National Gallery, in part, for their stewardship of the Watlington Collection of art owned by the Government of Bermuda, and the National Trust to assist with the Annual Christmas Walkabouts.

Business Unit 62001, Administration

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the function of this business unit is to provide for the administration and operation of the Department of Culture which is located on the third floor of the Government Administration Building. Mr. Chairman, the allocated budget for financial year 2025/26 is $1,127,000, as shown on page B-259. This amount reflects an increase of $242,000, or 27 per cent, as compared to the original budget of $885,000 for financial year 2024/25.

Mr. Chairman, the allocated budget sustains both programmes and operation including salaries and wages. The remainder of the budget provides for office supplies, board fees, website maintenance and telephone services. This budget also provides funding for the department's wide promotion, specifically social media engagement. This increase in this year's administration budget can be largely attributed to salary uplifts. Furthermore, two new posts were approved within the department with funding reallocated from another cost centre. These new hires will strengthen service delivery, enhance community engagement, expand the department's internal research capacity, and support the implementation and growth of a national cultural heritage policy. Additionally, there is an increase in the budgeted funds for digital media.

Business Unit 62010, Emancipation and Cultural festivals

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, our total allocation for this business unit in financial year 2025/26 is $67,000. This represents an increase of $22,000, or 49 per cent, compared to the original budget of $45,000 allocated in the 2024/25 financial year.

Mr. Chairman, this business unit focuses on highlighting the contributions of our African, Caribbean, Azorean, British and St. David's Island native community, core cultures in alignment with the National Cultural Heritage Policy. Through public events, educational content, and cultural programming these efforts will reach hundreds of residents and visitors, deepening public understanding of Bermuda's diverse roots and fostering greater cultural pride across generations.

The Emancipation Programme

Hon. Owen Darrell: The Department of Culture offers an annual commemoration of Bermuda's emancipation. This programme that explores and researches the history of enslavement and segregation experienced by "Bermudians of African Descent." Beyond this commemoration, the initiatives in this programme also celebrate our African roots and Black Bermudian excellence.

The 2024 commemoration signature event was the fulfilment of the 2023 Throne Speech initiative which proposed producing a film to showcase the rich history, personalities and businesses of Court Street. That film was called the Heart of the City. It was a documentary and was an extension of this project that was begun by the students at the Family Centre as their summer project of 2023.

The film serves to celebrate the community and history and negate the areas of social stigma. The documentary was produced by filmmaker, Mark Rodriguez, researched by Meredith Ebbin, and featured interviews from students from the Family Centre. The documentary was launched at the Department of Culture sponsored Court Street Market, and has since aired on CITV and YouTube where it has been viewed over 4,000 times to date.

The department annually also produces a calendar of events, lectures and sponsored by the Department of Culture related to emancipation. Funding from this business unit also provides some support towards the biannual Bermuda Powwow, hosted by St. David's Islanders and the Native Community in June of 2025.

Business Unit 62020, Heritage Celebrations

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the total amount budgeted for this business unit for financial year 2025/26 is $379,000 which represents an increase of $106,000, or 39 per cent, compared to the original budget of $273,000. This increase represents a year over year increase in expense and increased funding allocation towards the creation of a technologically enhanced Bermuda Day Float.

Mr. Chairman, this business unit covers the cost of both celebrations, and our Bermudian heritage, as well as the Bermuda Day Parade. Heritage celebrations as you would be aware, Mr. Chairman, the Department of Culture annually produces a calendar of heritage and cultural events within the month of May. In 2024, highlights included weekly yoga lessons from the Bermudaful Centre of Mindfulness, sponsored by the Department of Culture's "Cultural Roots and Green Shoots: A Celebration of Heritage and Environment" Harbour Nights Sponsored, the Bermuda Day Parade in 2024. The Bermuda Day Parade was a remarkable celebration of our cultural resilience and community spirit. Last year's theme, "Culture = Energy," highlighted the vibrant power of our cultural traditions and the energy they bring to our Island. The parade was dynamic, and it was a reflection of how Bermuda's culture fuels our creativity, unity and sense of pride.

In 2023, the Department of Culture partnered with the Bermuda Foundation to create the Bermuda Day Fund. In 2024, this initiative enabled 26 of 66 entries to receive financial support. This is very important, Mr. Chairman, because this financial support offsets the cost and allows more robust participation from a diverse array of community groups, including some groups that had previously stopped participating citing cost concerns. The Bermuda Day Fund has proven to increase the diversity of representation to the participant numbers to the Bermuda Day Parade. To date, the most significant donor to the fund has been the Bermuda Government. And additional funds have been allocated to allow the support of participants to continue. Meanwhile the corporate and individual community is still encouraged to donate to the fund to help ensure the sustainability of the model and that the parade is inclusive and representative of the community.

Mr. Chairman, as you may have heard, the Bermuda Day Parade 2025 is this coming Friday. The theme is the "Future Is Now." Bermudians have always dreamed of a brighter tomorrow while facing today's challenges. This theme reminds us that our future begins with the choices we make today. While we once envisioned 2025 as a world of flying cars and Sci-Fi tech, the spirit of innovation is alive and thriving in Bermuda. From supercomputers in our pockets to students coding apps and entrepreneurs transforming industries, Bermudians are proving that our dreams fuel progress. Annually, the Department of Culture participates in the Bermuda Day Parade and showcases the possibilities within each category, often stepping beyond traditional expectations.

For the 2025 parade, with a technologically focused theme, additional funds have been allocated to ensure that the department's float aligns with international innovations and designs. The Department of Culture has consulted float builders from around the world to incorporate best practices which will be shared with Bermudian artists.

The department, Mr. Chairman, is excited about the increased community participation in the Bermuda Day Parade and is engaging with the corporate sector for continued support of the Bermuda Day Fund. Additionally, a special guide has been created for schools to assist with planning their participation. The success of the 2024 media campaign showcasing behind the scenes footage of various groups participating and preparing for the parade will continue highlighting the hard work and creativity that goes into making the event a truly community celebration.

Business Unit 62030, Cultural Education Programme

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the amount budgeted for business unit 62030, Cultural Education Programmes, is $31,000. This represents a slight decrease of $6,000, or 16 per cent, when compared to the original budget for financial year 2024/25 of $37,000. The decrease in this business unit can be attributed to the actual cost relating to the department's Annual Cultural Stakeholder Conference event.

Tradition-bearers in schools, Mr. Chairman. Mr. Chairman, the fiscal year 2024/25, the department reintroduced the Tradition-Bearer in Public Schools programme with a focus on middle and primary school students. Our department worked alongside the Department of Education and tradition-bearer, Mr. Milton Hill, in the construction of a full-sized Bermuda-fitted dingy with M3 students at Whitney.

And I have to tell you, Mr. Chairman, I went, probably over a year ago now, to Whitney and I saw this boat being produced. And I told them that before the end of this year, which is coming up soon, I'm going to take a ride in that dingy down Flatts Village. So, if you see a Minister in a dingy going through Flatts you know it's not a mistake, Mr. Chairman, it is the Minister actually taking part and being fully immersed in the tradition-bearer—

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —in the tradition-bearing exercise that is put forward by Mr. Milton Hill. And I cannot believe, Mr. Chairman, . . . I cannot believe, Mr. Chairman, that I hear the swimming coach talking about arm bands. I cannot believe it. But nonetheless, we will stay focused on the tradition-bearers, Mr. Chairman.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: While this project focused specifically on a small group of students, school-wide presentations have been given on Bermuda's traditions, including a very popular presentation in 2024/25. At Dalton E. Tucker, by Ms. Janice Warner[-Virgil] on the Bermuda Gombey regalia. In the past years, the programme has been popular with educating our students on the traditions of woodcraft, banana dough-making by Ms. Ronnie Chameau, and Bermuda kite building with our Grand Marshall on Friday, Mr. Eugene O'Connor. Funding has been allocated in 2025/26 to continue this amazing programme of learning for our students with a focus on the primary schools.

Mr. Chairman, the department's Annual Cultural Conference and Eggnog & Dialogue also are funded within this business unit. This is a recognition that both units are focused on the education, support and promotion of Bermuda stakeholders. The Department of Culture proudly hosted the 4th Annual Cultural AGM on 2 June 2024. This event served as a valuable platform to engage with our stakeholders, highlighting our success, identifying areas for improvement, and gathering insights on their expectations and aspirations for the future. The Department of Culture plans to bring stakeholders together once again later this month continuing this important dialogue to foster collaboration and shape the future of our cultural initiatives.

Business Unit 62050, National Heroes Day

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the amount budgeted for this business unit for fiscal year 2025/26 is $54,000. This represented an increase of $28,000, or 108 per cent, when compared to the original budget in fiscal year 2024/25 of $26,000. This increase in this business unit was based on anticipating the costs associated with possibly inducting a new hero.

Mr. Chairman, funds allocated to this business unit are used to formally honour and commemorate a new National Hero when one is named and celebrate our existing National Heroes on an annual basis. In fiscal year 2024/25, in addition to a public awareness campaign, the department organised a series of musical tributes at our Premiers Concert, celebrating our National Heroes event. This concert featured performances by Bermuda Donquili, Mr. Rakki Scott, Yesha Townsend, Troika, T'aja Williams and the one, Mr. Fire Wayne, from constituency 15.

Mr. Chairman, in financial year 2025/26, the department is prepared for the possible induction of a new National Hero. And I will say this, again, Mr. Chairman, we are prepared for a possible induction of a new National Hero, pending the deliberations by the Naming and Recognition Committee and Cabinet consideration of their possible recommendations. The new National Heroes Act 2024 now legislates that this happens only once every 10 years.

Business Unit 62060, Promotion of the Arts

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the amount budgeted for this business unit is $49,000 which is a decrease of $25,000, or 34 per cent, when compared to the original budget for financial year 2024/25 of $74,000. This decrease in the business unit can be attributed to the annual hiatus of the Writer-in-Residence Programme for a future year.

Mr. Chairman, I would just like to note that in this business unit we also discuss the Art in Public Buildings, which featured artists such as Gherdai Hassell, Otto Trott, Graham Foster, Dana Selassie and Shanna Hollis. This also includes the Premier's Concert which we mentioned a little while ago.

Business Unit 62070, Folklife

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the budget allocation for this business unit in the 2025/26 fiscal year is $73,000, reflecting on an increase of $9,000 from the original allocation of $64,000. That represents a 14 per cent increase. Activities that come under this business unit include the Bermudian Heartbeats lecture series and the Cultural Apprenticeship Programme.

Mr. Chairman, I'd like to speak a bit on the Cultural Apprenticeship Programme. The department's Cultural Apprenticeship Programme aims to provide and preserve and pass down cultural knowledge and skills across generations. Its primary goal is to cultivate a new generation of tradition-builders in Bermuda by pairing experience tradition-builders with interested apprentices. The department was thrilled to coordinate three cultural apprentices for 2024/25 financial year to continue its mission to preserve and pass on vital cultural knowledge. In partnership with CariGenetics and BioQuest, apprentices were trained in researching and producing high quality of genome of Bermuda's national bird, the Cahow. This groundbreaking work contributes to Bermuda's scientists and cultural legacy.

The Bermuda National Trust provided a masonry apprenticeship focused on the care and conservation of historical cemeteries and built heritage in need of restoration. Apprentice masons gain hands-on experience preserving Bermuda's historic sites for future generations. And finally, the St. George's Foundation led an apprenticeship to remediate and replace blocks on the roof of the gunpowder magazine at Ferry Point Park ensuring the preservation of this iconic landmark.

I will tell you, Mr. Chairman, there are videos of these apprenticeship programmes, and I encourage everyone to have a look at them because not only do you see the individuals who were teaching but the apprentices themselves and just the joy that they had, Mr.

Chairman, of taking part in this Cultural Apprenticeship Programme. This unit strengthens cultural knowledge, preserves skills, and builds community connection through accessible intergenerational programming.

Business Unit 62080, Research and Publication

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the amount budgeted for this business unit for financial year 2025/26 is $61,000. This represents a decrease of $12,000, or 16 per cent, when compared to the original budget of financial year 2024/25 of $73,000. This decrease in the business unit can be attributed to the completion of the feature length documentary budgeted in the business unit financial year 2024/25.

Also, in this business unit, Mr. Chairman, you will find the Gold Bermudian Documentary Series. And in March of this year the department launched a third series of Gold Bermudians: Profiles in Excellence. And these documentaries are captured stories of Miss World Gina Swainson; musician Stan Seymour; and opera performer Gary Burgess. Each of these short documentaries is filmed and produced by a different Bermudian filmmaker allowing for a range of unique styles and storytelling to take place.

Business Unit 62180, Special Projects

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the amount budgeted for this business unit for financial year 2025/26 is $120,000. This represents a decrease of $180,000, or 60 per cent from 2024/25 of $300,000. The funds allocated to this business unit are typically used to support special cultural projects. The budget decrease for financial year 2025/26 reflects the ongoing operational costs of the MakerSpace project rather than initial setup expenses. Funds were reallocated for this provision of two new salaries as above.

MakerSpace, Mr. Chairman, is located at CedarBridge Academy and the Department of Culture's MakerSpace offers dedicated areas for visual artists and musicians, as well as dancers and actors, to practice and create free of charge. Equipped with tools like easels, musical instruments and studio space, this facility is designated to remove the financial barriers and provide a supportive environment for Bermuda's talent.

We also have Creatives Culture Labs and, Mr. Chairman, this has been moved from business unit 62100 to 62180, to reflect the alignment with Creatives Culture Labs with the MakerSpace initiative.

Programme 5203, Community Service

Hon. Owen Darrell: This comes on the business unit 62100, and it is Uncover of the Arts programme. Mr. Chairman, the allocated budget for financial year 2025/26 for the business unit is $81,000. This amount represents a decrease of $10,000, or 11 per cent, when compared to the original budget estimate of $91,000 for financial year 2024/25. This decrease is associated with the reallocation of funds related to Creatives Culture Labs when we moved it to 62180.

Creatives Live!, Mr. Chairman, as you would know, 2024/25 funds from this business unit supported Creatives Live! performance series. This programme benefits local artists by providing performance opportunities for Bermuda social clubs by promoting community engagements. Artists supported through this year include Joy Barnum, original Live Wires, Fire Wayne from constituency 15, Mr. Fotogenik, Hana Bushara, John Seymour, Jesse Seymour, PHC Majorettes and Drum Corps, United Dance Productions, Gombey Evolution and the Bermuda Gombeys.

Additionally, the department supported the Chewstick Foundation's Open Mic at Blue Waters Anglers [Club] offering a safe, supportive space to hone their performance.

Mr. Chairman, in this upcoming year the department will build on the success of Creatives Live! and we will host another series of events at social clubs such as Harrington Workmen's Club to continue to sponsor open mic events in partnership with our cultural collaborators.

Mr. Chairman, in 2025/26, the department will increase, and they will relaunch—this is something that happened back in the day—the Gombey Rendezvous. And this Gombey Rendezvous will be a weekly performance designed to support local Gombey troupes and celebrate Bermudian cultural traditions during the slower months, from November to March. This programme will provide a platform for Gombeys to educate the public about their music, their dance, and their heritage and of course it will entertain both residents and those lovely visitors which we call tourists.

We have nine active troupes rotating performances approximately 20 weeks, the initiative aims to fill the current gap and opportunities to regularly experience the Gombey performance which has been a concern for the community since a similar programme ended many years ago. Additionally, the Gombey Rendezvous will serve as a free family friendly event that fosters community engagement and shares Bermuda's culture and history in a very accessible way, Mr. Chairman.

Gombey Festival

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, I would like to go to the Gombey Festival, a fan favourite and this comes under business unit 62210. Mr. Chairman, the amount allocated for this business unit for 2025/26 is $138,000. This represents an increase of $14,000, or 11 per cent, when compared to the budget estimate of $124,000 for financial year 2024/25. The difference is due to allocating funds for additional Gombey troupes and increasing the cost year over year for infrastructure.

The Gombey Festival. In 2024, the Gombey Festival weekend celebrated one of the most vibrant aspects of cultural heritage. The festival showcased seven Gombey troupes: Gombey Evolution, Gombey Warriors, H&H Gombeys (from constituency 15), Place's Gombeys and the Warwick Gombey troupe. Alongside two participants, Phoenix Gombeys and Vibe Tribe and other Gombeys. This event also featured local vendors, free family friendly activities and the continuation of the "Gombeys in the Gardens Community Art Programme" an evolving mural project in sponsorship with the Chewstick Foundation. In 2024/25, the Gombey Festival budget funded the launch of the "Gombey Unity Short Film" which was directed by talented Qian Dickinson.

Mr. Chairman, the allocation budget for financial year 2025/26 will cover the cost of the event infrastructure, financial awards for the nine active Gombey troupes, support for other local dance groups and additional weekend events celebrating Gombey art form.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the subjective analysis. This will be found on page B-260. I will highlight the material object codes increase and decreases.

The salaries object code has increased from $808,000 for 2024/25 to an allocation of $1,040,000, or 29 per cent increase. The advertising and promotional object code has increased from $83,000 to $117,000 for fiscal year 2025/26, an increase of 41 per cent. This represents the department's digital marketing strategy to access users of non-traditional media to share Bermuda's history and culture.

There has been a slight decrease of 12 per cent in professional services from $881,000 in financial year 2024/25 to $773,000. This decrease is mainly due to the funds being reallocated internally. Rental cost for the Department of Culture has increased by 15 per cent, $47,000 to $54,000, reflecting year over year increase in event rentals.

As noted previously, grants and contributions has increased by 36 per cent largely due to increased awards to the Bermuda Arts Council, the Bermuda National Gallery, the allocated funds to Heritage Grant. In fiscal year 2025/26, Mr. Chairman, $437,000 is budgeted, a $116,000 increase from 2024/25 representing the Government's commitment to funding the arts.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, as seen on page C-7, the capital budget for the Department of Culture, in fiscal year 2025/26 is $50,000, a decrease of $450,000, or 90 per cent, from the $500,000 from fiscal year 2024/25. These funds are allocated for further development MakerSpace, a 2023 Throne Speech initiative, detailed previously. This decrease in funds is due to the initial setup costs already having been spent in this space. This capital investment completes the infrastructure work and allows operational delivery and a fully functioning creative hub.

Manpower

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, there is an increase of two employees with the full-time equivalent increasing to 10 from 8 as found on page B-261. Recruitment is expected to begin in early this year for the new post.

Performance Measures

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, the Department of Culture met or exceeded its key performance targets for the year, reflecting a strong return on public investment. The Bermuda Arts Council grant successfully funded 30 artist students and art organisation as planned, while support for cultural heritage surpassed its target, benefiting 15 organisations.

Business Unit 62001, Administration

Hon. Owen Darrell: Social media engagement exceeded expectations with an average reach of 9,000, surpassing the target of 8,500 and increasing public awareness of the department's programming.

Business Unit 62010, Cultural Festivals and Celebrations

Hon. Owen Darrell: The department reached its target by supporting numerous cultural events, including the filming of "Cup Match", a "Masked Freedom" talk by David Chapman, and a creation of "Heart of the City" documentary celebrating Court Street. Additionally, 80 per cent of participants rated their emancipation programming experience as satisfactory or better, meeting the set goal.

Cultural festivals and celebration—a total of 670 schools, community groups and business units were engaged to participate in the Bermuda Day Parade, surpassing the target of 500. The annual Conference for Cultural Stakeholders was successfully completed but now has been reassigned to business unit 62030. Additionally, 96 per cent of surveyed participants rated their Bermuda Day Parade experience as satisfactory or better. This far exceeds the goal of 75 per cent, and we hope to see similar satisfactory ratings come this Friday, Mr. Chairman.

Business Unit 62030, Cultural Education

Hon. Owen Darrell: The department successfully hosted the annual Conference for Cultural Heritage and Arts Stakeholders. Student engagement and cultural workshops exceeded expectations, with sections led by Writer-in-Residence at CedarBridge Academy, the Berkeley Institute, as well as tradition bearer workshops with Mr. Milton Hill at Whitney, surpassing the target of 80 participants.

Business Unit 62050, National Heroes Day

Hon. Owen Darrell: The percentage of attendees who felt that the National Heroes Day celebration fostered the national pride was revised from 75 [per cent] to 60 [per cent] after feedback indicated that the new video focus programming did not resonate as intended. In response, future events will return to a format that highlights Bermuda's heroes, alongside impressing talent.

Business Unit 62060, Promotion of the Arts

Hon. Owen Darrell: The success of the cultural labs programme contributed to 100 per cent of participating local artists rating their developmental experience as satisfactory or better, exceeding the 80 per cent target. This initiative provided hands-on training, mentorships and resources to reinforce the departments commitment to artist development and professional growth.

Business Unit 62070, Folklife Bermuda.

Hon. Owen Darrell: The Bermudian Heartbeats Lecture Series played a key role in achieving 80 per cent satisfaction for cultural events. Similarly, 80 per cent of apprentices reported gaining valuable cultural knowledge and skills through the Cultural Apprenticeship Programme, highlighting its effectiveness and preserving and passing down Bermuda's traditions.

Business Unit 62080, Research and Publication

Hon. Owen Darrell: The department successfully developed the Vernacular Architecture documentary, a film project set to be released this year, contributing to historical cultural research.

Business Unit 62100, Uncovering the Arts Programme

Hon. Owen Darrell: The department hosted eight events showcasing supporting performing artists, including four open mics [and] four Creatives Live! events. Additionally, 95 per cent of participants in the Creative Culture Series reported gaining new skills and networking opportunities. They have surpassed the target of 80 per cent.

Business Unit, [62180] Special Projects

Hon. Owen Darrell: These new performance measures reflected the transition of Creatives Culture Labs' programming and MakerSpace operations into Special Projects business unit, allowing for more focused development and enhanced support for performing artist and creative initiatives.

Business Unit 62210, Gombey Festival

Hon. Owen Darrell: The department successfully showcased and honoured the contributions of Bermuda Gombey troupes to the Island's culture through the vibrant Gombey Festival weekend.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes my presentation for the budgetary allocation for financial year 2025/26 for Head 52, the Department of Culture.

Mr. Chairman, I wish to thank the incredible team at the Department of Culture, who is led by Acting Director Ms. Carlita Lodge, who many of you will see this weekend as she runs around the parade route making sure that we are all entertained with our Bermuda cultural heritage, whose creativity, care and dedication in this department helps to preserve and celebrate the stories that make Bermuda unique.

I would also like to extend my appreciation to all our artists, tradition bearers, culture leaders, those whose work continues to inspire pride, spark imagination and connect generations, together with the staff, cultural partners, grantees, and community contributors we are ensuring that Bermuda's heritage is not only protected but continues to grow and thrive. I am truly grateful for the passion of that entire department and the commitment to our Island's cultural future.

Mr. Chairman, this ends my presentation for Heads 20 and 52 under the remit of the Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Honourable Members and members of the listening public, we are in the Committee of Supply for Revenues and Expenditures of the Budget Book 2025/26.

We have been hearing from the Honourable Minister Owen Darrell, in particular on Head 20, Sport and Recreation, and Head 52, Department of Culture.

Is there anyone who would like to contribute to the debate? I recognise the Honourable Member for constituency 8, Ben Smith.

Mr. Ben Smith: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Firstly, I would like to thank the Honourable Minister for his brief this afternoon and as the Minister said, it was brief. So, he has given us plenty of time to ask questions and have answers to those questions.

Mr. Chairman, I would start by declaring my interest as somebody who has been involved with sport, involved with teaching sport, being an instructor at Whites Island when I was 16 years old. So, this particular sport and recreation is near and dear to my heart.

And as I start to go into the questioning of this, I would like to state that no matter how much support we give in the budget for sports, I am always going to advocate for more. Because I do not think that we can give enough support and specific financial support into helping our young people to stay on the positive path.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Ben Smith: And I would agree . . . I think for sure the Minister does agree with me. I have had several opportunities to talk to the Minister. I do get to see the Minister quite often when he's kind of hanging around the area of the National Sports Centre, going to the gym, walking around the track.

The things that sport can bring to our population are extremely important. Understanding that our young people for so many different reasons, have been pulled in a negative direction and so many times we hear those incidents rather than the positive things that our young people do. Sport and recreation has the opportunity to bring our young people together with a population that has a lot of health issues. Participation in sport and recreation is another way for us to encourage our people to move around and actually be active. And for those reasons, this is an extremely important Ministry.

I think that as we move forward today, I will be trying to highlight the areas where we have support, but more support will always be asked for and in any way that we can encourage our young people to be involved in sport, to be involved in recreation and our population as a whole to be active . . . because I know we are a country that likes to go out and support watching sport, but we also have to make sure that we're doing everything we can to encourage our people, young and old, to be participating.

The people that are involved in sport overall, I would like to thank all the coaches and volunteers and officials that allow many of the sports to happen and everyone in this particular Ministry who I know it is a love and passion for sports and recreation that allows them to continue to do their job at the level that they do. So, I thank them for their participation.

So, Mr. Chairman, starting on Head 20 Sports and Recreation, I would like to start on page B-238.

The Chairman: Yes, page B-238.

Mr. Ben Smith: Under 2001 Administration and Sports. The Minister mentioned that there was additional funding here that was because the Bermuda School Sports Federation, I think, has been brought into this Ministry. It is actually something that has been talked about for several years and this is an opportunity to really merge something that really was probably misfitting for quite a lot of time. And now to have the School Sports Federation as part of this Ministry I think is really important.

I think the question that I would ask is, What analysis will be done that will show that this change has been a positive movement? Because I know that sports has been advocating for this shift. But what we would like to see is that it is showing an increase in participation, an increase in the sports that are available. And maybe more collaboration between the School Sports and National Sports Governing Bodies that maybe attract more of our athletes to be involved longer rather than just within the school. So, can the Minister give us some information on what the expectations are of this change and how we will be able to analyse whether it has been a positive move going forward?

Mr. Chairman, 2002 Sports Development, still on page B-238, 30065 Sports Investments. So, with the Sports Investments, the Minister had mentioned that there had been a change in the number of sports that would be involved. I think he said there was an increase to 28 sports. Of course, the issue that happens is as we encourage more sports to be involved, what tends to happen is we are now having to divide the amount of money between more sports. So, with that being said, it is also important that we try to grow that pie so that the sports that have been in the programme are still receiving similar amounts, if not more.

With that being said, I would like to be able to know whether the sports investments that were provided . . . because if you look in the actual [Budget] Book, I think you have to go to pages C-23 and C-24—

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: —in order to be able to see where those investments are going to be coming from. But you will note that the information there is actually only being provided for 2023/24.

The Chairman: Right.

Mr. Ben Smith: So, with that being said, obviously this is the year that we have just gone through. So, can the Minister provide us with what the investments were for 2024/25? And as we are moving forward, you know, the year would have started in April. What is the projected numbers that we should be looking for this upcoming year? I would gather that all of the different groups that would have put in applications will be waiting patiently to find out what kind of resources are going to be given, because I think it is important knowing that they have to plan for potential overseas travel for certain training camps, for different things that help the athletes to go forward. That planning phase would have been in full swing. Obviously with the election timing and the changing of the budget, that might have had an impact on some of them and what those plans are. So, can the Minister give us some information on . . . what the information . . . on what will be provided to those sports as soon as possible? And if he does have that data now, we would be grateful to get it.

The Chairman: And that's in respect to the Grants and Contributions at page C-23 and over the page at C-24 of the Budget Book.

Mr. Ben Smith: Yes, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Yes, thanks.

Mr. Ben Smith: Mr. Chairman, during the Minister's brief he did talk about the fact that there was a significant change when the sports policy was implemented. With that implementation of the sports plan, will the Minister be able to tell us whether he has seen an increase in the participation of athletes in sport? One of the objectives of the Ministry is to foster a vibrant sports and recreation culture in Bermuda by increasing participation.

Obviously, by putting a plan in place for sport, one of the outcomes that you would be looking for is to get an increased participation in those sports. So, from 2022 to 2025, is the Minister able to provide us details on whether we have seen an increase in participation in the individual sports that interact with the Ministry? And since those new requirements have been put in place, has the Minister seen an increase in the interaction between the National Sports Governing Bodies and the Ministry? And has that increased participation led to more National Sport Governing Bodies getting involved with the programme?

And I see that we are increasing the number of sports that are participating, but is that also leading to an increase in the total number in participation? Because in Bermuda a lot of times what happens is something new comes up and what they end up doing is taking athletes or taking people from another sport. So, getting that data of what the increase in sports and opportunities is, are we doing a better job of increasing the number of participants overall? Because getting more of our young people involved in these healthy activities would be one of the main goals that we would like to see from this sports policy.

Mr. Chairman, still in this sports investment. The Minister would note that the sports investment number has only slightly moved up in this period. The question that I have is, considering the changes of the overall cost, not just in Bermuda but outside of Bermuda, has there been any kind of detailed conversation about what that means? An example that I will give is that there was . . . the people that organise the jump rope organisation in Bermuda were recently on the sports talk show. And I use them as an example because I don't think that they've actually reached the point to . . . I could be wrong, but I'm not sure that they've reached the point of National Sport Governing Bodies. And for that reason, I'm going to use them as the example.

They are going to travel and participate in World Championships this summer in Japan. And when they discussed that and were asked, Well, what would be the cost of taking these young athletes to Japan? The answer was $8,000 per athlete. I use that as an example because those are the costs that happen when you try to participate at high levels in competition. But if you take it closer to Bermuda, one, you know we have multiple jurisdictions [where] we [can] land with one plane ride, but the cost of hotels has gone up, the cost of food has gone up, the cost of getting that plane ticket to get to that jurisdiction has gone up. If you are trying to get uniforms for those athletes that price has gone up.

As all of those prices have moved up and at the same time we've increased the amount of sports that are applying for funding, Mr. Chairman, there's an issue where there was a gap that used to be picked up by what I would call the charity givers, people who were giving to our normal charities, but also giving to sports that also a lot of times our sports National Governing Bodies are also charities so that they can receive donations. Has the Minister seen an increase in the demand because of the increase in costs?

And when the National Sport Governing Bodies are putting in their applications with the certain levels of what is necessary in order to travel, in order to give our young people the opportunities to compete overseas . . . which I am going to tell you from the experience that I had as competing for Bermuda and somebody who has been able to, over the last 30 years, work with young people and travel with them, that experience can change a young person's life. It gives them an opportunity to see a broader part of our world in healthy activity, away from drug activity, from antisocial behaviour because there is a structure that is around it. And for that reason, we know that the Ministry is supportive of that.

But with the continued pressure of finances that are happening in order for us to be able to get our young people off the Island to be able to compete, I am saying that the number that has not moved must move. In order for us to be able to support these athletes and to support this positive growth of our young people, we are going to have to figure out a way to get them more financial backing.

Once again, I am not saying that the Ministry is not doing anything. I am only advocating that we have to do more considering that the people in our community who have been able to give are having to give in more areas, which means that a lot of times now they are not getting the same answer that they would have 20 years ago, even 10 years ago.

So, Mr. Chairman, still in the same area, I have a question on the decisions that are being made about the level of funding that is going to be given to one sport over another. Because obviously with so many people looking for these resources, it is going to become more and more competitive in order to get any finances. Is some of the consideration based off of performance? Is it going to be how sports are performing in our region, how sports are performing in our overall . . . in the international field? Locally? Participation? If the Minister can give us some insight into how that works and what that breakdown will be. Because in looking at the information that was provided on . . . as I was pointing out before [page] C-23.

The Chairman: Pages C-23 and C24, yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: There is a significant difference between $300,000 that is going to one sport, and some sports are at $5,000. And to be honest with you, for me, the answer isn't that I want the sport that makes $300,000 to make less. In actual fact, I think that sport should make more because of the amount of participation it has. What I am advocating for is that these sports that are in these much lower numbers also are going to have to have increases in order for them to do the things that are necessary for them to have positive influences standing up in front of our young people so that we can do everything we can to put them on a positive path and away from the negative influences that are at present quite prevalent in our community.

And just a final question in that area, Mr. Chairman. Considering that more sports are getting involved, can the Minister give us maybe some information or thoughts on how we can support some of those other sports that are starting to move in that direction? As I mentioned, [something] like jump rope that allows them to maybe get access to some funding. It is almost a workshop for that group to move from being just on the outside to being part of this process where they have access to funding. I just think that would be an important option.

So, if it already exists, the Minister can tell us about it. And if it doesn't exist, is it something that the Minister is going to undertake to happen? Because what we will be looking for is more athletes, more young people getting involved. I know the Minister agrees with that. So that is the question that I would like an answer on. Thank you.

Mr. Chairman, 2003 Sports Incentives and Awards, under 30030, Athletic Awards. The Minister mentioned that this was an area that provided funding for elite athletes, and also there was funding that would be for the Junior Athlete Award.

So, I am going to just quickly flip to page B-241, and looking at the Junior Investment Award, for junior athletes and the original target in 2024/25 was for 16 awardees and the revised forecast is for 13.

The Chairman: Yes, that's at the top of page B-241.

Mr. Ben Smith: So, considering our increase in the amount of National Sport Governing Bodies that are involved, is this difference between the number of awardees and the number of National Sport Governing Bodies simply because there were not applicants? And if, because now when you look at the target for 2025/26, it's been reduced to 14.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: Is this because less people are asking for the money, less people are filling out the paperwork to get this application done?

Still on that same page, and the Minister did mention that the average awarded amount was $3,000.

So, can the Minister let us know what the total amount that this funding for this Junior Athlete Award is so that we know how much is actually being put forward to this incentive programme? And the reason is because there were 13 in the outcome for 2023/24 and the average amount given was $3,125. So, when you move forward and the revised for 2024/25 was 13, same number and now the average was $3,000.

To me, I think something in here and once again for me, it's always about, Can we give more support? We as a country seem to find money for certain things that we think are important. And this isn't me saying that the Government doesn't think it's important. I'm once again advocating that we need to make this a priority for how we can support our young people. And the young people who are already on a positive path. They are showing that they can be the role models for the group coming behind them. And for that reason, giving them as much support as we can, I say, should be a priority.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: Mr. Chairman, moving on to 2004, it's under . . . for Sports Facilities.

So, under Sports Facilities, the Minister did mention that there was a significant increase in this area and that it was due to bringing the golf courses into this Ministry.

The Chairman: And National Sports Centre.

Mr. Ben Smith: And the National Sports Centre. But $900,000 is golf courses, so a significant portion of this increase is actually because of the golf courses. And I get the—

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Ben Smith: And the Deputy Premier just took the words right out of my mouth. There is not enough there either. Once again, this is another opportunity for us to look at growth. How is it that we can give more support? And I'm going to tie the two things together. Page C-23, as I have gone back to several times.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: I am going to look for it.

The Chairman: Which is the Grants and Contributions page.

Mr. Ben Smith: Yes. So, the Bermuda Golf Association—$10,000.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: But we are giving $900,000 to golf courses. What we should be looking for is a way for us to encourage more of our young people and specifically our young who might not have access to golf. But there's a long golfing history in this country and I am sure the member from constituency—

The Chairman: Two.

Mr. Ben Smith: —[constituency] 2 will definitely support that statement.

But these are the connections where we could do more. So, if the Minister can give us an idea because this is something that is new to this Ministry and not something that I have had the opportunity to ask questions about previously. If he could give us an idea of how that $900,000 is broken down. What that money is going to support, whether it is a reduction—because it looks like in the past it might have been a little bit more than that.

But I had to find . . . that's actually under, I believe Public Works was where it was, where it sat before. And now that it is under Sport, will there be performance measures to show what this impact is of the investment of $900,000 coming out of Sport in order to support the golf courses locally? So, can the Minister give us a little bit more detail on the overall $900,000, how we are going to see that as an impact and whether there will be performance measures to show what that investment impact is on Bermuda and in our sporting community.

Mr. Chairman, 30075, which is the—

The Chairman: Softball.

Mr. Ben Smith: —Softball Park. The Minister did mention in the brief that there has been an increase in the usage because of bringing baseball into that particular area. I know the Minister said that he had recently retired from softball. But which—

The Chairman: The fences were too low for him, he said.

Mr. Ben Smith: Yes, he said the fences were too low.

So, with that being said, can he give us an idea of what that impact has been for baseball? Like what . . . how many of the numbers that he's seeing that growth is actually because of baseball? So, if we're able to separate those two sports because once again, growing those sports, I think would be important because, Mr. Chairman, in, I want to say, in some of our neighbouring countries, like The Bahamas, they are actually producing some really top-level baseball players. So, this is another one of those opportunities for us to see growth and potentially see elite athletes coming out of both softball and baseball. So, any information that the Minister can give on this I think will be much appreciated.

And now on to 30080, which is the Tennis Stadium.

The Chairman: Yes, we are still on page B-238.

Mr. Ben Smith: Yes. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

There were some refurbishments done. The Minister mentioned that there's been an increase in the pickleball courts. Can the Minister let us know whether there has been any impact of increasing the pickleball courts, whether there's been any impact on the tennis side of what this facility was originally? I think a lot of people have been excited about the growth in pickleball, but there's also a bit of, you know, the traditionalists that are potentially not as happy that there seems to be a lot more usage on that side, which potentially is impacting where tennis has been and what the growth of that sport will be.

In the past, there was some conversation on potentially needing another tennis court in order to give us more ability to have international tennis competitions at that facility. So, can the Minister let us know whether there's any information that he has on that and whether we need to give more support in this facility to make sure that the growth of both pickleball and tennis continue at the level that I think all of us would like to see?

I might have missed it, but in 30390 Sports Community Fields, there's . . . it's not a big number. It's $47,000. But if the Minister can let us know, what exactly does that give us? What is the breakdown of that money for community fields?

The Chairman: So that is page B-238, under 2004 and it is 30390. Line item 30390.

Mr. Ben Smith: Yes, correct.

The Chairman: So, $47,000 allocation.

Mr. Ben Smith: So, Mr. Chairman, I am now going to move on to page B-241.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: And I am going to be looking at the performance measures.

The Chairman: Still under Sport and Recreation and now performance measures.

Mr. Ben Smith: Yes. So, I started with the point that I was making when it comes to the Junior Athlete Awards and that difference that you see there. I would like to just finish off with the number of elite athletes receiving funding.

The Minister had mentioned that there were 25 elite athletes who were part of the programme and that we would be . . . that is where a lot of the funding would be going. If the Minister could just give us a breakdown of the C-level athletes, B-level athletes, and A-level athletes and why we are seeing a decrease from 25 with a target for 2025/26 to 18. Is this based on retirements? And what does the reduction mean? Does it mean that we are not seeing a growth of young people coming into the C-level while we are potentially having athletes retire? If we could just get some clarification on why that target would be reduced, considering I think everybody would have been happy with that number that reached 25. And the Minister did state the number 25, which I think both he and I are supportive of.

But using that specific area with elite athletes. Earlier, I was talking about the cost . . . the added cost of just living in Bermuda or living overseas and travel. And one of the items that I know has been an issue for elite level athletes, it is . . . athletes, when they're at the junior level, are usually being covered by their parents. That's where their funding is going to come from. And then the National Sport Governing Bodies have the ability to put in applications that allow them to get some funding if they are part of a National Sport Governing Body.

Then the next step is usually if that athlete has the opportunity to go away to school, and now that school structure sometimes is going to cover some of the costs that are associated. But the area that I'd like to focus in on when we're talking about elite athletes is that many times once they move out of school coverage, they run into trouble specifically with health insurance. And not having access to health insurance is one of the factors that so many times causes a really promising athlete to drop out of the sport.

So, Mr. Chairman, a lot of times you actually see a drop off with athletes that have been supported by their parents, supported by the Ministry. They have been awardees for multiple years and then they get to that point where the numbers don't work for them anymore because they don't have access to regular health care. And you know that if they are training in Bermuda, that health care cost is going to be significant, and in order for them to train at the level that is expected.

And, Mr. Chairman, an elite athlete, although most of us would like to say okay, they can go and work a full-time job and then be able to train in the morning or train in the afternoon or both, and be able to do the nutrition at the level they need to and all the physical support with physio and massage and the mental health support that is now needed for athletes. They are competing against athletes that get that level of support. So it puts them at a disadvantage. And a lot of times they are dropping out of the sport not because they don't love the sport or want to continue to move forward, but it is . . . this area.

Now there was a previous Sports Minister. And I had a long conversation with him about this specific subject and how maybe there is a way for us to come up with a government support programme that would allow for this to happen. And, Mr. Chairman, I think when you have athletes at this level, they are already role models. So, there's great synergy that what you would have for that level of support. They would then be expected to be our sports ambassadors. And the Minister wears both hats, sports tourism ambassadors. Every time they travel, they have the ability to promote Bermuda, take that information and sell as part of this give back programme that they would get.

Then when they return to Bermuda, they also have an opportunity to stand up in front of our classrooms and go to help out with gym classes. I think in that initial conversation that we had, this seemed like something that potentially could get really good bipartisan support in order for us to take this to the next level of what the expectation is of our elite athletes, how we can support them and how they can then give back to the generation coming behind them. Because what we want is for our young athletes and our young people in Bermuda to be able to look up and say, This is what the potential is for me going forward. Instead of, in many cases, they are having to look at role models who really should not be role models.

And when we have spent so much time, energy and money to produce these elite athletes, having them drop off without doing something to kind of gain that give-back, also becomes a bit of a problem. And, Mr. Chairman, a step on . . . I have obviously brought up health insurance and health support because with health insurance now you get access to physiotherapy, you get access to mental health programmes. These are all things that would be extremely helpful to these athletes who are moving out of the university level and don't have the support financially from their parents anymore. Because one of the things that I am most definitely advocating for is we have to make sure that we are not setting up a situation where only the athletes who have access to finances are the ones who are progressing.

The Chairman: Right.

Mr. Ben Smith: Because if your parents don't have the ability to pay for you to do the extra travel, the extra training and all the things that are needed in order for you to make it, you are falling behind. Not because you don't have the athletic ability, not because you don't have the desire to be a top-level athlete, but maybe just because you did not have the financial support. And Bermuda is a country that does have a huge divide between the haves and the have-nots. If we could look at a way to make sure that we are levelling that playing field by giving the kind of support that is necessary, I think anything that we can do in that area would be extremely helpful.

And so, Mr. Chairman, the last piece of that would be a lot of times when you have an athlete . . . and we have some athletes who have performed at the at the highest level. They have gone to Commonwealth Games, Pan Am Games, World Championships, and the Olympics. And that was a 30-year-old that's been chasing that dream and Bermuda has been celebrating those performances. They're now a 30-year-old, and the only job experience that they have is that they were an athlete. They don't have pension. They don't have the health support. And now they have to go into the working market kind of behind.

So once again, I think all of this is part of this process that potentially could really help us to move things forward with people who have already chosen to be role models. This could be an opportunity for us to really help them and help our next generation.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIRMAN

HOUSE VISITOR

The Chairman: While the Deputy Opposition Leader looks at his notes, let me just welcome Senator Fubler in the Gallery.

[Desk thumping]

[Committee of Supply, continuing]

The Chairman: This is the Committee of Supply for review of Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure. We are looking at budget year for 2025/26. We have been hearing a brief presented by the Honourable Minister Owen Darrell and we are now hearing questions being posed by the Honourable Deputy Opposition Leader, Ben Smith. We are under Head 20, Sports and Recreation, which can be found roughly at page B-237 or thereabouts in the Budget Book.

Please continue when you are ready, MP Smith.

Mr. Ben Smith: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I am going to go back to pages C-23 and C-24.

The Chairman: Yes, Grants and Contributions, pages C-23 and C-24.

Mr. Ben Smith: So Mr. Chairman, for several years I have brought this up. I am going to make sure that I say it in a way that does not actually cause any issue, because that is not what I am trying to do.

There is funding that is given to BSADA. There is funding that is given to Bermuda Sport Anti-Doping. It has to happen. I am not saying anything other than that must be for us . . . in order for our athletes to be able to compete, we have to have this. And we have spent a lot of time to set up this organisation and they do great work.

But I do have a couple of questions, one of them being . . . this budget has been similar to this amount for quite some time. But when we had to go through the transition, when we had some issues, one of the things that happened was that we took out the illicit drug testing policy that was attached to this area. So, considering that when every National Sport Governing Body travelled overseas, there had to be testing that was done for the team. You would think that there might have been some difference in the funding because all of that has been removed.

So, if the Minister can just let us know whether there was any consideration about that significant change from the Illicit testing support that did exist, that no longer exists, and the actual amount that is given for BSADA.

The Chairman: And that's page C-23, and that's the figure for $586,000.

Mr. Ben Smith: Correct, $586,000.

The Chairman: But as you pointed out earlier, that's 2023/24 actual.

Mr. Ben Smith: This is 2023 . . . so, because I don't have the other numbers, I have to use the numbers that are in front of me.

The Chairman: Okay.

Mr. Ben Smith: Using that number, I am pointing out that although the overall number for the support of contributions is $2,466,000 here, right? And it has not changed significantly this time around. Remember that the additions are an uplift for the National Sports Centre and for the bringing in of the golf courses. So, the number is going to be very similar. That number divided up between all of the National Sport Governing Bodies and with BSADA and . . . from the Olympic Association.

So, if you take the numbers from the Olympic Association out, and BSADA out, you understand why I make the comment that although we are supporting, we definitely as a country can do and must do (in my opinion) better . . . more support. Because if we are going to tell our young people that they are that important, we need to give more finances in order to show them that support so that some sports are not getting such a small amount that it really isn't going to do any change other than potentially an admin spot. And even in that consideration, $5,000 for a year is really not going to even do that. That number potentially is one trip for one athlete. And that is something that we have to look at and we have to figure out a way for us to increase this number.

The Progressive Labour Party has given more support to sport. They have increased this number. But it's not enough. And it needs to be more. And I will keep advocating. If the Minister got it doubled, I would still ask for more.

[Laughter and crosstalk]

Mr. Ben Smith: Mr. Chairman, give me one second.

So, I am just going to quickly go back to 30030, which was on . . .

The Chairman: Page B-238.

Mr. Ben Smith: Yes, page B-238 under Athletic Awards.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: The 2023/24 . . . there was, I want to say there was about $250,000 from that that was given to the elite athletes.

The Chairman: Out of the $309,000?

Mr. Ben Smith: Yes.

The Chairman: Right.

Mr. Ben Smith: There was a target of 10 with a revised forecast of 23. Right? For the sake of argument, it was $25,000 a year under the . . . when you had 10 athletes that were in that situation. When you increase the number of athletes without increasing the amount of money significantly, you are now dropping down to a number that is significantly lower. Which means that the amount of support that is available is significantly lower. Which potentially impacts the ability of the athletes to perform.

I am not going to put this solely at the feet of the Government. I am just pointing out that as we grow the number of sports that are involved as we grow the number of athletes that are applying for the funding, if we do not at the same time increase the amount of funding, what we are going to do is give less money to more athletes.

Mr. Chairman, I am going to go to . . . on page C-20.

The Chairman: Yes—Grants and contributions.

Mr. Ben Smith: National Stadium trustees. There has been an increase there from . . . so in 2024/25 it was $1,350,000. And then it was revised to $1,630,000.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Ben Smith: So, can the Minister give us a detailed breakdown of what that difference was between the original and the revised estimate, and then what the expectation is with the new increase to $1,500,000? I know part of that potentially is the increase in salaries, but there are several items within that facility that I think would be important for the Minister to be able to give us some information on.

I know the Minister will always say that I will have plenty of questions about the swimming facility. The first question that I will have regarding that is that the changing rooms at the National Sports Centre that are located at the pool were put in originally when that pool was built on a temporary basis. If I recall, it was because there was supposed to be a next phase of the project that was going to have a major building, civic centre kind of . . . That was the original plan. But because that phase didn't happen, it meant that the temporary facility has now stayed for an extended period of time. Considering that some of that facility has actually become unsafe, can the Minister give us some details on what is going to happen to that changing room facility. Whether there is going to be new facilities built and when will we see that change happen?

I will applaud some of the changes that have happened at the Aquatics Centre. New lane lines have gone in in the last couple of weeks. I know that there were several changes to the heating system that, I believe, change some of the drop offs in availability in the wintertime. But as you look at the facility, there are also areas that need maintenance. So, with the entire facility, can the Minister give us an indication of whether we will start to see some maintenance investment, the tiling around the pool? Because it breaks and it becomes really sharp with people walking around without shoes on. It can become dangerous. The diving area, in the last year I know that the diving boards were replaced. So, Mr. Chairman, wondering if the Minister can give us—

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: Please continue. Yes, we are just going to change the Chair out. And I welcome the Honourable Lawrence Scott, who will now take the Chair for the remainder of the debate.

There are approximately two hours left in this debate about Sport and Recreation and Culture, Heads 20 and 52. Thank you.

[Mr. W. Lawrence Scott, Chairman]

Mr. Ben Smith: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

So, considering the investment that was put into the diving boards, whether the Minister can give us a breakdown in the diving participation. And whether he is seeing growth in diving in Bermuda and whether we have an expectation to see an increase in the number of people that are participating in diving with the investment that was made in adding new diving boards at that facility. Because I think it is important that when we are making an investment that we have an analysis of [whether] that investment is leading to something, that we are seeing progress because of it. And in last year that's when the investment happened. Can the Minister give us some details on whether that growth has been seen?

Continuing with that facility, whether the Minister can give us a breakdown of the participation at the National Sports Centre. Whether they are seeing an increase in the number of people that are using the pool, using the track and using the fields. Because obviously there is significant investment in this facility and I think that most people in Bermuda are very happy that Bermuda has what I would call a world-class facility in in many areas, but we need to make sure that we are giving them maintenance towards this facility.

Mr. Chairman, I am on page C-20, and I am talking about National Stadium Trustees because there's a grant that's given to them in order to run the facility. So, the same way I asked the questions when it came to the swimming pool, I would also like to know what was the date that the track was laid and what the estimated lifespan is of that. Because when we are budgeting, we also need to be looking forward to when will we have to deal with this expense going forward because maintenance of a facility like this is extremely important.

Mr. Chairman, last year was also a time when there was quite a bit of investment in changing the lighting at the facility, which would have had an impact on the electricity usage of the facility because everything was changed to LED. Can the Minister give us, now that we have had them installed for an extended period of time, what that impact has been, what the percentage of savings is that they have seen?

Mr. Chairman, still on that . . . in that same area with the National Sports Centre. Obviously there has been a lot of interest in changing the energy of the National Sports Centre because the cost of the electricity at that facility had become astronomical and it actually had put the facility in trouble overall because they could not keep up with the payments for that high level of electricity. And there is no way that we would have had enough participation throughout the facility, it didn't matter whether it was the fields, the track, the pool to be able to maintain and continuously maintain that level of energy bill.

So, a process was put in place to have the solar project. If the Minister can give us an update on that solar project, give us an update on whether it is now fully operating and what the overall reduction in the power has been since it has been put in place. And then if the Minister can let us know what the maintenance contract (or if there is one) in order to . . . because if you spend the time and money to put in that kind of facility, we need to make sure that the same way that we look to maintain the actual National Sports Centre that this facility that will be reducing our cost is also being maintained. So, can the Minister give us an update on that? I think it would be most important.

Mr. Chairman, would the Minister be able to tell us how many National Sport Governing Bodies are actually utilising the National Sports Centre? We know that there is a hockey pitch. There's a swimming pool. There's a track and there's fields. So, with all of that vast facility, is there a breakdown of what sports are participating and what numbers we are getting from each of those sports? I think what I would like to see is the country realising how important that facility is and then that gives us an opportunity to maybe give it more finances. Because in, once again my opinion on this, if we were able to give the funding to the facility that covered all of its costs, potentially what you're doing is giving the ability and opportunity for more participation. Because it is the country's facility, it should have more access for the country.

And I can only speak specifically to the pool facility, because that's the one that I interact with the most. What I will say is that when that facility was built, the Aquatic Centre, one of the major reasons for putting it there was that the pools that were available at the time were sitting on private property. So, by having this Government facility, it was to give access to the public. Being an island, having the opportunity for more of our people to actually learn how to swim, to be safe around the water and then the Minister would know that in the policy when the experts were brought in, one of the major features that came out in the long-term athlete development was that some of the core sports that actually allowed our athletes to be able to get that foundation that will allow them to do multiple sports and swimming was one of those.

So having access for our public schools to be to be able to participate and go to the Aquatic Centre, the Minister knows that I brought this up several times. But you know it is not . . . it is cost prohibitive at the moment and it's not because . . . I know it is not because the Minister wants it to be cost prohibitive. And I know that the conversation with Department of Education . . . but now it actually might be easier to happen because Bermuda School Sports Federation is actually within the Ministry. So maybe that conversation can happen in a way that allows more access for the public schools to be able to participate and be part of the aquatic sports. Because it is a shame when really within a year, most times there's only one public school that actually has any real interaction with that facility. And what a great opportunity we actually have with having our own facility. So, if there is a plan to try to see if we can increase that participation, I think it would be important, and the public would be interested to know. Can the Minister give us information on that?

Mr. Chairman, one of the issues that has been kind of ongoing with this facility is that they were not able to get audited financials for a significant amount of time. So, can the Minister just give us an update on whether that has happened, whether they've been able to catch up and whether we are moving forward with clean financials so that when we are providing this level of support ($1.5 million), whether we know that everything is what it is supposed to be? And potentially we might find out that we actually need more money than what's being provided. Because one of the things that I can bring up and I know this separately is covered in another Ministry when it comes to lifeguards on our beaches but making sure that you have the support to have well-trained lifeguards around that facility.

Mr. Chairman, I know the Minister would know because the facility ended up having a high diving tower, it meant that the pool was extremely deep, which then caused a significant need to have lifeguards there. Just the depth of that water is significant. So, if the Minister can give us an idea of how many lifeguards are actually being used at that facility and whether that number has had to be reduced in certain parts of the year. Specifically, because potentially there is not enough funding to the facility in order to cover that cost.

So, Mr. Chairman, I think I will stop there and maybe give someone else an opportunity to ask questions.

The Chairman: Thank you, MP.

Is there anybody else that would like to speak to the Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Sports—Heads 20, 52, 71. This is a four-hour debate, and we have another hour and 10 minutes left in this.

I recognise Honourable Member Cannonier. You have the floor.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I just have one question. As I was going through . . . the Honourable Member who just took his seat, Ben Smith, was talking about the facilities of the pool. And I wanted to also go to the facilities as well. And just a question about the programmes. I just had the line item . . . I moved away from it.

The Chairman: Are you doing this under line item 6884 National Stadium Trustees?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: No. Under . . . on page B-238, business unit 2002, Sports Development, and Sports Programmes 30055 and 30065.

I will preface by saying I have had the fortune of swimming at the pool. A nice facility to be able to exercise in—a great . . . very economical as well.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: No, no, no, no. I'm too—well, I was going to say I'm too broad for a butterfly, but that's probably good for butterflies.

The Chairman: Is that competitive swimming? Is that competitive?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: I will say this that the first pool . . . just for information, the first pool that was competitive for students was in Flatts. I'm trying to remember the name of the condos there right across from Four Star Pizza right there. But that's where we used to have competition at that time for interschool swimming competition. And a lot of people may not know that.

And so, the first time that they started competing was at that pool, and St. George's Prep, which is the school I went to . . . some of the first Blacks were going there. We won all the titles. And I won the free-style. But anyhow, the question—

[Laughter]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Sports programmes. I was just curious, you know, we spent a lot of time building this wonderful pool that we have there. What programmes are catered towards . . . because we've got this diving platform. Right? And I don't know, maybe I should have asked the Shadow Minister about if there's any diving programmes. But just curious, are there any diving programmes that are on? Because we've built this facility there that are ongoing. Are we producing any athletes in that particular arena? As to why we built it? So that was the only question I had. I think the Honourable Member took my question already.

The Chairman: Thank you, MP Cannonier.
MP, you have the floor.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and I'd like to thank the Minister for his comprehensive brief and also allowing for time for questions. I have to say that the Honourable Minister went through every line item quite succinctly and so I will first start off my questions because many have been answered by the brief. In the department objectives on page B-258. And I agree with these department objectives, but I would like to suggest that potentially with the new digital era and you know, social media and so much more ability in the global market for artists, creatives and whatnot to break in and cultures to be highlighted like we've never seen before, that potentially we add creating an industry here in Bermuda. And when I say an industry, I mean a creative industry where people can be employed and make income full time as an artist.

And if you talk to any creative, any artist, anybody who is currently creating here in Bermuda, a lot of times they must work a full-time job to obviously be insured, to pay their health insurance and vice versa. So, I think that a lot of creatives in the industry, a lot of them feel as though the Island right now, Bermuda, is geared more towards corporate and other nine-to-five jobs. And I think that it would be a really great sign to them to showcase that not only are we looking to protect our culture and to amplify it, but also to create an industry in which they can find full time, or at least enough to sustain insurance for themselves and be able to perform more full time.

The industry could use, in my opinion, outside investment, which is . . . meaning getting our Bermudians on the world stage. We have had a lot of iconic creatives and musicians and artists who have made it to the world stage and done great things. But how are we cultivating that next generation to be those internationally recognised artist, creatives in the industry. So that is just a general question on—

The Chairman: I understand that you have a head, but I just want to know the line item that you're speaking to.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: So, I'm speaking directly to Department Objectives.

The Chairman: OK.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: On page B-258. Because many of the line items have been answered so—

The Chairman: All right. Again, MP Robinson.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Yes. And just on these objectives, just also if I could ask whether or not we will be seeing a more concerted effort to weave creatives into our tourism product. As I know the Minister currently wears the hats of Tourism and Culture and it would be very good for us to see a bit of a road map on how our local creatives and local influencers can be better implemented into our tourism product and into our marketing advertisement when it comes to Bermuda as a whole.

And just to also speak a bit about what the brief stated, which was obviously support for creatives and increase in most of the grants and various things. I just wanted to know specifically when it came to animation. Where is the support level there? Because we've seen a few animators come forward in Bermuda and create amazing cultural things that really have been capturing us as a people, us as Bermudians.

And I just wanted to know how the department intends to implement that and support for that in these objectives. Because I feel like that's a very great uncharted territory for us to really build on and also create growth in the economy. Because if you have an industry of folks who are not only showcasing Bermuda to the global stage but drawing more people here and also exchanging those skill sets, I believe that we will see some benefits for the economy as a whole and in tourism and hospitality.

So just moving over, let me see. Just going through my notes here, make sure I don't ask anything that's been answered already.

Yes, so underneath . . . let me see. Ah, yes, okay, here we are. So, it was a line item where the Minister mentioned that a programme was coming back, which is a tradition-bearer programme that's been reintroduced. I believe the line item was under 62030, Cultural Education. I could be incorrect about that, but it was mentioned, and I just wanted to get a bit of clarity on how does one, you know, qualify or become . . . or is there any sort of description for being a tradition-bearer? Because I think this is so important and I feel like if we can get a bit of clarity on, how does one become a tradition-bearer that can participate in this programme? Because even in my constituency there was a master carpenter who was attempting to share some of his skills at the CedarBridge Academy, at one point.

And it just never really materialised like we had hoped. And unfortunately, he has passed away.

So, you know, I think that it will be really interesting for us to be able to hear about the specifics on that and how we can encourage more, because I think that's an excellent programme to bring back on behalf of the Government. And I think that it will showcase to a lot of people that hey, you know, you can pass on some of those skills without necessarily being overly qualified, having to jump through a lot of certifications. You can learn something from an actual master and pass that on. So, I just wanted to hear a bit of that.

Also, if we could get a sneak peek of the fancy float you were talking about, Minister, when it came to the theme.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Yes, it sounded really exciting, and I said, Hey, this sounds like something new. So, you know . . . if you can . . . you can just post it somewhere real quick.

[Inaudible interjection and laughter]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Yes, yes—

[Laughter]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: But I think that I want to also take this time to thank the department and also the Minister and those who are working on Bermuda Day because a lot of us have noted that it has indeed increased in diversity and inclusion, and that's what we're all about. So, I wanted to just take that time as well to congratulate the Minister on that.

So, there was also a mention in the brief of the Cultural Annual General Meeting (AGM) and that basically in that Cultural AGM, some of the strengths of the Department of Culture was mentioned. And also, some things that industry stakeholders felt could be improved. I would just like to hear just some of the high level . . . maybe if that is on file. What were some of the things that the cultural stakeholders felt the department did very well? And what were some of the things that they felt the department could improve on? To better support them and the work that they are all doing.

And also, in the brief there was a mention of film, a few mentions of films that are being done, and I'm just referring directly to the brief here now generally. Because I was jotting down notes, I don't have the specific line items. But there was a mention of film, and I just wanted to know whether or not the Minister or the department has ever floated the idea of a film studio to cultivate a film industry. And the reason why I asked that is because not only will it provide a bit of avenue for actors, screen writers, and various other initiatives, but whether or not that's being floated and whether or not that industry would be cultivated, especially when it comes to capturing our culture and providing ways to do that on an Island.

And yes . . . most . . .

The Chairman: And for the listening public, we are debating the Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Sports, Heads 20, 52 and 71. It's a four-hour debate which started at 4:02 pm. So, we still have about another hour and . . . probably about forty minutes left in the debate and MP Robinson is on his feet asking the Minister questions.

MP Robinson.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and just jumping to page C-20.

We have line item 7099 which is Culture and Entertainment Support and one of the things that a lot of creatives have mentioned is that training up on their craft can be quite expensive, especially if you're a vocalist who is doing vocal training or various things that you need to do, similar to sports, to compete on the international level.

And so, I just wondered if anything was included in this or could be included in this to provide some affordable training or to bring in folks who can provide that that training to our local artists, whereas they don't have to pay quite a lot or maybe take any online courses that are not necessarily reputable? Because I know a lot of times if you have ever spoken to creatives or been around, you know that they all find a work around to make it happen. Right? And I just wonder how we can streamline that so that we know that a person who wants to be a vocalist can at least get training to be able to go and compete or do various things on a global scale. Because that's going to help us in the long run. So, I just wanted to ask if anything might be included in that.

Truthfully, Minister, I think you—

[Laughter]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: I think you . . . yes, yes, yes. You have done quite well today. I do not have a ton of questions left.

Just moving along to Contributions in the Department of Culture, on page C-20, 6881 Contribute to Cultural Activity. I may have missed these, but I just wanted to get a bit of a breakdown on what these cultural activities were under this line item. And I also want to while I am on my feet celebrate that the Bermuda Arts Council has gotten an increase, similar to my colleague. You know, you always want more but I understand that the Government is doing what it can in that area. So, I will celebrate that as well.

And just wrapping up . . . the main thing that I want to close on is the necessity for us (and this is just speaking to the brief) to provide a way for artists to be able to have more opportunities in a longer season where they can be able to perform. And there was a policy that was floated for a multi-purpose venue for not only performance, but also for meetings and different things. And I would like to just float that idea and offer it to the Minister and the department if they wish to take it up. But I believe that creating a multi-purpose entertainment venue would benefit artists and give them more opportunity.

So, with that Mr. Chairman, I will take my seat and make way for anyone who has any other questions.

The Chairman: All right. We are in the debate of the Committee of Supply for the Ministry of Tourism and Culture and Sports. This is a four-hour debate. We are on Heads 20, 52 and 71.

Is there anybody else that would like to speak to any of these heads?

The Chair recognises the MP.

Mr. Ben Smith: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, the Minister, when he was giving his brief did mention that there was going to be a sports conference. I'm actually taking this from under Department Objectives. There were certain things that he was trying to put forward. And there were two things that I noted. One of them was the digital signage. Where and when can we expect to see the digital signage? And does he have an expected date of when that sports conference is going to be?

And, Mr. Chairman, just quickly, I would like to take a look at page B-238, Camping and . . . actually page B-242. The Minister did talk about the significant increase in the camping. It was it was $2,200 and now it's, you know, close to $6,000. The Minister did mention that it's almost reaching capacity. Can the Minister let us know whether there is any area of growth that they potentially can look at next? Is there maybe an underutilised facility or a property that they have looked at that maybe they can start to increase the capacity of camping? Considering that this growth seems like a really important and positive move, and the fact that it seems to have reached capacity, if there is an indication of whether there is any room to grow. If the Minister can let us know, that would be helpful. Thank you.

The Chairman: Is there anybody else that has any other questions? MP Robinson.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Mr. Chairman, yes, sorry.

I was looking through my notes and I have one more left. Just under line item 6200 on page B-259. In the brief, there was a mention of a National Cultural Policy, and I just wanted to see if I could get a bit of detail, if possible, on that and also when it will be brought before the public.

The Chairman: Thank you for that.

Is there anybody else that would like to speak to Heads 20, 52 and 71?

Honourable Member, you have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you kindly, Mr. Chairman.

I am referring to page B-237 and the mission statement. It specifically—

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Specifically, increasing participation and ensuring equitable access. As many Members know, I am a big sailor and an advocate, and I wanted to point to our sailing traditions. We have had many numerous Olympians in that sport competing at a top, top level. I know we have two young Bermudians out there actively campaigning to qualify for the Olympics. We will see how that goes. And there used to be a fabulous programme out on White's Island that was run by the Government that, yes—

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —maybe we should take the Minister out for a little test and see.

Now it is certainly true that many of the private clubs have expanded the scope of the programmes that they are generally available to the public. And they also do include (many of them) financial support and bursaries for . . . because not everybody can. You know, as we heard with the day camps, not everybody can afford programmes in in any sport. But I would like to know if the Ministry does have any plans or thoughts or inclination to supporting a programme like the White's Island, public sailing programme.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, MP.

Is there anybody else that would like to speak to the Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Sport? Heads 20, 52 and 71.

With there being nobody, Minister, would you like to take a stab at answering these questions?

And while the Minister sets up, I will just let you know that we now have roughly 90 minutes left in this debate, which started at 4:02 pm, and we are doing Heads 20, 52, 71, being piloted through Parliament by the Minister Owen Darrell.

Minister Owen Darrell, you have the floor.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and this is a nice debate.

I will say this: I think this is the first time in in probably four years that, you know, I was in another place, but it's the first time that I think I have had the opportunity to debate Culture. Maybe because it's Heritage Month and we are doing this debate a little later than normal. Maybe because we are on the week of Bermuda Day on Friday, but I just want to thank the Opposition for actually debating Culture because the lovely people and staff that work at the Department of Culture were starting to feel a little left out over years gone by that the Opposition did not like to debate Culture. I don't know why.

Because there's so many great things that we are doing to uphold and keep our traditions going. Especially with individuals like Ms. Warner-Virgil, I'd like to say, and I just . . . before we get into some of these questions, would like to talk about those tradition-bearers. Ms. Warner-Virgil is one who I see often because not only does she assist in going into schools to promote this culture of . . . she does Gombey dolls now. But she takes pride in actually delivering these dolls herself. And she comes and she brings them, and she wants to take pictures with the Minister and the staff. And you know you would go a little farther to know . . . just a little history lesson as we are in Heritage Month and we are leading up to Bermuda Day where you will see many Gombeys. Right, Minister Lightbourne? Many Gombeys. And just know that Ms. Warner-Virgil, as her name states, comes out of the Warner's Gombey troupe. But she for many years did make the traditional Gombey capes.

And I would just like to shout out to Mr. Showande (I don't know why I'm drawing a blank)—

An Hon. Member: Butterfield.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Butterfield, thank you. Mr Showande Butterfield, now, who gave an excellent presentation last week at the CedarBridge Academy. And he has been going on to multiple . . . many schools, giving his presentation on how to make Gombey costumes and also the different pieces of the Gombey that makes up the entire performance.

And it is those traditions that are continuing to go. And we see these tradition-bearers like, in past years, Mr. Mills, who is a mason, and he has been keeping the tradition of Bermuda architecture alive and building homes. We have got, as I said in the brief, Ms. Ronnie Chameu has done it in the past. We still have Mr. Milton as well, Mr. Milton Hill and Ms. Warner-Virgil, as we have said. So that is just something I just wanted to highlight even further.

And I will get to the questions that the Honourable Shadow Minister did ask about that programme and it going further and continuing, but I would like to start in the order of which they were given.

I would start with the questions that came from Head 20 and . . . I would just like to say that when the previous Chair was there, he pointed out that there was a discrepancy in the . . .

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Owen Darrell: It was a discrepancy. And what it should have said was that the budget allocation for the Department's Camping programme is $1,015,000, an increase of $44,000, or approximately 5 per cent increase. That's what it [should have] said. So, I just want to take a moment to correct that.

The first question I think was [asked] by the Shadow Minister, who holds the responsibility for Sport, came from page B-238 under the 2001 Administration and Sports. And the question was that there was additional funding due to Bermuda [Schools] Federation being folded into the Ministry, what analysis will be done that will show that this change is positive? For example, in participation and collaboration, what are the expectations of this change?

As noted, and pointed out by the Honourable Shadow Minister this change has been something that has been talked about and asked for by many in the sports arena for many, many years. And I'd just like to point out the difference between sport and PE. They are two different things. And I just want to make that clear before I get into answering that question because although PE still comes under education (and that's physical education in schools and they have a full curriculum that comes around that) it is different than sport.

Sport is what the BSSF oversees. And as a result, many of the PE teachers are also part of the BSSF. Not all, but many. And that is where the BSSF has been moved from education to sport because we recognise that there is a stark difference between physical education and sport.

An Hon. Member: What is it?

Hon. Owen Darrell: We will get that in a minute.

[Laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: But when we talk about sport, we are talking about organised sport and the organising of football. I know the Honourable Minister who has responsibility for Economy and Labour has long told us how he was a football captain on many of his teams and I know he participated in sport that would have come under the BSSF many, many years and is still going. We are trying now to get cricket back in into the schools as a sport and not just a PE [class]—and others. Right? So, we will be conducting surveys of the school sports, and this will come from teachers as well as athletes and all stakeholders. We're gathering these—

The Chairman: Minister, is the Minister for Economy and Labour the only athlete that you recognise in the Chamber?

Hon. Owen Darrell: I mean, I think you were a goalkeeper at one point, right? I think you're retired now.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Just kind of like I retired. Did you retire?

The Chairman: No, no. I am in preseason right now.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Oh, preseason goalkeeper. Okay. Well, there we have . . . I am sorry I did leave you out, Mr. Chairman.

We are gathering these baselines in order to show changes over the years to come. And, you know, this change just took place recently. We are excited about where we are. I mean you have seen it. And I am not throwing shade on anyone. But you even saw some changes at the recent interschool sports that you've seen. And you just see kind of a reinvigoration of all who are involved in the BSSF. And, like I said, over at the Department of Recreation we have sports officers that are very passionate about sport. One, Mr. Jacon Agnes will tell that story over and over how sport has shaped his life, professionally as well as recreationally. As you all know, he is a former Cup Match Captain for the team up West—not Cleveland County, but they were red.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Yes, that team. But yes. The second question that was asked by the Shadow Minister with responsibility for Sport talked about sport development and it was under section 30065 Sports Investments. And the question he asked I believe that there had been a change in the number of sports that had been recognised as National Sports Governing Bodies. I think that is where we were at. And the concern always (and I get this) is that if you open up the participants, but the pot does not grow further, you know, you have more National Sports Governing Bodies (I will use this word) fighting over a smaller chunk of funding support.

How would this money be divided amongst more entities? Can you provide what the investments were for 2024/25 and what is the projected numbers for the upcoming year? So, the 2024/25 investments were as follows: The Bermuda Amateur Swimming Association (how did that get at the top of the list?), $60,000. The Bermuda Basketball Association, $5,000. The Bermuda Bicycle Association, $74,000. The Bermuda Cricket Board, $100,000. The Bermuda Equestrian Foundation—funny looking shirts showing up around here.

[Inaudible interjection and laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: The Bermuda Bicycle Association, $74,000. Like I said, the Bermuda Equestrian Foundation. The Bermuda Golf Association, $50,000. The Bermuda Hockey Federation, $30,000. The Bermuda Karate Federation, $20,000. The Bermuda Lawn Tennis Association, $25,000. The Bermuda Motorcycle Racing Association, $10,000. The Bermuda National Athletics Association (that is the BNAA), $50,000. The Bermuda Netball Association, $20,000. The Bermuda Olympic Association, $125,000. The Bermuda Rugby Federation Union, $30,000. The Bermuda Sailing Association, $40,000. The Bermuda Sanshou Association, $35,000. The Bermuda Squash Racquets Association, $20,000. The Bermuda Triathlon Association, $65,000. The Bermuda Volleyball Association, $40,000. Bocce Bermuda, $15,000. Gymnastics Federation of Bermuda, $20,000. Bermuda National Archery Association, $30,000. And the Bermuda Pickleball Association of Bermuda—one of our newer National Sport Governing Bodies was $25,000.

So, the funding available for this year is over $2,000,000 that we have made available this year. So, to say that the Government is not investing . . . and I know you did not say this, but this is what . . . and I don't want to attribute that statement to the Shadow Minister of Sport. But you hear it a lot. You do hear it in the community and individuals will ask just a question: Well, why doesn't the government support sport? And although I do say that support is given in multiple ways, it has to be pointed out that $2,000,000, in excess of $2,000,000 is available and being made available to this.

We have not allocated the funds for each of these National Sports Governing Bodies yet this year. That will be something that once we pass this budget process, the budget gets approved, we will then sit down and look at all requests that come in and go through the rationale as to who gets what and why. So, it is a process that I do know that the senior officer who I mentioned a few moments ago takes very seriously and looks into why the funding is needed and that's how it is allocated.

You would know that some organisations, like the Bermuda Olympic Association in 2024, may seek a bit more as that is an Olympic year than what they would seek in subsequent years. So that's that.

Yes, the funding does include BSADA and the Bermuda Olympic Association. There was a question with BSADA that I think I will . . . I will get to that one a little later. As to the illicit drugs, that policy that we no longer have in place, where has that funding gone? And that's a question that we will look to answer.

There was a change, sorry. Since there are new requirements and there has been an increased interaction between the Ministry and international sporting bodies and has this led to more involvement in the programmes by these international bodies? Is the increase in sports leading to an increase in participation in these sports without taking from other sports? That was the question.

When it comes to the National Sports Governing Body, not all the time we get individual names back as to where that funding is going. You know, sometimes the National Sports Governing Body will highlight in their own publications that this individual is doing X, Y and Z. Sometimes they will attribute it to the government grant, sometimes they won't. So, it's hard for us to track exactly who . . . which individuals are excelling, and this is where good engagement comes, and I pride myself on that community engagement whenever. I know my office has asked me to slow down a little bit.

But I say that it's important that whenever I am invited to engagements to show up and support—especially a National Sports Governing Body. I do try to make time, as you would have heard in a Ministerial Statement or Congrats earlier, that I did make it a point to go to the Squash Championship.

You know, if the national coach for swimming invites me to the national championships, I do try. He says it is next week. So, I do try to get up and see these swimmers, but it is at those meets and at those events that you have these conversations with individuals and their parents. And they'll say, you know, Thank you. You know that that athlete right there is one that is benefiting from the increase that we got through the government grant. Or, That athlete is one that ordinarily would not be able to get the level of coaching that is needed, but we really thank you for the support that Government is giving. So it is those types of conversation and those types of engagement.

And I will acknowledge, as the Shadow Minister has said, I think the Shadow Minister with responsibility for Sport and Culture has said that even if there is an increase, they will always (and we all should) advocate for more, as more increase usually leads to greater and better performance.

So, the only way to answer is to cross reference the individuals with sports. We don't go into that amount of detail, so we do not have detailed individual at this time.

Our sporting investment has only slightly increased. However, I would like to point out that it has increased, so more is always better than less. Right, Mr. Chairman? You would agree with that.

The Chairman: I definitely agree with that.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Good. Good.

Since there are new requirements, has there been an increased interaction with the Ministry and international . . . No, sorry, sorry. Let me . . . I answered that one already.

Sporting has only slightly increased. Considering the changes in overall cost, has there been any conversation regarding what this means for participating in international high-level competition and cost associated with our sporting materials? Is there an increase in demand and for international opportunities? And the Shadow Minister has said that there should be more money to support more athletes.

We have had conversations with sporting bodies in this regard. We recognise we have growing costs all over the world, that there's increased cost for travel. I always know when a sport is getting ready to embark on a large trip because, you know, someone will send an email to the Minister of Sport and say, You should be doing this. And a lot of times the e-mail goes back and says, Thank you, but we have done XY and Z. And they say, I was not aware. But that is why we serve. We serve to try to assist in as many ways as possible. And as they have said, a long time. Right? What is it? Closed mouths don't get fed, right? So, if you ask, you may receive. I have no problem when these requests come in.

And I know that the Shadow Minister with responsibility for Sport, in his long involvement with the sport of swimming, will understand that there were requests that come and sometimes we are able to supply them—

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —and sometimes we are not—accommodate. Thank you, accommodate. Accommodate those requests and sometimes we are not.

When decisions are being made regarding the levels of funding for the different sports, is some consideration based on performance in the region? Internationally? Local participation? And what is the breakdown and what is that competition? And I would say this, that is why the National Sports Governing Bodies and part of the requirements for the National Sports Governing Bodies is that you have an operational AGM. That you have an operational executive team. That you have an operational youth programme. Because it is the National Sports Governing Body that will govern and oversee their sport. Because I would not think that the National Sports Governing Body will put forward athletes to us or fund athletes who are not at the level where they need or deserve, I guess we'll use that word, funding.

So that lies with each National Sports Governing Body. But once it comes to the criteria that we set, the criteria is set into three parts: high performance, junior development and coaching development. So those are the three parts that you do. So, the National Sports Governing Body is usually interviewed and given a chance to state their need for funding.

I would even say this that a lot of National Sports Governing Bodies have gotten very creative as to how they use their funds, because what you could do is . . . one option is you have 10 students or athletes, sorry, and you try to get 10 plane tickets and 10 modes of transportation and 10 hotel rooms and try to send them overseas for specialised coaching or specialised support. When what a lot of National Sports Governing Bodies are now doing are actually saying, You know what? Stay right here on Island and we will pay for the coach to come to Bermuda.

So instead of trying to pinch pennies and get the National Sports Governing Body to go there, you can actually double the reach, and you can have maybe upwards of 20 or 30 students, sorry athletes, that are benefiting on that. So that's something that we leave in the hands of the National Sports Governing Body as to how they can maximise, Mr. Chairman, the funds that they are getting and the funds that government is making available.

Next question I think came from the Shadow Minister with responsibility for Sport, is considering that more sports are operating in Bermuda, can we provide information on how we get support for other sports that are emerging that allows them to get access to funding if it already exists? Please inform and if not, how do we plan to make this happen? And I could use the Bermuda Pickleball Association as an example. And I know the pickleball courts that we have put in the Honourable Minister's constituency of 17 down there at the [W.E.R.] Joell Tennis Stadium have become extremely popular. And the Pickleball Association, which is now a National Sports Governing Body, took the documents that we laid out. It took the path on how a sport can become a National Sports Governing Body and the sports recognition policy is a document that guides the organisation on the path to receive funding.

So, I can use that organisation of one that initially . . . and I remember when they came and they said, You know, this is one of the biggest growing sports around the world. And I said, Okay. And they had a plan and they said, How can we get funding? And even in that case some of their ask was not just direct funding to the organisation, it was infrastructure. It was, Where can we find a place to add additional courts to alleviate some of the demand that there is for pickleball?

And we all know, Mr. Chairman, that there was some pushback to that with the traditional racquet sports. I will say that. But I will say this: without a shadow of a doubt, many of them . . . many of them, in addition to continuing on their traditional tennis coaching, have now started to play pickleball. They have started to coach pickleball and they started to embrace it. And that is what we like to see with—as I think the Shadow Minister called it—an emerging sport. That is the blueprint of what we are looking to do. So that shows that our National Sports Governing programme is working.

I know there will be a few who we would like to see take the next step to get there, but there is a blueprint through the sport recognition policy that organisations can use to get there.

Next question was about sports initiatives and awards under page B-241. Under the Junior Investment Awards and this is one, Mr. Chairman, that I'm very, very proud to be a part of because what happens is a lot of times some of the junior athletes will get kind of gobbled up in the stars that you are familiar with. We had some very young men, I will say, that participated in our Cricket Classic last summer, who benefited from the Junior Achievement Awards. One was and I'll call his name, Mr. Luke Fulton.

I remember one of my first engagements as the Minister responsible for Sport was to present him with a Junior Achievement Award. And then to see Mr. Fulton a couple of years later, as a Colt for the Cup Match Classic last summer shows that this investment is working with the Junior Achievement. It also . . . it tags on to one of our policy goals, which is the long-term athletic achievement programme. And I know that this is something that all National Sporting Governing Bodies have been asked for a few years ago to develop. Because you don't just go from someone kicking a ball in your yard to someone who has multiple times taken his team to the championship playoff to get to the premier. That doesn't just happen by chance. Investment has to be made in that regard. So, I'm very happy and very proud that we continue to invest in these Junior Achievement Awards.

And they asked, Was the decrease because there were no applicants? I would not say that there were no applicants. But there were less applications that were being submitted. And that is part of the education that we are trying to do as we go out to these sporting events. We just don't go and clap and watch goals be scored and records be broken in the pool. But it's also a time and a way to educate the public on this. These are ways that Government is here to support you. And it is always disappointing when there are some National Sporting Governing Bodies—and I will not call them—that ask for an allotment of funds, they get the allotment of funds, and they give it back. Because for one reason or the other they were not able to utilise it. It does happen in some cases, and this would be one where we did get less applications submitted from previous years from the sporting bodies regarding the Junior Investment Awards.

The average amount was $3,000. What was the total amount for Junior Athlete Awards? And this year we've allocated $50,000 for these awards.

Next question falls under the Sports Facilities, and how is the $900,000 broken down regarding golf? Will there be performance measures to show how this investment is being used to support golf courses and how we see the impact? The $900,000 is an operational grant for the golf courses. The golf courses this year have also been given a capital development grant of $1.4 million and that could be seen on page C-7. And a report will be produced from the golf courses and all National Sports Governing Bodies as to how they utilise the funds. Just like we have talked about other quangos in the past. Although I do have more oversight with the golf courses than some other quangos that we have talked about in the past. As always, once grants are given to these quangos, they have their own operational, you know, organisation that operates that. So, we will be waiting. And as soon as I get it, I will make it available, Mr. Chairman, for how that $900,000 operational grant is used for the golf courses.

There was a question regarding the softball park, 30075. I mentioned that there was an increase in usage due to baseball. What are the baseball specific gross numbers? I don't have that at this time, but I'm going to tell a story, Mr. Chairman, regarding the baseball and the Michael Preece Softball Diamond—the name is softball.

There was a young man who was an entrepreneur in this Island, and he came to me. He is married to a Bermudian, which I think now makes him Bermudian. Right, Minister? I believe—

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Owen Darrell: But we'll go there. Okay, okay. Thank you—a spouse of a Bermudian. Thank you. Appreciate the clarification.

But he came to me and he—

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you.

[Laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you for the terminology.

I don't like to bat outside my crease, but basically the story is that he came to a store and said from his native . . . baseball was very, very popular and still is very, very popular. You know, he has individual baseball players like "Big Papi" and the like. And he came and he said, You know, I notice that you have a beautiful facility in Hamilton (in my colleague's constituency), but it's not being used on a Saturday morning. And he said, Well, why not?

You know, I said, Well, it's called the softball diamond. And for the most part, the Bermuda Softball Association or Softball Bermuda has their events in the evening time.

And he said, Well, I would just like to use it.

And this is the story: He didn't wait for us to go through the process of opening the gate and finding who can go and get overtime on a Saturday. What he did was asked, Can I set up some lines outside of the diamond and just start a little baseball programme?

And once you saw that happening and once you saw young athletes (still pee wees) come in and play baseball, then you said, Well, why can't we make the facility available?

So, I can say that that is one example of an individual who has taken pee wee baseball and used the facility that's, you know, it's a softball diamond. And I've come to learn over the years when I was this great softball player back in the day, that softball rules are considerably different than baseball rules. However, with the facility that we have there, this individual has made it work, and we have seen an increase in baseball activities here in the area of Hamilton and not always having to go down to Kindley Field, which . . . don't get me wrong. They have an amazing programme as well, which my son has had the opportunity in years gone by to take part of.

But with that said, I don't have the specific numbers. But that is just an example of how we are learning to pivot and utilise our facilities for more than just traditionally what we've had. Because I think when that softball stadium was built down at the Preece, it was built for fast pitch. And even fast pitch softball has different rules than slow pitch softball. So that is an example of that.

The tennis stadium, page B-238. There were some refurbishments to the pickleball court. Has there been an impact to the tennis site due to the facility and the workaround of pickleball? I could say this: not from a standpoint as pickleball courts can be converted back to tennis courts if we need them to. You know, there was some discussion at the beginning as to how we will make it work. Will there be fairness? Will they kind of push out the traditional racquet sports or tennis? But the nets that we have for the pickleball courts are portable. They can move.

If there is a need for a junior tennis tournament that may pop up this summer, more tennis courts can be made available. So, I'm very pleased that . . . you know, for those who spend time on social media, I think if they would report back that the kind of discussion and the back and forth between pickleball and tennis has diminished significantly. Almost, I would say to none. So, I would not say that there has been a push out or any negative impacts to the traditional tennis. Well, some may disagree, but it doesn't seem to be that big of a problem at this time.

Question regarding sports community fields. And these become very important, especially on holidays. I have never seen requests for grass being cut so much then Good Friday because what happens is we go through the winter, grass is not growing and then all of a sudden, these community fields like the one up in Somerset, Loyal Hill—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —Devil's Hole. The one on Shelley Bay Garrison. All of these are the community fields that come under the Department of Sport and Recreation.

And it is also . . . those are the fields that host some of our larger community events and those are very, very important events. And I'm glad that we have these fields and I'm glad that we have staff who keep them up. So, I want to say thank you to those individuals for keeping those fields in pristine condition so that we can support the community. And the question was what is the breakdown? And what is the money used for? And this uplift of funding provides funding for the repairs of the machines and maintenance of the fields and grounds. Because although they do a very good job of cutting these fields, there are other factors.

You know, some of these fields have gates. We did an extensive cleanup at Loyal Hill because there was an outside entity ABIR, I think it was, that put a playground—

An Hon. Member: BILTIR.

Hon. Owen Darrell: BILTIR, sorry. Sorry, it was BILTIR that put a playground at Loyal Hill.

So, I want to publicly thank them for doing that. And it is this type of corporate partnership that assists us in making sure that these community fields continue to do what they are meant to do and that is to provide recreational space for the community of which we all serve.

There was a question around page B-241 and performance measures regarding the number of athletes receiving funding. Can you break down monies based on level A, B and C? The number of athletes who applied this year has decreased. Last year there was an increase due to it being an Olympic year. The Bermuda Olympic Association breaks down the athletes in A, B and C levels. That is not something that we do, but they do that for their elite level grants that they give.

Question regarding 2023/24. There is funding given to anti-doping. However, this amount has not changed. When there were issues, the initial drug testing policy was removed. Was there any consideration to the change regarding illicit testing support no longer existing and the actual number that is given, which was $586,000?

I would say this. Although one has gone down with the illicit testing, I can tell you that operational cost has gone up. So, their operational cost. As everyone is dealing with, increased rents, salary uplifts and the cost of other testing may have gone up. So, while it may look like the number is the same and it should go down, it's kind of a balancing act that has been done by BSADA to not come back for any additional funding and keep it where they were. But that is something that we will continue to look at.

I will admit, it is a number that does pop out to many people every time we go through this exercise. However, the Shadow Minister of Sport will recall that there has been one time in the almost three years that I've been a Minister, one time that someone called for my resignation and that was due to Bermuda losing—not losing, but being put on a list regarding its, . . . its—

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Yes, its compliance with the WADA Association. So that speaks to how important BSADA is to making sure that our athletes who are going and participating, like the sailors, like the swimmers, like the triple jumpers, so that they are compliant with going to international competition. So, it is a figure that while it may jump out, and while we may like to see other figures come closer to that, it is one that is extremely important. And you don't notice it until something goes a little left and then we really do understand the importance of BSADA.

So, I would just like to put in here that Ms. Debbie Hunter does a very good job as the Executive Director of BSADA regarding the work that she does to make sure that we remain compliant and remain up to the standards of which WADA is seeking. Because there are horror stories all over the world. And I know the Shadow Minister would attest to countries that are way below the compliance mark for clean sport.

Question regarding $330,000, page B-238 under Athletic Awards 2023/24. It says the number of athletes increased without equal increase in money, meaning available support is lower. Does this mean that we need to increase our funding? The Bermuda Olympic Association's elite athlete fund is separate from our fund. Their funding is for Olympic sports. Our elite athlete funding is for all athletes and in all sports.

Question—grants and contributions. National stadium increase. They've asked for the detailed breakdown in the original and revised estimates and what the expectation of the current amount was. What changes will happen to the changing room facilities? Maintenance? Investment updates, et cetera? When will they occur? If you look at page C-7, there is an increase of Capital Development for the NSC. And it is $800,000 for 2025/26. This will allow for the continued maintenance and upgrade of the facilities. Out of last year's funding, the new changing rooms have been purchased. And they should be installed very soon.

As the Shadow Minister did allude to, that facility is one that I am at often. And I have asked the question many times. I asked, Well, how soon can we wait? And I'm happy to report that we should see some cranes in the area lifting those tiles out and putting new ones in.

Diving participation—considering the investment that we made recently in diving boards at the facility, diving participation numbers have remained steady. Dive boards were replaced for safety reasons and the boards that were there were no longer suitable for use. So, I will tell you this. This is another story. You know, I like my stories. And the Shadow Minister, I don't know where he was this day, but there was a time last summer, I think it was about June or July that I took the opportunity to go up to the National Sports Centre.

I took the opportunity. I went up to the National Sports Centre and I sat on the bleachers and there were two athletes, elite athletes, that were going through their paces. And they were swimming, and their names were Jack and Emma Harvey. I am sure he knows them well. And as Jack and Emma Harvey were going through their final participation to represent Bermuda in the Olympic games, due to great coaching by the national swim coach of Bermuda, as I was sitting there, there were many youngsters.

There were some that were from a football camp and they were sitting on the bleachers as well. And there were others from another camp called Star Diving and they were all sitting there and the . . . what do you call it? The Aquatic Centre. Bleachers were full of children and young athletes who were excited to see our former Olympic athlete Ms. Katura Horton[

Perinchief] as she was putting Star [Diving] Camp and, as well as her mother, through this diving course.

So, I know that while we may not see it year round, I do know that the diving platforms are used by a former Olympic athlete. And it was very, very heart-warming to see that the same pool was being used by two different sports: the sport of diving, which we have an Olympic athlete, and she was the Chef de Mission that went to Paris. So, it was a really good use of the National Sports Centre.

So, I will say that the diving platforms and the participation numbers have remained steady. That would be something that we could look into and get those exact numbers but it is always good that we have to replace the diving boards that are not safe because at any given time, someone like maybe the Minister may go up and decide that he wants to do a couple of one-and-a-halves or two-and-a-halves off the platform.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: And take the PS and everybody else with me.

[Laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: So, we have to make sure that those diving platforms are safe at all times. But thank you for asking about that. I'm sure Ms. Katura Horton-Perinchief will be happy that we recognise her diving camp here. And we look forward to the day that we will have additional Olympic divers representing Bermuda as we have swimmers who often represent Bermuda at the Olympic Games.

Can we give a breakdown of participation of the National Sports Centre? More people using the fields, pool, track and considering the significant investment in the facility? I can tell you that every day—every day, every evening, every morning, this stadium is being used. It's to the point where I'm putting a lot of pressure on the new facilities manager, Mr. Steven Douglas, Jr. A lot of pressure on him to make sure that the fields and the facilities are in top condition. We have youngsters who are up there early in the morning before the sun gets up, going through their paces in the sport of football.

As you know, we had a massive tournament, even with rain. The Kappa Tournament had unprecedented amounts of rain this year. I was in a conversation and they said, Well, I think we're going to have to cancel the tournament because the fields cannot take this level of rain. And it was the facilities manager, Mr. Douglas that said, Please don't disrespect my workers like that. We put a lot of work into keeping this field in pristine condition. And even after the tournament went ahead the following day, there was no excessive wear and tear on that particular field. But we are seeing that the traditional carpet is starting to show its age, and we are going to put some investment into that to bring the carpet back to the days that, you know, Minister Haywood and Minister Weeks used to play football on those fields.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: No? I see the former president of the BFA is questioning if these Ministers actually touched the carpet, but we'll leave that for another day. It just goes to the investment that we are putting into these fields.

So individual users of the facility are not tracked on the free North field. The Shadow Minister would know that is a track that we have made available for individuals to walk and jog on at any time that the facility is open and it is free of charge. So, we do not track those users. For paid users, and those are the users that like to use the rubber track, the pool, the gym, the hockey, participation has increased year over year following when we had to shut down the facility for COVID-19.

You will continue to see that as more usage happens, we will have to make sure that we are keeping this facility . . . but it's important to point out that the facility is an ageing facility. It is . . . you know, it has served Bermuda well and continues to serve us well. But I will tell you this, as the Minister responsible for Sport tries to go to CARIFTA Games and other sporting events, the National Sports Centre, which is in the constituency of my ministerial colleague who sits to my left, Minister Lightbourne . . . I will tell you it is a facility that we can continue to be proud of in the Caribbean region. And I look forward to seeing her up there a lot more.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Yes, absolutely, yes.

There was a question about . . . what was the date that the track was laid and the lifespan of that. The 400-metre track was resurfaced in 2020 just prior to the unfortunately cancelled CARIFTA Games, and it has a 10-year warranty. There is, you know, with anything there are some slight spots that are going to be repaired this year. And we look forward to that track continuing to serve us and our athletes well.

Considering the lighting investment, which would impact the electricity bills, can I provide the percentage of savings due to this lighting investment? Absolutely. I am happy to. The total electricity savings due to the renewable energy project, which includes the full change out of lights, has produced an average of 51 per cent savings in the electricity bill. And of a facility of that size that is significant savings.

An Hon. Member: Say that again.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Yes, one more time. I will happily do that. I think that the Minister responsible for Energy and the MP for that area wants to hear that again. A 51 per cent saving on average due to the lights being changed out for this renewable energy project.

We have had (in the past issues) regarding high electricity consumption regarding the National Stadium update on the solar project. Is it fully operational? What is the reduction of power since it was put in place? Is there a maintenance contract and what is it? Again, these are some of the detailed operational matters of the Board of which is in charge of the National Sports Centre. I will answer the parts that I do know that they have shared with me and others I will seek to get in their annual report, which they have to report—or produce.

The project is partially complete. In the process of completing the application bulk generation single-use licence. It's expected to be submitted before the end of the month. Give me a second.

The Chairman: And for the listening audience, we are now about 40 minutes out from our . . . four-hour time limit. We are debating the Ministry of Tourism and Culture and Sports, Heads 20, 52 and 71 and the Minister is actually responding to questions that have been posed by the Opposition.

And so once again . . . and he is currently just talking about the National Sports Centre and going to go on to some other—

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you. It's expected to be submitted before the end of the month with parts of the facility being operational again. There's been that 51 per cent saving, which includes energy that's exported to the BELCO grid. The maintenance contract will be negotiated once the system has been fully commissioned.

How many National Sports Bodies utilise the National Sports Centre? Is there a breakdown of which sports are participating? And I'd be happy to provide that, Mr. Chairman. And is there a plan to increase the numbers? Absolutely. Always. Wherever we can support . . . again, support doesn't come in just financial. There are ways that we can support by usage of our facility. So, the answers of the National Sport Governing Bodies that are utilising the National Sports Centre are rugby, football, cricket, hockey, sanshou, athletics, Special Olympics, aquatics, to name a few.

And we always are advocating to increase the numbers that are using the National Sports Centre, and this is something that you remember that they only had the opportunity to use the facility two weeks before competition. We have increased that to use it free of charge two months before the competition, but even in some of these they have found the investment to make into using this facility, which will increase their participation on the world stage. And we can use field hockey as an example. I think that that is the only certified top-notch field hockey pitch on the Island. And they are using it. They are going to tournaments as we recently saw in Mexico, they are qualifying to additional rounds.

So, we can see that these facilities are causing our National Sports Governing Bodies to get recognised on the world stage and keeping our athletes in top-notch form. It is important to also know that National Sporting Governing Bodies can apply to utilise the National Sports Facilities, the gym, the pool, the pavilion, the classroom—again free—for two months before international competition. And I want to repeat that because everyone thinks that this usage is just maybe for a field or just for a pool or just for . . . but it's the other facilities that are available up there. Okay?

So, I'm happy to give up the bench press for a little bit so that you know the other athletes—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Can you—what's that?

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Elite? Wow.

One of the ongoing issues as stated by the Shadow Minister responsible for Sport, was a lack of audited financials. The National Sports Centre again is a quango. They are working with the organisation to get all outstanding audits complete and current. I think that is the Office of the Auditor General. They are presently working on the year end of a couple of years back and once we get caught up, I can guarantee you, Mr. Shadow Minister, that you will be the first to know.

How many lifeguards are being used at the stadium? Do they rotate? Do they change around during the year because it's not enough money to cover? Lifeguards are not employed year-round. Lifeguards are employed during the summer months to cover events and group parties. Because I can tell you this, Mr. National Swim Coach, I don't think it is a good use of funds or Government funds to have a lifeguard on duty while your elite athletes in the swimming pool are going through, especially like the Honourable Member from consistency 12 who says that he was a top swimmer at one point. I don't think we need . . . we don't need lifeguards on duty as he comes and does his butterfly.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: No, you said freestyle. That's what you said it was. Freestyle. Okay, so we do not need lifeguards for those. So, we have dialled it back a bit when the Honourable Minister from constituency 14 organises her constituency Back to School party up there. We will make sure . . . we definitely have lifeguards on duty to make sure that her constituents from the Cedar Park area are safe in that wonderful pool facility that we have. But, no, the lifeguards are not employed year-round.

Facilities regarding the programme, page B-238, under Sports Development and Sports Programmes. We spent a lot of time building the pool.

Absolutely and I want to just . . . I think that . . . I believe the Minister that was responsible for the pool was Minister Glenn Blakeney, I believe, under the Premiership of the Honourable Ewart Brown.

The Chairman: That is correct.

Hon. Owen Darrell: So, I would like to recognise him for his foresight in building that pool. I think it was in advance of the NatWest or Island Games at some point. So, thank you for the vision that that former Progressive Labour Party Minister had to build this pool. And the time that we spent building it, I would say was time well spent.

How are we developing programmes in swimming and how are we developing athletes in the area? And I will tell you this, there has been some talk at . . . way back that, you know, is this pool worth it? That's what they have asked. They have asked, Is this pool worth it? And I will tell you that discussions—not in this place but at other place—with swimmers, the national swim coach, a former Olympic diver. They can tell you that the investment that we continue to make in this pool is proving dividends.

I don't think you can recall the last time that there was the Olympic Games that did not have a swimmer from Bermuda in it. You have to go back a very long time. And that brings me to one of the amazing features that the NSC does have and that is an Olympic memorial—not a memorial, not a memorial . . . Olympic—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —Statue, commemorative plaque there where all Olympians that have ever participated in Bermuda are there. And on that we have Ms. Katura Horton-Perinchief, who conducts an annual dive camp to identify and develop young divers. West Pembroke School, which we know is in the constituency of our Premier, has an annual Make a Splash programme designed to teach all students the fundamentals and proper techniques of swimming as well as general water safety. There are also a number of swim schools and individuals, people who swim for fitness.

There are other aquatic activities which include water aerobics and water polo. So that's one thing that I want to do. I want to grow the sport of water polo in Bermuda. And I did have the opportunity while I was visiting the swimmers in Paris last year. I had the opportunity to go to some water polo events. And I can tell you just the competitiveness that not only happens above the water, as you are passing the ball, but the real athletic ability happens below the surface of the water as to how they are jockeying for position in this water polo.

That is something that I'm going to look to see if I can do. And I'll call on the Honourable Member who represents constituency 7 where that club, also known as Cleveland and Harrington Workmen's Club, resides [to see] if she would go to the membership and maybe talk to the vice president and anybody on the membership committee to see if Cleveland County might actually put in a water polo team. Maybe Devonshire Rec. And maybe North Village, the champions. Minister Haywood, maybe the champions. Maybe Western Stars, as they're waiting to get their field built. Maybe they will say, You know what? Let's try water polo. But these are some examples of some of the increased—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: The increased sport. You know, I'm sure that many of those pools out in the Fairylands area have some water polo specialists as well. And we would love to have them come up to the National Sports Centre and use the facilities that we are investing in to grow other sports that many Bermudians may not know and have too much knowledge about.

A question was asked about the Sports Conference. Mention was made under objectives, as far as digital signage, and when and where can we expect to see these signs come into fruition? The Sports Expo will happen in September of 2025, and more information will come. I encourage everyone to watch this space www.sportsandrec.bm—that is sports with an “s”—and the digital signage will first start on the Government Islands and we are in the infant stages of this project. But I'm sure that the Shadow Minister responsible for Culture will have his eyes peeled on these digital innovations that are going to come very shortly.

There was a question . . . what's that?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Yes. Permission, permission. Yes, I have to make sure I go through the Minister of Innovation.

[Laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: And the question on page B-242.

It was mentioned that there's an increase in camping, which is now close to 6,000 and reaching capacity. Is there any potential avenue for growth that we can look at next? Maybe an empty venue that we could consider for camping, the camping that we are considering are on our Government Islands. I believe that the camping permits for beaches and parks will fall under a different Ministry and that is the . . . I think that comes under the Minister responsible for Parks and Environment. So, we are specifically talking about camps on islands, and I don't think there's many spaces because those camping spots fill up very quickly, just like our Summer Day Camp Programme—when registration opens, I think for this one it was 1 April.

I inevitably always get emails and calls and texts asking, Minister, what can you do? My family is looking to camp over Cup Match. And I can tell you . . . it is a foreign concept to me because at Cup Match, there's only one place I go and that's to the game to watch cricket. But there are individuals who have been camping on these islands for Cup Match as long as they can remember. So, we have limited space on our Islands, and we do the best we can to not only upgrade those facilities but to accommodate all campers and all families as they request.

Page B-237, there was a question about our mission statement with an increased participation in sports. We also have equitable access while private programmes have expanded to be less cost prohibitive. Does the Ministry have plans or thoughts or an inclination to support a programme like the White's Island sailing programme? As I did say I had a short stint in the sailing programme. I wasn't very good. They used to stick me on the side of the boat and tell me hold the rope. I didn't really have much of a . . . much of a role, you know, Honourable Member from the other side.

But this programme was taken over by the private sailing clubs many years ago as they have the means, the instructors and the vessels, to carry on the sailing programmes. Maybe in the near future there will be a partnership with the sailing programmes. But I mean if anybody's looking to see my skills as soon as Whitney gets that boat done, I'll be down at the Flatts area to sail the fitted dinghy that comes out of the apprenticeship programme.

But with that said, Mr. Chairman, I have gone through every single question that was asked by the Shadow Minister of Sport. And now I will turn my attention in the time that I have remaining to go through the questions that were asked by the Shadow Minister with responsibility for Culture.

The Chairman: And that would be 25 minutes. You have 25 minutes remaining as this will end at eight o'clock.

Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Chairman, thank you. And I will make sure that I get through these questions. By the looks of it, it looks like I will get through it in about 24-and-a-half minutes.

[Laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: So, I would just like to just go through it and go through the questions so that the public get the detailed answers [to the questions] asked by the Shadow Minister and his colleagues.

So, the department objective, the first one was on page B-258, and it was a suggestion to add creative industry so that people can make a living off their creative contributions. How are we cultivating the next generation of creatives? And I would say this question does make me smile because I do recognise that as one of the younger Members of this place the Honourable Shadow Minister is very much engaged in creative. I think that he would consider himself a creative, I believe.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: So, you know I am happy to give the details of these.

While the budget may not label a single line item as "Building a Creative Industry," the funding is absolutely there. It is being currently used strategically. This year we increased the Grants and Contributions by 36 per cent, which is no small feat in these times, Mr. Chairman, allowing us to fund more creatives across a variety of disciplines.

We have expanded the Cultural Apprenticeship programme to support hands-on training in areas that may be at risk of being lost. That also has the opportunity to employ our future employment opportunities. And in 2024/25 it looked like two different traditional Bermudian masonry approaches and scientific research.

Going along with that, with the answer to the question, the MakerSpace is functioning. And it is a functioning creative hub. It is used for workshops. It is used for preparation to shows. It is used to film productions. It is used for rehearsals and if the Shadow Minister, with responsibility for Culture has not gotten up to MakerSpace, I would encourage him to go up. Have a look. Just make an appointment, I guess with the Acting Director of Culture and go up and have a look at what is up there.

Just recently one of my constituents who goes by the name of Wayne Raynor, also stage name "Fire Rain," has put some videos online of him actually using the MakerSpace for various rehearsals. So, creatives across disciplines use this resource to build. They use it to collaborate, and they use it to earn money in this creative field. This approach may not be flashy. I know everybody would have liked for us to get a brand-new building and kit it out and fit it out with all the newest and fancy creative innovations, but it works and it is working.

We are actively funding artists. We are actively supporting the infrastructure. We are actively investing in programmes that make the arts a viable path, not just a passion, but a path for all Bermudians. And, Mr. Chairman, I would say that that is service at its finest.

So, the next question, will we be seeing a more concerted effort to weave creatives into the Bermuda tourism product through marketing and advertising? And I'm glad that question was asked, Mr. Chairman. Mr. Chairman, the Department of Culture is reintroducing, as I said in the brief, the Rendezvous Gombey plans, as it was detailed in the budget brief. And that is specifically geared towards visitors. Right? Because right about now we know that Harbour Nights is happening and that is one opportunity for our visitors, for the most part, to see our Gombey's performing. But if they are unable to get down to Harbour Nights, if they are indulging in some of the wonderful restaurants that we have for our tourists, you will see that they may not have the opportunity to see a Gombey performance.

They may not have the opportunity to get to the 24 May parade or the Heritage Day parade on Friday where we have nine local Gombey troupes performing. They may not have the opportunity to get to the Gombey Festival, which we have at the Botanical Gardens that brings hundreds and hundreds of people out to engage in this. So that is why we have put this Gombey Rendezvous in place. It will definitely align with the Bermuda tourism product and this programme is being shared with the Bermuda Tourism Authority. It's being shared with our hotel partners at the Bermuda Hotel Association and visitors are all very welcome.

The Department of Culture Works with the BTA often. There's this narrative that the Government does not work with the BTA. But here we have it. An example of how the Department of Culture works regularly with the Bermuda Tourism Authority, and we recommend Bermudians for their advertising and for their promotions.

When it comes to animation. Where is the support level? How does the department intend to implement support into those objectives? The department had a film (as I did mention) in the Gold Bermudian series on Michael Frith and by a very, very talented animator, Mr. Kyle Simmons. There is a well-equipped computer in the department's MakerSpace there at CedarBridge and we are eager to have any aspiring animators come to us and use the facilities.

You can reach out to the Department of Culture at www.culture.bm because . . . animators are also welcome to apply to the Bermuda Arts Council for funding for any project that they would like to have. So, I thank the Shadow Minister responsible for Culture for raising that and helping me to highlight the great things that we are doing and the potential that we have in the area of animation.

It was mentioned that a tradition-bearer programme was coming back in 62030, Cultural Education. The Shadow Minister has asked me to provide clarity on how one becomes a tradition-bearer and what are the requirements? What are the criteria? The Department of Culture works with a range of community advisors, educators, cultural stakeholders to identify tradition-bearers. While there isn't a formal application process, individuals are typically selected based on their recognised expertise, their cultural knowledge and ability to teach or demonstrate traditional practices. The focus is on those who are actively engaged and preserving and sharing aspects of Bermuda's heritage.

So, what that means is, you know, there are many people who will sit down around Cup Match or a parade and you may have an uncle who will tell you how great he was as a carpenter. Who will tell you how great he was as a mason, but he may not be, you know, actively engaging in the trade. And although we appreciate and we recognise the contributions of all Bermudians, when we want to put these tradition-bears in schools, we want someone who is still working in the trades and has the modern and local knowledge so that our students can get the best tradition-bearer experience possible.

Can you give a sneak peek on the fancy floats regarding this year's theme? Well, I don't know. I'm getting pretty good. I can tell you where most people sit off at the parade, but I do not know where the Honourable Shadow Minister does watch the parade with his family. But I will say this. I'm sure that he will be at the parade. And it is designed by a Bermudian artisan, Mr. Ian Tucker, who is born and raised in Bermuda. Ian studied at the Ontario College of Art and Design and went on to build a decades long career in animation, film and immersive digital experiences.

Although this Bermudian is based in Toronto, he remains deeply connected to the Island and continues to find ways to contribute creatively to Bermuda, including coming home to build the Department of Culture's float for the parade. Our team is going to have a look at it, as soon as the debate finishes. I will tell you this. They were more than happy to put down their parade preparations to make sure that you got the answers that you needed for this cultural debate. They may have liked a different day, but they were more than happy to serve the community and giving the answers to this. But right after I finish and I think I have, what 14 minutes? So right after that, Mr. Chairman, they will go. They will check out this parade and I'll make sure that someone from the department gets a picture when it is done.

But at this time, I do want to take a moment to thank all the parade participants who have spent late nights from February—late nights putting the finishing touches on their floats this week. Costumes, regalia. I talked to someone, Mr. Chairman, a leader of a particular majorette group—and I will not name them—but they told me that there are appointments as early as 5:30 am to get their makeup done so that they can come out on Front Street and perform for us.

So, I would just like to say, as we are debating Culture, that there are some individuals who may not appreciate the work that goes into preparing for the Bermuda Day parade. And while the gaps in the parade may be 15 minutes, they may be 5 minutes. They may be 20 minutes. I want everyone this year to remember the preparation that our creatives have put in their regalia, their floats, their costumes. Because just as we are excited to see this float and just like the Shadow Minister is excited to see the Department of Culture's new digital float, these participants—60-plus, Mr. Chairman, are excited for Friday and excited to share what they have been working on for many months.

There was a mention of a Cultural AGM. Can we hear some information of what are some of the things that the cultural stakeholders throughout the department will do, what we do well or do not do well to support them and the work that they do? Based on the feedback received during the Cultural AGM, we are doing certain things well. And I will tell you what they are. The Department of Culture has gotten feedback that we have great visibility during Heritage Month. We are celebrating local artists in multidisciplinary fields. We are providing inclusivity. We are promoting cultural heritage through lectures. And the things that we can improve on, like was mentioned in this debate, we can improve on funding. We can improve on areas of cultural initiatives. We can improve on creatives focused on their job board, creative-focused job board. And we can do a little bit more in full opportunities. But I would say to the Shadow Minister responsible for Culture to watch this space because there will be some movement in the area, finally of a films commission. So please watch this space.

Has the Minister or department ever considered a film studio to cultivate the film industry in Bermuda? I will tell you this: recently Hustlerz Entertainment filmed some of their shows in the MakerSpace for an upcoming film production, with an original twist on a Bermudian storyline. They gave fantastic feedback on the versatility of the MakerSpace and how grateful they were for having a free creative space for them to work in. And I will tell you it's this type of feedback, Mr. Chairman, of why the Department of Culture are happy to serve the people that they do in this space.

The department's current focus is building on foundational support through funding, creative space access through MakerSpace and initiatives such as the mentioned Gold Bermudians film series. And this will continue to grow local capacity first before we pass that over to what's to come of the eventual film commission. And I think that there are some very eager creators ready to get that up and going with the support of Government and other entities.

There was a question regarding 799 Culture and Entertainment Support. People mentioned that training on their craft can be expensive. Absolutely. Is there anything included in that line item regarding affordable training or courses that can be offered to local artists for their development? And just like we talk about the long-term athletic sports development which we talked about a little earlier, the Bermuda Arts Council again led by the amazing Shanna Hollis offers semi-annual education and experience grants that awards $2,000 for workshops, certificate programmes, residency fees and travel costs associated with achieving these goals. All Arts Council opportunities are available at www.artsCouncil.bm. The Department of Culture also offers creative culture labs, professional development series throughout the year.

They asked for a breakdown on 6881, a breakdown of what these cultural activities were under this line item. The contributions under object code 6881 support a range of culture activities that align with the department's mandate to promote Bermuda's heritage and creative sector. To illustrate this in 2024/25 these included sponsorship of public lectures, such as the Masked Freedom Gombey Emancipation event with Doctor Chapman, which I mentioned in the brief, support of heritage events like Heritage Month, Yoga, Cup Match films, the Chewstick Open Mic, Bermuda Day fun, support of Gombey troupes. These activities all varied in scale but were selected for their cultural value, accessibility to the public and alignment with the department's policy goals.

On page B-259—National Cultural Policy was mentioned. Can you give details? In May 2021, the Department of Culture officially launched the National Cultural Heritage Policy for Bermuda. So that's the policy of which I was speaking of. It is not one to come. It is one that we've had for four years now. The overarching goal of this policy—the overall goal of this policy is to inspire national pride and to support the deepening of our shared identity. The policy also aims to ensure that Bermuda culture is embedded in every level of everyday life.

You can view it at www.culture.bm and there are six primary goals for this National Cultural Heritage policy. They are to promote culture and develop our creatives, to preserve and protect our cultural heritage. And I will tell you, Mr. Chairman, when I was an educator there was a course, and I think Minister Alexa Lightbourne may have been one of the first to do it, and it was called Preserving Our Heritage. I do not know if she was a part of that, but as a former Miss Teen Bermuda, I am sure that that course was beneficial. As she wore her crown. But that was the second one. Also to include culture in our national development plans, to establish cultural connections, to assist in cultural administration and to implement and review the policy.

Mr. Chairman, as I have gone through those, I would just like to point out that the Department of Culture are so excited, Mr. Chairman, to have Head 52 fully debated and discussed, because the work that they do, while it may not be something that everyone is interested in—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —and something that everyone is a part of . . . well there's a lot happening in here tonight, Mr. Chairman.

I see pictures. I see jerseys, man. A lot happening. But it must be that time of the month, Mr. Chairman. It must be Heritage Month in Bermuda. And I would like to take this opportunity, Mr. Chairman, as I have been doing so over the last couple of days to remind our Bermudians that our culture and our heritage is very unique. And a part of that (as we are debating in the other head) includes our sporting culture and our sporting heritage. And it is very important.

One thing that I did notice and this kind of ties to both, Mr. Chairman, is that a couple of months ago, when a team that is very, very close to the constituents of the area I represent and a team that Minister Haywood has very close ties to. I think his family members play on that team as he used to play and be on the executive. But I say that to say this: that in 2025, Mr. Chairman, when the North Village community or the North Village Community Club won the Premier League, and they also went on to win the FA Cup title.

As we are debating culture and we are debating sport, I would like to point out that there were North Village legends that were at that field, Mr. Chairman. And the club took the time to recognise those sporting legends because in this particular instance—and it's not just the North Village Community Club that originally came from constituency 15, Pembroke East. But it is those clubs and clubs throughout Bermuda that recognised that the sporting history and the sporting legacy that comes through their clubs and permeates through communities like the Harris's Bay and like Bailey's Bay and like St. David's and others, is a major part of Bermuda's culture.

And I would go so far to say that as we sit on the sidelines and see our cultural parade on Friday, that there will be examples of creatives who have been part of this parade. There will be sporting organisations and the like. And it is important for us as Bermudians to make sure that we keep these traditions alive.

One of the first things that someone took a shot at me on, I think it was Twitter. Somebody took a shot at me years ago that they said—

An Hon. Member: Who are you?

Hon. Owen Darrell: They said, Minister Darrell, what does he know about cultural traditions like sport? What does he know about making kites? What does he know about Gombey's? And I was happy at the time to, as they say, "share my credentials" in these areas, through that wonderful app. And this just goes to show—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: No, no, no, no. It was not. It was not. Sorry. Yes, be sure . . . it was not the Shadow Minister responsible for Culture.

But I say that to say that it is important for all Bermudians to make sure that they recognise, honour and know their traditions. I make a kite every year, Mr. Chairman. Whether I fly it, that might be a different story. But I make one every year to make sure that these traditions are held alive.

So Mr. Chairman, with that said, I hope that the answers that have been provided through the technical officers—and I would just like to recognise my Permanent Secretary, Mr. Shivon Washington, the Financial Controller Mr. Mannard Packwood and others who are not here. The first female director of Sport, Ms. K. Charryse Bean. I would like to also recognise her technical officers, the Acting Director of Culture Ms. Carlita Lodge, who everyone will see on Friday. Also, I have to recognise, as she did depart in this fiscal year, the former Director of Culture Dr. Kim Dismont-Robinson, I'd like to acknowledge her as well.

So, with that said, Mr. Chairman. We are pleased to give these responses on Heads 52 and Head . . .

The Chairman: [Heads] 71 and 20.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you.

The Chairman: Minister, would you like to move your heads?

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I move that Heads 20 and 52 be approved as printed.

And, Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee rise and report progress and ask for leave to sit again.

The Chairman: Are there any objections?

No objections.

So approved.

[Gavel]

[Motions carried: The Ministry of Culture and Sport, Heads 20 and 52 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26; and the Committee of Supply rose and reported progress and asked for leave to sit again.]

House resumed at 8:00 pm

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Deputy Speaker, in the Chair]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2025/26

The Deputy Speaker: Members, it has been moved that the Committee rose and reported progress and sought leave to sit again. And it is reported that that was approved.

Any objections? There being none, we shall move on.

Members, I understand that there is only one item that we are doing today and that is a motion that is being led by the Minister of the Cabinet Office.

Minister, you may now take the floor.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Hello, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Good evening.

MOTION

CITY OF HAMILTON PLAN 2025

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Madam Deputy Speaker, I move that the House now take under consideration the following motion, notice which was given on the 14th of May 2025:

BE IT RESOLVED that this Honourable House approves the City of Hamilton Plan 2025, pursuant to the provisions of section 11 of the Development and Planning Act 1974.

The Deputy Speaker: Members, it has been moved that this House take into consideration the City of Hamilton Plan 2025 motion.

Are there any objections to that?

There being none, Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Madam Deputy Speaker, we stand at a critical junction for Bermuda's capital city.

Today, I rise to speak not merely about a document of policies and maps, but about a vision; a new framework to guide the growth and identity of the City of Hamilton through the City of Hamilton Plan 2025. This plan represents a departure from the outdated prescriptive planning policies and propels us boldly into a more sustainable, adaptable, and human-centred approach of urban development.

Madam Deputy Speaker, what we present to this House is the result of years of consultation, research, and careful deliberation. It has been shaped by the voices of stakeholders, guided by the expertise of planning professionals, and inspired by the successful global models tailored to Bermuda's unique context.

Madam Deputy Speaker, one of the most frequently asked questions I have received throughout this process has been, What is the maximum height a building can be under this new plan? Let me be clear. There is no fixed numerical height limit within the City of Hamilton Plan 2025.

An Hon. Member: Aah.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Madam Deputy Speaker, we have moved away from the rigid, prescriptive model that imposed a cap of 138 feet OD, an approach historically tied to retaining a coordinated approach to sensitively managing building heights across the city thereby preserving the Cathedral's visual dominance. That approach may have served an architectural function in the past, but, in practice, it has often stifled investment, innovation, and urban vitality. Instead, this plan introduces a responsive, discretion-based framework. Height will be assessed based on location, design quality, context, and the proposal's overall contribution to the city. Proposals for tall buildings, whether 15-, 20-, or even 30-stories, will not automatically be rejected, nor will they be rubber-stamped. They must earn their height.

Madam Deputy Speaker, each project must demonstrate that it enhances the skyline, protects key views, improves the public realm, and integrates with its surroundings. It must also be assessed by submitting a visual impact assessment, be sustainable, and demonstrate public value. This approach is not unique to this plan. We have already successfully adopted the North East Hamilton Local Plan 2022. That plan, debated and approved in this House, has approved that discretion-based planning allows for quality urban regeneration without sacrificing character or coherence.

Madam Deputy Speaker, however, the significance of the City of Hamilton plan extends far beyond building heights. This plan reflects a profound strategic thinking of how a modern capital city should function. The former 2015 plan, while valuable in its time, was based on conventional, rigid zoning approaches that separated uses, fixed parameters, and often resulted in delays, appeals, and frustration among investors and developers.

Madam Deputy Speaker, in contrast, the 2025 plan embraces placemaking as its guiding principle. It prioritises how people experience the city over rigid design parameters. This means developments will be evaluated on how they contribute to a vibrant, walkable, safe, and welcoming environment, not merely whether they tick a box on a list. The aim is to create a city that people live in, not just work in. A city where housing is accessible, culture and commerce coexist, open spaces invite community life, and streets feel alive after 5:00 pm.

Madam Deputy Speaker, another transformative element of this plan is its integration of climate change considerations into core planning policies. Sustainability is no longer an afterthought. It is embedded from the outset. The plan encourages energy efficiency, use of renewable energy, sustainable drainage solutions, climate resilient materials, and design. This is particularly vital given Bermuda's vulnerability to hurricanes, rising temperatures, and ageing infrastructure. We must plan for the city we need in 2050, not the city we inherited from 1950.

Madam Deputy Speaker, this plan also adopts principle-based zoning systems. Instead of an arbitrary distinction between zones that limit innovation, the plan outlines broad land use districts and allows for more flexibility. This gives planners the tools to make judgments based on merit, impact, and alignment with the plan's objectives. This reform will lead to fewer unnecessary planning appeals, shorter decision timelines, greater scope for investment opportunities, and more agile and responsive system of urban development.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I must also address the economic rationale. The City of Hamilton has encountered significant challenges in recent years. Office space vacancies are high. The demand for traditional retail has declined, reflecting global trends. E-commerce and evolving work patterns mean the city must reinvent itself; not merely survive but thrive. The 2025 plan facilitates this reinvention. It permits mixed-use development, promotes cultural and creative industries, introduces new housing options to intercity, and encourages greater integration of technology, green space, and inclusive design.

Madam Deputy Speaker, the pedestrian experience is paramount. While parking is necessary to support the functionality of the city, the plan (under the banner of placemaking) seeks to prioritise pedestrian moving over vehicular movement. This approach aims to restore the balance towards walkability, accessibility, and quality public spaces. The city that is appealing to pedestrians is appealing to people, and people are the lifeblood of economic revitalisation.

Madam Deputy Speaker, this is not simply about buildings. This concerns a vision for Bermuda's capital that we can take pride in, a city that fulfils the needs of today with aspirations of tomorrow; a city that encourages residents to live downtown; a city where tourists discover it's not just a business district, but a vibrant urban experience. A city that embraces height, yes, but also humanity.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I urge all Honourable Members to support the City of Hamilton Plan 2025. It is bold, flexible, and forward-looking. It represents our heritage while preparing for our future. Let us not tether Hamilton's potential to the constraints of the past. Let us elevate our sights, both literally and figuratively. Let us approve this plan, and with it, affirm our commitment to a capital city that serves everyone.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion? I recognise the Member from constituency 10.

Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

We on this side of the aisle definitely support this initiative to revitalise the city, given its current state and what it can become. Absolutely, we are in full support. Creating a city that's innovative, where commerce supports the community, 100 per cent.

We are also mindful of the fact that we have an opportunity to basically become the benchmark that other jurisdictions will follow. So, if we do this correctly, this can have a profound and lasting effect, basically a legacy project. I am also reminded of the fact that in the city, in its current form, there are a few problems that need to be addressed that I'm sure the City of Hamilton Plan has considered.

Absolutely, when you are considering pedestrianising the city, there's going to be a reliance on parking, and then we have to collect the parking to the city. Perhaps consideration is being given to a renewable electric vehicle shuttle service to get persons from the outskirts into the city itself—similar to what you would have in other jurisdictions as a hop-on hop-off, which will take you to the points of interest, historical and otherwise.

I am also hopeful that in the City of Hamilton Plan there will be a city centre, a community centre, something where the youth can go to get the support that they need, where it's safe, homework support and families can be nurtured.

I am also hopeful as well that the issues that currently exist in terms of loitering and aggressive behaviour and panhandling that currently exists will be addressed in a strategic and meaningful way. And also, in the process of developing and designing the city, that there will be an opportunity for young persons to receive scholarships and perhaps apprenticeship opportunities as part of the design process. I would also hope that as part of the city plan that Sessions House—where this Honourable House is meant to sit—will be considered an area of priority to be repaired so that we can take our rightful place and run this country.

Those are essentially my submissions. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

I recognise the Member from constituency 17. Member, you have the floor.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Good evening, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I rise on my feet today pleased to support the City [of Hamilton] Plan 2025. As the Minister responsible for Economy and Labour, governing or presiding over a Ministry which is responsible for economic growth, economic development, and the expansion of jobs, the city is a vital economic hub to Bermuda's sustainability.

I think what you will find in this plan, Madam Deputy Speaker, is that this plan is transformative. It is focused on the future, it is focused on change, and it's focused on ensuring that it is inclusive of residents, visitors, and workers. It ensures that we have the infrastructure in place to have a sound economic hub. It is poised to ensure that we remain a bustling, sophisticated, blue-chip business jurisdiction.

Our city is safe, our city is clean, but our city is in need of modernisation. And this plan allows for a platform to modernise, to move forward, to embrace the past but understand that we are progressing into the future. There are some areas of this plan that intersect directly with the policy initiatives set out in the Ministry of Economy and Labour.

One of which is the work we're doing around entrepreneurship. It is no doubt that the City of Hamilton is a retail core. And in order for our entrepreneurs and business community to thrive, they need the appropriate commercial space to operate. And this plan embraces that. This plan ensures that we have areas dedicated for retail and commercial activities. I appreciate the way in which the plan looks at mixed-use areas—not just mixed-use sites, but mixed-use areas within the plan. Because the plan embraces two things. One, that we want to encourage more residential development in the city, but we can't lose our commercial and retail footprint within the city as well.

And so, this plan works hand in hand to achieve those two items. And I think the plan appropriately calls them mixed-use districts. And you will find set out in the plan the level of development that can take place in each portion of the city, creating unique communities or subcities within a city.

I am generally interested in the plans for North East Hamilton. While we do have a Minister responsible for our Municipalities, I am the Minister responsible for Economic Empowerment Zones. And we do have a carve out within the city of two Economic Empowerment Zones now. One would be the South East Hamilton Economic Empowerment Zone, and one would be the North East Hamilton Economic Empowerment Zone.

While this plan did not envision that the Ministry of Economy and Labour would move at the speed of light in terms of creating a South East Hamilton Economic Empowerment Zone, it certainly embraces our historic North East Hamilton Economic Empowerment Zone. And so, what the team underneath the Cabinet Office have actually done is they have ensured that the City of Hamilton Plan coincides with the North East Hamilton Local Plan that was developed in 2022.

And so, the plan complements the plan that has already been established to create our economic bustling hub in North East Hamilton. I like how the general principle of this plan is to ensure that we create greater levels of economic activity and growth within the local community within North East Hamilton. And so, I'm pleased that planning permission for developments within North East Hamilton will be in alignment with the North East Hamilton Local Plan.

Many may or may not know that we have an Urban Development Agency. The Urban Development Agency's primary responsibility is to facilitate investment in North East Hamilton. You know that we have what we consider to be approved residential schemes. And the Urban Development Agency facilitates these approved residential schemes. But those schemes have to be in alignment with the North East Hamilton Local Plan. While two separate documents, I'm pleased with the merger because oftentimes we call things apples and oranges. With not understanding that we can put the two together and make a fruit salad.

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

Hon. Jason Hayward: So, they do not work in isolation, and it is complementary.

But the aim also is to look at specific areas in our city that are poised for economic revitalisation. Embrace that more can be done and have a future focused approach to how development happens in those particular areas.

The other area of critical focus that this plan touches on is increasing the residential population in the City of Hamilton. The housing capacity is a major impediment to economic growth and development within Bermuda currently. And we believe that the city has the potential to unlock and expand our housing inventory. We are encouraging residential development in the City of Hamilton. And so, we have also a scheme called the approved residential Hamilton scheme which looks to encourage development in the City of Hamilton.

We want to ensure that the city is a vibrant city where persons can work, live and play. We want to ensure that our city transcends beyond some of the dormancy that you find after 5:00 pm in the evening. And that there can be more activities carried out in the city.

We want to increase the residential population of the city. We believe that more people living in the city closer to where they work cuts down on traffic congestion. It also allows the country to realign itself as it pertains to freeing up housing inventory outside of the city proper. I believe this plan recognises that there is great potential for the city.

I'm pleased with what the Minister has articulated in terms of building heights. Often that has been a restriction for developers as it pertains to them getting the return from developing. It's very expensive to build in the city. And so, they want to ensure that they can have a building size that can allow them to get the return on their investment. And as a result of that, I'm glad that the Minister indicated that there will be a greater level of flexibility as it pertains to developing in the city.

I like how the policy objectives are written. They are not written in a concrete fashion. They are written in a fashion that is flexible, which allows the City Plan to remain a living, breathing document that is extremely flexible for us to work around.

I believe the city calls the specific areas and regions within the city "districts." And that would allow for there to be layers of focused activity from an economic development standpoint and a development standpoint within the city proper so we can focus on different priorities in different areas. For some areas we will require additional commercial real estate, and we will welcome greater levels of commercial development.

I like the whole process of looking to see whether or not we can turn some areas within the city to pedestrian areas. Maybe even have greater levels of vendors in the city, not just at Harbour Nights. We see the vendor potential being unlocked on Harbour Nights and when special events are held in Bermuda. But imagine if we can have city districts that have vendor space built within those districts that allows for greater levels of economic activity for our small- and medium-sized businesses.

The Ministry of Economy and Labour will be engaged in a process of building a national entrepreneurship strategy. Part of that is ensuring that we have an entrepreneurial ecosystem that allows businesses to grow, develop and thrive. The city plays and will play a critical part of that plan.

And so you can see where the city is poised to be the foundation or the cornerstone for whether it be housing plans, whether it be economic empowerment zone plans, whether it be national entrepreneurship strategy and increasing the level of entrepreneurs in the city, whether it be to alleviate some of our pressures on our housing market, this city is vital. And in order for us to operate in alignment and on the same page and not have persons complain about restriction, the plan for the city is appropriate as to lay the foundation to unlock greater levels of success in the future.

I am of the notion that the approach that is taken regarding mixed-use developments is the best approach for any economic hub. I think that we do not want the city saturated with one type of building. We do not want the city saturated with just residential buildings. I think that there needs to be an appropriate mix, and I think that this plan looks at what that appropriate mix is. To the extent that the plan also has minimum standards as it pertains to floor sizes, when we are talking about building in the city as well. What we do not want to see is dormitory-style developments within the city that does not meet the mark of the type of city that we have.

Bermuda is a blue-chip business jurisdiction as I mentioned earlier. And all that we do, whether it's our regulatory environment, whether it's our legal framework, whether it's the planning requirements within the city, all need to be in alignment with that standard. And so, we do see now a shift as it pertains to commercial developments on Front Street and we see that the building that's going up now looks a little bit different. But what it does is embrace a future Bermuda. It's also embracing the reality that we have an expanding business sector that is looking for premium spaces to rent out as well. What was premium years ago is no longer premium now. And so, we are setting a new standard of what that is. And this plan allows for more development in the City of Hamilton that actually complements who we are from a Bermuda-brand standpoint.

It has a good mix of preservation and forward-thinking approaches. And so, when speaking to the Minister when this plan came forward, there was a high level of consultation. There are some areas where we can say there certainly needs to be improvement. Like it continues to baffle me why we would have parking on our waterfront. When that can be—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Jason Hayward: Hold on, hold on—

[Laughter]

Hon. Jason Hayward: Well, we did have a waterfront plan and then—

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Jason Hayward: So, hold on.

But it tells you that we can unlock opportunity and we can find places to ensure that persons who commute to work in the city via private transportation have areas in which they can store their vehicles while we can maximise capacity on the waterfront as well.

And so those are my comments, Madam Deputy Speaker. I thank the Minister and his team for the thoughtful development of the plan. I know there was widespread consultation. I know that members of the Government engaged in that consultation. The feedback was taken on and changes were reflected in the final document.

So, kudos to the team. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

[Crosstalk]

The Deputy Speaker: I recognise . . . okay, I recognise the Member from constituency 20.

Member, you have the floor.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

I suppose the Minister for Municipalities wants to go second.

The Deputy Speaker: Is your microphone on? Is your microphone on, Member?

Hon. Michael Fahy: It is. Is that better?

The Deputy Speaker: Yes.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you for bringing this to the House. I know that the Department of Planning has been anxious to get this put into place.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I attended a very good conference last week, put on by the Urban Development Authority. And I know a number of Ministers were there as well throughout the course of the day. And there were a number of interesting statistics that came out of that conference. I am just going to . . . these are the ones that I wrote down quickly as they went. And that is the cost of building can be anywhere between $400 and $2,500 a square foot. That was from a developer who was there, as someone who is in the construction industry. If my numbers that I heard are way off, I am sure the others in this House who are engaged in construction can say differently. But that is obviously a large sum. We keep that in mind when we think about development. And in the City of Hamilton that may very well be higher, I do not know.

As well we heard a number of different figures throughout the course of the day based on assessments of houses that are on the land valuation registry. Other data that people have in different areas from the Chamber of Commerce have pulled down from various sources to say that we need about 2,500 units in Bermuda to start ensuring that we have adequate housing. And, of course, we also have the Home survey that said there are about 1,100 people facing homelessness in Bermuda.

Those are sobering numbers and as has been pointed out by a number of speakers already, this plan does make reference to the necessity for residential building in the City of Hamilton. Now that is something all of us can support. I wrote about it a number of years ago saying how important it is to have residential developments in the City of Hamilton and make the city a vibrant place to be. I think there's never going to be a disagreement on that.

But this plan does lay out a number of things that developers, whether it's housing, residential . . . sorry, retail or international business or other types need to be considering. And one of them is pedestrianisation. But a lot of them are different reports that need to be put forward.

And with that said, one of the statistics that was said by the Director of Planning at the conference from last week was that 60 [per cent] to 75 per cent of planning applications are deficient. And she encouraged developers to engage in a pre-consultation process before even purchasing property. And that is going to become all the more important when you look at the City of Hamilton Plan. Because there are a number of reports that are required for development in the City of Hamilton. And if 60 [per cent] to 75 per cent of planning applications are deficient, do not blame the Department of Planning. In other words, if you are not getting your applications in the correct manner . . . so they were very clear about that. And I think the Minister will no doubt agree that it's important for those types of pre-consultations.

The other sobering statistic was that 90 per cent of building permits are incomplete. So again, if you engage in the proper pre-consultation and pay attention to these plans and actually spend the time to read them, maybe those putting in applications can get them correct. I just think those are important things to take note of.

Now, more substantive comments on the actual document itself. Just a few things and maybe the Minister can answer them when he does his wrap-up this evening. I am just going to take you to a few pages and refer to some notes that I had made on them.

One of the primary items in the City of Hamilton Plan is to create a pedestrian-friendly environment.

Again, we can all get on board with that. It's disappointing that in all the years that we have talked about pedestrianising the city, it has never really been done. I would encourage the City of Hamilton and . . . whatever the result is going forward and how that corporation is made-up, whomever is in the positions to make the decisions about pedestrianisation that they actually take this plan into consideration and really, really think hard about it.

There are any number of areas that can be pedestrianised. We have heard for years about lower parts of Reid Street to be pedestrianised. In fact, I wrote a couple of years ago to the Corporation to ask them to consider the part of Burnaby Street with a number of restaurants that are now on that street to be pedestrianised, as ideas to try and make the city more vibrant and encourage people to spend time in the city, if they feel safe that they can walk around.

The plan makes reference to any number of different cities. We have got Lancaster, California, we have seen in other instances . . . and if any of you spend any time looking into it, you will see that Spain has made massive investment in pedestrianising cities, and some are in fact almost fully pedestrianised. And again, the figures speak for themselves that it does actually encourage use in a city. It encourages people to move into a city centre. It encourages retail. It encourages cafes and restaurants. Because obviously people are happy to walk around in a safe environment.

So, if—

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Michael Fahy: Barcelona—I hear an interjection. But absolutely, Barcelona has made a massive investment. There is a city in fact called Pontevedra. If you look that up, you will see as well that is a very big example of how to pedestrianise a city. And here we are . . . I heard the Minister of Labour and Economy make reference again to pedestrianisation. I agree. I cannot believe, notwithstanding comments about the waterfront and things like that, that at the very least, I cannot believe to this day that we do not just have a nice green pathway that goes along the front of Hamilton that actually brings vibrancy to the city.

To me, it must be a revenue issue. Maybe that is what it is. But this is a plan. It is not a must for the city to do. But the city has to lead by example. If we are going to be asking developers to follow the number of things that they have to consider, or that the Planning Board has to consider, I should say the Technical Officers, before they allow it to go to the [Planning] Board, the city needs to lead by example. And for that matter, so does the government.

And I think of the old police station building that is sitting there on the corner of Burnaby and Reid, as an empty lot, overgrown with trees and all the rest of it. That's—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: Did I say—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Deputy Speaker: Yes, you said Burnaby instead of Front.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Sorry, my mistake. I think we all know it—the old police station.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Michael Fahy: We can all accept that. But if I have got my mind set, I mean, I can say that slowly because we have heard that a lot this week . . . the old police station building lot. Okay?

The Government should really think about at least taking down the hoardings and making open space pursuant to what this plan says. Lead by example . . . and then others can get on board with that.

I think that is very important. We cannot put plans forward and have nothing that is showing and demonstrating that throughout.

A few other points, Madam Deputy Speaker. When you look at . . . a lot of the recommendations that are in here, again rethinking the city, the community benefits, all amazing things. In a number of instances, what we see is the Planning Board may ask, for example, for a traffic assessment, as an example. Again, when you use the word may and then in other instances you use the word shall or will, it may lead to some confusion.

Again, I would encourage those who are in the development field to engage in that pre-consultation process so that they know exactly what is likely to be required before they go down that road of further development. If it is a may then, surely . . . and I assume the Department of Planning will say to those developers: You are going to need a traffic impact statement in this particular development. Do not ask for it later. These things need to be asked for upfront. And notwithstanding that it is a holistic approach to development, it is very important that the developers who are going to spend a significant sum understand fully the requirements.

In this plan as well, we see references to requirements for renewable energy. And we have had a debate on that already in the budget. But again, we need to tie requirements back to the integrated resources plan, which again is late. So, we have to have some good cross-referencing between the integrated resources plan and what it is that the city is requiring—keeping in mind the issue of redundancy for BELCO.

And I raise these issues because some of those issues are outstanding in terms of that overall plan for renewable energy and how we get ourselves off of using heavy fuel oil and light fuel oil at the BELCO plant. Notwithstanding the desire to have good renewable energy in buildings.

A couple of other items . . . I was a little concerned . . . and again it is just thoughts and maybe the Minister can shed some light on it. There's a reference in the plan to minimum square footage for residential development. And I just query where the figures came from for that suggested minimum square footage.

The Minister of Labour and Economy made the point, with which I agree. Ideally, you do not just want dormitory-style residences in the city—275 square feet for a studio seems rather small to me. I was just looking at some numbers in Manhattan, which is a highly dense city with terribly tiny apartments. It is kind of on average about 350 square feet. So, I just wonder where the number came from. And it also actually says in here (and we have got to be careful), it says that number can be reduced under certain circumstances. That sounds to me like dormitories.

And I would suppose again that is as a result of the development that was at the old LPG building for the Princess Hotel, where they have dormitory-style housing there—for good economic reasons. I am not going to criticise that.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Deputy Speaker: Talk to the Chair, please. Thank you.

Hon. Michael Fahy: I don't think it makes any difference. That was where it was originally. It is an old building. It's an old building.

But either way it is dormitory style housing. And I did not actually realise the extent of it (to be blunt) until I went to the Urban Development Conference where the architect laid out how that was designed, the purposing for it. And again, the reason that is of interest is if you want a vibrant city where people are participating and using the facilities, essentially, that housing is for the workers to go to and from the hotel where they eat, basically work all the time and they are not there at the dormitory full-time because they are coming in and then they are going back to where they have originally come from in the off-season. Store their things there and then disappear. That's not encouraging (in my opinion) a vibrant residential sector in the City of Hamilton, so we have to really be careful about those kinds of developments, I would say.

So again, I would urge the planners when they are accepting submissions to really think as to, yes, it might very well be good to have the numbers. But does it actually then fulfil the desires in this plan for true economic growth? I don't see it. I just . . . I park that there. Again, this plan is holistic enough that that can be worked around because it's not overly prescriptive. Which is, again, welcome.

In terms of the issue of building heights that the Minister made mention of in his opening remarks. I mean that can only be applauded, in terms of what the plan is envisaging. Again, I make no bones about it. I have spoken of it, for a while before I came back into politics, saying we need to build higher. The message from the Government is, and we have heard it a few times now, that, yes, it's important to have more people on the Island, but there has to be housing for those people on the Island. So, it's a kind of a chicken-and-egg situation. You can have the housing, but people need to know what the plans are to encourage the housing to be built in the first place. When you are looking at $400 a square foot, you need to know what you're doing. And then the question comes up from many people is: we don't have much of a land-mass. So it absolutely makes sense to build higher, without any doubt at all.

Again, the holistic approach that's envisaged within this plan certainly will allow for that to happen and for that, I applaud the Department of Planning for taking away some of those restrictions. Now whether we have a 50-storey building or not, that's for the Planning Department to make those determinations—and the Board. But let's also be clear what this does not do. So that no one is under any illusions, it doesn't circumvent the regular planning process.

Still, planning officers will make the submission space and everything that they receive all the pre-consultation process . . . they will pay attention to this plan. They will have the discussions and designs will be forthcoming. There are ideas in here for public art, pedestrianisation . . . there's things in here about possible work with the Corporation to improve public spaces if there's not enough communal space. Great ideas. Again, not overly prescriptive as suggestions.

But again, we have to make sure that we understand that at the end of the day, if the Board rejects the plans, it can be appealed and it is still ministerial discretion. And again, that's not a bad thing. But maybe it's dependent on who the Minister is of the day and sometimes those things are dangerous. One Minister may make a very different decision than another Minister. But there's a comprehensive plan here for the Minister, whoever that may be, over time, to look at these and also put consideration into it.

As well, just for the listening public to understand a little further, the Minister's determination would still be based upon an independent inspector's report, once an appeal is lodged for a building that may have been rejected by the Board. What is of interest here is that the Board . . . and again, the Minister made mention of it in his opening remarks. There's a lot more opportunity for the Board to say yes. Right? A lot of the problems that you see with buildings when people see they're rejected, they say, how can that be rejected? And then we blame the Board. And then you blame the planners when in fact, if the Planning Act says "X," the Board can't approve certain things. The Minister can. And that power shall be used in an appropriate way in all circumstances. I think that's useful to keep in mind as well, and notwithstanding what this plan says.

A few more points if I may. In relation to Consultations, page 27 (it is reading like a Budget Book) 4.6, paragraph 3.2.

[Laughter]

Hon. Michael Fahy: It lays out there in the consultation list the number of potential consultations that may have to happen. And it's a lengthy list. There are (what?) maybe seven or eight here of different government departments, historical building societies and the like.

We need to ensure that those timelines are kept tight because time is money with developers. And what you can't have is, we buy the property and say now we're going to develop it and now we're still waiting for a report from whomever it is on this list. They are the Advisory Architectural Panel, the Bermuda Arts Council might have to be consulted, I presume because there's wording in here that suggests that there may be a request of a developer to put in public art.

But again, who makes that decision? I presume it's the Bermuda Arts Council says [whether] that art is suitable or not. But again, one would hope that the Department of Planning is cognisant of timelines and says, If you don't come back with us within 14 days, your opinion is not going to be taken on board. Notwithstanding the desire to ensure broad consultation. But again, if it is too burdensome, it is too much bureaucracy, developers simply will not develop, they will not be interested in participating.

In relation to the issue of open space, I see in the policy that there's a desire to make sure, if possible, or . . . I think it's something that says there has to be private open space within residential developments. I think that's how it's couched. I'm sure the Minister can correct me if I'm incorrect. Seems burdensome. To a developer, these are lovely things sometimes, but again $400 a square foot, with a bit of open space, I don't know. It may be a lovely thing to have, but again, are we asking too much? And I just flag that and place that there.

In relation to communal space, the plan does envisage that there can be consultation with the City and Planning to perhaps enhance existing public spaces through work with the developers.

Parking lots. It's a shame almost that we didn't get this out six or seven months ago to prevent the rise of some of the parking lots in Hamilton, where there are empty lots. I would submit that going forward what the City and what the Planning Department should be looking at is in the event that there is an empty lot (as I have made mention of the old police station building), that it becomes communal open space. At least on an interim basis.

If there is intended development, which may take a year or two years before the ground is broken, if you want a safe city and people feeling like they want to walk around—which is what this plan is envisaging—heavy residential use, people using the city, not parking in Hamilton . . . then don't have any parking lots at all on these empty lots. And I think that's what this plan is envisaging. So that's a good thing. No more parking lots, I think, in the retail sector. But that should extend elsewhere as well.

Again, I think that's . . . I might not be totally accurate about the sections, but either way, it would be fantastic rather than leaving a lot empty, that it might be converted to some other space on an interim basis. Maintained by the City of Hamilton, if that's what it takes—to cut grass, whatever, just to make something aesthetically pleasing and fulfil the desire for open space in the city.

I just note on the plan as well . . . for those of you who did not look, if you look at the map of historic areas, it takes in quite a large area of . . . basically all of Front Street. Now the issue with historical designations is that it can lead to higher costs. And I put that there because of the level of consultation here with historical societies, others wish to opine and the number of listed buildings. I think, believe it or not in Bermuda on the list are 791 across the Island of listed historical buildings of various grades. And I think the number that I heard the other day is 61 of those are in the City of Hamilton.

And again, yes, we like to retain our building heritage. We like to retain Bermuda design and, correct, we do not want to just see a carbon copy building to building. But again, we have to be cognisant of the costs. Especially if we are going to build higher. And that remains my concern. If we are going to attract investors and attract the ability to build higher and have residential buildings, then sometimes there is a trade off in terms of cost. I put that there.

A couple of other points. I was very pleased to see a desire in the plan to see the end of the City Hall car park eventually. That's fantastic. We are just going to have to start getting used to walking, even in the heat. Notwithstanding my colleague's remarks, with which I agree, about the City of Hamilton taking on board this plan and putting in place some form of transportation to get people to and from the car park, some people may say it's only a few blocks. But we know in August, when it is at the height of heat, nobody really likes to walk that. It's a hard . . . it is a hot walk for people.

So again, this has to be led . . . it is not within the plan itself, but the City of Hamilton has to keep this in mind now, since I do not think they objected. They have obviously been heavily involved in the process. They have to put their money where their mouth is in respect of these things.

Let's see . . . if you bear with me for one moment.

Again, we have touched on the pedestrian zones.

Oh, a practical point. And it is essentially putting a ban, almost a ban, on roller shutters. And there would have to be very good reasons for that. Well, that has to align with the guidance from the police. And it has to align with the guidance that we are getting from the security companies that say exactly the opposite. If you talk to your local parish constable, he is going to tell you, put your roller blinds on if you want to stop your windows getting bashed in. And if we really do not want to do that, we have to make sure that other agencies are aligned to say, look, that's not actually what we're looking at.

I think what the plan is envisaging is roller blinds and security blinds put on the inside of windows for all the obvious reasons. For anyone who goes away, and you see roller blinds, they instantly become covered in graffiti, and it becomes very unpleasant. It makes the place look like it's unwelcoming. So, no doubt that's the reason behind that potential plan.

In relation to parking . . . we have dealt with that.

And finally, yes. Is the ageing infrastructure within the City of Hamilton? And of course, with more residential developments anticipated, with further and higher buildings, the issue that you have is an ageing physical plant. Will it be able to keep up? And how much investment is the city going to have to make to fulfil this plan? When we are envisaging to make sure that wastewater is dealt with properly, the sewage issues that need to be dealt with, and we all know very well what happens if that is not handled in the correct manner.

If too much fat, oil and grease are put down the drains and those kinds of things from numerous restaurants, you end up with issues that I will not talk about at the moment, but we all know what an ageing physical plant means. So, there is going to be needed massive investment to get this off the ground in terms of that physical plant.

Overall, as I said at the beginning of my remarks, great, great work. I know the planners spent a good couple of years (at least) on this. And, again, let us lead by example and do the things that we can, or that the Government can do and the city can do to demonstrate effectiveness.

Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

I recognise the Deputy Premier and Member from constituency 29.

Member, you have the floor.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Let us hope that tonight is a precursor for the rest of the years to come.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Because it was very good to see Members on the other side in full support of this plan.

But I will say, before I touch on some of the things that I want to touch on, that I am not in much disagreement with what the Shadow Minister of Housing and Municipalities had to say. I think a lot of the things he said make sense. And the good thing about it is that us, in this House, we have the power to change things—and change things quickly if we so desire. I am sure that as the Member said, there is a lot of work that has been put into this plan. But I would suspect that there are going to be many tweaks to come.

I would like to say to Minister Rabain, You have made history tonight, Minister. You should be proud of it. We have been talking about building up in this country for years. And, Madam Deputy Speaker, my first week as Minister of Housing and Municipalities, I met with the Housing Corporation, Bermuda Land Management Company and the Corporation of Hamilton, within that first seven days. And it is funny, because I said to all three of them that my task is to build housing in this country for our people. And I told each and every one of them that I want them to start thinking up, not out.

You would probably be aware, Madam Deputy Speaker, that in the country we have about 181 acres that is zoned residential 1, 2, or rural land—182 acres. So, we have space in this country to build out, but a lot of that space is not all government space. So, I can tell you that we have had serious conversations within the Ministry about how we are going to build housing in the country. And whilst this House has been informed of the plans that we have—and you will hear more about that on Monday, so I will not give too much away—I can tell you that everyone associated with my Ministry knows that I want to go up.

And it is not only in the city. You will know that . . . You would know, Madam Deputy Speaker, there is a complex called Harbour View down at Southside. Only the first phase has been done. That is another task that I will put to our people. They said, Listen, pull out the plans, dust them off, and let's start doing some pricing because that was a project that I think having not run on to the times that we did (and you can talk about COVID-19 and everything or the other challenges) . . . But I have already (and I will put it on public record) told the Premier You want housing? I am going to need money. Whether it is inside the city or outside the city, we are going to need money, and we need it quickly. So, everyone that I have talked to within my Ministry and within the quangos knows exactly where I am heading.

The good thing [about] this plan is now we will hear no more complaints from developers, construction owners, individuals, [or] organisations. You will not hear the word No anymore. Now we need to start putting visions into actions. And I am really, really excited about this. And some of the things that . . . Lord willing, if I live long enough, we are going to see it to fruition.

The great thing about this, Madam Deputy Speaker, is that this is going to create short-term opportunities [and] employment opportunities (Minister of Economy) and it is going to have long-term employment opportunities. It is going to cut down (hopefully, if we can get to the pedestrian dreams that we have) on traffic in the city. But one thing it will do, it will add a buzz to the city. The more and more of these developments that we can get up and as quickly as we can get them up, [the more] it is going to add buzz to the city. We all know what it is like—

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, we do have buzz. A lot of buzz, too.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Hats off to him. I will tell you what; Mr. Buzz himself will be happy, I am sure. He seems to get his fingers in a lot of pies. But hats off to him. He is a hustler. That is for sure.

So, I think that this will be great. If you think what this Government has done with this plan, with the creation of the economic zones that we have created under this Government, we know that we have reduced the importation duty on construction materials. All these things that this Government is doing is going to create economic activity in the country.

We know that Brookfield is building down on Front Street. Hopefully, this, along with some of the other things that this Government has done, is going to encourage more overseas investors to look at Bermuda seriously. And I have to believe that as the concrete gets poured, as we sit here tonight, on that building on Front Street that there are other developers and other overseas investors looking at doing the same.

The other good thing that I am really hoping that this creates . . . and as the Minister of Culture . . . I do not see him. Oh, he is still here, the Minister of Culture. This gives us the opportunity to create a culture, a mix of cultures. And it does. It gives us that opportunity to give a mix of cultures in the city, living together, mixing together, and really making this Island a buzz of mixture of culture that could be great for us. So, I think that is another great opportunity that this will create.

With regard to some of the things that the Shadow Minister said . . . and he will be happy to know that I have the ear of the Minister responsible for Planning quite often. He would know that a lot of these conversations we have had . . . So, as you spoke, I said: Man. Everything that MP Fahy is saying, he is right on point.

And you are.

And as a developer in this country, I can tell you that for one of the buildings that I built a few years back, Madam Deputy Speaker, I waited eight months—eight months!—after I purchased property. I came to find out (you talk about consultation!) . . . I found out that you have to have an artifact of some kind if you built a building on Front Street. So, you can imagine, right? You look at the little artifact that Sir John Swan has in front of his building. Ask him why it is there. He had to put it there. And some of the laws that we have on our books (I am sure because I have had conversations with the Minister) we just have to get rid of.

And as the Shadow Minister said, whether it is the arts [or] whether it is the architectural features, these are the things that just discourage folk from wanting to develop. At one stage, I can tell you before I even dug a hole down on Front Street, I said, You know what? Do we want to go through this? We have been waiting six months. Do we want to continue? But those are the types of things that I know that this Minister is going look at like he is looking at everything else.

Now, the other thing that the Shadow Minister talked about and he was concerned about was the size of a studio of 275. I am surprised that he did not mention the size of the ones, twos, threes, and fours because they are small, too, in my view. Right? So, I would think . . . and again we are the Government; in this House, we make laws. We can change things.

So, whilst a lot of work went into this document and a lot of good work and a lot of good things are in this document, I foresee that a lot of things will have to be changed and tweaked because the world is changing. And one of the Members that spoke (I do not know if it was this side or that side) spoke about the historical labelling of buildings in the country.

I do not know if anyone is familiar with the Chelsea Apartments down in St. George's. I mean, they look like they have been there for 800 years, and if the termites stop holding hands, they are going to fall down. It is a listed building.

Anyway, the Minister and I have had this chat, so he knows where I am going on that. I remember . . . some folks might remember there was a building on Front Street called the Queen of the East—

[Inaudible interjection and laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Right? Members, the building called Queen of the East . . . What is there now? Right? It is an apartment complex.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Right? Well, I did not buy that, and I did not develop it. I got there too late.

[Laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: But it is things like that, though, that I think that as a Government (no matter who is in Government), it is things like that we need to look at. There are a lot of old rules that you cannot blame the Department of Planning for 100 per cent. A lot of times, you cannot blame them at all because they have criteria by which they have to make decisions. And if the book says they have to turn this down because, you know, that wall has to be blue and not pink, they are going to turn it down. Those are the types of things that we need to change, and we need to change quickly.

So, Minister, thank you for making history tonight. Let's just hope that your children know that you made this history because in 30, 40, 50, 60 years from now, I hope that we have many, many buildings in the city that are very, very high and that many of our people have places to stay—affordable places to stay.

And you have other folks that want to . . . Whether they work in international business or otherwise, they want to stay in maybe a 2,500 square foot penthouse, that they have the opportunity to do so, and I think this is the springboard for that.

Thank you, Minister for bringing it to this House, and we look forward to tall buildings in the city in the future.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

I recognise the Member from constituency 25. Member, you have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes. Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker. And before I get into this, it is public information, but I do have the benefit of some commercial real estate in Hamilton. And for those listening, you can look information up on the parliament.bm website. It says it is not new information, but I think people ought to understand it.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: It is always good to be clear.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes. So, I urge them. I urge members of the public to go to that website and take a look.

I will try to keep it tied to things that have not already been said. If we want things to change, we have to change how we do things, Madam Deputy Speaker. So, this plan is a great step in that direction, and I join in saluting the department for producing it.

I do want to preface my remarks. I am a big fan of the traditional Bermuda architecture. It evolved in a way that was suited to our climate, to our geography, to our places. I am a huge fan of green space. In fact, that is why this plan is very important, so we do not have to encroach upon our open spaces.

So, let's use the spaces that we have such as in Hamilton. And that is something that the OBA has talked about before. And like I said, although I love that traditional Bermuda architecture, and you know, all else being equal, it is what I would prefer.

You know, people say, Why? Why did they knock that building down in Hamilton? Why is that building empty? Those are clearly people who have never had to break out the chequebook to renovate that building or find a tenant who wants to rent that building. They do not work. They do not work anymore. Technology has changed. What people want has changed, and therefore we must change.

So [I am] very pleased to see this plan. And I think there was a line in there that I wanted to quote which is, "The city needs to become a destination." And so, we can look forward to that.

And another way of thinking about it is if a developer would not develop in Hamilton, where would they develop in Bermuda?

An Hon. Member: St. George's.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Well, that would be a close second, I think.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: That would be a close second. Maybe Southampton or Warwick.

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: And the plan also talked about a cyclical process of getting the energy and development going in Hamilton. And often when I talk to people, and they say, Well, what are your plans? How can we grow the economy? How can we get things going? And it looks like nothing will work. No one wants to come here; there is no economic activity. Because no one wants to come here, there is no economic activity. What do you do? It is a chicken-and-the-egg problem. And that is why I liked that I saw in the plan it talked about that cyclical process. So, you can get one project going, and it gets a little attention. Then you can get that next project.

And I was so glad to hear that the Minister of Housing talk about—I am going to paraphrase but he used the words—mix of cultures. And we—

An Hon. Member: He?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Minister.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: The Honourable Member.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Honourable Member referred to the mix of cultures—

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes.

And then it makes me reflect, Madam Deputy Speaker, on, If you build it will they come? So, how do we attract people? We have to build housing for people we have here now. But we probably have to build housing to attract new people.

This is not really the venue for this discussion, but I hope that the Government will think about its immigration plans as it considers how that may interact with this plan and what we want to do here because—

[Crosstalk]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —like I said, if we want things to change, we have to change how we do things.

[Crosstalk]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I will now turn to a couple of specific points. Many have been covered. I did read this last night. It was pretty thrilling reading after my dinner.

Climate change. Definitely we have to plan our buildings to deal with climate change, heat, islands. [I am] very supportive of that. I do not think Bermuda needs to worry about its impact on climate change in the sense that, yes, in a perfect world we would make our decisions so that we are minimising our impact on the climate, but that is not where we are. Our impact on that is low.

Where we are now is, Madam Deputy Speaker, we have cost-of living-issues. We have investors trying to figure out how to make projects work, which we have heard some aspects of that. And I will talk about a few others. So, I would humbly suggest that perhaps the climate change impact should be less about making sure projects do not contribute to climate change and focus [more] on how projects can be adaptable or handle climate change.

And when we think about renewable energy, you know, if it works for the project, if it works for the developer, if it is an amenity for the people in that building, if it checks a box for an investor, go for it. But I do not think forcing people to include it because of a contribution or no contribution to climate change is particularly suitable for us right now where we are today in Bermuda where costs are very important.

Speaking of cost, I saw the reference to development viability statements, and I think we also have heard here from the prior speakers, Madam Deputy Speaker, about difficulties perhaps in making some projects work. So, I think that could be an important component for developers or people sponsoring projects to take their information to the department and explain what the issues are that they need to make a project work.

I was a little concerned because the way I read the plan, I found a couple of things very specific. Well, if you did a building on this lot here, it ought to have this feature. It ought to have that feature. And I am sort of like, you know—again, I am not a Planning expert, but it is going to be hard enough to get some of these projects to work, and be nice, and be attractive and get residents, and tenants, and investors. And perhaps, you know, maybe the Planning Department might reserve its judgment until it sees what people come up with. Not that they are wrong, but like I said, we might not want to put up roadblocks just yet.

And one of my colleagues alluded to sort of process issues. And I like, you know . . . We have talked about what is positive about this being not too rule based. But of course, when you need to do a design, you need to know ahead of time, is this design going to get passed? Because it is very expensive to spin up designs—architects, engineers, you know, you are printing money at that point, Madam Deputy Speaker. So, I was heartened to see that there will be Guidance Notes coming.

And I was heartened to hear the comments about you [being able to] go for pre-consultation. So that will be important, that people can get a cost-effective process in trying to decide like, Can I even . . . Could we purchase this lot? Could we put together a building that we could rent out that people want to live in?

And I think probably the last comment I want to make is [about] parking. I am a big fan of the residential aspect, the pedestrian aspect. I think we all are. When I was reading in the retail core . . . I am a big fan of the mixed-use. I was surprised to see, though, it did not seem like this plan would allow buildings that are in the retail core to have residences that could get an assessment number for a car, while at the same time the plan says there is an abundance of parking in the city. And the reality is, Madam Deputy Speaker, that is just one more thing that is going to get in the way of, say, marketing a project or take away some options from developers.

So, I bring these points up not to be negative about this plan but just to highlight some issues because I think we have already heard about all the good things about the plan and our general support for it. So, we certainly are looking forward to seeing this plan create many successes in Hamilton and to become that vibrant place for Bermuda that we all want it to be.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

[Desk thumping]

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

I recognise the Member from constituency 2. Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Yes. Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: I heard someone interpolate this is not a St. George's plan. It is the City of Hamilton plan. And I declare my interest. I am a Member of Parliament representing the parish that hosts the historic first capital of Bermuda. And I think we have some experience on the balance that is required between being a residential city and a working town.

And I did not invent that saying working town. It was told to me by a former resident who I used to canvass way back in 1998, the late David White. The editor of The Royal Gazette used to say, You know, there is an important thing that you need to have in a town like St. George's. You have to be a working town as well. It is important to provide jobs for those residents.

I think Hamilton at one time embraced that and embodied that. If you walk around the city of Hamilton, if you go to North Hamilton as it is referred to now, I remember when Cleve Wassy used to always refer to it as North Hamilton back in the 1990s, and I believe that that saying took hold in that.

And as I reflect on the historical environment that is contained in this particular plan, . . . But anyway, let me just reflect on one historical spot that is just outside the boundary of the City of Hamilton. Because the City of Hamilton, as we move towards getting more residential again, will not have per capita, the number of open spaces that would make it as viable as I would like to envision it. But I do know an area from a historical point of view . . . I am no pond dog, and I do not play one on the radio on a Wednesday. But I will tell you this, that in the back of Hamilton there is [what is] respectfully referred to as the Pembroke Marsh. And if you want to have the Central Park of Bermuda, there it is. There it is.

I remember 40 years ago in this very House when I used to come. I used to listen, and I used to read budget debates that included much of what would be done with that particular area. That is an opportunity that maybe we need to wrap our minds around because it will provide opportunity for us to make the City of Hamilton even far more dynamic and vibrant when it comes to having outdoor activity for persons who are residents, to encourage families to live there as well.

You know, I heard someone say golf. Geoff Parker on Parson's Road had a golf driving range. My friend Nick Mansell who lives in Durham, England today used to be there. He learned golf there working for Geoff Parker. Geoff Parker's parents, [were some] of the greatest people in golf development in Bermuda at one particular time.

So let us not lose sight of how important it is to put back on the radar screen a very important part, and not for the reason of those persons who had to endure the smell, but to be able to of the pond . . . as the wind, [as] the southern wind blew north. But let them look over those houses at Government Gate and look down and see a vibrant Bermuda-version of Central Park, right there to the north of Middletown and to the south of Government Gate.

You know, in 1992, 1993, thereabouts, I visited Hong Kong to represent Bermuda, and driving from the city out to Fanling where we were playing at Royal Hong Kong Golf Club as it was called then, it was very depressing passing through all those high-rises and the like. I never thought I would live to see the day sitting in this House where I would be in favour of the fact that we have to go up. But as we go up, let us be mindful that there are many young professionals in Bermuda who on the other side of the recession and on the other side of the pandemic would like, in the cellars that they are in today, to be able to afford a piece of Bermuda. Who, if you encourage . . . find ways to encourage them to buy a property, maybe a condominium and the like, they would be the ones who would then enjoy living in Hamilton.

And when buildings come up with mixed-use, make it be an economic benefit. A developer understands concessions. Let it be a concession that if you put X amount of housing in there according to your ARV (and the folks that you pitch to) that you will get some concessions to put the onus on them. You know, everybody looks to the Government to build houses, but I am old enough to remember when it was Benny Rego, and after him John Swan, and during that time Dorchester Realty. You pick up your paper, and you see houses that you can purchase up and down this landscape.

And in addition to that when the need came, housing was built through Government to supplement. You see them in St. George's in the day. And you see them at Loughlands. I remember when Loughlands was coming up and the like was very controversial but look what it is today.

So, as we look towards the City of Hamilton, let us look . . . It is all right for us to want those things, but we have to . . . Look, I declare my interest. When I was a younger man, social science was one of my majors when I was playing golf representing a major United States university back in the 1970s.

You have to appreciate what the impact socially is in this country. Now, if we have more people living in the city, if we have more mixed-use responsibilities in those particular buildings that we are encouraging to go up, there is a natural synergy to make sure people are not sleeping in the fronts of buildings—that they have got to go . . . Nobody [is] going to police an area more than a landowner or a household resident. They are going to get that person up and moving skippy.

We need to appreciate the value of having some of those young professionals in Hamilton, but you cannot have them living there unless you have some things to keep the city vibrant as well. Bermuda is known to appreciate the arts and the theatre. We have many Bermudians who go overseas today and do very well in the arts. You know, we can sort of be . . . Do not have the dramatic society all the way over . . . I thank them for where they are over by Mount Saint Agnes. It could very well be that these plays are right in the heart so that locals are encouraged to come into the city to see a play and then have a meal either before or after, depending on the age that they are. Those of us a little older tend to go home earlier, so we come and get our meal before they play. You know, those are some of the things that we have to consider.

And you cannot talk about having parking in town and stuff and look at the real elephant in the room. We have got to get people off of the roads, period. We have got to get people commuting to Hamilton by ferries. Let me say that again. We have got the best waterways in the world. We need to move the needle to be able to get people, transportation management, to be commuting into the city. We see businesses. I know one in particular. I declare my interest. You know. I teach on a freelance basis at Newstead Belmont Hills, and for selected times, they commute their guests to the City of Hamilton on a daily basis, Monday through Sunday, to the City of Hamilton and back. And with some cooperation with business and residents there are opportunities for more commuting by water to get people to the City of Hamilton.

We need to, you know, we talk about whether or not on the waterfront . . . You know. We have not talked about really ever since . . .

[Laughter]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: A former speaker that was there, the Shadow Minister came to this House and reversed the plan. But the waterfront houses the container docks. Do we want the container docks there? And if not, where? That conversation needs to be had and needs to be had in a real way for the future of this town.

And while we are on down that area, I have said this . . . and I know we are not supposed to reflect on another debate, but this was another debate in another House. And it was a couple of decades ago. It is criminal that we are sending greaseballs off of Grape Bay. Most beautiful . . . most beautiful . . . And [given] the amount of money that the Corporation of Hamilton has spent on building sewage plants that are not affluent plants, we should be taking that sewage and turning it into at least water that we can irrigate with. But no! We break it down and we pump it out to sea. That is the type of sustainable Bermuda that we need to ensure happens.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: And it is a serious thing. You cannot sit up here and quip at things like that and then in the next breath say you want a sustainable Bermuda. The whales are coming back. They are not coming back for those greaseballs. They are coming back because are not doggone hunting them anymore. A hundred years ago they used to. So, the environment, the climate, changed towards them in the Bermuda waters. We need to change the way we look at the city as we are doing. And I want to commend the Minister because you heard the tone. He set the tone from the very beginning, and it followed.

In the City of Hamilton, we need to have opportunities for those persons who we are going to encourage to live there to be able to walk to their recreation whether or not it be indoor tennis, whether it be indoor pickleball, whether or not it be bowling allies and things like that. We need to go there. We need to go to places.

I remember (boy, I'm getting old now) back in 1979, going to the national championships in Davis, California, and seeing at UC Davis an entire university campus that was completely devoid of motor vehicles. Unbelievable! But the will to have that existed because the mind-set was different. And you know in California they are a little bit more laid back, and you know, they are a little bit more liberal in some respects. It is not too far, and if they did not like to get it in the air, they could go not too far and get it with a glass of wine. But such was that they knew the importance of having a little bit more laid-back community.

As we look at this bold initiative, I feel that there are still things that we must do. As I speak to that important green belt out there that has been a challenge to us for decades now. We must look at the waterfront and the container port and really come up with a solution.

And you know, things are happening in St. George's with that original capital. And some of these very things are some of the things on a smaller scale that I believe that we can get on and do as well. And I am sure those of us responsible that . . . there we will be keeping a watching brief and looking to see how we can incorporate that.

But people make a city. But the people who invest in a city need to be encouraged to be able to have things that incentivise them to achieve some of the things that we need to have happen. And you know, there is a school of thought: build it and they will come. I do feel that we have enough people in Bermuda in need of housing right now. We have enough young professionals who could afford to be able to take up some of the economic investment that a person would make outlay if part of their floors were for . . . This very building here is a prime example. This building here could very easily be . . . each floor be . . . the five floors could have been made into condominiums and sold to five different business owners. Those are the models that we need to look at, but not from a government, you know. As long as the legislation . . . and I know the Minister is very much versed in this because you know his field is akin. So, he will definitely get it. But you know Ministers change. And so, the legislation must reflect the type of sensitivity that he brings to it.

But I am here to say that if you can incentivise for a potential investor . . . And I say that this country survives economically on inward investment from overseas. Not necessarily . . . inward investment that can be multifaceted because in the City of Hamilton over 100 years ago had several hotels scattered around Bermuda.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: I read about them. I appreciate them. Presidents of the United States used to come here and enjoy them. And they will come again too and the people who follow what they do—influencers. Influencers have been coming to this country for over a century, and I appreciate that. And so, in the City of Hamilton . . . And I would venture to say that additional hotels would also look to occupy here as well, which would provide . . .

And one final point. I hear folks talking all the time about the need to get greater inward investment through people. I am going to say this. I have said it once; I will say it again. The Bermuda College presents an opportunity like the university in Grenada, St. George's University, to cause folks to come to this Island to study for one, two, three years a couple of different disciplines that are generic to Bermuda, that are very significant in Bermuda, one being hospitality because with the Princess coming on and other properties (right?) you are going to need persons. There might be young people willing to learn in that field. And insurance—they could come to Bermuda and learn insurance in the City of Hamilton because you have already got in the City of Hamilton housing on Par-La-Ville Road for a hotel over on Pitts Bay Road.

And I just finished saying that 100 years ago, you had hotels scattered around this city, and there is no reason why it could not happen again. And you could educate people from afar who would come here and learn and get a synergy for the country, and then after their two or three years they go. Educational tourism has brought many people to many countries, (e.g., Saint Martin where they are going to live). And we just finished talking about the need to give mixed-use housing incentives to persons who are going to build.

Man, I . . . Anyway, Madam [Deputy Speaker], I am happy to support this, but you have to have a vision beyond. And that vision, I tried to share some of that today as it relates to open space, which goes a begging in the north of Hamilton, as it relates to how we can through education cause people to come to Bermuda and study, as it relates to mixed-use of buildings that are going to be built higher. Some of it could be incentivised for entrepreneurs because the Government cannot do it all. You have got to find a way to excite inward investment.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

No other Members. Minister?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Members, for that robust debate. I want to thank you all for your thoughtful contributions. It is heartening to hear support for the City of Hamilton Plan. As we encourage . . . I am encouraged by the shared vision that all of us have spoken to. This will emerge as a more dynamic, liveable, and forward-looking capital once this plan comes into place and we start to put the things in place. Many of the comments today reflected a genuine care for our community and our city. And I want to thank everyone that did speak.

Whether they touched on vagrancy, transport infrastructure, or the appearance of vacant sites, all these matters are critically important and necessary. To reiterate, the City of Hamilton Plan is a development plan, and it focuses on the land use. It does not determine bus routes or security enforcement. It does not control when a government building is renovated, nor does it set policy for loitering, or the placement of bike racks. But however, Madam Deputy Speaker, this plan does provide the strategic foundation upon which this city can be renewed, block by block, site by site, project by project.

And now, Madam Deputy Speaker, I would like to reply to some of the questions that were put forth.

On building height, yes, I am happy to see we all support building higher, but where appropriate. That does not mean that height is unchecked, and we will have [a] 100-storey building floating around here somewhere. All proposals will be addressed using robust criteria—design quality, visual impact in an urban context. Discretion lies with the Development Applications Board guided by the plan, not the whim or persons' personal preference.

On dwelling type . . . And that was interesting. Thank you for bringing it up, Member from constituency 20 and reiterated by my Deputy Premier. But on the question of size of units, the figures referenced are based on the current building code requirements. And I will say that we are in the process of revising the building code requirements as we speak as well. So that is another thing you will be seeing me come here to get approval from Members to move forward. But in reality, the department seldom receives units of that scale. And for clarity, those figures do not relate to the former LPG building conversion, which was amassed as a dormitory-style conversion, meaning those sizes were just for rooms and the other amenities were shared—so shared bathroom, shared communal areas, shared kitchens, and the like.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: On residential growth, the plan strongly encourages the creation of homes within the city. An increased residential population means a larger customer base for city businesses, more vibrant streetscapes, [a] more viable future for Hamilton's economic core. We must build for those who are here now and for those we want to come. The plan anticipates growth and prepares us for it.

On private open space, we have removed the burdensome communal space requirements from the 2015 plan to improve developmental viability, but we do encourage balconies and similar private outdoor areas recognising their proven mental health and liveability benefits—lessons made abundantly clear during the pandemic.

On Heritage concerns, I almost heard the ghost of Colonel Burch speaking when I listened to the Member from [constituency] 20 speak about this.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: While it is true Chelsea Apartments for instance is a listed building, there are fewer than 10 listed buildings in the city, and all are public owned. The plan supports sensitive development around these assets and actively encourages innovative architecture that draws from Bermuda's traditions without replicating them. We are not demanding carbon copies but thoughtful integration. And I will agree with the Member from next to me (constituency 10) that I do hope that we get back into the House. As a matter of fact, it is something we were discussing upstairs just earlier today when I noted that I was there with (I think it was) about six other MPs that have never stepped foot in that House.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: So, it was interesting to say, to actually know, that there are MPs who have been MPs have never stepped foot in that House, and there probably will be more. But we cannot . . . Because this plan does not speak to whether properties are developed or not, it just helps to guide the development of those properties.

On pedestrianisation and parking, the plan provides [a] strong foundation to improve walkability and active areas within areas like the waterfront, City Hall parking lot, [and] the parks of Reid and Burnaby Streets. Within the retail core, the plan intentionally prioritises pedestrian movement. This area is critical to Bermuda's retail economy, and in the face of global e-commerce competition, we must protect it. Encouraging a high-quality pedestrian experience helps retail businesses stay viable, and in this context, it is not considered unreasonable to limit residential parking in this area.

On preapproval, clarity, and investor confidence, I echo the comments that developers need clarity up front. That is precisely why we continue to promote preconsultation. And yes, we are developing guiding notes and assist with understanding expectations especially on strategic development sites. These sites are governed by design principles not rigid requirements, giving architects flexibility when aiming for excellence.

On adapting to climate change, the plan embeds sustainability from the outset. We are less focused on Bermuda's contribution on global emissions and more on resilience ensuring buildings are ready for increased heat, stronger storms, and higher insurance costs. This is not theoretical; it is essential for our survival.

On changing how we operate, I could not agree any more. This plan is one piece of a broader shift. In coming weeks, I will bring forward statements, ministerial directives, and legislative amendments to address the very barriers of outdated processes that cause frustration for those trying to get projects off the ground. We are speaking with data. We are acting with purpose. And this speaks specifically to the Member from constituency 20 when he mentioned some of the statistics that we heard in the conference last week.

I only received on Monday in preparation for some other things a listing of all of the outstanding building permits because I wanted to know what is happening there. I was dismayed to see that currently there are 372 building permits being worked on. Fifty-two of those applications are still awaiting information from the agent because they were deficient. And the average age of those applications that are awaiting information is 171 days old.

An Hon. Member: Wow! Wow!

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: That is the things that we are facing. And so, when people say, Why is my plan not coming out? sometimes it is the fault of the officers; sometimes it is the fault of the agents who are just not submitting the information even when asked for the information. I am thankful that we are looking at AI processes to kind of catch some of these things at the front end. So, what happens now [is] they have to wait. They are processed by a human, and then there is a process. They are processing it and then sending that information out. And that process has to wait to come back. So, we are looking at how we can streamline some of those processes.

And finally on design quality, the plan requires design statements for many applications ensuring that proposals align with place-making goals. This is not red tape. This is a signal that design matters and that quality development is worth doing it right.

So, Madam Deputy Speaker, Plan 2025 will not solve every problem, but it unlocks potential. It removes unnecessary red tape. And it sends a clear message that this Government in partnership with the Corporation and with the people of Bermuda is ready to deliver a city worthy of Bermuda. Let's adopt this plan not just for the policies it contains but for the possibilities it enables. Let Hamilton rise. Let it flourish. Let it be a place that we not only work but live, gather, innovate, and thrive.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Members, for your support, and I look forward to seeing the City of Hamilton move forward and thrive with your approval of this City of Hamilton Plan 2025.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

[Desk thumping]

The Deputy Speaker: Members, I put to you whether or not you approve the plan. Aye for if you approve; nay for if you do not.

So those who approve?

Some Hon. Members: Aye.

The Deputy Speaker: Those against?

[No audible response.]

The Deputy Speaker: The motion is approved.
Thank you.

An Hon. Member: Yes!

The Deputy Speaker: Yes.

[Desk thumping]

[Motion carried: The City of Hamilton Plan 2025 was approved.]

The Deputy Speaker: Members, that brings us to (I guess) the end of the day, there being no other matters on the Order Paper.

Deputy Premier?

ADJOURNMENT

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Deputy Speaker, I move that the House now adjourn until Monday, May 26 at ten o'clock.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that we adjourn till Monday, May 26. Those in favour?

Yes.

And those who wish to speak to the motion?

I recognise the Minister from constituency 16. Minister, do you wish to speak on the motion?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: On the motion to adjourn, yes.

The Deputy Speaker: Yes.

[Laughter]

The Deputy Speaker: That is it! That is the motion.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

BERMUDA DAY—SHARED RESPONSIBILITY FOR PUBLIC SAFETY

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Madam Deputy Speaker, I rise today with a heartfelt message to the people of Bermuda. In the world that I currently occupy every chance I get, especially before we get to a holiday, I feel it is necessary for me to get up and say something. But as we approach one of our beloved holidays—which is Bermuda Day—I am always compelled to speak not just as a Member of this Honourable House but as a proud Bermudian.

Bermuda Day for me is not just a holiday. Like most of us, it is the celebration of our identity, our culture, and our community spirit. So, what began . . . I will give a little history. I cannot give too much because the Minister of Culture will be speaking himself. But what began as Empire Day and then Commonwealth Day was reshaped on the 24th of May, and eventually it became Bermuda Day.

And I smile when I talk about this here because I know that the 24th of May will always be referred to until a certain generation, age-wise, of people pass on. You know they are stuck on different names and identifications for what we now refer to Bermuda Day. And that is something that we have to really . . . It is time for us to start to really own it, because that is an acknowledgement of who we are.

So, in 1979, we know that Bermuda Day, the title, became official. After the riots of 1977, we had to do something to try to bring us all together, and hence we came up with Bermuda Day.

And that, Madam Deputy Speaker, is supposed to be a reflection of our pride and unity and our cultural expression. Things like when we are out there, we see the half marathon making their way through different parishes, and if other people are like me every year (not so quite much these last few years but before) when I get caught up in the excitement of the marathon I would always say I am going to run next year. But that has never materialised. But it is never too late, you know, for me or anyone else.

And I take note of our parade that goes up and down Front Street, the families lining the roadsides in tents and flags, and the aroma of different flavours like fish cakes and chicken and the like. So, Bermuda Day reminds us of who we are and all that we share.

But the reason I am on my feet, having said all that, . . . I have to shift gears for a minute because it is my duty to speak of a word of caution. While we celebrate, we must also take care. We must be safe. We must be responsible, Madam Deputy Speaker. And we must be aware.

So, I must implore people, Do not drink and drive. And I need to say this with absolute clarity. We should not drink and drive. We say it every year. I have been saying it ever since I have been privileged to be in this role. But we must start to live it this year and every year. If we are going to drink, plan a ride, use a designated driver, call a taxi. And walk if you must. Our roads are too narrow. Our Island is too small. And our people are too precious to lose a life to a preventable tragedy. One life lost, Madam Deputy Speaker, is one too many.

And I cannot get on my feet and not reiterate if you see something, say something. Madam Deputy Speaker, to everyone out there, If you see something, say something. If you see reckless driving, if you see violence, or potential violence, if you see someone in need, you see that senior or vulnerable person who needs assistance, do not look away. We must call the authorities or step in safely, but we must say something. I have given the numbers before about crime stoppers: 800-8477, or you call 911. Because here in Bermuda, we have to move past the habit of saying that it is not my business because here in Bermuda we are each other's business.

So, Madam Deputy Speaker, our shared responsibility starts with our parents. I implore the parents to guide and look out for their children. I implore friends, Look out for one another. And when a stranger is coming by, offer kindness and care.

And I am reminded of an experience that we had last year. I was walking on Front Street with my wife, and I remember stopping to see another float. And I happened to stand on the sidewalk in front of a camp. And somebody said, Hey, Minister, you know I like you, but how long are you going to stand there because I have been in this spot for 20 years? And I am reminded of that because we do these things, like we have spots. There has been tape outside my office for the last month.

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes, you know. And all that is well and good because people have that affinity to our parades and whatnot, but we have to have affinity to self and to other people who are also enjoying the festivities.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I see you slumping in your Chair. It is not going to be long.

The Deputy Speaker: Oh no, no. That is not why. I am listening. I am focused on you.

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay. Yes. You know?

So, I am here to say that public safety is not just the responsibility of the police or the emergency services. It starts with each and every one of us.

So, Madam Deputy Speaker, let this holiday be different. Let this Bermuda Day be remembered for laughter and not loss, for music and not sirens, for memories and not mourning. Let's celebrate without regret. Let's ensure we all make it through the weekend together whole, safe, and proud.

So, Madam Deputy Speaker, let the spirit of Bermuda shine. Let the beat of the Gombeys, the colour of the costumes, the rhythm of the floats, and the respect for our culture remind us of what we are here to protect and to celebrate on this Bermuda Day—celebrate each other.

So, in closing, Madam Deputy Speaker, let's all be safe, be responsible, and be kind, be Bermuda. So, as I take my seat, I wish everyone across this country and in this Honourable House, a joyful, meaningful, and a safe Bermuda Day weekend.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

I recognise the Member from constituency 15. Minister, you have the floor.

BERMUDA DAY—FROM THE STREETS TO THE SOUL, WHY BERMUDA DAY MATTERS

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker. And as we go closer to Friday's main events—as they call it the Heritage Day or Bermuda Day, or even though it is not May 24th there are people that still will always refer to this holiday as May 24th—I want to just align myself with the remarks given from my colleague the Minister of National Security. And while he [is], as he likes to call himself and he is, a pond dog, and as he represents a constituency right next to the constituency that I represent, I think it is fitting that I come behind my colleague. And I speak to the topic this evening, Madam Deputy, From the Streets to the Soul—Why Bermuda Day Matters.

[Laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: I see Minister Hayward likes that one. But in all seriousness, Madam Deputy Speaker, I chose this year not to give a traditional press conference. And I felt that with this being (I guess) the first time that I am in this place, in this role, I would use my 20 minutes in Motion to Adjourn to speak to what it means to actually celebrate Heritage Day in Bermuda. Or as individuals would say, Bermuda Day.

Just a year ago, Madam Deputy Speaker, I invited two parliamentary colleagues from other jurisdictions to join us here for Bermuda Day. And while they graciously accepted the invitation (one was a Minister from the Cayman Islands, and the other was a Minister from Saint Kitts and Nevis), they said, Well sure, we will come to Bermuda, and we will celebrate Bermuda Day. But for the three days that they were here, Madam Deputy Speaker, they could not imagine what it actually meant to be in Bermuda for a celebration of our heritage.

You would think that we were just a small island, 21 square miles. And you would think that our celebrations are small in nature. But what we heard from these visiting legislators from other jurisdictions was that they had never been a part of a celebration of heritage like they witnessed in Bermuda. And that is a big comment coming from especially the Minister there responsible for culture in Saint Kitts and Nevis, because you know they have their jazz, and they have, you know, their version of Gombey on stilts and everything else. But they were blown away by the way that we celebrate our culture. So that brings me back to where I am this evening, and it reminds us from streets to the soul and why Bermuda Day matters.

The streets on Friday, Madam Deputy Speaker, will be full of colour. They will be full of music. They will be full of laughter. And yes, as I just looked at a chat group, [there will be] plenty of tape on the sidewalks. And Madam Deputy Speaker, let me just say that for me, although I am not part of the Corporation of Hamilton who have to go and clean that up if you do not remove it, I do not actually mind the tape on the sidewalks. And I will tell you why, because it is a representation of families saying, This is where we would like to be, Madam Deputy Speaker. It is representative of our tradition. It is a representation that says [that] this is our spot and it is our community that is claiming their space year after year.

Now some may complain about various aspects of the parade, Madam Deputy Speaker, like the gaps or when you hear people shouting, Where is the next group? That is not just impatience, Madam Deputy Speaker, that is passion. That is Bermudians caring enough to want to see the next majorette group whether it be Hamilton Parish Hot Peppers, whether it be PHC Majorettes, whether it be Dust who have been practicing weeks and months at Devonshire Rec. That is Bermudians saying, This is what I came for, and this is what I am waiting for. Whether it be your favourite Gombey troupe—H&H, Place's, SMS, Evolution, Gumby Warriors—whether it be your church group, your school group who are waiting to proudly make their way through Hamilton, it brings us back to what it means to celebrate heritage in Bermuda where you take it from the streets to the soul, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Let's talk about what some people wake up early in the morning to do, and that is watch the Bermuda Day Derby, the half marathon. We know it started way back on Empire Day, but only in this country, only in Bermuda do individuals wake up a week before the event . . . I heard my colleague say that he says every year, I am going to run this next year. But people wake up. I know the great Skolachy, if I may, has done this race. And there are people who wake up a week before, two weeks before, and say, I am coming down. That was the terminology. And do you know why they do it, Madam Deputy Speaker? They only do it to hear people say, Looking good! Looking good! from the roadside. Because that is what it means to take it from the streets to the soul, Madam Deputy Speaker. We do it because we wish to affirm each other. We do it because that, Madam Deputy Speaker, is the soul of Bermuda Day.

I want to go a little deeper in the time that I have left because Bermuda Day for some is a little bit more important. And Bermuda Day has never been just about a parade, Madam Deputy Speaker. Bermuda Day is about people. It is about how we celebrate people and why we celebrate in the first instance. As my honourable colleague, the Minister of National Security quite rightly pointed out, because of the civil unrest that we saw in the 1960s and 1970s, the Pitt Report in 1978 gave us the truth. It told us what many people did not want to stand up and say. Our country was divided. Unfortunately, some may say it still is, Madam Deputy Speaker.

People were hurting at the time of the Pitt Report, and Bermudians themselves called for a new day. Bermudians themselves called for this holiday so that it [would] bring us together. A day for us to reflect what it means to be Bermudian. And that takes us back to the point of why I am making this appeal. I want individuals to remember that it comes from the streets to the soul, Madam Deputy Speaker.

So, for too long we were told that Bermuda does not have any culture. For too long we were told that, you know, we are just a small 21-square mile[s] out in the middle of the Atlantic. But this, Madam Deputy Speaker, is why culture matters. This is why, as I said in an earlier debate, culture and investing in our culture matters. And that is why the theme for this year is very fitting . . . The Future Is Now.

We have got rhythms of the Gombey. We have got [the] poetry of our storytellers. We have got pride in our parade groups. We have got the joy of our dance groups and the talent of our athletes and artists. So, no one can tell me, Madam Deputy Speaker, that Bermudians have no culture. We reject the idea that culture is something that is nice to have. We believe in this Island that culture is essential. And I am proud, Madam Deputy Speaker, to be a part of a Government, the Progressive Labour Party Government, that is backing the belief in what real investment in its people actually looks like, Madam Deputy Speaker.

As we heard earlier, this Government is funding MakerSpace. It is funding cultural entertainment events. It is funding more investment into the Bermuda National Library, youth service, elite athletes, sports clubs, [and] community hubs because this country, this Island, is built on discipline. This Island is built on unity. And this Island is built on dreams. See, Madam Deputy Speaker, I will remind you that Bermuda Day matters, and culture matters because we take it from the streets to the soul, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Every dollar that we take from government and we put into Bermudian talent, it matters. It shows us that the same respect that the actuary on Pitts Bay Road will get should be given to the creative. The dancer from UDP, or [United] Dance Productions matters just as much as the developers who we were talking about earlier. Let me say this very clearly, Madam Deputy Speaker, culture builds community. It creates jobs. Culture can heal trauma, Madam Deputy Speaker. Culture can fuel joy. And when we choose, like this Government has done, to fund culture, quite simply, Madam Deputy Speaker, we are choosing us. We are taking it from the streets to the soul.

So to every parent on this Wednesday evening who is up and they are gluing sequins together for that costume, Madam Deputy Speaker (you may have done this at once or twice in your life before for some little people in your life), to every individual who is going to be marching on Friday whether it be sunshine or whether it be raindrops, to every Bermudian who holds this day, Bermuda Day, in their heart, Madam Deputy Speaker, the Minister responsible for Culture just wants to get up this evening and say, Thank you.

We are proud of you, Madam Deputy Speaker. We see you. And together we are writing the next chapter of Bermuda's story, a story rooted in resilience, a story filled with creativity, and a story driven, Madam Deputy Speaker, by pride.

And I will close here. I wish all Bermudians to have a safe, joyful, and love-filled Bermuda Day, Madam Deputy Speaker. Enjoy it whether you get up early, whether you get up halfway through the day, or whether you stay home and watch it on television. Remember, Madam Deputy Speaker, the future is now. And Bermuda Day matters because here in these islands we take it from the streets to the soul.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

I recognise the Member from constituency 8. Member, you have the floor.

BERMUDA DAY—HONOURING OUR HERITAGE

Mr. Ben Smith: Thank you and good evening, Madam Deputy Speaker.

I just want to give a few brief words as we are leading into this Bermuda Day holiday. I think everybody here has a different version of what makes this holiday important to them. You have memories from growing up in Bermuda and what it meant to you. And each person here will celebrate the holiday in a different way. But I do think it is important that we reiterate some of the things that have been said by the Minister of National Security and the Minister of Culture.

There are a lot of people who have spent the last year preparing for this day, the people who have been building floats and doing training so that they could run in the race, but for all those things they end up being the entertainment for the people who are going to go out and enjoy this day, for many people who will be there to cheer them on. There have been times that some of the people who are there enjoying those activities have been negative towards some of the people who are actually participating, creating that entertainment. And I think it is important that we make sure that we respect the runners, we respect the people who are participating because they are doing this for the benefit of us as a community.

And you have to point out those negatives only because I think everybody here wants this to be a positive day. We have had several really negative days, and I think the community is ready for a positive experience. And that is what we are looking forward to in two days' time. So, I would also like to echo thanking all the people who will be participating in the run, in the parade, for everything that they have done and the entertainment that they will be giving to our community over those days, Madam Deputy Speaker, over Friday.

I also want to make sure to encourage people to have a designated driver because this is a period where people will be celebrating. We are expecting them to celebrate but let this be a weekend where you are safe—safe in your car, safe on your bike, safe on our roads.

But with some of the behaviour that has been happening in our community, we also want to make sure that our young people are safe, that some of the behaviours that have really torn our community apart are not going to happen over this period. Because, Madam Deputy Speaker, what tends to happen is when we get close to holidays there has been a trend that we start to see some of that behaviour. Anybody who are in those communities, please make sure that you are speaking to each other and saying this is not the time for that.

This is a time for us to be celebrating our heritage, for us to be as a community coming together. This is a time for family and friends in whatever way that you want to celebrate this holiday, do it in a safe manner. And I wish everybody in this Chamber a happy Bermuda Day. And all of our community. Let's make sure that it is a safe and happy one so that next week we can come and talk about what a great event happened on Friday and what a wonderful, safe weekend we had. Thank you.

[Desk thumping]

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

I recognise Minister De Silva, Member from constituency 29. You have the floor.

BERMUDA DAY—HONOURING OUR HERITAGE

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I too will join the chorus of Members on both sides in wishing all our people both near and far as we celebrate our unique culture, our spirit, and the beauty of our island and our people . . . Whether you are running in the marathon derby, whether you are going picnicking, whether you are going to spend time watching the parade [OR] spend time with family, I wish everyone a very happy Bermudaful Bermuda Day. Let's honour our heritage, uplift our community and have an awesome weekend.

To the runners, as someone who has run it several times, please start slow, because it is a long run.

And I would like to finish, Madam Deputy Speaker, by saying to everyone here and in the country, let's say a quiet prayer for all the families that have lost loved ones over the past few months and over the past year. And I will end on that. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion?

So, Members, let me just take a moment to echo the sentiments of all of those who spoke with respect to Bermuda Day, and hopefully each of us in our own unique way serve as a model for all that it means to be Bermudian.

Please do have a safe holiday. Happy Bermuda Day when it comes.

Thank you, Members.

[At 10:19 pm, the House stood adjourned until 10:00 am, Monday, 26 May 2025.]

[This page intentionally left blank.]

BERMUDA HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY
OFFICIAL HANSARD REPORT
26 MAY 2025
10:01 AM

Sitting Number 11 of the 2025/2026 Session

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Deputy Speaker, in the Chair]

The Deputy Speaker: Good morning, Members.
We will start with prayers.

PRAYERS

[Prayers read by Mr. Clark Somner, Clerk]

[Gavel]

CONFIRMATION OF MINUTES

[Minutes of 21 May 2025]

The Deputy Speaker: We have the Minutes from 21 May. Are there any objections or corrections?
There are none. Thank you, Members.

[Minutes of 21 May 2025 confirmed]

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SPEAKER OR MEMBER PRESIDING

APOLOGIES

The Deputy Speaker: [Honourable] Members Rabain and Adams have sent their apologies.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

PAPERS AND OTHER
COMMUNICATIONS TO THE HOUSE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

PETITIONS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.
I think we have four statements.
And I will be calling on the Minister for Housing [and Municipalities], Minister De Silva, Member from constituency 29. You have the floor.

STATEMENTS BY MINISTERS AND JUNIOR MINISTERS

BERMUDA LAND MANAGEMENT CORPORATION
UPDATE 2025

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker. Good morning to you.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I rise today to provide an update on the Bermuda Land Management Corporation (BLMC). I am pleased to report that the merger between the former Bermuda Land Development Company (BLDC) and the West End Development Corporation (WEDCO) is now complete, with the exception of the formal winding-up process of BLDC.

As Honourable Members may recall, BLDC was formed under the Companies Act 1981, which outlines specific legal requirements for dissolution. This process is well underway and based on current progress we anticipate that BLDC will be fully dissolved by July 2025.

Madam Deputy Speaker, a particularly positive aspect of this merger process was the minimal cost incurred, as the majority of the work was carried out by employees within BLMC, the then Ministry of Public Works, and Attorney General Chamber's personnel. The primary expenses were related to external legal fees for changing bank accounts and the ongoing BLDC liquidation costs. The total estimated expenditure for the merger is expected to be under $35,000.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I would also like to remind Honourable Members and the public that BLMC is now responsible for managing all properties and operations formerly overseen by WEDCO and BLDC. In the west, BLMC is ensuring a smooth start to the cruise ship season while managing a significant capital project at the North Arm. This project aims to repair and enhance tug dock berthing facilities and is expected to be completed by the end of this year.

Additionally, I can confirm that BLMC—together with the Ministry of Public Works and Environment, the Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture, and Sport, and in partnership with Norwegian Cruise Line (NCL)—will undertake a major redevelopment project at King's Wharf dock. Scheduled to commence in October 2025 and conclude by March 2026, the project is estimated to cost $22 million and will be fully funded by NCL as part of a port infrastructure upgrade initiative.

The redevelopment will involve expanding the dock by approximately 100 feet in both directions, extending to the existing berthing dolphins. It will also include the addition of berthing on the inside of the north camber, adjacent to the tour excursion dock, to accommodate the NCL ferry, Spirit of St. George's.

This expansion of the wharf will yield several key benefits

- improved fendering systems for all cruise vessels;
- increased docking capacity, matching that of Heritage Wharf;
- ability for ships to use two passenger gangways simultaneously; and
- access to service doors for potable water supply and sewage discharge.

Madam Deputy Speaker, BLMC continues to successfully manage its commercial and residential properties, maintaining an occupancy rate of over 95 per cent.

The BLMC owns 89 residential units, all of which are currently occupied except for four that are undergoing active renovations. These units are expected to return to the market by the end of July 2025. BLMC, similar to the Bermuda Housing Corporation, maintains a waiting list for residential units, which currently includes 30 pre-approved clients. Each of these individuals has submitted a completed application with all required supporting documentation, including references from previous landlords and proof of financial capability. The Business Development Department has confirmed that all applications have been thoroughly vetted, and approved tenants will be able to move in as soon as a unit becomes available. In addition, the BLMC continues to receive numerous housing inquiries each week, underscoring the sustained demand for its residential offerings.

Madam Deputy Speaker, in the east, the Water and Waste Infrastructure Project is nearing final completion. Potable water is now being supplied to the Government Water Section responsible for potable water distribution in St. George's. BLMC sewage collection is connected to the St. Regis Hotel and is 98 per cent complete in connecting sewage collection from the Town of St. George's to Southside in St. Davids.

The remaining tasks before sewage transfer from St. George's to Southside can commence are as follows:

- final pump configurations at Market Square/King's Square;
- final adjustments to the new Sewage Treatment Plant.

This work is currently ongoing, and sewage transfer to Southside is anticipated to begin in June.

Madam Deputy Speaker, Honourable Members may recall a commitment to offer the 38 leasehold residential homes in St. David's the ability to transfer their unit from leasehold to freehold. BLMC has commenced this process and will over the course of the coming weeks and months be meeting with the leaseholders to explain the process and requirements involved in completing this long overdue promise. The timeline for completion is, assuming the leaseholder agrees to the transfer from leasehold to freehold, by the end of this fiscal year.

Madam Deputy Speaker, beyond these major capital initiatives, BLMC continues to manage its day-to-day operations without the need of an annual Government operating grant. All operating costs as well as minor capital projects are fully funded by the corporation's own revenue streams.

This significant and consistent achievement, Madam Deputy Speaker, is one that many members of this House and the general public may not be aware. The fact that BLMC is truly self-funded is commendable and speaks to strong financial and operational stewardship of the board and management.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I wish to thank and acknowledge the Board Members: Chairman, Hon. Neville Tyrrell, JP, MP, our Whip in this House; Deputy Chairman, Dennis Lister III, JP, MP; Mr. Jermon Reid; Mrs. Elena Strong; and Mr. Kevin Smith; as well as I would like to welcome new member, Mr. Paul Wilmot JP, MP.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I would like to take a moment to recognise and celebrate the dedicated staff of the Bermuda Land Management Corporation. Of the 58 employees—including managers, supervisors, maintenance technicians, plumbers, and landscapers—53 are Bermudians and 5 are spouses of Bermudians.

This is truly an example of local empowerment and BLMC stands as a model of what can be achieved when an organisation and its leadership is committed to hiring, developing, and promoting Bermudians.

I would like to formally commend CEO Andrew Dias for his steadfast leadership and unwavering commitment. However, I know he would accept this recognition only in the spirit of shared accomplishment, recognising that every success is the result of the dedication and hard work demonstrated daily by the entire BLMC team. I look forward to our continued collaboration as we collectively advance the corporation's mandate: Facilitating commerce, preserving history, and sustainably developing the vested lands.

Madam Deputy Speaker, as the newly appointed Minister responsible for BLMC, I am pleased with the Corporation's current fiscal and operational performance. I am confident in its strategic direction and future prospects.

In closing, I wish to assure this Honourable House and the public that this will not be the last update on BLMC to be given this fiscal year. The board and management are currently evaluating several promising opportunities both in the east and west ends of the Island, and I look forward to sharing more in due course. Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

I call on Minister Darrell. I think he has some papers he would like to present.

Minister, you have the floor.

SHORELINK: REAL-TIME INFORMATION— LAUNCH OF PHASE 2

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, today I stand before this House with excitement and optimism to announce the next phase of Bermuda's digital transformation in public transport. We are officially entering Phase 2 of the Digital Fare Media project, our brand Shorelink, which will bring Real-Time Information [RTI] to our buses and ferries. This will allow Bermudians and visitors to track the precise location of their buses and ferries and plan their journeys with ease and confidence. I am pleased to inform this House that Real-Time Information application is set to launch Tuesday, 5 August 2025.

Madam Deputy Speaker, this initiative represents a significant leap forward in making our public transport system more connected, more efficient, and more user-friendly. As the world around us is rapidly changing, Bermuda is embracing technological innovation that directly benefits the people we serve. The introduction of real-time updates empowers commuters to make smarter decisions about their travel, reducing wait times and creating a more seamless experience.

Madam Deputy Speaker, this development is part of a larger, vision-driven effort to modernise our entire transport network. The Digital Fare Media project, starting with Phase 1, has already revolutionised the way we pay for fares. Passengers now have the option to purchase fares online or through the mobile app Shorelink, providing more convenient, efficient, and secure ways to complete transactions. As of 20 April 2025, the Digital Fare Media project has achieved the following milestones:

- 16,851 new users (including both registered and anonymous customer accounts);
- total sales of $579,343.

These figures highlight the early success of the system and the growing adoption of digital fare options by Bermuda's commuters.

Madam Deputy Speaker, however, this is just the beginning. Phase 2 builds on this foundation by providing the ability for passengers to track the real-time location of their buses and ferries. This is not just an upgrade—it's an entirely new way of interacting with public transport, one that propels Bermuda into a new era of innovation.

Madam Deputy Speaker, our vision is to create a transport system that fully supports and enhances the lives of our residents and visitors. As we look ahead, Phase 3, which is anticipated to launch in November of this year, will bring an exciting new development: Card

Present payment. In this phase, all ferries and buses will be outfitted with validators, allowing passengers to pay directly by tapping their debit or credit card to purchase or pay for a fare. This seamless option rounds out our offering and provides the most convenient way for passengers to complete their transactions.

Madam Deputy Speaker, as we progress with these changes, we are also aligning ourselves with the global trend of embracing technology to solve everyday challenges. Bermuda is not just a place of rich history; it is a place of forward-thinking innovation, where our people are at the heart of progress. With the introduction of Real-Time Information, we're empowering our citizens to take control of their journeys and enhancing the overall transportation experience.

Madam Deputy Speaker, in the coming weeks, the Ministry will be sharing detailed information with the public about how the Real-Time Information applications actually work. This is part of our efforts to ensure everyone is well informed ahead of their official launch. We encourage the public to stay tuned for updates and guidance on how to access and use the RTI system effectively.

Madam Deputy Speaker, this initiative represents much more than just a [technical] upgrade, it's about creating an environment where technology is not a barrier, but a bridge to greater connectivity, convenience, and sustainability. Bermuda's future in public transport is here, and with each step forward, we continue to elevate our Island to new heights.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Minister, I believe you have a second paper you would like to present.

Hon. Owen Darrell: I do indeed. Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

TOURISM INVESTMENT

Hon. Owen Darrell: Madam Deputy Speaker, today, I stand before you to reaffirm the Government's commitment to responsible and resilient tourism development through strategic investments that benefit our Island community. Bermuda, with its rich history, incomparable landscape, and vibrant culture, remains a premier global destination, and it is our collective responsibility to ensure that we continue to enhance its appeal and resilience.

Madam Deputy Speaker, the Tourism Investment Act 2017 was enacted to stimulate investment in Bermuda's tourism sector, an industry integral to our economy and cultural identity. The Act provides a framework to attract, facilitate, and support investments in tourism-related projects, aiming to maintain Bermuda's status as a world-class destination while ensuring, Madam Deputy Speaker, that tourism growth and community are inclusive.

Madam Deputy Speaker, the Act, which enables the establishment of a Tourism Investment Order (TIO), offers a suite of tax concessions and provisions that support job assurances for Bermudians. These measures are designed to reduce barriers to investment, enhance competitiveness, and ensure that tourism development supports Bermuda's long-term prosperity and delivers meaningful benefits to our people and the economy.

Madam Deputy Speaker, tourism projects frequently generate employment opportunities for Bermudians across sectors such as construction, hospitality, retail, and management, while also helping to build valuable skills that serve individuals well throughout their careers. However, it is essential to recognise, the Act specifically provides provision for new hotels that receives a TIO, after six years of commencement of operations, the hotel must annually verify in writing that no less than 70 per cent of its staff are Bermudian. This provision is a critical safeguard to ensure that it invests in the local workforce and contributes meaningfully to the development of Bermudian talent in the industry. By requiring formal verification, the Government maintains a mechanism to monitor and enforce compliance, thereby promoting sustained employment opportunities for Bermudians.

Additionally, Madam Deputy Speaker, this Act also mandates that new and refurbished hotels and new restaurants that are awarded TIOs, must annually verify that they maintain a management training programme specifically designed for Bermudians. This ensures that qualified Bermudians are not only employed in the hospitality sector but are also being prepared for leadership roles within it. Through structured and continuous training, Bermudians are equipped with the skills and experience necessary to advance into management positions. This provision reflects the Government's vision of a hospitality industry led by Bermudian professionals and supports our broader goal of economic empowerment and upward mobility for our people.

Madam Deputy Speaker, in 2024, our most active and dynamic year to date, we saw numerous TIOs operationalised which include:

- Tourism Investment Order—Azura Bermuda became operational in March 2024. Azura Bermuda is the former Surfside Beach Club, South Shore, Warwick. It consists of nine hotel residences and is operating as an upper mid- to high-quality condominium hotel. The seaside pool at Azura Bermuda, according to the premium international magazine, Vogue, published by Condé Nast, is one of the best in the world.
- Tourism Investment Order—Hamilton Princess and Beach Club which became operational in May 2024. This hotel is owned by the Green family which has been based in Bermuda for over 70 years and has developed a long-term investment plan for the hotel based on their extensive knowledge of the Island. I have been advised that the redevelopment of the Bermudian wing, which began in November 2024, has been completed.

- Tourism Investment Order—Rosedon Hotel became operational in December 2024. The property was purchased in 1954 and converted into a small bed and breakfast. The hotel is now operated as a small hotel. It boasts 27 bedrooms, a well-frequented pizzeria, Clarbells and Huckleberry and Scott's are the two fine-dining restaurants.
- Tourism Investment Order—Swan Pyrotechnics Limited became operational in December 2024. Swan Pyrotechnics Limited (SPL) is a professional entertainment operation specialising in safe and high-quality pyrotechnic displays for community and private events. This is the first TIO awarded by the Government for an attraction.

Madam Deputy Speaker, you will note that two new Tourism Investment Orders, namely for the Grotto Bay Resort and Spa and the Hillcrest Boutique were recently presented to this House and was enormously welcomed by all. These two orders are additional and clear indicators of increasing investor confidence and a growing interest in tourism-related development in Bermuda. They reflect the positive momentum in the sector and signal strong belief in Bermuda's potential as a premier destination for tourism investment and growth.

However, Madam Deputy Speaker, I must again highlight that newly established restaurants and attractions are equally eligible to receive these benefits. In fact, we currently have two applications under review for new attractions, which serves as further evidence of the growing interest and continued investment in Bermuda's tourism sector.

Madam Deputy Speaker, given the significant success of TIOs to date under the Act, you will recall that the 2025 Throne Speech announced an initiative to expand the scope of the legislation. This expansion aims to include additional critical sectors, such as smaller guest houses and health and medical tourism facilities, making them eligible for the full range of concessions available under the Act.

Madam Deputy Speaker, the Government is keen to invest in tourism as well as Bermudians. This is exemplified by the Tourism Investment Act which underscores our dedication to building a resilient, diverse, and sustainable Bermuda. We are committed to creating an environment that attracts innovative investments, supports our community, and ensures that Bermuda remains a premier destination in global tourism.

Madam Deputy Speaker, before I conclude, allow me to bring this closer to home with a real-life example. There is a young Bermudian man who attended The Berkeley Institute, who I happened to teach, and resides on Glebe Road. Today, he is employed as a successful and thriving bartender at the St. Regis Hotel, an opportunity made possible in part by the Tourism Investment Act 2017. This young man not only possesses the potential but also has a clear opportunity to advance within his professional environment, with a viable path to hotel management. His story is just one example of many of how this initiative is not only attracting investment but also creating meaningful employment opportunities for our people. It is a reflection of this Government's mission to ensuring that Bermudians benefit directly from the growth and revitalisation of our tourism sector.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister Darrell.

I call on the Minister from Economy and Labour. I believe he has a paper he wishes to present to the House.

Minister, you have the floor.

EMPOWERING ENTREPRENEURS THROUGH ENTERPRISE BERMUDA INCUBATOR PROGRAMME

Hon. Jason Hayward: Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker.

I rise today to share an update on the Enterprise Bermuda Incubator Programme. It is a key initiative of the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation (BEDC) that continues to foster the development of early-stage entrepreneurs and equip them with the resources, knowledge, and support to scale their businesses sustainably.

Madam Deputy Speaker, in April this year, the BEDC proudly celebrated the graduation of the 6th Cohort of the Enterprise Bermuda Incubator Programme. The ceremony was held at Four Ways Inn and welcomed over 40 attendees, including BEDC Board members, team members, mentors, family, and friends, who gathered to recognise the accomplishments of the programme's latest graduates.

Enterprise Bermuda Incubator:
A Pipeline for Innovation

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Enterprise Bermuda Incubator (EBI) Programme was established in 2018 to provide start-up founders with the tools and environment needed to take their businesses from idea to operational. Now in its sixth year, the Enterprise Bermuda Incubator has supported over 50 entrepreneurs, many of whom have gone on to become key contributors to Bermuda's economic landscape. The programme runs for up to 12 months and provides participants with subsidised office space, intensive training, personalised mentorship, and access to local and international networks. The Enterprise Bermuda Incubator is designed to create an environment where entrepreneurs can focus full-time on turning their ideas into viable businesses. Through BEDC's partnership with the Accelerator Centre in Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, the programme delivers internationally recognised training and mentorship that positions Bermuda's entrepreneurs for long-term success.

Participant Impact and Satisfaction

Hon. Jason Hayward: The most recent cohort of Enterprise Bermuda Incubator participants reported significant value gained from the programme. Madam Deputy Speaker, 91 per cent rated the programme positively, indicating it was either satisfactory or very satisfactory. While 55 per cent felt the programme was well-paced, and 36 per cent believed it could benefit from an extended timeline. Notably, 81 per cent said the programme met or exceeded their expectations.

Business Development Outcomes

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Enterprise Bermuda Incubator has had a clear and positive impact on business growth. All participants indicated their businesses experienced growth, with 36 per cent reporting significant improvements and 64 per cent noting moderate gains. Growth areas included revenue, customer acquisition, new hires and export activity, among other business gains.

Skills Gained and Programme Strengths

Hon. Jason Hayward: In addition to these business gains, participants reported notable enhancements in entrepreneurial knowledge. Top areas of learning included branding and marketing, customer discovery, and pitching and strategy. Other valuable insights were gained in fundraising, product development, and legal considerations related to intellectual property.

Participants also praised the quality of mentorship, the value of international exposure—including site visits such as the trip to New York City to attend the Fast Company Innovation Festival—and the opportunity to learn from real-world examples. The cohort cited a strong sense of community and peer support as essential to their development.

Conclusion

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Enterprise Bermuda Incubator programme is a cornerstone of BEDC's work in supporting Bermuda's start-up ecosystem. It equips entrepreneurs with the skills, confidence, and resources needed to succeed in a competitive market.

I commend the BEDC team and our partners for their ongoing dedication, and I congratulate the graduates of the 2024 cohort. Their success highlights the progress we are making towards a more resilient and self-reliant Bermuda. This Government will continue to support such progress through programmes like the Enterprise Bermuda Incubator. The development of a thriving entrepreneurial ecosystem aligns directly with the "Entrepreneurship and Small Business Development" pillar of the Economic Development Strategy.

Fortunately, Madam Deputy Speaker, the Enterprise Bermuda Incubator will continue to play an important role in supporting local entrepreneurs by providing essential knowledge, skills, and mentorship to enhance their business capabilities. Applications for the 7th Cohort of the programme are open now, and I strongly encourage all interested entrepreneurs to visit www.bedc.bm to learn more and to submit their applications. The deadline for submissions is 23 June, and there are 10 available spaces. The programme runs from 10 July 2025 to 12 March 2026.

The Enterprise Bermuda Incubator is unsurpassed in its offerings and its results. I look forward to welcoming another group of innovative entrepreneurs who will contribute positively to Bermuda's economic growth and development.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

QUESTION PERIOD

The Deputy Speaker: I have a couple of Members who did put their names down. The first Member who has questions for you, Minister De Silva, is Member Fahy.

QUESTION 1: BERMUDA LAND MANAGEMENT CORPORATION UPDATE 2025

Hon. Michael Fahy: Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker. Firstly, thank you, Minister, for your statement. A few questions on each section.

The Honourable Minister made mention of the extension to the wharf in Dockyard being fully funded by NCL to the tune of $22 million. One question is presumably NCL will get first dibs on berths, is the first question.

The Deputy Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I would think so. I can double check it, but I would think so.

Hon. Michael Fahy: So supplementary.

The Deputy Speaker: Supplementary, okay.

SUPPLEMENTARY

Hon. Michael Fahy: With that in mind, which I would assume is the case, there has to be an arrangement in place if someone is putting in $22 million to get the berths on the times that they wish. When other cruise ships are coming as well, again, are they paying an additional fee for their berthing, given that they are not putting any monies into that project if it's exclusively funded by NCL? Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I will get that for you, too.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Okay. All right, thank you. Next question.

The Deputy Speaker: Second question?

QUESTION 2: BERMUDA LAND MANAGEMENT CORPORATION UPDATE 2025

Hon. Michael Fahy: Yes, thank you.

In relation to the information on the BLMC and the 89 residential units, can the Minister advise as to what the average waiting time is on the list of BLMC residents, given that there's a waiting list of 30? What's the anticipated time that those people would have to wait for a unit?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Well, I don't have a crystal ball. I wish I had that answer. But we can get you an average and let you know what it is, like over a period of time, yes.

SUPPLEMENTARY

Hon. Michael Fahy: Supplementary, in terms of the 89 units, what's the average time that people are residing in BLMC units? Given that one would anticipate the idea is that people move through housing stages and housing ladders. Is it once someone gets into a BLMC unit that they simply remain there until such time as they decide they wish to move on? I'm not sure how that would work.

Maybe the Minister could shed some light on that.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I can tell you that most of the residents have been there for a lengthy period of time, and the number of residents that have challenges with paying the rent are at a very minimal.

QUESTION 3: BERMUDA LAND MANAGEMENT CORPORATION UPDATE 2025

Hon. Michael Fahy: Okay, thank you. Third question, in relation to the ongoing sewage treatment issues in St. George's, and the statement made mention of the fact that come June, I think the sewage treatment will be over at Southside. Can the Minister advise, when that is completed, or that the sewage is being treated at Southside, if the outflow pipe off Tobacco Bay will be shut off?

The Deputy Speaker: Minister?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, it will.

The Deputy Speaker: Supplementary?

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you. I'm sure the Honourable—

The Deputy Speaker: Supplementary?

SUPPLEMENTARY

Hon. Michael Fahy: Yes, thank you very much. One supplementary, and that is in relation to revenue streams in relation to that pipe. I know in the Corporation of Hamilton there's a sewage tax. Is it anticipated that there will be some form of taxation from St. George's, based on the fact that there is now and will be an operating sewage plant? Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you. Minister?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: That is possible.

[Laughter]

The Deputy Speaker: Supplementary?

SUPPLEMENTARY

Hon. Michael Fahy: And if it is possible, is the Minister aware, and has he had any discussions as to what that rate may be? Thank you.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Why, Craig, you're pretty good. Not yet.

[Inaudible interjection and laughter]

Hon. Michael Fahy: I don't think I heard an answer. I heard the Shadow Minister of Works give an answer.

The Deputy Speaker: The Minister said he's . . . not yet.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Okay. All right. Thank you. I have no further questions.

The Deputy Speaker: Your questions have expired. You've reached your full limit.

Hon. Michael Fahy: I've reached my limit. Okay. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: There have been no other Members who have put their names down for questions from Minister De Silva. So, we move on to Minister Darrell. I think MP Cannonier has questions.

QUESTION 1: SHORELINK: REAL-TIME INFORMATION—LAUNCH OF PHASE 2

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Thank you. Good morning, colleagues and Madam Deputy Speaker.

On page two, the Minister mentions the last sentence here. Not the last sentence on page two, but as of 20th of April, 2025, the Digital Fair Media Project has achieved the following milestones, and it goes on to say 16,851 new users and total sales of $579,000-plus. Just curious, what were the measurements used to say that this was a milestone? I don't know how many users there are of the bus, but what was the measurement to say that this is a milestone using Shorelink?

The Deputy Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker. While I will venture to get those specific answers, I would say this, that when you start at zero and it is not in place and you get to these numbers that we see, I am taking the liberty to call that a milestone, Madam Deputy Speaker. I will ask what matrices were used. But I think that in the spirit of both of the Statements that I gave this morning, I think that we should always recognise progress and recognise success.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister. Member, another question?

QUESTION 2: SHORELINK: REAL-TIME INFORMATION—LAUNCH OF PHASE 2

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, a second question. And thank the Minister for clarifying that, not knowing the measurements, he still considers it a milestone. Maybe progress; but I'm not sure about milestone.

The second question I would have is Shorelink . . . we are moving into the second phase, and by using Shorelink, will this result in potentially increased fares? I don't know what Shorelink costs, but I am assuming that it is not going to. But I do want to ask the question that . . . do we foresee any increases as we move through the phases for using the public transportation?

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you. Minister.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Madam Deputy Speaker, while I often have used the term doom and gloom, I am surprised that this is the path of which the Shadow is going down. But as he would know, those decisions come from the—

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Point of order, point of order.

The Deputy Speaker: Your point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, point of order. The Honourable [Minister] is misleading the House. I'm not sure what path he's suggesting. We are just looking for clarification, that's all. There's no path being set here, just clarity, that's all. So, for him to depict it as a path of doom and gloom is unjust and unnecessary.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: We suggest he's doom and gloom.

The Deputy Speaker: Minister?

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker. As I was saying, the Honourable Member from the other side would know that tax increases of the like come under a different Minister, and I've gotten the indication with the shake of a head that there will be no increase in the fares once this is put.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.
Are there any other questions, Member?
No other questions? Member?

[Crosstalk]

The Deputy Speaker: Member Cannonier, speak to the Chair.

Are there any other questions?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: No, no, no.

The Deputy Speaker: Okay, thank you. I don't think any other Members had questions on the Shorelink. There was no one who put their name down to ask questions on the Tourism paper, and that moves us to Minister Haywood.

Member Campbell has a question for you.

QUESTION 1: EMPOWERING ENTREPRENEURS
THROUGH ENTERPRISE BERMUDA
INCUBATOR PROGRAMME

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, and good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Minister mentioned that the participants in the Incubator programme have access to resources. Just for clarification, are any of those resources loans?

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.
Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: The answer to that question is yes. They have access to all resources that BEDC actually offers. BEDC actually supports grants which support loans, and so they can benefit from that as well along with the array of services that BEDC provides to entrepreneurs and small and medium-sized enterprises in Bermuda.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.
Second question?

Mr. Vance Campbell: Supplementary.

The Deputy Speaker: Supplementary.

SUPPLEMENTARY

Mr. Vance Campbell: Does the Minister know whether or not the terms of those loans are standard or specific to each individual?

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.
Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: The terms for the loans will be consistent with all other loans that entrepreneurs would actually receive during the budget period. I did outline the volume of loans that were provided to small businesses in the last fiscal period and the way in which those loans were getting repaid as well.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.
Second supplementary or second question?

QUESTION 1: EMPOWERING ENTREPRENEURS
THROUGH ENTERPRISE BERMUDA
INCUBATOR PROGRAMME

Mr. Vance Campbell: Second question. The Minister outlined that over 50 entrepreneurs have been supported over various cohorts. We have 10 more participating in the next cohort.

Of the over 50 entrepreneurs, does the Minister have any statistics on how many of those businesses are still existing?

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.
Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: I can endeavour to get the historical success of the businesses in the programme, but what I would say is that the likelihood of those businesses surviving based off of being in this programme is actually higher. When you look at what small and medium-sized enterprises need in the start-up phases to actually survive, it is this ecosystem that the BEDC has created that enables them to be sustainable in the early stages of their lives. And so notwithstanding what may happen in future years in terms of persons may determine that they want to pivot, I would say that these programmes are invaluable as it pertains to ensuring that there is a solid foundation for our small, medium-sized businesses to actually thrive.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister. Supplemental or third question?

Mr. Vance Campbell: Yes, supplemental.

The Deputy Speaker: Okay.

SUPPLEMENTARY

Mr. Vance Campbell: I accept what the Minister has said as far as the tools that people are equipped with, but given our population challenges, we can be as prepared as possible, but we still need a customer base in order to be successful. And does the Minister feel that our current population challenges could be detrimental to those who are currently graduates of this programme as well as those who might be graduating in the next cohort?

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you.
Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: The challenges that this Ministry has highlighted as it pertains to our population, is as a result of our ageing population. Our population is ageing rapidly. That's not to say that our ageing population are not consumers, but when we look at the business statistics, the wholesale and retail sector is doing better than it was doing prior to the pandemic, which means that that sector continues to grow year over year.

When I outlined the numbers for small and medium-sized enterprises that were seeking resources from the BEDC during my budgetary submission, I did indicate that there was an increase of small businesses. When we look at the numbers as it pertains to local businesses registered, we see that that number is increasing and not decreasing. So notwithstanding what the espoused challenges are regarding our population, we still see progress being made in our business community.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister.
Is there a third question?

Mr. Vance Campbell: No, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member. That ends Question Period.

CONGRATULATORY AND/OR OBITUARY SPEECHES

The Deputy Speaker: I recognise Minister Darrell.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I rise today and I ask that the House send a letter of condolences to the family of Mr. Ralph Eugene Bean, Sr., affectionately known in the community as "Gumbo." And I would like to associate the Premier, Minister De Silva—the entire House with these condolences.

As we would know, Gumbo, Sr., was affectionately known as a legend in this community for his career on the football pitch, mainly with North Village Community Club at a point in his career winning the Triple Crown, along with many other accolades. Mr. Bean played for the national team, and he also had a brief stint overseas professionally. And while I would say this, Madam Deputy Speaker, I never saw Ralph, Sr., Gumbo, Sr., kick a ball, but I could only imagine as I am a good friend of his son, Ralph "Gumbo" Bean, Jr., and when I watched him play, it was a joy to watch him on the pitch, and it was often said by many people in the crowd, You are almost as good as your father. So, with that said, I could only imagine, and from what I've heard from individuals like my father and others, that he was a class act on the field.

But as I said, I never saw him kick a ball. I want to speak to the man that I knew him to be. He was a humble man. He was one who loved all sports, especially golf and basketball. And some of my memories going over his house as a teenager was watching him sit in the living room and just enjoying sport.

He was also a man of God at his church, the First Church of God, where he was a deacon. And to his wife, Ms. Carol Bean, his children, Nikki and Ralph, Jr., his grandchildren, Jonté Smith, Hailey Smith, and Rhylen Bean, to the entire North Village Community Club family, to his extended family, his friends, you have the deepest condolences from me for your loss.

And in the 30 seconds that I have left, Madam Deputy Speaker, I'd like to send congratulations to the winner of this year's Bermuda Marathon Derby, Mr. Sean Trott, it was his first, and the first female, Ms. Gayle Lindsay, on her three-peat.

Also, I would like to send a shout-out to some individuals who ran as to try to get personal best. The Grateful Miles Run Club, co-founded by one of my constituents, Mr. Ezekiel Stoneham, as well as congratulations to all organisers and participants of the Bermuda Day holiday.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

[Timer chimes]

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members? I recognise the Member from constituency 33.

Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Jamahl S. Simmons: Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker. Good morning, Bermuda, and good morning, colleagues.

I would just like to raise today to extend my thanks and gratitude to the organisers, the volunteers, everyone who helped make the recent Bermuda Day festivities a roaring success. I encourage you to continue to grow from strength to strength, and I encourage you to not be dissuaded by those who criticise just to criticise. A lot of good work was done, and you deserve your praise for it.

I also rise today to extend a hearty 80th birthday greeting for a former member of this Chamber, a former member from Sandys North, Mr. Lionel Simmons, who happens to be my father. He will be celebrating 80 years today, and I want to thank him not just for his service, for putting in some good work on me.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you. Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Minister from constituency 16. Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I rise this morning to start off on a sad note. I would like to be associated with the remarks for the passing of Ralph "Gumbo" Bean. Not only was he good to watch, a standout to watch on the field, he was truly a class-act off the field, and my condolences go out to his family and friends and the North Village community as a whole.

But, Madam Deputy Speaker, I want to highlight my uniformed services over this past weekend. I would like to start with the Royal Bermuda Regiment, who worked throughout the whole weekend, the Bermuda Day weekend, tirelessly, not only with the race in the morning, the parade, the Coast Guard, they even had a marching band playing music in the parade. So, hats off to Colonel Simons and his team for the stellar job that they have done over this past weekend to make sure that we keep Bermuda safe.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I would also like to highlight the police for their role in keeping our Island safe and, for the most part, incident free during this past weekend. Not only were they out and about serving the community, they took part in the parade. And, as a matter of fact, their float was awarded the most beautiful float. And I would like to personally highlight PC Kim Spring, who is the architect of that float, and with her passion and knowledge of Bermuda Day and her love of Bermuda Day, she orchestrated that float. So, not only were the police out and about doing their job, they were actually participating in the parade and mingling with our people. That's a testament to what we do in the Uniformed Services. And, as always, it gives me the opportunity to say, anyone that is looking for a career, look for a career in the Uniformed Services.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Minister. Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 2. Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Yes, good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I would like to start off by offering congratulations to Mr. Quinton Sherlock, Jr., who is a golf professional and is opening a new golf school in St. George's at the GOLFZON Leadbetter Golf Academy at the St. Regis. It's a great addition, and we wish him well. And I know I'll associate fellow golfer, the Deputy Premier, and [Member] Tyrrell, who is a regular golfer as well.

On a sadder note, I have a number of condolences. To the family of my dear friend, Ivan Swan, Jr., who I first met at Allen Camp in 1969, and a friendship grew out of that, whose father, Ivan, Sr., I knew very, very well, frequenting St. George's Golf Club for many years before he passed.

Mr. Alfred Ambrose Scott, who was a regular talk show caller, sharing history. He, at one time, worked at Camden. He was the consummate well-dressed, very polite, and diction, outstanding diction, as he articulated. Always shared history with me about the Odd Fellows' halls around Bermuda and his concern about them.

Condolences to my cousin, Colin Thompson, Jr., and the family, and Barbara Bean on the passing of Zaire Bean. I grew up with Alan Stacy Gilbert. Condolences to his family. Member Scott Simmons would know him very well from going to school, but I knew his brothers, Kimball, the great boxer, and Derrick, his brother Jungle, from cricket at Somerset Bridge, and football with Somerset Eagles.

My cousin, Charles Ratteray, who passed, siblings of Oda Mallory and Kerwin Rattray, his wife, Joan. He carried the legacy of the name Charles Roach Rattray, our patriarch, from 1799 coming to Bermuda from Bahamas.

And I would like to be associated with the condolences to the masterful Ralph "Gumbo" Bean, who could weave his way through a defence like no other. A great footballer who was probably one of the most humble, great athletes I had ever come to know, and just a great gentleman, and that wasn't lost on him. I worked with his brother at Gosling Brothers. It's a wonderful family. May he rest in peace.

[Timer chimes]

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 26. Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: Good morning, Madam Deputy Speaker. Thank you for recognising me, and good morning, colleagues.

Madam Deputy Speaker, just previously, the term ageing population was used, and I'm here standing on my feet to send some congratulations to some of my ageing constituents. All in their 90s, all in their 90s.

The first one is Ms. Thelma Smith from Jones Village, who went 92 on Saturday. And then there was Ms. Dorothy Latimore from Whale View Lane, who went 96, in fact, today. It's today.

An Hon. Member: Well done.

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: Ms. Vernetta Simmons, tomorrow, will celebrate her 95th birthday. And the last one, I have to declare my interest. It's my favourite aunt, my aunt Ursula Tyrrell, who will be 94 today.

So, I wish congratulations go to all of them.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: I wish to send congratulations to all of them, but while I'm on my feet, Madam Deputy Speaker, I would like to be associated with the condolences to my very good friend, Ralph "Gumbo" Bean. The young Minister only mentioned North Village that he played for, but I can certainly attest to Ralph "Gumbo" Bean playing for Devonshire Lions, and against me at one time, scoring a hat trick. So I certainly want to associate with those condolences and wish his family all the best on his passing. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member. Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member Tucker. Member, you have the floor from constituency 30 [sic].

Ms. Robin Tucker: Seven.

The Deputy Speaker: Thirty . . . oh! I keep getting you wrong. From constituency 7.

Ms. Robin Tucker: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

First, I realise that the whole House was associated with the condolences to Mr. Ralph "Gumbo" Bean, but I specifically wanted to get up and just simply express my personal condolences to his family.

Most of his, certainly his younger family, grandchildren and even his children, wouldn't know me, but certainly his wife and some of the others will, because I was one of those children that was dragged around to football games—every football game that North Village probably played, I was likely at between . . . sometime in the 1970s. My family were staunch North Village supporters. I have seen Ralph "Gumbo" Bean play more times than I can count. So, I just wanted to express condolences specifically from me to his family.

Also, Mr. Tyrrell, sorry, I don't remember what constituency he's in—

The Deputy Speaker: [Constituency] 26.

Ms. Robin Tucker: MP Tyrrell from constituency 26 expressed congratulations to his aunt, Ms. Ursula Tyrrell, for her 94th birthday.

An Hon. Member: Favourite aunt.

Ms. Robin Tucker: His favourite aunt, I beg your pardon, I stand corrected. I believe that is Ursula Tyrrell who used to work at Conyers, and I love her.

I also used to work at Conyers, and she is an absolute lovely lady. So I would like to associate MP Scott Pearman as well. Ms. Tyrrell is absolutely a fantastic lady, and I can understand why she is his favourite aunt. So, thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak? I recognise the Member from constituency 36. Member, you have the floor.

Rev. Dr. Emilygail A. Dill: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker, to my colleagues, and to the listening audience.

I would like to take the opportunity today to give congratulations to Dr. Yannick Majumair, who happens to be my daughter, who just finished her medical degree and graduated from the Wake Forest University Medical School. It was truly an honour to be present, and she also completed four years of having served as Dean's Ambassador. At Wake Forest, each incoming class, an outstanding student is selected to serve on the admissions committee and as Dean's Ambassador. And I'd like to congratulate her on her accomplishment and wish her well as she begins her residency in the field of neurology.

I would also like to take the opportunity today and congratulate our colleague, Bishop Dr. Leroy Bean, on his accomplishment on his recent graduation from Regents University with a Doctor of Philosophy degree in the area of psychology and counselling studies with an emphasis on trauma and crisis. And also, to congratulate him and applaud him on the work that he continues to do in this community.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker, and I yield. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 25. Member, you have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes. Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker. I wanted to associate myself with all of the comments congratulating the athletes, the performers, the participants, and the spectators who brought the energy for the festivities on Bermuda Day. And I'm sure that the whole House would like to be associated with that as well.

[Desk thumping]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: So, thank you very much, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the member from constituency 29. Member, you have the floor.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, last week I asked the House to give congratulations to the Bermuda Snooker League for bringing the International Snooker League tournament to Bermuda. Well, it finished last night, and I have to give thanks to the Bermuda Snooker Association's team, Paul and Victoria Fedden, Steven Bremar, my partner in the doubles championship, of which we are currently defending champions. And, of course, I declare my interest, as my sister, Penny, also is on that committee.

I would also like to declare some further interest in thanking my partners at Island Construction for supporting the tournament, along with the Bermuda Tourism Authority and the Minister for their support. Last night, Madam Deputy Speaker, three-times world champion and current runner-up world champion Mark Williams scored, and if anyone knows anything about snooker, there are 15 red balls and six coloured balls, all of different value. The highest score one can make is 147. That means when they shoot, they pool every red ball and a black ball to go with each, and then pool the six coloured balls, which have to be pooled in a specific succession. And if you do that, you score 147.

He actually did it twice last night, which was unbelievable. I do not know if it has ever been done before in such a short period of time by one player. So, it was absolutely phenomenal, and I would like to thank his coach, Lee [Walker], for also coming to Bermuda, and for them being really responsible for bringing almost 50 visitors to the Island. Half of them are repeat visitors. So, we are looking at . . . this has been an unprecedented tournament with this many visitors, and it seems to be growing and growing as time passes.

So, I would certainly like to thank Paul and his team at the Bermuda Snooker Association for bringing people to Bermuda.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I did.

I declare another interest, I did play the champion myself last night, and I scored one point before he cleaned the table on me.

[Laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: But I will say that everyone that he played had one or two shots, maybe three. I think Steven Bremar, who is the current . . . he won the scratch tournament, by the way. But I think he pooled the most balls, and I think he made a 15 break, and that was his total score, and that was it.

But he was certainly a phenomenal person to watch, and I thank him and his team. Thank you.

[Timer chimes]

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 12. Member, you have the floor.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes. Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker. I just want to say congratulations—happy birthday to our youngest member in the House, MP Dwayne Robinson.

[Desk thumping]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: It's his birthday. Unfortunately, he's at work right at the moment. I know he's listening because he's been going back and forth with me, but happy birthday to him.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Sorry? Yes, yes, yes. No, I'll leave that up to you, Minister.

And to the Minister of Tourism and also Culture, I just wanted to say that May 24th was a lovely day. I know that we expected a bit of rain, but to all of the participants and for the Minister for putting on a fantastic opportunity for us to celebrate Bermuda Day and to see all of the wonderful festivities that took place. It was really, really a proud day to be Bermudian. Thank you.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 18. Premier, you have the floor.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Madam Deputy Speaker, and good morning to you.

I wish to be associated with the condolences which were offered by the Minister of Tourism, Transport, Culture and Sport on asking for a letter to be sent to the family of the late "Gumbo" Bean. And certainly, would like to associate myself with those particular remarks.

In addition to that, I'd like to associate myself to the condolences that were offered for the late Mr. Ambrose Scott. As you would know, someone who well known to many of us, the former caretaker of Camden. In addition to that also is the father to the assistant to the Minister of Finance and also the Financial Secretary in the Ministry of Finance, Ms. Carol Martin. And so certainly would like to be associated with those remarks. His home going service will be at the St. Paul AME Church this weekend and to celebrate a life well lived, unquestionably.

Finally, I would like to be associated with the congratulations that have been offered to the Minister of Tourism, Transport, Culture and Sport and to his team at the Department of Culture and for all the work that went into this weekend's Bermuda Day festivities.

I think it's important to note, Madam Deputy Speaker, that there is a lot of work that goes into putting on a Bermuda Day holiday. And I know upon the Minister's appointment, one of the things, it is his favourite holiday. Mine is Cup Match, his is Bermuda Day. But on that particular holiday, he had come in as Minister of Culture with a goal to expand the parade, to make sure there are more participants, to make sure there's more support that was offered. And to see the wide range of groups who came back, the spectacular costumes. It's interesting, people complain about the length of the parade with the record amount—not the record, but the significant number of entries that were in the parade. But those entries would not have been there without the hard work of the Minister and his particular team. So certainly, want to extend congratulations to him.

And also associate with the congratulations to the first-time winner, Mr. Sean Trott. This year was the first year that I was not at the finish line of the Bermuda Day Marathon, as I like to spend it with my family. But what I would say is that Mr. Trott has been a runner-up for many times. Perseverance and endurance certainly paid off. And congratulations to him on his first Bermuda Day half marathon derby victory.

And as I extend the congratulations to, or offer my congratulations to the Minister and his team, I also want to offer congratulations to the half marathon derby committee led by my constituent, Dr. Gina Tucker. And all of those persons who worked to make sure that the atmosphere on Court Street for the closing of that race, including Mr. Elmore Warren, was a great success.

So well done for all, and happy to be associated with those remarks, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Premier.

Are there any other Members? There being none, that ends congrats and/or obits.

MATTERS OF PRIVILEGE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

PERSONAL EXPLANATIONS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

NOTICE OF MOTIONS FOR THE ADJOURNMENT OF THE HOUSE ON MATTERS OF URGENT PUBLIC IMPORTANCE

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

The Deputy Speaker: I do believe we have two Bills to be introduced.

Premier?

GOVERNMENT BILLS

CUSTOMS TARIFF AMENDMENT ACT 2025

LAND TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I am introducing the following two Bills, which according to section 36.3 of the Bermuda Constitution require the Governor's recommendation so they may be placed on the Order Paper for the next day of meeting.

The first is the Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025 and the second is the Land Tax Amendment Act 2025.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Premier.

OPPOSITION BILLS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

PRIVATE BILLS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

NOTICE OF MOTIONS

The Deputy Speaker: There are none.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Deputy Speaker: That brings us to the Orders of the Day, and it takes us to a resumption in Committee. Premier?

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I move that the House do now resume in Committee of Supply to consider the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for fiscal year 2025/26.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that we move into Committee of Supply.

Are there any objections?

There being none, I call on Member Simmons to come take the Chair.

House in Committee at 11:12 am

[Mr. Scott Simmons, Chairman]

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2024/25

The Chairman: Good morning, Members. We will be starting this debate in the Committee of Supply at about (what time is it?) 11:12 am. This is a five-hour debate.

Honourable Members, we are now in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. Heads 83, 6, 7, 12, 88 under the Ministry of National Security. The Minister in charge is the Honourable Michael Weeks, JP, MP.

Minister, you have the floor.

MINISTRY OF NATIONAL SECURITY

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Good morning, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Good morning, sir.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, I move the following heads: Heads 83, Ministry of National Security Headquarters; Head 6, which is Defence; Head 7, which is Police; Head 12, which is Customs; and Head 88, which is National Drug Control, be now taken under consideration.

The Chairman: Thank you very much, Minister.

Are there any Members that do not agree?

There are none, Minister, proceed.

HEAD 83—MINISTRY OF NATIONAL SECURITY HEADQUARTERS

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to present the budget for Head 83, the Ministry of National Security Headquarters found on pages B-264 through B-267 of the Budget Book.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The mission Mr. Chairman—

The Chairman: Yes.

Mission

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The mission of the Ministry of National Security is Working together to keep you safe.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, a total of $4,966,000 has been allocated for this Head, which represents an increase of $1,796,000 from the previous year and constitutes 4 per cent of the budget allocated for the Ministry as a whole.

The increase reflects the funding required for various projects and initiatives the department will be implementing, such as the Uniformed Services Training Programme, grants and the educational support programmes. The department will also be filling six posts to provide critical resources in Administration, Cybersecurity and Disaster Risk Reduction and Management. Further details are provided in the business unit cost analysis.

Mr. Chairman, on page B-265 of the general summary you will note that there are four business units within the Ministry Headquarters. The estimate for business unit 93000 for Administration is $2,797,000, an increase of $795,000 or 40 per cent. This comprises of $80,037 towards the salary uplift; $319,931 to cover one Security Manager, and one Information Security Systems Officer and one Cybersecurity Analyst for the Cybersecurity Team; and one secretary for $61,929; one political aide for $87,148; and one relief administrative assistant for $66,059. The remaining amount will form part of the budget towards a stipend for 10 trainees for the Uniformed Services Training Programme of $92,836, $14,650 for staff and head of department training, $33,000 for overseas conferences and training, $15,000 for advertising and marketing, and $24,410 for increase in Public Radio Safety maintenance fees.

Mr. Chairman, business unit 93002 for the Parole Board and 93003 for the Treatment of Offenders Board are no longer being used as both boards have been transferred to the Ministry of Justice.

Mr. Chairman, the estimate for business unit 93004 for the Police Complaints Authority is $31,000 and has no change from the 2024/25 budget.

Mr. Chairman, the estimate for business unit 93007 for Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation Team is $422,000, $232,000 or 122 per cent increase over the 2024/25 financial year. The increase is to fund one National Events Coordinator post for $86,345, one consultant for $108,000 to oversee supply chain disaster management and $37,655 for conferences and tabletop exercises.

Mr. Chairman, business unit 93008 relates to the Gang Violence Reduction Programme with an estimate for the financial year 2025/26 of $1,716,000. This represents a $924,000 or 117 per cent increase over the financial year 2024/25. The increase will fund educational programmes for individuals, counselling for victims of violence, work placement programmes to provide an alternative to gang activity and grants to fund community programmes in sporting clubs and community-based entities.

Revenue Overview

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Liquor Licence Authority was transferred to the Ministry of Justice in September 2024; however, the payment of fees and collection of revenue continued with the Ministry of National Security until 31 March 2025. As shown on page B-266, the adjusted revenue projection for 2024/25 was $1,012,000, a $99,000, or 11 per cent increase over the projected revenue collection of $913,000. As of 31 March 2025, [$997,667] was collected, a $14,333 decrease over the adjusted revenue projection.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates of the Ministry of National Security is found on page B-266. I will highlight the material object code descriptions increases and decreases.

Salaries increased by $705,000. This is attributable to the three posts to be filled to provide administrative services to the Minister and Permanent Secretary, the Cybersecurity Board and the Police Complaints Authority. The Cybersecurity Team will have three more funded team members to bolster the cybersecurity efforts, and the Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation Team will be fully funded for the National Disaster Coordinator and the National Events Coordinator.

The decrease in wages of $279,000 is attributed to the Ministry not having the Uniformed Services Training Programme in progress. The planning and design for this programme are well advanced and we are hoping to launch it during this fiscal year. The funding in the amount of $371,344 for the cohort for the financial year 2025/26 will be allocated to Professional Services.

Professional Services saw an increase of $1,098,000. Mr. Chairman, $687,664 will be used towards marketing of anti-violence messaging, educational bursaries and counselling services and $371,344 will be used towards a stipend for two cohorts of 10 people for the Uniformed Services Recruitment Programme and $38,992 for the part-time teachers of the programme.

The increase of $171,000 for other expenses will be allocated as follows: $30,000 will be allocated towards the Mothers on a Mission (MOM) Group to provide resources for support services to mothers of victims of gang violence and $26,590 for safe house, airfare and emergency passports for individuals in imminent danger of gang violence. Cybersecurity costs include $2,000 for subscriptions, $8,000 for penetration testing and $80,000 for centralised logging and monitoring system and $24,410 towards an increase in public safety radio network fees.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, as shown on page C-14, the Ministry received $1,140,000 for capital acquisitions. Mr. Chairman, $177,782 will be used towards the upgrades of the Island-wide public safety radio network and $962,218 will be geared towards the completion of the CCTV network and the start of the Speed Camera system. As I have previously reported to this Honourable House, the installation of the Speed Camera system is contingent upon the complete installation of the CCTV network.

Manpower

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The department's increase of six full-time equivalents reflects the increase in funding of three posts for administrative support, and three posts for the Cybersecurity Unit.

Performance Measures by Business Unit

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to report the outcomes of the department's forecasted performance measures for fiscal year 2024/25 that were largely achieved. These are found on page B-267.

Business Unit 93000, Title Administration

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: This business unit is responsible for providing support to the departments in the form of policy development, project management, financial oversight and cybersecurity governance. One of the key functions of the Cybersecurity Team is to develop and implement policies. During the 2024/25 fiscal period, the team achieved 80 per cent of approving Information Systems Risk Management Programme Policies and are as follows

- Policies for the updated Cybersecurity Act, Cybersecurity Regulations, and Computer Misuse Act were finalised and approved by Cabinet.
- The Cybersecurity Act and Computer Misuse Act based on approved policies were drafted and approved by Parliament.
- The updated Information Systems Risk Management Programme Policy has been developed and is awaiting review by the Cybersecurity Advisory Board and Cabinet Cybersecurity Committee.

The Ministry conducted monthly meetings both in a formal and informal setting with its Heads of Departments (HODs) and DEOD Manager. The formal meetings were held to provide Heads of Departments with pertinent information that included:

- updates from the Public Service Executive;
- updates on the status of Cabinet Memorandum;
- update DEOD primarily around recruitment and the status of the exercises; and
- financial updates relating to budget, year-end and procurement.

In addition, the department heads provided updates on the major activities taking place in their respective departments. The informal meetings were designed to encourage an exchange of ideas and brainstorming in a relaxed setting on any topic.

Business Unit 93007, Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: This business unit is responsible for the oversight of stakeholders' completion of disaster recovery plans. The team is also integral in staging disaster exercises and the coordination of entities during times of disaster such as before, during and after hurricanes.

Between April and September 2024, the Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation Team (DRRMT) advanced Bermuda's national disaster preparedness and operational resilience through a range of strategic initiatives, legislative support efforts, stakeholder engagements, and critical operational developments.

A substantial focus was placed on strengthening disaster readiness and emergency management operations. Key activities included the planning, coordination, and execution of the Port Security Tabletop Exercise [TTX] as well as participation in the Government House-hosted Sanctions [TTX]. These exercises were designed to enhance inter-agency coordination, develop operational readiness, and refine information extraction processes through structured scenario debriefs. Preparations and assessments of the Emergency Measures Organisation (EMO) room at the Bermuda Fire and Rescue Service (BFRS) remained ongoing to ensure that technical systems, infrastructure, and operational capabilities remained mission-ready.

Mr. Chairman, in addition to exercise and operational readiness work, the DRRMT contributed to the advancement of Bermuda's legislative framework by assisting in the further development of Disaster Management and Emergency Measures Legislation. This supported efforts to modernise Bermuda's legal basis for national disaster response, ensuring that contemporary principles and operational best practices are reflected in statutory frameworks.

The DRRMT also developed a comprehensive business case for the establishment of an all-encompassing Emergency Measures Operations Centre (EMOC). In support of this initiative, the team drafted Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) to guide the management, functionality, and activation of an operations centre. Further, SOPs for the oversight and operation of the Public Safety Radio Network were prepared, ensuring that communications resilience remains a priority across Bermuda's emergency response infrastructure.

Mr. Chairman, to strengthen operational readiness across government and community partners, the DRRMT conducted extensive hurricane season preparedness activities. This included engagement with government agencies to verify hurricane response inventories, inspections of hardware store supply chains to confirm capacity under disaster scenarios, and consultations with telecommunications infrastructure managers to identify vulnerabilities and strengthen response plans. The team also worked directly with stakeholders responsible for road clearing and tree cutting operations, ensuring these critical recovery resources were coordinated and prepared.

Weather monitoring activities continued throughout the Atlantic hurricane season, with the team maintaining active situational awareness and providing timely updates to leadership. The team also contributed to the updating and development of key operational documents, including the EMO procedural guides. Shelter readiness assessments were completed in collaboration with key agencies, further reinforcing Bermuda's emergency posture.

Mr. Chairman, strategic research initiatives advanced significantly during the reporting period. Notably, the team pursued evaluation of national emergency alerting systems, explored enhancements to Bermuda's public emergency messaging capabilities, and initiated preliminary planning for Bermuda's National Risk Register (NRR). Work focused on disaster preparedness for vulnerable populations, aligning national planning efforts with a commitment to inclusive and equitable disaster risk reduction.

Mr. Chairman, stakeholder engagement remained a cornerstone of DRRMT operations. The team participated actively in numerous forums, including Port Security Meetings focused on maritime and infrastructure vulnerabilities, Supply Chain Meetings to ensure critical goods continuity during disasters, and Public Health preparedness meetings aimed at strengthening the health sector's resilience to emergencies.

Furthermore, the DRRMT took responsibility for maintaining Bermuda's Emergency Broadcast Studio, ensuring that public communication systems were operational and reliable. The team chaired the Public Safety Radio Users Group, providing leadership in co-ordinating multiple agencies' use of the radio network and addressing critical issues promptly. International engagement continued through FCDO Disaster Manager briefings and UK Met Office hurricane updates, ensuring Bermuda remained closely connected with global resilience efforts.

The DRRMT supported critical incident response during the period, particularly following the impacts of Hurricane Ernesto. The team coordinated stakeholders in the rapid repair and restoration of the Public Safety Radio Network, ensuring critical communications infrastructure was brought back online efficiently. Additionally, the team conducted high-level meetings to plan for the potential impacts of a strike by the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), focusing on continuity of operations and mitigating potential disruptions to Bermuda's import-dependent supply chain.

Mr. Chairman, in summary, the Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation Team's demonstrated a commitment to national resilience, operational excellence, legislative modernisation, stakeholder collaboration, and international best practice alignment. Through disaster preparedness activities, legislative support, stakeholder engagement, operational support, infrastructure maintenance, and strategic research, the team significantly advanced Bermuda's disaster risk reduction objectives and strengthened its national emergency management framework.

Policy Development and Strategic Planning

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, we drafted and submitted the National Risk Register (NRR) with Phase 1 training completed in February 2025. A PowerPoint presentation was shared with stakeholders, and the second phase is currently being scheduled. We worked with Policy Analysts to address legislative concerns regarding the authority to declare a disaster, ensuring alignment with the Governor's existing powers.

Operational Frameworks and SOPs

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: We developed and submitted EMO Operations Centre Standard Operating Procedures, drafted the Public Safety Radio Standard Operating Procedures in collaboration with BPS and Corrections. We initiated a comprehensive Event Safety

Framework and event checklists, including oversight of major national events such as the PGA Golf Tour, Chubb Race Weekend, Cup Match, and Bermuda Day preparations.

Community Preparedness and Exercises

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: We coordinated participation in Exercise Caribe Wave (March 2025), with a debrief scheduled for April 10. We engaged in planning and evaluating cruise ship tabletop exercises and mass rescue operations in partnership with Marine Operations and UK/US Coast Guard support.

We hosted Hurricane Preparedness Planning sessions to address vegetation management, worksite safety, and post-strike coordination across utilities and public works and continued evacuation planning for Ferry Reach, incorporating emergency plans from stakeholders like Rubis and SOL.

Business Unit 93000, Title Administration

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: This business unit is responsible for Gang Violence Reduction Team 2025 Update.

Mr. Chairman, in 2025, the Gang Violence Reduction Team (GVRT) continues to stand as a beacon of resilience and transformation, leading Bermuda's fight against gang violence and youth disenfranchisement. In a time where communities face deep-rooted social inequalities, fractured family systems, and barriers to opportunity, the GVRT, under the leadership of our Bishop Leroy Bean, (now Dr. Bishop) MP has remained unwavering in its mission: to intervene, uplift, and empower.

The GVRT is not simply a response mechanism—it is a force of intentional change, working to dismantle cycles of violence and rebuild pathways toward hope and healing. Through tailored interventions and robust outreach efforts, the GVRT has embedded itself in schools, communities, workplaces, and homes, meeting individuals where they are and walking with them toward better futures.

Mr. Chairman, the core mission of the GVRT remains focused on:

- Guiding individuals away from delinquent peer groups and toxic environments.
- Transforming behaviour patterns of those involved in gang activity and fostering reintegration into society.
- Preventing youth gang involvement by restoring social and familial bonds.
- Opening employment pathways for marginalised youth.
- Connecting individuals with mental and social health resources.
- Strengthening interpersonal relationships and community accountability.

School Outreach

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Acknowledging that schools often serve as recruitment grounds for gang activity, the GVRT has amplified its school presence across the island. This year, our outreach included

- Daily High School Lunch Engagements: Regular presence at school lunch hours, offering mentorship and informal check-ins.
- Restorative Mediation Sessions: De-escalating tensions and promoting peaceful resolution among students.
- Incident Response and Crisis Management: Post-incident school support, planning, and security assessments.
- Case Management and Tailored Youth Sessions: Individualised support plans and interventions for vulnerable students.
- Small Group Programming: Targeted skill-building and emotional resilience workshops.

Early Intervention: "I AM" & G.R.E.A.T. Programmes

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Early engagement has proven pivotal in changing life trajectories.

The "I Am" Programme highlights:

- Launched in 10 schools, with a new curriculum piloted at Dellwood Middle School.
- Over 116 structured sessions have been held from September 2023 to June 2024. Eighty-eight sessions were delivered between September 2024 and April 2025.
- One hundred and sixty-two boys across nine primary schools and one middle school has participated.
- Thirty-five crisis supports, 36 mediation sessions, and 140 individualised supports delivered.

G.R.E.A.T. Programme

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: G.R.E.A.T. stands for, Mr. Chairman, Gang Resistance Education and Training.

- Continues to engage primary school boys with structured, values-based education aimed at fostering resilience and resistance to gang influence.

Work Placement and Mentoring Programme (WPMP)

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Bridging school to work-force:

- Fifteen youth participants, with 14 completing the eight-week placement.
- One hundred and thirty job coaching sessions provided personalised support.
- 85 per cent business partner satisfaction and interest in future participation.

- Eight youth received extended paid work; four secured jobs post-programme.
- There was no involvement in antisocial or criminal activity throughout the programme.
- 100 per cent of parents observed positive growth in their children.

Redemption Programme: A Path to Personal Reinvention

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: In 2024/25, the Redemption Programme continued as a transformative space for young men:

- Eighteen trainees completed the 25-week programme.
- One hundred and thirty-seven one-on-one case management and job coaching sessions were conducted.
- Seventy-six sessions on career, personal development, and job readiness.
- Six secured employment; one enrolled at Bermuda College; one entered university.
- Ten crisis interventions managed with ongoing support for four active participants.

Street-Level Outreach and Case Management

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Serving 78 young adults (ages 18 to 35):

- Tailored, client-centred case management addressing housing, employment, legal, and mental health needs.
- Safe housing, relocation support, prison visits, and court advocacy have been offered.
- Quarterly community mediations and inter-agency collaborations facilitated systemic wraparound care.

Mr. Chairman, in the aftermath of violence, when fear grips families and uncertainty ripples through neighbourhoods, it is the Coordinated Crisis Response Team (CCRT) that steps forward to restore peace, stabilise emotions, and help communities begin the process of healing.

Functioning as a rapid-response arm of the Gang Violence Reduction Team, the CCRT is mobilised immediately following serious violent incidents—whether a shooting, stabbing, or other traumatic event. The team is composed of experienced professionals and trusted community figures who work together to deliver compassionate, coordinated support in real-time.

In the past year, the CCRT was activated following 28 violent incidents requiring hospital-based intervention, and an additional one community activation in response to heightened tensions on the ground. In total, the team delivered 104 targeted post-incident support sessions to survivors, close friends, and immediate family members impacted by violence.

Gang Violence Reduction Team: Leading the National Violence Reduction Strategy

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, today, I am pleased to provide an update on the significant progress made since the launch of Bermuda's National Violence Reduction Strategy (NVRS)—a strategic framework that marks a bold step forward in addressing violence in our community through prevention, intervention, and rehabilitation.

The Chairman: Go right ahead, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: It is important to note, Mr. Chairman, that the Gang Violence Reduction Team (GVRT), under the Ministry of National Security, was not only instrumental in developing this strategy but also led its drafting and presentation to Cabinet and the House of Assembly. The NVRS was officially tabled in the House on 15 November 2024 and passed with full support following a debate on 6 December 2024.

Strategic Leadership and Governance Framework

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: To ensure effective implementation, the NVRS is structured across three operational tiers:

1. National Violence Reduction Steering Committee (NVRSC). Chaired by the Minister of National Security and composed of Permanent Secretaries from the Ministries of National Security, Health, Education, Legal Affairs, and Youth, Social Development and Seniors. This committee meets regularly and ensures high-level alignment and resource coordination across ministries.

Bear with me, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Not a problem at all, Minister.

Just to remind Members that we are in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates and Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.

We are now debating heads in the Ministry of National Security, Heads 83, 6, 7, 12, and 88. The Honourable Michael Weeks, JP, MP, is in charge.

Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

2. Inter-Agency Gang Enforcement Team (IGET). Focused on intelligence-led enforcement and coordinated interventions, IGET works closely with law enforcement, the courts, and other agencies to mitigate gang activity in real time.
3. Inter-Agency Community Response (IGCR). This prevention-focused tier drives education, youth engagement, and community partnerships to disrupt the root causes of violence.

Major Programme Highlights Under the NVRS Educational and Vocational Pathways (Empowering Futures)

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Addressing root causes such as economic disenfranchisement, the NVRS has prioritised access to education and job training:

- GED Programme: In partnership with C.A.R.E. Learning Centre, grants are being issued to youth pursuing their GEDs. Discussions with the Adult Education School are underway to further expand access.
- Workforce Development: In collaboration with the Ministry of Economy and Labour, apprenticeships and industry certifications are being provided in high-demand sectors.
- Bermuda College Sponsorships: A new initiative is underway to sponsor associate degrees or certifications for youth from underserved backgrounds.

New GVRT Staff and Sports-Based Violence Prevention

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: A new GVRT team member has been hired to implement violence reduction strategies within local sports clubs, leveraging athletics as a vehicle for positive engagement and gang prevention.

Public Messaging and Youth Engagement Stop the Violence Campaign—March 2025

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: In collaboration with 7 South Productions, a multimedia campaign will launch across Bermuda featuring:

- video reels and podcasts;
- student-led campaigns on social media;
- mental health and anti-violence messaging by youth for youth.

We have a plan to recognise that safe spaces are essential for prevention. To that end, the NVRS is also:

- Funding youth-centred organisations such as Transitional Community Services, Future Leaders, The Family Centre, Women's Resource Centre, and Money Muse to scale their outreach and impact for groups working directly with young people.

Conclusion

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: In conclusion, Mr. Chairman, the National Violence Reduction Strategy represents our Government's clear and coordinated response to the crisis of violence. The Gang Violence Reduction Team remains at the heart of this mission—not only as the strategy's author but as its most consistent engine for impact.

With over 80 strategic actions already underway, this work is changing lives and rebuilding communities. Through education, mentorship, crisis response, and real opportunities, the GVRT is leading Bermuda toward a future that is safer, more resilient, and filled with hope.

We extend our deepest appreciation to all stakeholders, ministries, and community partners. Together, we are building a Bermuda where every young person has a reason to be hopeful—and has a path to succeed.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Ministry of National Security is developing the Uniformed Services Training Programme (USTP) as a strategic initiative to address long-standing recruitment challenges within Bermuda's uniformed services. The programme is designed to support Bermudians who narrowly fall short of the academic or physical fitness requirements for entry into the services. Open to individuals aged 18 to 49, the Uniformed Services Training Programme will provide targeted training and development aimed at increasing the pool of qualified, service-ready candidates.

Mr. Chairman, the programme will be delivered over a three-month period at Warwick Camp and will include a structured combination of academic instruction, physical fitness training, and personal and professional development. Participants will engage in modules focused on numeracy and literacy skills, interview and résumé preparation, and character development, alongside familiarisation placements within the Bermuda Police Service, Bermuda Fire and Rescue Service, Customs Department, and the Department of Corrections. The curriculum is currently under development, with input from professional training experts to ensure alignment with the operational and cultural expectations of Bermuda's uniformed services. Participants in the programme will also receive financial compensation during their training period.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry will deliver two cohorts of the programme during the 2025/26 fiscal year, with each cohort comprising up to 10 participants. The first cohorts will be populated by individuals who were recently unsuccessful in recruitment processes and narrowly missed the qualifying thresholds. These individuals will be directly invited to apply to the programme. The initial cohort will serve as a pilot, allowing the Ministry to refine delivery based on participant outcomes and operational feedback. The programme also benefits from the support of internal government resources, making it both cost-effective and sustainable.

The Uniformed Services Training Programme represents a significant investment in the future of Bermuda's public safety infrastructure. By focusing on trainable individuals who demonstrate potential but have not yet met entry standards, the programme enhances recruitment outcomes, strengthens organisational resilience, and promotes meaningful opportunities for Bermudians to serve their community with pride and professionalism.

Mr. Chairman, as we look at the year ahead, the Gang Violence Reduction Team (GVRT) will remain a central pillar in the ongoing implementation of the National Violence Reduction Strategy (NVRS). As both architects of the strategy and active agents of its delivery, the GVRT continues to be a driving force behind Bermuda's efforts to reduce violence and build a safer, more inclusive society.

The GVRT's work is not theoretical. It is practical, personal, and profoundly impactful. Through education, mentorship, crisis response, and real-life opportunities, the GVRT is changing lives, restoring communities, and guiding young people toward hope and purpose. Our next steps reflect a commitment to deepening this impact and expanding the reach of our programmes in alignment with the eight strategic goals of the NVRS.

Mr. Chairman, the GVRT will:

- Continue leading and implementing core violence prevention initiatives in direct alignment with the NVRS, serving as key stakeholders across all three strategic tiers of the National Violence Reduction Strategy (Steering Committee, Inter-Agency Gang Enforcement, and Inter-Agency Community Response teams).
- Support community-based prevention and early intervention through:
 - o Grants to sports clubs to provide after-school homework assistance, life skills development, and violence prevention workshops for young people.
 - o Funding youth-centred organisations that offer trauma-informed, wrap-around support to vulnerable children and families.
 - o Expanded counselling services and therapeutic programmes to address mental health needs and support emotional healing for people affected by violence or violent incidents.
- Launch the "Stop the Violence" multimedia campaign in collaboration with 7 South Productions, featuring:
 - o Video reels, short films, and podcasts
 - o Student-led social media campaigns
 - o Messaging that addresses gang violence, emotional health, and youth empowerment
- Host the "Stop the Violence" Youth Conference this June where students from across the Island will be mentored by local creatives to design and present youth-led anti-violence campaigns, while reinforcing peer advocacy and resilience.

- Expand our Youth Mentoring and Work Placement Programme, supporting 25 students with employment readiness, mentorship, and work-place experience in a safe, structured setting.
- Grow the Redemption Programme to support 25 young men through a 20-week curriculum of personal growth, life skills training, conflict resolution, and career exposure.
- Advance educational and vocational pathways under the Empowering Futures initiative, which includes:
 - o GED programmes in partnership with C.A.R.E and discussions to expand offerings through the Adult Education School.
 - o Apprenticeships and industry certifications through the Ministry of Economy and Labour and other local training programmes and partnerships.
 - o Associate degrees and certifications through new sponsorships at Bermuda College.
- Support the broader NVRS implementation, including:
 - o Violence prevention workshops for community leaders and service providers.
 - o Parenting support programmes, including culturally relevant workshops and targeted fatherhood support groups.
 - o “Through-the-gate” re-entry support packages for individuals transitioning from incarceration, tied to community-based care models.
 - o Community roundtables to gather feedback, build local partnerships, and identify service gaps.
- Uphold the NVRS Monitoring and Evaluation Framework, ensuring every action taken is guided by measurable goals, accountability, and evidence-based practices to deliver meaningful results.

Mr. Chairman, the Gang Violence Reduction Team will continue to serve on the frontline—offering guidance, intervention, and opportunity to those who need it most. We remain committed to working with all stakeholders to ensure the effectiveness of the National Violence Reduction Strategy and, most importantly, to build a Bermuda where safety, dignity, and opportunity are not the exception, but the expectation.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation on Head 83—Ministry Headquarters.

The Chairman: Thank you very much, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: And as I move on, I would like to thank the staff of the Ministry Headquarters for their yeoman work, led by our Permanent Secretary, Colonel Edward Lamb.

The Chairman: So noted. Thanks, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: I shall now present my budget, Mr. Chairman, for Head 6.

The Chairman: Go right ahead, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Which is Defence.

The Chairman: Yes, go right ahead.

HEAD 6—DEPARTMENT OF DEFENCE

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, found on pages B-268 through B-272 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure.

Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to present the budget for Head 6, the Department of Defence, found on pages B-268 through B-272 of the Budget Book.

Mission

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The mission of the Royal Bermuda Regiment is, To provide military resources in order to protect Bermuda's interests.

Mr. Chairman, under the authority of the Defence Act 1965, the Royal Bermuda Regiment's mandate is to be a military force maintaining the necessary standards of manpower, training, and equipment, to enable it to protect Bermuda's interests at home and overseas. It conducts its training and operations whilst also acting as a centre of excellence for all Bermudians and residents to be able to personally and professionally develop whilst serving their country.

Department Objectives

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the department objectives, which can be found on pages B-268 and B-269, are as follows:

- Force Protection—Measures and means to minimise the vulnerability of personnel, facilities, equipment, material, operations and activities from threats and hazards in order to preserve freedom of action and operational effectiveness thereby contributing to mission success.
- Humanitarian Aid/Disaster Relief—The organised response to alleviate the results of a catastrophe, the consequences of which put lives and livelihoods at risk and exceeds the responsible agency's ability to cope using its own resources.
- State Ceremonial—Provide state ceremonial and musical support for the government and to promote Bermuda, through ceremonial parades, national events and musical displays, as we saw this past weekend, Mr. Chairman—training and operations, in accordance with the Commanding Officer's directive and our Throne Speech initiatives.

The Chairman: Yes, we did. They did a fine job.

Business Unit 16000, Finance

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: —for Bermuda Day. Thank you, sir.

- International Assistance—Upon request, the Regiment will provide military skills and resources to assist UN, NATO, regional, or international peace support operations or training thereby enhancing Bermuda's reputation in the international community.
- Enhancing Bermuda Society—The Regiment will continue to provide an important role in supporting the integration and development of Bermudian society.
- Coast Guard—In order to secure Bermuda's territorial waters out to 12 nautical miles and eventually to defend the EEZ (200 nautical miles), in compliance with the Defence (Coast Guard Unit) Amendment Act 2018 and international obligations, the Royal Bermuda Regiment will expand its full-time Coast Guard capability that can achieve the following mandates:
 - o Law enforcement of Bermuda's in-shore waters.
 - o Search and rescue coordinated by the Bermuda Maritime Operations Centre.
 - o Support HM Customs to interdict marine smuggling operations.
 - o Support the Department of Environment and Natural Resources to enforce fisheries regulations.
 - o Support the Department of Marine and Ports to enforce maritime regulations and ensure maritime border and port security.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, a total of $9,810,000 has been allocated for this head, which represents an increase of $982,443 from the previous year, and constitutes 8 per cent of the budget allocated for the Ministry as a whole.

The total current expenditure is estimated to be $9,809,000 for 2025/26 and represents an increase of $982,400 or approximately 11 per cent, higher than the budget of 2024/25. This change is due primarily to an increase in full-time staff salaries in line with Government-wide increases, part-time wages, transport, travel, and operational expenses with additional expenditure focused on the Coast Guard, St. David's sub-station. This increase will allow the Royal Bermuda Regiment to return to its original full-time equivalent and allow the Royal Bermuda Regiment to support

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Finance cost centre covers the Defence Department which holds three civilian full-time staff and one Regiment full-time staff and serves as the accounting function for the Royal Bermuda Regiment (RBR).

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $358,000, which represents an increase of $15,000, or 4 per cent when compared to the last fiscal year. This is solely due to the salary uplift.

Business Unit 16005, Recruitment

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Recruitment cost centre covers the advertising, promotion, and related recruiting expenses.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $94,000, which is a decrease of $21,000, or 18 per cent from the 2024/25 financial year. The sole contribution to this is the reorganisation of the Regiment, which resulted in the wages being reallocated to cost centre 16030.

Business Unit 16010, Regimental Headquarters

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Regimental Headquarters cost centre covers all the Regiment FTEs for Defence, liabilities such as employee-related expenses and liability insurance for the marine fleet, vehicle fleet, and public liability.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $5,095,000 which is an increase of $640,000, or 14 per cent increase over the 2024/25 financial year. This increase is to account for an increase in FTE salaries, rising insurance costs, and increases to medical costs for FTEs. We have also re-funded four vacant unfunded posts.

Business Unit 16020, Quartermaster

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Quartermaster cost centre covers all the operational and logistical services for the Royal Bermuda Regiment in relation to facilities for land and sea forces.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $1,517,000, which is an increase of $5,000, or less than 1.0 per cent (0.7 per cent, actually) over the 2024/25 financial year. This is due to the transfer of Medics and Communications to Headquarters under the new reorganisation. Given the increases to the cost of goods and materials, this is not a dramatic increase. We have reduced training time to meet the budget ceiling, without any impact on operational readiness of troops.

Business Unit 16030, Ceremonial

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Ceremonial cost centre covers the ceremonial and the humanitarian and disaster relief training expenses. In addition to this, 16030 now covers the cost of Headquarter Company under the new organisation. This includes the Band, Medics, Communications, and public engagement aspects of the Royal Bermuda Regiment.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $352,000, which is an increase of $64,000 or a 22 per cent increase over the 2024/25 financial year. This is due to an increase in the part-time soldier's wages and increase in soldier numbers with the new reorganisation. We have reduced training time to meet the budget ceiling, without any impact on operational readiness.

Business Unit 16040, Internal Security

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Internal Security cost centre covers the training expenses related to internal security and military aid to civil authority.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $235,000, which is an increase of $10,000, or a 4 per cent increase over the 2024/25 financial year.

Business Unit 16060, Bermuda Cadet Corp/Junior Leaders

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Bermuda Cadet Corp cost centre covers the training and youth engagement of the Junior Leaders programme. As part of the curriculum, staff of the Royal Bermuda Regiment facilitate adventure training, drill, camp craft and similar military activities to young Bermudians below the age of military enlistment. The main aim is to enhance the leadership and decision-making skills of school-age cadets in order to make them better citizens. The programme runs weekly throughout the school year and incorporates meetings, weekend camps, and an annual exercise.

Mr. Chairman, were you a Junior Leader?

The Chairman: I was not a Junior Leader. I was a Police Cadet. I enjoyed being a Police Cadet as opposed to a Junior Leader.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: You served our community well.

The Chairman: I never had that opportunity.

Minister, as you take a short break, I will simply say that we remain in the Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates and Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.

Minister, by note, it looks like about 20 minutes is left before we will soon be breaking for lunch. I will let you continue.

The Minister continues on Head 6, which is Defence, and he is going through 16010 all the way to, I believe, by the time we get to the end of 20 minutes to 16085.

Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and for your service as a Police Cadet.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $43,000, which is a decrease of $9,000, or 17 per cent when compared to the 2024/25 financial year. This is due to the Commandant of the Junior Leaders becoming the Full-Time Adjutant, and the replacement Junior Leader Officer is also covered by salary under the new reorganisation.

Business Unit 16075, Overseas Camp

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, this year the overseas camp took place in Jamaica in April 2025. Since the formation of the unit, the two-week overseas camp has been the culmination of the annual training cycle and remains a mandated requirement by the Governor. The exercise provides tangible evidence that the Royal Bermuda Regiment is fit for role and able to operate at the scale and intensity required to complete their missions and tasks. The complexity and range of activities conducted, on land and at sea, are not possible to achieve within the confines of Bermuda; therefore, it is essential that the camp is conducted abroad. It is also a primary component in the retention of Royal Bermuda Regiment personnel as it is engaging, and an exciting and impactful opportunity for Bermudians to travel abroad.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $904,000, a $209,000, or 30 per cent, increase over the 2024/25 financial year. This increase is due wholly to increased wages and a more expensive charter due to travelling to Jamaica rather than North Carolina as the Royal Bermuda Regiment did in the 2024/25 financial year.

Business Unit 16080, Training and Validation

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Training and Validation cost centre covers the expenses related to the training of recruits and promotion courses. To ensure our military personnel are current, qualified and competent, it is essential that the selection and training system provides development and assessment opportunities at all levels, for all specialisms. The Training and Validation budget ensures these courses and qualifications are delivered in the most appropriate and cost-effective way possible, only seeking external instruction when it is not possible through local resources. All routine training exercises subscribe to the UK Armed Forces recognised assurance system, the Defence System Approach to Training, to ensure safety and consistency.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $555,000, which is an increase of $20,000, or 4 per cent over the 2024/25 fiscal year.

Business Unit 16085, Marine Operations

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Marine Operations cost centre covers the costs associated with the Royal Bermuda Regiment Coast Guard's operating expenses and part-time wages. The unit has 14 full-time staff, consisting of 12 soldiers and two officers. They are supported by part-time staff who train and operate on weekends and public holidays in order to provide safety and security on and in Bermuda's waters 24 hours a day throughout the year.

The 2025/26 budget estimate is $657,000, which is an increase of $50,000, or 8 per cent from the 2024/25 financial year. This is exclusively due to increases to the cost of electricity and gasoline.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates of the department is found on page B-271. I will highlight the material object code increases and decreases.

Salaries have increased by $470,000, or 11 per cent for the 2025/26 financial year. This is largely in part due to salary uplifts, and the funding of four frozen FTEs.

Wages have increased by $69,000, or 3 per cent, for the 2025/26 financial year. This is due to the fact that part-time soldiers have increased alongside the salary uplift.

Employer Overhead has increased by $4,000, or 4 per cent for the 2025/26 financial year.

Other Personnel Costs have increased by $128,000, or 188 per cent. This is budgeted due to increased housing allowance to fall in line with BPS rates.

Travel has increased by $204,000, or 50 per cent. This is wholly due to the increased cost of the charter flight for the overseas camp and increased costs of flights.

Communications has increased by $5,000, or 7 per cent. This is due to the increased cost of goods and services.

Professional Services has increased by $18,000, or 25 per cent. This is due to the increased cost of goods and services.

Insurance has increased by 12,000, or 15 per cent. This is due to the increased cost of insurance Island-wide.

Energy has increased by $57,000, or 15 per cent. This is due to the increased cost of gasoline and electricity, and the anticipated costs for the expansion of the Coast Guard St. David's facility.

Materials and Supplies has increased by $16,000, or 4 per cent. This is due to the increased cost of goods and services Island-wide.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The Regiment is due to purchase a modernisation programme for the rifle range at Warwick Camp, which is utilised equally between the Royal Bermuda Regiment and Bermuda Police Service. The portable turning target system will enhance training for both services, at the cost of $21,510. Additionally, $1,300,000 has been allocated to Phase 2 of the Coast Guard Station in St. David's. Utilising the St. David's Post Office structure, this will give increased operational coverage to the Coast Guard that will allow more coverage of the Eastern end of the Island, as currently all Coast Guard operations originate from Watford Island. Funds will be spent on renovating the building and making the site secure for military operations. This is expected to be operational by the end of this financial year.

Manpower

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Regiment currently employs 39 full-time staff and four civilians. With the increased budget ceiling, we are in the process of funding an additional four FTEs to re-fund vacant PIDs. This brings the total FTEs for 2025/26 to 47 which is reflected on budget page B-271. The Coast Guard is currently at full capacity in terms of FTEs. In addition to the full-time staff, the Royal Bermuda Regiment part-time strength is 240. This brings our total numbers to 279.

Performance Measures by Business Unit

16000, 16005, 16010, 16020, 16030, 16040, 16075, 16080—Finance, Recruitment, Headquarters, Quartermaster, [HADR, MACA], Overseas Camp, Training Wing

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Regiment successfully completed its preparations and training for the past Hurricane season. In February, the Regiment held a successful Recruit Camp with 27 volunteers, and the Royal Bermuda Regiment is in the planning stages of holding a second Recruit Camp in summer 2025 where we aim to bring in an additional 25 recruits.

In April of 2024 the Royal Bermuda Regiment sent a contingent of [110] soldiers to North Carolina, where they represented the Island in Exercise Island Warrior 24. They have also dispatched training teams to deliver sub lethal Public Order training to the seven nation Regional Security Service based in Belize. The Regiment is also intending to send up to 121 soldiers to Jamaica for their annual overseas camp to develop advanced soldiering and tactical skills, alongside other Overseas Territories Regiments from the Falkland Islands, Cayman Islands, and Turks and Caicos Islands. This camp continues to be a lynchpin in cooperation between our sister units in other British Overseas Territories, and Bermuda takes pride in the Royal Bermuda Regiments' ability to lead and organise this on a yearly basis.

16085—Maritime Operations

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: I am pleased to report that as of 31 March 2025, the Royal Bermuda Regiment Coast Guard has completed another successful year of operations. The unit represents a continued commitment by the Government to provide safety and security on and in Bermuda's waters for recreational users and those who depend on our Blue Economy. During the 12 months of January 2024 to December 2024, the Coast Guard conducted 1,149 patrols, observed over 16,158 vessels, conducted 100 search and rescue missions, and enforced Environmental Protection Laws such as fishing and lobster licence checks. These are significant achievements from a relatively small resource.

The Chairman: Clearly. They sound busy, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: So be careful, Mr. Chairman, if you are out on the water.

[Laughter]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: My boys are watching.

The Chairman: I will make sure I have all in order.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Working with local and international partners, including US Coast Guard, HM Coast Guard, and the Royal Navy, the Coast Guard continues to provide the following services:

- a) Search and rescue or recovery.
- b) Interdiction of illegal maritime operations.
- c) Deterring criminal activity on the water.
- d) Enforcement of natural resource regulations.
- e) Enforcing regulations in relation to maritime border and port security.

Mr. Chairman, the Regiment is also mandated to conduct the following duties:

- a) Force Protection. These are the means and measures to minimise the vulnerability of people, infrastructure, and high-value assets from threats and hazards. This ranges from military security and public order to Explosive Ordnance Disposal.
- b) Humanitarian Aid and Disaster Relief. This is the organised military response to alleviate the results of a man-made or natural catastrophe; the consequences of which put lives and livelihoods at risk. Ranging from hurricanes to oil spills and fires, the priorities are saving life, relieving suffering, and limiting damage, restoring essential service, and setting the conditions for recovery.
- c) Ceremonial. The Regiment provides the only local professional standard Military Band and accompanying troops to conduct National Ceremonial and Civic Events, i.e., Bermuda Day.

- d) International Assistance. Upon request, the Regiment can provide military skills and resources to assist the UN and NATO, and regional peace support operations or training which enhances Bermuda's reputation in the international community.
- e) Enhancing Bermudian Society. Since its inception, the Royal Bermuda Regiment has provided an important role by supporting the integration and development of Bermudian society in the form of:
 - o A common military experience for volunteers from across Bermuda's society.
 - o The opportunity to enhance life and vocational skills through direct provision of training or providing funding support for specific qualifications.
 - o Involvement in Regimental and wider community sporting and social activities.
 - o Youth engagement through Junior Leaders, and in partnership with the Bermuda Police Service the facilitation of the Outward Bound Adventure Training Centre.

The Chairman: I did the Outward Bound programme, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes? How was it?

The Chairman: It was good. It was a very good programme.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes. We are now reimplementing—it laid dormant for a few years but we are putting some more energy and funds into it.

The Chairman: Very good.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Royal Bermuda Regiment conducts many of these tasks in partnership with or in support of other Government departments, specifically the Emergency Measures Organisation (EMO), Maritime Operations Centre, Department of Environmental Protection, HM Customs Bermuda, Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation (DRRM) Team, Bermuda Police Service, Bermuda Fire and Rescue Service, and Bermuda Hospitals Board.

Major Achievements for 2024/25

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, in addition to its public roles, including the continued development of the Coast Guard, the Royal Bermuda Regiment has:

- Fulfilled its mandate through Hurricane Ernesto in August 2024.
- Supported the US Navy for a 12-week maritime surveillance exercise during Summer 2024.

The Royal Bermuda Regiment was a principle logistic enabler for the Navy, providing accommodation, transport and acting as the principal liaison for the Bermuda Government.

- Facilitated crew transfer and support between the Royal Navy River class ships HMS Medway and HMS Trent in September 2024.
- Actively pursued the Government's commitment to Blue Shield.

I take leave from you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: You are on Defence in Head 6. It does not appear you are winding it down, are you, before Police?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: No.

The Chairman: But no, that's fine. No, that's fine, Minister. We can adjourn for lunch break.

If you can just move that we go ahead for lunch break until two o'clock. But go right ahead, Minister. We stand at your leisure.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, I move that we adjourn for lunch and return to the House promptly at 2 pm. Thank you very much, Minister.

The Chairman: The House stands adjourned until 2 pm.

[Gavel]

Proceedings in Committee suspended at 12:30 pm

Proceedings in Committee resumed at 2:00 pm

[Mr. Scott Pearman, Chairman]

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2025/26

MINISTRY OF NATIONAL SECURITY

HEAD 6—DEFENCE

[Continuation thereof]

The Chairman: Good afternoon, Honourable Members and members of the listening public. I hope you all had a nice, short adjournment.

We are listening to a five-hour debate in the Committee of Supply [considering the] Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the budget year 2025/26. And this five-hour debate concerns the Ministry of National Security, more specifically, Heads 83, 6, 7, 12, and 88. And when we broke for lunch we were in the capable hands of Minister Michael Weeks.

Minister, if you are ready, please proceed.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Good afternoon, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Good afternoon.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: How much time do I have left?

The Chairman: Well, I think you were one hour and 15 minutes into it.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

The Chairman: So, some time to go still. I think—

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Four hours.

The Chairman: Well, I think it's five hours and I think the conclusion is . . . I'll double check but I think it's something like 5:45. But I'll check.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: No problem.

The Chairman: I'll check the conclusion time for you.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: I was just asking that for the listening public.

The Chairman: Excellent. Not nearly long enough is the answer, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Right. Okay.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Plans for the upcoming year is where I left off, Mr. Chairman.

So, Mr. Chairman, the coming financial year will see the Defence Department conduct Recruit Camps which are scheduled to be conducted in July 2025 and February 2026.

Just for the record, Mr. Chairman, I could say that we stopped off on the Head 6 which is the Royal Bermuda Regiment.

The Chairman: Thank you. Head 6.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay?

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Over 100 soldiers have just returned from overseas camp 2025, in Jamaica. Additionally, a smaller overseas camp, Camp Lejeune in North Carolina, is scheduled for June where our JNCO Cadre [Junior Non-Commissioned Officer] will be taught essential leadership development skills before the successful candidates are promoted in December. This rite of passage is essential for the future of the Regiment as the last financial year lacked a JNCO course.

A Junior Leader Summer Camp is also planned for summer of this year. These leadership skills are useful not just within the gates of Warwick Camp but impact management positions in the Island's private sector. Skills learned on these camps will go on to assist Bermudians in their full-time employment. Operationally, the Coast Guard will continue to uphold its mandate and is in the early stages of developing an unmanned systems unit to further protect the shores of our Island and assist in search and rescue operations and give Bermudians peace of mind when on the water.

Ceremonially, we continue to prepare for multiple parades throughout the year. The Royal Bermuda Regiment Band has been invited to perform overseas in Birmingham for their Annual International Tattoo in February 2026. The Royal Bermuda Regiment Band has a rich history of representing the Island overseas and also introducing the joys of music to the youth, as the band continues to embrace school-aged musicians.

Mr. Chairman, this year we will celebrate the milestone 60th anniversary of our beloved military unit with a number of activities. The Royal Bermuda Regiment's 60th anniversary will serve as an opportunity to reflect on the unit's 130-year history. From the overseas wartime service of the Bermuda Militia Artillery and Bermuda Volunteer Rifle Corps, in the First and Second World War, to the crucial role that the Regiment has provided throughout challenging times at home, we expect 2025 to be a celebration of those who have served this Island and an invitation to those who may wish to join it in the future.

I hasten to add, Mr. Chairman, my sincere thanks on behalf of the Government and people of Bermuda to all those who have served our country through the Royal Bermuda Regiment in the last 60 years

Closing Remarks

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, this past year has showcased our Regiment as a force of professionalism, reliability and adaptability both ashore and afloat within Bermuda and alongside Caribbean allies. They have notably enhanced the Coast Guard unit's operational capabilities while offering substantial personal and professional growth opportunities for our soldiers.

The year has reaffirmed the Royal Bermuda Regiment's stature as a steadfast, honourable and skilled entity efficiently delivering critical services to Bermuda in regular periods and emergencies. On both land and sea, we have also proven that our abilities can match and support our larger allies adequately despite our small size. This year we proudly continue our 130-year military tradition celebrating the Royal Bermuda Regiment's 60th anniversary. Our Island's Regiment stands as a key pillar within our community and a source of collective pride for all of us.

Mr. Chairman, in closing I wish to commend Lieutenant-Colonel Duncan Simons and his outstanding team for their continued dedication and service to Bermuda. Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation on Head 6, Defence.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Does that take us on to Head 7?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes, it does, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Excellent. Minister, when you're ready you have the floor.

HEAD 7—BERMUDA POLICE SERVICE

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to present the budget for Head 7, the Bermuda Police Service, found on pages B-273 to B-276 of the Budget Book. The mission, Mr. Chairman, the mission of the Bermuda Police Service is, Making Bermuda safer. To make Bermuda safer, the Bermuda Police Service strives to

- maintain the confidence of the community;
- treat all persons fairly with dignity and respect;
- protect vulnerable victims;
- reduce crime, particularly focusing on serious crime and gang-related criminality;
- reduce antisocial behaviour; and
- enhance road safety.

Mr. Chairman, the Bermuda Police Service [BPS] carries out its objectives by aligning its organisational structure to maintain its community safety agenda and the prevention of criminal risk (locally and internationally) through a funded establishment of 482 employees as shown on page B-276. This represents an increase of nine police officers, or 2 per cent (full-time equivalents) over the original budget for 2024/25.

Mr. Chairman, the Bermuda Police Service continues to advance its 2021–2026 Strategic and Operational Plan. This will allow the following several key initiatives to progress:

- The Bermuda Police Service Gang Targeting Team continues to work with the Ministry of National Security's Gang Violence Reduction Team to reduce the threat in this area and seeks to divert persons from gang-related criminality. However, significant risk to the community remains from gun/gang-related violence and the Bermuda Police Service continues to strive to deter such acts through effective use of intelligence and specialist policing.
- The Bermuda Police Service continues its work regarding standards of professional behaviour and anti-corruption policy and procedure to which relevant best practice is being utilised by the National Anti-Corruption Committee in support of other government departments and the United Nations Anti-Corruption Self-Assessment for Bermuda.

- The BPS also continues its work in support of the National Anti-Money Laundering Committee (NAMLC) to prevent financial crime, money laundering and counter-terrorism funding, with a strategic focus to maintain its excellent Caribbean Financial Action Task Force [CFATF] grading.
- The BPS further continues its work to prevent and respond to cybersecurity matters and help maintain Bermuda's reputation as a premier international financial jurisdiction.
- The BPS is working to implement a framework for greater multi-agency collaboration on the problem of domestic abuse. We seek to enhance communication and improve training with a view to improving service and reducing victimisation.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, I will now invite your attention to the current account estimates for Head 7, which can be found on page B-274.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The total current expenditure for the 2025/26 financial year is estimated to be $69,769,000. This represents an increase of $4,931,000, or 8 per cent from the 2024/25 financial year. This change is due primarily to salary increases, resulting from negotiations between the various unions and the Bermuda Government. Salary and wage increases were necessary because of pay freezes, furlough days and not keeping up with CPI increases over the last 14 years. Proposed salaries of $54,860,000, which can be found on page B-275 represents an increase of $4,653,000, or a 9 per cent increase year over year.

Programme 0701, Commissioner's Office

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the BPS is focused on the protection of the Island's property and its people. To ensure such protection, we require boots on the ground—that is manpower. Officer salaries represent a primary expense in programme 0701. Total funding for programme 0701 as shown on page B-274 is $54,592,000. The Commissioner's Office represents 78 per cent of the BPS total budget and covers proposed costs for 410 officers and four civilian staff. Funding for this programme increased by $4,431,000, or 9 per cent.

The budget also includes funding of $4 million for police overtime costs and other benefits for officers as mandated by the Police (Conditions of Service) Orders 2024.

Programme 0702, Corporate Services Division

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Corporate Services Division includes the following departments:

- 17010, Human Resources
- 17020, Finance and Administration
- 17025, Information Management Services
- 17190, Training and Development Department
- 17300, Vehicle Stores
- 17310, Uniformed Stores

Funding for programme 0702 for the 2025/26 financial year is $6,696,000, an increase of $191,000, or 3 per cent year over year.

Mr. Chairman, the department under the Corporate Services Division that requires the most funding is Information and Management Services. We have total funding of $2,692,000 which represents 40 per cent of the budget for the programme. As the world becomes more reliant on technology, so does policing. And the cost of technology is increasingly pricey as the world veers away from vendor-owned software applications into the world of paying for software licences for periods of time. In addition, computer hardware is deemed obsolete, typically in five years or less, and therefore needs constant replacing. Computer hardware and software are the primary drivers of expenditure in the Information and Management Services Department.

Mr. Chairman, in keeping with our mission of making Bermuda safer, we cannot do so without competent officers safeguarding people and property on the Island of Bermuda. The BPS must constantly recruit as we lose officers through attrition and other reasons. Funding under cost centre 17010, Human Resources, of $1,254,000 provides support for recruiting and various medical benefits as mandated by the Police (Conditions of Service) Order, or COSO.

Mr. Chairman, the 2025/26 budget for finance and administration has been set at $1,522,000, on page B-274. This is an increase of $143,000, or 10 per cent. Finance and Maintenance provides $271,000 for maintenance of the numerous properties of the Bermuda Police Service. Included are the police barracks located in Prospect, Somerset Police Station and Southside Police Station, as well as various offices located at our Prospect site. But the bulk of the budget $904,220 covers salaries for 11 full-time equivalents as found on page B-276. Staff under this budget are responsible for BPS payroll, vendor and other payments, stores and facilities. In addition, there is a provision of $100,000 for the securing of overseas witnesses.

Programme 0703, Operational Policing Division

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, programme 0703 previously consisted of four separate departments. The departments were merged under one cohesive unit in the 2024/25 financial year under the title Community Policing Unit. Funding for this unit is set at $2,216,000. This on page B-274. [There is] funding of $1,005,000 in salaries for the 17 full-time equivalents who support the Bermuda Police Service officers and their policing duties. The unit pays for the cost of station duty officers who whilst civilian, provide critical support for officers.

In addition, the budget funds rent and associated costs of $264,000 for the Southside Police Station as well as cleaning services and various other costs incurred with running offices for the department.

Programme 0704, Operational Support Division

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, Operational Support Division provides funding for the following departments:

- 17090—Court Liaison Unit
- 17120—Technical Operations
- 17130—Garage and Workshop
- 17160—Forensic Support

The total budget for this programme is $3,523,000, an increase of $218,000, or 7 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, while personnel for policing are important so are our operational vehicles which are on Bermuda's roads 24/7. The cost of which is funded under 17130, Garage and Workshop, in the amount of $1,524,000, an increase of $176,000, or 13 per cent year over year. The increase is necessary to fund increasing costs for vehicle parts.

Cost centre 17130, Garage and Workshop includes wages and salaries for garage mechanics, and the fleet manager, as well as $774,000 for inventory, spare parts, fuel, and insurance for the Bermuda Police Service fleet. The budget for garage and workshop represents 43 per cent of the total budget under the Operational Support Division.

Programme 0708, Serious Crime Divisions

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Serious Crime Divisions includes the following departments:

- 17140—Serious Crime Units;
- 17150—Drugs and Financial Crime Department;
- 17170—Intelligence Division.

The Police Support Unit as shown on page B-274 is now incorporated under programme 0703, which is why there is a zero balance shown for this unit. The budget for programme 0708 is $2,460,000, an increase of $36,000, or 1 per cent year over year.

Mr. Chairman, within the Serious Crime Division lies the Serious Crime Unit [SCU] with a budget of $1,077,000, which represents 44 per cent of the total SCU budget. Prominent in the Serious Crime Unit are costs for overseas consultants at $683,000. These consultants are a critical part of the BPS, providing skilled and experienced investigators who assist both Intelligence and Financial Crime Units, as well as Forensics Support Officers who deliver essential crime scene response services. These highly skilled professionals are required because they bring capacity, capability and specialised expertise not locally available. Their contribution ensures that BPS maintains operational effectiveness in complex investigations and serious cases while meeting international standards of evidence collection and analysis.

0710, Bermuda Reserve Police

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, 0710, Bermuda Reserve Police with a budget of $282,000. The budget primarily funds bounty payments and associated costs for Bermuda's Reserve Police Officers.

Revenue Overview

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Revenue shown on page B-275 for the Bermuda Police Service consists of income from

- 8457, general licences;
- 8521, firearms licences,
- 8523, licences for the use of explosives;
- 8525, security guard fees;
- 8617, publications; and
- 8801, facilities.

The BPS is responsible for the provision of firearm and explosive licences on Island. In addition, the BPS reviews and approves licences to the various security guard services. The BPS also provides barrack housing facilities at a nominal cost at the Prospect location. With our active recruiting efforts during the last two years the availability of such housing is critical as a benefit and incentive for new officers. In addition, the BPS provides fingerprinting services, police and traffic reports for the public. Because the BPS is not considered (nor should they be) a revenue generator, money earned from these sources are nominal. Therefore, the impact of such revenue is presumed unchanged from the prior year at $698,000.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The Subjective Analysis of current account estimates of [Head] 7 is found on page B-275, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: I will highlight the material changes year over year.

Mr. Chairman, with a projected budget of $69,769,000, Salaries and Wages represent 79 per cent of the Bermuda Police Service budget. The budget for salaries is $54,860,000, an increase of 9 per cent. The budget for wages is $646,000, an increase of 5 per cent. The funding is for 482 full-time equivalents comprised of 410 officers and 72 civilian staff, as shown on page B-276. The increase for salaries and wages is a result of recently negotiated salary uplifts.

Mr. Chairman, repair and maintenance is budgeted at $2,390,000, an increase by $101,000. The increase is for additional funding required to repair and maintain various Bermuda Police Service properties throughout the Island. With the ageing buildings and increased repair costs, it was necessary to increase their budget.

Mr. Chairman, materials and supplies have increased from $1,912,000 to $2,057,000. The increase of $145,000 is because of increasing costs for vehicle parts and the costs of outsourcing the maintenance of some vehicles, otherwise there were no changes.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: We will start with capital development costs. Mr. Chairman, as shown on page C-7, the Bermuda Government is funding various capital projects for the Bermuda Police Service in the 2025/26 financial year. Most importantly, the Government has provided $2,000,000 for renovations to the old headquarters building in Prospect. It is the desire of the BPS to move senior command and the Serious Crime Unit back to its base in Prospect. In so doing, the BPS can eliminate rent and associated costs at the Front Street location, allowing the courts the use of the fifth floor of Hamilton Police Station and bring staff back to their original home. This is an ongoing, massive undertaking and is projected to be finished in August 2026.

Capital Acquisition Costs

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the BPS has been provided with $1,275,000 for capital acquisitions as shown on page C-15. Mr. Chairman, $300,000 has been provided to purchase new vehicles. As a 24/7 operation, BPS vehicles endure severe wear and tear and each year some must be replaced for safety reasons. It is anticipated that the BPS will purchase nine new operational vehicles in the 2025/26 financial year.

In addition, the BPS has been funded $900,000 to replace switches for its network. These switches are well beyond end of life and if not replaced the service risks a complete shutdown of its information systems. As stated earlier, today's police service is technology-driven and information systems are integral to our operations. Therefore, the replacement of these switches is critical to BPS operations.

Mr. Chairman, the BPS has also been allocated $30,000 for the acquisition of computer equipment. And $45,000 for the replacement of ageing, out-of-warranty, body armour.

Staffing

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: As previously mentioned, the BPS has budgeted for 482 officers and staff for the 2025/26 financial year. This number consists of 410 officers and 72 civilian staff members. This represents an increase of nine additional funded posts when compared to the original submission for the 2024/25 budget.

Service Initiatives

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Bermuda Police Service has a strategic and operational plan for the period of 2021 to 2026 with five key priorities:

1. Reducing serious crime
2. Protecting vulnerable persons
3. Raising confidence in the police
4. Reducing harm on our roads
5. Developing digital policing

As we move toward the conclusion of this planning cycle, in 2025, the Bermuda Police Service will begin a comprehensive internal and external consultative process to form our next five-year strategic plan. This forward-looking initiative will gather insights from officers, staff, community members, and partner agencies to shape our priorities and approaches for 2026 to 2031.

Mr. Chairman, I just need to raise this a little bit because being a little tall it is starting to take its toll.

The Chairman: Sure. As the Minister is just getting himself organised or more organised, we are in the Committee of Supply for Estimated Revenues and Expenditures for the budget year 2025/26. This is currently a five-hour debate on the Ministry of National Security and we are hearing from the Minister of National Security, [Honourable] Michael Weeks. It is as I said, a five-hour debate.

And earlier, Minister, you asked me for the end time. I estimated it was 5:45 pm. It is in fact 5:42 this afternoon when this debate will conclude.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: There we go. You have three minutes less . . . three minutes less. This debate has five heads, Head 83, 6, 7, 12 and 88 and at the moment we are on the third of the five heads, Head 7, Police.

Minister, if you're ready, please continue. You have the floor.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you.

This forward-looking initiative will gather insights from officers, staff, community members, and partner agencies to shape our priorities and approaches for 2026 to 2031.

A key input to this process will be the findings from the upcoming Security and Defence Review—a Throne Speech initiative that examines what capabilities, capacities, services and resources the BPS needs to best position itself to meet Bermuda's security needs over the next 10 to 15 years. This review will help us align our future strategic planning with broader national security considerations and ensure the BPS is prepared for emerging challenges.

The consultative process will be guided by our commitment to community satisfaction and confidence, ensuring that public input helps shape our future direction. By combining professional expertise with community voice, we aim to develop a strategic plan that builds on our current achievements while adapting to evolving security threats and community expectations.

Performance Measures

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to report that the department's forecast performance measures, which are shown on page B-277, for fiscal year 2024/25 were achieved.

Public satisfaction with the Bermuda Police Service represents the cornerstone of our performance framework. At 6.2 against our target of 6.0, this measure—independently assessed each quarter through comprehensive surveys—transcends all other measures for a fundamental reason: policing exists only through the consent and support of our community. When citizens express satisfaction with our service, it signals their trust in our approach, their confidence in our abilities, and their willingness to partner with us in Making Bermuda Safer.

Traditional metrics like crime statistics, while relevant, only tell part of the story. They measure what we do, not how we do it. A police service can achieve technical objectives yet fail in its primary mission if the public feels unheard, unfairly treated, or unsafe. These independent quarterly measurements capture the people element of policing that no procedural measure can quantify. Simply put, if the community is not satisfied with their service, the BPS is failing, no matter what the other numbers suggest.

Policing Issues for 2025/26

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, like many police services globally, the Bermuda Police Service faces ongoing staffing considerations that require careful management. While the current staffing level of 382 officers presents challenges, we are pleased to report that funding is not an issue and that we are making great progress in increasing the number of police officers in the Bermuda Police Service. For example, last year there were 360 officers, which means that we have increased the number of officers by 22, or 6 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, the BPS has implemented several promising initiatives to address staffing needs and, as is shown in our increased numbers, these efforts are starting to bear fruit. I am pleased to report that the Bermuda Police Service passed out 22 new police officers on 8 May 2025; and there are currently 14 new cadets undergoing training who will be ready for deployment in September. Moreover, we began another recruitment drive in April 2025 and after initial vetting was completed, there are 139 applicants still in the pool. The next recruit foundation course is expected to graduate in March 2026, further bolstering the number of officers in the ranks. Further, Mr. Chairman, we are on course to start another recruitment drive in June or July 2025.

Mr. Chairman, local recruiting efforts have redoubled with the assistance of a government-led cross-ministry recruiting initiative that is showing positive results. Additionally, the Government has expanded local recruiting opportunities to include resident non-Bermudians, which will increase numbers and reduce demand on barrack accommodations as these candidates are already housed within the community.

Once all local recruitment options have been exhausted, overseas recruitment may become necessary. There is a strong commitment to take whatever steps are needed to ensure the Bermuda Police Service is sufficiently staffed to meet the Island's security needs.

These proactive measures will help address expected retirements over the coming years while ensuring the Bermuda Police Service maintains appropriate staffing levels to fulfil its mandate of Making Bermuda Safer.

Mr. Chairman, despite these staffing constraints, we face several significant public safety challenges that require targeted action this fiscal year. The scourge of gang and gun violence continues to impact our community with concerning developments. We are now witnessing the first-generation gang member's children coming of age and choosing to carry forward their fathers' destructive legacy, often with greater levels of violence and disregard for community safety. This intergenerational cycle demands renewed intervention strategies focused on at-risk youth to divert them from this path. Knife crime is also rising at an alarming rate and addressing this trend will be a priority for the Bermuda Police Service this year.

Domestic abuse remains a concern requiring sensitive handling. We will continue the work already started in partnership with other agencies to ensure community members feel confident to report these sensitive matters. Our goal is to build more confidence in the police for victims to seek help while providing the specialised response and support when they do come forward.

Mr. Chairman, the summer months will bring additional challenges to community safety as residents and visitors socialise in larger numbers on beaches, on the water, and within bars and restaurants. These challenges include increased tensions between rival gangs, antisocial behaviour, and impaired driving. The BPS will maintain an intelligence-led approach to target the most violent and prolific harm-causers.

Additionally, vagrancy and its associated crime continue to impact the look and feel of Bermuda, particularly in the City of Hamilton. Business owners lament lost revenue, intimidation, and concerns about the safety of unaccompanied women. While the roots of this complex social problem extend beyond policing alone, the BPS remains committed to addressing reported crimes while working with our partners to pursue longer-term solutions.

Each of these challenges requires not just enforcement action but community partnership and trust—the foundation upon which effective policing is built. Our independently assessed public satisfaction rating of 6.2 reflects a measure of community confidence in our approaches to these issues, but we recognise there is always room for improvement. We will continue to ensure our responses are visible, effective, and build public trust across all communities, even as we work to address our critical staffing needs.

2024/25 Accomplishments

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, I will now provide this Honourable House with some sobering statistics on what the Bermuda Police Service dealt with over the calendar year (January through December 2024).

Mr. Chairman, in Making Bermuda Safer, between January and December 2024, the Bermuda Police Service responded to approximately 12,700 events/incidents. Included in that figure, the BPS responded to an average of twenty-five 911 calls every day.

Mr. Chairman, there were 1,853 arrests during the period. Notably 201 involved the arrest of an impaired driver, with some drivers being double, treble or even more than four times over the limit (389 was the highest DUI in 2024).

Mr. Chairman, 3,719 crimes were recorded and investigated, including nine murders, four of which were committed using a firearm, and five of which were committed using a knife. Of note, there was a knife-related triple homicide.

Mr. Chairman, the BPS dealt with 1,461 road traffic collisions of which seven were fatalities and 128 involved serious injury. In the last 10 years, 109 persons have died on our roads and 1,0[40] have been seriously injured.

Mr. Chairman, 6,942 traffic tickets were issued, with 1,718 tickets issued for speed. Of note is that 393 of the speeding tickets were issued for persons driving 70 kilometres per hour or more [than] double the speed limit.

Mr. Chairman, Stop and Search is a powerful tool that allows police officers to stop, question, and if required, search persons for weapons. The tool is used proportionately, as and when tensions, particularly gang tensions, increase. The Bermuda Police Service issued 1,0[66] Stop and Search forms to reduce opportunities for violence.

Mr. Chairman, despite these challenges, we should remain optimistic about the future of policing in Bermuda. Our women and men work with dedication and integrity every day to serve this community. The trust placed in them—reflected in the independently measured satisfaction rating—is something we value and strive to strengthen with every interaction. We know that public confidence is not just a metric; it is the foundation that enables everything they do. As they move forward with the plans and initiatives outlined today, they do so with a firm commitment to transparency, accountability, and genuine partnership with the people of Bermuda. When the community and police stand together, we create not just a safer Bermuda, but a stronger one.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation on Head 7, Bermuda Police Service. And as I close and go on to my next head, I just want to commend the Commissioner of Police and his team for the job that they do every day, 24/7, in keeping Bermuda safe.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Minister. As you prepare the next head, we are in the Committee of Supply for Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for budget year 2025/26. The specific debate this afternoon is the debate on the budget for the Ministry of National Security.

We have been listening to Minister Michael Weeks on Heads 83, 6, and 7 which has just concluded regarding the police. We are now going to go on to Head 12 and then Head 88. Head 12 is Customs.

Minister, when you are ready, you have the floor, sir.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

HEAD 12—CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman and Honourable Members, I am pleased to present the current account estimate for the Customs Department, Head 12, which can be found on pages B-278 through B-281 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure Book.

Mr. Chairman, the Customs Department's mission is: Protecting Bermuda's border and promoting economic development.

The objectives of the department are to

- assess and collect customs duty and fees on imported goods;
- enforce customs laws and administer other statutes controlling the international movement of goods and people;
- prevent the smuggling of drugs and other illegal commodities, enforcing international conventions for environmental protection and money laundering, and agency work for Immigration, Health, Transport Control, and Environment; and
- provide information and assistance to the public regarding customs laws and regulations.

Mr. Chairman, the Customs Department's Vision is to be a modern, effective and efficient Customs administration offering professional service to all stakeholders, using international best practices, maximising revenue collection and protecting the borders of Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, to make this vision a reality, strategic goals have been set for Customs:

Strategic Goal 1: Staffing, Stability and Training

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, in order for the Customs Department to carry out its mission, the department will continue to provide an environment that supports the highest level of integrity. Enhancing the department's integrity as a respected law enforcement arm of the government is vital to performing our enforcement functions and will continue to be improved by ongoing training and officer development.

Strategic Goal 2: Legislation and Operational

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, to advance Customs' mandate of facilitating legitimate trade, assessing and collecting the government's revenue and interdicting drugs and other contraband, the department will continue to review existing legislation and propose enhancements that will progress Customs' capability to fulfil its mandate in a rapidly changing environment.

Strategic Goal 3: Policy, Procedures and Future

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the department's policies and procedures are a vital portion of its foundation and the ongoing programme of updating these policies and procedures enables continuous improvement and further enhance the department's already positive work culture and continues its responsiveness to an ever-evolving environment.

Revision of the memorandums of understanding with the department's law enforcement counterparts will build upon the shared understanding of the department's comparable duties, aims and objectives.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, I would now draw your attention to the current account estimates for Head 12, which can be found on page B-278. A total of $19,493,000 has been allocated for Head 12 for the financial year 2025/26. This represents an increase of $1,121,000, or a 6.0 per cent increase of the original budget for the financial year 2024/25. The most significant driver of this increase is the 4.8 per cent pay rise given to staff.

Mr. Chairman, the Customs Department operates one programme listed as 1201, General, with seven active business units.

I will now address the business units as set out on page B-278:

Business Unit 22030, Airport Arrivals–Travellers

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, Airport Arrivals[–Travellers] has an estimate of $5,632,000. This represents an increase of $520,000, or 10 per cent. This increase pertains entirely to staff costs. The amount provided for base salaries has increased by $268,000. The amount provided for other staff costs, that is overtime and other contractually agreed allowances, has increased by the remaining $252,000. The increase in overtime cost is a result of increased traffic at the airport outside of normal hours and on public holidays.

Business Unit 22050, Investigations/Audit

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, Investigations/Audit has an estimate of $1,080,000. This represents an increase of $11,000 or 1 per cent. This increase pertains entirely to staff costs. Given the pay rise and the fact that the staffing levels are expected to remain static, the increase is, perhaps, less than expected. This is explained by the fact that some members of the team are expected to change in the coming year, and this will lead to the transfer in of more junior officers at a lower pay grade. Specifically, one of our Senior Customs Officers is expected to retire and a Customs Officer promoted into that position. Also, it is expected that one of the newly graduated Customs Officers will be placed within this section as part of the annual officer transfer programme.

Business Unit 22070, Hamilton Commercial Ops

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, Hamilton Commercial Ops has an estimate of $1,309,000. This represents a decrease of $20,000, or 2 per cent. You will note from the employee numbers on page B-279 that this section has a planned decrease in staff of two officers, from 17 to 15. The decrease is due to a re-evaluation of the volume of work and the resources that have been re-deployed to the interdiction section.

Business Unit 22080, Administration

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, Administration has an estimate of $5,182,000. This represents an increase of $73,000, or 1 per cent. The Administration business unit is deemed the headquarters of the department, and a majority of the operational budget is allocated to this unit. For brevity and to avoid repetition, I will elaborate upon all the notable budget changes during my presentation of page B-279; however, I will briefly comment on the movement in staff costs in this section which have increased by $38,000, or 2 per cent. The cost of the pay raise in this section has been offset by the reduction in planned employee numbers, as seen on page B-279, of one Customs Officer; from 23 to 22 due to the redeployment of an officer from the Internal Policy Section to the Vessel Clearance Section.

Business Unit 22090, Vessel Clearance

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, Vessel Clearance has an estimate of $1,951,000. This represents an increase of $146,000, or 8 per cent. This increase pertains entirely to staff costs and is attributable to the staffing level for this unit increasing by one officer.

Business Unit 22100, Interdiction

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, Interdiction has an estimate of $3,100,000. This represents an increase of $319,000, or 11 per cent. The increase is partly due to the planned staffing levels in the section increasing by two officers, from 32 to 34. You will recall that I advised that the redeployment of positions would come from the Commercial Operations section. This move was made in response to an evaluation of the operations within the courier and post office facilities where it was identified that additional resources were required to manage the workload.

Business Unit 22110, Seaport Enforcement Team

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Seaport Enforcement Team has an estimate of $1,239,000. This represents an increase of $72,000, or 6 per cent. This is primarily due to the pay raise already mentioned.

Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, turning to page B-279, on the table headed Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates, we see how the allocated funds are intended to be spent. Just over 84 per cent of the budget, $16,462,000, has been allocated to pay for salaries and a further $200,000 for other personnel costs. The allocation for the salary expense line has increased by $1,090,000 or 7 per cent.

If we momentarily turn our attention to the table headed Employee Numbers (Full-Time Equivalents), we observe an increase in the number of estimated Customs staff from the 2024/25 original of 180 to the 2024/25 estimate of 181.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Got that?

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The additional position is planned to be used at the airport. The total approved establishment of the Customs Department is 228 positions.

Mr. Chairman, of the remaining expense lines the more significant changes are as follows:

- Other Personnel Costs are estimated to be $200,000, an increase of $7,000, or 4 per cent. The Other Personnel Costs in question are, primarily, allowances provided for Customs Officers being on-call and called out. As you will be aware, the Customs Department has to be prepared to respond around the clock to provide its border control service. From time to time, unscheduled flights and vessels arrive into Bermuda and, therefore, the Customs Department pays an on-call allowance to retain a skeleton crew to respond to emergency out-of-hours calls.
- Training Costs are estimated to be $10,000, a decrease of $3,000, or 23 per cent.
- Travel Costs are estimated to be $44,000, an increase of $11,000 or 33 per cent. The planned travel comprises of Bermuda Customs participating in the World Customs Organization and Caribbean Customs Law Enforcement Council conferences as well as attending overseas [ACAMS] training. The planned increase is primarily due to an additional expected trip for [ACAMS] training. ACAMS is the Association of Certified Anti-Money Laundering Specialists, and this training is beneficial to Customs in several ways. For example, expertise in money laundering techniques, trends, and detection methods allows the Customs Department to provide up-to-date training to officers on the ground with respect to conducting investigations. This expertise is also useful in developing intelligence on the financial side of smuggling which makes the identification of suspicious activities more readily identifiable. Further, it aids in the development of policies that satisfy the requirements of the Caribbean Financial Action Task Force, or CFATF. This in turn benefits the economy of Bermuda as it increases the likelihood of receiving a favourable rating as part of the National Money Laundering Risk Assessment.

Communications costs are estimated to be $133,000, an increase of $7,000, or 6 per cent. These costs represent telephone and Internet costs and are reflective of the preceding financial year's actual expenses.

- Professional Services are estimated to be $358,000, a decrease of $10,000 or 3 per cent. The main driver of this expense type is due to the expanded use of retired Customs Officers to perform immigration primary functions. These support officers have the training and years of experience but are employed at a reduced cost rate and on a part-time basis. As a result, this allows the department to work more efficiently as it frees full-time Customs Officers from performing some immigration functions and allows them to focus on the core aspects of the Custom Officer role.

- Rentals are estimated to be $607,000, a decrease of $3,000. This expense line covers rent for buildings in the amount of $597,000 and equipment for $10,000. The Customs Department occupies two buildings for which it pays rent:
 - o Custom House at 131 Front Street, which houses its headquarters, administration, commercial operations, investigations and audit sections; and
 - o Building 110 at Southside, which is a replacement for the training and administration space that Customs formerly occupied within the old airport buildings.
- Repair and Maintenance are estimated to be $1,234,000, an increase of $32,000, or 3 per cent. This heading includes software costs, and the increase is due to an anticipated increase in a software maintenance fee. The software in question pertains to a maintenance contract associated with CAPS, the Customs Automated Processing System. In December 2025, the existing five-year software maintenance contract with IBM will expire and it is expected that the fees will increase with a new maintenance contract.
- Energy is estimated to be $143,000, an increase of $13,000, or 10 per cent. The increase is reflective of actual costs during the preceding financial year.
- Clothing, uniforms and laundry are estimated at $67,000, a decrease of $53,000, or 44 per cent. In recent years, the department has been impacted by supply chain issues with respect to sourcing uniform supplies. In the 2024/25 budget, it was anticipated that there would be a significant increase in the costs of procuring uniforms; however, the department was able to work with new suppliers and, in actuality, the increase in expenditure was not as high as expected.
- Materials and Supplies are estimated at $235,000, an increase of $31,000, or 15 per cent. This category of expense is broad and diverse and includes office supplies, cleaning supplies, personal protective equipment, food and supplies for canines, computer supplies, consumables for detection equipment and other miscellaneous items. The estimate is reflective of the actual expenditure in the preceding financial period.

Performance Measures

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, turning to pages B-280 and B-281, I would like to offer some comments on the performance measures for the Customs Department.

First, on page B-280, you will note that no performance measures have been provided, and no budget allocation has been allocated to business units: 22020, Airport Commercial; and 22040, Airport Shift “B.” These business units were folded into 22070, Hamilton Commercial Ops; and 22030, Airport Arrivals–Travellers, respectively, some years ago.

For the 2023/24 year, business unit 22030, Airport Arrivals–Travellers, collected forced duty in the amount of $41,188. It is forecasted that during 2024/25 that forced duty in the amount of $50,000 will be collected. The target for 2025/26 is $40,000.

For the 2023/24 year, business unit 22030, Airport Arrivals–Travellers, seized illicit items on nine occasions. It is forecasted that during 2024/25 that this unit shall seize illicit items on 30 occasions. The target for 2025/26 is 20.

For the 2023/24 year, business unit 22050, Investigations/Audit, completed 50 cases and collected additional duty of $16,300 and expects similar results during 2024/25. The target for 2025/26 is 100 cases dealt with, and additional duty collected of $20,000.

For the 2023/24 year, business unit 22070, Hamilton Commercial Ops, met its prescribed Quality Service Levels with respect to the timeframe of releasing imported goods 80 per cent of the time on 996,000 processed declarations. It is forecast that during 2024/25 this unit will achieve 70 per cent on 872,000 processed declarations.

For the 2023/24 year, business unit 22070, Hamilton Commercial Ops, met its prescribed Quality Service Levels with respect to the timeframe of releasing imported goods 80 per cent of the time on 996,000 processed declarations. It is forecast that during 2024/25 that this unit will achieve 70 per cent on 872,000 processed declarations.

Mr. Chairman, turning to page B-281 for the 2023/24 year, business unit 22090, Vessel Clearance, prepared invoices to collect revenue from arriving vessels in the amount of $1,747,[839]. The forecast for 2024/25 and the target for 2025/26 is $1.2 million.

For the 2023/24 year, business unit 22100, Interdiction, seized 347 illicit items and achieved 90 per cent of positive results from search and detentions undertaken. It is forecast that during 2024/25, Mr. Chairman, 350 items will be seized and the target for 2025/26 is, therefore, also 350 seizures.

For the 2023/24 year, business unit 22110, Seaport Enforcement Team, reviewed 98 per cent of import cargo manifests and scanned 80 per cent of imported containers. It is forecast that during 2024/25, those percentages will be 98 per cent and 90 per cent, respectively, and the same target has been set for 2025/26.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The Customs Department has three planned Capital Projects.

First, on page C-8, Mr. Chairman,—

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: —a capital development project, business unit 75372, Building Dock Scanner Hall, $395,000 has been allocated to replace the Hamilton Dock Scanner Hall Building. The existing building has been in place since 2012 and has fallen into disrepair and is in urgent need of replacement for the safety of those working in and around the building and for the safety of the equipment contained therein.

Turning now to page C-15, Mr. Chairman,—

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: —business unit 76473, Office Furnishings/Fittings, $10,000 has been allocated for the purchase of replacement office chairs.

Also, on page C-15, business unit 76500, Heritage Wharf Scanner, $127,900 has been allocated to purchase a new X-ray scanner to be used at the Heritage Wharf at Dockyard. The scanner will be used selectively to scan the luggage of disembarking travellers from the cruise ships and is a replacement for an existing machine which has reached the end of its useful life.

Initiatives for 2025/26

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, in harmony with the Customs Department's strategic goals, the following initiatives are planned.

With respect to Strategic Goal 1—Staffing, Stability and Training (as mentioned earlier):

- The Customs Department intends to complete promotions and a recruitment exercise during 2025/26. This will bolster the activities across the department but with particular focus being placed on enhancing marine and airport operations.
- The department will continue to utilise the excellent training modules developed by the World Customs Organization which are provided as part of Bermuda's membership.
- Additionally, Customs will engage with the UK Home Office for strategic planning and training opportunities.
- Customs will work on updating staff job descriptions to ensure that they are in harmony with current operational realities.

- With the export control scoping study well underway, it is the intention of the department to commence staff training to undertake this new role which plays an important role in the combating of international terrorism and organised crime.

With respect to Strategic Goal 2—Legislation and Operational:

- The Bill in relation to Advance Passenger Name Record [PNR] data is a high priority in the importance of cross-border movements and security. Work has already started and progress on drafting instructions will advance in the coming year.
- It is also intended that consideration will be given for the Customs Department to be included within legislation as an essential service. The Customs Department provides an essential service in protecting our borders and are on call 24 hours a day, every day of the year and it is appropriate that this is taken into consideration when discussions are held pertaining to this vital role.

With respect to Strategic Goal 3 Policy—Procedures and Future—

- During 2025/26, it is our intention to continue to work to provide support to the National Anti-Money Laundering Committee in its important work of preventing money laundering and terrorist financing. Customs plays a very critical role in this area as the enforcement body responsible for the cross-border movement of cash and goods.
- As mentioned earlier, it is also our intention to develop an export control process which will further mitigate the risk to our reputation and society arising from money laundering.
- The department continues to work with software developers to create an API which will allow the submission of Customs Traveller Declarations using a smartphone application.

Mr. Chairman, I wish to thank the Collector of Customs, Ms. Lucinda Pearman, and her team, for their continued dedicated and professional service to Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes the current and capital estimates for Head 12. I shall now present the budget brief for . . .

The Chairman: Head 88, I think. National Drug Control

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Head 88, National Drug Control.

The Chairman: Yes. Thank you, Honourable Minister. If you want to take a quick break, I will just remind the Honourable Members in the Chamber and the members of the listening public that we are the Committee of Supply for Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the budget year 2025/26.

And the current debate is a debate relating to the budget for the Ministry of National Security. And we have been hearing from the Minister of National Security this morning and this afternoon on various budget heads, including the National Security Headquarters, Defence, Police, Customs. And we are now moving to the fifth and final head that the Honourable Minister Michael Weeks is presenting, which is Head 88, National Drug Control.

And Minister, when you are ready to commence again, I will look forward to listening to you on the interesting topic of Head 88, National Drug Control budget.

Thank you, Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, as you have said to the listening public and to our colleagues here in the House, this is the final head that I will be presenting for the Ministry of National Security.

HEAD 88—NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: It gives me great pleasure to present the budget for Head 88, the Department for National Drug Control, found on pages B-285 through B-289 of the Budget Book.

Pages B-285 through B-289.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Good. Okay.

The Chairman: Yes, we have it. Thank you. Sorry, my microphone was off. Yes, we have it. Thank you, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay.

Mandate or Mission

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, our mission. The mandate of the Department for National Drug Control is to Lead efforts to reduce the negative impact of drug misuse/abuse on children, families and the community.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Our Expenditure Overview is on page B-285. Mr. Chairman, a total of $5,035,000 has been allocated for this head, which represents an increase of [$981,200] from the previous year, and constitutes 4 per cent of the budget allocated for the Ministry as a whole.

The total current expenditure is estimated to be $5,035,315 for 2025/26 and represents an increase of [$981,200], or approximately 24 per cent, higher than the budget of 2024/25. This increase is due primarily to increases in salaries, the addition of overtime, increased grant allocations and an increase in the general cost of living for operating costs.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The Subjective Analysis of current account estimates of the Department for National Drug Control is found on page B-285. I will highlight the material object code increases and decreases as per business unit.

Business Unit 98000, Administration

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Administration allocation of $1,317,000 is a 46 per cent increase from the 2024/25 allocation. The increase is due mainly to an increase in grant allocations by $100,000 and various increases in operating costs by $316,000, including the negotiated salary uplifts.

The Administration budget covers employee salaries for two staff and other operational expenses (such as: facilities, utilities, maintenance costs, supplies and training). And the following grants of $100,000 for Salvation Army Harbour Light and Community Life Skills programme; $169,000 for Shift (formerly PRIDE); $330,000 for Focus Counselling Services; and $150,000 for Pathways Bermuda. Mr. Chairman, see page C-21, Grants and Contributions.

Business Unit 98010, Community Development

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the allocation to Community Development, business unit 98010, is $233,000, which is a 2 per cent, or $4,000, increase from the 2024/25 allocation.

The Chairman: Yes, and that is at page B-285.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes. Okay.

The increase is related to negotiated salary uplifts for one staff.

Funding is allocated to facilitate activities that are primarily targeted towards public education, community development, information dissemination and to support a grant of $60,000 to the Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse (CADA) to support alcohol awareness and to provide TIPS Training. (See page C-221 [sic] Grants and Contributions.)

The Chairman: Sorry. Page C-15, Grants and Contributions.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: I'm sorry. Yes.

The Chairman: No. I'm with you.

Business Unit 98020, Prevention Unit

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay.

Mr. Chairman, an allocation of $247,000 is provided to support the Prevention Unit efforts in business unit 98020. This is a $6,000 increase in the allocation from 2024/25 due to the negotiated salary uplift for one staff.

Funds in this business unit are utilised to improve coverage of drug prevention measures within the community, to improve opportunities for school-based prevention interventions, and to increase access for young people to targeted prevention programmes. Funding is also utilised to support training of Prevention professionals and community members to support drug prevention efforts.

Business Unit 98030, Treatment Unit

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Treatment Unit, business unit 98030, is allocated $419,000 in financial year 2025/26. This is an increase of $65,000, or 18 per cent. The increase is related to salary uplifts for two staff and an increase in operational costs including promotions, food supplies and rental costs related to professional training and events.

Mr. Chairman, the Treatment Unit funding allocation is used to facilitate the implementation of key activities geared towards achieving the goals of the National Treatment Strategy, including Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) accreditation fees and resources, addiction specific training; Recovery Month (which is in September) activities; and the AccuCare, web-based client management system licences and training. Funds are also allocated to support the grant for the Bermuda Addiction Certification Board [BACB] at the cost of $80,000. (See page C-221 [sic] Grants and Contributions.)

The Chairman: Sorry. I think it should be C-21, not C-221. Yes?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Page C-21, yes.

The Chairman: National Drug Control. These are the grants and contributions.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

The Chairman: Yes. Sorry.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: I will have to be a little more clear because I did say C-21.

The Chairman: My mistake. I thought you said C-221.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay.

The Chairman: I'm with you. But anyway, we are in the same place.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

The Chairman: Thank you very much, Minister.

Business Unit 98050, Research and Policy Development Unit

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: All right, Mr. Chairman.

Moving on. The Research and Policy Development Unit, business unit 98050, on page B-285, has an allocation of $326,000, which is a 20 per cent, or $55,000 increase, from the previous fiscal year. The increase is due to negotiated salary uplifts for two staff, funding assigned to support the implementation of required National Surveys, and the evaluation/needs assessments related to the National Drug Control Masterplan.

Mr. Chairman, funding in this cost code is used to facilitate information gathering and analysis, monitoring and evaluation, as well as any relevant legislation and policy development initiatives prioritised within the department and/or Ministry.

Business Unit 98060, Men's Treatment Programme

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Men's Treatment programme, business unit 98060, on page B-285, was allocated $1,138,000, an increase of $227,000, or 25 per cent, from the previous fiscal year. The increase is related to salary uplifts for eight clinical staff. Overtime related to operations of a 24-hour programme and overall cost of living operating costs for food, electricity, et cetera.

Mr. Chairman, the funding allocation for Men's Treatment provides the operational and staffing cost required to provide services to meet the treatment/rehabilitative needs and goals of adult males needing residential treatment at the Nelson Bascome Substance Abuse Treatment Facility.

Business Unit 98070, Women's Treatment Centre

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Women's Treatment Centre, business unit 98070, on page B-285, has been allocated $1,355,000 for the 2025/26 fiscal year. This represents a $208,000, or 18 per cent, increase from fiscal year 2024/25. This increase relates to salary uplifts for eight clinical staff as well as the salaries for the administrative assistant, residential cook and maintenance person, servicing both the Women's and Men's Programmes.

The increase also includes funding for overtime related to operations of a 24-hour programme and overall cost of living operating costs for food, electricity, et cetera. The funding allocation provided is utilised to meet the treatment and support needs of women in residential substance abuse treatment along with rent for the Supportive Residence paid by the Department of National Drug Control [DNDC] to the Department of Public Works in the amount of $60,000 per annum.

The Women's Treatment Centre provides both residential treatment for women at the Nelson Bascome Substance Abuse Treatment Centre as well as supportive residency at a separate site. The Women's Treatment Centre is the only residential treatment facility for Women in Bermuda.

Business Unit 98080, National Drug Control Master Plan

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, business unit 98080, on page B-285, is in place to provide for the effective implementation of the National Drug Control Master Plan; cross-ministry initiatives with the Police, Customs and Corrections; evaluation of the Master Plan and to encourage cooperation and involvement of other Government Departments and civil society in the implementation of the Master Plan initiatives. This business unit has not been allocated any funding in financial year 2025/26.

The Department of National Drug Control is required by the National Drug Control Act 2013 to "oversee the implementation of the action plan and monitor and evaluate the performance of the plan." Without funding and high-level support, it is extremely challenging to implement and monitor the action plans and achieve the goals of the National Plan as legislated.

Previous funding in this cost code was utilised to support the development of services identified as gaps and priorities and to provide critical training for the Government Laboratory, Police and Customs staff to enhance their mandates; for example, fentanyl and its handling; the purchase and training of K9 dogs for Corrections and Customs; and attendance of Customs officer to the ACAMS Conference to support NAMLC obligations.

Funding was also previously provided to complete the evaluation and needs assessments for the National Drug Control Master Plan and to support media campaigns to highlight the outcomes of the National Plan. Without this funding the added support to supply and demand reduction agencies is depleted and the development of new initiatives cannot be supported.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Capital Expenditure is on page C-15, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Yes. Page C-15.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, in fiscal year 2024/25, the Department of National Drug Control was provided with $3,000 to upgrade the security system in the main office. This was completed. In fiscal year 2025/26, the Department of National Drug Control has been provided with $10,000 to upgrade the data management system used to support the implementation of national surveys and the Bermuda Drug Information Network (BerDIN) by our Research Unit.

Manpower

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the department employs 27 staff. The Department Headquarters is presently staffed by a director, five technical officers and one full-time administrative staff.

Direct staffing support to the Nelson Bascome Substance Abuse Treatment Facility is provided by one Treatment Coordinator that oversees both the Male and Female Residential Treatment Programmes along with 16 clinical staff (Clinical Coordinators, Addiction Counsellors, Junior Addiction Counsellors and Addiction Counsellor Technicians) and three support staff, (Administrative Assistant, Cook and Maintenance) currently assigned to the Women's Treatment Centre and Men's Treatment Programme.

There are currently three vacancies within the Men's Treatment Programme (Clinical Coordinator, Addiction Counsellor and Addiction Treatment Support Worker). The Addiction Counsellor and Support Worker are in active recruitment; the Clinical Coordinator post is due to be filled in the 2025/26 fiscal year. There are three vacancies within the Women's Treatment Programme (Addiction Counsellor, Junior Addiction Counsellor and Addiction Treatment Support Worker) due to be filled in the 2025/26 fiscal year; one vacancy in Head Office (Treatment Coordinator) will be recruited in the 2025/26 fiscal year.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Performance measures by business unit.

The Chairman: So, we are now moving on to page B-288?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

Performance Measures by Business Unit

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to report that the department's forecast performance measures for fiscal year 2024/25 were achieved in the majority of funded cost codes. Some initiatives were unable to be completed due to staff vacancies. The performance measures for the Department for National Drug Control (as you have said, Mr. Chairman) are listed on pages B-288 and B-289.

The Chairman: Mm-hmm.

As the Minister is getting himself a glass of water, for the benefit of the listening public, we are in the Committee of Supply for Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for budget year 2025/26. The debate we are currently hearing from is in relation to the Ministry of National Security. It is a five-hour debate, and we are coming up to the end of the third hour. The listening public has been hearing from the Minister Michael Weeks in relation to Heads 86, 6, 7, 12 and we are now on the last and final head, namely, Head 88, National Drug Control. And the Minister was just addressing us in relation to performance measures at pages B-288 and B-289.

And Minister, I see we have some technical officers in the Chamber. If you want to pay thanks to them [and] recognise that they are in the Chamber with you. Thank you. Go ahead, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes. Thank you for that, Mr. Chairman. I too would like to recognise the A-Team. Because that team leader makes me look good, and sound good when I am up on my feet—my PS and my comptroller.

Business Unit 98000, Administration

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Business unit 98000, Administration. Administration provides the organisational framework in support of the mission and mandate of the Department of National Drug Control. Its resources are aimed primarily at recurrent expenditures, and grants and contributions to the treatment and prevention partners that provide services for, and on behalf of, the department. Mr. Chairman, 100 per cent of financial transactions were completed in E1 within Financial Instructions for the year 2024/25, and 100 per cent of performance appraisals were completed for the 2024/25 period.

As a result of supplemental funding in 2024/25, Mr. Chairman, six grants were disbursed compared to the five disbursed in 2023/24. The Department for National Drug Control is established, in part as a service delivery unit, but cannot provide all of the needed services required within the community and depends heavily on acquiring services in the treatment and prevention areas through grant allocations to realise its mandate. Shift, (which was formerly PRIDE) CADA, Salvation Army Harbour Light and Community Life-Skills [Training] Programme, Focus Counselling Services, Pathways Bermuda and the Bermuda Addiction Certification Board [BACB] all received grants and provided required services as per their grant agreements during the 2024/25 fiscal year.

Mr. Chairman, Shift, formerly known as PRIDE, provides evidenced-based life skills programming within five of the public primary schools to support drug education and drug prevention activities. In 2024/25, Shift received $119,000. This level of funding created major challenges with their ability to retain staff and facilitate their programming in the schools. Shift will be granted $169,000 for fiscal year 2025/26—

The Chairman: Yes, that is at page C-21 of the Budget Book.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

And a 42 per cent increase from fiscal year 2024/25 with the goal of increasing their reach for programming in more schools and restoring programme facilitator levels. The Salvation Army received $50,000 for the Harbour Light and life skills programmes in fiscal year 2024/25. This funding level challenged their ability to hire needed staff and their ability to provide their programmes effectively. Harbour Light and the life skills [programmes] will receive a grant in the amount of $100,000 in fiscal year 2025/26, a 100 per cent increase, to continue to provide residential drug treatment and community life skills programming for 10 males and hire needed staff.

Mr. Chairman, Focus Counselling Service provides transitional/supportive housing for up to 28 recovering males. These individual adult males have participated in primary drug treatment at other treatment facilities (such as the prison, hospital, inpatient or outpatient services) and require assistance in re-integrating back into the community. The goal is to return participants back to the community as productive citizens, thus improving the number of individuals maintaining a drug free lifestyle. Focus Counselling Services received $180,000 initially in fiscal year 2024/25. An additional $150,000 was awarded as a supplemental bringing their grant to $330,000. Focus Counselling Services will receive the same level grant of $330,000 in fiscal year 2025/26.

Pathways Bermuda provides outpatient substance abuse treatment and aftercare services within the community, servicing approximately 81 individuals. Pathways received $150,000 as part of the supplemental funds awarded in fiscal year 2024/25 and will receive a grant of the same level, $150,000 in fiscal year 2025/26 to enhance their services and hiring of a Clinical Supervisor.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. And all of these grants can be found at page C-21 of the Budget Book.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

Mr. Chairman, CADA works in collaboration with the Department for National Drug Control to provide community education on alcohol misuse, as well as to provide the server training programme (TIPS) which is mandated within the Liquor Licence Act 1974, as amended in 2011. A grant of $60,000 was provided to CADA in fiscal year 2024/25, which mainly supports the implementation of the TIPS programme.

CADA will receive the same level funding of $60,000 in fiscal year 2025/26 to support these activities. Grant funding of $80,000 was provided to the Bermuda Addiction Certification Board [BACB] in fiscal year 2024/25. The Bermuda Addiction Certification Board provides international certification testing for both prevention and treatment professionals locally; funding also supports addiction specific training to enhance workforce development in this specialty area on Island; supports re-certification of professionals and helps to maintain membership in the International Certification and Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC). Certification is required for registration of Addiction Counsellors to practice under the Allied Health Professions Act 1973. There are currently 56 certified and registered Addiction Counsellors (an increase of seven from the previous year); 12 of the Addiction Counsellors are also certified Clinical Supervisors, (an increase of one from the previous year) and there are two Prevention Specialists, which is a total of 58 certified addiction professionals working in Bermuda. There are also five Associate Alcohol and Drug Counsellors holding that designation under the board. BACB will receive the same level grant of $80,000 for fiscal year 2025/26 to continue their work.

The highlighted agencies have provided an integral part of the drug prevention and drug treatment continuum of services for Bermuda for many decades in collaboration with the Department for National Drug Control. (See page C-21 Grants and Contributions.)

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Business unit 98010, Community Development.

The Chairman: Okay. So, we are going back to pages B-288 and B-289?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes, sir.

The Chairman: Yes.

Business Unit 98010, Community Development

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the goal of this unit is to educate the public about the harms of alcohol and drug use, to ensure the provision of clear and sustained messages to our young people that no use of alcohol, cannabis, tobacco or other drugs is acceptable. And to involve families, schools and community organisations in alcohol/drug prevention efforts.

Other initiatives for the Community Development unit are to assist in highlighting drunk/drug driving and road safety initiatives through public education and to continue awareness campaigns directed at underage drinking, adolescent drug use (which is alcohol and cannabis) and emerging drugs, such as fentanyl and synthetic drugs, edibles and vaping.

Throughout the 2024/25 fiscal year, the Department of National Drug Control Prevention Team collaborated with the Department of Education to bring awareness and education on the harms of vaping to both high schools and middle schools in the public and private sectors through web-based presentations and training with overseas specialists. A total of five training events for students and teachers were held. Two multimedia campaigns were focused on vaping and cannabis with ads occurring on radio, television and on the Internet targeting the adolescent population.

Grassroots activities included work with the Court Street Market Community group festival, participation in health booths at both senior schools and the City of Hamilton.

Mr. Chairman, business unit 98020, that is on Prevention.

The Chairman: Yes.

Business Unit 98020, Prevention

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Prevention Unit is responsible for providing drug prevention programmes for schools and the wider community with the goal of stopping use before it starts.

The Prevention Unit facilitates the implementation and integration of the AI's Pals programme at the pre-school level at all public schools and one private school. AI's Pals is an early childhood curriculum and teacher programme that promotes resiliency at the early childhood stage with explicit instruction to develop social competence, autonomy and problem solving. The DNDC supports the AI's Pals programme within schools by funding initial teacher training, refresher courses and by providing resources/supplies for all educators implementing the programme at a cost of approximately $15,000 per year. Approximately 296 students have participated in the programme from the pre-school level in the public schools, an 8 per cent increase from last year and 48 in the private schools (a total of 344 students). Currently there are 42 teachers trained and providing the AI's Pals programme.

Mr. Chairman, the unit also provides the Teen Peace programme that supports three public schools for P7 and M1 school-age children as an afterschool programme. Currently there are 50 students participating in the Teen Peace programmes, a decrease of 15 from the previous fiscal year due to the closing of one middle school. The programme allows students to be interactive with positive, prosocial adults and affords them the opportunity to further develop, operationalise and practice social-emotional learning skills at a vital stage when children are transitioning developmentally, cognitively and emotionally.

The DNDC hires and trains facilitators for this programme as well as provides all supplies and resources. Teachers facilitating have received the Botvin's LifeSkills training, which a research-validated substance abuse prevention programme proven to reduce the risks of alcohol, tobacco, drug abuse, and violence. The programme targets the major social and psychological factors that promote the initiation of substance use and other risky antisocial behaviours. There are six trained facilitators implementing the Teen Peace (Bermuda) Afterschool Programmes.

Mr. Chairman, the Adventure Education programme, that utilises an experiential approach to learning, is used as part of the annual Summer Camp for emerging M1 students. The Adventure Education programme engages young people physically, emotionally and mentally encouraging them to explore appropriate risk-taking behaviours and play that predicts unpredictable outcomes through adventure, fun and learning. Adventure educators use a specific framework to facilitate learning which include the "Adventure Wave" which surges between three basic phases: Brief, Activity, and Debrief, helping to develop anti-bullying, anti-drug, communication, compassion, critical thinking, health, leadership, respect, responsibility, self-esteem and team building, tolerance and trust, to name a few. Four facilitators have been trained to provide the programme during the summer. Thirty students participated in the Summer Camp last year, a decrease of 29 from the previous fiscal year, due to DNDC only able to fund one session.

Mr. Chairman, the Parenting 101 programme for at-risk parents is led by a certified Parenting facilitator and the DNDC Prevention Officer. The programme provides a step-by-step guide to building positive parenting skills and family relationships to prevent problem behaviours. Parents learn how to prevent problem behaviours from starting, how to communicate and how to help their [child] to solve problems and make good choices as they grow. Stress management and positive discipline are also included. Effective strategies that have been proven to work are learned and can be used immediately by the parent. All the tips and tools are based on research.

The Prevention Officer and a senior educator are the only facilitators of this programme at an approximate cost of $5,000 annually. The Transformational Living Centre closed during the fiscal year resulting in our inability to complete the Parenting 101 programme with them.

Mr. Chairman, all the drug prevention programmes are evaluated throughout the year by observation by the DNDC staff (Drug Prevention Officer and the Community Development Coordinator) to ensure fidelity and appropriate implementation by the facilitators.

Business Unit 98030, Treatment

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Treatment Unit is responsible for overseeing substance abuse treatment island-wide by ensuring quality care through accreditation of programmes, workforce development and training and public awareness of available services. The Unit is also responsible for maintaining a continuum of care and advocating for gaps in services. In fiscal year 2024/25, the focus was on maintaining Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) Accreditation for the Men's Treatment Programme, the Women's Treatment Centre and Turning Point [Substance Abuse Programme] (operated by BHB) as required by the National Drug Control Act 2013. All these programmes have maintained the "gold star" CARF accreditation status throughout fiscal year 2024/25. CARF accreditation is spearheaded and funded by the Department for National Drug Control island-wide at an approximate cost of $20,000. Compliance surveys are completed every three years. Quality improvement reports are submitted annually.

Mr. Chairman, efforts have continued to consolidate the use of the AccuCare web-based client management system in all drug treatment programmes across the Island to assist in standardised, best practice care. Five treatment facilities out of the six on Island utilise the system at cost of approximately $21,000 annually. Required treatment specific training such as CPR/First Aid and Safety-Care Prevention Techniques also took place during 2024/25.

Unfortunately, due to staff vacancies, awareness campaigns such as [National] Recovery Month and programme spotlights were unable to be planned and implemented during 2024/25.

Business Unit 98050, Research and Policy

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the primary activities of the Research Unit are geared towards collection and dissemination of reliable data through the Bermuda Drug Information Network (BerDIN); identifying emerging trends and patterns of drug use; evaluation of the current drug control efforts, and providing co-ordination, implementation and evaluation of the National Drug Control Master Plan and Action Plans.

Mr. Chairman, during financial year 2024/25, the 14th Annual Bermuda Drug Information Network (BerDIN) meeting was held with all network members at BUEI [Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute] on 1 November 2024. This annual event continues to greatly increase collaboration, understanding and information-sharing between all agencies involved in demand and supply reduction activities. The 2024 Annual Report of the Bermuda Drug Information Network (BerDIN) was released to the public in November 2024 following the meeting. The report can be found on the Government website.

Mr. Chairman, the Treatment demand indicators, consumer satisfaction surveys, stakeholder feedback surveys, employee climate survey and quality records reviews were completed within the Department for National Drug Control, Women's Treatment programme, Men's Treatment programme and the Right Living House operated under the Department of Corrections during the 2024/25 fiscal year.

The National School Survey (a primary research study) was completed in fiscal year 2023/24 with the report being prepared for release in the first quarter of the 2024/25 fiscal year. The Prison Survey, initially delayed for two years because of COVID-19 restrictions, began on 1 May 2023. The study examining the correlation between drug and alcohol consumption and traffic accidents, as well as fatalities, began at KEMH on 1 May 2023. This initiative is a joint effort with the DNDC Research Unit and the Emergency Department at the King Edward Memorial VII Hospital.

Mr. Chairman, 75 per cent of BerDIN members submitted their information on time, however, numerous agencies faced difficulties in submitting their data sets last year.

The postponement of data entry adversely affects the annual report by creating gaps in previously supplied information, leading to an inaccurate representation of Bermuda's drug situation. Steps are being taken to address this issue moving forward.

Almost there, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Almost there.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: I hope you heard all the cars tuning out for your speech.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Tuning out or beeping?

The Chairman: They were tuning, beeping and tuning.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Oh, okay.

The Chairman: There was no doubt, they were so excited about the speech being given in Parliament today that they were—

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Have mercy.

The Chairman: —hitting the horns.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes. Okay.

Business Unit 98060, Men's Treatment

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, and members of our listening public, the Men's Treatment programme is a Residential Substance Abuse Treatment programme for men 18 years and above in Bermuda. It provides long-term, comprehensive primary treatment for addiction disorders. The programme's primary treatment is delivered over a 12-month period using a phased approach. During the last phase, a transition plan is developed which includes participating in volunteer services, job shadowing, and referral to transitional supportive residency programme and/or after-care services.

The Men's Treatment programme had 12 admissions and nine discharges to the community during the 2024/25 fiscal year with six completing the 12-month programme, a completion rate of 50 per cent.

Mr. Chairman, life skills training remains a key component of the programme, especially in the transition phase. Mr. Chairman, 100 per cent of the clients received life skills training with six receiving after-care services. Family counselling is also a key part of treatment with six family members receiving support in 2024/25.

The MTC programme has been accredited by CARF since 2015 and has received the gold star 3-year award since then. Preparations have already begun for the next accreditation survey scheduled for 2026.

Mr. Chairman, business unit—

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Business unit 98070, Women's Treatment.

The Chairman: Mm-hmm. We are on page B-289 of the Budget Book for those in the listening public.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Business Unit 98070, Women's Treatment

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, the Women's Treatment programme provides long-term, comprehensive treatment for addiction and related disorders. The programme is delivered over a 12- to 15-month period using a phased approach. The phased approach to treatment delivery enables the client to reach short-term goals and celebrate accomplishments, thus motivating them to continue in treatment. Community involvement and re-entry is gradual and includes a partnership with local businesses and organisations to facilitate volunteerism in our clients. Admissions have been low over the 2024/25 fiscal year with two admissions and one discharge.

Life skills training remains a key component of the programme, especially in the Transition phase; all of the clients receive Life skills training.

There are three women receiving after-care services. Efforts will continue towards improving the admission rate by including a campaign to assist in increasing participation in the women's programmes through focus groups, public awareness and by partnering with community programmes that women access. This will occur in the upcoming fiscal year 2025/26.

Mr. Chairman, the supportive residency facility and programme provides a safe environment for the re-integration of women back into the community who have completed a programme of substance abuse treatment at the Women's Treatment Centre or who are accepted by the Women's Treatment Centre. All transitional clients are females who have been drug-free for at least one year. The programme is managed by the Women's Treatment Centre and is located within the general community. There are two clients occupying the transitional home, both of whom are working within the community and actively engaged in life skills training to facilitate their move back into the community as productive citizens.

The Women's Treatment Centre programme and supportive residence has been accredited by CARF since 2009 and has maintained the Gold Star 3-year Award since then. Preparations have already begun for the next accreditation survey scheduled for 2026.

Business Unit 98080, Master Plan

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Chairman, business unit 98080, on page B-289, is in place to provide for the effective implementation of the National Drug Control Master Plan; cross-ministry initiatives with the Police, Customs and Corrections; evaluation of the Master Plan and to encourage cooperation and involvement of other Government departments and civil society in the implementation of the Master Plan initiatives. This business unit was not allocated any funding in financial year 2024/25 and again in 2025/26. No funding results in no financial support for actions laid out in the National Drug Control Master. The DNDC is required by the National Drug Control Act 2013 to "oversee the implementation of the action plan and monitor and evaluate the performance of the plan." The required evaluation of the [National Drug Control] Master Plan 2019–2024 has been planned to take place over the early months of fiscal year 2025/26. Some funding will need to be sourced from within the Ministry to meet this legislative requirement.

The Steering Committee to oversee the implementation of the actions of the Master Plan was approved by Cabinet and needs to be convened in fiscal year 2025/26 to ensure that priority actions get addressed.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. If I could pause you just there. I know that you are still addressing the Chamber on Head 88, being the fifth and final head of your five heads in the debate on the Ministry of National Security.

We are going to have a change in the Chair. And you will have the pleasure of MP Renee Ming.

There is about one hour and 45 minutes left in the debate until 5:42. And thank you, Minister. And to everyone else who is assisting in relation to this debate. MP Ming.

[Pause]

[Mrs. Renee Ming, Chairman]

The Chairman: Good afternoon, Members and listening audience.

We are currently in Committee of Supply for the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditures. We have the Minister for National Security up right now and he is doing Head 88 of his brief. We have approximately one hour and probably about 40 minutes left.

Minister, would you like to continue? And thank you for your patience.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Good afternoon, Madam Chairman. How are you today?

[No audible response]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: It has been a long debate.

Madam Chairman, we are page B-289, but I am just moving on to plans for the upcoming year.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Madam Chairman, we shall

- continue critical recruitment efforts with the goal of filling all vacancies by the end of the first quarter of the fiscal year 2025/26;
- continue the provision and monitoring of Grants to Drug Treatment and Drug Prevention Partners within the community to enhance the national demand for reduction efforts;
- establish the Steering Committee to oversee the National Drug Control Master Plan actions;
- complete the evaluation of the Master Plan and commence the needs assessment processes to create the next five-year plan as required by the National Drug Control Act 2013;
- implement the Pregnancy, Alcohol and Drugs Survey planned for August 2025;
- implement the National Household Survey on Alcohol and Drugs planned for October 2025;
- continue to provide residential substance abuse treatment for both adult males and females at the Nelson Bascome Substance Abuse Treatment Facility;
- commence preparations to re-implement an Adolescent Addiction Treatment Programme as per the November 2024 Throne Speech, with the goal of implementing in the following year. Programme development and staff positions will be identified during this process;
- continue to expand and enhance drug prevention efforts within schools through collaboration with the Department of Education, training teachers, and providing drug prevention materials and support;
- continue to educate the public and bring awareness about the harms of drug and alcohol misuse/abuse; and
- hold a community engagement event to enhance community-based efforts addressing substance abuse and other antisocial issues within the community.

Madam Chairman, the Department for National Drug Control will continue to work collaboratively with other key ministries such as Health and Education, as well as with various departments such as Corrections, Court Services, the Bermuda Police Service, Customs and international partners to ensure the implementation of a balanced approach to efforts made in achieving a healthier and drug-free Bermuda.

Madam Chairman, that ends my presentation on Head 88, Department for National Drug Control.

In closing, Madam Chairman, I would like to commend Ms. Joanne Dean and her hard-working team for their sterling work throughout the year. This ends, Madam Chairman, my presentation for the Ministry of National Security.

The Chairman: Thank you, very much, Minister Weeks. We appreciate you getting that brief sorted.

At this time, I would like to ask if any Member would like to speak.

I recognise the Member from constituency 10, Mr. MP Robert King.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you, Madam Chairman, Honourable Members and the listening public.

I will be brief. I will ask questions just for clarification, et cetera. I don't anticipate being up here a long time because it was a very comprehensive brief given by the Minister for National Security.

First of all, I want to echo his sentiments regarding the persons in National Security for the hard work that they do, the uniformed services, support staff, families of those persons and persons who have decided to avail themselves of the necessary treatment services to choose a better life and not hurt people as much. So, thank you to the service. Your work is valued.

I think we can all agree that when we are looking at the state of this Island as it relates to young persons, that we are in a state of crisis. And I am encouraged by some of the initiatives that were outlined in the ministerial brief today. But I have some questions in terms of the execution of some of those plans which some of them appear to be lacking in strategy and in terms of having a cohesive and defined framework. But I will get to that.

I am looking at page B-264, Head 83, National Security Headquarters. I am looking at Professional Services with the amount of $2.403 million and training $150,000. I am looking at Defence, Head 6, page B-271, where we have training for $35,000. I don't see any professional services for that, so I suspect that they do not use consultants very much.

Police, Head 7, page B-273. The Professional Services budget is $2.735 million. And we have Training with a budget of $337,000. And for Customs we have, Head 12, page B-279. We have Professional Services at $358,000 and we have Training at $10,000. For National Drug Control, Head 88, page B-286, Professional Services. We have $523,000 and we have Training with a budget of $43,000.

So on the face of it, it would appear that the emphasis is more on paying consultants than it is on paying for training of staff to progress and get the necessary skills to carry out the duties and responsibilities of their respective posts, understanding that the risks and the environment as it relates to criminal justice, substance abuse treatment, drug interdiction and keeping the citizens of this Island safe ever changing.

I would like the Minister to provide some clarification on why the training budgets for those heads are so lean in comparison to the Professional Services. I think for the ease of answering and keeping the flow, it would be best if I allowed Minister Weeks to answer the heads and then continue on. Would that be agreeable to you?

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Robert King: Good.

The Chairman: Minister, just for the sake of clarity, so you have agreed to answer each of the heads that the Member has just spoken to as it relates to Professional Services and Training first?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: I just need to wait until I hear from my team.

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you.

Mr. Robert King: Well, in that case, just in the interest of time, I will keep it going and then you can answer as you get the answers. Is that agreeable?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes.

The Chairman: Member, I just want to make sure that the Minister understands that if he is answering that way and for you, from a time expediency—

Mr. Robert King: Sure.

The Chairman: —you may not have all the time that you want. So, you can choose basically if you want to do one question/one answer.

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: Or you can just pose all your questions and then the Minister's team will have enough time—

Mr. Robert King: That sounds good.

The Chairman: —to provide you with those responses. I think that better serves—

Mr. Robert King: No, no, no. I agree.

The Chairman: —the listening public as well.

Mr. Robert King: I am going to run out of time, I can see that.

The Chairman: Yes. So, we recognise—

Mr. Robert King: No worries.

The Chairman: —the Member from constituency 10, MP Robert King.

Mr. Robert King: Regarding the National Drug Control, and the work that they do with treating persons with substance use disorders and it was actually . . . I thoroughly enjoyed when Minister Weeks was speaking about that because that used to be your wheelhouse. Right, sir?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes, it was.

Mr. Robert King: Yes. So, what I picked up on was basically the general regard and . . . yes. So that was encouraging to hear that.

So, regarding the Treatment Courts, the way they currently operate, understanding that it is an intensive programme, and rightly so, because of the risk needs associated with substance use disorders. As they currently operate, the person who is being recommended for a Treatment Court has to undergo a period of observation which seems to be a bit counterintuitive because the choices and decisions that were being made by that person led to conflicts with the criminal justice system in the first place.

So, it almost appears the way the system is set up, it is a setup for failure, giving them the false impression that it is a choice whether or not to engage in the programme, when it is the choices that actually caused the problems in the first place. So, I am wondering, as part of the National Drug Control's role, if there will be some consideration to amending the way that persons enter the Drug Treatment Court programme, so that persons will be engaged in treatment much earlier and it will be a more fluid system and more efficient for the sake of the clients getting the help that they need and also the community being safeguarded.

Understanding as well that the persons who are . . . who have contact with the Criminal Justice System, lower socioeconomic homes, adverse childhood experiences, trauma, et cetera, many of those persons are receiving financial assistance. They are housed in Bermuda Housing Corporation properties, et cetera. And we do know that there is a correlation between growing up in those environments and being exposed to certain antisocial behaviours and the resulting generational trauma and being caught in the system.

So, I am wondering if there is going to be consideration for persons who are receiving government services to undergo some assessment for substance use and receiving those services whilst also receiving the services, whether it be housing, financial assistance or some other. So not being excluded but that is part of the intact process to ensure that we are going to get good outcomes.

Regarding the NDC and CADA—

The Chairman: Member, just asking if when you are speaking, just let us know the page and the—

Mr. Robert King: Oh, sorry, sorry, sorry.

The Chairman: —that you are on so that we can follow you.

Mr. Robert King: Yes, yes.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Mr. Robert King: Okay. I am referring to the NDC, so that would be Head 88, page B-286. And what I am speaking to basically is the overarching philosophy as it relates to . . . the Minister made a statement about CADA and the stats that he was giving in terms of the correlation between drinking and driving and accidents.

So, I am wondering if, as part of the National Strategy, consideration is going to be given to increasing the penalties for said offences and also amending the legislation so that sobriety checkpoints will not need to be gazetted in the current format because persons are basically being informed don't go in these areas, drink in those areas. So, if we are going to do something meaningful it would suggest that with some tweaking of the laws people can be encouraged to be responsible.

I am going to go to Head 88, NDC, page B-266, and business unit 93000, performance measure, Info System Waste Management Policies, approved, zero, 2023/24, 90 per cent revised, 2024/25 target outcome 90 per cent, estimate 2025/26. The question I have is, what is being measured and how can a risk management programme be implemented without a comprehensive report on the cybersecurity breach which occurred in September 2023. The report was completed in November 2023. Are they utilising the recommendations that came out of that report to guide policy decisions?

I am also looking at the performance measure, Percentage of meetings held with quorum, instead percentage of objectives met, it was achieved. So, they are measuring meetings, but they are not . . . the measurement is not measuring the substantive reason for the meeting in terms of what are the objectives that we are trying to achieve.

We just, Oh, we had a meeting, we had a number of people. It does not appear to encourage an improvement in service. And you are also looking at some of the performance measures which . . . and this a general for all the heads with the exception of (I want to say) Fire Service and the Customs. But I will go ahead and clear that up as I go.

The performance measures seem to be counterintuitive as well. Whereas you would be aiming for 100 per cent, what we are seeing in some of these performance measures across the board here is that the numbers are actually reduced, or they are held static. So, it appears as though the process of determining what the performance measures should be, it appears to be an arbitrary process as opposed to a measure that is being used to guide performance, to measure performance towards the achievement of the goals. So, the performance measures need to make sense for the objectives that are being set and are part of the roles and responsibilities of each Ministry head.

Page B-267, 93007, performance measure, Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation Team contingency plans progressed. Again, what is being measured? How could a risk management programme be implemented without a comprehensive report on the cybersecurity breach which occurred in September (as I stated before)? So, things are happening. Decisions are being made in an absence of a report that there appears to be no urgency, understanding that this an issue of national importance that the public has a right to know so that we can protect ourselves.

Business unit 93008, Gang Violence Reduction Programme. In 2023/24, initial expenditure was $689,000. In 2024/25, it was revised to $1.151 million. Estimate in 2025/26 is $1.716 million. Question: How many employees are there in the Gang Violence Reduction Programme, understanding that there is a serious need? And is Pastor Bean still the full-time coordinator of the programme and does he receive full compensation as a government employee? Or he is a consultant? I am just unsure of that.

Performance measure, page B-267, business unit 93008, Percentage of survey questionnaire data showing improvement in knowledge and skills achievement among at-risk youth participants of prevention programmes. Question: How many participants are in the programme? What age range? How long is the programme? What is the actual programme? What data is being collected and how does it map on to arrests, convictions, and deaths? So how many persons graduated and what is the relationship between graduating from the programme and recidivating or not?

Might I suggest a better measure? A number of gang reduction programmes offered in schools, correction facilities. Measure what we want to improve on; don't measure something that is not important or meaningful, consistent with the roles and responsibilities of the Ministry and department. It is basically wasting people's time. If we . . . imagine if we went to school and they said that they were going to do away with grades. You are going to be . . . you know, We are more concerned about you wearing the uniform properly. I suspect that kids are going to lose interest because they are not being pushed towards challenging themselves to learn and do the difficult things because we have lowered the bar so far.

Minister Weeks, I'm on page B-276, with the numbers 69600 The Minister explained that they had been amalgamated or merged into another area. So, I am okay with that. Oh, a question for you though. Business [unit] 17042, Western area command, 17041—

The Chairman: Member, just what page are you on?

Mr. Robert King: Oh, yes, sorry. Head 7—

The Chairman: MP King, excuse me. What page are you on?

Mr. Robert King: Page B-274. Sorry. Page B-276, sorry.

The Chairman: Page B-276.

Mr. Robert King: Yes.

The Chairman: You may proceed.

Mr. Robert King: Eastern area command, Western area command. The question I have, Are those police stations operational with a full-time staff?

In terms of Head 7, page B-275, Revenue source, Firearms, $9,000, $19,000, $19,000—I was a bit confused. It reads as though we are selling firearms, but I am sure that is not the case.

In terms of the police . . . let me get the page for you. Head 7, page B-275 [sic], 17008, Bermuda Police Service, performance measures, satisfaction. If I heard the Minister correctly, it sounded as though the measure was 6.3 out of 6.0. I would just like clarification because I think I must have heard that wrong.

The Chairman: Member, are you on page B-275, which is either the subjective analysis or the revenue summary. Or are you on the performance measures which are actually on page B-277?

Mr. Robert King: Page B-277, I stand corrected. Sorry about that.

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you.

Mr. Robert King: I will make sure that I have it open.

So, when we are looking at customer satisfaction, like I said, in terms of what is the actual metric, I think the public would be more concerned about the response time, apprehension rates, weapon seizures, how many, quantities—some specifics in terms of what is being measured. Arrests resulting in successful prosecutions. Are performance measures consistent with other jurisdictions? Do the performance measures measure what we are trying to achieve? Or is it just an administrative function?

Head 12, Customs, page B-278. Business unit 22090, Vessel Clearance. I am not sure if the Minister mentioned, where did this section go? And who has assumed responsibility? Is this a merger? Has it been merged or amalgamated with another section? Has it realised the efficiencies and results anticipated?

Customs, Current Account. The Minister made mention of the fact that in the Customs Department retired persons are being brought back as consultants. Understanding that the training budget for Customs was meagre at best, wouldn't it make sense to increase the training budget so that you have persons who have received the requisite training who can then assume the role and progress within the career and respond to the changing needs of that department? So, training is of paramount importance to ensure that we deliver quality public service to the people of this community. Especially when you consider the sensitive and important nature of the work that these persons do in these various departments.

Airport Commercial. That is page B-280. Airport Commercial, business unit 22020, Maintenance to client base, 90 per cent time measured by quality of service levels, zero, zero. Target outcome zero. Please explain.

It is also concerning that with a document of such importance and having the requested extra time to submit the budget that there are so many clerical errors. It would also suggest that there are accounting errors according to the culture of performance that currently exists. Better measurement suggested, quantity of drugs seized. What drugs were seized? Illegal items, specific. Guns, weapons, plants, et cetera.

Prohibited animals. Percentage increase or reduction from budget of year before. Identify trends to show if what we are doing is working and where resources are needed, measuring performance against stated objectives.

Page B-281, business unit 22100, Interdiction. Percentage of positive search and detentions from total search and detentions undertaken to exceed 50 per cent. Ninety, ninety, ninety—target outcome. How many searches out of . . . a better measurement would be perhaps how many searches out of a total number of searches resulted in seizures of specific items and weights. There is nothing to aspire towards, improvements in service results. The performance measures, like I said, the theme is, it appears to be an arbitrary process because it is not measuring the performance related to the objectives and goals.

NDC, Head 88, page B-289. Number of clients in the programme compared to the number who completed, who stayed clean—

The Chairman: Which . . . what business unit are you referring to? —

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: We have . . . you said page B-289 which is the performance measures. So just let us know which business unit you are referring to.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Of course, you don't know. Lost probably. You need some help?

Mr. Robert King: Yes, it is a big book there.

The Chairman: Member.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Oh, the consultant didn't you give that?

Mr. Robert King: No, no. You have got all the consultants. We don't have—

The Chairman: Excuse me, Members. Speak to the Chair. Thank you.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: Note, I said, Members—with an "s."

[Laughter]

Mr. Robert King: Thank you for that.

Well, I will withdraw that question because it is covered in the other. So that is fine.

What we have also seen is that the current approach is not working. So in terms of the police budget, the money has stayed consistent. Employee numbers have increased or stayed the same. So, with the strategic plan—

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: Member, we are on . . . we are doing Head 7, Police, now?

Mr. Robert King: Actually, I am going to go back to the Ministerial Statement, the brief, regarding the NDC Master Plan.

The Chairman: So, you are going back to his brief related to the budget?

Mr. Robert King: Yes.

The Chairman: Okay.

Mr. Robert King: So, the NDC brief spoke about the Master Plan for the NDC not having a budget. And to me that is very concerning because that would be one of the first things that would be considered in a strategic plan to make sure that you have got the necessary resources in terms of equipment, personnel, building—whatever resources are required, you need to have a budget so that you can make sure that those things are fulfilled. You don't suggest that this is a strategic plan and not have those things in place. So, the question I have is, When will the strategic plan, the complete strategic plan be brought before the House so that we can have a discussion on it?

I have a question regarding the cybersecurity incident in 2025, $3.092 million—

The Chairman: You just need to let them know—

Mr. Robert King: Oh yes. Regarding the brief.

The Chairman: Yes. Which head did that come under?

[Pause]

Mr. Robert King: That would be 93007, Disaster Risk Reduce and Mitigation.

The Chairman: Yes, just provide me the page number.

Mr. Robert King: Page B-266.

So, cybersecurity, how does it relate to the disaster risk reduction and mitigation team contingency plans being progressed?

Those are my submissions. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member wish to speak to the debate that we are currently having in regard to the Ministry of National Security. And we are debating Heads 83, 6, 7, 12 and 88.

I recognise the Member from constituency 25. MP Dr. Douglas DeCouto.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Madam Chairman. I am looking on Head 6, Defence. And I do have some questions—

The Chairman: Member, can you just give us the pages—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Oh, of course.

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: We do that we can follow with you.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I will start on page B-269, which is the department objectives. And I just note under Objective 8, Recruiting, it refers to a standing deployable force of up to 420 personnel. And on page B-272, the performance indicators for the second business unit listed, 16010, Regiment headquarters, refers to a regiment establishment of 265. And then lists the percentages against that 365.

My question is related to this topic. Clearly, we are by the forecast for this year, only at 77 per cent of the 365, which is also well short of the 420. Growing to 82 per cent next year as predicted. I looked at the number of volunteers listed above, and I sort of did some math and I guess there must be some . . . I am getting to the question, but I am just trying to help explain. Actually . . . well, my first question would be, Are there any particular areas that are particularly understrength compared to that 77 per cent, or that the Regiment is particularly concerned about. That is number one.

My second question is, I see the forecast for the number of volunteers which is the first item there on page B-72, under Finance Recruitment. This is unit 16000, and I see the target outcome is for 40 volunteers. I am assuming that is brand new volunteers. Is there an attrition number that the Regiment has in mind that they plan for? Like the number of personnel who are leaving the unit? That would help me understand how to connect those percentages and numbers together.

And I guess I did not precisely put it, Madam Chairman, correctly. Another question is, please explain the difference between the 420 under the department objectives and the 365 under the performance measures. Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Yes, I recognise the Member from constituency 31, MP Linda Smith.

Ms. Linda Smith: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

I am referring to page B-265, just to mention the gang reduction budget. It is $1.7 million. On page B-267, one of the performance measurements is measuring the percentage of survey question data showing improvement in skills development and prevention programme. And I may have missed something, but I didn't really see any other measurement with respect to the gang reduction violence programme. It is a hefty budget of $1.7 million. And it would be nice to have some performance measurements that actually tell us something. I don't know whether there is something in there that perhaps, you know, could shed some light on here but I just didn't see it. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member wish to speak at this time?

I recognise the Member from constituency [22], MP Scott Pearman.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you, Madam Chairman. And thanks to the Minister for his very detailed presentation.

My question is a straight-forward one and it is in relation to the police. And it is the presentation in relation to Head 7. At one point during . . . and more specifically, if I could take you, Madam Chairman, to the employment numbers page B-276. If you look there for the 2023/24 actuals you see a number of 447. And then we have the originals and the revised for last year, 473 and 443. My question is . . . during the Honourable Minister's presentation reading his brief, he said that last year there were 360 officers. And I am just looking for some clarity as to the differences between the number that was read in his brief and the number that is shown on the total line of employee numbers at page B-276.

I am not sure if the differential is because of the use of the word "officers" and that there are more employees of the Police Service who are non-officers and that is the difference. Or if, alternatively, the difference is that these numbers here at page B-276 are roles and posts most of which are unfilled or of which a number are unfilled, leaving only 360 officers actually filled. So that is my first question.

My second question, still on this topic is in relation to the 360 officers. Is the Minister able to share with us how many of those might be off, whether for sick leave or for disciplinary leave, or whatever it may be? So, in terms of if there are 360 officers, how many would we say are active? So thank you, Madam Chairman, those are my questions.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member wish to speak to this debate?

No? Minister, I believe you have a few questions to answer at this time.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Madam Chairman. Thank you, colleagues, on the other side. (I'm just trying to get things in order.)

The Chairman: Just for the benefit of the listening audience, we are currently in Committee of Supply for the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure. Today we are debating the Ministry of National Security. And that will be Heads 83, 6, 7, 12 and 88.

Thank you, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

I will take a stab at trying to satisfy all the questions. If I don't give you the answers that you wanted, I have no problem getting on with you to clarify the question for me.

The first answer I have here is around professional services versus training. I said in my brief that professional services are increased by $1 million. And that was supposed to be used toward marketing of anti-violence messaging, educational bursaries and counselling services. So, it is not that we are using monies focusing more on professional services rather than training. I think that at this point in time we have to be mindful that in order for us to put in place the [Bermuda] National Anti-Violence Strategy, Madam Chairman, the way we want, we have to employ some outside expertise.

So, we do not want to give the impression that we are focusing more on professional services and less on training. It has to go hand in hand. Because some of the expertise that we need is not always in-house. So that is why we are putting the money in the budget to address some professional services that are needed.

We had another question on the Treatment Courts. The question was—and I am jumping all over the place. I'll try to get all the answers. So, everyone, bear with me. How can we improve the process for the admission of clients from Drug Court? The answer, Madam Chairman, is that Treatment Court falls under Court Services. So, clients are accepted to the Department of National Drug Control Residential Treatment based on their will to be admitted.

As the Member from constituency 10 had said, that is my wheelhouse. And I think we both understand that no matter what service we provide when it comes to rehabilitation services, Madam Chairman, if the client in question, be it male or female . . . one of the key components of it is their willingness to come into treatment to get those services. But as it stands now, it comes under . . . the Treatment Courts fall under Court Services. But the actual treatment, the client, the person who needs the treatment, needs the rehabilitation services, his/her will is paramount in the success of the treatment.

[The Member] asked a question about the Police Service training versus consultants. For the Bermuda Police Service, consultants deliver actual services. There are always efforts underway to try and meet the needs from within local staff; however, that is not always possible. So, the BPS would at times employ consultants to deliver actual services whilst they are attempting to increase staffing and raise skill levels amongst our local team. So, there is always the option . . . it is always the intent (I should say) of the Bermuda Police Service to increase the skill level of those officers and other staff members who are in-house. But until such time that is why we get consultants to come here, and they come and hit the ground running. And until such time when we raise the skill level, we would have to employ some level of consultation from overseas.

There was a question relating to the cyber report. The cyber report is subject to a parliamentary committee, and it is still in the process of being ratified. Therefore, no National Drug Control decisions are guided by the recommendations of the cyber [report], obviously, until the report gets ratified.

There was a question in reference to drinking and driving. Drinking and driving, potential legislative changes. Changes to legislation inclusive of penalties are being considered along with other opportunities to curb impaired driving.

The [Member] talked about consultants for the Department of National Drug Control. The answer requires speciality training often not available on Island. Local trainers are always used when possible. Consultant fees for AccuCare licences are also included in that number.

Again, I just might add a little addition. I too come from that world, and I remember when I had to go overseas to get a level of training so that I could come back and be the best possible counsellor that I could be. But wherever possible, we do training here on Island. And training in that realm of rehabilitation is ongoing. It is constant. It is constant because it is always a moving target. And I take this opportunity to take my hat off to those who are drug and alcohol counsellors. They are on the front line, and it is not a cut-and-dry approach to dealing with those who are looking for help in drug and alcohol rehabilitation.

A question for Customs. Are we spending funds on consultants instead of training new officers? Customs professional services is broken down as follows, Madam Chairman. [There is] $100,000 on consultants regarding the advancement of export control. This would include training for staff. This is a new area to Bermuda. So, the expertise does not exist here already to utilise; therefore, it is necessary for us to use a consultant to get us up to speed.

Madam Chairman, $216,000 on contractors. This pertains to vendors fulfilling non-Customs officer functions primarily immigration and cashiering. This frees up officers to perform their core functions. Also, the rate per hour for vendors is lower than for Customs officers.

Madam Chairman, $42,000 on membership fees. These are memberships of World Customs Organizations and Caribbean Customs Law Enforcement Council. Within our membership for these are free, but excellent, training provided. Also, Madam Chairman, the training is therefore comparatively low because much of our training is carried out in-house and is provided freely by our memberships of the WCO [World Customs Organization] and CCLEC [Caribbean Customs Law Enforcement Council].

We had a question, Madam Chairman, I can't remember which Member asked it. I think it is constituency 31, asked about GVRT [Gang Violence Reduction Team]. Member Smith, is she constituency 31?

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes. Is Pastor Bean as coordinator of GVRT a full-time government employee or a consultant. The answer: Pastor Bean serves as a government-appointed consultant.

How many individuals currently make up the GVRT? The GVRT currently consists of five members.

There was a question for the Regiment. I am not sure who asked that question, but—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Who was it? Dr. DeCouto. Yes. He is "doctor"? You are a doctor?

Yes? Okay. All right, Doc.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

The Chairman: Proceed, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Dr. DeCouto from—

The Chairman: Constituency 25.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Constituency 25.

Professional services versus training, on page B-271, $91,000. This is all medical fees covering full-time staff, copays, and costs associated with uninsured part-time staff soldiers.

There was another question for the Bermuda Police Service, [regarding] firearm licensing. MP King from constituency 10 started off the bowling [with] his question on firearm licensing. The Bermuda Police Service does not sell firearms. They do however charge the public to process firearm applications.

I think the same Member asked about drinking and driving. Potential legislative changes. Changes to legislation inclusive of penalties are being considered along with other opportunities to curb impaired driving.

There is another question, and I think that may have come from the Member of constituency 10 in reference to the GVRT. Can you provide clarity on how many young people are involved, their ages, what are the programmes? And how do they support the Ministry's goals? The response to that, Member, is that the Ministry of National Security delivers several school-based intervention programmes to its frontline team, working daily in Bermuda's public schools. These programmes include youth work placement and mentoring programmes, focused on career readiness and mentorship for students ages 15 to 18, offering real-world job placements and personal development support.

We have a programme called the G.R.E.A.T. programme. And G.R.E.A.T. stands for: Gang Resistance Education and Training. That is delivered in primary and middle schools for ages 8 to 13. Teaching life skills, conflict resolution and positive decision-making.

The GVRT also engaged in school visits, mediations and restorative sessions, providing crises support, conflict mediation and relationship building across all age groups. The individual support, tailored case management and mentoring for students identified as at-risk.

We have another programme, Madam Chairman, called the I AM programme. A youth empowerment initiative that builds self-worth, identity, and positive mind-set through workshops, group sessions and mentorship, primarily targeting middle and senior school students. So collectively, these programmes engage over 150 students per school term across ages 8 to 18. Each programme is tracked with specific metrics and reported on regularly.

All initiatives align with the Ministry's prevention and intervention goals by maintaining a consistent presence in schools, building trust with students, offering hands-on support and guiding them to a positive life path.

There was a question referencing the Department of National Drug Control. Who was that?

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay. Constituency 10. Constituency 10 was bowling, wasn't he?

Why is there no funding for the Master Plan? The answer was that the 2019 to 2024 Master Plan has finished and is currently being evaluated by overseas speciality consultants. This will be followed by the needs assessment with all stakeholders and partners. All data will be used to develop the next plan. The new master plan will be made available in 2026/27.

There was a question on how the cybersecurity relates to the DRRMT team [Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation Team]. The Disaster . . . I don't know who asked that question.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay. I'm going to refer all my answers to [the Honourable Member for] constituency 10. He can direct me to where it has to go.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay. All right.

So, the question was, How does cybersecurity relate to the DRRMT. The Disaster Management Plan address protections of critical national infrastructure more broadly, while the cybersecurity unit focuses specifically on the protection of the computer systems that support and service the critical national infrastructure.

There was a question on Customs, Vessel Clearance, Amalgamation, amalgamated with Marine. I am going to assume it was [from the Honourable Member for] constituency 10 and he can direct me.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay. All right. So the answer to that question is that Vessel Clearance is marine. It is . . . are you referring to the transfer of funding or positions from interdiction to vessel clearance? If so, it has made no difference and the reason is because it was merely an accounting budget change reflective of the actual operational reality, i.e., it did not make sense to have part of a section recorded under one cost centre and partially under another. There has been an increase in seizures due to the additional cruise ship visits.

Also, for Customs, explain the accounting and seizures. The zeroes were explained in the brief. Those units are no longer in use. The budget has not been provided so they cannot be expected to produce performance.

There is another question for GVRT. I am not sure if [the Honourable Member for] constituency 10 asked many GVRT questions.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: You did? It was between you and [the Honourable Member for] constituency 31.

[Laughter]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Okay.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: All right. All right. That is the score back there, Madam Chairman.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: The survey related to the Gang Violence Reduction programme appears to be the only noted measure, or metric. Are there any others? There is no single standalone Gang Violence Reduction programme. Rather, gang violence is addressed through the broader National Violence Reduction Strategy which encompasses multiple programmes and initiatives. Each of these has its own success metrics and reporting mechanisms tailored to its specific objective.

There was a question on the strength of the Regiment. The historic unit strength of 420 is not correct. The correct number is 365. However, this is under review. The Regiment aims to recruit 40-plus soldiers a year and plans for an attrition rate of 30 soldiers. Retention remains high and the Regiment is doing more than ever with fewer people. Although there are no critical gaps in capability, there will be challenges providing operational mass over time. Managing through succession planning over the medium- to long-term continues to be a challenge.

There is another question, Madam Chairman—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Madam Chairman, point of clarification.

The Chairman: Let me ask the Minister first if he will yield to your point of clarification.

[No audible response]

The Chairman: I recognise the Member from constituency 25.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, I am seeking a point of clarification. I didn't quite hear the retention rate or the attrition rate. If he could repeat that I would appreciate that. Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you.
Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

And for my learned doctor, the Regiment aims to recruit 40-plus soldiers a year. And plans for an attrition rate of 30 soldiers. Retention remains high and the Regiment is doing more than ever with fewer people. Although there are no critical gaps in capability, there will be challenges providing operational mass over time. Managing through succession planning over the medium- to long-term will continue to be a challenge.

Our next question, Madam Chairman. I am not sure who it came from, but it was, What is the Bermuda Police Service's actual staffing as opposed to the funded establishment? Bermuda Police Service, as of 19 May, currently employs 381 police officers [with] police staff of 59, for a total of 440. In the 2025/26 budget they are funded for 482. The difference is the understaffing gap. And the Police Service, I may add while I am on my feet, is actively recruiting. As a matter of fact, they have a recruit class going on now. There is another advertisement going out in the next couple of months. So the police are actively doing all that they can to try to get the numbers up to bolster their boots on the ground.

That, Madam Deputy Speaker, were all the questions that I have so far. If anyone has felt slighted, it is not personal. You can ask me again or just remind me and I will get the answers in the remaining time.

Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. I actually believe you answered all the questions. I was recording them as well.

Does any other Member wish to speak to the debate that we currently have going on?

I recognise the Member from constituency 10.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Mm-hmm.

Mr. Robert King: For Minister Weeks, when can we anticipate that we will learn of the recommendations of the cybersecurity report? That's all. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member wish to speak to the debate at this time?

Minister, no one. So, I guess you can answer that question.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Madam Chairman, I think there is a joint committee that has been put in place by the Speaker of the House. Once that Committee reconvenes and does what they have to do, I think that that report will be tabled right after that happens. Okay?

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: So, if there are no other questions—

The Chairman: Let me just ask, does anyone else wish to speak to the debate that we currently have which is the Ministry of National Security, Heads 83, 6, 7, 12 and 88?

I recognise the Member from constituency 12.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes. Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Just over on page B-267. I know that under Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation, in reference to the cybersecurity, I was just curious. I didn't . . . in going through the numbers here, it didn't mention or show that there was any potential ransom that had been paid. Can we assume then that there was not one that was paid? Since I couldn't find [the numbers] in Finance. I couldn't find the numbers in National Security Headquarters. The question is, Is it safe to say that we did not have to pay one?

Ah—okay.

The Chairman: I'm sorry. Did you have any further question? Or was that your final, your only question?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, one more question.

The Chairman: Okay. Well, you can ask it at this time.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: In reference to the . . . the Minister said, his answer was that they would be looking forward to the Joint Select Committee forming to answer questions concerning the report that was done on cybersecurity. I guess I was just wondering, if we continue to wait to ratify this by the Committee, are we saying then that . . . I would assume that there are still risks that we need to fill. If we have to wait for the [Joint] Select Committee to ratify the report, does that continue to put us in jeopardy because we are waiting for the Joint Select Committee to meet to ratify the report?

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you, Member.

And just for the sake of clarity, the Minister did say that . . . not the formation of the Committee, he said they will reconvene the Committee in the new Parliament.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes.

The Chairman: But I will allow him to answer the questions.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes. Correct. My apologies.

The Chairman: That is what you meant?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes. Correct.

The Chairman: Yes. Thank you.
Minister.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

I will answer the first question first, concerning any ransom or whatnot. I think those kinds of questions should be held offline, actually. And that would better be served by the Finance Minister.

And second, because the Committee has not been reconvened in Cabinet and reinstituted, does not mean that we have not been putting safeguards in place to make sure that to the best of our ability the kind of stuff that happened in 2023 does not happen again.

And as I sit down, the cyber ransom question, as I said, is for the . . . it is a question that the Joint Select Committee would answer.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Does any other Member wish to speak to the current debate?

I'll ask one last time. Does any other Member wish to speak to the debate?

Minister, I don't see any show of hands or anyone rising to their feet.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

I now move that Heads 83, 6, 7, 12 and 88 be approved as printed.

The Chairman: It has been moved that Heads 83, 6, 7, 12 and 88 be approved.

Is there any objection to that motion?

No objection. Agreed to.

[Motion carried: The Ministry of National Security, Heads, 83, 6, 7, 12 and 88 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.]

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister Weeks, and to your team.

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: We will just give the Minister for Housing and Municipalities one minute to get himself settled.

[Pause]

The Chairman: Good afternoon, Members, and the listening public.

We are currently in Committee of Supply with the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure. We are about to start the debate on Housing and Municipalities. The heads that we will debate for the next three hours will be Heads 90 and 53. Our start time is 5:15, which means our finish time will be 8:15.

I call on the Minister Zane De Silva to begin.
Thank you.

MINISTRY OF HOUSING AND MUNICIPALITIES

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Madam Chairman, I move the following heads. Head 90, Ministry of Housing and Municipalities; Head 53, Bermuda Housing Corporation be now taken under consideration.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister, you can proceed.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I am trying out these new glasses to see how I make out.

[Pause]

HEAD 90—MINISTRY OF HOUSING AND MUNICIPALITIES

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, I am grateful for the opportunity to lead the debate and present the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for Head 90, Ministry of Housing and Municipalities. This is found on pages B-319 through B-321, and also page C-22 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for fiscal year 2025/26.

Ministry Headquarters is comprised of one business unit, 10000, Administration, which supports the Minister's office and directs the development and implementation of policy and legislation. The Ministry Headquarters also provides leadership and coordination for its affiliated bodies which are the Bermuda Housing Corporation, the Bermuda Housing Trust, the Bermuda Land Management Corporation, the Corporation of Hamilton, Corporation of St. George's and the Morgan's Point Development Company.

The mission of the newly formed Ministry of Housing and Municipalities is To enhance Bermuda's quality of life through affordable and sustainable housing, vibrant communities, responsible land stewardship and innovative urban development. To achieve the mission the Ministry Headquarters has the following objectives:

- Guide and coordinate the Ministry's initiatives through collaboration with Government agencies and key public and private stakeholders.
- Deliver essential logistical, financial and administrative support to the Ministry Headquarters and its constituent entities.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, as noted on page B-321, the Ministry Headquarters has been allocated a total budget of $913,805 for the 2025/26 fiscal year. This amount represents approximately 12.1 per cent of the Ministry's total estimated budget of $7,554,000. For clarity, the other 87.9 per cent, or $6,640,000, is allocated to the operational grant for the Bermuda Housing Corporation.

Of the Ministry Headquarters' allocation budget, $465,000, or 50.0 per cent, is designated for salaries and $388,000, or 42.0 per cent, is earmarked for professional services to support studies and specialised assistance. And the remaining $60,805, or 8.0 per cent, is allocated to Operations.

Madam Chairman, as the Ministry is newly formed, there are no changes in the subjective analysis to report in the 2024/25 current account estimates.

Revenue

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Ministry Headquarters will not collect any revenue this fiscal year.

Manpower

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the manpower estimates for the Ministry Headquarters as outlined on page B-321 is five full-time posts. This includes a policy analyst, comptroller, executive assistant, and two special advisors to the Minister. Currently, the two advisor positions are unfilled.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Ministry Headquarters does not anticipate purchasing capital assets during the fiscal year 2025/26.

Grants and Contributions

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, as shown on page C-22, the Ministry Headquarters has an allocation of $22,960,000 for grants and contributions. This will support the following entities, including the Bermuda Land Management Corporation, the Corporation of St. George's and the Bermuda Housing Corporation.

The specific grants and contributions are as follows:

For the Bermuda Land Management Corporation (BLMC) the following grants are to facilitate payments on three projects currently secured through one single loan with Clarien Bank.

- Cost centre 75054, the Bermuda Land Management Corporation (BLMC) $1,254,000, increased from revised estimate in 2024/25 of $1,112,000 for the affordable housing project and infrastructure project at Victoria Place. This includes the installation of sewage collection and reclaimed water supply as far as Boaz Island Village.
- Cost centre 75334, BLMC South Basin Land Reclamation, $3,061,000 increased from the revised estimate in 2024/25 of $2,715,000. This, Madam Chairman, for the Cross Island reclamation project for the America's Cup 2017.
- Cost centre 75346, BLMC King's Wharf, $845,000, increased from the revised estimate in 2024/25 of $749,000 for the King's Wharf dock and terminal upgrade.

The increase of each loan is due to the rising Clarien Bank loan interest from 4.5 per cent to 6.0 per cent. For the Bermuda Housing Corporation, fulsome details will be provided in the budget statement for Head 53, Bermuda Housing Corporation. However, at this time I would like to provide the following highlights.

Cost Centre 75320, BHC Residential Housing Grant

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Over the past two years the Government has taken bold and strategic steps to address Bermuda's need for affordable housing. In 2023, the Government allocated $4.3 million to the Bermuda Housing Corporation [BHC] under the Residential Building Programme. In 2024, this investment was raised to $5 million, reinforcing our strong and consistent commitment.

For the 2025/26 fiscal year, we have deepened that commitment by allocating $6.5 million to the Residential Housing Grant, an increase of $1.5 million over the previous year. This expanded funding will allow more Bermudians to access quality, affordable housing and directly improve living conditions across the Island.

Madam Chairman, the BHC has outlined a comprehensive renovation plan to bring much needed housing units back into service. In 2025, a total of 16 units will be refurbished, including 12 units at Harmony East, six studios, and six one-bedroom apartments, and four two-bedroom units in Middletown.

Looking ahead to 2026, an additional 33 units are slated for renovation. [There are] 16 units at Harmony North and 12 units at 18 Battery Road, comprising of four two-bedrooms, six studios, and two one-bedroom units. [There are] also five family-sized units at Chelsea, two three-bedroom and three two-bedroom units. And you will be happy about that, that is in your constituency, Madam Chairman.

Cost Centre 75332, BHC Capital Grant

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Additionally, the Bermuda Housing Corporation has been allocated $10.5 million in its annual capital grant, an additional $2.7 million compared to last year's original estimate of $7.8 million. We are also making significant repairs to BHC-managed facilities and some of those include the following:

- a new roof, kitchen and electrical upgrades at Gulfstream Rooming House in St. David's;
- bathroom and room refurbishments at Langley House, St. David's;
- elevator installation at Prospect Apartments, Alexandra Road; and
- transformer and related infrastructure work at Fenton's Drive and Perimeter Lane.

These are not just maintenance projects, but investments in dignity, security and quality of life. The St. George's Corporation will receive a grant, cost centre 75003, of $800,000 for fiscal year 2024/25, consistent with last year's revised estimate. This funding will support key infrastructure improvements with the municipality of St. George's. You are happy to hear that, Madam Chairman. Planned initiatives include:

- resurfacing and bricking of the Ordnance Island car park;
- various road resurfacing projects across the municipality; and
- renovation of a three-bedroom dwelling located at 26 Wellington Street.

These upgrades aim to enhance the town's infrastructure, improve public amenities and contribute to the overall revitalisation of the area. The overall decrease in capital loans of approximately $4,644,263 is primarily attributed to a reduction from the $27,604,263 in fiscal year 2024/25 to $22,960,000 in 2025/26. This decline reflects the elevated loan requirements in 2024/25 which were necessary to complete the conversion of the Grand Atlantic into the Bermudiana Beach Residences.

Output Measures

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, as this is a new Ministry established in February 2025, there are no performance measures to report on for fiscal year 2024/25.

Major Policy Changes

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Again, Madam Chairman, as this is a new Ministry established earlier this year there are no major policy changes to report on the fiscal year 2024/25.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the establishment of this new Ministry reinforces Government's commitment to developing and implementing solutions for affordable housing and effective management of the Island's quangos and municipalities.

I will briefly highlight some of the Ministry's priorities for the fiscal year 2025/26.

Development of a housing strategy: Bermuda's housing challenges demand urgent, inclusive and long-term solutions. Too many families continue to face difficulty securing adequate housing and the Ministry of Housing and Municipalities is fully committed to addressing this issue through a comprehensive national strategy. The recent Bermuda Infrastructure and Development Summit held by the Bermuda Economic Development Corporation and the Urban Development Authority highlighted the critical need to approach housing as a cross-sector issue.

From executives relocating to the Island to essential workers, middle-income earners and those in urgent need of shelter, our strategy must provide for all. This budget supports the development of a long-term, data-driven housing strategy to guide future investment, planning and home ownership opportunities. A three-year coordinated delivery framework is being developed to address the Island's housing needs. At the heart of this initiative is the creation of an integrated strategy that aligns the efforts of Government agencies, non-profits, and the private sector around shared objectives.

As an initial step, the Ministry is establishing a working group comprising public and private sector representatives and launching an island-wide housing survey to identify trends, assess needs and ensure that future development is targeted, effective and inclusive. Madam Chairman, these next steps will include

- convening the House Strategy Working Group;
- launching the island-wide housing survey and beginning data collection;
- analysing the survey results to identify key challenges and opportunities;
- engaging stakeholders in developing a draft housing strategy and deliver framework;
- conducting public consultation to validate priorities and proposed actions; and
- finalising the housing strategy and presenting an implementation plan to the Cabinet.

Affordable Housing and the Bermuda Housing Corporation

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, we are not going to wait for a completed plan. We must act now. The Bermuda Housing Corporation continues to play a vital role in delivering safe, affordable and accessible housing for Bermudians across all sectors.

With three grant allocations totalling over $23 million for operational support, capital works and new residential construction, BHC is well-equipped to advance its mission with urgency and impact.

These funds will drive continued renovations to existing units, expand the residential building programme and enable targeted upgrades to transitional housing facilities such as Gulfstream and Langley House.

The successful HomeStart Programme in partnership with Clarien Bank is also helping more Bermudians to achieve first-time homeownership. With 88 units completed or in progress, and additional development planned at Harmony Terrace, Chelsea Apartments, Battery Road and other strategic locations BHC is proactively addressing rising housing demand, reflected in a growing wait list of over 376 applicants.

Support for our seniors and our most vulnerable remains a top priority. Through initiatives like interest-free home improvement loans and the long-standing H.U.S.T.L.E Truck programme now in its 18th year. As economic pressures continue, the work of BHC is more critical than ever. The corporation is ready and resolute meeting Bermuda's evolving housing needs through data-driven planning, strong partnerships and decisive investment. The time for action is now and we are delivering.

Bermudiana Beach Residencies

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, as of 19 May 2025 the Bermudiana Beach Residences has reached 35 per cent secured occupancy with 23 units currently occupied and an additional 10 leases in progress. This includes a mix of studio, one-, two-, and three-bedroom units reflecting steady interest and positive momentum in tenant uptake. With 94 units available, the current figures represent 24 per cent occupancy and 11 per cent in-progress leasing. The continued activity in lease signings indicates growing confidence in the development and suggests a promising trajectory for full occupancy in the months ahead.

Master Planning for the Neighbourhoods of Alexandra Road, Mary Victoria Road and Cedar Park

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Ministry, working in collaboration with the Bermuda Housing Corporation and the Ministry of Public Works and Environment, is committed to developing a comprehensive infrastructure master plan for the Devonshire neighbourhoods of Alexandra Road, Cedar Park and Mary Victoria Road. This initiative will address long-standing and critical issues including water supply, sewage and street lighting.

Preliminary work is already underway. A town hall meeting has been held, and engagement continues with the Ministry of Public Works and Environment on water infrastructure. Discussions are ongoing with the Bermuda Housing Corporation to address water-related concerns, and coordination with BELCO is in progress to improve street lighting.

As part of our commitment to inclusive community engagement, we are actively identifying multiple ways to consult with the residents. In due course, a dedicated government forum platform will be launched to facilitate issue reporting and information sharing. Additionally, a working group comprised of government representatives and interested residents is in the process of being established to guide the development and implementation of the master plan.

Water testing with the assistance of the Ministry of Health is ongoing for interested residents. A survey on dog ownership is also currently underway to inform future community planning and policy development.

To report non-emergency issues in the interim, residents may call the Ministry of Housing hotline, newly formed Ministry of Housing hotline, 246-8400. For emergencies, the Bermuda Housing Corporation should be contacted directly.

In the coming weeks we will provide further updates on the next-steps, timelines and how residents can remain informed and engaged throughout the planning process.

Legislative Reform

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Ministry will be pursuing amendments to the Acquisition of Land Act 1970 and the Bermuda Housing Act 1980 with the objective of streamlining the process for reclaiming vacant and derelict properties. The intent of these legislative changes is to provide a mechanism to increase the available housing stock.

To this end, the Ministry will work in close partnership with the Ministry of Public Works and Environment, as well as the ministries responsible for the Department of Land Valuation, Land Title Registry and the Department of Planning.

Municipal Reform

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Government remains committed to modernising and strengthening Bermuda's municipal governance to better serve our communities. While it would be premature at this time to outline any definitive changes to the structure of the municipalities, we are awaiting a ruling from the Privy Council. Until that decision is handed down, the Government will continue to support the ongoing operations of the municipalities and provide assistance at a strategic level to ensure alignment with broader public policy objectives. Once legal clarity is achieved, we are prepared to move forward in a deliberate and effective manner, engaging in full consultation with the municipalities throughout the process.

Bermuda Land Management Corporation

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: In the year ahead the OMC will focus on completing several major infrastructure projects, advancing key strategic initiatives. The North Arm tug dock enhancement is on track for completion by early 2025, while the $22 million redevelopment of King's Wharf fully funded by Norwegian Cruise Line, is set to begin in October 2025 and conclude in March 2026. In the east, final works on the water and waste infrastructure project will enable sewage transfer from St. George's to Southside by June.

Additionally, four renovated residential units are scheduled to return to the market by the end of July 2025, contributing to BLMC's continued residential occupancy rate of over 95 per cent. The corporation will also finalise the leasehold to freehold transition for 38 residential units in St. David's during this fiscal year. With strong financial self-sufficiency and sustained housing demand, BLMC remains well positioned to support growth and to deliver on its mandate across both ends of the Island.

Morgan's Point Development Company

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, as you are aware, the Morgan's Point Development Company, a government-owned entity established under the Morgan's Point Development Company Act 2022, is leading the phased and financially self-sustaining redevelopment of the former Caroline Bay site. This initiative follows the collapse of the Caroline Bay luxury resort project which left the Government with significant financial obligations under the original developers, after the original developers defaulted on a $165 million guarantee, resulting in over $200 million in public expenditure and annual interest payments of approximately $7.7 million.

In response, MPDC has identified key priorities for 2025/26 including commissioning a formal land valuation, finalising legal easements, and rights of way, reestablishing a cohesive site vision and architectural design, complete the assessment of future use of the five partially developed residential units (R1 through R5) conducting a construction compliance survey and undertaking site cleanup to ensure safety and readiness for future development phases.

In closing, Madam Chairman, this Government stands firmly on the principle that every Bermudian deserves a safe, secure and affordable place to call home. As we move forward with purpose and determination, we are guided by a simple yet powerful truth, our people come first.

The Ministry has significant work ahead in the coming year and we remain fully committed to the provision of affordable housing for all those in need.

Madam Chairman, this concludes my presentation on Head 90, Ministry of Housing and Municipalities.

Thank you.

The Chairman: Minister, you said "on Head 90." So does that include Head 90 and Head 53? Or are you about to start Head 53?

[No audible response]

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you.

HEAD 53—BERMUDA HOUSING CORPORATION

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

I would like to go ahead and present the budget for Head 53, Bermuda Housing Corporation, found on pages B-322 and C-22 of the approved Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure.

Mission

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the mission statement of the Bermuda Housing Corporation is, To provide accessibility to adequate, affordable housing and promote independent living to enhance the quality of life in Bermuda.

The vision statement of the Bermuda Housing Corporation is, Every Bermudian will reside in an adequate and safe environment.

Madam Chairman, the Bermuda Housing Corporation, BHC, will be receiving three grant allocations this fiscal year to support both its operational and capital requirements.

First, Madam Chairman, the Ministry of Housing and Municipalities allocates and an operational grant that is utilised to subsidise the following:

- the annual cost of repairs and normal maintenance of the BHC properties;
- support services for families and individuals;
- rental assistance via rent-geared-to-income clients of the corporation; and
- for the continuation of the H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck Programme.

BHC is budgeted to receive an operational grant of $6,640,000 as noted on pages B-322 and C-22. This represents an increase of $90,000 which will help cover operational costs including energy and other related expenses.

The second grant BHC is budgeted to receive is a capital grant, cost centre 75332 of $10,500,000 found on page C-22. An increase, Madam Chairman, of $2.7 million from the previous year. The capital grant will be used to pay for the interest and principal amounts due on the corporation's outstanding bank loans. It will also be used for small capital projects on BHC properties, such as

- new transformers for Fenton Drive and Perimeter Lane, $450,000;
- the addition of an elevator at Prospect Apartments, $200,000;
- roof, kitchen and electrical repairs at Gulfstream, $900,000;
- bathroom and room upgrades at Langley House, $571,356;
- BHC building upgrades about $300,000;
- Vehicles, $90,000;
- computer and equipment, $80,000;
- and furniture and fixtures, $30,000.

The third grant BHC is budgeted to receive is the BHC Residential Housing Grant, cost centre 75320 in the amount of $6.5 million, that's listed on page C-22. This funding will be allocated to phase four of the Residential Building Programme.

I invite Honourable Members to recall that in October 2022 the Government announced the launch of the Residential Building Programme as previously stated. Over the course of this three-and-a-half-year initiative spanning the fiscal years 2022/23 through 2025/26, BHC is set to complete the refurbishment of 137 residential units. This includes the addition of 77 new affordable rental units with the overall project estimated at a cost of $21,605,000.

Madam Chairman, there are no other changes between the 2024/25 and 2025/26 grant allocation. As a reminder, Madam Chairman, the primary functions of the BHC are to provide housing in Bermuda, to promote home ownership, to undertake and carry out housing schemes, and to undertake such other functions in connection with housing as the Minister responsible for Housing may require.

The Bermuda Housing Corporation administers a range of programmes in pursuit of its mission including the management and leasing of a substantial inventory of properties comprising of houses, apartments and building blocks. These properties include both those owned by the corporation and others leased from the private sector. The BHC manages approximately 533 government and private sector residential units Island-wide and eight transitional homes comprising 177 rooms. In addition to these, the BHC also manages 151 leasehold units at Alexandra Road, Mary Victoria Road, Greenwich Lane and Cedar Park, along with 94 new units at the Bermudiana Beach Residences.

Madam Chairman, I would like to take this opportunity to highlight several of the programmes and initiatives currently being implemented by the BHC to maintain, support and expand its housing stock. The corporation has entered into a public-private partnership with Clarien Bank, known as the HomeStart programme to support hard-working Bermudians in achieving home ownership. To date, the programme has successfully assisted over 30 Bermudian families in becoming first-time homeowners. The initiative has proven effective in making properties available for purchase at affordable prices. I am pleased to report, Madam Chairman, that the number will soon rise to 32 as two additional families are expected to complete their closings in the coming weeks.

Through this partnership properties within the portfolios of either Clarien Bank or the Bermuda Housing Corporation that require repairs are listed on the BHC website under the HomeStart programme. The initiative is designed specifically for first-time homeowners and offers 100 per cent mortgage financing. The BHC provides a guarantee to Clarien Bank on the first 25 per cent of each mortgage making the programme both accessible and secure for new homeowners.

The corporation in partnership with Age Concern and the Government of Bermuda continues to support our valued seniors and persons with disabilities through a programme designed to help families care for their vulnerable loved ones. This initiative enables individuals to remain in their own homes with dignity by providing interest free loans up to $15,000 repayable over a period of no more than 10 years. This funding is for the purchase of furniture, fixtures and fittings, and/or to make modifications or renovations to their home which would make it easier for them to remain there rather than be housed in a senior facility. As a reminder, the purpose of the fixture and fittings under this programme are duty free.

Since the inception of the programme, BHC has provided loans for 35 seniors, for a total amount of $476,153, or an average of $13,600 per loan. Applications for this programme remain available through the BHC website at www.bhc.bm or can be collected in person at the corporation's reception desk at the Seven Arches Building, 44 Church St., Hamilton.

Madam Chairman, the Bermuda Housing Corporation in partnership with the Bermuda Commercial Bank has launched a new programme to assist homeowners who have unoccupied units in need of minor repairs and bring them back into the Bermuda rental pool. The Private Sector Refurbishment Programme will fund up to $125,000 in refurbishment for the unit with an agreement for a minimum of a seven-year lease to BHC making the unit available to BHC clients at BHC rents. The loan will be repaid within the first five years of this agreement. This is a win-win for all as it brings back previously unoccupied units, increases the value of property for the owner, and allows BHC to house tenants on its housing waitlist.

As of today we have 13 homeowners interested in the programme with a total of 24 units. We are working with the first two owners through the process and hope to have these units out to tender shortly. Once these are underway, we will start with the next two to three owners. If anyone is interested in this programme, they can apply through the BHC website at www.bhc.bm under the Private Sector Refurbishment Rental Programme and select the "Refurbishment" option.

Madam Chairman, the Bermudiana Beach Residences is now actively welcoming residents. As of 20 May 2025, twenty-three condominiums are occupied including four studios, nine one-bedroom units, six two-bedroom units, and four three-bedroom units. Additionally, 10 more leases have been signed with tenants scheduled to move in shortly. This represents a 35 per cent occupancy rate of the 94 available units which is a highly encouraging start, given that the property only opened in March of this year and has not yet required any advertising.

Final occupancy certificates have been issued for buildings B, C, D, E, F, G, H, and J confirming their approved use as condominiums under the condo hotel model. While classification codes vary, all buildings are intended for the same purpose—supporting both short- and long-term occupancy. A Change of Use application has been submitted to the Planning Department and is currently under review. This is required because the property is transitioning from a condo hotel use under the tourism category to a residential use only.

Madam Chairman, as mentioned previously, the BHC also manages and controls the H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck Programme, the acronym for Helping the Unemployed Sustain Themselves with Limited Employment, which has been in successful operation since 2007. This year, Madam Chairman, marks the 18th anniversary of the programme. The programme has helped over 2,015 unemployed Bermudians in need with short-term temporary employment and assisted them with finding full-time jobs. In addition, the programme has provided much valued assistance to our seniors, community groups, churches, schools and neighbourhoods.

Madam Chairman, I'm pleased to give a final update on the work completed as it relates to the $1,664,000 as part of the Government's Economic Stimulus Grant in 2021/22. There was a total of seven properties included in this programme all of which have been completed. And they are:

- 1 Rock Oven Lane, St. David's—four bedroom, two bathrooms, $405,000
- 5 Captain Fox, St. David's—three bedrooms, two bathrooms, $88,000
- 15 Tommy Fox, St. David's—four bedrooms, two bathrooms, $43,000
- Ripon Cottage, St. George's—three bedrooms, two bathrooms, $89,000
- Regent House, St. George's—four bedrooms, two bathrooms, $95,000
- Harmony Block B, Paget—eight studios, $800,000
- Battery [Road] Lofts in Saint David's—three studios and one two-bedroom, $444,000

Madam Chairman, to date the Bermuda Housing Corporation has received a grant of $13,550,000 for the first three phases of the Government's Residential Building Programme. These phases encompassed 25 projects delivering a total of 94 residential units, 49 of which will be new additions to the BHC's rental stock while 45 involve the refurbishment of currently occupied units. The following 13 projects have been completed:

- 5 Aunt Jinny's Lane, St. David's—four bedroom, two bathrooms, $350,000, completed June 2023
- 18 North Shore Road, Smith's—two apartment house, $218,124, completed July 2023
- 3 Pan Bermuda Unit, Sandys—refurbishing of these three units in sequence, $326,732, completed August 2023
- Beacon Hill Rooming House, Sandys—conversion of a house to a five-room, five-bathroom rooming house, $425,000, completed in September 2023
- 3 Rock Over Lane, St. David's—three bedroom, two bathrooms, $458,833, completed October 2023
- Wellington House, St. George's—three bedroom house, $350,000, completed May 2024 Still more to come, Madam Chairman.
- Unit 25, 15 Mary Victoria Road—one unit, three bedroom, one bath, completed August 2024 for $250,000
- 3 Alexandra Road—duplex, units 5 and 6, two units for refurbishing at $250,000 completed June 2024
- 20 Battery Road—one bedroom cottage, August 2024, $70,000
- 22 Cottage Hill—two Pan Bermuda units refurbishing, $168,063
- 2 Alexandra Road—apartments, units 35, 36, 37, 38, 41 and 42 refurbished for $280,829
- Moria Apartment number 5—refurbished, $63,713, November 2024
- 5 and 7 Alexandra Road—new stucco, $96,500 in July 2024.

The remaining 12 projects are in tendering and planning stages or are underway. These include:

- 18 Battery Road—12 units, $3,350,000. Work has commenced and we estimate a completion date in early 2026.
- Harmony Terrace East—12 units, $1,900,000. Expected completion is the end of June this year.
- Chelsea Apartments—five units, $2.968 million. It's out for tender and we expect that to be finished in 2026.
- 7 Middle Town Road—a four-unit refurbishment out to tender, $775,000. We expect that to be completed by the end of this year.
- 2 Alexandra Road—apartments 39 and 40, $87,500.
- Harmony Terrace North—16 units, $1.3 million and is in the planning stages and estimated for completion later next year.

- 3 Alexandra Road—three buildings, stucco, $100,00. It is estimated to be completed this year.
- 3 Alexandra Road—units 3 and 4, refurbishing, $300,000. We are awaiting relocation of tenants.
- 7 Alexandra Road—[units] 11, 12, 13 and 14 refurbishing, $300,000, and awaiting relocation of tenants
- Elliott Street Apartments—[units] 1 and 2, refurbishment, $600,000. Tender is for design work.
- Moria Apartments—units 1 to 4 and 6 to 8, refurbishing, $1,020,000. And it is awaiting relocation of tenants.
- 8 Field View Lane—units 1, 2, 6 and 7. Refurbishing as well, $400,000. And we are awaiting relocation of tenants.

Transitional Housing

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, transitional housing. As previously mentioned, the BHC operates eight rooming or transitional houses that contain approximately 177 beds. The various houses are located throughout the Island and provide a safe habitat for BHC clients. The rooming houses cater to households that need immediate, safe or emergency accommodation. These facilities are known as Langley House, Gulfstream, Victoria Terrace, Union Street, 7 Middle Town, 9 Middle Town, Roosevelt and Beacon Hill.

Madam Chairman, the Support Services Department holds regular meetings at the rooming houses to hear residents' concerns and address any complaints. Satellite offices at the largest rooming houses in the Southside are utilised for these meetings, as well as for conducting support classes for clients who have fallen on hard times. The support provided includes economic, social, and psychological guidance, all aimed at helping occupants transition from the facility into more traditional forms of living in Bermuda.

Gulfstream: Multi-Unit Rooming House,
Southside, St. David's.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the multi-unit rooming house is comprised of 79 rooms and currently houses 44 families. Some families have adjoining rooms to ensure adequate privacy for parents and children.

Madam Chairman, refurbishing work is under way at Gulfstream to improve the overall condition of the rooms and the infrastructure of the building. Refurbishing will be done in phases as we work on the six rooms per phase and move clients once each phase is complete. Once complete, each room will have its own washroom and will allow for greater privacy and security. At this point, we are pleased to report 12 rooms have been completed and the tenants have moved into these refurbished units. During this fiscal year, plans are to refurbish the roof, kitchens, and the electrical.

Langley House

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Langley House is a multi-unit rooming house in Southside St. David's. Madam Chairman, building 632 Southside St. David's, known as Langley House, is a 63-bed rooming house facility located at Southside, St. David's. The rooming house is used specifically to house men in need of affordable, safe accommodation. There are currently 43 men residing in the rooming house. The corporation has qualified social workers working out of the satellite offices, including a former police officer, to monitor and correct any antisocial behaviours. Similar to the work at Gulfstream, we're in the process of carrying out refurbishing work at Langley House.

In the previous financial year, the project team refurbished a set of washrooms and showers, along with 10 of the residents' rooms, and these were all completed in March this year. We will continue this refurbishment with another 10 rooms and the second set of washrooms and showers on the first floor.

Harmony Club

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the corporation is in the process of transforming the Harmony Club property into studio and one-bedroom units, which will include intergenerational living, those 50 years and older who are mobile and can live independently. As previously stated, construction is completed on the Harmony Terrace West, with the completion of Harmony Terrace East expected by the end of June 2025. Work is also underway on the parking lot, the new electrical upgrades, along with the planning and design work for Harmony North.

The Harmony Terrace property is also used as the H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck offices. Warehouse storage and the Bonnie-Jean Tweed House used to provide emergency accommodation for people in immediate distress or in need of immediate rehousing.

Bermuda Housing Corporation Staff

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Bermuda Housing Corporation's head office is located at the Seven Arches Building, East Entrance, 44 Church Street, in the City of Hamilton, and presently consists of 50 personnel. Of that total, three H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck members operate from the office space at the Harmony Club, and five staff members under the Support Services and Property Operations Department operate off-site at the Satellite Office at the Southside Complex. The current structure of the BHC consists of eight departments: Project Management, Property Operations, Finance Collections and Homeownership Services, Support Services, Administration, Human Resources, Information Technology, and the H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck.

Madam Chairman, the Project Management Department assists with the advice regarding repair work, necessary on existing buildings and owned by the corporation to ensure longevity of the corporation's assets. Project Managers oversee the multiple dwellings that come under the BHC's remit to ensure effective and cost-conscious maintenance programmes keep the units in a safe and healthy state. The department consists of two Project Managers, one Senior Project Manager, and one Senior Property Administration Officer.

They are also responsible for the initial drawings of projected capital projects, as well as project management of the properties through to its completion. As mentioned previously, with the Economic Stimulus Grant, residential building programme repairs and the renovation of the rooming houses, day-to-day work on our rental units, including make-readies, this team performs at the very highest of standards.

Property Operations

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Property Operations Department is responsible for maintenance of BHC's current housing stock of 710 units, including the rooming houses Island-wide. The department's responsibilities include the regular maintenance of the buildings under the control of BHC and providing advice and assistance to clients of BHC on housing-related matters. The department is comprised of four Property Officers, six Maintenance Officers, one Build-officer, and one Administrative Assistant.

The department conducts regular maintenance checks of buildings under the management of the corporation and is responsible for small maintenance works, along with coordinating more difficult tasks with the trusted and able contractors. Last year, the Property Operations Department completed approximately 3,095 maintenance requests. The requests for maintenance that this capable department handles are wide-ranging. They tackle everything from simple plumbing, electrical, water, sewage, and roof repairs, to landscaping, painting, flooring, and major renovations. They do a great job.

The Finance Department

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Finance Department has a total staff of eight employees, consisting of one CFO and one Financial Controller, one Assistant Financial Controller, one Senior Finance Officer, three Finance Officers, and one Cashier. The Finance Department carefully monitors the corporation's spending and compliance, ensuring that policies and procedures are adhered to and that clients act responsibly in paying their bills in a timely manner. The Finance Department fields questions of financial nature, providing mortgage advice, and assists clients with the understanding of their financial obligations to the corporation.

Support Services Department

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Support Services Department is the department responsible for ensuring that adequate housing is found for BHC clients. The department conducts regular inspections of BHC housing inventory to ensure clients are compliant with their rental contracts. The department consists of 14 people, one Manager, one Senior Social Worker, four Social Workers, one Senior Leasing Agent, one Leasing Agent, four Rental Inspectors, one Intake Officer, and one Intake Administrator.

There is a current wait-list for BHC's accommodation of 376. This number is steadily increasing year over year. The Support Services Department offers a myriad of services to clients that include money management, housekeeping, social and behavioural problem eradication, child care, and health and safety guidance.

In addition, the department offers advice on support from other agencies that stand ready to assist clients who are in need of professional counselling.

Administration Department

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Administration Department consists of the General Manager, one Executive Assistant, one Receptionist, two Office Assistants. The Administration Department is responsible for the orderly daily business of the corporation.

Human Resource Department

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Human Resource [HR] Department has a total staff of two. The HR Department ensures that staff members have the required skills to carry out their daily roles efficiently and successfully as the corporation ensures employee welfare and provides mentoring and training services.

Information Technology Department

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the Information Technology Department has a total staff of two. The IT Department ensures that the corporation maintains its high standard of delivery and support in the provisions of the IT service to all its stakeholders.

Helping Unemployed Sustain Themselves with Limited Employment—The H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Madam Chairman, the H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck programme has proven itself over the years, assisting unemployed persons who actively seek work. The H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck headquarters operates out of Harmony Club and caters to 20 temporary employees per week.

The H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck continues to be a valuable assistance to Bermuda with the ability to adjust to the needs of the community as they arise. The H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck programme allows 20 people per week through the year, with persons able to remain in the programme for up to three months per year, taking one week off each month to seek regular employment. At this level, the corporation is able to rotate through approximately 260 different people per year.

The programme is available for any unemployed Bermudians. The H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck office keeps a database of information on the unemployed and their skill sets for the specific purpose of making a good fit when partnering with employers. The H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck office regularly receives requests from employers for qualified and suitable potential employees.

Upon receipt of requests, the database is checked and those people who have the required qualifications are sent to the interviews in the hope of achieving full-time traditional employment.

Madam Chairman, the Bermuda Housing Corporation continues to play a vital role in our society by supporting some of our most vulnerable members of the community, including seniors, individuals with mental health challenges, former inmates, young people and those experiencing financial hardship. This commitment has remained steadfast, particularly in the challenging times marked by economic uncertainty, global supply chain disruptions and rising prices. The reality is clear. The more difficulties Bermuda faces, the greater the demand for essential services provided by the Bermuda Housing Corporation.

In closing, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Chairman Thomas Famous and the Board of Directors, CEO Mr. Paul Martin and the entire management team and staff of the Bermuda Housing Corporation for the tremendous work that they continue to do in the service for the people of Bermuda.

Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister De Silva, for your comprehensive delivery of your briefs.

At this time, I would like to ask if there's any Member who wishes to speak to the debate on Municipalities and Housing, Heads 90 and 53.

I recognise the member from constituency 20, MP Michael Fahy.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you, Madam Chairman, and thank you to the Minister for his comprehensive brief. With the number of projects, I had to write furiously, so I seek early forgiveness if I'm asking some questions that may be repetitive because I can't make notes that quickly. With that said—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: Hey, hey, no, no. That's okay. That's okay. The Minister has given a lot of detail on a lot of projects, which is very helpful.

Madam Chairman, I am going to leap around a little in terms of some of the questions, and again, bear with me on that. In the first instance, if we look at page B-322, which is the mission statement for the Bermuda Housing Corporation, that's Head 53. The mission statement, I just flagged this because it doesn't match what they say on the Bermuda Housing Corporation website as mission statement.

This mission statement says rental and mortgage assistance. The Minister's brief did expand upon that. The BHC website says that the [mission of the] BHC is To provide accessibility to adequate and affordable housing and to promote independent living to enhance the quality of life in Bermuda, and I don't think that was exactly what the Minister read either, so there's . . . maybe we can seek some clarity on that. It may be . . . but again, I'm only hearing as quickly as I can, but either way, it doesn't match this [Budget] Book.

And then again, the department objectives to provide affordable housing for Bermuda's residents. I suspect it's a little bit more narrow than Bermuda's residents, because I think, in fact, what the BHC's mission is in the department objectives is to make sure that every Bermudian has access to affordable housing, or words to that effect, which is obviously quite admirable. But again, just important to get these things correct, I think.

The Minister made mention of the numbers, which was the primary question, and that's, How many people are on the waiting list? I think the Minister said 376 for Bermuda Housing Corporation. And the question that comes from that is, presumably there is a system in place where individuals who are on the waiting list for, say, the Bermuda Housing Corporation, are not also on lists, I think, for example, with the Bermuda Land Management Corporation, some of the housing that may or may not be managed by that, and indeed the Bermuda Housing Trust. Are we making sure that there's not multiples listed in different waiting lists? And presumably the various civil servants and those involved in the various quangos are cross-referencing information.

In terms of waiting lists, particularly with the Bermuda Housing Corporation, What's the average waiting time for people on that list? And I posed similar questions this morning when a Statement was read by the Minister, so there shouldn't be any surprise that I'm going to press those questions again. And presumably the Minister had an opportunity from this morning to get answers to those other questions from his Statement this morning, because they're going to be the same. What's the average waiting time for people on these lists?

And this is quite important, Madam Chairman, because, again, the Minister did make reference to the Urban Development Conference last week (or maybe it was two weeks ago now, time flies) where a number of statistics were kind of presented by various presenters saying that, look, if we're going to grow the economy, if we're going to try and take care of those that are already in need, we need at least 2,500 homes, or ability for people to have a home in some way, shape, or form.

And notwithstanding the huge amount of work that the Bermuda Housing Corporation has to undertake, again, I just flag that it is the urgency and the requirement for further housing. When you're looking at numbers of 2,500 housing required, you've got people on waiting lists, it's an absolutely big deal. As it is, the BHC on those numbers is managing an incredibly large portfolio with, and you're not going to often hear me say things about whether or not there's the right number of staff, but given the Minister's brief, it sounds like they're doing a whole lot with not maybe a full complement of staff to undertake the work. And, again, a question that arises from that is their intent to increase those staff, given that there's likely to be more homes that are going to come online in time.

In terms of housing opportunities and a housing ladder, Are there going to be any plans based on the policy and objectives from the HQ? And I'm just going to read out that department objective, so I link it back, Madam Chairman, before you ask me where I'm going. It says one of the department objectives of the HQ, again, is to deliver essential logistical financial administrative support to the Ministry headquarters and its constituent entities, and obviously it guides the Ministry's initiatives through collaboration with government agencies and key and public stakeholders.

In a lot of jurisdictions, you have the kind of lease-to-buy, and the reason I'm asking this question is if the Bermuda Housing Corporation has, I think the number, again, was in excess of 700 units or 710 units on their books—

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Michael Fahy: Yes. If individuals or families are staying in these units long-term, maybe they're there for years, again, what's the average time that people are in BHC housing, whether that's a studio, one-bedroom, two-bedroom, but what's the average time?

And the reason for that then becomes, is someone, once they're on the BHC ladder, always on the BHC ladder? In other words, maybe they join as a single person, they're not able to afford something, they're in a studio, they have a family, they have children, do they just stay in that? Or are there opportunities to say, look, we have a massive amount of expenditure on these 710 units. If people are there in those units long-term, Is there opportunity for purchase once they're paying some of that rent? And is that something that the Government would be prepared to consider even further? I think that's something that I'd certainly like to see.

The private sector rental programme, this was from the BHC website, and that programme, if you decide that you wish to have your property listed, you go to the BHC, presumably, they look, and from what I could gather, they don't take on, quite rightly, properties that need major works, but guaranteed payment each month. BHC manages the tenants for you, and you can have a scheme of optional property maintenance. What are the fees involved on that particular scheme if people are asking for these optional property maintenance and things like that? Is there a fee schedule that people look at and say, okay, I'm prepared to go in with this?

Now, how many houses are in that scheme that people have said, I own this property, I'm going to hand it over to the BHC for them to manage and get tenants in, and it becomes not my problem? The website says that if you are part of that scheme, those properties are leased for a year. Again, is that the right amount of time? Is there consideration for more? Or is it, again, if you're on the housing ladder looking for more, maybe that's why it's a year.

But this was the interesting number, it says on that website, that rents for studios . . . again, this is about affordable housing, $900 to $1,000 for a studio, a one bedroom is $1,100 to $1,500, a two bedroom $1,400 to $1,900, a three bedroom $1,650 to $2,400. How are those figures calculated in terms of what that means?

I then compare that and those figures, Madam Chairman, to the Bermudiana housing complex (I will call it that) where I seem to recall what the Minister said is the numbers for those units started around $3,400 or thereabouts, depending on the unit size, I suppose. Maybe the Minister could give some clarity on if this is about affordable housing, and if you are involved with the private housing scheme, or sorry, I forget the name of it—the Private Sector Rental Programme, and those are the numbers quoted of $900 to $1,100 for a studio, and taking those numbers, the numbers are off. That's not affordable.

Notwithstanding what the Minister's numbers are at the Bermudiana Resort, based again on his brief, because I can't get into the details in the Budget Book, I'm going strictly on the Minister's brief, that there's going to be uptake. We're looking at trying to have affordable housing, and we'll get into that a little bit more.

Again, just looking through the BHC's website, there were a number of properties there that were listed for sale that appear to be part of the HomeStart programme, where someone can purchase. And on that, there were only four units for sale. They were last listed in April, including a commercial building. Again, maybe . . . I'm just wondering how these homes get onto these . . . how are homes selected to get into that website, to go on and someone says, I am interested in purchasing this property from BHC? And is there a list of people who have indicated a desire to buy some of these BHClisted properties? What's the process of that? I just couldn't follow that.

And in that programme, how many were sold in the last fiscal year with the HomeStart programme? If that's . . . you go on the site and say you have an interest in the property, and how many might be thought about for the coming year?

I have a very specific question for the Minister, because I didn't hear anything in the brief when we talk about individual buildings. Now, I will say, the Minister and his team did provide a very comprehensive listing on our parliamentary questions a couple of weeks ago of the properties that are listed with BHC and the BLMC, Bermuda Land Management Corporation.

I just query about Bishop Spencer, and I'm wondering if the Minister can opine on that this evening, because the Bishop Spencer property over the years was designated for housing. I mean, in fact, I took a real interest in it when I was Minister. It wasn't my Ministry; and I worked with Minister Cannonier at the time on trying to find a solution for it. And it didn't work.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: We can get into that. There wasn't a lot of desire in some areas of government to have the Salvation Army run it, and sometimes you get blocks you just can't clear on time.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: With that said, and thank you, I'll go there later, because that's the type of property.

Now, I understand that that property is now a private entity that will have dormitories, presumably for staff, presumably for guest workers, and my question is not in any way disparaging whoever is, in fact, renting that property.

The Chairman: Member, can I just ask you to pause for one minute while I change over with MP Scott Pearman? Thank you.

[Mr. Scott Pearman, Chairman]

The Chairman: Thank you to MP Renee Ming, who's just left the Chair, having chaired the beginning of the debate. This is a three-hour debate on the Ministry of Housing and Municipalities. We've heard from the Honourable Minister Zane De Silva. We're now hearing questions, initial questions, from the Honourable Shadow Minister Michael Fahy, and this is in relation to heads, I think, Heads 90 and 53.

Please continue, Honourable Shadow Minister.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you.

So, again, specifically about Bishop Spencer, and if it is leased, what's the length of the term of that lease? Because that seemed to be a major opportunity for emergency or transitional housing. I think that's an opportunity lost.

In terms of the tabling of financials for BHC, I'm not sure when the last set, I didn't see the most up-to-date set online, I don't think. Maybe the Minister . . . it has not yet been tabled for BHC annual report and up-to-date audited financials. I would like to know where I can find them, if they're there, because I didn't find them. But when will they be tabled in the House? And that would be the same with the Bermuda Land Management Corporation. I presume that they would probably be tabled at some point as separate entities because this merger of WEDCO and BLDC has just come almost to completion.

Mr. Chairman, given that we have such a homeless issue in Bermuda, and I think we can all agree it is a very serious problem, I wonder if the Minister would comment on the annual report from HOME. And I say that, again, linking things back to the objectives, where the Ministry works with constituents, entities, and other parties, where their annual report said, for 31 December 2024, that at least 1,100 people are experiencing homelessness and if the Minister's departments agree with that assessment, and whether or not there would be increased collaboration with an entity like HOME. I specifically ask, because going through their report, and I can provide this to the Minister, but if I may, Mr. Chairman, I would like to just quickly read a piece from that, and I can provide to the Minister.

The Chairman: Please.

Hon. Michael Fahy: HOME says in their report that, "Subject to appropriate approval of Government commitment and funding," (is going to,) "commence preparations for capital work and operations to provide services and accommodation to (a) men experiencing housing insecurity and their vulnerable children and (b) single men exiting the criminal justice system. Secure a property from the Government of Bermuda for the purposes of providing low barrier housing," (and they term that as) "to provide shelter to individuals experiencing homelessness by using a harm reduction approach and removing or diminishing barriers to entry and continued residency. Such a project depends on adequate inter-agency cooperation, resourcing and funding, and will not proceed without these dependencies in place."

I am just wondering if discussions have been held between the Ministry and HOME, given that HOME says in their report that they want to do all of these things, some of which will overlap with Government initiatives. And again, given that there is not an endless pot of resources for housing in Bermuda, that work is done in tight collaboration with HOME to make sure that we are not doubling up on the resources. And if, in fact, a property has been identified, that would either be, I don't know, leased, given, sold to HOME for the purposes of what their initiatives are.

Again, the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Chairman, has said Bermuda needs to build approximately 2,500 homes. That was one of their numbers that they provided, I think, at the Budget Breakfast. If the target population is around 70,000, based on numbers that the Government has said over time, that there is a desire to increase jobs, et cetera, and the Minister has said in his brief that, of course, housing is not just about emergency housing. It's also ensuring that we have adequate housing for everybody, essentially, that's coming into Bermuda and residents and Bermudians to make sure that we have the adequate support in place.

Again, would the Minister accept, based on the numbers that we are hearing, [that] 2,500 additional units [are] required? Because if in fact the Minister does agree, we have a drop in the ocean, and we have a massive amount still to do. So, I would look for some clarity on that.

Just turning briefly to the Bermudiana housing complex, I am just going to go through some notes based on what the Minister had said. And he said that in terms of occupancy, obviously, there are 94 units in total at that place, 35 per cent occupancy, 23 units are I think occupied, and 10 are in progress. Studio, one-, two-, three-, four- . . . sorry, studio, one-, two-, and three-bedrooms. Can the Minister advise if there are any further costs related to this development that have not yet been brought to this House? Because I think the last number we heard was about $100 million has been spent on this. And again, not to be churlish, but if you have a $6.5 million grant for capital contributions, and we are spending $100 million somewhere else, that is a small amount of money, really, if it's going to cost $100 million. I don't expect that housing that's supposed to be affordable will be costing what is now in excess of $100 million. When you look at the numbers, that's what? One . . . Did the numbers 1.094, whatever it is, per unit on average? That's not sustainable.

So, again, the Minister is very keen, as are we on this side, to see housing be available and affordable. What, if anything, is the BHC going to put in place to ensure that this kind of, I guess, overrun doesn't happen again to the extent that it appears to have been?

Again, if we are investing in affordable units . . . because what we have also heard in relation to a requirement for further units of housing, Mr. Chairman, is that if we want more, if we need more people in Bermuda, then it is up to the private sector to kind of start helping and ensuring that there's more housing stock. But, again, you need to have the right policies in place to get people to build. It is a chicken-and-egg thing. So, again, it's not just a simple matter of throwing money. There is that requirement for a master plan.

Now, we did hear the Minister make mention of that, and the Minister says there's going to be a master plan; we're not going to wait for the master plan, because time is of the essence—or words to that effect.

The Minister can forgive me if I haven't got his quote quite correct, but I think it's close enough. What does that mean in practice?

Well, again, and I dislike when I hear these things. We are going to have yet another survey that we are going to hear about what's wrong, and we are going to have these people tell us, when we've done this consultation process, that we need more housing. It just seems to go round and round and round. We know that housing is required. We know that there should be ladders of opportunity. When you have housing people remain. And, again, we need to link all of those things together.

So, a question about . . . just going back to the Bermudiana. Perhaps the Minister can shed further light on this issue that was mentioned in his brief as to the improper designation for the Bermudiana. It would seem as if units have been sold and occupied, perhaps without the proper planning, final permissions in place. Has that had any effect on the individuals that are occupying those residences? And, if so, what are they? And, presumably, any applications would have had to have been conducted and undertaken by the BHC, not the individual unit holders. It started as a tourism project. I don't think that those units were then leased on the basis of a tourism project. I suspect it's an administrative oversight. But, if it is, what's the timeline now for the proper documentation to be in place?

Can the Minister confirm as well in relation to that particular development, as to whether or not all of the units that are rented, or likely to be rented, are reserved for Bermudians, or spouses of Bermudians? Or is it, Look, this is the cost. It's not necessarily falling within the bands of what can be deemed affordable. I'm not sure. Let's just get clarity on exactly what this development now is, because we also know that Government really probably shouldn't be involved in these kinds of schemes, where it's not just about affordable housing. It seems to be something that's more suited for the private sector. But, again, I'm sure clarity can be given.

So, a quote, if I may, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Please.

Hon. Michael Fahy: And the Minister will be familiar with this quote, because it's his. And it was from a press conference in April, where he said, "In the coming weeks," (this was, I think, at the Bermudiana housing estate,) "we will present a medium to long-term housing strategy focused on," (the following priorities,) "affordable rental developments," (targeted at) "low to middle-income households, rent-geared-to-income programmes for working families, innovative use of land and derelict buildings, public-private partnerships to expand housing opportunities, and new solutions to address the needs of single parents and young Bermudians trying to enter the housing market."

Is that the strategic plan the Minister is now saying will take some time? What's the timeline for that final plan?

There was a lot that was said in April. There was a lot that was said in the brief. Urgency is now. I accept that. The Minister has said words to that effect. But we are waiting. The people of Bermuda are waiting. And I'm not sure that we can wait six months, a year, eighteen months, for a strategic master plan that then takes, what, another eighteen months to implement.

So, the Minister wants to race forward, but he may very well be restricted in his ability to race forward, Mr. Chairman, based on the outcome of this strategic master plan.

The Minister has made mention of the grant. And again, I think if you look at page C-22 the BHC capital grant was $10.5 million. Now, I think the Minister made mention of what those grants were for. I don't think that they were for new housing builds. I think what I had heard was that they were for transformers and other upgrades and things that are absolutely necessary. But maybe he can confirm that, in fact, it's not a new capital project of new builds with new homes.

Under the Bermuda Housing Act, Mr. Chairman, much like any of these corporations that the Minister has oversight and responsibility for, because it is a heavy Ministry on oversight of quangos, which is why the Budget Book for this Minister's Ministry is like four pages plus his grants, a lot of what's to be done is embedded with quangos. And just for the public, if I may, that's BHC, that's Bermuda Housing Trust, that's the Bermuda Land Management Company, it's the two corporations, and it's the Morgan Point Development Company. However, those entities can be given direction from the Minister, and there are pieces that come with that in respect of how a Minister is to use his direction powers to direct the quangos.

Now, perhaps, perhaps the Minister will be considering those powers, since the Minister desires moving quickly. Has the Minister given any direction to the Bermuda Housing Corporation under the Act of his ability to give direction? And did his immediate predecessor give any written directions on certain projects? Or have things just essentially been delegated to the board? Which is quite proper under the Act, by the way. I'm not insinuating anything here. I'm just curious, as given that the powers exist, we wish to move quickly, the Government wishes to move quickly, whether or not such considerations have been given.

I am just going to turn to municipalities. And more specifically, I'm going to look, put my correct glasses on and see if my colleagues from St. George's are in the . . . yes. Because I see under the budget grant, and again, I'll just take those that are following in the Budget Book. Again, it's the Grants under page C-22, the Corporation of St. George's is going to get an $800,000 grant—

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael Fahy: —which is the same sum as the previous year.

Now, on Sunday, I went up to St. George's and actually had a wander around Fort Albert, which I have to say is incredibly impressive from the work that was done by the St. George's Foundation, I think. And it really is. I would encourage anyone that has gone up and is interested in forts to really explore it. You can.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: It says, "at your own risk." I'm not going to go there at nighttime. I can tell you, it would be a scary place. It's not well lit from what I can tell. But there's . . . it's very impressive. And I say that because we also have to be thinking about, under the municipalities, the Minister has the opportunity to give directions under the Municipalities Act. Section 7AA gives the Minister power to give directions to a corporation.

The reason I raise this is because there is also a report that I think the Minister, I am sure, has seen and read because it was tabled in this House a year ago, and that is the Historic Town of St. George's and Related Fortifications Study and Report of the Joint World Heritage Centre and ICOMOS Advisory Mission that was conducted through, or their study was conducted 25 to 28 March 2024.

Now, for anyone, honestly, who spends time in St. George's . . . there is so much history in St. George's. It's a wonderful place to go. There are Members that we hear from every week who tell us this, and I agree . . . for the most part.

An Hon. Member: Not as nice as Somerset.

Hon. Michael Fahy: But it's crumbling. St. George's is crumbling.

And notwithstanding anything that may or may not come out of a Privy Council decision—I'm not going there before anyone urges me to be careful—there are probably not sufficient sums for St. George's to do the type of works that are required to ensure that St. George's retains its UNESCO World Heritage Site status, especially surrounding forts and the like.

Now, I did hear the Minister say in his presentation that the $800,000 grant is relating to road paving and some of those types of things. I suppose that grant has been given on the basis that it's going to be used for that, and maybe the Minister can confirm that that grant of $800,000 has been given on the basis that other works such as road resurfacing and things are being undertaken.

But there is also, for those of you who don't remember, the [Corporation of St. George's] (UNESCO World Heritage Fund and Levy) Act 2013. And that is a tax that is essentially levied on fuel that comes into Ferry Reach for the benefit of St. George's. And the concern there, of course, is that it fluctuates based on fuel prices. And we have got a lower tax levy now. So presumably the town of St. George's will get less money from that. And that money, Mr. Chairman, is to be utilised for the protection of the forts and things in and around St. George's. I believe it's around about $300,000. That is not enough. So, if we are going to say that we . . . again, I'm treading a little bit outside, but it relates to the grant and the Minister's opportunity.

The Chairman: Yes, page C-22.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Yes, it relates to the Minister's opportunity to give directions.

If St. George's is going to be the kind of the jewel in the crown if you will, for international recognition, because of its UNESCO World Heritage Site status, we have to be doing a lot more. And no matter what happens in June, whichever form the governance of the town of St. George's takes, we need more money for the town of St. George's.

I felt that when I was Minister we did not have enough. And that was why, in 2013, we brought in the UNESCO World Heritage Fund and Levy Act under the, and I'm going to call them out, under the idea and thought of a former Member, Mr. Bascome. And I'm sure there were others who have thought about it over the years, but he pressured me greatly back then to bring something in for the town. We just need more. That fund is administered by the Corporation of St. George's, as is their grant. But again, the Minister can clarify in relation to that.

Now, given the Minister's responsibility for the municipality, so that's the Corporation of St. George's and the Corporation of Hamilton, and that section 7AA of the Municipalities Act 1923 as amended, the Minister—and this is just the section from the Act—[section 7AA(1)], “The Minister may give written directions to a Corporation, whether of a general or of a specific character, if he considers it to be in the best interests of Bermuda for him to do so, and the Corporation shall carry out any such directions.”

It is a very powerful tool. Has the Minister considered using those tools for the purposes of encouraging there to be grant money for housing or the like within the corporations? Because the Minister has said, rightly so, he wants to move swiftly. He has power under this Act within the corporations to move swiftly.

Now, on the flip side, people don't like to use those powers, Mr. Chairman, because they're open to criticism and all the rest. I get it.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: I absolutely get it. No, no. I get it. I am just generally saying. But we had a presentation with broad agreement in this place of the City of Hamilton Plan, as an example, heights of buildings.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Michael Fahy: And the Minister said in that debate that when we talked about floor space and the things that there's ways . . . we are Legislators. We can do things here. So can the Minister. So, I hope that he considers some of these things in a very fair and reasonable manner, given the powers he actually has.

It's important as well that we lead by example. And I made mention of that. And believe it or not, guess what? You might recall last week that I made mention of Government leading by example in Hamilton about the old police station building.

Well, there's an old police station building in St. George's that's derelict as well. And that comes within the town of St. George's. And again, I believe there's real opportunity there for the Minister, if things are not already moving in a good direction, to give direction, possibly for housing or for a better and much nicer town of St. George's.

And again, with the $800,000 grant, I think we are still waiting to see audited financials from the Corporation of St. George's. And maybe the Minister will table them here under his powers as the Minister responsible for Municipality on both corporations. I think the Corporation Hamilton is up to date.

Again, we did speak this morning about sewage in the town of St. George's and the possibility of a sewage tax. And I think, again, I just continuously think about, How can St. George's be improved? And the Minister . . . I urge [him] to share any plans that the Government may have as soon as possible, post the outcome of the Privy Council case on governance.

Just one minute. I am just going to get a drink, if I may.

The Chairman: It is a good point to pause. We have about an hour and 25 minutes left in this three-hour debate on the Ministry of Housing and Municipalities.

And for the benefit of the Honourable Members, but also for the listening public, we have been listening to questions from the Honourable Shadow Minister, the MP for constituency 20, Michael Fahy. And before that, we were listening to the Honourable Minister, Zane De Silva, who presented his brief on Head 90, Ministry of Housing and Municipalities Headquarters and on Head 53, Bermuda Housing Corporation.

So, I will now pass it back to the Shadow Minister. MP Fahy, you have the floor.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you. So just for the sake of clarity, if the Minister would give an answer as to whether or not he or his immediate predecessor has given any specific directions to the corporations as permitted under the Municipalities Act.

Turning to the Morgan's Point Development Company. For the listening public, Morgan's Point Development Company was passed by the legislature, or the [Morgan's Point Development] Company Act was passed by the legislature in 2022.

And just looking into some of the development that's there, and the Minister made reference in his brief to the five major units at that place. But it just seems, to my point of view, confusion as to what exactly is going to happen with those units there, because we have heard plans announced of what the Morgan's Point Development Company is intending to do. We recall that this particular portfolio moved from the Minister of Finance to the new Ministry of Housing and Municipalities as part of the responsibility of the Honourable Minister.

But in 2024, the Minister of Finance made reference to the development of the five units that are on site and said that they would be turned into 35 additional units to Bermuda's housing stock. And that was in 2024. And I can give the Minister the quote, but it's easily found.

We were told that there is supposed to be a retail sector as well on the development. And I just wonder, why make announcements in 2024 about turning Morgan's Point area into 35 additional units? Now, again, I scribbled furiously, as the Minister spoke about the Morgan's Point Development, and basically said, from what I gather, that there has to be an evaluation exercise undertaken, architectural designs, there need to be surveys undertaken, a site cleanup. And it just seems to me that maybe in 2024, we jumped the gun when we spoke about it, or the Minister of Finance certainly must have jumped the gun.

Is it the plan, notwithstanding the fact that all these things need to be done, to have 35 additional units to Bermuda's housing stock, as previously announced? And again, in this particular instance, as the Minister had said, the Morgan's Point Development Company is a government-owned company. In other words, the shareholders are two government ministries, I think.

Minister, I'm happy to, if I've got that wrong . . . I don't want to get that incorrect. But if I recall, it's the two of them. The Morgan's Point Development Company Act, under section 12, again, Mr. Chairman, I will just quote it.

The Chairman: Please.

Hon. Michael Fahy: It's easy to find. It allows the Minister to give directions to the Company—just like the Minister can under most quango setups.

So, has the Minister or his predecessor given any written or oral direction to the board of directors to do anything in relation to Morgan's Point specifically? Or are the decisions being left strictly to the board, as appointed, presumably, by the shareholders with input from the Minister? I can't recall what the Act said, but I'm sure it's a combination of that.

The Bermuda Land Management Corporation—perhaps the Minister can clarify if there is a master plan for the Bermuda Land Management Corporation. Now, this is important because the Bermuda Land Management Corporation is the combination, as we know, of WEDCO and the BLDC, two very different areas. One of massive historical interests, and another of ability perhaps to build, because of the land mass there.

And when I think about Southside as your example, in 2018, there were announcements made about Marginal Wharf. Now, Marginal Wharf, Mr. Chairman, it's obviously the main wharf there coming on into St. David's on the left. Marginal Wharf might be turned into a cargo port—a cargo port and a power plant. And then we heard in 2021, it was going to be a fish processing plant. So, we have had a few announcements made by the Government. And perhaps the Minister can share with us if there are any plans now for Marginal Wharf. And if so, perhaps he would share, are there any RFPs? Are there any answers to RFIs, requests for information, in terms of that? Because it seems to me, again, there is a development there for housing. And if in fact that area is going to be developed further, again, is that part of a master plan? Or is it ad hoc? We need housing, there's land, let's build.

Because you do not just want to just build, you want neighbourhoods. You want places where people feel secure. You want people to integrate into the community—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: Expensive.

An Hon. Member: It takes a long time.

Hon. Michael Fahy: But that wouldn't be retail, that would be commercial, I suppose. But the point is made that a master plan for both what was the WEDCO properties, and what were the BLDC.

And again, that also was a comprehensive list shared by the Minister, from a parliamentary question of the number of properties that are managed and owned by now the Bermuda Land Management Corporation, which are not insignificant.

Now, for those of you who are interested, again, you can go on the BLMC website and see opportunities there for development. There are 11 areas that are listed. And again, this is why a master plan is of importance. Because “Joe Blogs” can go on, presumably (when you can) and identify a property, and then what? Make a submission to the BLDC . . . sorry, I've got all these acronyms . . . BLMC, for development.

But is there specific development that the Minister would like to see at Marginal Wharf, or at BLMC properties at Southside? Or specific developments that the Government has in mind, given the power of the Minister to again issue directions if he sees fit in the public interest.

For example, Mr. Chairman, if you look at Dockyard, Victualling Yard has been available now for some time. And under the One Bermuda Alliance Government there were a number of proposals put forward from hotels to retail and other things in between. But again, with some of these things, without a master plan it's very difficult to make a decision, because you don't want . . . whilst you want development, you want development that is cohesive and comes together in a certain way.

But given that on the other side we have 370-something individuals on a waiting list with BHC, we have 1,100 people facing homelessness, where is the priority? And what is the Government's priority, given that this Ministry has been created along with the Ministry of Home Affairs to lower costs, give people opportunity, have housing, better energy prices and the like? If there is that priority, I would like to hear it.

Perhaps the Minister . . . oh, some of the other properties, Cross Island, there are a number of vacant lots in Westcott Road and there are six or seven others.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: There are a lot there for development opportunities. Maybe Cross Island could be used for housing. Could be. I am sure that the Bermudiana Resort is high up there too.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: I am sure it is, at least per apartment it is.

So, we have, again at Southside, a number of developments. Maybe the Minister can just give an update. Forgive me if I missed it in the presentation. Triton House, dormitory-style housing. Channel House, the Shadow Minister behind me, from constituency 31, had asked questions about Channel House. I believe that was, at least with planning in February or March. Again, that was housing for seniors. I don't recall if that has now been approved.

In relation to the Bermuda Land Management Corporation, are there any residential entities that are responsible [under] the BLMC for rent? I did not see anything listed to say that there were, but it would appear that there's obviously the ability to do so because I suppose that the units in Dockyard that were under the remit of WEDCO have fallen within this new quango. And again, it would appear that there's no availability there.

The Minister said in his brief that the reason there are no performance measures is because it's a new Ministry. Okay. But perhaps next time, next budget, we will have some performance measures listed because it is difficult to measure success without the sight of quango financials. Rather, just simply based on what the Minister has presented today because by its very nature, as I said, the quangos are separate in their own way.

In terms of dormitory-style housing generally, is the Minister satisfied or is the Minister thinking that's a good way to go forward in terms of the dormitory-style housing? And presumably, again, what you want is if this dormitory-style housing that people are eventually moved out of that dormitory-style housing into other units and that is why it is important to have that kind of ongoing turnover. So again, it goes back to those original questions. How long are people on average in BHC housing? How long are they in the dormitories? And what are the stages of that?

Just turning to some more specific notes from the Minister's brief. In the Minister's brief, as I had said earlier, he made mention of the fact that there's going to be this Island-wide survey to be launched for the issue of housing, a coordinated effort, long-term, data-driven. We have a problem because it now becomes an issue where you have a census that is due at some point in 2026, where the data comes out in 2027. We have another survey that's going to be data-driven to make decisions on housing. It could be very different depending on who you ask because this survey is going to be based on, who? Maybe the Minister can add clarity as to who the stakeholders who are going to be questioned for the purpose of the survey. Is it a general survey for the general public online? Is it architects? Is it BHC personnel? To get the information that the Minister probably already knows: there is a housing crisis. So, I'm just not seeing what the overall purpose . . . What's the likely cost of the survey?

And the Minister did not give a specific timeline, but what the Minister said was, at the conclusion of the survey, we'll have answers to challenges and opportunities, and there'll be an implementation plan brought to Cabinet. What's the timeline envisaged for that? Is it end of the year? Next year? Details would be nice.

I commend the BHC for the work that they have done on a lot of these renovations. It cannot be easy in any stretch of the imagination, Mr. Chairman, to manage the level of properties, some of them very aged properties, on a continuous basis. But what I would like answers to in relation to the water issues with some of the housing owned by the BHC and the Devonshire complexes is, How many residences were affected by the water issues that the Minister has made reference to and that have been raised in the press, and that have been long-term issues? And what's the likely timeline for rectification of those water issues?

I believe the Minister also made reference to sewage issues. That was in Alexandra Road, et cetera. Again, there was street lighting, collaboration with BELCO, all excellent for the tenants in that area. Again, timelines for the processes that need to be followed would be very helpful.

The Minister made mention that legislative reform is on its way. I think it was in part of the Throne Speech, where there will be derelict property acquisition legislation under the Bermuda Housing Act. Forgive me, I missed the other Act. But we just need to be very careful with that type of legislation, which is essentially assuming private entity/private property in some way being taken over by the BHC or the Bermuda Government.

I am not against the idea; and neither is the OBA as a whole. But we will look very carefully at what that legislation means to protect the rights of the homeowners going forward, because they are notoriously difficult, those types of things. And the Minister made reference to it previously, Mr. Chairman, that a lot of times properties are left derelict are caught up in trust disputes. There are property ownership issues. There are deeds issues. And an Act may not just be the solving of that. I doubt it. And that's the problem. What we don't want to do is say to people, Look, this is going to be the panacea, if you will, to help get more properties onto the market. It will be a very, very slow, drawn-out process.

It seems to me that the Minister could consider some form of tax penalty for derelict properties. They could encourage the corporations to implement a form of empty-unit tax to encourage development, perhaps by saying . . . for example, you have a property that could be rented through some of the BHC programmes that the Minister has made reference to.

The Minister made reference to the fact that whatever the outcome in June, there will be full consultation on the next steps. I just wonder if that means that the previous Bill won't happen anyway. So, either way, we'll look to see what that means in practice.

The Minister made mention in his brief about . . . sorry, I am skipping to the BLMC from the Minister's brief, about the tugs' dock and King's Wharf as well in relation to the Norwegian Cruise Line.

The Chairman: The grant at page C-22.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you very much. Thank you for pointing that out for more specificity.

I hope that the Minister can answer the question that I posed this morning about what that means in practice for Norwegian Cruise Line in terms of preferential berthing, given that they're making the major investment, if other cruise lines and cruise ships wish to utilise the berthing. Are they paying extra to either the Bermuda Government or the BLMC for the use of those berths, et cetera?

I think it's important that the cruise ship companies that benefit from being in Bermuda's waters and being essentially captive in Bermuda when they're here, that they do take the bulk of these projects. It goes on in other jurisdictions as a quid pro quo often, in terms of duty-free ports and things like that. But when you are doing port work, we know that it costs an absolute fortune, $22 million for this project. We have been told that the Bermuda Government is responsible for nil of that or the BLMC or any other iteration of it.

I would implore the Minister to ensure that if there are any further developments to go with the BLMC to make everything possible that the cruise companies take the burden of the development and make sure the taxpayer does not take the burden of it. So, I flag that because you may recall that a previous Government was the one that got the arrangement for the Norwegian Cruise Line (NCL) ferry to St. George's.

Those types of projects and those types of initiatives I think are very important. Again, the Minister can help give direction to BLMC in relation to issues over that.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIRMAN

HOUSE VISITOR

The Chairman: Shadow Minister, while you're looking at your notes, let me just recognise the Honourable Member from another place who's sitting in the back, Senator Fubler. We have been listening to submissions—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Senator Fubler. Yes, yes, Senator Fubler.

[Desk thumping]

The Chairman: Yes, there you go. And you're getting a tap from the Honourable Minister. There you go.

[Committee of Supply, continuing]

The Chairman: Yes, Shadow Minister, we are about two-thirds of the way through a three-hour debate. We have been listening to questions from the Shadow Minister for Home Affairs, Housing and Municipalities, Michael Fahy.

Shadow Minister, do you have any further questions you want to put before we open it to others?

Hon. Michael Fahy: Oh, I do.

The Chairman: Okay, please continue.

Hon. Michael Fahy: I said the Minister couldn't get off that easy, so I don't want him to get off that easy.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Michael Fahy: In relation to, again, going to the Minister's brief, the Minister made mention of the HomeStart programme. Thirty Bermuda families have been able to utilise the programme with Clarien [Bank]. That will rise to 32. That's commendable. With 100 per cent mortgage financing, 25 per cent, I think, is paid up in terms of, I think, the guarantee of 25 per cent of the mortgage is what we heard. Have there been any defaults on those guarantees to date? I'm presuming not, but if there are, what's the cost of those defaults?

It was good to hear that the H.U.S.T.L.E. Truck programme is still running well, and I think that's a success. Again, we are not here for doom and gloom—that's what we like to be accused of.

[Laughter]

Hon. Michael Fahy: So, we can say, Look, the programme has worked, and the numbers that were given were commendable.

I make mention of that because, of course, there's no specific line item within the Budget Book. It's buried, presumably within the BHC statements, which I hope will be tabled in this place so we can have an analysis of whether things are as effectively run as the Minister says. And I have no doubt that they are, but it would be nice to see those statements tabled.

The Minister gave a very good overview of staffing at BHC and project management, et cetera, and I made mention of the fact that given the numbers of units under management, I thought that maybe there would be more project managers and the like. And I wonder if that could be considered.

For the moment, Mr. Chairman, I do not have any other immediate questions. I am sure the Minister will opine, and maybe I will have an opportunity to ask more if I do not hear the things I am looking to hear.

Thank you very much.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Shadow Minister, Member for constituency 20.

Is there anyone else who would like to participate in the debate before we—

Oh, I see the Honourable Member from constituency 1. MP Ming, you have the floor.

Mrs. Renee Ming: Good afternoon, Mr. Chairman and listening audience.

I thought that it would be a good idea to lend my voice to this debate tonight because each and every one of you know where my passion is when I sit in this place and others. And I particularly want to address page C-22 under the Capital Account, and it would be the grant that was granted to the Corporation of St. George's.

The Chairman: [That would be] 75003.

Mrs. Renee Ming: Absolutely, 75003.

The change is not there. And so, I think my colleague who spoke earlier said that St. George's is crumbling. I may disagree on the crumbling side of it, but I do agree on the aged side of St. George's. And if we're going to talk about St. George's, I think it would not be fair not to at least exemplify the historicalness of St. George's.

Each and every one of you in this room started in the east. So, whether you hail from the west now, support the west, live in the west, represent the west, Sir George Somers' boat didn't go Somerset. It came down right off St. George's. So, you all started in the east.

And so, when I look at this and I think about my historic town that I live in, and I think I'm going to come up with that saying [hashtag] #thisiswhereweallstarted. It would be a very true statement. So, when you think about the age of the town, right, which is well above what any other part of the Island has, we have to look at infrastructure.

So, where am I going with this? The Corporation of St. George's does a phenomenal job on what they can within the town area. But when you come down and you look at our buildings, and even the design of the buildings, the closeness of the buildings, the simplicity of the architecture, the aesthetics of the town is representative of an era. And we are moving away from that era as we should. Right?, Because in the world you have trends, and we evolve.

But we cannot . . . in St. George's we want to maintain what our historic site is. But we also want to have a bit of modernisation with it. So, our age is something I think that any administration has to keep into consideration. Those buildings are not young. They supersede almost five and six and seven generations. And so, we—and I say “we” because I am not just saying it for this particular Government, I'm saying for any Government and even previous governments. I think that it's time that St. George's gets the respect that it deserves as the oldest and most historic place in the Island.

So, when I look at the grant for the Corporation of St. George's, I could hope that . . . unfortunately that number did not change. But as we move forward, we do see that number changing. And I do not mean in a negative way, I mean in a positively increasing way. Because we recognise, one, the historical aspect; two, the importance; and three, the fact that these things cost money.

And so, as the Minister . . . and I'm sure he will, because I'll be lending my voice to this every time I can, as he considers the increase to the grant for next year, maybe [he will consider] even a supplemental for this year, so that we can do more. I think, like I said to you, it's the age component that we have to think about. So crumbling, no. We will never let that happen. I think MP Fahy knows that. But we do have age requirements, we have infrastructure that's old, and we would definitely like to see an increase.

So, if I have to formulate that into a question, I would just hope that my question would be that, Minister, maybe at the next time around we could see an increase to that capital grant for the Corporation of St. George's.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, MP Ming.

Is there anyone else who would wish to contribute to the debate?

I see the Honourable Member for constituency 9. MP Vance Campbell, you have the floor.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I just have a couple of questions and a comment, if allowed. For clarification purposes, the Minister mentioned that the Property Operations Department of the Bermuda Housing Corporation is responsible for the maintenance of 710 units, but he also mentioned in several spots of his brief that existing units were under renovation or refurbishment.

I was just wondering, are any of the 710 units offline because they are being refurbished or renovated? The other point for clarification as a question is, the Minister mentioned on a couple of occasions that items or projects were out to tender, and then he gave a cost. Either I misunderstood when he said they were out for tender . . . I just want clarification on that, because if they were out for tender, was that cost that the Minister mentioned the departmental estimate? Because if they were still out for tender, we would not know what those tenders would be. So just clarification was that the estimate, the internal estimate? Departments do that sometimes.

And also, thinking specifically about the Bermuda Housing Trust and methodology, construction methodology, it comes to mind. It's very important when choosing something that is not traditional to the local environment. And I think of the Bermuda Housing Trust. I know one of their properties, the maintenance cost is a burden on the rest of the parks, and it basically drains a significant amount of the revenue derived from those other parks to cover the maintenance costs in that one particular park.

Those are my questions. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Member.

Are there any other Honourable Members who wish to contribute to the debate before we go to the Honourable Minister for a couple of bats back of some questions? I see none.

So, Honourable Minister, the floor is yours.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: About 45 minutes-ish, 50 minutes.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: All right. Let's see what we can do to accommodate colleagues.

As I look through the host of questions, I will start by just saying that the Honourable Member MP Renee Ming, no one will ever say that as long as she was in this House she didn't fight for her constituents or her constituency, because when it comes to St. George's, there's no lack of fight in the Honourable Member Ming when it comes to her constituency and her constituents. So, the things that she said were well noted, and we will certainly have further discussions in the future.

Now, Mr. Chairman, there are a lot of questions. I will do my best to work my way through them.

One of the first questions the Honourable Member Fahy had asked was about the 376 people on the wait-list and he wanted to know what the average waiting time was. I just want to say that the average waiting time is a very challenging question to answer, because you will know, Mr. Chairman, that they have basically three formulas for giving out housing in Bermuda at BHC. And it's a critical list, an urgent list, and just a regular list of folks who might be looking to find a less expensive place to live in. But the critical and urgent list is a moving target. An average stay for those folks is just not something that I think is a statistic that one can keep at their fingertips at any time.

So, I think that whilst I appreciate the question, and I can certainly understand the question, there are some folks who have been living in Bermuda housing facilities for a few decades. But, again, I get the Honourable Member's question in that wanting to know an average stay. There are some folks, as you know, Mr. Chairman, that not everyone's had the affordability of having education—I am going back decades now. A lot of our people had to just do what they could to get by. And so, therefore, you have folks who have been in Bermuda Housing Corporation system for a while.

So, we would like to see that change. I'm sure everyone in this House would like to see that change in the future. And certainly, if all of us had our way in this House, you know, we wouldn't have any of our folks having to live in affordable homes because they just couldn't get by. And making decisions between groceries and electricity bills and medication and things like that, we would like to eradicate forever.

So, that being said, I think the Honourable Member Fahy had asked about the waiting list at BHC and are we communicating with BLMC and the Bermuda Housing Trust. I do not think that they interview individual applicants. But I am sure that if someone is looking for a place and they might be over the age of 65 getting up to 70, I am sure that they will look at every avenue possible, which would include, it might be BHC, it might be BLMC, and also Bermuda Housing Trust. As you know, those are choices that people have, and I am sure that they make them.

Mr. Chairman, one of the things we will do as we move forward with the housing strategy is that we will explore all options for increasing housing stock, which might include some very innovative schemes such as lease-to-own if seen as a viable way forward. You know that years ago we produced the first phase at Harbour View down at BLDC and we had a lottery for homes and we know that those homes sold for around about a couple of hundred thousand and they actually cost, I think at the time, I think it was maybe 75 per cent more to build than what we actually sold them for. But those are the types of things that I can tell you.

The Honourable Member asked if . . . he talked . . . he read the Act and said, you know, I have the power to direct. And I said in this House even last week when we were having some questions over the Ministerial Statement that I made is that . . . and I stated publicly that all the quangos and committees and boards that I've met with so far, they know exactly what my goal is. And my goal is to produce housing for our people . . . and that's affordable housing for our people.

So, they know that my vision and the vision of this Government as laid out in our platform, as laid out in our Throne Speech, is to create affordable housing, which is why the Premier created a Ministry dedicated to housing in the country. So, with that being said, we know what our remit is, we know what our charge is, and we're pressing forward with that.

There was a question with regard to the Private Sector Refurbishment Programme and, What are the fees involved for optional property maintenance? How many houses are in the scheme? And as you might recall, Mr. Chairman, in my brief I did say that we had 13 homeowners with 24 units, and we are working with those two first homeowners now. So, I think that as word gets around with this scheme and people see what we are doing, I think you will get more people interested in participating.

There was also a question about the prices of studio, one-, two-, and three-bedrooms on the website, BHC's website, and there was talk about $3,400 and $900 is not affordable. But you have to remember for our subsidised affordable housing, we have a rental matrix, which has rents from studios at $650 to four bedrooms at $2,500. And as you will know, Mr. Chairman, four-bedroom homes in the country, if you can get one for under $6,000, $7,000, $8,000, you are lucky. So what happens in that regard, is that we subsidise places from studios to four-bedrooms. And those are the price ranges we are at. And of course, they are subsidised.

Now, I have to make it very clear, Bermudiana residents are not subsidised. And there was talk about BBR, as we know, Bermudiana residences up there. And I just want to make it clear that unlike . . . first of all, had we not had the campaign of the great bogeyman, the campaign that these houses are going to fall into the water . . . and you had OBA Members in the newspaper, saying that they're going to fall off a cliff.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: They're not . . . they're not . . . you know, don't buy them.

So, we had a campaign not only with some of the former OBA Members, and maybe some present. But we also had other entities. And the late Stuart Hayward was another one. Seems like he had an article in the paper every week, condemning that project. And we tried our darndest to get those units sold or pre-sold.

I mean, the prime example is Loughlands, right, which is a fantastic, fantastic arrangement for the people in this country. I have had the luxury of canvassing up at Loughlands. And the folks take pride. They seem to respect one another. They respect their surroundings. And it's a fantastic, fantastic site.

Bermudiana could have been just that. But we just had so many objections. So many, it was like, it was like the OBA did not want another successful housing complex in this country after the success at Loughlands.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: You can do a point of order anytime you want.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: You could. You know it.

So, the thing is, it was falling off a cliff when we had it. But when they had the Government in 2017, all of a sudden it was good enough to house America's Cup people.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: But it was okay then.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Aah, the Honourable Member Cannonier says we made lemonade out of lemons. He tried. He was the one to try the hotel up there too. But he didn't see us in the newspaper saying, look, it's not going to work. It's not going to work. Not once. And I'll take a point of order because we encouraged it.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No, I never said that. No, sir. But the fact of the matter is, the fact that—

[Inaudible interjection and laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: The fact of the matter is this, we started a project. And the Honourable Member Fahy said, you know, we have spent a hundred million dollars up there on that site.

Well, you can't point one finger at us because the other three are pointing back at you and your party. Right? We went through consecutive years of challenges on that site. The OBA had five [sic] years. They could not do anything with it. They tried.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Well, four and a half years. I was trying to give you five years, you know.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: You want to cut yourself short, right? But you had four and a half years. So, then we come back in. You have the pandemic that strikes. We were trying to do exactly the same thing. Get the taxpayers' money to work.

So where did we end up and why did we end up where we are? We had the experts in the country. Ernst & Young gave us a report, said this is the route you should take to get the best value for the taxpayers of this country. And that's what we have done.

An Hon. Member: The best value?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: The best value for that property as it is. We could sit down, and we could . . . Look, we could have left it alone, you know. We could have left it alone.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: That's right. But if we didn't have the nefarious threats and the bogeyman thrown at that project, it would have been, could have been a very . . . but we'll get there. We'll be okay. We will get there.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Now, the Honourable Member Fahy also talked about Bishop Spencer, and he wanted to know what I thought about Bishop Spencer. Well, my first thought is they had five years to deal with Bishop Spencer. In fact, the Honourable Minister, the Honourable former Minister even said that, you know, he was talking to his people. I don't know what happened. And the Honourable Member Ben Smith said it's four and a half years. It was probably one of the shortest governments in our history, I do believe. But the fact of the matter is four and a half years is four and a half years. So, you have four and a half years and you did zero with Bishop Spencer. Zero.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Point of order.

The Chairman: What's your point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Hon. Michael Fahy: The Honourable Minister is inadvertently misleading the House.

The Chairman: Proceed.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Whilst it was not eventually a housing project, an exceptional amount of work was done in discussions with both the Salvation Army, with the various ministries, that is documented in many places. We couldn't get it over the line, but to say we did nothing is absolutely false.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Member. Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Well, you know what? I'll give you . . . I'll give you something for that. You probably did do a lot of work. The problem is you didn't produce anything. So, you may have done a lot of work. And we know how it works. We know how it works.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: We know how it works. But the fact of the matter, you didn't produce anything.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: By the way, it doesn't fall under my Ministry, but you asked my opinion.

[Laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: But the fact is, in case Honourable Members didn't realise it, there will be some housing there as well.

An Hon. Member: Dormitories.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: The Honourable Member is saying dormitories like it's a bad word.

The fact of the matter is dormitories in this country have a use too.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: They have a very good use. If we didn't have people . . . if we didn't have investors like the Green's in this country—

The Chairman: Members.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: If we didn't have investors like the Green's in this country that saw an opportunity to produce dormitories for their workers, where would—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Where would they be living?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: So, the fact of the matter is that dormitories have a place in this country.

As Members may know, there are many, many workers in this country where you have five and six and seven and eight people living in two-, three-bedroom houses—foreign workers. So, dormitories have a place.

There was a question about the financials for Bermuda Land Management Company. Members will know that those are tabled in the House and in this next fiscal year, they will be tabled. So, you can look forward to that.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: There was also a question from the Honourable Member Fahy with regard to municipalities. We will get to that. But he did ask, had I given any directions for Bermuda Land Management Company? And I think I answered that by talking about the Harbour View project, which we did the first Phase. And I said it last week in case the Honourable Members forgot. I did ask the folks at Bermuda Housing to dust off the plans for Phases 2 and 3 and let's look at it.

And just to answer the other question about the three-year strategy, which we will develop, because we never know when my number's going to come up. So, we want to get that development strategy in place.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Okay, right. Well, we may go together. We may be playing cricket, you know, but mind you, I am going north. I don't know if you're going north or south.

But the Honourable Member asked about . . . took me right off my thing too.

[Laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I started thinking about who's going to be playing cricket, and where.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No, no, no, no, no, no. Don't try that one. Where was I? Oh, I was talking about Harbour View.

And I've asked my people to dust off Phases 2 and 3 and that's what I meant when I said that, you know, we're not going to wait for strategy, a three-year strategy to be produced. We can chew gum and walk.

So, whilst that's being produced, and while we consult with everybody in the country, and by the way, there will be a working group announced, maybe as early as next week, with a very large cross-section of people in the country that I want to sit down with on a regular basis to discuss Bermuda's plans forward.

So, whilst we are developing this plan, we can do things like . . . and I gave you a host of things that we plan on doing. Sixteen homes will be ready by the end of this year. So, within the next six months, we will have 16 homes added to the stock. Next year, we will have 33 homes added to the stock. Whilst we develop this three-year strategy for the country. We will dust off plans for Harbour View while we're doing that. And wouldn't that be fantastic for the people of this country if we were able to get going with, say, Phase 2 and produce some more homes for our people to own—not just rent, but own. So, all that's coming. Be ready. And all I say is put on your seatbelt.

So, with regard to that . . . so I answered that one about what is the plan with that.

And I think I answered the one you had asked about . . . you had talked about the Act and me having the ability to give direction. I think I answered that one.

The Chairman: Minister, as you're checking your notes, let me just remind the listening audience that this is a three-hour debate on the Ministry of Housing and Municipalities and we have 30 minutes left.

The debate is due to conclude around 8:15 pm.

Minister, you have the floor.

The Chairman: Thank you. Thank you. Gee, that goes by quick because I would . . . I know that MP Cannonier wants to have a little word. I am sure he does.

But I think the other thing I would like to touch on, because it was mentioned by the Honourable Member Fahy, is Cross Island. And he made a comparison to Cross Island and Bermudiana. Let me just be very clear. Bermudiana has everybody's fingerprints on it—OBA and PLP. Cross Island only has one set of fingerprints on it. And that's OBA. The most expensive real estate in the country.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Most expensive real estate in the country.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: And sometimes I wonder about Members in the House when they [say], you know, we should take Cross Island and look at housing on Cross Island.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I just . . . sometimes I have to shake my head.

One thing I wanted to talk about is Alexandra Road, Mary Victoria and Cedar Park is that, for the first time in their history, Mr. Chairman, they actually had a public meeting with Ministers—myself, Minister Lightbourne, Minister Rabain, both of us, and Minister Jache Adams, all four of us. And my PS is here and even he said, Look, you sure you want to do that? I said, absolutely we are going to do it. Right? Because we want to feel the heartbeat and the pulse of our people.

And everyone in this House knows that those three complexes have been riddled with challenges for decades. I lay down the gauntlet, right now, that if God spares life, we are going to fix a lot of those things up at those three complexes. And I've already told the Premier that we may need some extra money to do that. When you have people turning on their taps and water's coming out brown, we need to fix it. We cannot have our people having water come out brown. It's not happening. We are going to fix it.

Now, I will say this.

An Hon. Member: How long?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: How long? Not quick enough. But I'll tell you what, there will be no energy spared getting it done. Well, we're already doing it . . . the Honourable Member Fahy says, how long?

We have had a public meeting, first time in history, with the residents. We have already told them we would like them to form three separate condo associations. We are going to form a mixed association with government officials and the residents. And all that's coming. Might be sooner than you think, Honourable Member.

The other thing we've done is . . . we have already, the water testing is underway. We have had the reservoirs tested already. We have had our samples taken from the homes of the folks that came to the meeting. We recorded their names, we got their numbers, we called them and said, Listen, we want to test your water.

We found, just last week, in some of the work that we have been doing, just imagine a one-foot-wide PVC pipe diameter, one-foot-wide. Imagine that, pulling a root, a [soil packed] root, out of that pipe. In fact, I'll send [this] to some Members so they can see for themselves. But when you have a [soil packed] root that's somehow worked its way and busted into the pipe and is growing, it was unbelievable. It was like pulling a Snickers bar out of the package. That's what it looked like.

But these are the types of things when the Honourable Member says, When? We are doing it. When? We have met with BELCO. We've told BELCO that, look, we want something done with the lights. If it's the infrastructure that needs upgrading so we can get people better lighting, then let's have it.

When? We have got the cameras fixed where the trash bins are, so that we can monitor and see what's going on with the trash. If someone's putting out trash and they shouldn't, or they're putting things in the trash bin that shouldn't be in a trash bin, it should be taken over to Tynes Bay. So, we've actually done quite a lot already. But we're not going to stop. Let me make that very clear.

And I don't mind that people hold me to account. I say these things publicly and they can hold me to account. If we don't get it done, give me the licks that I deserve.

Now with regard to legislation that we're going to look at, I totally agree with the Honourable Member Fahy. We have to be very careful. And we will be. But there are too many people in the country, whether it be tenants and/or landlords that have challenges. So, we are going to look at that.

Now with regard . . . everyone, almost everyone in this house has had a conversation, I'm sure with someone in the last several months about the derelict homes around the country. Right? So, what we have to do is we . . . as Government and even Members oppose . . . I'm sure you share that. You know what? If we do nothing, nothing's going to happen. So, the goal is to try to do something. And Honourable Member Fahy is correct. We have to be very careful. But that's where we put the legal minds to work.

Let them come up with some proposed legislation where folks are . . . you might be three or four or five people in a family, they have one house between them. They can't seem to, you know, work out a deal between them to get . . . and what happens? The place sits there. We have all got relatives and friends that have experienced it. I have. Sometimes it's probate. As Honourable Member Fahy said, sometimes it's in trust.

And when you have trust, you have beneficiaries. And sometimes, you know, it's left to beneficiaries who have an equal say in the matter and cannot come to an agreement. So, you know, the devil's going to be in that detail. And, like I said, the Honourable Member is correct. And we will certainly be doing that. That's one of the things we're not going to race into. We have to be very, very careful. You're talking about people's property. And we just have to find a way in which to try to manoeuvre around it. But we have to do it in a way in which, hopefully, it won't cause too much angst with regard to the owners or beneficiaries that we may be talking to. But there will be wide consultation on that.

The Honourable Member talked about NCL and hoping that all cruise lines pay their fair share. Well, I think my record shows (certainly when I was Tourism Minister) that I did just that. Members might recall, I got a $50 million ferry given to the country by the cruise lines. You might remember the infrastructure tax that I brought to this House, that's given the country millions and millions of dollars over the years and continues to do so.

But like the Honourable Member said, we have to keep their feet to the fire, because unlike our airlines, the cruise lines, they love Bermuda. And they love Bermuda because it's a very lucrative run. And I think we have a good partnership with all the cruise lines. And that will continue.

There was talk about the census from Honourable Members. I think, as Honourable Member Fahy did attend the summit two weeks ago, it was made very clear in the summit, that there's a lack of data on the Island. There's a lack of data. So, the goal is to do this survey, get it done, look at what we have. And we've got some pretty good information already. We have some pretty good information already, which is going to help us going forward.

And again, as we put that together, all the available land that's on the Island, all the derelict homes, all the abandoned homes, we put all these things together, and we will produce a document that everyone in this House will see. And I'm sure [everyone] will be very pleased with what we envision and what we're going to do going forward. And all stakeholders will take part, whether it's the Chamber's Real Estate Division, the Department of Land Valuation, Land Title Registration, BEDC, BHC, BLMD, everyone will play a part in that going forward. And I would think that the working group that we will announce very soon is going to play a very big part in that as well.

Now, Mr. Chairman, one thing I didn't appreciate the Honourable Member saying was that St. George's was crumbling. Now, St. George's may have some issues just like the rest of the country, but I took exception to that.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Well, the Honourable Member said it was crumbling. And I'm sure when they lost the Government in 2017, all of a sudden in the last eight years it didn't just fall apart.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: St. George's has long had challenges, and this Government . . . let's talk about what this Government did between 1998 and 2012 for St. George's. We did a huge amount of work in St. George's.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: You had your turn. You had your turn. But if it's crumbling, what did the former Minister, MP Fahy, do in four and a half years?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: If it was crumbling, if it's crumbling now, it certainly must have been crumbling in 2017.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I know—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I know, which I can tell—

The Chairman: Members.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I can. If you want to call a point of order, I will sit down rather than sit over there and chirp.

The Chairman: Members.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: And interrupt.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: MP.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, thank you.

So, the other thing the Honourable Member said is that with regard to municipalities and Bermuda Land Management Company, I have the power to direct and get things moving quickly.

Well, the Honourable Member hasn't been here that long, but I know that it seems like every time we bring something to this House and want to move quickly, we are accused of ramming it down their throats. So, I'm glad the Honourable Member is going to be on record saying that he wants to see us do things very quickly. I'll make sure I . . . I'll make sure I keep a copy of that Hansard report very much at my fingertips.

Now, there was a question with regard to the HomeStart and the mortgages. And there was a question whether or not there were any defaults. There have been no defaults. As I indicated when the Honourable Member was speaking, they have not been in existence that long, but there certainly haven't been any defaults.

There was also another question about the 710 units, if any units were offline when renovations were . . . and refurbishment had taken place. I did say in my brief, for example down at Gulfstream, what we [were doing] was we were doing six units at a time, refurbishing them. When we finished the refurbishment, six people moved in. And as I said, the goal is to try to get six units done every . . . in a short period, as short a period of time as we can, so that we can keep that moving because the folks are very, very happy that these renovations and refurbishments are taking place.

Now, Mr. Speaker, Honourable Member Fahy touched on Morgan's Point for a second. He said he's seen . . . it seems there was some confusion as to what's going on. And he was hoping that there would be some announcements in the future.

Well, the Honourable Member will be happy to know there will be some announcements in the future. But the Honourable Member says, What's been happening and why haven't there been any announcements? And I am sure you can appreciate, Mr. Chairman, [in] the short period of time I've been there . . . And certainly, you might know from a bit of history, because a lot of that was going on under the OBA and you might not have been privy to it. I can't remember when you were elected, to be honest.

The Chairman: In 2018.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: In 2018, so maybe, maybe—

The Chairman: Babe in arms.

[Laughter]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes. So maybe you weren't. But I was around. And one of the things that I have found is that . . . the Honourable Member says confusion as to what's going on. If he thinks he's confused, you might recall the former Finance Minister for the OBA, Bob Richards, saying that, you know, when he looked under the hood . . . when he looked under the hood . . . well, I could tell you when I looked under the hood for Morgan's Point, I found not only a box of frogs, but—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, it was . . . it was—the Honourable Member Kim Swan.

Now let's not go too far, but let's remember, as I said in my brief, because the Honourable Member Fahy talked about the cost of BBR, but he didn't mention anything about the cost to the taxpayers for Morgan's Point, which at this point in time now is approaching $250 million—$250 million!

And as I've said before in this House, everyone . . . if they want an example of what we got for $250 million, take the map of Bermuda and look at Dockyard. Start at the gate at Dockyard by the old prison, by . . . you can even come up to the current prison and go out to the end.

For an example, for that $160 million (now $250 million) we didn't get all of Bermuda, you know. We got Dockyard.

So, Morgan's Point, we got that. A little piece of that entire property, which is all tied up in knots. And the Honourable Member says that . . . what did he say? Confusion as to what's going on.

We hope to have something for the Honourable Member and Members of this House and members of the country soon. We will have our first board meeting this week. So, information will be forthcoming.

And just talking about Morgan's Point for a moment, I spent three hours up on the site a couple of weeks ago, three hours. Those buildings, R1 to R5, that everyone says, Oh, well, you know, those units are finished. We could rent them. We could do this. We could do that. And the Honourable Member said, Oh, the Premier came in and said, oh, we're going to put those in housing—we are going to do this, do that. Well, when we got up there and we actually lifted up the hood and actually walked through the door, those buildings are almost ready for demolition. They are almost ready for demolition, believe it or not. They are in such bad shape.

They have splashpools on there that had three feet of moss growing out of them. Ceilings falling in. Elevators don't work—they are seized up.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: The Honourable Member, the good doctor, the Honourable Doctor says, who's fault?

What? Are you trying to put Morgan's Point . . . I will take a point of order. Are you trying to put Morgan's Point on the Progressive Labour Party, Honourable Member?

Really?

Who's fault?

Mr. Chairman, $250 million of the taxpayers' money.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Now, wait a minute now.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Now, wait a minute, let's just say this. Remember, that project was in default in January 2017.

An Hon. Member: Default?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: It was in default in January of 2017. We took over in July 2017.

We found . . . wait a minute. They went default in January and never told the country!

An Hon. Member: No?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Never told the country that we were in default. We found out in July 2017 that guess what, $160 million was due and had to be paid. But we never hear too much about that.

But we want to talk about BBR and what that costs the country. Morgan's Point, at least BBR, is now starting to turn over cash that's going to pay the mortgage and it's going to pay the debt. Morgan's Point is still accumulating debt. We're still paying heavily every month for liquidators, for trying to keep what's up there alive in terms of the marina.

Well, I think the people of the country love these answers I'm giving at the moment.

An Hon. Member: Put them in your brief.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Honourable Member says, put them in my brief. I did. I explained in my brief that we were over $200 million heading to $250 million in debt.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Members.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Well, if BBR is $150 million, then Morgan's Point must be hitting $350 million. If you want to . . . if you want to start throwing out numbers, that's —

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Members, come on.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: The Honourable Minister's just sort of putting the pin on the tail of the donkey over there. He's lost. You know, obviously, Morgan's Point has hit a nerve. Morgan's Point has hit a nerve, and it should hit a nerve.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: If I would, if I would—

The Chairman: Members—speak to the Chair.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: If I would have been in the OBA, Mr. Chairman, I'd be afraid to show my face around the country.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Now, Mr. Speaker . . . oh, Mr. Chairman, sorry.

The other thing is, Mr. Chairman, we talked about Dockyard for a moment. The Honourable Member Fahy also talked about the Victualling Yard. And there's a . . . some of the things the Honourable Member said leaves a lot of room for thought. I mean, you wonder where his mind is because he said that when he was in Government they were talking to hoteliers and a few other people about doing things in the Victualling Yard. But he had four and a half years, they did zero.

Well, I know that something is happening up in the Victualling Yard. It's coming very soon. You're probably aware too, Mr. Chairman. And maybe the Honourable Member Fahy is aware of what's coming, but I don't want to let the cat too much out of the bag on that one.

Mr. Chairman, how's time going?

The Chairman: I think you've got about 10 minutes.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Okay. All right. Well, one thing, one thing else I have to touch on is the Honourable Member talked about the charity HOME and the 1,100 homeless people. And he said he—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: He said he hoped that I was going to reach out to them or have meetings and conversations with them.

The Honourable Member will be happy to know I've already met with HOME, with Arthur Wightman and Denise Carey. Yes, Denise Carey. And we've had one . . . we actually have another meeting on . . . today is what, Monday? On Wednesday morning.

So, you can rest assured that we are talking with those folks. I think that the vision that they have is one in which I would look forward to participating in. I've known Arthur Wightman a long time. I just met Denise Carey for the first time, but I know Arthur and I think he's very sincere and a genuine person. And I think he only means well for the country. And I will certainly look forward to our second meeting on Wednesday and look forward to us working together in the future.

And the same goes with the municipalities. Whilst we wait for that, as I said to the Honourable Member opposite just last week, we will wait for the ruling from the Privy Council, and we will then make decisions going forward from there. But no matter what that decision is, the intent is for us to work with the corporations in working our way forward.

The corporations were formed many years ago for different, a lot of different reasons. But I think that people will be, even Members opposite will be pleased with regard to what our plans are going forward. But maybe they won't. But we shall see.

So, let's see if I have anything else. I think I answered the question from Honourable Member Vance Campbell.

He was worrying about the units that were offline because of refurbishment. And I know he had mentioned the cost estimates, but the cost estimates that I gave were actually for refurbishments that we've done or we're about to do and we've received prices for. Anything that we're looking at doing, obviously we're not going to let out what our people have given us in terms of an estimate. We'll wait for those to come in when they're put out to tender. And several have been put out to tender already.

And that's it for me, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Okay, thank you very much.

Does any other Honourable Member wish to contribute to the debate?

I see the Honourable Member, Shadow Minister of Fahy, constituency 20. You have the floor.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you to the Honourable Minister for some interesting lessons that he believes are correct versus some of the reality, as well, in terms of some of the projects that were undertaken by the One Bermuda Alliance and in relation to some of the work that we also tried to do.

The Minister has no doubt in the last . . . since 2017, can accept that some things won't get done immediately that you wish. I accept that. But the Minister is saying he's doing his best to drive things forward. And we will take him at face value. There's no reason to say otherwise.

A couple of questions come from what the Minister had said. The Minister said that they're going to explore a lease-to-own. I'm grateful for that, because I think that's a programme that has been shown to work in other jurisdictions in getting people into non-subsidised housing. The whole point, I think, of housing is to get people moving through the ladders of opportunity in housing. I think that should be further explored.

When the Minister says the Government is going to produce affordable housing, presumably he means affordable to build and affordable to rent, because it has to be both. We could make further jives about Bermudiana, but I'm not going to be further tempted down that road.

In relation to the prices of properties, what percentage is subsidised under the rentals that were being referenced? For studios, it's $800. We've also heard that at Bermudiana, that's not subsidised. Are we saying that the balance is subsidised and is paid for by BHC in terms of a regular BHC's rental versus market value? We say that whole amount is subsidised. Is that how that figure is calculated?

We didn't actually have any discussion this evening (I don't think) about the Landlord and Tenant Act specifically. I'd be curious to know when the legislation may be coming forward, given the Throne Speech promises of Landlord and Tenant Act changes. Because a number of the items that were mentioned in the Throne Speech about housing and about ensuring affordability and some of these other potential legislative pieces that we've talked about, that we've said be careful and the Minister accepts that we're going to have to be very careful. They are all Throne Speech initiatives, so presumably this year or at least until the next Throne Speech. We've got the Landlord and Tenant Act, we've got legislation that's going to be required in respect of taking over derelict properties.

In terms of, again, just confirming that there is someone that reviews the lists of individuals who are registered with different agencies, the Minister has made reference to the fact it's very difficult to talk about time that people are on these lists. I think that's a performance measure, because ultimately, I think the ideal is to have people get the assistance that's required and then move them through the system to make space for others. If we can't build the 2,500 units, that's almost impossible. Maybe it's just a different way of thinking about it, but it should be a measure of how long that waiting list is, how long people are in agency housing, et cetera, et cetera.

In relation to the water problems that we've identified, I mean that has gone on for years and years and years. I'm glad that the Minister has said it's going to be dealt with. We just looked at things, it was mentioned in 2018, it was mentioned in 2015, it was mentioned years before that. So, it's an ongoing issue.

Maybe it's the pipework, I don't know. But the residents there obviously deserve the clean water and clean systems to which they're entitled.

We will gladly hold the Minister's feet to the fire, as he's invited us to do, and wish him the honest luck to get that done as quickly as possible, because the residents of those facilities absolutely need to have proper housing, proper water, proper sewage. People don't deserve to live in an area or a place that isn't safe, isn't clean, isn't the way it should be.

So, the Minister will have our support in making sure that that happens swiftly, and that's where orders can be used, perhaps, if you're going to refer, if the Minister is going to refer to Hansard, it's going to be for issues like that, that we will certainly support—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael Fahy: In an affordable manner. But I'll leave the Minister a few minutes to answer those questions. Thank you.

The Chairman: Minister, there was another Member in the back, but I don't know if he's going to yield.

Okay, Minister, you have the floor.

We have about three or four minutes left.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Okay, thank you, and I'll do my best to accommodate my Learned Honourable Member next door.

Well, thank you. First of all, thank you for the support. I believe you are genuinely sincere when you say that you will be supporting and wish me the best of luck sorting out some of those issues. I certainly felt—almost came to tears at one stage, to be honest, when you're listening to people and how they've been living. And it almost to me is, I almost felt like a certain segment of our community was put in a box and [they] said, Look, we'll just leave them over there. We cannot do that—cannot and will not. And I don't care what it costs. We will have some serious fights inside, but I know I've got support inside, so I think we'll be just fine.

With regard to the subsidised units, all of the units at BHC are subsidised or at a very low market rent except Bermudiana, obviously. So, the Bermudiana, those rates were given to us by EY [Ernst and Young] in their report as to what they thought we could get, and actually they hit the nail on the head. So, the rents that we are collecting are actually right on song with their predictions.

And as I said, you know, we're 35 per cent rented without any advertising. And with any luck we can get them all rented before the end of the year, early part of next year, and that project can start taking care of itself. And then we can have a surplus out of it, of which we can use that money to really assist us with the affordable housing plan that we are developing.

The Chairman: You have time for one more answer.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Okay, thank you. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

That was it. The only other thing that I had was from Mr. Campbell when he talked about Dr. Cann's [Park]. I don't know if he mentioned it, but Dr. Cann's unit on the Bermuda Housing Trust. That is a maintenance issue, as you know, as a former . . . I think you were chair of Bermuda Housing Trust or certainly on the board at one stage. And I think lessons were learned there and they certainly won't be repeated in the future.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

[No audio]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, Mr. Chairman, I move that Heads 90 and 53 be approved as printed.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. It has been moved that Heads 90 and 53 be approved as printed.

Is there any objection to that motion?

There being none, Heads 90 and 53 are approved.

[Motion carried: The Ministry of Housing and Municipalities Heads 53 and 90 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.]

The Chairman: Minister, would you now move that the Committee rise, report progress, and ask for leave to sit again?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee rise, report progress, and ask for leave to sit again.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the Committee rise, report progress, and ask for leave to sit again.

Is there any objection to that motion?

There being none, the Committee shall rise, report progress, and ask for leave to sit again.

[Gavel]

[Motion carried: The Committee of Supply agreed to rise and report progress and sought leave to sit again.]

House resumed at 8:17 pm

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Deputy Speaker, in the Chair]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2024/25

The Deputy Speaker: Good evening, Members. I understand that the Committee requested approval to rise and report progress, [and sought leave to sit] again. And that indeed met with no objections.

So that brings us to the next Order of the Day and I understand that . . . I recognise the Premier. Premier?

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Madam Deputy Speaker.

Madam Deputy Speaker, I do believe that that motion will have to be carried over as the Member responsible is not in the House.

The Deputy Speaker: Okay. Thank you, Premier, for that notification.

The Member who was going to carry the motion this evening is unfortunately absent. And so, there being no other Orders . . . Mr. Premier.

ADJOURNMENT

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Madam Chair . . . I'm sorry, Madam Deputy Speaker.

[Laughter]

Hon. E. David Burt: I move that this Honourable House do now adjourn until Wednesday, the 28th of May.

The Deputy Speaker: It has been moved that we adjourn until Wednesday, the 28th.

Are there any Members who wish to speak to that motion?

I recognise the Member from constituency 2. Member, you have the floor.

SPIRIT OF VOLUNTEERISM

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Yes, thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

I'm very moved to speak today on the motion to adjourn about the spirit of volunteerism which was sort of alluded to today on more than one occasion, but I have mentioned this on my radio programme, "Tourism in Focus," on more than one occasion. The example that's been set, shown by the St. George's Foundation, friends definitely of St. George's, and the restoration of the fortresses there—Fort Albert, Martello Tower, and others.

If anybody had ever seen those after Club Med left, those casuarina trees take hold of areas ever so quickly. They regenerate themselves to prolific speed and it has taken a love of Bermuda and a love of our history that has been demonstrated by those persons, with the support of donors in the corporate space and workers from different organisations. I do believe that Deloitte may have made a contribution at some times. I do believe a group of Sri Lankan workers in Bermuda had made a contribution to help achieve that at one time.

I am thrilled—and in a space and a time when we hear a lot of complaints about this, that, and the other, you hear persons complaining about the roads and they complain about this, that, and the other, it's gratifying, and I think it's important to recognise persons who take ownership.

Charitable work in Bermuda has been a very prevalent thing for centuries now. Everyone knows the work of the LCCA, Lady Cubitt Compassionate [Association]. Just this past Bermuda Day, in celebration of 25 years of Project Action, I declare an interest. The charity my wife and the late Judith Stewart started in 1998 to buy a bus for the St. George's Parish Home. Because they used to go there and read and felt that persons should get out and see more, as the vision of the late Sir John Plowman told me to get those ladies up to talk to him over a cup of tea. And lo and behold the generosity of Mr. David Barber and his friendship with the late Sir John Plowman produced a six-figure check to buy one bus and then another one to buy a second bus—one painted blue and blue and one painted red and blue.

I believe the red and blue bus came first, and we couldn't have that, so the blue bus came shortly thereafter.

In the case of that charity, the majority, well over 90 per cent of all that has been raised over the years [was] through charitable tea parties and different events that have been held in celebration of royal events. Where honouring past first ladies like the late Mrs. Olga Scott and Lady Lully Gibbons and Mrs. Florenz Maxwell and Dame Jennifer Smith and the like. This has caused many Bermudians from a wide spectrum to come out and celebrate their beautiful dress, their lovely hats and help raise money for a charity that continues to go on.

But it's the spirit of volunteerism that doesn't stop there that's across this Island that we need to find ways to invest in. And I use that to springboard to . . . you know, even with housing. I've said here more recently that I am looking to see more . . . I'm looking to see more private persons get involved in building housing.

We need a lot of housing. Where are the modern-day John W. Swan Limited's? Where are the modern-day Benny Rego's? Where are the modern-day Dorchester Realty's that built houses and the like? And what it might take is for us to incentivise. We have a Hotel Investment Order that's in the House. We need a Housing Investment Order that incentivises, makes it attractive for private individuals to invest. Make it so that the cost of the build . . . we all know that building costs in Bermuda are well over . . . you know well over five, probably closer to $500-plus a square foot. Find ways to make it possible for them to get all those materials in so that we can build . . . so that they can invest their money in these houses that are needed.

And look at ways to incentivise them and to incentivise landowners and homeowners, maybe even some seniors who are land rich and cash poor to be able to realise a way in which they can afford Bermuda. Because we know so many of them are living hand-to-mouth. They might have an asset but it's expensive to just be able to eat and feed themselves. So, they're making choices between a meal and medicine. And so, in that space . . . you know, and as I talk about that it just reminds me of talking about the volunteerism and how it's been manifesting itself in St. George's and in the forts.

Let me just share what I've said more than once and I'll keep saying it again. There is a space in this country to bring greater numbers of people in Bermuda. It's called educational tourism. And you know where it exists in this country? Right there in my constituency, BIOS. One of the largest employers in St. George's is now associated with Arizona State University. And you know what they did? They built housing. A lot of people driving along Ferry Road will never know that there is a 21-apartment building, three stories, tucked in the woodlands in there that houses . . . it's a composite of seven two-bedrooms, ten one-bedrooms and four studios.

Now I'm told that there are some drawbacks when you have an expectancy, maybe a 20-year expectancy. But for those people in need today you know that 20-year expectancy when you build those types of units that they built are our lifeline and that's what we need to do. We need to maybe even partner with other businesses and other organisations that have property that it wouldn't be cost prohibitive. And companies like that have US connections, international connections.

It could very well be that that money could very well come from other sources outside of Bermuda. We're always in need of getting foreign currency. But let's not underscore the fact that the opportunity that's being demonstrated to us in constituency 2 at the BIOS station with educational tourism could very well exist at the Bermuda College that has a physical plan and has space that could maybe even house . . . could even have some of those type of units built there, that will help solve the housing need and help create more younger people coming in this Island. To do what? To study what? Reinsurance, in fact.

We're a reinsurance capital. We don't have to let universities like Troy (my alma mater) send their students in reinsurance to Lloyd's of London. They can come to Bermuda.

We write all the policies to cover all . . . when the hurricanes come through those areas there. We need to partner up with those particular entities. And they can come also . . . to do what? Study hospitality. And work where? Those young people were . . . if we're going to be having a Fairmont Southampton and we know we're going to need some folks to come from overseas, they're going to need somewhere to stay.

And so, when we incentivise private entrepreneurs and investors, we can get their attention.

The Government cannot and should not be doing it all. It didn't do it all and it doesn't need to, but we need to find a way to excite that private money. And so, in that space, springboard and offer that spirit of volunteerism which is something I would like to applaud today and reiterate how significant it is and encourage others to follow that example. And encourage us to look as much as we can to the opportunities of educational tourism.

No need to reinvent the wheel. We have a lot to offer the world. And we can cause the world to come here and learn from us and solve some of our problems at the same time. And that's my contribution.

Thank you, Madam Deputy Speaker.

The Deputy Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the motion? No other Members?

Well, Members, we stand adjourned until May 28.

[Gavel]

[At 8:30 pm, the House stood adjourned until 10:00 am, Wednesday, 28 May 2025.]

BERMUDA HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY
OFFICIAL HANSARD REPORT
28 MAY 2025
10:01 AM

Sitting Number 12 of the 2025/2026 Session

[Hon. Dennis P. Lister, Jr., Speaker, in the Chair]

The Speaker: Good morning, Members.
How is everyone this morning?
Ms. Beale is going to lead us in prayer this morning.

PRAYERS

[Prayers read by Ms. Beale, Deputy Clerk]

The Speaker: Thank you, Ms. Beale.

[Gavel]

The Speaker: Members, the House is now in session.

CONFIRMATION OF MINUTES

[Minutes of 26 May 2025]

The Speaker: Members, the Minutes of the sitting of 26 May 2025 have been circulated.
Are there any amendments required?
There are none. The Minutes will be printed as confirmed.

[Minutes of 26 May 2025 confirmed]

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Speaker: There are none.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SPEAKER OR MEMBER PRESIDING

APOLOGIES

The Speaker: We have received notice from Minister Adams that he will be absent today.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The Speaker: There are none.

PAPERS AND OTHER
COMMUNICATIONS TO THE HOUSE

The Speaker: There are none.

PETITIONS

The Speaker: There are none.

STATEMENTS BY MINISTERS AND JUNIOR MINISTERS

The Speaker: There are none.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

The Speaker: There are none.

QUESTION PERIOD

The Speaker: There are no questions this morning.

CONGRATULATORY AND/OR OBITUARY
SPEECHES

The Speaker: Would any Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

MP King, you have your three minutes.

Mr. Robert King: Yes, good morning, Mr. Speaker and Members of this Honourable House and the listening public.

I just want to extend congratulations to Ralph Scott, the young man who's attending a prestigious university where he's a basketball star. He potentially has a career in . . . thank you, the whole House will be associated with it. At a Seniors Tea I held yesterday, I actually had the pleasure of meeting the young man, extremely respectful and focused on doing his best for Bermuda and being a mentor as well. So, congratulations goes out to the family. Thank you.

Oh, I also have condolences to the Darrell family of Bridle Hill and the passing of Mr. Clyde Darrell. Thank you.

The Speaker: Any other Member?

Mr. Whip, you have your three minutes.

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: Good morning, Mr. Speaker, and welcome back.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: Mr. Speaker, it's with some sadness that I ask for condolences to be sent to the family of Ms. Una Simmons of Spice Hill, Warwick. Ms. Simmons had been sick previously. She's in her 96th year and lived a very good life. And I would like condolences to be sent to her husband, Llewellyn Simmons, who is one of my best mentors in constituency 26, always has an interest in things that I do. So, I ask condolences to be sent to him and the family. Thank you very much.

The Speaker: Thank you. Any other Member?
MP Ming.

Mrs. Renee Ming: Good morning, Mr. Speaker. Welcome back as well.

The Speaker: Good morning.

Mrs. Renee Ming: Mr. Speaker, this morning I rise on my feet to just congratulate the 28 students from the Bermuda College that have been accepted to do an overseas Work, Study + Live [Abroad] programme. It's the first time that it's being offered outside of the UK, so it's been in collaboration with the United Kingdom and Bermuda College. And 28 students from the Bermuda College will go and reside, I believe it's for six weeks, in Belgium, Italy, and Cyprus. And it's an awesome opportunity, and they're extremely excited about being able to do so.

The Speaker: Very good.

Mrs. Renee Ming: So, we wish them all the best. I hope that they take every opportunity available to them and they get much from it. I'd like to associate MP Foggo with these comments as well.

The Speaker: Do the whole House on that one.

Mrs. Renee Ming: We'll do the whole House.

The Speaker: There you go.

Mrs. Renee Ming: Yes. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Does any other Member wish to make a contribution?

There are no other Members? Thank you.

MATTERS OF PRIVILEGE

The Speaker: There are none.

PERSONAL EXPLANATIONS

The Speaker: There are none.

NOTICE OF MOTIONS FOR THE ADJOURNMENT OF THE HOUSE ON MATTERS OF URGENT PUBLIC IMPORTANCE

The Speaker: There are none.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

The Speaker: There's one Bill to be introduced this morning by the Minister of Finance.
Mr. Premier.

PAYROLL TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. E. David Burt: Good morning, Mr. Speaker, and welcome back.

Mr. Speaker, I am introducing the following Bill which according to section 36(3) of the Bermuda Constitution requires the Governor's recommendation so that may be placed in the Order Paper for the next day meeting, and that is the Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025.

The Speaker: Thank you.

There are no other Bills to be introduced this morning.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Speaker: Mr. Premier, would you like to introduce, and for the listening audience today, the first matter offers the Cabinet Office to be debated this morning, and the Premier and Minister of Finance will lead that. Would you like to take us into Committee now?

Hon. E. David Burt: Sure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now resume in Committee of Supply to consider the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for fiscal year 2025/26.

The Speaker: Are there any objections? There are none.

I will call on [MP] Scott Pearman to Chair the Committee.

MP Pearman—you are the Chair for the rest of . . . for the start of this session.

Thank you, Members.

House in Committee at 10:07 am

[Mr. Scott Pearman, Chairman]

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2025/26

The Chairman: Good morning Honourable Members and members of the listening public.

We are in the Committee of Supply for [further consideration of the] Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the budget year 2025/26. And the first debate that we have up this morning is in relation to the budget for the Ministry of the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation.

We will be in a four-hour debate, listening to Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43, and 80. And this morning, presenting the debate initially will be the Honourable Premier and Minister of Finance, I believe. Yes?

Honourable Minister, you have the floor.

CABINET OFFICE AND DIGITAL INNOVATION

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, and good morning to you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I move that the following heads be taken under consideration: Head 9, the Cabinet Office; Head 13, the Post Office; Head 18, Libraries and Archives; Head 32, Department of Planning; Head 43, Department of Information and Digital Technologies; and Head 80, Project Management and Procurement.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Premier and Minister of Finance.

It has been moved that Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43, and 80 be taken under consideration.

Is there any objection?

There's no objection. Please proceed when you're ready.

Hon. E. David Burt: Of course, thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, with your leave, of course, I will do Head 9, and the Minister for the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation will do the remaining heads.

The Chairman: Thank you, noted.

HEAD 9—CABINET OFFICE

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much.

Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to present the budget for Head 9, the Cabinet Office, found on pages B-38 through B-44, and C-4, C-9, and C-17 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for fiscal year 2025/26.

Mr. Chairman, the Ministry of the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation operates at the centre of the public service, providing leadership and advice and guidance to ensure delivery of the Government's policies and Government services. This direction is supported by the budget tabled in this Honourable House and certainly under discussion today.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. E. David Burt: I will move on to an expenditure overview and dealing specifically with Head 9 rather than the entire Ministry itself.

With regard to Head 9, a total of $13,834,000 for fiscal year 2025/26 has been allocated for Head 9 and constitutes approximately 26 per cent of the budget allocated for the Ministry as a whole. This figure represents an increase of $1,663,000, or approximately 14 per cent over the previous fiscal year's figure due primarily to salary uplifts as negotiated with union partners and additional spending under the heading of, or the business unit, digital transformation.

Revenue

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving to revenue. Mr. Chairman, the revenue estimate for this objective analysis of current account estimates for Head 9 is found on page B-41.

The material differences accounted for in the reduction of the estimated fees will be collected from PATI fees, anticipating that most requests will fall outside the requirement to charge any fees at all.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. E. David Burt: The subjective analysis of current account estimates for the Cabinet Office may be found on page B-41. The main material difference in this year's budget is due to salaries, professional services and other expenses.

Salaries for this head have increased due to the salary uplift noted earlier, and the addition of funding for an overall three new posts in the Cabinet Office, which can be seen on page B-41. The total increase in salaries is $629,000, which is a 9 per cent increase over the previous fiscal year.

Mr. Chairman, other notable differences is the increase in professional services, which reflects the investment required to advance the Digital Transformation Teams initiative, which accounts for the increase of $1,064,000, and represents a 39 per cent increase over the previous year. For the sake of clarity, professional services within this cost centre also fund essential roles and partnerships that bolster Bermuda's global presence and domestic operations.

These include the consultants that are staffing the Brussels and Washington Offices, special advisor for Middle Eastern Affairs in Africa, additionally support services for the overseas office are covered, along with lobbyists in Washington, DC, and the Global Health Platform Partner for the Wellness Initiative (that is part of the Cabinet Office's Wellness Initiative for public officers as a whole), chairpersons for unit negotiations with the Public Service Negotiating Team (PSNT), and special contractors for the PATI/PIPA unit, and also international media engagement partners who work with the Government on overseas public relations—specifically in the European Union and the United Kingdom.

Mr. Chairman, there is one notable material increase from the previous year's figures of $50,000 due to the funding allocated in 2024/25 for the foreign office anniversary celebration of five years not required for this year's activities, which is noted on page B-40 in the line item of the Brussels Office.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. E. David Burt: Capital expenditure for this head can be found on page C-4 of the Budget Book. For capital development, it details $1 million, which is allocated for community clubs and community investments.

Mr. Chairman, this programme is the renewal of a highly successful programme which was commenced in 2019 to award grant funding to community clubs for capital development. It's important that Honourable Members are aware that this is separate and apart from the operational grants that may be awarded to clubs via the confiscated asset fund.

These grants support facility upgrades and infrastructure improvements to our local community and sporting clubs. And just by way of information, the last time that this was done, over . . . in excess of $1 million was given to a number of various community clubs around the Island, which enabled a number of those which had not actually been able to open to reopen their particular facilities. And if Honourable Members have questions, I'm happy to answer those questions when they come.

It is important to note that all of these capital development grants are allocated based on submitted applications to ensure transparency and equitable distribution. The reintroduction of this programme underscores this Government's commitment to empowering community and our community clubs, making them more financially sustainable and necessary to assist on providing alternatives to antisocial behaviour in our community.

Capital Acquisitions

Hon. E. David Burt: Capital acquisitions can be found on page C-9 of the Budget Book.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: And total $520,000, with $20,000 allocated for office furniture and equipment within the Cabinet Office and $500,000 allocated for the Cooperative Food Supply Initiative.

Mr. Chairman, as part of our ongoing work to reduce the cost of living for Bermuda families, the Government is advancing the Cooperative Food Initiative, an important step to introduce greater fairness and competition in the food supply sector for essential goods, specifically. This year, the Government has committed $500,000 in capital funding for the purchase of equipment and outfitting of the Cooperative Food Store to be located at the former Heron Bay Primary School site.

This location is identified as the best site, readily convertible from the Government assets to serve the community and planning is already well advanced. To ensure this initiative is viable and sustainable, the Government engaged a Big Four accounting firm whose independent assessment has confirmed the commercial soundness of this model. This budget allocation demonstrates more than just intent, Mr. Chairman. It is a tangible investment in initiative that can provide real relief to working families for the cost of essential items. By supporting this direct supply food model, we can empower residents by introducing an alternative that prioritises affordability and community benefits over profits. The Government remains committed to doing all it can to ease the financial pressure on Bermudians, and this project represents an innovative approach to tackling one of the most persistent challenges facing Bermudians, high food prices.

Lastly, Mr. Chairman, I note that Grants and Contributions as found on page C-17 shows an overall allocation of $78,000, which is the same as the previous year's fiscal allocation, with $50,000 for Future Leaders, which includes $25,000 for scholarships. Also captured in this category is a projected $25,000 for regional hurricane efforts.

The Cabinet Office is a key partner and supporter of the Future Leaders Programme, a youth-centric initiative, intensive three-week summer programme dedicated to empowering bright and passionate young Bermudians. It provides a unique blend of academic study, hands-on community engagement, and invaluable mentorship, fostering a deep understanding of critical social issues from inequality to leadership. The programme's core aim is to equip these future leaders with the skills, knowledge, and confidence to drive positive change and contribute meaningfully to Bermuda's ongoing development.

Continuing Bermuda's commitment to Regional Hurricane Relief Fund is a tangible demonstration of regional solidarity and strengthens Bermuda's ties with the wider Caribbean.

Manpower

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Chairman, employee numbers can be found on page B-42 of the Budget Book, and overall, there is a net increase of three employees more than the previous fiscal year, or a 6 per cent increase in overall staffing. The overall staffing change results of decreases and increases across various business units.

Business unit 19000, General Administration, saw a reduction of two posts. A Senior Finance Officer moved to business unit 19040, and a Social Media Communications Officer. Conversely, additions included one Protocol Officer in business unit 19010, Protocol and Hospitality; one Administrative Officer in business unit 19015, Policy and Strategy; two employees in the London Office, business unit 19035; and one Senior Finance Officer in business unit 19040, which was moved from unit 19000, as I just mentioned.

Mr. Chairman, I will now share more details of the business units with the estimates that can be found overall on page B-40. And I will not take them in the order that they are seen on the page, but I will take them in the order of the business units themselves. So, as you will see, I will bounce around a little bit, but there is a method to the order.

Business Unit 19000, Administration

Hon. E. David Burt: Business unit 19000, Administration, $7.07 million, an increase of $25,000.

Mr. Chairman, business unit 19000, Administration, serves the central pillar for the strategic leadership and operational oversight of Bermuda's public service. This critical unit funds the public service executive—as a note, all public service posts are actually funded under the Cabinet Office and are not funded in individual ministries. [This critical unit] funds the public service executive, encompassing key leadership roles, such the head of public service, deputy head of public service, and all permanent secretaries who are instrumental in driving ministerial objectives. Additionally, it supports the Cabinet secretary who serves the Government's principal advisor on policy and provides essential strategic support to the Cabinet.

The unit also covers the necessary administrative support staff, ensuring the proper functioning of the Government's highest level and the effective delivery of public services.

Business Unit 19010, Protocol and Official Hospitality

Hon. E. David Burt: Business unit 19010, Protocol and Official Hospitality: $785,000, an increase of $110,000.

Mr. Chairman, the Protocol and Official Hospitality function is essential for upholding the Government's international reputation and ensuring the execution of official engagements. This unit acts as a facilitator of diplomatic protocol and official etiquette. The core responsibilities of this unit include advising Government officials from the Premier to the Governor's Office on all matters of diplomatic conduct, such as precedence, forms of address, flag etiquette, and ceremonial gift exchanges, ensuring that Bermuda adheres to international standards.

The unit manages the logistics and ceremonial aspects of official visits by foreign dignitaries, coordinating everything from the arrival and departure, their official meetings, accommodations, and cultural engagements. Additionally, Mr. Chairman, the unit is crucial for the organisation of ceremonial events. This unit serves as a vital liaison with foreign missions, facilitating the accreditation of diplomatic representatives in Bermuda and fostering ongoing relationships. Finally, the unit coordinates official welcomes for returning sports teams and other representatives.

Mr. Chairman, the unit's activities of the past fiscal year encompass significant events, such as the arrival and swearing into the new Governor, the precise coordination of two Throne Speeches in combination with the Legislature, and the annual Cup Match reception. On the international front, the unit assisted with the hosting of the Public Administration and Constitutional Affairs Committee, which was a select committee of the UK House of Commons who visited Bermuda last year. And as you will note, Mr. Chairman, for the information of the Shadow Minister, I am covering the business units, but also in the covering of the business units, I will also cover some of the performance metrics, which can also be found on two subsequent pages inside of the Budget Book.

Business Unit 19015, Policy and Strategy

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving to business unit 19015, Policy and Strategy, which is a $907,000 budget, an increase of $241,000.

Mr. Chairman, the Policy and Strategy Unit (PSU) is central to delivering better policy-making across Government. The PSU enhances the policy-making capability of senior officers by providing training, including those in the Executive Leadership Programme. This support focusses on crafting and implementing public policy, and includes workshops on advancing Cabinet memoranda, emphasising inter-ministry coordination for a more joined-up and effective government. The unit also offers strategic and technical guidance to the Cabinet Office, supporting the Public Service Executive in proper record-keeping and tracking progress on public administrative policy initiatives.

A key function of the PSU is serving as the information officer for the Cabinet Office, and this entails managing the strict legal obligations under the Public Access to Information Act 2010, which requires the processing and responding to PATI requests within specific time frames, and annual reporting on the requests received.

Last year, the PSU achieved significant milestones, as can be found in the Budget Book, and the performance measures, of course, on pages B-43 and B-44.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: They played a central role in developing and implementing the Public Service Strategic Plan 2024-27, comprehensive blueprint for modernised public service with a focus on digital transformation and enhanced customer service, and I have spoken on that particular statement initiative in the House. Furthermore, the PSU was at the forefront of the policy development in crucial areas, such as the artificial intelligence policy, ensuring its ethical and responsible use within Government operations.

Specific achievements from the past year include the ensuring of the recording of the Public Service Executive meetings, successfully delivering training initiatives on Cabinet memoranda, drafting and public policy development, providing comprehensive project support, including research and project management and report submission for the Ministers and Members of the Legislature Salary Review, which was done last year, recording and tracking of Throne Speech and platform commitments, and also offering project support to the Ministry of Economy and Labour for the ongoing implementation items for the Economic Recovery Plan, which, of course, is now the Economic Development Strategy.

These highlights underscore the unit's contribution to Bermuda's progress, and in the upcoming fiscal year, the Policy and Strategy Unit will continue to provide similar support for various government-wide initiatives reinforcing strategic planning and execution across the public service.

Business Unit 19020, Safety and Health

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to business unit 19020, Safety and Health, $135,000, an increase of $2,000.

Mr. Chairman, the Safety and Health business unit within the Ministry of the Cabinet Office plays a critical role in safeguarding the well-being of all public officers and ensuring the operational safety of government facilities. Its core functions develop, implement, and monitor comprehensive occupational safety and health policies and programmes across the entire public service.

This unit provides value by creating a safer working environment, which in turn reduces workplace incidents, minimises associated costs, such as lost time and medical expenses, and enhances the overall productivity and morale within government departments. Between April and August 2024, comprehensive safety and health audits were conducted across numerous government facilities, including Lyceum Pre-school, Westgate, the Farm Facility, Warrick Clinic, Dellwood Middle School, the co-ed facility, and several government administration buildings. These efforts extended to site reviews at correctional facilities and suspected sites impacted by mould, done in close coordination with the Environmental Health, with follow-up reports detailing corrective action plans.

In respect to safety policies and programmes, the Government's new drug and alcohol policy was finalised, with procedures drafted and thoroughly reviewed in collaboration with the Department of Employee and Organisational Development, the Government Laboratory, the Department for National Drug Control, and the Bermuda Industrial Union. The initial phase of implementing this policy, including policy-specific Q&A sessions and integration with HR systems and training, roll-out planning by DEOD is now underway.

Regular monthly safety communications were also sent to health and safety communities across Government departments. Furthermore, Mr. Chairman—sorry, Mr. Chairman. Let me move on.

Mr. Chairman, the Occupational Safety and Health Officer also reviewed contractor safety practices and risk protocols during live electrical works, ensuring adherence to the highest standards. These efforts directly contributed to an increase in compliance and training with the Occupational Safety and Health Officer training delivered to multiple departments covering topics such as introduction to occupational safety and health, workplace acts and investigations, and health and safety committee duties. Guidance materials and safety orientation slides were also prepared for onboarding, and targeted support was provided to departments seeking assistance with health and safety engagements and compliance.

Looking ahead to fiscal year 2025/26, the Government plans to execute a comprehensive government-wide workplace safety audit across all ministries, excluding the uniformed services and judiciary. Additionally, a centralised risk registry will be developed to track performance and regulatory compliance and expand the training curriculum to include crucial topics such as chemical safety and hazard communications, workplace violence and harassment prevention, and fire safety and emergency evacuation.

Mr. Chairman, another aim for the upcoming year is to launch an internal health and safety hub, which will feature a digital incident reporting platform to streamline safety alerts and corrective actions, and re-launch of the ministry-level health and safety committees with refreshed teams, terms of reference, and accountability frameworks, a further testament to this Government's commitment to a safe and healthy public service.

Business Unit 19035, London Office

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to business unit 19035—

The Chairman: London Office.

Hon. E. David Burt: Which is the London Office, a budget of $1.456 million, an increase of $221,000.

Mr. Chairman, the London Office continues to drive forward Bermuda's relationship with the United Kingdom through the highest-level dialogue with the UK Government, and by continued engagements with departments of His Majesty's Government across Whitehall.

The office works in cohesion with governments of the Overseas Territories on shared policy areas and engaging collectively with both Houses of the UK Parliament; the United Kingdom Diplomatic Corps such as embassies and high commissions; the United Kingdom Overseas Territories Association; the Commonwealth Secretariat; along with all UK-based Commonwealth associations; the general UK public, including the private sector, UK-based civil societies and those who have a general or vested interest in Bermuda (such as the Bermuda Society); and importantly, Bermudians living in the United Kingdom, including our students.

Mr. Chairman, the London Office continues to provide the necessary immediate assistance and guidance throughout its consular function to Bermudians living and studying in the United Kingdom, throughout Europe, and on occasion, Bermudians in other parts of the world. The budget contains a new position for the London Office of Deputy UK representative to facilitate delivering investment opportunities by working with the relevant UK government departments and other key stakeholders in the United Kingdom as part of the Government's economic diplomacy objectives.

This new position will also allow a greater focus for the increased amount of complexity of consular cases. And just by way of example, this is going to be a reassignment, but the intention, of course, is to make this post permanent. And what is important to note, Mr. Chairman, is that, of course, the UK can be very focused on titles, and having a Consular Officer is different than having a Deputy Director. And so this is viewed as a reassignment, an upgrade to the post, but which will be able to help in advanced matters and to assist the excellent director, Ms. Kimberley Durant, who's been in the office for a long time, to take some of the weight off of her shoulders and to make sure that the office has better recognition when dealing with not just the top of the office, but other levels of the office. The London Office will continue to offer placement opportunities for internships, as well as summer students, through partnership with the Department of Workforce Development, and that would be the additional post, additional creation of another interim post to support the work inside of the London Office.

Business Unit 19040, Ministry Administration

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to business unit 19040, which is Ministry Administration, $385,000, an increase of $118,000.

Mr. Chairman, business unit 19040, designated Ministry Administration, serves the central operational hub for the Ministry of the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation. Its core responsibilities include directly supporting the Minister of the Cabinet Office in digital innovation and coordinating all departments and units under the Ministry's purview. The key departments and functioning fall within a strategic and operational oversight. Of course, all the ministries, sorry, departments, under the Minister for the Cabinet Office—which is post office, libraries and archives, planning, information digital technologies, employee and organisation development, and project management and procurement. As a note, communications falls under the Office of the Premier.

Business Unit 19045, Washington DC Office

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving to business unit 19045, Washington DC Office, $462,000, no change from the previous year.

Mr. Chairman, the Washington DC Office is mandated to cultivate essential relationships with both business and Government stakeholders, championing Bermuda's financial services sector in the United States and engaging in constructive dialogue with US Government representatives to safeguard the Island's economic interests.

For fiscal year 2024/25, the DC Office successfully met all of its key objectives and those included engaging with vital contacts to inform US officials of Bermuda's pivotal role as an international financial services centre. The office also executed associated business development functions and provided guidance on navigating shifts within the United States Administration while monitoring emerging US policies impacting Bermuda, including those related to taxation, digital assets, financial services, and of course, trade.

Furthermore, it advised and managed on direct engagements by the Premier and Ministers with their DC contacts while also identifying opportunities to promote Bermuda's environmental initiatives. As a direct result of these efforts, the office was able to strengthen bipartisan relationships with US lawmakers to safeguard Bermuda's interests and also to maintain Bermuda's visibility inside of Washington, DC. The office successfully facilitated high-level engagements for myself and other Ministers to Washington, DC and to Wyoming, coordinating meetings with members of Congress, federal agencies, and also business leaders. It also actively promoted Bermuda's financial services, digital asset insurance, and reinsurance sectors with targeted efforts to attract family offices and individuals of high net worth.

Additionally, the office highlighted Bermuda as a premier destination for tourism and business through dedicated industry engagement and participating in US conferences to showcase Bermuda's regulatory leadership and innovation-friendly digital asset framework. Lastly, the office effectively advocated against US measures that could disrupt the Island's shipping and trade flows while advertised with the shipping fee proposal, which was put forward by the US trade representatives.

During the term, the office partially met some of its key performance measures, demonstrating considerable progress regarding the objective of engaging with US organisations in the digital asset and FinTech industries and to host at least one conference in Bermuda. The office held discussions with several digital asset conference organisers and assisted partners in facilitating the [Bermuda] Digital Finance Forum, which was held earlier this month.

Concerning the goal of securing three business leads regarding and meaningful engagement and progressing of domiciling companies in Bermuda, the office successfully drew the interest of four companies to begin the necessary actions to explore domiciling Bermuda. Finally, for creating and maintaining an up-to-date database of Bermuda College students residing in the United States, the office, in conjunction with the relevant ministries, developed the framework for Bermuda College database with implementation sought for the upcoming fiscal term.

Looking ahead to the 2025/26 fiscal year, the DC Office's planned objectives are concentrated in three key areas: US political and government engagement, business development, and the image and actions of the DC Office.

Specific performance measures set out in 2025/26 include engaging with US organisers in the digital asset and FinTech industry or in family offices that result in having at least one conference or event host in Bermuda. They also aim to secure three business leads resulting in meaningful engagements or progressing in domiciling companies in Bermuda.

And finally, the office intends to finalise and implement and maintain an up-to-date database of Bermuda College students residing in the United States.

Business Unit 19075, Brussels Office

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to business unit 19075, Brussels Office, $343,000, a decrease of $50,000.

Mr. Chairman, the mandate of the Brussels Office continues to be the maintenance of relationships with key stakeholders and decision-makers in Brussels while establishing and maintaining connections. The objectives of the Brussels Office for fiscal term 2024/25 remain as

- maintaining close dialogue with the European Commission; Council and the European Parliament and other EU institutions;
- facilitating access of the Premier and other Ministers to key persons and holding the government's presence in Europe; and
- working in cohesion with the Ministry of Finance and the Bermuda Monetary Authority support engagement with European Union institutions that are critical and important to maintaining Bermuda's position as a well-regarded international financial services centre.

And as I noted earlier in the brief, that decrease of $50,000 is related to the funding that was placed in the budget last year for the fifth year anniversary of the Brussels Office, which is not in the budget for this year as we are not having a sixth year anniversary celebration.

Business Unit 19080, Head of the Public Service

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to business unit 19080, Head of the Public Service, $456,000, a decrease of $2,000.

The Office of the Head of Public Service holds direct responsibility for all internal operations within the Public Service. Its primary objective is to transform and modernise a service with a substantial focus on training and development of customer service and maintaining standards of excellence.

This Office's comprehensive mandate covers the full spectrum of public service management. The unit spearheads Government-wide reform initiatives such as the Public Service Strategic Plan 2024-27 and ensures that all ministries and departments adhere to the core values of being customer-centric and future-focused.

Mr. Chairman, a pivotal area of concentration is attracting and developing and retaining top talent within the Public Service. Over the past year, significant progress has been made in advancing the Reimagining Careers in Public Service initiative. This initiative addresses recruitment, retention, succession planning and training needs. The launch of a Public Service Career Guide accompanied by efforts by Public Officers acting as ambassadors to promote careers in the public service, raise awareness about the Career Guide and generate interest in various training programmes designed to attract trainees and apprentices to both technical and professional roles such as marine pilots, maritime controllers, engineers and a variety of industrial posts including plumbers and electricians. These initiatives are further bolstered through new formal learning agreements with signature schools and active participation in school, career days and assemblies.

And it's important to note that additional funding has been allocated not necessarily inside of this Ministry but in other particular ministries to boost these apprenticeship programmes. During the time of, I will call it austerity, some of these training programmes were reduced as we are finding the Public Service with a number of persons (due to our demographic profile in the country) approaching retirement. It is important that we make the investments in the apprenticeships and trainees to get young persons in the Public Service so they can be at a space to replace the retiring ferry pilots and to replace the retiring persons who have critical skills so they can actually learn from the persons who are doing these jobs prior to their retirement from the Public Service.

Continuing on matters related to current public officers, considerable emphasis has been placed on developing capacity at the executive leadership and mid-management levels. Over 20 public officers involved in leadership development programmes have benefited from exposure to executive coaching and advanced policy development protocols via participation in the United Arab Emirates Executive Leadership Programme which include both remote and in-person learning components, a programme of course, Mr.

Chairman, funded entirely by the United Arab Emirates Government.

At the supervisory level, a tailored supervisory training programme was created and launched specifically for industrial employees to ensure that they possess the necessary skills and knowledge to grow professionally and transition smoothly into supervisory roles which is something that was important with our partnership with the Bermuda Industrial Union. The interactions between the Public Service as an employer and its union partners have also been strengthened through collaborative engagement in joint training on interest-based bargaining techniques.

This initiative included all union partners and successfully commenced the negotiations season. Joint negotiations resulted in a framework agreement for salary increases over a four-year period across all unions followed by individual negotiations with each union to address non-financial causes of our seven collective bargaining agreements which is the current phase in progress.

While standard cost of living increase has been awarded to ensure that government employees restore purchasing power which had been eroded over the years owing to austerity measures and salary freezes, the work with PricewaterhouseCoopers [PwC] on the modernisation of the public officer post-evaluation framework concluded with the delivery of an assessment on salary competitiveness when compared with market value based on similar positions in the private sector and the delivery of a new job evaluation framework.

Now, Mr. Chairman, this is a massive undertaking that is actually looking at the review of all the particular roles and grading within the Public Service. The new competency-based model which replaces the framework that has been in use in Government for over 50 years will assess a job's duties, responsibilities, required skills, and overall contribution to delivery of public services. Implementation planning to transition to this new job evaluation tool is in progress. It is expected that the new tool and the new grading model will provide opportunities to address issues that are related to recruiting into hard-to-fill roles and the retention of top public service talent.

Now, of course, this is something I've discussed previously, Mr. Chairman, but in certain roles inside of the Public Service, which are specialist roles, whether they be in compliance, whether they be in engineering, whether they be in health care, challenged with attracting dentists into government, retaining engineers inside of government, and others needed to be addressed. Rather than looking at it in a piecemeal fashion, the Government decided to take on board an entire review of the compensation structure for all public sector roles, and this encompass . . . this sizable review, which will enable us to make sure that positions that have high value in the private sector can also be represented as high value in the public sector and not necessarily be constrained to the traditional salary bands, which we have been using, which are published in the Budget Book, which we have been using, as I said, for the last 50 years.

Mr. Chairman, increased efficiencies have been realised via operational changes to support recruitment. Managers have been trained to conduct their own recruitment efforts, as opposed to being completely reliant on the resources at the Department of Employee and Organizational Development. And as we see more persons retiring from the Public Service, it is important that we continue to streamline the recruitment process to make sure that we are able to replace those persons who are retiring from the Public Service.

Further steps have been taken to implement a more streamlined recruitment process and also complemented by planned amendments to the Public Service Commission Regulations, which the Government expects to be tabled in the legislature later during this session.

Mr. Chairman, it is understood that measuring feedback is essential for improving customer service. Therefore, the Government website now features a customer feedback form, which is now also complemented by posters with QR codes, which are being rolled out to all Government departments, providing quick access to the customer feedback form for persons who may visit Government offices and may wish to record positive feedback or negative feedback.

The data is analysed to inform and identify problem areas requiring added resources or corrective actions to mitigate service issues and to ensure high quality and timely customer responses. While we're working towards meeting the response goals, plans include increased training in this area, and that is a focus of the Public Service plan to increase the customer service levels in the Government. The initiatives outlined under this particular business unit demonstrate the Government's commitment to fostering a modern, efficient, and responsive Public Service. By investing in our people, streamlining operations, and prioritising taxpayer feedback, we are building a Public Service that is well-equipped to meet the evolving needs of our country.

Business Unit 19085, PATI/PIPA Unit

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to business unit 19085, which is the PATI/PIPA Unit, $862,000, an increase of $23,000.

Mr. Chairman, business unit 19085, PATI/PIPA Unit, there was continued achievement of the established measures and expenditures remain largely in line with last year's figures. The PATI/PIPA Unit is responsible for both the Public Access to Information Act [2010] (PATI) and the Personal Information Protection Act [2016] (PIPA) and the Government's adherence to the requirements underneath those particular Acts.

For PATI, the unit continues to maintain and enhance the PATI administrative code of practice, deliver targeted guidance to public authorities and departments, and provide comprehensive information officer training. During 2024/25, the unit coordinated the update of the legislation and regulations and implemented significant updates to administrative procedures.

For PIPA, the unit continued to develop the Government's privacy programme. This included delivering training, establishing documentation and templates, and advancing our international privacy recognition strategy. A key focus was coordinating readiness activities ahead of PIPA coming into force on the 1 January 2025. Additionally, legislative activities supported the transition of personal information requests from PATI to PIPA and the harmonisation of the Electronic Transaction Act with PIPA.

Mr. Chairman, as this Honourable House is aware, the Government's operations require interaction with the public and international partners involving information exchange through both traditional and digital channels. This reality underscores the importance of embedding information rights and privacy principles throughout our operations.

Like the evolution of PATI, the Government also promotes the premise that privacy protection is not a destination, but rather a continuing journey that requires ongoing attention and adaptation. As processes change and technology evolves, new privacy challenges emerge, and the Government's privacy programme will continuously mature. Through consistent application of privacy principles and regular programme assessment, the Government strengthens its ability to deliver services while protecting the right to privacy.

Looking ahead to 2025/26, the unit's priority activities will encompass

- refinement of their organisational structure to optimise service delivery;
- implementation of necessary legislative updates and compliance measures;
- development of strategic and operational frameworks to support PATI and PIPA requirements;
- continued enhancements of guidance materials and templates, ongoing support to public authorities in meeting their statutory obligations;
- strengthening the relationships with regulatory authorities and expansion of training and awareness initiatives; and finally,
- enabling reciprocal recognition with comparable jurisdictions.

With PIPA now being fully operational as of 1 January 2025, its impact does extend across the entire jurisdiction. While the Privacy Commissioner provides overarching guidance, the unit works in collaboration with the regulator to establish international equivalence pursuits, elements that reach across the public and private sectors, and identification of certification mechanisms that may be used to demonstrate compliance.

In today's interconnected digital economy, Bermuda's ability to participate in international data flows is essential for our jurisdiction's continued prosperity. Our business and government operations increasingly rely on cloud services and international data processing capabilities to deliver efficient and cost-effective services to our community. This unit plays a crucial role in enabling those operations by working to establish privacy equivalency arrangements with key international partners. Our efforts towards privacy and data protection, equivalence recognition, and participation in certification programmes and engagement with various jurisdictions demonstrate the commitment that this Government has to meeting international standards in this area, which is something that is important, certainly for our international business sector.

The Office of the Privacy Commissioner has communicated guidance to help organisations assess and document transfer impacts, implement appropriate safeguards, and maintain compliance while leveraging modern technologies. This balanced approach ensures that Bermuda can benefit from global technological advances while maintaining the appropriate protection for personal information, regardless of where that information is kept and or processed.

Effective records management forms the Chairman, sorry, let me start again. Mr. Chairman, effective records management forms the foundation of meaningful public access to information. During 2024/25, the unit undertook significant work to develop the PATI Records Management Code of Practice, which will provide comprehensive guidance on how public authorities should create, maintain, and preserve official records. This code is essential for ensuring that public records remain accessible, authentic, and reliable throughout their life cycle. The code looks to address challenges in digital record-keeping, including requirements for managing information across cloud platforms and collaborative systems. And this unit has worked closely with archives and the code of practice—the new code—provides detailed guidance on managing hybrid paper and digital environments, ensuring consistent handling of records, regardless of format.

These improvements directly support Government departments and public authorities in meeting their statutory obligations while promoting greater transparency and accountability in Government operations. The effectiveness of PATI fundamentally depends on the Government's ability to properly manage Government records, and this revised code provides a framework needed to better support that goal.

Mr. Chairman, the unit remains committed to supporting Bermuda's position as a trusted jurisdiction for information handling while ensuring effective protection of privacy rights. And the work of this unit directly contributes to both our economic interests and the protection of individual rights.

I think I'm now moving to the final business unit, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Yes.

Business Unit 19090, Digital Transformation

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Moving to the final business unit, 19090 Digital Transformation, $975,000, a new allocation for this year.

Mr. Chairman, created in 2024, the Digital Transformation team is responsible for modernising how public services are delivered in Bermuda. Its core mandate is to streamline Government operations through digitisation, with a focus on improving service delivery and enhancing the residents' or taxpayers' experience with the Government.

The team leads the development of digital forms, supports departments in transitioning from manual to digital processes, and is implementing platforms such as the One-Stop Shop. The Digital Transformation team also plays a key role in piloting artificial intelligence tools, such as chatbots and automated workflows, to enhance responsiveness and to reduce administrative burdens.

Working closely with client ministries departments, the Department of Information and Digital Technologies, and other stakeholders, the Digital Transformation team ensures that digital initiatives are delivered in a secure and also scalable fashion across Government to reduce duplication. Since its formation in the previous fiscal year, with funding allocated during the mid-year review (which is the reason why there is zero in the original estimate, but an allocation in the revised estimate), the team has made significant progress in digital service delivery.

Key accomplishments include developing and launching over 30 digital forms and applications to streamline service delivery across a wide range of public-facing and internal Government functions. These include critical services, such as the Public Service Vehicle Licence and Accident Reporting at TCD, the Asthma Action Plan, the Financial Assistance Short-Term Relief Benefit. The team also built tools to support the public engagement and transparency, such as the Dog Licence Lookup, Bermuda National Hero Nomination Form, the Annual Occupational Safety Report. Internal Government processes were also digitised, including the new Cabinet Memo System, Privacy Registration Booking, and Feedback Form Enhancements. These forms collectively support operational improvements while also laying the groundwork for integrated, paperless public service delivery.

Continuing on to their accomplishments, launching of the One-Stop Shop, which is a centralised portal, offering citizens seamless access to Government services via forms.gov.bm, where any Honourable Member or any member of the public can go online and see about the 80 different Government functions that are able to be transacted with the Government online.

Upgrade and development of the Social Insurance Site, which I did cover in my finance brief a few weeks ago, which is a digitised suite of forms, including a real-time lookup tool for social insurance numbers, modernising access to critical benefits, and of course, reducing calls to the department.

Continuing on their accomplishments, rollout of the Government Payment Portal, which enables secure online payments for Government services. This includes the parking tickets application, which allows the public to pay fines online. Ongoing development of the ShoreLink chatbot, an AI-driven tool designed to support digital customer service and provide automated responses to common queries. Continued work on digital literacy and public service upskilling, ensuring that Government employees are better equipped to use and manage digital tools.

Moving on to funding, Mr. Chairman, with the funding grants for fiscal year 2025/26, the Digital Transformation Team will focus on

- expanding the One-Stop Shop, adding new services and integrating single sign-on solution to improve the user experience;
- deploying the Unified Payment Platform, which is consolidating fragmented payment methods into one secure integrated system that connects with the E1 financial system;
- launching AI-driven service automation pilots and chatbot functionality to enhance customer service responsiveness, one that I got to trial and demo last evening, very exciting;
- further digitising forms and services with the goal of reducing manual processes and improving turnaround time for both internal and public facing requests; and
- engaging a digital transformation strategic partner to support highly technical work, particularly for payment platform integration and advanced artificial intelligence implementations.

The team will continue to work in close collaboration with client departments, IDT, and external partners to ensure that digital investments produce lasting value for the public and also the Government.

Mr. Chairman, before I conclude, I wish to thank the public officers and staff within the Cabinet Office, led by the Secretary to the Cabinet, Major Marc Telemaque, and also the Permanent Secretary for the Cabinet Office, Ms. Jeane Nikolai. Serving in the Cabinet Office is a privilege but also requires a tremendous amount of work. And no two days, not even Cabinet days, are the same. The team provides excellent support to myself as leader of the Government, and I am grateful for their dedication to the taxpayers of Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes my presentation on the estimates for Head 9, the Cabinet Office, and I will now yield the floor to the Minister for the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation, who will cover the rest of the heads.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Premier.

Minister, I think when you are ready, we're moving on to, is it the Post Office first? Head 13.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Head 13. Yes.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.
Please proceed when ready.

HEAD 13—BERMUDA POST OFFICE

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I stand to present the 2025/26 budget for Head 13, the Bermuda Post Office, as outlined in the Budget Book, pages B-45 through B-51.

The Post Office is one of Bermuda's longest-standing institutions, with over two centuries of uninterrupted public service, and is 100 per cent Bermudian staffed. Today, even in the age of instant messaging and online platforms, it continues to serve 36,000 delivery points Island-wide with dedication and professionalism. This year's budget reflects our commitment to both honour that legacy and modernise the service to meet today's needs.

Mr. Chairman, the total allocation for the Bermuda Post Office in 2025/26 is $10.13 million, as listed on pages B-146 [sic] and B-147 [sic] of the Budget Book.

The Chairman: I think it's actually just page B-46.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Page B-46.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: This represents a $510,000 increase, or 5.3 per cent over last year's original estimate of $9.62 million. The increase is primarily driven by salary adjustments in accordance with negotiated agreements effective 1 April 2025. Salaries and wages continue to represent the Post Office's largest expense, totalling $8.19 million, which accounts for 81 per cent of the overall budget. Staffing levels remain steady with 125 full-time Bermudian employees.

Mr. Chairman, the remaining 19 per cent of the budget covering day-to-day operations includes several important areas with both strategic and service-related implications. Transport costs rise to $91,000, a 98 per cent increase. This corrects last year's underestimation and accounts for international freight, covers security vendor expenses for screening and X-ray outbound mail at the airport to meet international standards. It includes import costs for fixtures and fittings.

Equipment upgrades increased by 150 per cent to $50,000. This allows for the replacement of depreciated furniture, fixtures, trays, mail racks, and tools that require upgrading. Training has increased by $25,000, encouraging staff to participate in more online and regional courses while ensuring our workforce remains current and capable in a rapidly evolving logistics environment. Professional services increased to $77,000, covering UPU and CPU membership dues, EMS co-op fees, and consultant support for upgrading the IPS system and conducting a customer service efficiency survey.

Energy costs, including electricity and fuel, slightly decreased to $211,000, reflecting improved efficiency or stable rates. Repairs and maintenance rise to $548,000, which includes building upkeep, cleaning contracts, and security services. Rent for the mail processing centre remains stable at $396,000. Materials and supplies hold steady at $224,000, covering stamps, paper, and office consumables. Communications stay flat at $70,000, supporting delivery tracking and customer notifications. Travel and regional participation doubles to $36,000, enabling engagement with regional postal bodies and training events. Advertising and promotion decreases to $44,000, reflecting better targeted marketing efforts. Other expenses grew to $59,000, which includes costs for World Post Day events, staff retirements, office supplies, and transaction fees for debit and credit card processing.

Mr. Chairman, the 2024/25, a year of achievement and quiet excellence. This past year, the Bermuda Post Office was recertified with gold status for postal security and also earned gold certification in disaster risk management, both awarded by the Universal Postal Union (UPU) following independent audits by international experts.

In terms of delivery, performance remained high—98 per cent of all letter mail was delivered within four working days [and] 99 per cent of customers were notified within two working days of international items arriving. These figures speak volumes, especially when paired with the remarkably low number of complaints. Just nine formal and five informal complaints across the entire year.

Mr. Chairman, this level of satisfaction is a credit to the hard-working, fully Bermudian staff who keep this service going day-in, day-out across our seven delivery offices and sub-post offices in Mangrove Bay, Southampton, Warwick, Devonshire, Flatts, Crawl, and St. George's. And Mr. Chairman, a particular point of pride is that Bermuda's Postmaster General now serves as the Secretary General of the Caribbean Postal Union, a recognition of our leadership in the region.

Mr. Chairman, looking ahead for the priorities of 2025/26, the upcoming year will focus on

- modernisation and sustainability;
- upgrading operational tools and equipment to improve efficiency;

- enhancing customers' experience via the BermudaPost.bm platform, including tracking, mail forwarding, and retail purchases;
- expanding access to training and online courses with support from UPU and regional partners; and
- continuing to meet our universal service obligations even as traditional letter mail declines by approximately 7 per cent annually.

This isn't merely about logistics, it's about creating a postal service that stays accessible, affordable, and resilient, even in a changing communications landscape.

In closing, Mr. Chairman, the Bermuda Post Office continues to do what it's always done, serve the people with consistency, care, and quiet excellence. This budget supports that mission, balances fiscal responsibility with forward planning, and ensures the Post Office remains a vital public service, not just for today, but for generations to come.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes my comments on the head for Post Office.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Head 13 for Post Office. I'll now proceed to Head 18, Libraries and Archives.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Please proceed. This is [page] B-52.

HEAD 18—DEPARTMENT OF LIBRARIES AND ARCHIVES

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to present the 2025/26 budget for Head 18, the Department of Libraries and Archives, found on pages B-52 through B-56 of the Estimates and Revenue Expenditure Book. The mission of this department is clear, To facilitate access to information for research, inspiration, lifelong learning, and recreation. And that mission is as relevant today as ever.

Mr. Chairman, for the fiscal year, the budget has been allocated $3.393 million, an increase of $146,000, or 4.0 per cent over the previous year. This represents 6.3 per cent of the Ministry's total budget. The increase is primarily driven by negotiated salary uplifts and a targeted reallocation of funds to strengthen key service areas.

Mr. Chairman, let's now turn to how those funds are distributed across the department's six core services.

- Collection Management, $434,000. Boosted to support the digitisation of local publications and the preservation of work. The FTEs for this remains at three.
- Adult Services, $623,000, up 16 per cent. Reflects salary increases and a new staff position, bringing the FTEs to six.

- Archival Services, $341,000, up 2 per cent. Modest increase to support salary adjustments. FTEs remain at three.
- Youth Services, $478,000. Covers mandated salary increases and the FTEs stand at four.
- Records Management Services, $844,000. Supports Government Records Centre in St. David's. FTEs remain at four.
- And Administration, $672,000, down 2 per cent. This decrease reflects a reallocation to support staffing in adult services. FTEs remain at four.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. And for the benefit of the listening public, FTEs are full-time equivalent employees.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Yes, yes.

In total, the department operates with 24 full-time Bermudian employees, an increase of one over last year. Mr. Chairman, revenue remains modest. Just $8,000 is projected, reflecting the seventh month closure of the youth library.

On the capital side, the department will receive $5,000 for the purchase of new computers. For comparison, last year's capital allocation was $129,000, which funded a new fire alarm system for the Bermuda Records Centre and new bookshelves at the Youth Library.

Mr. Chairman, key shifts in the operational budget include salaries increased due to permanent appointments and negotiated uplifts. Wages decreased as temporary staff transitioned into permanent roles. Transportation and communications funding increased, driven by higher trucking and phone costs. Professional services rose to support digitisation initiatives. Rentals and repairs dropped. The planned Internet centre did not move forward. Energy costs fell due to improved lighting and reduced AC use. And materials and supplies rose to support book acquisition and digitisation.

Mr. Chairman, collection management digitised five years of The Royal Gazette ahead of schedule and under budget, catalogued 90 per cent of new books within 30 days, and processed all 36 ISBN requests from local publishers within two days. Adult services engaged roughly 20 per cent of Bermuda's population as active members, delivered well-attended Lunch & Learn programmes, and received consistently high satisfaction in in-house surveys.

Archival services focused on expanding digitisation capacity with new high-resolution imaging equipment. Staff trained with British Library experts at the University of West Indies in Jamaica. Youth Services have served 60 per cent of Bermuda's under-15 population. The performance slipped due to a seven-month closure for renovations. However, the Youth Library reopened to the public on 8 April 2025, with a newly refreshed space.

Records Management continued supporting all Government departments in compliant records retention and storage. And Administration managed increasing challenges at the main library concerning security incidents, which rose from 53 to 60. The police were called 25 times and one incident led to a prosecution.

Now, looking at the year ahead. Mr. Chairman, the department will advance several key initiatives. They will launch a new website to improve public access and user experience, continue to digitise The Royal Gazette covering 1979 to 1983, finish setting up the new digitisation studio at the archives for online access to documents and images, and expand public services by installing a new digital microfilm reader, increasing available public use computers, introducing e-readers for seniors, expanding large print fiction collection, formalising home and outreach deliverable schedules.

So, Mr. Chairman, the department delivers extraordinary value by connecting citizens to information and democracy, preserving our heritage, bridging the digital divide, supporting childhood literacy and adult learning, providing secure and accessible public records. This is not just a place for books and records, it is a vital part of Bermuda's social fabric, cultural memory, and public service mission.

So in closing, Mr. Chairman, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to the dedicated staff headed by Director Ms. Joanne Brangman, for their unwavering commitment to serving the public with professionalism and care. With this budget, we continue to invest in learning, culture, access, and community. Head 18, Libraries and Archives remains a small but mighty contributor to Bermuda's future.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. And just for the benefit of the listening public, the performance measures you just identified were at pages B-55 and B-56, and the capital acquisition you discussed for the libraries was at page C-9.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you. Please proceed. Is your next head going to be Department of Planning?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Yes.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I've now concluded Head 18.

The Chairman: Apologies.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: And I'll now move to—

The Chairman: I'm jumping ahead out of excitement.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I'll move to Head 32, Department of Planning. Don't get too excited. I am not going to keep you long.

[Laughter]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Not as long as some people would like for me to keep them.

HEAD 32—DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to present the budget for Head 32, Department of Planning, found on pages B-57 through B-61. The department's mission is straightforward and significant, To ensure the sustainable management of Bermuda's natural and built environment.

Mr. Chairman, turning to page B-58, for the fiscal year 2025/26, the department has been allocated $4.049 million, an increase of $211,000, driven mainly by Government-wide salary increases. You see a recurring theme there.

The Chairman: Mm-hmm.

Revenue Outlook

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Revenue outlook. Mr. Chairman, turning to page B-59, the department expects to generate $1.936 million in revenue, a 14 per cent increase over last year. This growth is driven by robust development activity across the residential, tourism, and commercial sectors.

Residential, tourism, and office development continues to be healthy, particularly with the high-end sector as evidenced by numerous applications for new residences, new blocks providing additional tourist units at Grotto Bay, and the Brookfield development on Front Street in the City of Hamilton.

Mr. Chairman, revenue changes include

- planning application fees at $550,000, reflecting caution in some segments because it's down from what we had last year;
- building permit fees up $110,000 to $710,000 tied to sustained demand;
- planning searches up $84,000 to $234,000 driven by strong real estate market; and
- elevator licences up $150,000 to $350,000, linked to high compliance and inspection demand.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, subjective analysis of current account estimates of the department is found on page B-58. Salaries increased by $96,000 to $3.447 million. Rentals increased by $43,000 due to the office move to 44 Church Street. Repairs and maintenance increased by $69,000, mostly for software and systems related to the new offices.

Staffing and Recruitment

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, staffing challenges have impacted service delivery. Retirements and vacancies, including in enforcement and inspections, left several units under-resourced. However, the department has responded decisively. They have recruited a new administrative officer, electrical inspector, enforcement officer, management accountant, and manager of administration during the last fiscal year, all of whom are Bermudian. [The department] promoted internally to fill senior roles [and] was successful in its nomination of a Bermudian student who received a bursary award for the last fiscal year targeted to the post of assistant planner to whom the department has provided and will continue to provide work experience to aid in his development.

[The department also] supports the youth employment programme of the Department of Workforce Development. The department will be providing work experience to a further three young Bermudians during this summer. In addition, the Department of Planning has featured at numerous school career days to promote planning as a profession to students and maintains just four work permit holders.

Performance Measures by Business Unit

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the department has faced public frustration, particularly around delays in permits and application processing. These concerns are real and are not being ignored. In the coming weeks, I will be announcing initiatives either in train or under consideration to address the frustrations faced by both the Department of Planning and the public they serve.

Business Unit 42050, Enforcement

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 42050, Enforcement, page B-60. This business unit is responsible for investigating claims of breaches of planning control, seeking remedies for unauthorised development and carrying out planning searches. In the past fiscal year

- they processed 353 planning searches, an increase of 79;
- issued 11 civil penalties totalling $275,000;
- eighty per cent of enforcement complaints were responded to within two weeks below the 100 per cent target. The department has adjusted its goal to 90 per cent for the upcoming fiscal year; and
- twenty-nine enforcement cases were opened last year.

Performance was impacted by staffing shortages, including a retirement and temporary reassignment. But with a new officer hired and the team now fully staffed, improvement is expected in 2025/26.

Business Unit 42050, Forward Planning

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 42060, Forward Planning, page B-60.

This business unit is responsible for the preparation of development plans and associated policies and guidance, including collating evidence through technical studies and surveys. For the fiscal year 2024/25, the department can report the following: The City of Hamilton Plan 2024, which we debated last week in this Honourable House, was completed with no objections, a milestone achievement. And as debated in these Chambers a week ago, this plan marks a shift from rigid controls to principle-based planning, encouraging investment and design flexibility.

Business Unit 42070, Development Management

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 42070, Development Management, page B-61.

This business unit is responsible for processing, planning and subdivision applications in accordance with the provisions of the relevant development plan and providing pre-consultation advice on development proposals. Highlights for 2024/25 are as follows:

- Processed 362 planning applications, nearly identical to last year.
- [Of these,] 61 per cent were completed within 12 weeks, below the 80 per cent target.
- Staffing shortages and increased workload contributed to this issue, but targeted recruitment and reassignments are addressing the problem.

Most planning applications continue to be for residential development with a noticeable trend towards applications for creating additional units through internal conversions and the installation of solar panels.

Notable projects include the Grotto Bay Development, the North Arm in Dockyard, the replacement of the Belvedere Building on Pitts Bay Road and the proposed [94] key hotel at 11 Victoria Street, which was granted on appeal.

Significant pre-consultation for tourism development has been conducted at the St. Regis Bermuda Resort and regarding the redevelopment of the Elbow Beach Hotel.

Business Unit 42080, Building Permits

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 42080, Building Permits, page B-61. Everybody wants to know about building permits.

This [business] unit is responsible for reviewing applications for building permits to ensure compliance with the building code, guaranteeing safe construction and protecting public welfare and well-being. For the fiscal year 2024/25, the department can report the following:

- It received 799 building permit applications and 456 permit revision applications.
- It issued 551 building permits and 368 permit revisions.
- These permits represented 21 per cent commercial, 24 per cent residential and 55 per cent minor works.

Notable projects that received building permits in the past year:

- Southampton Princess Beach Club, a multi-story mixed-use development on Pitts Bay Road;
- the Brookfield Building; and
- further tourism development at Nautilus/Azur and Grotto Bay.

Business Unit 42090, Inspections

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 42090, Inspections, page B-61. This business unit is responsible for ensuring standards of construction in accordance with approved building permits and the relevant provisions of the building code.

For the fiscal year 2024/25, the department can report the following.

- It conducted over 6,395 inspections, including 504 elevators, 1,780 electrical and 4,183 building related.
- 664 commencement inspections indicate strong project starts.

And for the listening public, commencement inspection is when planning comes out and says you can start building.

Plans for the Year Ahead

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the department has a full slate of reforms and initiatives, including:

- New general development orders to reduce red tape and allow some changes of use without planning approval.
- Updated building code to raise construction standards and sustainability.
- Streamlining processes via better internal systems and more engagement with industry stakeholders.
- Launch of a digital platform to match underutilised land with prospective farmers, promoting local food production and land use efficiency.
- Vacant and derelict property database to encourage private investment in idle housing stock.
- Review of the listed building register to ensure that it is transparent, current, and fair.

- Policy research programmes underway focusing on housing, tourism, industrial land, and vacancy rates, forming the evidence base for the new Island-wide development plan.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Planning is taking action. We are recruiting, reforming, digitising, and collaborating. This year's budget supports that work and it supports our broader goal, a planning system that is efficient, effective, and responsive to both the needs of the developer and the rights of our residents.

To the director, Victoria Cordeiro, and her team, thank you for navigating the complexity with care and commitment. I look forward to sharing the progress that lies ahead. This concludes my comments on Head 32, Department of Planning, and I'll now proceed to Head 43, Information and Digital Technology.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

So, if we pause just for a second there, we are in the Committee of Supply for Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for budget year 2025/26. This is a four-hour debate, and we have covered the first six heads. So, we're moving . . . excuse me, we've covered the first four heads, and we're moving on to the fifth of six heads, which is Information and Digital Technologies.

We are hearing from the Honourable Diallo Rabain, who is the Minister of Cabinet Office of Digital Innovation, who is now going to present Head 43, which can be found at page B-62 of the Budget Book.

Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Mr. Chairman, I know it sounds funny, but it's Minister for the Cabinet Office.

The Chairman: Well, I stand corrected, Minister for the Cabinet Office and Digital Intervention.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Not sure why . . . why they say—

The Chairman: Did I say of? I said of.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Yes, everybody says of.

The Chairman: There we go.

HEAD 43—DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION AND DIGITAL TECHNOLOGIES

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, I rise to present the 2025/26 budget for Head 43, Department of Information and Digital Technologies, better known as IDT, as outlined on pages B-62 through B-65 of the Budget Book.

IDT functions as the central nervous system of the government, enabling everything from front line public services to internal operations. The public rightly expects these systems to be reliable, secure, and resilient at all times. In today's rapidly evolving digital landscape, meeting these expectations requires more than maintenance. It demands strategic investment, modern infrastructure, and forward-thinking leadership. This budget reflects that commitment, a deliberate shift towards stronger protection, smarter systems, and a government built for the future.

Mr. Chairman, the Department of Information and Digital Technologies has been allocated a total operating budget of $9.211 million for the 2025/26 fiscal year, as shown on page B-62. This represents an increase of $706,000 over the previous year's budget of $8.505 million.

Mr. Chairman, a subjective analysis of the current accounts for the Department of Information and Digital Technologies can be found on page B-63. While the majority of new investment is reflected in capital expenditures, there are also key changes within the department's current account, particularly across three areas of strategic importance.

Communications, $1.757 million, increased by $242,000. This increase supports the expansion of the network data lines, ensuring sufficient bandwidth and infrastructure to meet the demands of a growing and digitally dependent Government.

Rentals, $842,000, increased by $182,000. This reflects the cost of relocating the department to a new premises with updated facilities better suited to IDT's operational needs.

And salaries, at $3.447 million, increased by $162,000. This covers Government-wide salary uplifts and funds the filling of a critical security analyst position, reinforcing our commitment to cybersecurity and digital service protection.

Mr. Chairman, the capital allocations for the Department of Information and Digital Technologies for 2025/26 is $6.525 million, representing an increase, a 12 per cent increase over the previous year. And if you could assist me with the page number there, I don't see it. I know it's in [section] C somewhere.

The Chairman: Page C-2, I think, but I will double-check while you're go on.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you.

The Chairman: Please proceed.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: These funds are not merely an investment in technology; they represent strategic steps towards a more resilient and efficient and responsive Government. As part of its ongoing commitment to digital transformation and secure service delivery, IDT will continue investing in modernising the network infrastructure and enhancing cybersecurity capabilities.

The Chairman: Page C-9, it is.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Page C-9. Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

These strategic initiatives are crucial for enabling a resilient, efficient, and data-driven Government.

Mr. Chairman, while some budget lines show reduced allocations, I want to be clear. These are not merely cutbacks; they are recalibrations. They reflect areas where previous investments have delivered, allowing us to redirect resources towards more urgent and transformational priorities.

Key areas of capital investment include:

- Network Upgrades, $2.5 million. Replacing legacy network switches and upgrading infrastructure at Global House, implementing modern network monitoring tools, firewall enhancements, and unified communication systems, improving Wi-Fi reliability and connectivity across key facilities.
- Cybersecurity and Risk Management, $930,000. Enhancing endpoint protection and real-time threat detection, supporting continuous monitoring, software licensing, and third-party penetration testing, strengthening Government's overall security posture.
- Government Portals and Digital Accessibility, $505,000. Improving access to public services through a more integrated and user-friendly platform, supporting transparency, engagement, and efficiency.
- E-Government Initiatives, $545,000. Focused on data centralisation, performance analytics, and smarter governance, reduced slightly to reflect consolidation with broader data infrastructure work, disaster recovery and continuity.
- ISeries Systems, $295,000. Following a major refresh last year, this year's focus shifts to fine-tuning disaster recovery environments.
- Wintel Systems, $950,000, supporting secure cloud transitions and identity management and continuity testing.
- Innovation and Hardware Life Cycle Development Projects, $400,000. Sustaining innovation while streamlining focus on core initiatives.
- Infrastructure Computers, $400,000. Reflects recent hardware modernisation and more efficient procurement planning, data infrastructure, establishing a centralised government data lake to power business intelligence, support evidence-based policy, and foster greater transparency and innovation across public service.

Mr. Chairman, these investments mark a shift from reactive management to proactive transformation that will strengthen our digital foundation, protect public assets, and enhance service delivery across every corner of Government.

Workforce and Recruitment

Bermuda House of Assembly

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Workforce and Recruitment found on page B-63.

Mr. Chairman, staffing stands at 50 FTEs (full-time equivalent employees), up by one. But we have 10 funded vacancies and filling them is essential. To that end, IDT has been working with DEOD on recruitment. These include a chief systems engineer, security manager, network engineer, four systems engineers, security analysts, support analysts, and operations analysts. We are addressing recruitment challenges head-on through a new apprenticeship programme, building a pipeline of young Bermudians, IT professionals, to not just meet IDT's needs, but also Bermuda's digital future.

And Mr. Chairman, I did do a Ministerial Statement on IDT's apprenticeship programme last week.

The Chairman: Yes.

Output Measures

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Output Measures, pages B-64 and B-65.

Mr. Chairman, I will state up front that not all service targets were met. The team worked under pressure to manage a post-attack backlog while pushing forward critical upgrades.

Business Unit 53030, Device Support

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Performances this year, business unit 53030 Device Support—70 per cent of tickets resolved within targets, below the 90 per cent goal, but improving.

Business Unit 53035, Network Support

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 53035, Network Support, met 75 per cent target rising to 85 per cent this year.

Business Unit 53040, Service Support

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 53040, Service Support, held steady at 25 per cent first-call resolution.

Business Unit 53060, Business System Support

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit, 53060 Business System Support, achieved 70 per cent of the monthly review meetings; target is now 90 per cent.

Business Unit 53090, Security

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 53090, Security, delivered on 100 per cent goal, a critical win.
Projects in 2024/25

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, despite challenges, IDT made real strides. Microsoft 365 was deployed government-wide for more secure collaborative work. Infrastructure renewal [is] underway—improving system speed, uptime and resilience.

Network hardware replaced at critical sites, including the airport and Government Administration Building. Unified communications project completed at 95 per cent. Streamlining systems and lowering costs. And the ISeries refresh completed, ensuring our core financial systems remain stable and secure.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, IDT's 2025 business plan will focus on three pillars.

1. Strengthening cybersecurity, disaster recovery and incidents response. IDT's top priority is protecting government systems, data and users through a proactive layered cybersecurity approach. Key initiatives include:
 - a. advanced endpoint protection: state-of-the-art tools to secure all government connected devices
 - b. 24/7 threat monitoring: constant surveillance to detect and respond to suspicious activity in real time
 - c. vulnerability assessments and penetration testing: regular system reviews to identify and fix weaknesses before they are exploited
 - d. email threat detection: intelligent solutions to prevent phishing and email-borne attacks
 - e. cyber awareness training: educating public officers to serve as the first line of defence and updated disaster recovery and incident response plans ensuring business continuity and fast recovery during disruptions
2. Delivering high performance, scalable and resilient IT infrastructure. To support the government's growth and service expectations, IDT is modernising its core infrastructure with a focus on speed, stability and long-term reliability. Planned efforts include:
 - a. replacing legacy hardware: phasing out outdated systems to reduce failure risk and increasing performance
 - b. application consolidation: eliminating redundant software to streamline processes and lower costs
 - c. rewiring Global House: a critical upgrade to boost connectivity and improve network stability and prepare for future needs
3. Supporting data-driven decision-making. IDT is investing in tools that enable departments to transform data into insights and actionable outcomes. Key outcomes targeted are:

- a. real-time operational insights for faster and smarter responses
- b. identifying trends and opportunities to inform long-term planning, and
- c. evidence-based decision across government. This will be enabled by user-friendly dashboards and clear comprehensive reporting tools to empower every department to measure, manage and improve performance

Mr. Chairman, IDT is simply not reacting to a crisis. They're using it as a catalyst for transformation. This budget represents a strategic shift away from patchwork fixes towards a coherent, protected and people-centred digital government.

To Acting Chief Information Officer, Gina Benjamin and the IDT team, I thank you. Your resolve in facing the unprecedented challenges has kept the Government running and allowed us to rebuild stronger. With this budget, we don't just recover, we leap forward.

This concludes my comments on Head 43, Information and Digital Technology and I'll proceed with your permission of course, Mr. Chairman, to Head 80, Project Management and Procurement.

The Chairman: Thank you and that, for those listening, is at [page] B-75 of the Budget Book.

Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: We're smoking, aren't we?

The Chairman: We are smoking.

[Laughter]

HEAD 80—OFFICE OF PROJECT MANAGEMENT AND PROCUREMENT

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, I rise to present the budget for Head 80, the Office of Project Management and Procurement [OPMP] as found on pages B-75 through B-77 of the Estimates and Revenue and Expenditure Book.

The mission of this office is straightforward yet essential, To provide oversight, guidance in project management and procurement, ensuring transparency, value for money and accountability across the Government.

Mr. Chairman, the total expenditure listed on [page] B-75 is budgeted at $925,000, representing an increase of $51,000 over last year. The subjective analysis can be found on page B-76 and reflects the following as a result of the $51,000 budget increase:

- Salary uplifts by way of an increase of $44,000.
- Travel increased by $1,000 for essential overseas training.

- Rentals increased by $2,000.
- Materials and supplies increased by $3,000.

Mr. Chairman, capital allocation currently stands at $65,000, representing an increase of $43,000 from last year. These details can be found on page C-10. This funding will support essential software applications and services that enhance digital tools and procurement platforms.

Mr. Chairman, the Office of Project Management and Procurement comprises of eight full-time staff, four Bermudians, one spouse of a Bermudian and two non-Bermudians. One post is currently vacant, a contract and compliance manager, and will be recruited this year to strengthen oversight and capacity.

Performance Measures

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I now turn my attention to Performance Measures for 2024/25 located on page B-77.

Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to report that the Office's performance measures for the fiscal year 2024/25 were achieved.

Business Unit 9000, Administration

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 9000, Administration unit

- produced and submitted all quarterly waiver reports to cabinet on time;
- completed 95 per cent of cabinet memoranda reviews within five business days;
- published the 2024 annual report;
- managed HR and budgets efficiently; and
- deployed affordable digital tools like RFX, Drafter and Bonfire to improve service deliveries.

Business Unit 9005, Procurement

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 9005, Procurement unit

- delivered eight training sessions (six virtual and two in-person) to 106 public officers;
- optimised cost by leveraging virtual platforms; and
- demonstrated strong value for money and increased training access across Government.

The Chairman: I'm pausing you there, Minister.

The Budget Book says five sessions, but that should be eight sessions, should it?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Umm—

The Chairman: One or the other.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: One or the other.

The Chairman: Okay, please continue.

Business Unit 90010, Project Management

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 90010, Project Management unit:

- Conducted six half-day sessions, in-person training sessions for 22 middle and senior level public officers.
- Training using hybrid methodologies based on PRINCE2 and PMI best practices.
- Customised sessions ensured relevance and high impact for project execution.

Business Unit 90015, Contract and Compliance

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Business unit 90015, Contract and Compliance—unable to deliver standalone training due to staffing constraints. However, integrated contract and compliance content into Code of Practice training with the Procurement unit.

And Mr. Chairman, the Code of Practice for Project Management and Procurement is currently under review and a revised third edition will be released shortly, accompanied by targeted training and communication.

Upcoming Fiscal Year

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, in the upcoming fiscal year, the Office will continue to produce quarterly waiver reports for the Minister and Cabinet and aims to complete Cabinet memoranda compliance reviews within five business days, targeting a 95 per cent on-time completion rate.

In partnership with the Department of Employee Organizational Development, the Office will deliver five training sessions on the introduction to the Code of Practice and four project management training sessions, alongside specialised learning initiatives such as planning projects for success and negotiation.

To further build procurement capacity, the Office will pilot a public procurement training programme in collaboration with the US-based National Institute of Government Procurement, with the goal of developing a syllabus that equips authorised public officers with foundational procurement skills and techniques. Additionally, the Office will publish its 2025 annual report in due course.

Mr. Chairman, the Office has aligned its future priorities with the Public Service Strategic Plan 2024-2027 and Bermuda's broader commitment to good governance. This year, the work will centre around five pillars.

1. Acting strategically. OPMP will continue to lead as a central authority for Government capital projects and procurement, ensuring alignment with national priorities and efficient resource use.

2. Human capital development. Design and deliver training to strengthen public officers' skills in project management, procurement, and purchasing.
3. Policy implementation. Roll out new updated policies, guidelines, and supporting notes to streamline operations and improve consistency.
4. Strategic sourcing and business opportunities. Guide ministries in sourcing strategies, explore cross-sector procurement opportunities, and implement framework agreements and vetted contractor lists.
5. Compliance and contract management. Build a robust monitoring framework to improve oversight of contract administration and enforce sound management and practises across departments.
6. Being customer-centric. OPMP is focused on delivering fair, transparent, and value-driven services tailored to the needs of government clients and the public.
7. Practical accessible training to develop flexible real-world training on project management and procurement available through multiple learning formats. Contract management learning modules will introduce a dedicated module to deepen officers' understanding of contract management and improve outcomes.
8. Specialised training/project training. Will launch new training tracks targeting the unique demands of IT and construction-related procurement and project delivery.
9. Putting people first. OPMP will embed transparency, fairness, and professional growth at the heart of its work by supporting all public officers involved in procurement and project oversight.
10. Code of Practice awareness. Ensuring each public officer is well-informed about the Code of Practice and their specific responsibilities under it.
11. Professional development. Deliver training guided by stakeholder feedback and promote careers in procurement, project management, and compliance through outreach and education initiatives.
12. Effecting digital transformation. The office is embracing technology to improve operational efficiency and transparency and accessibility to its core services. The digital platform transformation to migrate to a secure cloud-based procurement platform to better manage sensitive data and improve accessibility.
13. Digital case management. Exploring digital tools to track and manage internal office operations and client services.

14. E-learning integration. Embedding e-learning into procurement training offerings to expand access and flexibility for public officers.
15. Delivering excellence. OPMP is committed to high-quality results, better collaboration, and smarter procurement to deliver meaningful value to the Government and the public.
16. Optimise practices and performances to develop collaborative models and performance metrics to drive quality and efficiency in project and procurement processes.
17. Quality assurance and compliance so we can implement best practices aligned with international standards, ensuring the Code of Practice is consistently applied and simplified where appropriate for varying procurement values.

Mr. Chairman, the Office of Project Management and Procurement continues to evolve into a cornerstone of good governance, driving professionalism, transparency, efficiency, and how government plans and spends.

To the team led by Director Elaine Blair-Christopher, I extend sincere thanks for their focus, discipline, and integrity in service to Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes my presentation of Head 80, Office of Project Management and Procurement, and my overall presentation for the Ministry for the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Minister.

Members, we, and . . . Honourable Members and indeed members of the listening public, we are in the Committee of Supply for Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the budget year 2025/26.

We have been listening this morning to the budget debate, or the beginning of the budget debate on behalf of the Ministry for the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation. We have heard from the Honourable Premier initially on Head 9, the Cabinet Office, and then we have heard from the Minister for the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation, Diallo Rabain, for the remaining five of six heads.

Is there any other Honourable Member who wishes to contribute to the debate?

I see the Honourable Member for constituency 10, MP Robert King.

You have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: Good morning, Mr. Chairman,—

The Chairman: Good morning.

Mr. Robert King: —Members of this Honourable House and the listening public.

First off, I want to commend the hard work of the persons who work under the Cabinet, all the supporting staff for the hard work that they do to meet the needs of this community.

So just, you know, to set the table here, Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation, pages B-38 through B-75, Corporate Headquarters for the Civil Service, providing service and advice and guidance to other departments and to the public sector. That's their role and responsibility. Department objectives on page B-39: transparency and accountability, efficient and effective services to the Premier, Ministers, Cabinet, ensuring public value, ensure implementation of government reform priorities, inferred in a timely manner. Enhance government safety management systems. So that's the framework on which they operate, and rightly so.

I'm going to move to headline [sic] B-40, Cabinet Office.

The Chairman: Yes, that's page B-40 of the Budget Book—B-40.

Mr. Robert King: Correct. I note that the London Office under [programme] 0902, Economic Policy and Foreign Affairs.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: [Business unit] 19035, London Office, $1.68 million, actual; revised 2024/25, $1.390 million; estimate 2025/26, $1,456 million.

[Business unit 19045], Washington DC Office, $393,000; revised 2024/25, $415,000; estimate 2025/26, $462,000.

[Business unit 19075] Brussels Office, $342,000, actual 2023/24; revised 2024/25, $410,000; and estimate 2025/26, $343,000.

Under the—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: No, no, no, just setting the table. Don't worry, I'll get to that.

Under the Cabinet Office, page B-41, current account estimates.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: [Page] B-41, Training $17,000, 2023/24 actual; revised 2024/25, $143,000; estimate 2025/26, $50,000.

Professional Services, actual 2023/24, $2.204 million; revised 2024/25, $2.851 million; estimate 2025/26, $3.775 million.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: So, regarding training, the question is, understanding that we're seeking innovation through digital technology, reliance on IT infrastructure and processes would suggest that training on the new systems would be a priority to ensure efficiencies and improve performance with a new system. On the face of it, this budget does not appear to resource this need. The budget for training has been reduced by $93,000. So, the question is, how does this reduction in training budget promote and support skill acquisition on the new format, especially for the more senior members of staff? How does it also, as the Minister stated earlier, seek to improve customer service?

Page B-41, professional services. These consultants are utilised for their specific skill sets to perform the tasks that require proficiency in . . . and other areas to support the Minister's objectives. Specifically what? Understanding that these needs were forecast prior, what cost benefit analysis was conducted?

Hon. E. David Burt: If I may, Mr. Chairman. Just a point of information.

The Chairman: Will you take a point of information, MP King?

Mr. Robert King: Sure.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: If I could—

The Chairman: Honourable Premier, you have the floor.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Hon. E. David Burt: Just to go back to . . . thank you Mr. Chairman.

Just to go back to the question on training. I just want to make sure I get it correct, because I heard the Shadow Minister say a reduction, but the budget shows an increase.

So, I just want to make sure I'm understanding precisely which one he's discussing.

The Chairman: So, I think he said page B-41.

Mr. Robert King: [B-]41.

The Chairman: And the revised of last year was $143,000. The estimate, at least as stated in the Budget Book, is $50,000.

Hon. E. David Burt: Oh, so he's comparing revised, not the original.

The Chairman: I believe so. I'll defer to the Honourable Member.

Honourable Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: I'm referring to the estimate for 2025/26.

The Chairman: Right.

[Crosstalk]

Mr. Robert King: Correct. The revised of the original. Correct.

The Chairman: Thank you, I trust that that question is clear.

MP King, please, you have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: Page B-41, Revenue Source, 8316, PATI, Public Access to Information fees. What we see is an increase in salaries with no meaningful improvement in service delivery. What performance measures will be changed to ensure that customer feedback on service delivery performance will improve?

Head 9, page B-42, Cabinet Office, employee numbers.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: [Business unit] 19035, London Office.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: We had three employees, actual 2023/24; revised 2024/25, we had three; estimate 2025/26, five. According to what's been documented in employee numbers, I don't see 19045, Washington DC Office. I also don't see 19075, Brussels Office mentioned. I don't see any staff. What I do refer to is on Head 9, Cabinet Office, General Summary, page B-40, 0902, Economic Policy and Foreign Affairs. I see the budgets, but I don't see the staff that would be allocated.

The Chairman: Yes, I see. And that's page B-42.

Mr. Robert King: That is page B-42, correct.

The Chairman: Yes. Thank you.

Mr. Robert King: But in terms of looking for the salaries and the staff, refer to Head 9, Cabinet Office, General Summary, page B-40, 0902, Economic Policy and Foreign Affairs, so you can find the section.

The Chairman: [Programme] 0902 on page B-40 versus page B-42, yes. Okay. Thank you, MP.

Mr. Robert King: Question: on Head 9, Cabinet Office on page B-40, General Summary, 0902, Economic Policy and Foreign Affairs. The Washington and Brussels Offices have a combined total of $825,000 recorded as expenditure. And as I've said, there are apparently no staff. If these two offices had been closed, the decision would have been made after careful consideration of the pros and cons, and as such would have taken some time and planning. But according to what's here, it doesn't seem as though they exist. So, this must be a clerical error in terms of what's being recorded in the [Budget] Book.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Well, what I'm suggesting is it's in the [Budget] Book. It doesn't exist.

An Hon. Member: It's incorrect. It does exist.

Mr. Robert King: No, no, no, it does. But when you're listing the London Office, why aren't the Brussels and the Washington Offices documented there?

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Okay, so they've got budgets, but they don't have a cost estimate. But we'll get to that. You'll be able to answer that a little bit later.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Yes, so the interesting thing is that we've got a budget that was two months postponed, so that—

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order.

The Chairman: Yes, what is your point of order?

Hon. E. David Burt: Sorry, Mr. Chairman, I'm not going to allow this Honourable Member to talk foolishness on the floor.

The Chairman: What's your point of order?

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Hon. E. David Burt: The [Honourable Member] is misleading the House. It is clear that the offices are not closed because they have budget allocations. So, the Member can ask his questions, but to make the pronouncement that these offices are closed on the floor of this House, where people are listening, is completely false and disrespectful to the Bermudians who are working in those offices.

The Chairman: Okay, thank you, Premier.
MP, you have your answer in relation to that statement.

Mr. Robert King: I would suggest that it's disrespectful to the listening public to have a Budget Book that doesn't accurately reflect what is happening. That would be disrespectful.

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Yes, what is your point of order?

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Hon. E. David Burt: The Honourable Member is misleading the House. The Budget Book clearly and accurately reflects what is taking place. If the Honourable Member wants to ask the question, we can provide the answers. But to make assumptions and to state that these offices are closed is [factually] incorrect, and he should withdraw that comment because he said on the floor of the House that these offices are closed and that is not correct.

The Chairman: Honourable Member, MP King, please be guided—

Mr. Robert King: A point of clarification, sir.

The Chairman: —obviously you've asked a question, or you may ask a question.

Mr. Robert King: What I'm suggesting, Mr. Chairman, is that it gives the appearance that these offices don't exist or are closed because there's a budget, but they are not itemised the same way that the London Office has been itemised with the specific number. That is what I'm referring to. Whether or not they exist, that's another issue entirely. It's not recorded here next to the London Office.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Right, Honourable Member, I think we have the question, or I hope that those in the Chamber have the question.

Mr. Robert King: Well, it appears that the question is . . . it does exist, but it's not recorded as the London Office has been recorded in that specific section.

The Chairman: And this is in relation to page B-42 of the Budget Book.

Mr. Robert King: That is correct.

The Chairman: Right. Please proceed. I think the Premier has indicated he will answer that question in due course and you have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: Wonderful, thank you. Question: Has the public sector review completed? The business unit 19080 shows discontinued. If concluded, is this going to be tabled in the House?

The Chairman: This is page B-44, Honourable Member?

Mr. Robert King: That is correct.

The Chairman: Right, so business unit 19080, Head of Public Service, page B-44, the Budget Book, references to discontinued.

Mr. Robert King: That is correct.

The Chairman: Thank you. Please proceed.

Mr. Robert King: Page B-44, Head 9, Cabinet, Performance Measures, business unit 19045, Washington Office. Who is doing the job? How is this exceptional figure of three chosen as the target to achieve? With these targets being presented as aspirational goals, what is the target for the Casino Gaming Commission? I guess we should watch this space.

Question: What does this All Bermuda Party Parliamentary Group look like? It's the first that I've heard of it.

The Chairman: Just for clarification, we're on page B-43 and we're on business unit 19045 and you're referring to the establishment of the All Bermuda Parliamentary Group at the bottom of the page.

Mr. Robert King: That is correct.

The Chairman: Thank you. Please proceed, MP.

Mr. Robert King: What does the All Bermuda Party Parliamentary Group look like? Is the Government suggesting that it form another political party?

[Laughter]

Mr. Robert King: I'm just . . . I mean . . . here, it's unclear what it actually is. So, I'd like some clarification on that.

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Chairman. Point of order, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: What is your point of order?

Hon. E. David Burt: May I please ask, and I know it is not your role as you are sitting in the Chair, to please ask Members of your party in the Opposition, to learn this—

The Chairman: What is your point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Hon. E. David Burt: The Honourable Member is clearly misleading the House. As it has been stated in this House on many times, it has been stated in other places—all Overseas Territories have an All Party Parliamentary Group in the UK House of Commons, which is liaising with the London Office as other Overseas Territories do.

For this Honourable Member to get up here and say we're starting a new political party is nonsense. Can you please focus on the facts instead of making conjecture? We can answer the questions. If he doesn't know what it is, rather than trying to assume and saying, Is the Government doing X, Y, and Z? to say, Can the Minister please provide clarity on that? And we will happily provide the clarity for the Member, for the listening public, rather than engaging in this (in my opinion) shameless conjecture, which demeans this Honourable Committee.

The Chairman: Thank you, Premier.

Honourable MP King, I think you got your answer there to the question on page B-43, but if not, please proceed.

Mr. Robert King: I want to thank the Premier and Finance Minister for giving me a clear answer on the question. So, I appreciate that, and especially the delivery of that answer. That was extremely helpful, sir. Thank you for that.

Page B-44, Head 9, Performance Measures, business unit 19080, Head of Public Service.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: Develop and implement an updated Government reform plan. Actual outcome, 50 per cent, 2023/24. Revised forecast, 2024/25, 100 per cent. Target outcome, 2025/26, discontinued.

Hon. E. David Burt: Excuse me, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Sorry, are you inviting a point of clarification?

Hon. E. David Burt: I need to just try—

The Chairman: Honourable Premier, are you inviting—

Hon. E. David Burt: —to make sure that my team can answer the questions, if the Honourable Member will yield.

The Chairman: Is this a point of clarification?

Hon. E. David Burt: I'm just asking . . . Yes.

The Chairman: Okay. One moment, please.

MP King, are you happy to yield for a point of clarification?

Hon. E. David Burt: Okay.

The Chairman: Yes. Honourable Premier, you have the floor.
[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you.
MP King, the floor is yours. We're on page B-44, I believe.

Mr. Robert King: Correct. Head 9, Cabinet Office, page B-40, General Summary 0903, Government Reform. We've got [business units] 19020, Safety and Health; 19040, Ministry Administration; 19055, Management Services.

The Chairman: And, MP, forgive me just for a second. We've gone back now to page B-40, correct?

Mr. Robert King: That is correct.

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you. Please proceed.

Mr. Robert King: So, when we're looking at the budget, if we go back to 2017/18 for Health and Safety, and go all the way up to 2024/25, we've got over $500,000. And we've got a similar sort of situation for [business unit] 19040, Ministry Administration, Management Services was $591,000 in 2017/18. So, understanding that the purpose of government reform is to improve health and safety and the functioning, to ensure the welfare of the persons doing the job and persons affected by it, how do we then explain that the situation at the Department of Corrections continues to pose safety and health risks to officers, and this government has known about it, for more than two years?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman—

Mr. Robert King: Understanding that these audits have taken place, which have identified what the—

The Chairman: Yes. Sorry. We have a point of order?
One moment, please, MP King.
Yes. What's your point of order, Minister?

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Member needs to be . . . The Member is misleading. The debate on national security that he participated in was last week. He's asking us questions about the National Security budget.

The Chairman: Right. MP King, you have the floor.

My understanding is your questions were about page B-40, [General Summary] 0903, safety and health administration, but if I've misunderstood . . .

Mr. Robert King: No, no, no. No problem, because the Minister also made a statement about uniformed services and the health and safety.

The Chairman: I see.

Mr. Robert King: Corrections would be considered uniformed services.

The Chairman: Okay. Well, obviously, be guided—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Absolutely not.

The Chairman: One moment, please, [Shadow] Minister. Just be guided not to reflect on the debate, but you're entitled to ask questions on those topics on those pages.

Mr. Robert King: So, basically, this is in reference to the Minister's statement, not specifically as relates to this Cabinet head.

The Chairman: The statement in the brief as given this morning.

Mr. Robert King: Yes, exactly.

The Chairman: Please proceed.

Mr. Robert King: So, the question is, health and safety audits were conducted, uniformed services, et cetera, and known hazards to staff and inmates have gone unaddressed despite the audit.

So, I would like to know what strategic plan is in place with deadlines, timelines, et cetera, and resource allocation to address those serious needs. Especially understanding that there was a recent incident, I believe it was yesterday, when officers, I think it was approximately five, were seriously injured.

Head 9, Cabinet, performance measures, page B-44, business—

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIRMAN

HOUSE VISITOR

The Chairman: Member, before you move on, let me just recognise the Cabinet secretary who is in the Gallery. Thank you.

Please proceed.

[Committee of Supply, continuing]

Mr. Robert King: Business unit 19085, PATI/PIPA Unit. Performance measure: respond within five working days to request assistance with administrative and legal aspects of public access to information. Actual outcome 2023/24, 100 per cent. Revised forecast 2024/25, 100 per cent. Target outcome 2025/26, 100 per cent. Implementation of privacy initiatives for the Government of Bermuda, 100 per cent, 100 per cent, 100 per cent. Respond within five working days to requests for assistance with administrative and legal aspects of Personal Information Protection Act, non-applicable, non-applicable, 100 per cent.

The Chairman: Yes, and that's in relation to page B-44, business unit 19085, PATI/PIPA Unit.

Mr. Robert King: That is correct.

The Chairman: Thank you, MP King. Please continue.

Mr. Robert King: Question. Page B-44, business unit 19085, PATI/PIPA Unit. Performance measures.

The [brief] from the Minister spoke to customer satisfaction surveys. Wouldn't it be more . . . the question is, wouldn't it be helpful to determine if the response was productive? Were the achieved goals and aims achieved by those measures?

Question: Page B-44, business unit 19085, PATI/PIPA Unit, performance measures. What specifically is being referred to? The inference I'm drawing is that the recently introduced fee structures and new processes are anticipated to have the impact of keeping public information private, but this cannot be the case. But it would appear to be—which is supported by a projected 90 per cent reduction in revenue. So, I'm wondering how that projection was arrived at, or that prediction was arrived at. Page B-44, business unit 19085, PATI/PIPA—

The Chairman: Yes, still there.

Mr. Robert King: —Unit, performance measures. Question: Understanding that there is a suspicion and or perception that charging fees and the matrix that has been formulated regarding PATI requests will dissuade members of the public from seeking the answers to questions that are in the public's interest, how will the Government measure performance in this area?

On one hand, PATI requests will now potentially become a source of revenue for the Government, and making money is a good thing. But if the request is not handled with the respect and transparency and the standard of accountability that is demanded of Government officials and obviously the civil service

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman—

The Chairman: Just a moment, MP King. We have a point of order.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Point of clarification.

The Chairman: Point of clarification.

MP King, will you take a point of clarification? Will you yield?

Mr. Robert King: Not yet.

The Chairman: Not yet.

Sorry, Minister. He won't yield.
Please continue.

Mr. Robert King: On one hand, PATI requests will now potentially become a source of revenue for Government. Making money—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Point of order.

Mr. Robert King: —is a good thing.

The Chairman: One moment, please, MP. We have a point of order.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: If he doesn't want to accept the point of clarification. Point of order.

The Chairman: Yes, point of order. What's your point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Standing Order 20: Anticipation]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Member is anticipating debate. As he knows, we will be debating the budgets for the Privacy Information Commissioner and the other—I can't remember the name of the other head—on the non-ministries later this afternoon.

And these questions he's asking will be answered then.

The Chairman: So, Minister, as I see it, the business unit under discussion 19085 is at page B-44, and it's in this debate. And, therefore, as long as he is not misleading the House—and if he is, you can pull him up on it—he's entitled to ask these questions, I think.

MP King, you have the floor, but please be guided by the point about not anticipating a debate, which will happen later on today. But you're entitled to ask questions on page B-44 as you were.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you for your guidance and input from the Minister as well.

But if the requests are not handled with respect and transparency and the standard of accountability that is demanded of Government officials and officers of the civil service, the reduction of PATI requests may be interrupted wrongly.

So, I'm asking, what measures are going to be put in place to ensure that PATI requests are given the respect and the accountability and responsibility for treating each request properly. What measures will be put in place to do that? Because as it's been stated by constituents and others in the community, and also by the Information Commissioner, there were some concerns that the policies and procedures that have been materially changed as relates to PATI may cause some unintended consequences to the detriment of the people of Bermuda.

So, the question is, What is the performance measurement matrix to ensure that PATI requests are handled ethically, legally, and professionally, understanding the competing interests of revenue and the seeking of the truth?

I know this must have been extremely difficult to figure out. And for clarification, this is not a rhetorical question.

We know that in the past—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Again, point of information, Mr. Chairman?

The Chairman: Just a minute, Minister.
MP King, will you take a point of clarification?

Mr. Robert King: Sure.

The Chairman: Yes, the MP yields.
You have the floor, Minister.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: As I stated, anticipating debate. If the Member had looked on pages B-36, the Privacy Commissioner's Office, and B-37, the performance measures that we will be debating later, the questions he asks are answered.

The Chairman: Okay, Minister, that's a fair point.
MP King—I appreciate that this topic is [covered by] two different ministries or, more specifically, between this Ministry and the non-ministry debate for later this afternoon, so I will give you some leeway.

Mr. Robert King: Yes, yes, that's fine.

The Chairman: But do be guided by the answer, and I think the answer from the Minister was a fair point.

Mr. Robert King: Well, you know what?

The Chairman: Thank you. MP King, you have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: In the spirit of collaboration, absolutely. I mean, I'll have another opportunity, and this Honourable House will, to revisit it if necessary. So, thank you for that.

The Chairman: Please continue when ready, MP King.

Mr. Robert King: Page B-43, business units 19000 through 19080, performance measures.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: [Business unit] 19000, General Administration.

The Chairman: That's the top of page B-43, yes.

Mr. Robert King: Actual outcome, 2023/24, three-day turnaround of Cabinet conclusions, 90 per cent of the time; 100 per cent revised forecast, 2024/25; 100 per cent target outcome, 2025/26.

The question I have regarding [business unit] 19000, General Administration performance measures is, What are we actually measuring? If we're saying that 90 per cent of the time you've got a three-day turnaround, this doesn't appear to be something that we need to measure because we're achieving the targets, especially when you look at some of the other performance measures which have actually dipped. So, I'm just wondering why we are measuring this, a three-day turnaround, 100 per cent of the time with a 90 percent. It just seems like a waste of space on the page.

Page B-43, business unit 19020, Safety and Health performance measures. Questions: How many of the audit recommendations have been addressed? Sessions House—what's the plan to fix the health and safety problems there? When is it going to be fixed?

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Please proceed.

Mr. Robert King: Page B-43, business unit 19020, Health and Safety . . . Safety and Health performance measures. How many of the recommendations remain outstanding? How many buildings are still offline waiting to be repaired?

Page B-43, business unit 19035, London Office performance measures. Purpose of the office, roles and responsibilities, will it be resourced according to performance and meaningful targets met?

Head 9, Cabinet Office, page B-41, Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates, object code . . .

The Chairman: Yes, page B-41.

Mr. Robert King: Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates, object code description. Since being elected in 2017 and excluding COVID-19 spending, Cabinet Office spending has more than doubled, driven by a 113 per cent increase in salaries, 11 per cent (much higher than inflation) and a 250 per cent increase in professional services, yet the employee numbers did not fluctuate significantly. So, the question I ask is, although salaries have been increased, there does not seem to be a correlation between a salary increase and a commensurate improvement in service delivery.

So, I'm wondering why that is and what specific measures are put in place to ensure that persons are being fairly and appropriately compensated, especially when we consider that there have been many issues that have been as yet unresolved. So, I want to know what meaningful, specific, strategic plans are going to be put in place to ensure that persons are fairly compensated and are also held accountable to provide services, quality public service, to the people of this community. I mean, fundamentally, what benefits did Bermuda receive materially as a result of this spending?

Head 9, Cabinet Office, page B-41, Subjective Analysis of Current Account Estimates, object code description.

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: Rentals. Actual Outcome, 2023/24 $1,093,000. Revised Forecast, 2024/25, $1.144 million. Estimate, 2025/26, $1,135,000. Question: For a staff of 45 and expected to grow to 51, it appears disproportionate. Furthermore, wouldn't it make good economic sense to repair, renovate an existing government building or to purchase a building instead of paying high rents? But then, I guess it depends on who the landlord is.

How is this considered to be a good use of finances, especially when we add on the cost of electricity and other expenses? This short-term approach does not appear to be prudent and responsible use of government funds, and it is Cabinet, that is, the Ministry, whose responsibility it is to set the standard for government departments in the civil service. We in this Honourable House have come to accept that it's okay to watch our House of Assembly located a stone's throw away from this rented office space as being normal.

Meanwhile, you have wars raging in the Middle East, Africa, and Eastern Europe, where people are having their homes destroyed by war, who can do nothing about it because they are focused on staying alive. We have a choice. When we look at a historic budget surplus, two historic budget surpluses, money doesn't appear to be an issue.

When we have the recent cases of, for example, Savvy Entertainment, $800,000; Sandys 360, $800,000; Bermudiana Beach Resort, over $100 million spent, and the breakage fee of almost $500,000; the Casino Gaming Commission, $16 million and counting. The question I have is this—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Well, you know what? We've already gone past that.

[Laughter]

Mr. Robert King: And then the breakage fee of almost $500,000. The question I have is this: If we have an economy that is growing, a historic surplus for the second time in history, under a Progressive Labour Party Government, why hasn't the Honourable Premier and Minister of Finance made getting this actual House in order and lead by example? We talk about repurposing and bringing on the properties, bringing on line properties that have been abandoned and not fit for habitation.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Point of order.

Mr. Robert King: However, the words we—

The Chairman: Just a moment, please, MP.
Pause. Yes, we have a point of order.
What's your point of order, Minister?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I'm just trying to figure out . . . the MP, I believe, is misleading the House. He's going into surpluses and rental for this building, which would come under the Legislature, which would, again, be anticipating debate.

I'm just wondering what performance measures are we talking about or what page are we speaking of with this latest rant [sic]?

The Chairman: So, I had understood, leaving aside the word "rant," I had understood that we were on page B-41 under Rentals, under subjective analysis, but I will let the Honourable MP confirm where he was.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I was just . . . because he had mentioned rent, and he said—

The Chairman: Oh, rent, not rant—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: —where we are now. He said rentals and where we are now, which would fall under the Legislature and not under the Cabinet Office.

So, I'm just wondering what are we actually talking about because he then talked about wars.

The Chairman: So, MP—

Mr. Robert King: It's all for context, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Yes. I mean, obviously, try to . . . you're entitled to make your comments.

Mr. Robert King: Yes.

The Chairman: They don't have to be questions as directed by the speaker, but you do need to link them to a line item, and my understanding is you were on the subject of rentals.

Mr. Robert King: Yes. The point I'm making—

The Chairman: So, let's try to keep it in that area.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you. Thank you.

The Chairman: Yes, you have the floor, MP.

Mr. Robert King: The point that I'm making with my continued rant is that we should not continue to pay rent for properties when we have properties that need to be renovated, repurposed. When we are supposed to set the example for the civil service, how can we when we don't keep our own house in order? It makes no sense. It's disingenuous.

The Chairman: MP, while you are checking your notes, for the benefit of Honourable Members and the listening Committee of Supply for Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for budget year 2025/26, and the debate this morning is on the Ministry of Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation.

We have heard this morning from both the Premier and also from the Minister for the Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation, Diallo Rabain. We are now hearing questions and comments and debate from the Honourable Member for constituency 10, Robert King.

We have about another 15 minutes or so before the lunch adjournment.

MP King, you have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. So, the question I have is, when are we going to fix our broken home if we want to make sure that money for rentals of over a million dollars per year is reduced? The only way we can do that is if we move into buildings that we own.

Those are my submissions. Thank you.

Are we going to continue on?

The Chairman: We have another 15 minutes. So, would you like to continue with questions for the next 15 minutes? No, we're not rising early, unless anyone says otherwise.

No. So please continue with further questions.

Mr. Robert King: So those are my questions.

The Chairman: For Head 9?

Mr. Robert King: Yes. So, I'll wait for the answers.

The Chairman: Well, let me just check.

Honourable Premier, do you want to close out Head 9 before lunch, or do you want the Honourable Member to put questions on all heads? I'm in your hands.

Hon. E. David Burt: I've been informed that there are additional questions from the Opposition on Head 9, so we'll take them all.

The Chairman: Fine. No problem.

Honourable Member King, if you're going to pause there on Head 9, let me just see if there are any other Members who wish to contribute to the debate.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you.

The Chairman: Or you can proceed with further questions.

Are there any other Honourable Members who wish to continue the debate?

I see . . . no. Yes? Okay.

The Honourable Member for constituency 25, MP DeCouto. You have the floor. And as I said, we have about 15 minutes or thereabouts.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Okay. Turning to page B-41.

The Chairman: Yes.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Under Revenue, the PATI fees was for last year budgeted at $50,000. Revised is at $50,000 and estimated to come in at $5,000.

Can we understand if that revised estimate of $50,000 is simply a carryover of the budget or have there been substantial fees actually paid? And then what is the difference between the . . . if substantial fees were actually paid in 2024/25 to get to $50,000, how do we arrive at the $5,000 estimate for the coming financial year?

The Chairman: Yes.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you.

Regarding the PIPA/PATI unit on page B-40, [business unit] 19085, the budget does seem relatively flat. And I'm referring also to the Government initiatives, as mentioned in the Throne Speech, on making more information publicly available to the public. Will the PATI/PIPA unit be involved in advising on that? Will that be a sort of separate group of people?

The Chairman: Yes.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I turn now to page B-42, employee numbers, and I see the addition of two people in the London Office. And if that was already addressed in the brief, I do apologise.

The Chairman: It was addressed in the brief.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you. I will skip that question.

The Chairman: Yes, there was a new deputy consular officer to assist Ms. Durrant, and there was a second post identified.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Great. Turning to page B-43, and I'm looking at business unit 19045, the DC Office.

The Chairman: Yes.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: And the All Party Parliamentary Group. From the Premier's comments, I take it to . . . I'm understood to believe that actually probably applied to the London Office. Could we get some description of who's in that group? And if it's a long list of people, maybe a general description of the sorts of members who are in it. We maybe don't need the full list of individuals.

Remaining on this page—

The Chairman: Page B-43?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, page B-43. The up-to-date database of Bermudian—in the same business unit, the 19045 DC Office—the database of Bermudian college students residing in the US. Could we be informed as to how that database is compiled and how that 50 per cent revised estimate for 2024/25 is arrived at?

I believe you'd probably have to know the total number of students from Bermuda in the United States to arrive at that 50 per cent. So, we'd love to understand how the Government arrives at that number.

The Chairman: Yes.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: And what they think it is. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Right. The direct . . . remaining on the same page, B-43, turning now to business unit 19035.

The Chairman: Yes, London Office.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, deliver on UK policy through seven UK government departments. Could we get a highlight of what they believe the top two priorities would be? For that policy objectives.

And then turning now to page B-44, under the head of Public Service, performance measures 19080.

The Chairman: Yes, I see that.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Customer complaints logged and responded to within 48 hours. I do appreciate that in 2023/24 [and] 2024/25, there seemed to be some system issue. But the revised forecast is only at 30 per cent with a target for this year of only 50 per cent. Could we have some commentary on why such a low target going forward? Because I would imagine a response could be as simple as an acknowledgement that we've received your request.

The Chairman: Yes.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: With a case number.

Those are my questions for this head, Mr. Chairman. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Member for constituency 25, MP Douglas DeCouto.

Does anyone else . . . I see someone else wants to contribute to the debate, or we can move for lunch.

No? You're going to come? Yes. It's MP . . . the Honourable Member for constituency 12.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and to the listening Bermuda.

As we go through these heads, I wanted to turn over to page B-63.

The Chairman: Yes, thank you, MP Cannonier.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Under employee numbers. And the Minister mentioned Minister "of" as he mentioned.

The Chairman: Minister for.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes.

The Chairman: Minister for. Minister for.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Oh, for. Minister for.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: I did actually check, and he is the only Minister for, everyone else is Minister of.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: I'm not sure how the duties change.

The Chairman: There we are.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Or differ.

The Chairman: He's going for it.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Under [business] unit 53050, Digital Services, the Minister mentioned about 10 positions that were funded for that we still need to fill. I was hoping that maybe . . . and I was trying to listen intently. He was reading so fast. But what exactly does a digital service person . . . what exactly do they do? And is this a hard-to-fill position?

I know that sometimes within Government, some of these positions are hard to fill, and that's quite a few people, 10-people positions.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: That we want to fill. So, if you could give us a little more detail about what exactly is it that they do, and are they likely to come locally? Do we have to recruit overseas for this type of position? And what's the significance of this, meaning that we really need 10 people? Give us more of a significance of why we need to fill all 10 of these positions, which I'm sure we need, obviously.

And then, if we can turn over to page B-65, under Training, business unit 53080. And I brought this up in talking about training.

The Chairman: This is still under the Department of Information and Digital Technologies.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes. My apologies.

The Chairman: No, no. I'm with you, page B-65.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Head 43.

Just curious as to how are we systematically working through the training of all departments in relation to some of our vulnerabilities, like a cyberattack. So, we know that we've been trying to upgrade everyone in these different departments. I mean, just opening up the wrong email or opening up an advert or something like that. What are some of the things that we are doing to work with all of the departments and getting everyone trained up and aware, even if it's not necessarily formal training, but aware of the vulnerabilities. How are we working through that with the training?

And then, here we go . . . when it comes to system integration, which has been a thing for some time now, and the Premier has himself taken on some of this to ensure that we get upgraded and systems are integrated within the Government itself. It is difficult sometimes for people when they have to go from one department to get this, and then they've got to go to another department to get this, all to just make sure that they get copies of something or get qualified or verified for something.

How are we coming along with system integration where we can ease some of the stress for the work that we're doing for the public to ensure that the systems are integrated? Can we get a progress report on that? Just a little bit about some of what we probably already have integrated. I mean, the Premier has spoken to some of that stuff before.

The Chairman: Yes. Yes, he has.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: But how are we progressing along? There was a time where even the—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, there was a time where the phone systems weren't even integrated. So, where are we with that process and progressing there? So, system integration.

And the next question I have would be is, with getting advice, and we know we've had consultants come in and advise us and give us some direction going forward on some of the progress of integration and even security when it comes to cyberattacks. Are we still using any consultants to guide us through the process? I can recall I was on Front Street, and I had gone to a restaurant. What's the restaurant up top there? Not Port. Above Brew. What's the restaurant above Brew?

The Chairman: Pickled Onion.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Pickled Onion. Yes. My favourite pasta there.

The Chairman: It would be something better.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: And there were some guys from Google, right? Guys—huh?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: No, not Port O Call. No, no, no, no, no, no. Upstairs is too expensive for me, Premier.

[Laughter]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Absolutely. Absolutely, mate. You're welcome to come any time. You're welcome to come any time.

But the question I have—

An Hon. Member: You'd have to pay for it.

[Laughter]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, yes—

[Laughter]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: The question I have is, are we using any consultancy services?

The Chairman: This is on professional services.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, yes—

The Chairman: [Page] B-63.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, correct. Are we using any professional services to help guide us through, not just with the integration of the process, but also with potential cyberattacks and the like?

And I brought up Google because I went there for lunch, and these Google guys were there, and they were just talking about how they were looking to help

Bermuda. And so, I'm not sure who we're using. Maybe we're using them. I don't know. But it's a two-pronged question in that, who exactly are helping us through the process? IT is a specialised area, you know, and it's not always where you can find the expertise just on the Island. You might be able to find some from, steal some from the international business, but . . . so—

The Chairman: MP Cannonier, we are probably going to pause there and go to lunch, but if you only have a few left, then I'm happy to let you.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, just one more question then.

The Chairman: Okay, I'll let you finish if that's all right. Go ahead.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, just one more question. And over on page C-9.

The Chairman: Yes—is that grants?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: No, capital—

The Chairman: No, capital acquisitions.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Acquisitions, yes. I must say I'm glad to see the investment of $6.5 million.

The Chairman: This is on information digital technology still?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: That's correct, on information digital technology.

The Chairman: Indeed, Cabinet as a whole.
Yes, I see.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: And I'm glad to see that we have this commitment. I'm sure it probably is costing us way more than that to get us to where we need to be. And so, I was just curious, the Minister was talking about network upgrades, and he mentioned firewall enhancements and the like. If the Minister can tell us a little more about where we are with securing ourselves and how comfortable he feels that we are. I know this is a work in progress, so I get it. This is not an easy area, so it's always something to upgrade because hackers are always trying to upgrade their skill sets as well.

But are we in a position now, three years on, since the major cyberattack, are we a bit more comfortable with where we are infrastructure-wise, technology-wise, firewall-wise? And what are some of the things that we can foresee going in the future? What are some of the plans going into the future based on where we are just today?

What can the Minister tell us, how we can be a bit more confident? There's no 100 per cent proof, so it could happen—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: It could happen next week, whatever the case may be. So, I've asked the question. I have asked the question.

The Chairman: Thank you, MP Cannonier.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: I've asked the question.

The Chairman: If that's a convenient—

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: If he can elaborate, yes.

The Chairman: —if that is a convenient place.

So, thank you, MP Cannonier. Thank you also to MPs King and DeCouto.

Premier, if you'd like to take us to lunch.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman.

I move that the Honourable, I guess, Committee of Supply do adjourn until 2:00 pm.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the Honourable Committee of Supply do adjourn until 2:00 pm.

Any objection?

There being none, we move until 2:00 pm.

[Gavel]

Proceedings in Committee suspended at 12:32 pm

Proceedings in Committee resumed at 2:01 pm

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Chairman]

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE YEAR 2025/26

CABINET OFFICE AND DIGITAL INNOVATION

[Continuation thereof]

The Chairman: Members, we are resuming in Committee of Supply.

[Gavel]

The Chairman: Members, we shall resume with the Minister of Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation. We are looking at Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43 and 80.

We have approximately an hour and a half, I believe. I think it is one hour and 35 minutes. Correct?

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: Approximately an hour and a half, so I believe we end this debate at 3:25 pm.

Are there any Members who wish to speak to Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43 or 90?

I recognise the Member from constituency 10. Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: Good afternoon, Madam Chairman, Members of the House and the listening public.

I will be addressing questions regarding Head 13, Post Office, page B-45 through B-51.

Head 13, Post Office General Summary, Operations 22410, Courier Services. Actual 2023/24 was $239,000; revised 2024/25 is $10,000; estimate 2025/26 is $9,000.

Current account estimates Head 13, Post Office, page B-47, Description. Salary $6.596 million—

The Chairman: Member, did you want to ask any questions?

Mr. Robert King: No, no, no. I am just setting the table. That's all.

The Chairman: Okay.

Mr. Robert King: Just setting the table, that's all.

The Chairman: Okay.

Mr. Robert King: All right. So we got salaries.

[Inaudible interjection and laughter]

Mr. Robert King: Make sure everybody who needs to be at the table is. Right?

Salaries, the salary bump. That was explained and we understood that across the board. There was a salary bump that would increase the amount of expenditure in wages similarly. I do note on Head 13, page B-47, Training. Actual 2023/24 was $13,000; revised 2024/25 was $5,000; estimate 2025/26 is $25,000. So page B-47, Training. Understanding that staff development requires necessary training and the gaining of experience especially as we move towards AI and technologies to improve speed and efficiencies, how do you account for the wild fluctuations in the training budget? In 2024/25 it was a mere $5,000. How does this reduction in the Training budget promote and support skill acquisition on the new format especially for the more senior members of staff?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Point of clarification.

Mr. Robert King: Good.

The Chairman: Do you yield, Member? Yes. Minister.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I am at pains to try and explain to the Honourable Member, how to read a Budget Book. It was budgeted for $20,000. The revised estimate means that despite being budgeted that's what was spent. Sometimes we spend less sometimes we spend more. That's why it is a revised estimate. This year we are budgeting more than we spent . . . than we budgeted for the previous year. That's how you read the Budget Book.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister. Member.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you. That wasn't helpful at all. We all know how to read a Budget Book. What I was asking for—

[Inaudible interjections]

An Hon. Member: You do not.

Mr. Robert King: No, we do.

An Hon. Member: No, you don't!

Mr. Robert King: Actually, we do because that is why some things—

The Chairman: Excuse me. Speak to the Chair, please. Thank you. Your questions?

Mr. Robert King: Repair and maintenance, page B-47. How many buildings does the post office currently have? How many need significant repairs? Are there going to be any closures of post offices due to online shopping, e-billing and a declining population?

Page B-47, Rentals. Question: Why are we paying approximately over $1.23 million in rentals? Wouldn't a strategic plan suggest that purchasing a building or renovating an existing building would be more cost-effective in the short- and long-term?

So, the question is, Why do we continue to rent buildings over the course of three years, six years? It's millions of dollars. We could actually have purchased a building which meant that we could properly establish ourselves in those locations—staff, training. Everything just runs a lot smoother if you are in control of the costs involved with operating your business.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: You'll have your turn.

Head 13, Post Office, page B-48, Revenue Summary, 8312.09, MyBermudaPost fees, actual 2023/24 is $448,000; revised 2024/25 was $509,000; estimate 2025/26 is $523,000.

Head 13, Post Office, page B-49, Employee Numbers 125, 125, 125—across the board from 2023. Regarding page B-48, Revenue Summary, 8312.09, MyBermudaPost fees. Question: How is the difference of $17,000 recorded as zero per cent, understanding that we need to be accountable for all spending of the people's money. We must be careful not to make too many slips of the pen and yet these errors appear to be common and expected. So I am just trying to understand how come there are so many errors in this budget given that extra time was given?

Page B-48, Revenue Summary, 8312.09, MyBermudaPost fees. Question: Understanding that the Government states that it supports local businesses, what measures does the Government take to ensure that it is not competing directly with local businesses? I'm thinking of Mailboxes and ZipX when I ask that question.

Page B-49 Employee Numbers. Question: Are there any plans to close down a post office or post offices due to the reduced demand due to population, eBills, online shopping, in an effort to improve efficiencies and save money?

Head 13, Post Office Performance Measures, [Programme] 325, Administration and Finance, found on page B-50. How does the post office plan to increase revenue with the reduced amount without raising fees? Employee numbers: Are there any plans to close down the post office or post offices due to the reduced demand?

Page B-50, Performance Measures. Question: Same question.

Those are my submissions for Head 13, Post Office.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the heads? Head 13, in particular, but other heads as well.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Madam Chairman.

Regarding Head 13, and associated with the revenue source, 8312.09, MyBermudaPost Fees, page B-48. Could the Honourable Minister please provide an estimate of the total cost required to run that service? Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you. Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43, or 80?

I recognise the Member from constituency 10. Member, you have the floor.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you.

I'll be speaking to Head 18, Libraries and Archives.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Mr. Robert King: Pages B-52 through B-56. Having visited the National Archives I was most impressed with the professionalism of the staff. In particular, Ms. Karla Inlemann, who gave me a comprehensive tour of the operations and explained the vital role it has in preserving Bermuda's history and culture. What was apparent was the passion and commitment all employees demonstrated. And I was inspired.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Towards that end, I inquired about the needs of the Libraries and Archives.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Yes.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: You enjoying the meal yet?

An Hon. Member: A full meal.

[Laughter and crosstalk]

Mr. Robert King: Thank you for that. Encouragement always help—

The Chairman: Members, please speak to the Chair. Yes.

Mr. Robert King: I really appreciate the guidance of this Honourable House. Thank you for that.

Towards that end, I inquired about the needs of Libraries and Archives. It was learned that the Archives has outgrown its space and that in order to present and preserve the documents and books they need a purpose-built facility. I'm getting to the question now.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Mr. Robert King: I know that Minister Rabain also met with the incredible staff there. And I'm confident that he's in agreement with the comments I'm making with regard to this head.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Well, let's see how we end up.

It was suggested that creating another—

The Chairman: Member, before you . . . just make sure that when you do get to the question that you associate them with a line item.

Mr. Robert King: Okay.

The Chairman: Because this is not the general debate, so you have to be specific.

Mr. Robert King: Okay.

The Chairman: Okay. All right.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Mr. Robert King: So, I'm going to eat with my hands now. That's okay. It is a simple meal.

Pages B-52 through B-56, Strategic plan. What is the strategic plan to secure or repurpose a building or space to house the Archives in order to preserve our cultural artifacts?

Question: Regarding the Internet centre in relation to the statement that the Minister made, with regard to the Internet centre not being operational, can the Honourable Member provide an explanation as to how the Centre did not become operational? What were the barriers and what strategic plan is in place to provide youth and members of this community with a centre that will assist them in gaining the necessary knowledge and skills to compete successfully in the world of AI?

Question: Regarding the 25 arrest episodes at the National Library and one prosecution, what strategic plan is in place to protect members of the public, young and old and of different abilities, from harassment, threats, and antisocial behaviour? This has been an ongoing issue and is related to the culture of antisocial behaviour in our city parks.

Page B-55 Performance measures, [business unit] 28060, Adult Services. Question: What is the rationale for setting the standards so low? What are the barriers that are contributing to this disappointing service level?

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Well, go to the section. You'll find it.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: No. Member, can you indicate which line item because if the Minister is to answer—

Mr. Robert King: Page B-55, Performance Measures—

The Chairman: —he needs to know what you are talking about.

Mr. Robert King: —[business unit] 28060, Adult Services.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Mr. Robert King: Yes, it's okay.
Page B-55, Performance Measures—

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of information, if I may. If the Honourable Member wishes to yield.

The Chairman: Member? Yes—

Mr. Robert King: Well, actually, no.

Hon. E. David Burt: Okay. Well, I will just say that we cannot answer the question because we do not know what he is referring to.

The Chairman: Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: So, if the Honourable Member wants an answer to the question, state what he is asking so we can answer it.

The Chairman: I will—

Mr. Robert King: I've already dealt with that.

The Chairman: —I will . . . Member, to make easier—

Mr. Robert King: Yes.

The Chairman: —because under Performance Measures you have different areas. If you state for each question which specific performance measure you are looking at, so for instance, if it is 28060, and you are talking about users satisfied with the main library programmes,—

Mr. Robert King: Yes, exactly.

The Chairman: —you can ask, you know, in what . . . how they propose to reach 100 per cent or something like that.

Mr. Robert King: Okay.

The Chairman: Okay.

Mr. Robert King: Fair enough. Thank you for the guidance.

The Chairman: You are welcome.

Mr. Robert King: Page B-55, Performance Measures, [business unit] 28060, Adult Services. Increased number of people attending programmes over previous year, 2023/24, actual outcome 250 per cent; revised forecast 2024/25 is -5 per cent; target outcome 2025/26 is 10 per cent. What is the rationale for setting the standard so low? What are the barriers that are contributing to this disappointing service level?

Page B-56, Performance Measures, 28110, Youth Services. Increased number of people attending programmes over previous year. Question: The standard is 16 per cent down to 10 per cent. So, you start with 16 per cent and then 2025/26, you have got the target down to 10 per cent. I am asking why the target is—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Point of clarification.

Mr. Robert King: —going in the opposite direction?

The Chairman: Do you yield to the point of clarification? Yes, the Member yields.

Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Well, we did have a conversation about how to read the Budget Book. These are not standards being set. This is an actual recording of the people who showed up. This is not . . . this is not a performance measure that is saying This is the percentage we want. This is recording the number of people who showed up.

Mr. Robert King: Well, that's helpful.

The Chairman: So does that help?

Mr. Robert King: That is extremely helpful—

The Chairman: Okay.

Mr. Robert King: —because . . . and the reason why it is helpful is if you see that the number of people who are showing up to your facility is low, if you are a restaurant or if you are a hotel you would take a look at that, look at the data, and then you would make some changes. What the Honourable Minister is saying is, We will accept that people . . . fewer of them are coming here.

The Chairman: Member, Member—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Point of order.

The Chairman: One second, Minister.

Member, you cannot speak for the Minister. And he did not say that. What you can do is ask a question that says, like, What sort of measures will you put in place to try to increase the numbers?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you.

The Chairman: You can ask that kind of question, but you cannot speak for the Minister.

Mr. Robert King: I was getting there. I'm sorry.

The Chairman: All right.

Mr. Robert King: So that would be the question. What measures are being put in place so that you can inspire persons to show up and take advantage of the services?

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Thank you.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Robert King: Okay. Those are my submissions under Library and Archives. Thank you.

The Chairman: Okay.

Are there any there any other Members who wish to speak to the heads falling under the Ministry of Cabinet Office.

No . . . yes, are there any other Members? Okay.

I recognise the Member from constituency 25. Member, you have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes. Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Regarding the Head 18, Library and Archives, I did want to say thank you to the briefing, those who normally have a passion for the digitisation of key components of Bermuda's history. I know that the library has an extensive collection known as the "Bermuda Collection," if I have it correct. Could we have a comment on the fraction of that valuable resource that has been digitised by the library?

Thank you, Madam Chairman. That is my question on that head. But I can continue with other questions on other heads if that—

The Chairman: You may—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —would be—

The Chairman: —because we are looking at all the heads.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you.

Regarding the Department of Planning, I am turning to page B-60, performance measures and I see there is the business unit, Customer feedback satisfaction. And the revised forecast is 100 per cent. I presume that is for—

An Hon. Member: What page is that?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Page B-60, the second row under General Administration, business unit—

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I see there is Conduct customer feedback satisfaction. I assume that means that that survey was done. But how would the Minister, how would the department quantify the customer satisfaction last year? And do they have a target goal for the actual customer satisfaction? I mean, for example, in some areas people use the term—

The Chairman: I think the Minister understood that question. Yes? Okay.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Those are my questions at this time.

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 10. Member, you have the floor.

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: Yes.

[Crosstalk and laughter]

Mr. Robert King: A moment of levity. We all appreciate that.

Head 32, Department of Planning, Employee Numbers, page B-59, 2023/24 actual outcome 32; revised forecast for 2024/25 is 33; estimate for 2025/26 is 36. Question: Staffing levels have not differed drastically, and we accept that digitisation improves service delivery through efficiencies. We cannot attribute poor service delivery to staffing. The question I pose is, What barriers to include management practices other are negatively impacting on service delivery?

Subjective analysis of current account estimates, page B-58, Salaries, $3,447,000. Stable with an uplift. Employee numbers, stable. Might the training budget have something to do with performance results? [It appears that] $1,000 for training contradicts the Minister's statements regarding staff development for training. What is the actual amount budgeted for training? What are the specific areas that have been identified as being skill deficient? What specific time lines? What SMART objectives have been set?

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Robert King: Page B-61, Performance Measurement Permits. Question: What was the longest wait time for a commercial and/or residential permit? What specific strategy is being used to address the delays? Contract, staff, bonuses, overtime, fast-tracking applications. I remember some time ago that the Supreme Court actually cleared some of its cases by giving persons discounts. So, we can be innovative in our approach to solving problems.

Current Expenditure, page B-38, Cabinet Office training . . . No. That's it for that. Thank you.

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak?

I recognise the Member from constituency 25. Member, you have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Just a point of clarification on the process. If we have questions that come up later, will we have a chance to continue to ask questions?

[Crosstalk and laughter]

The Chairman: As long as appropriate time is given.

[Inaudible interjections]

An Hon. Member: If you don't speak for very long—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Understood.

An Hon. Member: Don't set the table. Ask your questions, it might be easier.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Well, when you want to have a feast, Madam Chairman, you must prepare it carefully.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Yes.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Madam Chairman.

Turning to Head 43, Information and digital technologies.

The Chairman: Page number?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes. Starting on page B-62, I am just referring to my notes here, Madam [Chairman.]

I think we have heard . . . I guess I would look to . . . this is referring to the brief. We heard that there was an acting chief information officer [CIO] in place. How long do . . . how long has that acting CIO been in place? And what are the plans, or when should we expect a full-time substantive chief information officer to be put in place, Madam President . . . sorry, excuse me. I'm having a little flashback there . . . Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Chairman.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: That is one question.

The Chairman: Is this falling under service support? Which line item—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I was referring to comments made in the brief by the Minister about the acting CIO.

The Chairman: Okay.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Also, the Office 365 deployment, was . . . was . . . was referred to. When is that plan to be . . . is that fully completed? And if not, when is the timeline for that to be fully completed? That would be my second question.

The Chairman: So, honestly, I just need to know what line item you are attaching that to.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Well, these were items that were referred to in the brief. And—

Hon. E. David Burt: It would be referring to a line item in the brief.

The Chairman: Yes.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Sure.

The Chairman: When the Minister's read their brief, it does fall under a line item and/or head. All of that. So . . .

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: So, for the first question regarding the acting CIO, I think we could associate it with . . . on page B-63, under the employee numbers. I would imagine under the Admin and Management, the 53000, Madam Chairman.

For the Microsoft Office 365, for me that sounds like Digital Services and on page B-62, I would associate it under—

An Hon. Member: Capital acquisitions.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —Capital acquisitions. Thank you to the Minister for that assist.

The Chairman: Okay.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Let me just refer back to my notes. And under page B-63, under Security, 53090, for Security services such as monitoring and threat assessment and penetration testing. Do we have those as an ongoing subscription or it a sort of one-time cost? And if so, what is the annual cost of the subscription?

Hon. E. David Burt: A lot of subscriptions.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, well—

An Hon. Member: Finish your questions.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you.

The Chairman: Okay.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: So, this subscription is related to basically security monitoring, threat assessment, penetration testing. I think, especially with what was on the Order Paper these days we can appreciate the importance of that. Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Those are my questions at this moment. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the heads?

I recognise the Member from constituency 10. Member, you have the floor.

Hon. E. David Burt: All right. Dinner time now.

[Crosstalk]

Mr. Robert King: [Microphone not on.]

The Chairman: What page are you on, Member?

Mr. Robert King: [Microphone not on.]

The Chairman: B-64.

Mr. Robert King: [Microphone not on.]

The Chairman: Thank you. Thank you.

Mr. Robert King: In relation to protecting against cybersecurity threats. So, the question I have is: What percentage of the Government department are in full compliance with virus software and licensing agreements to make sure that antivirus software is up to date and functioning properly?

An Hon. Member: One hundred per cent.

Mr. Robert King: How many departments and areas?

An Hon. Member: One hundred per cent.

Mr. Robert King: Well, how many—

The Chairman: Excuse me. Speak to the Chair.

Mr. Robert King: Well, it could be one.

The Chairman: Speak to the Chair, please.

Mr. Robert King: One hundred per cent could be one.

The Chairman: Member, speak to the Chair. Is that your only question?

Mr. Robert King: That's my only question.

The Chairman: Okay.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43 or 80?

I recognise the Member from constituency 10. Member, you have the floor.

Hon. E. David Burt: Afternoon drinks now.

Mr. Robert King: [Microphone not on.]

The Chairman: I did not hear you, Member.

Mr. Robert King: Head 80, Project Management and Procurement, page B-75. Page B-76, eight employees. Page B-76, Current account training, 2023/24, $1,000. Revised 2024/25 was $3,000. And 2025/26 is $3,000. Understanding that skill acquisition, maintenance and understanding also that the use of digital technologies, especially for the older folks and those who might not be tech-savvy, will require to be retrained and upskilled to ensure that they can meet the demands of their roles. So, my question is, Understanding the implications of digitisation of services, why is the training budget so low in comparison to what the apparent need is?

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Any other questions, Member?

Mr. Robert King: Just a moment. Thanks.

The Chairman: I will remind the listening public that we are in the budget debate, the Ministry of Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation. We are now looking at Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43 and 80.

Mr. Robert King: I will ask another question. The statement made by the Minister in relation to training is that we put people first. I am not seeing how that is reflected in the budget, especially as it relates to training and resources for that department. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to—

[Inaudible interjection]

The Chairman: It was a comment.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43 and 80?

At this time I will call on the Minister if he has any responses that he wishes to share.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: I'll start it off.

The Chairman: Oh, you'll start? Okay. Thank you, Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

[Pause]

Hon. E. David Burt: Madam Chairman, I will try to, as best as possible, to answer the questions which were posed for Head 9.

We will start, the Shadow Minister might not like the answers, but I am going to answer so hopefully he will learn the next time around the budget, or maybe even the next debate afterwards to ask proper questions so that he can actually get answers.

He asked a question insofar as the training budget has been reduced by $93,000. The training budget has not been reduced by $93,000. So, I cannot answer a question that is based on a false premise.

He asked a question for PATI, what performance measures will be implemented to ensure effective service delivery to the public? Now, of course, that is dealing with public authority. In other words, because there is the actual PATI office, per se, but the work in which we do in the office basically states that we continue to train. It is very difficult with persons having to do their regular jobs and also serve as information officers. But we will continue to support the work, and the brief did cover all the various training matters that we do surrounding there.

Of course, there was the question which came after the ridiculous assertion that the Brussels Office and the DC Office are closed, which as I indicated in the intervention which was highly disrespectful to the incredibly talented Bermudians who work and staff those offices in addition to—

Mr. Robert King: Point of order. The Honourable Member is misleading—

The Chairman: Member, just a minute. Your point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Mr. Robert King: He is intentionally misleading the House.

The point is that where those two centres were supposed to be, next to the London Office, were not in the position in the [Budget] Book where they ought to have been. So, if they are not there, you could not refer to them. That's the point. They are in there because they have a budget, but in terms of the descriptive place where they are supposed to be, they were not. That was the point that was being made.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Hon. E. David Burt: It is very unfortunate that the Shadow Minister is taking the Shadow Minister of Finance's time who said he might want to respond with more questions. And I might just advise him that if he waits, he might actually get the answer. But if he wants to point-of-order me this entire time, it is perfectly fine. That's him, it is the Opposition's debate. But I am going to say what I am going to say in response to what he said.

So, it is unfortunate that the Shadow Minister made the assertion that these offices were closed. And if we want to remember what he said, he said, I think there should be a whole bunch of planning in advance. So, I am surprised to learn and understand that these offices are closed because there are no staff who are listed for them. And it has been stated, last year in the budget debate and in the budget debate before and also in this year's brief. The persons who are in those offices are not public officers, they are consultants. They are Bermudians and that is the reason why they are not listed underneath those matters because the people who are listed under manpower numbers are those who are actual public officers in established posts as per the laws of the country and underneath the Constitution.

But it is not correct to say those offices are closed. It is not correct to say that those offices are not staffed. It has been reported in this House who staffs Ms. Aliyyah Ahad, staffs the Brussels Office. She is an incredible worker. There is an intern in that office, a young Bermudian as well who is working over there. And in the DC Office it is Mr. Anthony Howell, who has been working in that office who is another talented Bermudian. Both of those young Bermudians have multiple degrees, work incredibly hard, support the office, support the country, et cetera

So those offices are not closed. That is the reason why there is no manpower numbers. And this is something that we covered last year and the year before. And I remember the Opposition used to be very good at reading what the responses were last year on these questions. And I hope that the Honourable Shadow Minister, maybe the Opposition Whip will remind the Honourable Member that in order to make best use of your time you might not want to ask the same questions that have already been answered year after year after year and make false assumptions from them.

We will move on. There was a question regarding salary increases. And the salary increases are based on public sector negotiations that have taken place. So, I'm not entirely certain what more he wants . . . I am sure the Honourable Member was a former public officer. I think he would know how salary negotiations take place in regard to unions and collective bargaining agreements.

So let me state to the particular question because there is something that is an error on page B-43. On page B-43, it's listed under business unit, DC Office 19045. The last performance measure. It says, Establishing the Bermuda All-Party Parliamentary Group. That should be under the London Office. And the reason why this is a new performance measure is because as the Honourable House would be aware, as we did offer condolences, et cetera, for that, the Chair of the Bermuda All-Party Parliamentary group was unfortunately murdered in the United Kingdom due to terrorism which was widely covered.

And it was not a . . . and so the fact is that the London Office has established a particular performance measure to reestablish that group. That identifies finding a new Chair who will be a Member of the House of Commons to go ahead and to get that group [going] now that there is a new Parliament in place. I can advise the House that the work has not just started, it is well in train. The London Office has written me to ask my views and opinions. We have identified someone. I'm not going to disclose their name here. The London Office is going to write and hopefully that Member of Parliament will accept that chairman role. And we also have a number of persons who are familiar with Bermuda who we are inviting to sit on the Bermuda All-Party Parliamentary group so we can get it back up and running following the unfortunate, untimely demise of our Chair, Sir David Amess.

There was a question regarding the Government Reform Plan agenda and status. I gave a full Ministerial Statement on that in this Honourable House, and I advise the Honourable Member to read that. He asked when they will be shared and tabled. It was tabled that day and put it inside the public domain. So I cannot answer a question based on matters that are already inside of the public domain.

[The Honourable Member] had asked about health and safety challenges in the Department of Corrections which I think were covered in the brief on the very first day by the Junior Minister of Justice. I think they may have also been covered the Ministry of Public Works' brief. And I think they were covered in this where allocations have been made, and the updates were given there. So I'm not going to answer for other Ministers. What I can say is the Health and Safety Office is involved in the coordination of those particular exercises. And the questions of which he's referring to are not under this specific budget line item.

There was a question on page B-44. Were the relative projections achieved for the units? And this I'm guessing is dealing with the performance measures for the PATI and PIPA units. Item number one, PATI/PIPA unit response to departments contacting for assistance. Item number two includes the developments of the privacy programme created leveraging international best practice. Guidance issued from the Privacy Commissioner's offices and in consultation with other jurisdictions who have privacy and data protection programmes in operations. And item number three is a new performance measure.

Moving forward. On page B-44 to PATI. I think it is important to note and remind that there is no fee to make a PATI request. We know the history of the upper limit. And appropriate limit amendments that were made last year in these Honourable Houses. And I'm happy to take any specific question, but I don't want to spend the time reading and rehashing what is inside of the law, as we are trying to make sure we actually dig into the details. So I'm going to try to be brief and only answer questions that are posed and are relevant.

I'm trying to move on through the questions that were asked. There was a question that was based around the London Office and judging performance. I will answer and say that the London Office maintains a constant database log for the assistance of Bermudians in the UK. The student database is currently 300. To ensure strategic oversight and constitute a policy, the London Office maintains a comprehensive cross-ministry policy tracker which monitors the progress of all relevant policy items to the Government of Bermuda that interact with international engagement, UK government coordination, and multilateral commitment. Over 60 policy items are currently being closely tracked in advance in coordination with ministries in Bermuda. The London Office staff are public officers and adhere to the same guidelines as the Government's governance transparency and accountability measures.

There's a question, Will PATI/PIPA advise the provision of more information to the public initiative. And the answer is yes. The PATI/PIPA unit works collaboratively with the groups enabling digital transformation to ensure more information management and privacy requirements are in place for the provision of proactive publication of information. The upcoming information upgrades to the government portal will provide greater capacity for information provided to the public. Also, the work of which we're doing in digital transformation, AI, I know I covered it inside of my particular budget brief on head . . . talking about exposure of financial information.

But even yesterday . . . and I'll talk about things that the Shadow Minister of Finance may not know. We are exploring the implementation of connecting the model context protocol into our JD Edwards EnterpriseOne System which will allow natural language interactions so that members of the public can get information on financial information. Because it is not something that needs to be private, but it is just the difficulty of this. And this kind of gets to also the information with the Government Whip who was talking about, you know, these systems talking to each other. The advantages of which are taking place in the work and the resources of which you've seen significant additional resources insofar as information technology are going to enable that to be brought forward.

To make a small political comment in a response to the questions, Government is known for trying to keep its campaign promises. And we have promised to expose more information to the public and we will make sure to do that. And I'm happy for the Honourable Members opposite to hold us to account for that.

There was a question, DC Office, US-based college students, how is the list maintained and tracked across the compound? The database has not been completed. The 50 per cent completion mark is based off the total completion of the overall action. The DC Office is currently working for the Department of Education to complete the action. Currently the framework of which information will be compiled is how it will be implemented. And other matters pertinent to the establishment of the database have been worked out completing the first phase, hence the 50 per cent measure. And this is similar to what I had stated inside of the brief.

Page B-43, London Office, UK Government departments. What are the two top priorities for this office? The two top priorities are delivering on the outcomes of the Joint Ministerial Council of which there are 71 deliverable actions. Notable items: Bermuda is working with UK export finance on infrastructure, developing opportunities relating to credit guarantees and accessing further financing opportunities. Additionally, the London Office is working on exploring territorial extension for UK free trade agreements with their alignments with Bermuda's industries. And I am happy for the Honourable Member to refer to the JMC communiqué which was published, and I stated in this Honourable House in a Ministerial Statement in November.

I think the next question is for Head 43. I think I'm done with Head 9. I think it's over to . . . Oh, I have one more question for Head 9. Performance measures under [business unit] 19080, customer complaint's response number, performance measure, 100 per cent of the complaints receive an automated response. The department is in the process of onboarding required administrators to be trained to manage the back-up complaint system. This is something that is new. We committed in public sector reform, as you would well know, Madam Chairman, to make sure that we also measure. So, the fact that we've created an online feedback form, we are rolling out to various departments the forms that will go up, which are QR codes. Which most people know how to use. Where they can just scan or automatically link. They can say whether they received good service or bad service. But all these things will get a response. And just for information since January 2025, so that's five months now, there have been 138 submissions to the feedback form . . .

I believe that is all for Head 9. I will defer to the Minister for the Cabinet Office for the rest.

The Chairman: Thank you, Premier.

I call on the Minister. Minister [Rabain].

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Madam Chairman, I will begin . . . they were actually kind of going a bit not in order.

The Chairman: Right.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: So, I will start with, I believe it was the Honourable Member Cannonier who had asked questions about IDT. I do see a question . . .

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: And so, I'm looking at . . . the first question is training, IDT. How are we working through the training of all departments with regard to protections against cyberattacks? IDT currently performs quarterly cybersecurity awareness training for Government users. It's aimed to arm users with best practices. Additionally, they do stimulated phishing of emails to make users more aware of threats. I also will add to that that if anyone who is a public officer knows, you get the e-mail that says you must conduct, you must do this self-training, and if you do not, your access to the network will be terminated. And you have to get it reset. But you have to show that you have gone through the cyber training for that.

Next question is [regarding] government system integration. How are we coming along with system integration? Can we have a progress report? On this fiscal year IDT will focus on establishing the foundation for future integration projects. The accelerator is a small phase integration and there are currently three accelerator 100-day accelerator projects that are going on. And I know two of them talk specifically about integrating government data together and to avoid . . . and I believe this is another one that MP Cannonier had asked about. And one of them is to address the why do I have to submit the same information at multiple government offices? Why can't I do it once and it's spread and it's given to everybody? So that's one of the projects that is currently being worked on. And I believe we're about 20 days into that.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Twenty-five! See, my memory is getting better, Twenty-five days into that.

So, in 75 days we should have, I should be coming back here to say, Hey, we have some solutions.

Then we have cybersecurity consultants. Do we have them? Yes, we do. We do have and we do engage with consultants here and off Island as well to bolster our security posture. We currently have a security partner that provides 24/7 monitoring of our environment. With the Cybersecurity Act 2024, we work more aligned with National Security and are becoming less reliant on consultants.

Next question I have here. Capital acquisitions, IDT network upgrades. Where are we in regard to the level of data security? Are we in a more secure position and what are the projections? As rightly stated, the cyber landscape is always evolving. At the moment we have good visibility through endpoint protection; however, there will always be room for growth. With the capital investments projected for this fiscal year, we will continue to increase our security posture. This will always be continuous.

Next question, and we are still on . . . No, we've moved. This is Post Office now, Head 13. How do you account for the fluctuations in the training budget allocations? How many buildings are owned that can be renovated or used? I believe this came from Member King. The UPU [Universal Postal Union] mandates different compliance initiatives for member posts such as, disaster risk management, security, transportation [and] paper fee initiatives. Ongoing training is a requirement to keep pace with compliance with the UPU requirements. The $5,000 budget increase in training is to develop more colleagues in different compliance requirements.

The BPO [Bermuda Post Office] does not own any facilities but occupies eight government buildings and one rental facility at Mills Creek. And to answer the gentleman . . . to answer the Member from constituency 10, when he asked about this very specifically, we did own the building that we now have to rent to use because it was at the airport that was sold off. And the Bermuda Post Office was asked to move from that and so the only one place they could find that could support the sorting equipment is the building they now rent. So, we were at a mail facility that was owned by Government and then it was not owned by Government anymore because . . . we all know what happened down there.

An Hon. Member: They gave it away.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Next question. Bermuda Post Fees, Revenue Summary. How is the difference for $17,000 accounted for and what measurements are in place to account for errors in the budget? The BPO is continuously working to redefine the budget line item to be more accurate with expenses and revenues. The increase in $17,000, MyBermudaPost, is an estimate for increased revenues as the service grows.

How does the Post Office propose to increase revenue without raising fees? The Bermuda Post Office is expanding service deliverables especially for entrepreneurs, small- and mid-sized businesses. The BPO also collects terminal fees from foreign posts to deliver mail and packages in Bermuda. The UPU legislates that rates can increase annually as the different products offered globally change.

Next question. Still on Post Office. Can the Minister provide the operational budget for the service? I think this was MP DeCouto. MyBermudaPost is part of BPO services which all colleagues may assist with, along with other postal duties throughout the day. For example, a courier may deliver a MyBermudaPost package, then a UPU package, and then perform a courier service for the Government. Once a package is received from abroad, it is considered a postal package of which revenues are collected. And the BPO will use all necessary employees to process and deliver it promptly.

And now moving on to head . . . so questions on Head 18, which is our Libraries. Customer satisfaction survey. How would the department measure these? This measure is simply about ensuring that it is carried out. And what we see in the [Budget] Book is the response rate of persons answering.

What is the training budget for? The training budget is targeted this year for scaffolding and accessibility training for building inspectors. Ah, I'm sorry. We've moved on to Planning. Okay? I'm still waiting for some answers for Archives.

We'll just skip to Planning and then come back to Archives. What was the longest wait time for a commercial building permit? The longest wait time for a commercial building permit was six months.

IDT question. Acting Chief Information Officer. How long in place and when would a substantive post be recruited? The Acting Chief Information Officer is in place since June 2024. And is on a secondment from BHB.

Microsoft Office 365. We have deployed 74 per cent of the 365 licences. This deployment is still ongoing. There is also work being done to train the workforce.

Security Services, threat assessment. Is what we have ongoing subscriptions? Yes. We have ongoing subscription costs for our security applications; however, as noted as the threat landscape changes, we must be agile as well. This includes evaluating software security options on a continual basis.

IDT cyberthreats. What percentage of the departments are in full compliance with licensing agreements to ensure that they are operating effectively? IDT has a continual patch management process to address the known security vulnerabilities. We will work with departments to help maintain their compliance with the application vendor. Licence agreements fall under the remit of each department.

Moving on to Head 80, OPMP. Training, skill acquisition maintenance, and regular training. Based on the importance of digitisation of services, why is the training budget so low in relation to the need? The $3,000 referred to relates to the training budget for the OPMP team. Recognising budget constraints across Government, we are striving to deliver training needs in [the most] cost-effective way as possible. Where appropriate we are utilising free training programmes, including sessions offered through related professional associations and via the Department of Organizational and Employee Development, DOED.

Additionally, we are attending online training programmes rather than in-person and overseas offerings to reduce cost. In some cases, the public officers have done their own self-study programme to keep their professional designations, to keep current and abreast of industry practices. So, it sounds like they're doing really good with their budget and finding alternative ways versus flying overseas. Because I'm sure that would be reported if they flew overseas. We will talk about that.

Madam Chairman, I believe that's all the answers I have here. I think I've . . . I do recognise there was a lot of chatter but really, we couldn't decipher actual questions from some of the chatter. But these are the questions that we do have thus far. And I will take my seat. If anyone else wishes to ask [questions].

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Let me just say we are currently outside of approximately 40 minutes, 35 minutes before this debate ends. So I'm calling on any other Members who may wish to speak to Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43, and 80. I think I have called the numbers off correctly.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to those heads?

There being no other Members, I call on the Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Madam Chairman, I move that the following heads, Head 9, Cabinet Office; Head 13, Post Office; Head 18, Libraries and Archives; Head 32, Department of Planning; Head 43, Department of Information [and] Digital Technologies; and Head 80, Project Management. Oh! I am reading the wrong thing. Sorry.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: This is incorrect.

The Chairman: Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43 and 80.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: This is incorrect.

The Chairman: This is incorrect?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Because it is missing some heads.

[Crosstalk]

[Pause]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: All right. Madam Chairman, I move that Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43 and 80 be approved as printed.

The Chairman: It has been moved that Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43 and 80 be approved as printed.

Are there any objections to that?

There being none, approved.

[Gavel]

[Motion carried: The Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation, Heads 9, 13, 18, 32, 43, and 80 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.]

The Chairman: So that moves us to the next debate which is on the non-ministries.

And I call on the Minister in charge.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Madam Chairman, I move the following heads: Head 2, Legislature; Head 5, Office of the Auditor General; Head 56, Human Rights Commission; Head 63, Parliamentary Registrar; Head 82, Ombudsman's Office; Head 92, Internal Audit; Head 98, Information Commissioner's Office; Head 101, Privacy Commissioner's Office now be taken under consideration.

The Chairman: It has been moved that Heads 2, 5, 56, 63, 85, 92, 98 and 101 be taken under consideration.

Are there any objections to that motion?

There being none, Minister.

NON-MINISTRY HEADS

HEAD 2—LEGISLATURE

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Madam Chairman, I am pleased to present the budget estimate for Head 2, the Office of the Legislature, as found on pages B-10 through B-13 in the Book of Estimates, Revenue and Expenditure for 2025/26.

The Legislature is of course critical to the Government in presenting and achieving its legislative agenda and policy objectives while also providing the forum for parliamentary oversight of the conduct and effectiveness of Government programmes and the management and accounting of the people's purse and Government spending. Part and parcel of this work is the appropriation of funding to the Government through the annual budget debates and approval of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure by Members of the Legislature.

The Office of the Legislature's mission statement is, To facilitate strong parliamentary oversight and administrative support services for a parliament that is responsive to the people of Bermuda.

Madam Chairman, the total expenditure, as shown on page B-10 is estimated at $5,811,000 for 2025/26, an increase of $370,000, or 6.4 per cent, over the approved 2024/25 fiscal budget.

Madam Chairman, as seen on page B-11 there are seven full-time equivalents in business unit 12000, Administration; 47 Members of the Legislature in business unit 12010, Ministers and Members; and one full-time equivalent in business unit 12015, Opposition Leader's office.

Business unit 12002, Youth Parliament provides funding for the activities of Bermuda's Youth Parliament and some compensation for the Youth Parliament Coordinator and Youth [Advisory] who oversee Youth Parliament activities and debates.

Through business unit 12000, Administration, the Parliamentary staff led by the Clerk to the Legislature provide a reliable and impartial administrative and support services for both Houses of the Legislature, the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate, and the parliamentary committees. This includes providing quality service on proper parliamentary procedures and practice in accordance with Standing Orders of each House. Administrative and clerical support services, research and IT services, legal advice where needed and other professional support services in ensuring that the House, the Senate and their parliamentary committees have adequate funding and resources to support their operations and fulfil their responsibilities.

Members of the House of Assembly and the Senate, following the General Election of February 2025 and convening of the Legislature in March, the House of Assembly remains composed of eight women, (22 per cent) and 28 men (78 per cent), as was the case in the last Parliament.

The new Senate following the election is again composed of seven female Senators, including the President (64 per cent), and four male Senators (36 per cent).

Madam Chairman, the current Parliamentary staff is as follows:

- Clerk to the Legislature, Mr. Clark [W.] Somner, serves as Head of Department and Clerk to the House of Assembly. He is the Accounting Officer for the department and oversees the parliamentary staff and operations of the department, the House, the Senate and the parliamentary committees, including the management of all aspects of the Legislative process, procedural advice and guidance to the Presiding Officer and Members.

- Deputy to the Legislature, Mrs. Kara A. Beale, assists the Clerk and serves as Clerk to the Senate and several parliamentary committees, including the Public Accounts Committee. Supervises the Sergeant-at-Arms and the Assistant Clerk. Assists the Clerk in the management of the department operations and all aspects of the legislative process including procedural advice and guidance to the Speaker, the President of the Senate, Committee Chairs and Members.
- Assistant Clerk to the Legislature: Vacant. Assists the Clerk and Deputy Clerk in providing procedural advice to Members, clerical and other supporting services to the House, Senate and parliamentary committees. Assists the Clerks with logistical arrangements for committee meetings and the drafting of Minutes. Also works with the Clerks and other staff in the planning and coordination of ceremonial events. This post was formerly held by Ms. Beale and the recruitment of a new Assistant Clerk will be undertaken in 2025/26.
- Parliamentary Information Officer, Mr. Derek P. Lamb, is responsible for managing all aspects of Hansard production and editing, including digital recording of House and Senate proceedings and some cross-training with other staff, manages, populates and updates the Parliament website, SharePoint, and our social media pages; actively coordinates the provision of various IT services for the Office and for Members of the House and Senate committees including extensive liaison with local and overseas service providers, IDT and the House and Grounds Committee; online streaming of proceedings, and information research services for Clerks and Members.
- Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Arnold E. Allen, is responsible for active liaison with the House and Grounds Committee, the Speaker and Clerks in coordinating maintenance matters at Veritas Place and at Sessions House and Grounds, [active] liaison with the Speaker, House and Grounds Committee, and clerks on providing robust security and safety arrangements at Veritas and at the Sessions House in coordination with the Bermuda Police Service Special Branch and other security services providers, and aide to the Speaker and performs ceremonial duties in House proceedings and other formal events such as the convening of the Legislature.
- Administrative Officer, Mrs. Nadine C. Place, manages office operations, communications, liaison with other local and overseas officials and parliaments as well as administrative and logistical support services for the Clerk and the Speaker and the President. The procurement of office supplies, equipment furnishings, cleaning and other office services, as well as food and catering for members of the staff, responsible for the purchasing and payment of billings and maintaining financial accounting records per Financial Instructions. [She] is responsible for all aspects of salaries and administrations for staff and Members of the Legislature and for administering the personal data and information records of all Members and staff.
- Administrative Assistant to the Clerk, Ms. Andrina T. Smith, provides administrative and secretarial support [service] for the Office of the Legislature, the Clerk and Deputy Clerk, as well as the Speaker and Deputy Speaker of the House, assists the Clerk in the preparation and distribution of House Order Papers and other documents, official correspondence and communications, and assists with the annotation of House and Senate proceedings when required, and works with other staff in planning and coordinating official and ceremonial events, and performs other duties that may be assigned by the Clerk.
- Aide to the Opposition Leader, Mrs. Judy M. Benevides, provides administrative and clerical support services to the Opposition Leader, including communications, administration of the office operations, and arranging professional services.

[Mr. Christopher Famous, Chairman]

Capital Expenditure

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, you will note on page C-4 of the Estimates Book some $900,000 has been allocated for fiscal year 2025/26 for capital development programme 75230, Parliament Building Refurbishment. The House and Grounds Committee has been informed that the Supreme Court is expected to have fully vacated the Sessions House early in fiscal year 2025/26, after which time the Ministry of Public Works will undertake a comprehensive assessment of the interior state of the building. This will take some time. The committee is advised that the substantive Capital Works on the second phase of extensive internal renovations of the building are still some ways off.

Members and the staff remain very anxious to see this work progress.

The Parliament building refurbishment project, including the maintenance and renovation of the facilities at Sessions House and its precincts fall under the remit of the Parliamentary House and Grounds Committee, now chaired by the Deputy Speaker, Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, JP, MP.

Rental accommodations and arrangements for Members' use and the Legislature offices and the temporary House/Senate Chambers at Veritas Place are also funded through this programme.

Mr. Chairman, I now turn my attention to the specific current account estimates and revenue expenditure in the four cost centres for the Legislative office.

The total current budget allocation for the Legislature for fiscal year 2025/26 is shown on page B-10 of the Estimates Book and is $5,811,000 which represents an increase of $370,000 or 7 per cent when compared to fiscal year 2024/25.

Administration—Cost Centre 12000

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the objectives for the Legislature's Administration office cost centre 12000, for fiscal year 2025/26 include the following:

- Provide reliable advice on a range of parliamentary procedures and standards in support of the work of the presiding officers and Members of the Legislature, ensuring that the House, the Senate and the parliamentary committees have adequate funding and resources to support their operations and fulfil their responsibilities.

The Chairman: Please hold, Minister.

For the benefit of the listening public we are now in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. We are debating the non-ministries. Honourable Minister Diallo Rabain is giving the presentations on Heads 2, 5, 56, 63, 85, 92, 98 and 101.

Please proceed, Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

- Improving understanding of the importance and leading role of the Legislature in the governance of Bermuda, informing and educating public service officers about the legislative process and their roles in making it happen.
- Facilitating legal advice to the presiding officers and Members on Constitutional matters, procedure and the interpretation of relevant legislation and parliamentary rules, as well as other professional services.
- Advancing the digital transformation of the presentation of Legislature, papers and reports in the Legislature and recording of parliamentary proceedings and safe storage of parliamentary records and information and considering how AI may be applied.
- Administration cost centre 12000, found on page B-10, has a budget of $1,361,000 which represents an increase of $65,000, compared to 2024/25. This budget covers administrative staff salaries, office supplies, data lines for Members' tablets, software maintenance for both Internet and Hansard systems, along with overseas Hansard transcribers. Additional provisions of funding is allocated for the Speaker of the House and Members of the Parliament for legal services. The increase in funding here is largely related to the increase in staff salaries resulting from the recent uplift negotiated by the Bermuda Public Service Union and Government.

Youth Parliament—Cost Centre 12002

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, this cost centre is found on page B-10. The total budget is $6,000 for 2025/26, which remains the same as for fiscal year 2024/25. This funding covers office supplies and administrative expenses relating to the Youth Parliament and stipends for the Youth Parliament Coordinator and Youth Advisors conducting Youth Parliament meetings, debates and other activities and educating the Youth Parliamentarians on parliamentary procedure.

Ministers and Members—Cost Centre 12010

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the responsibility of the Legislature is to enact laws, fund Government spending and initiatives, and to hold the Government to account through its parliamentary oversight function. In turn, legislators should be fairly remunerated for carrying out their legislative and constitutional duties. The total budget for cost centre 12010 found on page B-10, is $4,310,000 for 2025/26, representing an increase of $303,000 over the last fiscal year. Just over $4 million of this funding is allocated specifically for parliamentary salaries of all officers and Members of the Legislature and the increase in this funding is attributed to the parliamentary salary uplift approved by the resolution of the House of Assembly in March 2025.

Opposition Leader's Office—Cost Centre 12015

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the role of the Opposition Leader's Office is important, and non-partisan administrative aid staff as required are needed to oversee its operations.

Currently there is one part-time administrative assistant working in the Opposition Leader's Office under the supervision of the Opposition Leader. In the 2025/26 [fiscal year] funding for this cost centre totals $134,000, an increase of $2,000 which results from a salary uplift to the aid to the Opposition Leader. The Opposition Leader's Office grant for the 2025/26 fiscal year is $86,000 and is found on page C-17 which remains the same for the fiscal year 2024/25. The additional funding of $48,000 covers the salary of the administrative aid.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, I would like to turn your attention to page B-11. Subjective analysis of the current account estimates. Salaries increased by $324,000. The salaries estimate for 2025/26 is $4,809,000 versus $4,485,000 in 2024/25. This $324,000 increase in salaries resulted in negotiated BSPU's [Bermuda Public Services Union] salary uplifts for parliamentary staff.

And the aforementioned parliamentary salary increase for Officers and Members of the Legislature is to come in fiscal year 2025/26.

Communications

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Communications estimate for 2025/26 is $99,000, a decrease of $4,000 compared to last year. This funding covers cost for telecom, cell phones for the presiding officers, and data lines for tablets of Members and staff.

Professional Services

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The estimate for Professional Services for 2025/26 is $400,000, a slight increase of $2,000 from last year. This funding covers various professional services for the Legislature Office including the digital recording, online streaming, radio broadcast and Hansard production for the proceedings of the House and Senate, local consultancy services, overseas services including the transcription of digital recordings for the Hansard, legal and other professional services provided for the office, the presiding officers of parliamentary committees and funding of the operations the parliamentary oversight committees.

Mr. Chairman, Members may recall that prior to the last election a Parliamentary Joint Select Committee was established to examine [matters] surrounding the September 2023 cyberattack on Government IT systems. It is now intended that a Joint Select Committee again be established by resolution of the House to take up examination of this matter.

The Legislature Office anticipates using some of its professional services funding to provide secretarial/clerical support services for the work and operations of that Joint Select Committee following its establishment by this Honourable House.

Repairs and Maintenance

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Repairs and Maintenance estimate for 2025/26 is $124,000 versus $123,000 for the last fiscal year. This funding covers costs largely for software maintenance, $91,000, and for cleaning services, photocopier maintenance contracts, pest control and maintenance of security apparatus and equipment.

Grants and Contributions

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Grants and Contributions funding for the Legislature Office can be found on page C-17 of the Estimates Book. The 2025/26 estimate of $171,000 remains the same as last year. Members will note that $85,000 has again been allocated to the annual grant to the Bermuda branch of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association [CPA]. This funding is intended to cover the annual membership fees for both the CPA and the CPA Caribbean Regional group for the Bermuda branch as well as costs for anticipated increase in personal attendance and participation in overseas CPA conferences and seminars by Members and staff.

The annual grant of $86,000 has been allocated again for the Opposition Leader's Office, matching the 2024/25 grant. The grant was increased by $11,000 to cover higher office rental costs and operating costs of the Opposition Leader's Office.

Performance Measures

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, Performance Measures on the work and activities of the parliamentary staff and Members of the Legislature, the House of Assembly, the Senate and the Parliamentary Committees, and our Youth Parliament, as well as statistics on the number of Bills and other legislation passed by the Legislature, reports and papers tabled, the number of visitors to the Parliament website and our Facebook and Instagram pages, and the number of persons who access the streaming of our House and Senate proceedings on the website can be found on pages B-12 and B-13.

Mr. Chairman, the Legislature Office is pleased with the increased number of visits to the Parliamentary website, www.parliament.bm, and increased to the Hansard. As you may be aware, Mr. Chairman, Members can and do make regular use of the Hansard as a research tool to gather information for debates. Streaming of our parliamentary proceedings is also very popular and can be readily accessed on the website.

Mr. Chairman, Performance Measures focusing on professional development opportunities and certification in parliamentary practice and procedures are encouraged for both Members and parliamentary staff. In 2024/25, our clerks and staff actively participated in select CPA Academy training programmes. And also in online meetings and discussions of the UKOTP CPA [UK-led UK Overseas Territories Project] Clerk Leadership Group.

The Clerk to the Legislature, the Deputy Clerk conducted a DEOD [Department of Employee and Organizational Development] training course in July 2024 and September 2025 on "Understanding Standing Orders" and "The Legislative Process" for senior government directors, heads of departments, and technical officers.

His Honour the Speaker and Madam President of the Senate were pleased to represent Bermuda at the 67th CPA Commonwealth Parliamentary Conference (CPC) Conference in Australia in November 2024, with the Speaker having been nominated as one of the three Caribbean regional representatives on the CPA Executive for a three-year term ending in 2027.

The Speaker and the Clerk together with the London Office Director, Ms. Kimberley Durrant, represented Bermuda at the Commons and Overseas Territories Speakers Conference held in Turks and Caicos Islands in April 2024.

The Clerk made a presentation for Members of the Public Service Executive and heads of departments on Parliamentary and In-Chamber protocols, including protocols for the presentation and tabling of legislation, papers and reports in the House and Senate.

At a Public Service Leadership Meeting in September 2024, the Deputy Clerk and MP Renee Ming represented Bermuda at the Public Accounts Committee at the UKOPT Oversight of Public Finances and Good Governance forum held in September 2024 in the UK.

The clerks and parliamentary staff also arranged and presented workshops on parliamentary procedures, protocols and the legislative process for new and returning Members of both the House of Assembly and the Senate in March 2025, as requested by the Speaker and the President. Members may also note that former MP, the Honourable Cole Simons was nominated to represent Bermuda as one of the main session presenters in the [Commonwealth Parliamentary Association's] Post Election Seminar held in Anguilla in March 2025.

Mr. Chairman, in closing, I must take this opportunity to recognise the hard work, dedication and professionalism of the Legislature staff, which has remained a very small contingent over many years, especially when compared with other smaller parliaments in the Caribbean region and internationally. The Presiding Officers and Members of the Legislature are obliged to thank the staff for their commitment and service in helping us meet our responsibilities in performing our legislative and oversight duties to the best of our abilities throughout a very busy parliamentary calendar.

This concludes the presentation of the brief of Head 2. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: For the benefit of the listening audience we are listening to the Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.

And the Honourable Premier and the Minister of Finance will be speaking on Head 5.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. If you can just bear with me for half a second.

I will be speaking on Head 5 and Head 92 at this time. Just to, I think . . . did I just get an email?

[Crosstalk]

Hon. E. David Burt: Oh, dear. No, I'm good. Thank you.

[Laughter]

Hon. E. David Burt: It's no problem. Okay. I will do Head 5. Thank you.

The Chairman: You may proceed, Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, very much.

[Crosstalk]

HEAD 5—OFFICE OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL

Hon. E. David Burt: All right. Thank you.

Mr. Chairman, I will be presenting the budget for Head 5 which is the Office of the Auditor General, found on pages B-14 through B-16 of the Budget Book.

Mandate and Mission

Hon. E. David Burt: The mandate and mission for the Office of the Auditor General is, To provide positive change by fostering accountability, transparency and efficiency within the public sector. The Bermuda Constitution Order and the Audit Act 1990 provide the legislative mandate for the Office of the Auditor General, and the Office's primary responsibility is to assist the House of the Assembly in carrying out its oversight responsibilities relating to government spending and accountability for the use of public money.

The mission of the Office of the Auditor General, which is derived from its legislative mandate, is To add credibility to the Government's financial reporting and to promote improvement in the financial administration of all government ministries, departments, and all other entities for which the Government is accountable to Parliament.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving over to the expenditure overview, the Office of the Auditor General meets with her Parliamentary Standing Committee on her annual budget. The meeting on the 2025/26 budget recommendation was held on 3 December 2024. The committee is appointed for the duration of the life of Parliament according to Standing Order 34 for the House of Assembly and according to the section 45 of the Constitution. The committee has the responsibility for ensuring that the Office of Auditor General has the funding and tools to carry out its responsibilities and to ensure the independence of the office is not comprised. Once the committee is in agreement with the budget requests, the recommendation by this bipartisan committee is translated to the Minister of Finance.

The Chairman: Premier, did you say bipartisan committee?

Hon. E. David Burt: I absolutely did. It is a bipartisan committee.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. E. David Burt: But it is important that we dig into this a little bit. So I am going to dig into it a little bit more.

The reviewed and recommended budget by the committee to the Ministry of Finance was $4,329,205. The Ministry of Finance set a budget ceiling of $4,242,455, which as you would note, Mr. Chairman, is less than the amount that was requested by the committee. However, the budget ceilings were set but we then added salary uplifts afterwards. As you would note, if you look inside of the Budget Book, the total current account expenditure allocated to Head 5 is now $4,397,000 for 2025/26 which represents an increase of $217,000, or 5 per cent, over the prior year's budget.

It is also important to note that roughly $137,000 of this increase is related to the BPSU salary uplift. Now all of that to say, Mr. Chairman, that, yes, it should be noted and accepted that this is not in alignment with the request that was made by the committee, but just as we discussed last year during this, it is important that we are not allocating resources that may not be used. And from this perspective, I don't want there to be false equivalents made on the broader items which were issued for other departments.

And this is no criticism of the Office of the Auditor General, nor is it a criticism of the work of which they do because inside this brief, which has been supplied to me, which I will share, is the fact that there are certainly difficulties in continuing to retain staff inside of the OAG [Office of the Attorney General] structure for accounting.

Madam Chairman [sic], if you will look certainly on . . . sorry, Mr. Chairman, if you will look certainly on page—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: What happened?

Now you are being rude, Jarion. Be nice.

—if you would look on page B-14, you will note that the original estimate of last year was $4.18 million. We know that it was criticised, as I see the Honourable Opposition Leader looking at the Hansard from last time. Make sure your Honourable Member in [constituency] 10 knows that.

[Laughter]

Hon. E. David Burt: Knows how to do that. It works.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: I know.

But you will note that the Office of the Auditor General is not expected to spend all their funds this year. It is about $400,000 under. What I did make the commitment to last year was that if there was additional monies that were needed for the Office of the Auditor General, the Ministry of Finance certainly would not hold the Office of the Auditor General back in that. And the same commitment is made this year. If they do actually need, I guess, the difference which is about $80,000 additional for their full budget request for this year, we will absolutely make that available. We are in no way, shape or form trying to hamper the ability of the department in executing its particular role. And so I know that the Attorney General is listening. I know that Opposition Leader's here. I know that the Chair of that Parliamentary Standing Committee is there. And I have also made sure that the Chair of that Parliamentary Standing Committee is well aware of our position in the Ministry of Finance.

Mr. Chairman, may I proceed?

The Chairman: You may proceed.

For clarity, Honourable Premier, if you look behind me there are two flags.

Hon. E. David Burt: Yes.

The Chairman: None of which are multi-coloured.

[Laughter]

Hon. E. David Burt: We will now move forward.

Revenue Estimates

Hon. E. David Burt: Revenue estimates for the Office of the Auditor General of $457,000, a decrease of $124,000 from last year, or 21 per cent, which represents audit fees charged to the accounts that do not form part of the accounts of the Consolidated Fund and paid in to the Accountant General as public funds in accordance with the Audit Act.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. E. David Burt: The subjective analysis, current account estimates for the Office of the Auditor General is found on page B-15. Salaries are $3,464,000, an increase of $138,000 from last year, or 4 per cent. The increase is mainly due to the negotiated BPSU's salary uplift. The office did not fill all posts for the entire year. For fiscal year 2024/25, which I just said, and the office is working to be at a full complement for fiscal year 2025/26.

Mr. Chairman, 70 per cent of the office audit are practitioners are contract workers on work permits for three to five years. And the office continues to face challenges in attracting a full complement of qualified professionals. As stated last year, this is not unique to this Government or to this particular department. But it is part of a broader shortage of professional accountants, creating an extremely competitive market both locally as of course they get poached after a few years by the private sector and worldwide.

While the salary ranges of the office align with similar Government positions, they do remain less competitive than those offered in the private sector. And if you would recall, Mr. Chairman, from the debate which was held previously where I covered extensively the work of which we are doing to update the models and make sure that public sector pay is commensurate and online with private sector pay. That will also help the office of the Auditor General who is still on public sector pay scales as they are a non-ministry department.

The office tries to build resource organically and invest in future talent by providing supportive and collaborative workplace for our students to thrive and grow. Presently, the office employs four Bermudian students pursuing professional and academic designations, which I think is all something that we can applaud.

Professional Services

Hon. E. David Burt: Under Professional Services is $368,000, an increase of $38,000, or 38 per cent, from last year, or 12 per cent. This is our next . . . this is the next most significant expense for the office and includes services for contracted audits and expert advice as needed.

The department expects to continue to use contracted firms to aid in meeting the Legislative commitments and to aid during peak workloads and for unexpected separations.

The office outsources roughly six financial statement audits. An outsourced audit does not absolve the Auditor General of her responsibilities to audit the accounts presented to the Senate and the House of Assembly and all Government departments and offices and courts of Bermuda. The Auditor General signs each and every independent auditor's report. The decision to outsource any audit is not taken lightly. The Auditor General is able to sign-off on an agent audit independent auditor's report because her office reviews the completed agent auditor's working papers, files, reports and schedules and very often may require additional tests or other documents in respect of the audit in the public entity audited to satisfy that all requirements in the auditing standards generally accepted in Bermuda and Canada are met.

Repairs and Maintenance

Hon. E. David Burt: Repairs and Maintenance is $140,000, an increase of $11,000 from last year's budget. The increase primarily relates to software maintenance agreements and subscriptions.

Travel

Hon. E. David Burt: Travel is $28,000, an increase of $14,000 from last year. Staff auditors pursuing their professional designations may travel to attend training and development courses in pursuit of their [professional] designations.

Additionally, the Auditor General and team members may attend training for the long-term sustainability of the office. It is critical in keeping abreast of emerging auditing trends and participation in the round-table discussion to support and influence matters impacting our jurisdiction from the development of auditing methodology, practices, and professional development with standard [setters] such as the Public Sector Accounting Board.

The office also takes an active role in the Canadian Council of Legislative Auditors and the Caribbean Organisation of Supreme Audit Institutions, and the Auditor General is also on the Executive Committee of the CPA Atlantic Board.

Capital Expenditure

Hon. E. David Burt: I will move on to Capital Expenditure, and I sincerely hope that the Honourable Member from constituency 26 [sic] is listening. The Office of the Auditor General has been allocated a capital budget of $21,000 for a server.

This amount is $19,000 less than the amount originally requested to the Ministry of Finance for Capital Account Expenditure. This means laptops or desktops earmarked for replacement due to age or productivity loss will not be replaced this fiscal year. The brief that is submitted to me states the following, Mr. Chairman, that, In the short-term the office will make adjustments internally to reduce risk associated with performance or productivity decline due to inefficient machines. What I will say, Mr. Chairman, on this particularly, is that the Ministry of Finance is happy to revisit, review and revisit this.

Of course, the Minister does not go through each and every single particular line item on this, but the reality is (and I can speak from my own statements) that there is nothing more frustrating than slow computers when dealing with Excel spreadsheets and other things. And what I would hate for is for the Office of the Auditor General to be compromised in that manner. There is significant additional funding that has been given to office of IDT to secure more computers. And I just managed to intervene last week with Customs to make sure that computers got cleared so that the Minister's department can make sure to get additional desktops to users.

And what I will state is that for the Honourable Member from constituency 26, who is the Chair of that particular committee (and I am sure the Auditor General is listening), the Ministry of Finance will happily facilitate that to ensure that she does. And we will figure out where that money comes from. We are not going to increase the budget right now, but we will have to figure out where that comes from, from a different line item or vote or possibly give permission for funds that may not be used for other matters to be used for that. But I certainly want to make sure that the Office of the Auditor General can get her computers.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Sorry?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Oh, I will not take it from the Road budget. Don't worry.

[Laughter]

Hon. E. David Burt: Now you are being funny, Mr. Chairman.

Manpower

Hon. E. David Burt: The employee number estimates for the Office of the Auditor General are 28 full-time posts. Of the 28 full-time employees, Bermudians fill 10 posts. Out of the 10 Bermudian staff, there are four students, three professionals, and three support staff. Of the four students, one recently passed one of her CPA certifying examinations and another is on her last examination.

Performance Measures by Business Units

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to performance measures by business units, Mr. Chairman, to continue the support of the House of Assembly to hold Government to account and to add to the credibility of Government's financial reporting, and to promote improvement in the financial administration of all Government ministries, departments and other entities for which the Government is accountable to Parliament, the office intends to fulfil its constitutional mandate by completing the following:

- 50 financial statement audits;
- 8 financial statement reviews;
- 3 non-financial audits; and
- 2024/25 compilation to be tabled in Quarter 3 of 2025. (That is very aggressive.)

Current Year Achievements

Hon. E. David Burt: The office expected to complete approximately 44 financial statement audits and reviews. As of 31 March 2025, the office actually completed 53 statement audit reviews and financial statement or attest audits or examinations of an auditee's financial statements. In these examinations the auditor expresses an opinion on whether or not the financial statements present information on the auditee's operation and whether the financial position is presented fairly and complies with auditing standards generally accepted in Bermuda and Canada.

Every year the Office of the Auditor General audits the financial statements of the accounts of the Senate, the House of Assembly, all government departments and offices including the Public Service Commission, and all courts of Bermuda as per the Bermuda Constitution Order 1968 and the Audit Act 1990.

In addition to the completion of financial statement audits and reviews, the office also completed or participated in the following:

1. Practice inspections: The office successfully completed their practice inspection. The practice inspection is a vital component of Government's regulatory processes. A practice inspection is dual purpose. First, to protect the Government and the citizens of Bermuda and contribute to users' confidence in the integrity of financial information by assessing whether the Office of the Auditor General is adhering to the professional standards set out in the CPA Canada Handbook.
2. To provide an educational experience to help practitioners on staff improve their professional standards where necessary.

Mr. Chairman, if you would give me a minute.

The Chairman: For the benefit of the listening audience, we are now in Committee of Supply for the consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. We are debating non-ministries. The Premier who is also the Minister of Finance, the Honourable E. David Burt, is giving his presentation on Head 5.

You may resume.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman.

Moving on to the next item which are the matters that the office participated [in] this year.

Peer Reviews

Hon. E. David Burt: Peer reviews are voluntary and are preformed by qualified Professional Accountants of Canada. And the outputs of these reviews provide insight for the continuous monitoring and improvement of the office quality management processes.

Team members participated in training with the Canadian Council of Legislature Auditors, the Caribbean Organisation of Supreme Audit Institutions and the UK National Audit Office.

Next, to ensure that all staff are kept abreast of the new and evolving standards and to meet continuing professional development requirements all qualified staff in the Office of the Auditor General complete a minimum of 20 hours of continuous professional training. This ensures that all qualified staff are kept abreast of any new and evolving standards and meet the continuing professional development hours for CPA Bermuda and their regulatory bodies.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to plans for the upcoming year, the Government's risk landscape continues to change. And we are building in agility to respond to the emergent risk. Presently, the Office of the Auditor General will continue to work with various stakeholders across Government and the industry partners, such as CPA Bermuda, CAROSAI, and CCOLA (which is the Canadian Council of Legislative Auditors).

The following continued to have an impact on the Office of the Auditor General audit assessment and strategies:

- environmental hazards from coastal erosion due to hurricane frequency;
- malicious attacks from cyberattacks to our information and knowledge infrastructure;
- areas of significant judgment, such as impairment and obsolescence of tangible capital assets and other assets and additional disclosure requirements; and
- an increased number of fraud risk actors in terms of pressures and opportunities due to changing landscapes and conditions.

The office is built on the work it has thus far and provides the Public Accounts Committee, the House of Assembly and the Parliamentary Standing Committee with the same high-quality financial and nonfinancial audits to support accountability.

The staff of the Auditor General are independent of the Government. This independence enables the office to conduct its auditing and reporting responsibilities fairly and objectively.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to acknowledge the Auditor General, Ms. Heather Thomas, and her staff for their hard work, dedication and continued commitment to the Office of the Auditor General's mandates. The Office of the Auditor General will continue to support the House of Assembly and the Public Accounts Committee in holding this Government to account and to help improve Government's financial reporting and public services through high-quality audits for the benefit of Bermuda's citizens.

And what I will say is, as I said last year, though there may be a bit of squabbling (I will use that word, my word) over the budget allocations that were given to the Office of the Auditor General, at no point in time has there been a request (in my memory, at least in the time I have served in this office) that we have not given the resources to the Office of the Auditor General which she needs. And if the Office of the Auditor General somehow is able to hire staff and get more people on and able to help to complete these audits, et cetera, to assist with the backlog, we maintain a cordial relationship and will be happy to make sure that we provide that funding and support.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation of Head 5, the Office of the Auditor General.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Premier.

For the benefit of the listening audience, this debate began at 2:57 pm and will end exactly at 6:57 pm.

We now have Honourable Minister Tinee Furbert who is going to give a presentation on Head 56.

NON-MINISTRY HEADS

HEAD 56—HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Human Rights Commission, it gives me great pleasure to present the Current Account Estimates for Head 56, Human Rights Commission, a non-ministry office, found on pages B-17, B-18 and B-19 of the Estimate of Revenues and Expenditures.

Mr. Chairman, the statutory body is charged with the promotion and protection of human rights in Bermuda. The Human Rights Act 1981 was enacted by the Bermuda Legislature in December of 1981 and shortly thereafter in early 1982 the Commission was established to administer the Act. The Human Rights Commission is Bermuda's national human rights institution, the United Nations "Paris Principles" require the NHRI [National Human Rights Institution]

- to have a broad human rights mandate and functions;
- to be independent, to have an international engagement;
- to have an inclusive and transparent selection and appointment process; and
- to have adequate powers and resources.

Mr. Chairman, the mission of the Human Rights Commission as found on page B-17 is, To protect and promote human rights through education, collaboration, advocacy, and enforcement, The Commission takes a leading role in the modern interpretation of its statutory mandate and the promotion of indivisibility and interdependence of all human rights. The Commission's mandate involves education, the promotion of principles of non-discrimination and equality, and to investigate and endeavour to resolve allegations of discrimination.

Mr. Chairman, the head of the public authority is the executive officer who serves as the accountant officer and is responsible for maintaining a sound system of internal controls which safeguard the public funds and assets of the Commission. The Human Rights Commission is administratively accountable to the Minister with responsible for Human Rights and in accordance with section 13(5) of the Act. The Commission receives a budget allocation annually from the Legislature.

Mr. Chairman, the Commission's vision is a Bermuda that honours human rights for all as it relates to the provision of services to the public as noted on page B-17.

The Commission's objectives are to

- inquire into and investigate human rights-related complaints of discrimination and harassment;
- resolve human rights complaints through mediation;
- facilitate effective administrative support for human rights tribunals;
- educate the community on the principles of human rights, inclusion and equality;
- work with stakeholders to promote the protections afforded under the Human Rights Act of 1981 and to uphold the principles of human rights for all;
- inform the government of human rights matters inclusive of those that require the development of policies designed to strengthen protections;
- influence and support the development of Bermuda's human rights laws and policies;
- maintain a team of highly competent professionals to manage the daily operations of the Commission; and
- act independently in accordance with the Commission's statutory duties and to continue to strengthen the Commission's ability to function with the requisite independence.

Mr. Chairman, on page B-12 you will note the Commission's original budget for its 2024/25 fiscal year was $1,380,000. The allocation for the 2025/26 financial year is $1,434,000. This represents a 4 per cent increase in overall spending.

Mr. Chairman, you will note on page B-18 there are seven full-time employee positions with the Human Rights Commission for fiscal year 2025/26. A decrease of one full-time equivalent employee due to a reduction of funds for a vacant post which is currently under review.

Mr. Chairman, Head 56 has the following business units:

- business unit 66020, Office of the Commission
- business unit 66030, Appointment Committee; and
- business unit 66040, Tribunals.

I will discuss the functions of each business unit and provide explanations of variance between the original 2024/25 budget versus the 2025/26 allocations.

Business Unit 66020, Office of the Commission

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the Office of the Human Rights Commission provides

- strategic and operational management of the Commission;
- complaint management and dispute resolution services;
- education and outreach initiatives to the community on the principles of human rights; and the
- provision of policy recommendations to the government on local and international human rights matters.

The budget allocation for business unit 66020 is $1,331,000. The 3 per cent increase from the previous year's budget of $1,296,000 is due to cost of living increase salary uplift.

Business Unit 66030, Appointment Committee

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget allocation for business unit 66030 is $22,000. The 8 per cent decrease of $2,000 is attributed to the decreased administrative cost associated with the Selection and Appointment Committee's public recruitment campaign and appointment processes in accordance with section 13B(1) of the Act. [Human Rights Amendment Act 2021] The most recent appointment occurred in 2024 as appointments are staggered to promote continuity. Recruitments will occur in the financial year for the appointments that end in September of 2025.

Business Unit 66040, Tribunals

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the budget allocation for business unit 66040 is $81,000. The 35 per cent increase of $21,000 relates to the statutory functions of the Human Rights Tribunal. The independent quasi-judicial body responsible for adjudicating meritorious human rights complaints. The funding estimate is based on the number of active matters currently before the Human Rights Tribunal for adjudication. And an increased volume of matters filed with the Commission which are likely to be referred for adjudication unless resolved through mediation.

Mr. Chairman, adequate funding is necessary for the Commission, the Independent Selection Appointment Committee and the Human Rights Tribunal to fulfil their statutory obligations set out within the Act.

The current budget allocation does not adequately support statutory needs with respect to the Tribunal. Without adequate funding the Tribunal will be unable to fulfil the statutory mandates, human rights complaints, and potential contraventions will remain unresolved and the Bermuda's National Human Rights Institution will be unable to achieve its legislative and international obligations to effectively promote and protect human rights in Bermuda.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, the subjective analysis for Head 56 can be found on page B-18. Salaries, the original full-time employee headcount for the 2024/25 fiscal year was eight. And the budget allocation for Salaries was $846,000. In contrast, the budget for the 2025/26 financial year is $750,000, which reflects an 11 per cent decrease of $96,000. This reduction is a result of funds being removed from a vacant post which is currently under review.

Operational Expenditure

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Chairman, turning to Operational Expenditure, I will now discuss expenditures within advertising and promotions, professional services, rentals and insurance.

Advertising and promotion, in contrast with the previous fiscal year, costs associated with brand design support and visual communication strategies increased to $35,000. This increase reflects a greater investment in strategic branding initiatives aimed at enhancing public engagement and strengthening the organisation's visual identity.

Mr. Chairman, the 2025/26 budget reflects a 44 per cent increase in professional services, from $293,000 to $422,000. The increased costs are primarily attributed to local consultant fees, costs associated with the Commission's voluntary mediation programme, manage IT services, research services and funding to remunerate human rights tribunal panel members.

In comparison to 2024/25, rent increased by 6 per cent to $137,000 because of a new lease agreement for the Commission's offices.

Mr. Chairman, during fiscal year the Commission obtained directors and officer's liability insurance to ensure adequate financial protection is in place in the event of legal actions commenced against the Commission or the Human Rights Tribunal. This investment of $4,000 provides coverage as a key component of the Commission's Risk Management Strategy, safeguarding its leadership and adjudicative bodies while supporting the integrity of its operations.

Mr. Chairman, the Commission's performance measures can be found on page B-19. In accordance with the Public Access to Information Act 2010, the Commission's quarterly expenditures are available to the public on request. The Human Rights Commission has a statutory dual mandate, enforcement and education. Discrimination is addressed by way of meritorious complaints, referrals to the Human Rights Tribunal but also the Commission helps to prevent discrimination by fostering awareness and empowering individuals and institutions to uphold human rights in their daily practices.

The complaint management and dispute resolution processes involve several stages which I will briefly outline below ahead of sharing the key performance indicators achieved during fiscal year.

Mr. Chairman, the executive officer performs a screening function of all complaints filed with the Commission and has a statutory power to investigate complaints, collect evidence, and refer meritorious complaints to the Human Rights Tribunal. Throughout the complaint-handling process efforts are made to facilitate the resolution of the complaint. Examples of grounds protected within the Act include race, sex, and disability while examples of protected areas include employment or goods, facilities and services.

In 2024, the most frequent protected grounds identified by the public when contacting the Commission [was] for disability, sex, ethnic or national origins, and place of origin. These included instances where individuals alleged that these grounds were a factor in discriminatory treatment experienced by them. With respect to conduct deemed unlawful within the Act, members of the public primarily alleged discrimination in the areas of employment when contacting the Commission which was followed by allegations of harassment in the workplace, and alleged discriminatory conduct when assessing goods, facilities or services.

Mr. Chairman, I just want to pause so I can get the podium . . . please.

The Chairman: For the benefit of the listening audience, we are in Committee of Supply for the . . . [consideration] of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.

Minister Tinee Furbert is giving a presentation on non-ministries, Head 56.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, during the 2024 calendar year there was 179 reports received by the office of the Human Rights Commission which represents a 19 per cent increase from the previous year. Mr. Chairman, 82 per cent of the intakes received were resolved within the calendar year, which represents an increase of approximately 35 more matters, achieving a resolution when compared to the previous year 18 per cent of intakes are ongoing.

The Commission provides an extensive triage and referral process to assist the public in finding a resolution to their queries or complaints in the event their matters do not appear to fall under the jurisdiction of the Human Rights Act. During the period, various intakes once screened were referred to the Labor Relations Office. Additional referral agencies included trade unions, the Department of Education, the Office of the Ombudsman for Bermuda, the Treatment of Offenders Board the, Police Complaints Authority, Age Concern, advocacy groups and nonprofit organisations such as Bermuda is Love, the Women's Resource Centre, and Citizens Uprooting Racism in Bermuda [CURB] and referrals for independent legal advice.

Mr. Chairman, when a matter is referred for an investigation in the first instance parties are offered the opportunity to engage in the Commission's voluntary mediation programme. Where parties agree to participate, efforts are aimed at assisting them to mutually resolve their complaints by bringing parties to a complaint together with an independent mediator who assists them to achieve a resolution. In 2024, parties in 10 matters participated in mediation; however, offers were also made in six other matters but the parties did not wish to participate in mediation. With respect to 10 matters active in mediation in 2024, five matters were resolved through mediation, two matters did not result in a resolution, and there were three matters still actively engaged in the mediation process when the year ended. Based on a review of the matters currently before the Commission, it is anticipated approximately nine matters will be engaged in mediation services provided by the Commission during the 2025/26 financial year.

Mr. Chairman, following an investigation where a complaint appears to have merit and it appears unlikely that the parties can resolve the complaint, the executive officer shall refer the complaint to the Human Rights Tribunal for adjudication in accordance with section 18(1) of the Act. After hearing a complaint, the Tribunal shall determine whether the Act has been contravened, may order any party to do any act or thing that constitutes full compliance with the Act and may order any party to rectify any injury caused to a complainant in the form of financial restitution. Any order made by the Tribunal under section 20 of the Act shall be made an order of the Supreme Court and is enforceable in the same manner as an order of that court.

Mr. Chairman, there are eight cases before the Human Rights Tribunal for adjudication. If historic trends continue throughout the financial year, the number of cases before the tribunal will likely reach 18. Despite the 35 per cent increase in funding for this business unit, it is anticipated a shortfall remains to fully cover panel members remuneration.

In 2024, the Tribunal rendered decisions in five matters with all being registered with the Supreme Court of Bermuda. For more information on these judgments, please see the Commission's website: humanrights.bm.

Mr. Chairman, the Human Rights Commission exists to make human rights real in the lives of all people in Bermuda. A core function is its mandate to provide education and guidance on the protections and compliance requirements within the Act and to empower all residents with the principles of equity and inclusion for all. With respect to the consultations and policy reviews conducted by the Commission, the Commission provided guidance related to the compliance with employment and recruitment practices. The guidance was framed around the duty to accommodate the use of application forms and mandatory drug testing policy and the human rights consideration required.

In October 2024, the Human Rights Commission acknowledged the extension of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities [CRPD] to Bermuda. This international treaty adopted in 2006 reaffirms the equal rights of persons with disabilities and outlines the steps required to create an inclusive and accessible society, the Commission welcomes this important milestone and recognises it as an opportunity to strengthen existing commitments to disability inclusion.

Mr. Chairman, the Commission affirms that in Bermuda there are already commitments and obligations already in place at the national level which should result in those with disabilities being able to fully participate in society free from discrimination. Despite existing obligations and statutory requirements, this is not the reality for those with disabilities. The Commission participated in consultations with the Government of Bermuda and the UK Foreign Commonwealth Office and the Commission looks forward to working with all stakeholders to bring these international obligations to life.

Mr. Chairman, the protected grounds of disability remains one of the most frequent identified grounds of discrimination. These matters have included people being denied work, discriminatory employment practices, people not being afforded equal access to information and education, people being denied access to services and transport systems, the built environment being developed without consideration to those with disabilities, and the existence of barriers to health, well-being and prosperity.

Mr. Chairman, the Human Rights Commission initiated a public consultation focused on disability inclusion in Bermuda. The multifaceted research process gathered a broad range of perspectives from the community and was comprehensive in scope and methodology. The consultation included a survey, a series of facilitating focus groups, and a community conversation designed to foster open dialogue. This allowed the Commission to engage with individuals living with disabilities, their families, caregivers, advocates, and the public broadly.

The process was intentionally inclusive ensuring diverse voices were heard and participants had multiple channels through which to express their experiences, concerns and recommendations. The feedback collected has provided the Commission with valuable insights into the lived experience of persons with disabilities in Bermuda. The findings and recommendations emerging from this consultation have been compiled into a detailed report. This report will be shared with the Government through its Ministry as a resource to inform future policy development and programme planning.

Mr. Chairman, in keeping with the Commission's commitment to be transparent and to have transparency and community engagement, the findings will also be made available to the public during this fiscal year. The Commission remains committed to advancing the rights of persons with disabilities and will continue to work in partnership with key stakeholders to advocate for, educate and promote a more inclusive Bermuda.

The Commission values and is committed to providing professional development for staff. During the fiscal year quarterly trainings were provided to officers which is essential to enhance the knowledge, skills, and performance of staff while ensuring they are well-equipped to meet organisational goals and adapt to workplace and societal needs.

Mr. Chairman, regarding education and outreach, during the fiscal year the Commission facilitated 63 engagements which represents 33 more initiatives than forecasted—this included presentations, public speeches, and focus groups, all designed to inform and involve the public on key human rights issues.

Media and communications continue to serve as a strategic pillar in the Commission's efforts to engage the public and promote human rights. Throughout the year the Commission participated in a range of media engagements including radio interviews and podcast appearances to broaden its reach. In addition, several key press statements were issued addressing key topics such as artificial intelligence, disability rights, and tribunal decisions. These communication initiatives reflect the Commission's commitment to remaining both visible and responsive for matters of public interest.

By leveraging multiple platforms, the Commission is strengthening its ability to inform, educate and advocate for human rights in an accessible and timely matter. The emphasis on media engagement has also contributed to the Commission's ongoing global goal of demystifying its role and services by actively promoting public awareness of the rights and protections under the Human Rights Act. All of these efforts underscored the Commission's expanding capacity to reach a broader and more diverse audience, reinforcing its position as a proactive, transparent and community-oriented institution.

Mr. Chairman, on the horizon during the fiscal year the Commission will continue to promote awareness of the Commission's functions and the protections afforded under the Act to further expand the public's knowledge of human rights. The Commission will meet with stakeholders and promote findings of the Disability Inclusion Report, along with implementing its own recommendations to support its commitments. The Commission also plans to launch a public consultation on age and will host another community conversation to consider how to expand efforts towards a more inclusive Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, the human rights is increasingly recognised as a vital public resource and is available to us as the public by visiting their offices, or via phone at 295-5859, or via email [at] info@humanrights.bm.

Mr. Chairman, the Human Rights Commission has issued a call to action to the country. As Members of this Honourable House, [we] are entrusted with shaping the future of our country with responsibility to ensure that rights and dignity of every person in Bermuda are upheld, not only through legislation but through the everyday environments we create and sustain. The Human Rights Commission invites you to reflect on the spaces you might move through daily, your ministries, your workplaces, your places of worship, your favourite café, your child's or grandchild's school, the parks and beaches you visit. In each of these spaces ask yourself whose voices are missing. Whose rights are not being fully recognised or respected?

Promoting human rights means going beyond statements of intent. It requires deliberate, sustained action to eliminate discrimination, remove barriers and foster a culture where fairness, dignity and inclusion are lived values. It means being willing to examine systems and practices that may unintentionally cause harm or exclusion. Let this be a moment to recommit not only as legislators but as leaders in your communities to ensure that Bermuda becomes a place where human rights are actively protected, actively promoted, and made real for everyone.

Mr. Chairman, in closing, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Human Rights Commission for its dedication to the advancement of human rights in Bermuda and for stewarding the Commission's statutory mandate with integrity and excellence.

Mr. Chairman, that ends my presentation on Head 56, Human Rights Commission.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

For the benefit of the listening audience, we are now in the Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for year 2025/26. Minister Tinee Furbert has concluded her presentation on Head 56, which deals with the Human Rights Commission.

And now the Honourable Premier and Finance Minister, E. David Burt, shall give his presentation on Head—

Hon. E. David Burt: [Head] 92.

The Chairman: Head 92.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Chairman, I am going to try to be like you and say, for the benefit of the listening audience, I am going to do Head 92. And following after which time the Minister for the Cabinet Office will do Head 85, the Ombudsman's Office, Head 98, the Information Commissioner's Office, and Head 101, the Privacy Commissioner's Office.

Unfortunately, I have to leave to attend an urgent meeting, unless I will be back to answer questions. I don't want the OBA putting out statements saying that I had to go tend to matters of state and tell the very important meeting that I had.

[Laughter and crosstalk]

Hon. E. David Burt: See! He can't help himself.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: He can't help himself!

The Chairman: Excuse me, Premier. Earlier you mentioned a word. Could you give the explanation of the word "bipartisan" again, please?

Hon. E. David Burt: Bipartisan means that we try to work together. And it is very interesting that most legislation up here passes on a bipartisan basis. But, you know . . .

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: I am going to move through. The brief for Head 92 is very short. And I certainly want to get to this meeting.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Please proceed, Premier.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Territorial, if you want to be specific.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. E. David Burt: Oh, boy. They are having fun. It's like I woke them up.

HEAD 92—DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AUDIT

Hon. E. David Burt: All right, Mr. Chairman. If I may, I will now present the brief for Head 92, the Department of Internal Audit which is found on pages B-26 through B-28 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure.

The mandate and mission of the Department of Internal Audit is To provide independent, objective assurance and advisory services to improve operations and internal control systems.

I will move to Expenditure Overview including the subjective analysis which can be found on page B-27. Mr. Chairman, the total current expenditure is estimated to be $1,115,000 for this current fiscal year and it represents an increase of $60,000, or 6 per cent more than the estimate for 2024/25. This change is primarily due to the 4.81 per cent salary uplift for 2025/26. Line item, Salary, $61,000 an offset by a decrease in other expenses. Line item 11, Other Expense $1,000 which is lower. $61,000 minus $1,000 gets us to $60,000.

In regard to Manpower, the total estimated FTE (full-time equivalents) and funded positions for 2025/26 for the department is nine, representing eight professional staff and one administrative officer. The department's funded posts are comprised of one director, one administrative officer, one internal audit manager, one IT audit manager, one senior auditor, one IT audit senior, and three internal audit officers who are working towards obtaining a professional internal auditor qualification. The internal audit officer positions are Bermudian-only training positions to encourage and train for Bermudians in the internal auditing profession. One internal audit officer post has been filled as of April 2025. The administrative officer and IT audit manager vacant posts are currently being recruited and are expected to be filled by the second quarter of 2025/26.

Performance Measures

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving to Performance Measures on page B-28. I will share the information provided on the department's performance measures for fiscal year 2023/24. It is a little bit unusual as we typically do, you know, 2024/25 and 2025/26. But there is the initial column, and you'll see that some of the items there, [you heard] the Opposition Leader saying "N/A" because they report actual figures. So I'm just going to go back to report actual figures on the 2023/24 before I move to the 2024/25 and 2025/26.

The department achieved its engagement activity reporting—sorry, achieved its engagement and activity reporting, staff utilisation and continuing professional development outcomes during the year. The number of recommendations issued from audit projects totalled 35 relating to remediating identified weaknesses in internal control systems, governance and/or risk management activities. As a result of follow-up procedures performed, the department recorded 28 management actions which were implemented by the agreed upon date. The department issued three audit reports covering operations, financial and IT systems and three supplies comprising of audit reports for a total of six audit reports issued during the year 2023/24.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Hon. E. David Burt: Moving on to 2024/25. I'll be able to cover the revised forecast for the performance measures. They can be seen on page B-28. The department issued four audit project reports and five compliance reports during the year 2024/25.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. E. David Burt: The plans for the upcoming year, Mr. Chairman, are to execute the department's 2025/26 approved audit plan to conduct six audit projects and five compliance reviews. It is to continue to train and develop staff, especially the three Bermudian internal audit officers [as] they work towards attaining their CISA, which is Certified Information Systems Auditor or CIA, Certified Internal Auditor, professional qualifications while gaining work experience in the internal audit field.

Good work if you can get it. If there is anyone listening, you know, who has someone who may be studying accounting, who wants to make sure they can have a job as long as they are ready to work, they can always go to the Auditor General, Internal Audit Accountant General. Many trainee positions, bursaries—open, willing, ready, and able to accept young Bermudians. And as we can see, we have had some success in attracting young Bermudians. And there is no question that especially the field of certified information systems auditor, it is something that will continue to be well in demand. So it is an ideal career opportunity for anyone who may be listening who may have members of their families who may be looking to go in this route.

That much being said, Mr. Chairman, as I did say it was a short brief, I welcome any questions that the Opposition Leader has. And although I am stepping out, Opposition Leader, I will be back to answer the questions in case you have any more. And the team will ably record any questions. I would just ask that you make those questions more specific than the Honourable Member from constituency 10, so we can answer them. Thank you.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Premier, for Head 92.

We will now hear from the Honourable Minister—

[Crosstalk]

The Chairman: We will now hear from the Honourable Minister Deallo [sic] Rabain. Sorry. Diallo Rabain.

An Hon. Member: Get it right. Get it right. Get it right.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: Diallo Rabain. On Head 63, which will speak to . . .

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Parliamentary Registrar.

The Chairman: The Parliamentary Registrar. What is the Parliamentary Registrar? For the listening audience.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Parliamentary Registrar conducts elections in Bermuda.

The Chairman: Okay. Thank you. Very interesting.

HEAD 63—PARLIAMENTARY REGISTRAR

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I would now like to present the brief for the Parliamentary Registrar, Head 63, found on pages B-20 through B-22 of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure.

Mr. Chairman, the mandate for the Parliamentary Registrar is, To independently manage elections and promote voter awareness in Bermuda to facilitate free and fair elections.

The Parliamentary Registrar is appointed by the Governor under the provisions of the Parliamentary [Election] Act 1978 and as such is required to discharge the duties conferred or imposed under the Act. The Parliamentary Registrar is subject to the general direction of the Governor and in the exercise of her statutory duties is assisted by such [members] of public officers as may from time to time be authorised to be employed.

The Parliamentary Election Act 1978 as amended, the Municipalities (Election) Order 2011, and the Bermuda Constitution Order 1968 are the instruments by which the activities of the Parliamentary Registrar are governed.

Mr. Chairman, the staff at the Parliamentary Registrar consist of six full-time positions under the direction of the Parliamentary Registrar, Ms. Tenia Woolridge.

Mr. Chairman, the Parliamentary Registrar is responsible for maintaining of the Parliamentary Register and overseeing a range of daily operational functions. During the last budget cycle, the [Registrar] successfully conducted bye-elections in Smith's North and Sandys North and led the development of the new election results management platform, which despite being completed on a tight timeline, was successfully deployed during the general election and received positive international feedback.

In 2024/25 fiscal period, the Parliament also supported . . . the department also supported the work of the Constitutional [sic] Boundaries Commission—

An Hon. Member: Constituency.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: —Constituency Boundaries Commission which was temporarily paused due to the election. We anticipate its resumption shortly as the regular assessment of constituency boundaries is a constitutional requirement essential to maintaining the integrity of the electoral process.

Mr. Chairman, following the successful completion of the 2025 General Election, the Parliamentary Registrar's Office is currently focused on the organisation, collection, and analysis of data derived from the electoral process. Concurrently, efforts are underway to secure and archive all election materials and according to the Parliamentary Election Act 1978.

The next phase will involve stakeholder engagement to review operational outcomes, identify areas up for improvement and advance legislative amendments aimed at introducing alternative voting methods, including provisions for absentee voting.

Mr. Chairman, I now turn to the detailed estimates of expenditure annual revenue across the five cost centres for the Parliamentary Registrar's Office. For the 2025/26 fiscal year, the total budget allocation for the Parliamentary Registrar's Office as outlined on page B-20 of the Budget Book is $1,333,000. This reflects an increase of $54,000 when compared to the original allocation in 2024/25.

Mr. Chairman, Administration, cost centre, 73000. The proposed budget for the administration of the Parliamentary Registrar for 2025/26 is $1,064,000, representing a 29 per cent increase of $241,000 over the original 2024/25 budget. The rise in expenditure is primarily due to the addition of an election support officer to assist with election preparation and delivery.

Updated job descriptions and union negotiated salary adjustments. This cost centre covers expenses related to daily operations, including administrative supplies, registration forms, and equipment maintenance. It also funds the maintenance of the cash receipting system and credit card processing fees, supporting the efficient issuance of apostille certificates which form a key part of the department's responsibilities.

Mr. Chairman, Boundaries Commission, cost centre 73005, the proposed budget for the Constituency Boundaries Commission for 2025/26 is $88,000, reflecting a slight decrease as compared to the original 2024/25 budget. A new Commission is expected to be appointed during this fiscal period with ongoing work related to constituency boundaries.

Funds allocated to this cost centre will support the administration of the Commission, including travel and accommodations, expenses for overseas Members participating in its activities.

Mr. Chairman, General and Bye-Elections, cost centre 73010. The proposed budget for the general and bye-elections cost centre for 2025/26 is $149,000, representing a decrease of $101,000 from the original 2024/25 budget. Following the recent completion of the general election the allocated funds are intended to cover the cost above the two bye-elections should they be acquired during the fiscal year.

Mr. Chairman, Municipality Elections, cost centre 73015, a proposed budget of $32,000 has been allocated for municipality elections cost centre for 2025/26—unchanged from 2024/25. This allocation provides for the conduct of up to two extraordinary municipal elections if required during the fiscal year. The Registrar remains mindful of the pending court proceedings related to the proposed changes to the Municipalities Act [1923].

Mr. Chairman, [Election] Reform Research, cost centre 73017—one of the things in the [Budget]

Book that have caused a bit of excitement. Although no funds have been allocated to the Election Reform cost centre for 2024/25 fiscal period, work on key reform initiatives including the introduction of absentee voting will proceed. While immediate research—

The Chairman: Sorry. Sorry. Excuse me, Minister. There was a little technical glitch. Could you repeat that please?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Oh, absolutely.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Absolutely. Because this will be led by my office.

Including the introduction of absentee voting will proceed. While immediate research spending will be limited, target data collection efforts are scheduled to begin this year to support the drafting of legislation. The aim is to have the necessary legislative framework for absentee voting ready by September 2026. Despite the absence of dedicated funding at this stage, preparatory work will continue to ensure Bermuda's position to modernise its voting system ahead of the next general election.

Mr. Chairman, I'd like to turn your attention to page B-21, the subjective analysis for current account estimates. Professional services decreased by $87,000. During the next fiscal period, most funds allocated under this object code will support the operations of the Constituency Boundaries Commission, including sitting fees for Commission members and costs associated with consultants engaged in this work. Consultants transitioning to full-time employees will be funded through the Salaries budget.

Advertising and Promotion decreased by $42,000. The Advertising and Promotion budget for the 2025/26 fiscal year is $79,000. These funds are primarily allocated to the Constituency Boundaries Commission by general bye-elections and municipalities cost centres, with the main focus on voting information and public awareness campaigns.

Rentals have increased by $35,000. The budget allocation for this object code is $152,000, representing a $35,000 increase over last year's figures. It is anticipated that the Parliamentary Registrar will relocate during the 2025/26 fiscal period. These funds are intended to cover increased rental costs associated with securing new premises, as the lease for the current location has expired.

Mr. Chairman, revenue is generated through the issuance of apostilles. For the 2025/26 fiscal year, total revenue is estimated at $250,000, unchanged from last year. The Parliamentary Registrar remains committed to the prompt and efficient issuance of apostille [sic] certificates for international and private sector clients.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Apostilles. Thank you. What did I say . . .

An Hon. Member: Apostle.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Apostle. Apostilles.

[Laughter and crosstalk]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: In support of this commitment, processes and procedures have been enhanced to improve the accuracy of financial reporting ensuring greater efficiency and transparency in service delivery.

Mr. Chairman, in conclusion, I extend my sincere appreciation for the staff of the Parliamentary Registrar, under the leadership of Tenia Woolridge, for their unwavering commitment and dedication throughout the past fiscal year. Your contributions are deeply valued and I look forward to continued success in the year ahead.

And also, Mr. Chairman, if I can add, when it comes to absentee balloting, that is something that I will be making further statements on. I'm sure it would assist with the questionings that may come because the [Budget] Book looks like there will be nothing going on, but there definitely will be committees and such put together in the very near future.

The Chairman: Would it be questions or, I don't know, blanket accusations?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Questions.

[Crosstalk and laughter]

The Chairman: The statement is already written. Right?

Please proceed, Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Yes, and I will move on now to the Office of the Ombudsman—

The Chairman: Which is head . . . what?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: It is Head 85.

The Chairman: So, you have completed which head, Head 60?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: So far, we have completed Head 2, Head 5, Head 56, Head 92, and Head 63.

The Chairman: So, you are now on—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Head 85. We have Heads 85, 98 and 101 left.

The Chairman: So, in the interest of the public, this debate began in earnest at 2:57 pm and is due to end at 6:57 pm. And at the current pace (similar to Cup Match) the Opposition is going to have a lot of time to ask questions.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: This is the reason why we do what we do.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Theatrics.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: Please proceed, Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

HEAD 85—OFFICE OF THE OMBUDSMAN

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, I'm pleased to present the budget for Head 85, the Office of the Ombudsman of Bermuda, found on pages B-23 through B-26 of the Budget Book.

Mr. Chairman, the Ombudsman is an independent non-governmental official who investigates complaints from the public about the administrative actions of public authorities. The role of the Ombudsman is to strengthen governance through the promotion of fairness, accountability and transparency.

The office works for the good of the public and those who work for the public. The office provides an impartial form of alternative dispute resolution which is flexible, accessible and less costly than adjudication through the courts. Anyone who feels they have been unjustly treated by an administrative action of a public authority may bring their complaint to the Ombudsman. A family member or other suitable person may make the complaint if the person is unable to do so.

Services are free, confidential and available to everyone. Even if a complaint is outside the Ombudsman's jurisdiction, the office can assist by providing information or making a referral to another body that can investigate the issue raised. The Ombudsman aims to putting things right if they have gone wrong.

Mr. Chairman, the Ombudsman's mission is, To protect the interests of the public by providing independent resources and interventions for individuals who have complaints about public services while influencing improvement in standards of these services to ensure people are treated fairly.

To achieve this mission, the aims of the Ombudsman's Office are to - ensure that these services are accessible to all users and provide complainants with effective and timely avenues to seek redress and restore fairness;

- enhance the impact of its work, encourage authorities to improve the services through compliance with recommendations and lay reports in the House of Assembly;
- expand its community engagement by developing public awareness, confidence and satisfaction of its performance;
- utilise local and international relationships to identify best practices and prepare for future developments;
- train and develop staff to create a positive and healthy working environment; and
- identify successive plans and contribute to the retention of key staff.

Mr. Chairman, core values of the Office of the Ombudsman are independence, fairness, respect and professionalism.

Mr. Chairman, the mandate of the Office of the Ombudsman is to receive complaints and investigate any administrative action of an authority for the purpose of deciding whether there is evidence of maladministration on the part of the authority. Wherein an investigation is conducted, the Ombudsman makes recommendations to the authority concerning any administrative actions that formed the subject of the investigation and more generally about ways of improving its administrative practices and procedures.

Mr. Chairman, the Ombudsman advocates alternative dispute resolutions and is addressing more complaints with informal resolution wherever it is suitable to do so. The office encourages the preservation of relationships between government authorities and persons with complaints. In addition, as an office of last resort, the Ombudsman also assists complainants by directing them for assistance to a more appropriate authority. The office also aims to assist whenever possible those who do not know where else to go for help.

Mr. Chairman, the Ombudsman's Office was established in Bermuda by the Bermuda Constitution (Amendment) Order 2001, and it is governed by the Ombudsman Act 2004. The office opened on 1 August 2005. Section 93B(2) of the Constitution protects the fundamental characteristic of an Ombudsman's Office, which is its independence, by stipulating that "in the exercise of his functions and jurisdiction, the Ombudsman shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority."

The Ombudsman submits an annual report of his operations to the Speaker of the House of Assembly with copies to the Governor and the President of the Senate. The accounts of the Ombudsman's Office are audited annually and reported on by the Auditor General.

Mr. Chairman, the Office of the Ombudsman for Bermuda continues to be highly regarded by regional and international ombudsman institutions and colleagues. Its memberships include the Ombudsman Associations of the Caribbean, the United Kingdom, the United States, and Canada, as well as the African Ombudsman Research Centre, and the International Ombudsman Institute. Such relationships provide the Bermuda office with valuable assistance and access to the best available information on current practices and procedures.

Mr. Chairman, expenditure overview.

Expenditure Overview

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I now turn my attention to the specific estimates of expenditure which can be found on page B-124.

The estimated budget for 2025/26 is $1,100,000, an overall net increase of $50,000 when compared to last year's budget. Variances between last year's budget and the 2025/26 budget for amounts with a net change of $10,000 and over are as follows:

- Estimate for Salaries increased by $44,000 as a result of union negotiated salary increases.
- Professional services increased by $11,000 as a result of additional assistance required from overseas technical consultants.

Mr. Chairman, the allocated budget for six full-time employees [FTEs], all of whom are Bermudians, is shown on page B-124. And that amount is $786,000. These positions are Ombudsman, Deputy Ombudsman, two investigation officers, a manager of finance and administration, an intake and research officer. The Ombudsman also engages service providers and technical and professional services as required.

Mr. Chairman, for the 2025/26 fiscal year, there have been no approvals for capital purchases.

And this brings me to the end of Office of the Ombudsman's budget information. Mr. Chairman, in closing, I would like to thank the Ombudsman and staff for their commitment and dedication to their duties on behalf of the people of Bermuda.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Minister.

And the following head, the remaining heads are Heads 98 and 101.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Head 98, the Information Commissioner's Office. I do hope the Member from [constituency] 10 is here. Because he asked questions earlier on these heads, these next two heads. Hopefully we can answer them now.

HEAD 98—INFORMATION COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to present the budget for Head 98, the Information Commissioner's Office found on pages B-29 through B-33 of the Budget Book.

Mr. Chairman, the Information Commissioner Office (ICO) is an independent non-ministry public office established in 2015 when the Public Access to Information Act 2010, or PATI Act, was brought into operation. The ICO's mission is to, Uphold the right of all Bermudians and residents of Bermuda to access public records to the greatest extent possible within the provisions of the Public Access to Information Act 2010.

The ICO's objectives as listed on page B-29 in the Budget Book are:

- Encourage a cultural shift with the public and public authorities by embracing the principles of public access to information.
 - Foster the use of PATI rights through public awareness and education.
 - Assist public authorities to develop and follow best practices in meeting their obligations under the PATI Act through guidance and oversight.
 - Conduct independent and impartial investigations and reviews in a fair and timely manner.
 - Engage stakeholders to strengthen and enhance public access to information rights and their protections in law.
- The ICO's mission and objectives, taken together, bring life to the purposes of the PATI Act for the public's benefit, which is to - give the public the right to obtain access to the information held by public authorities to the greatest extent possible, subject to exceptions that are in the public interest, or for the protection of the right of others;
 - increased transparency and eliminate unnecessary secrecy with regard to information held by public authorities;
 - increase the accountability of public authorities;
 - inform the public about the activities of public authorities including the manner in which they make decisions; and
 - have more information placed in the public domain as a matter of routine.

Mr. Chairman, a total of $1,200,000 has been allocated to the Information Commissioner's Office as shown on page B-30, which represents an increase of $83,000 from last year's budget allocation and constitutes approximately 7 per cent of ICO's total budget. This increases the primary fund and reasonable costs associated with an office relocation, which is precipitated by the expiry of the shared co-location agreement with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner. This expenditure is discussed further in the subjective analysis.

Madam Chairman [sic], the ICO Office—

The Chairman: Minister, I'm going to correct you. Please look behind me. There are no rainbow flags. Not "Madam" Chairman.

An Hon. Member: Ooh!

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Oh . . . who put Madam Chairman there?

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: This increase is primarily to fund the reasonable cause associated with an office relocation. (I did that.)

Mr. Chairman, the Information Commissioner's Office is subdivided into four fiscally identifiable business units as follows:

- 108000—Administration
- 108010—Applications
- 108020—Compliance
- 108030—Public awareness

I will now proceed to address each business unit individually, Mr. Chairman, as follows:

Administration, 108000

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The administration business unit provides with a full range of administrative operations and personnel costs to maintain the day-to-day operational activities of the Information Commissioner's Office for which a total of $1,157,000 has been allocated.

The Administration business unit's estimated costs represent 96 per cent of ICO's total budget allocation for [2025/26]. The largest expenditure items under the Administration's business unit are for salaries, rent and IT infrastructure. These are fixed, unavoidable costs for which ICO has made all reasonable efforts to improve cost-effectiveness and value for money.

Applications, 108010

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Applications business unit covers the cost associated with conducting statutory reviews of the Information Commissioner on decisions made by public authorities regarding requests for access to public records under the Public Access to Information Act.

A total of $8,000 has been allocated for this purpose. This allocation for the fiscal year 2025/26 is new as these expenses were not included in last year's budget package.

Mr. Chairman, legal issues arising during applications for review by the Information Commissioner are becoming increasingly complex and more likely to necessitate legal advice or judicial action. While most of the resource costs associated with conducting reviews are accounted for in the administrative business unit, the allocation here in the Applications business unit represents a nominal amount of $8,000 to cover legal costs related to judicial filings and legal advice that may arise as part of a review by the Information Commissioner.

Compliance, 108020

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: For 2025/26 fiscal year $8,000 has been allocated to support the Information Commissioners compliance-related oversight and assistance to public authorities. This allocation covers briefings, guidance, and support activities tied to PATI Act complaints. A $2,000 cost-savings has been achieved are shifting from commercial venues to public facilities such as Bermuda College for hosting in-person briefings. This approach is more economical and helps retain spending within the public sector, reinforcing prudent fiscal management.

Public Awareness, 108030

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Public Awareness business unit encompasses costs related to the delivery of public awareness and education activities aimed at informing the public of their right to access public information. For fiscal year 2025/26, a total of $27,000 has been allocated to this business unit.

Mr. Chairman, the ICO's Public Awareness business unit has faced underfunding in recent years, with typical costs being covered by savings sourced from other business units. In addition, $7,000 for this fiscal year will cover the actual cost of producing the ICO's annual report and anticipated expenses for various right-to-know day events which will be enhanced this year as we commemorate 10 years of PATI rights being available in Bermuda.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the Subjective Analysis of current account estimates for the Information Commissioner's Office are found on page B-30. I will highlight the material object code, increases and decreases.

The estimate for ICO salaries is $815,000, an expected reduction of $150,000 year over year. Specifics on the ICO's staffing complement are detailed later in the presentation but the 2025/26 decrease in salaries is due to an apportioned savings for two vacant full-time employee posts. The majority of the budget estimate increase for ICO is to fund the cost of an impending relocation of ICO's office. The estimated expenditure for relocation is spread across several object codes as listed in the subjective analysis.

Higher projected rental costs for ICO are expected to total $147,000. This represents real costs to reflect current market rates for suitable office accommodations. Facing an anticipated office move in 2025, the ICO will no longer benefit from cost-savings associated with co-location with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner. The budgetary difference when comparing fiscal year 2024/25 shows an increase of $139,000.

Mr. Chairman, the year-over-year increase for the ICO's rent allocation of 2025/26 reflects a budget correction rather than a sharp spike in actual cost. In 2024/25, [the] budget omitted a full office rent estimate as cost was shared 50/50 with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner on the co-location agreement. The more accurate comparison is a revised rental cost of $95,000 for 2024/25. However, even that figure does not represent the true rental cost due to the shared space arrangement. As the ICO transitions to an independent office space, several related budget lines will see modest but necessary increases. Rent reflects a return to a full standalone office occupancy.

Repairs and Maintenance

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: An increase of $15,000 to support office fit-out. Repairs, supplies and equipment each increased by $11,000 to accommodate relocation lease. Professional services [with] an increase of $44,000 to fund the secured transfer of IT and security infrastructure to the new location. These adjustments support the ICO's need for a secure, functional and independent work environment while maintaining operational continuity and compliance safeguards.

Mr. Chairman, the Information Commissioner's Office has an estimate of $7,000 allocated for travel expenses this fiscal year. This is an increase of $2,000 which will contribute to the attendance of the International Conference of Information Commissioners (ICIC) Annual Conference in June where Bermuda ICO serves as a Member of the Executive Committee. Bermuda's presence and participation helps to raise Bermuda's profile as a trusted jurisdiction with a robust access to information regime and lends support to the advancement and capacity-building for improvements in the information rights globally. Public officers here at home benefit greatly from the transference of skills, expertise and insights that are exchanged at ICIC Conferences.

Mr. Chairman, Capital Expenditure for ICO is found on page C-9. The estimated budget for 2025/26 fiscal year is $10,000. This represents no change in capital estimates appropriated for the previous year. This capital expenditure will be allocated for essential software upgrades necessary to enhance the Information Commissioner's secure IT environment. The Information Commissioner's Office depends on a closed IT infrastructure to provide robust data security controls, assuring its data sovereignty while minimising the risk of potential data breaches. Maintaining effective IT governance is crucial to upholding the integrity of the Information Commissioner's reviews as public authorities must have confidence that any records submitted to ICO for a review are stored safely and securely.

The ICO will maximise the minimum investment of $10,000 as it keeps current with routine and scheduled upgrades to its IT landscape.

Manpower

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, for 2025/26 the Information Commissioner's Office has salaries allocation of $815,000. Salaries continue to comprise the majority of ICO's operating budget, accounting for 68 per cent of the total allocation. This adjustment reflects a planned approach to staffing with two full-time positions, an Investigation Officer and a permanent administrative assistant to be recruited later in the fiscal year. The ICO closed the previous fiscal year with 17 members, including key leadership and operational roles. By scheduling recruitment to Quarter 3, the Office can effectively manage its salary expenditure within the approved budget. The Information Commissioner remains committed to strengthening the capacity to support delivery of services and uphold the Office's statutory responsibilities.

Mr. Chairman, I'm pleased to report that the Information Commissioner's Office forecast performance measures for fiscal year 2024/25 are mostly achieved, in line with past year results, as outlined in pages B-32 and B-33 of the Budget Book. The Information Commissioner's Office continues to demonstrate operational excellence, resilience and commitment to fulfil its statutory mandate and responsibilities within a challenging fiscal environment. The ICO has refined its performance measures for simplicity and to tailor the measures of ICO's revised mission statement and objectives.

Business unit 108000, Administration. This administration is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the ICO, including facilities management, staff support, training and access to necessary resources. Its performance is measured on how effectively it upholds statutory, financial and governance obligations. The ICO has consistently met its statutory requirement to table its annual report on time with the 2024 report laid before the Legislature on 28 March. It demonstrates fiscal transparency and accountability by publishing quarterly expenditure reports and financial records online. The office maintains a strong audit record having consistently received unqualified audits from the Auditor General. In the year ahead, the Administration plans to review and update internal guides, policies and procedures to align with the evolving best practices and legal standards.

Business unit 108010, Application. This unit handles applications submitted for independent review of public authorities' PATI decisions. It represents the most complex and labour-intensive function within ICO. In 2024, ICO received 50 new applications for review. The unit consistently meets most performance goals except for the eight-month target to close reviews, a timeline often impacted by the complexity of investigations and staffing constraints. Delays are frequently due to public authority challenges in responding to reviews while managing their core functions, contributing to a growing case backlog.

As of now, there are 33 open applications in the investigation phase. To address this, ICO is streamlining its internal review process for greater efficiency while maintaining fairness and decision quality. Investigators are also committed to assisting public authorities with review submissions and actively seeking resolution opportunities from team parties to reduce review times.

Business unit 108020, Compliance. The Compliance Unit is responsible for monitoring and guiding public authorities to fulfilling their legal obligations under the Public Access to Information. PATI Act, particularly as outlined in Part 2 of the Act.

Key responsibilities include

- collecting and analysing annual return data from over 190 public authorities;
- promoting proactive publication of public records;
- ensuring information statements are regularly updated; and
- gazetting of contracts over $50,000.

Despite the volume of authorities and limited resources, the ICO delivers quarterly compliance briefings on emerging issues, provides direct assistance to public authorities as needed, and publishes guidance materials to support consistent best practices compliance.

Looking ahead, the ICO will leverage data analysis from annual returns to identify trends and opportunities for improvement. Authorities with persistent non-complying issues can expect a rise in targeted compliance interventions to address and correct deficiencies.

Public Awareness, 108030

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Public Awareness Unit plays a central role in advancing the ICO's mandate by educating the public on their right to access government records under the PATI Act. The ICO raises awareness through educational initiatives, social media and accessible online resources.

Public events, including international right-to-know day stakeholder engagements to strengthen understanding and use of information access rights. Mr. Chairman, 87 per cent of respondents to the ICO's 2025 public engagement survey indicate that access to public records is important to them. The unit's key objective going forward is to turn awareness into action by

- encouraging more individuals to submit PATI requests;
- demonstrating how public access can support personal and civic empowerment; and
- the ICO will continue to refine outreach strategies and gather feedback to strengthen public engagement and improve overall access to public records.

Mr. Chairman, the Information Commissioner's Office is preparing two significant policy changes under the PATI framework:

1. Implementation of new fees for PATI requests
 - While no start date has been set, the Government intends to introduce a fee structure for certain PATI requests. The ICO is concerned such fees may pose a barrier to some individuals seeking to access public records. In response, the ICO will maintain strong public outreach to ensure people understand the new fees when they apply.
 - Reinforce its commitment to upholding the right to access to the fullest extent possible.
2. Amendments to the PATI Act eight-month review deadline
 - Anticipated legislative changes will require the Information Commissioner to complete reviews within eight months.
 - The operational impact of this requirement has been previously discussed in the brief, particularly regarding complex cases. To mitigate the added burden, Government plans to increase the availability of Government information accessible online to help reduce PATI requests.

The Information Commissioner welcomes consultation with the Minister and public officials to establish official Codes of Practice on record-keeping as outlined in section 60 of the PATI Act ahead of the fee implementation.

Plans for the Upcoming Year

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Information Commissioner has set a vision for 2025/26 and beyond to balance the ICO's mandate by directing greater efforts and resources towards supporting the availability of proactively disclosing public information and enhancing opportunities to improve public authorities PATI compliance. This separate focus, apart from the ICO's review process, in issuance of legally binding orders for disclosure will bring efficiency to public authorities records-handling and ease bureaucratic lag associated with processing PATI requests. The ICO's vision aligns quite naturally with the Government's 2025 Throne Speech commitments for the digital transformation of Government services by increasing (and I quote) "the amount of government information that is open and accessible online to reduce the unenviable burden of PATI requests on public officers."

The Public Access to Information Act and the work of the Information Commissioner to protect and promote the right to access public records stands as a fundamental tool in our democracy, empowering Bermudians and residents to realise social, economic and democratic rights.

Mr. Chairman this ends my presentation on Head 98, the Information Commissioner's Office. And I wish to commend the Information Commissioner, Mr. Jason Outerbridge, and his staff for their exemplary work in this past fiscal year.

The Chairman: Yes, and there was a previous . . . and his predecessor as well.

For the benefit of the listening audience and Honourable Members, we are now in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26.

Honourable Minister Diallo Rabain and his team, including the Premier and Honourable Minister Tinee Furbert, have completed Heads 2, 5, 56, 68, 86, 92, 98 and now remains 101. And they are assisted by Permanent Secretary, Ms. Jeane [Nikolai],—everyone loves Jeane—

[Laughter]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: And Mr. Ian Cameron.

The Chairman: It's not your place to say this. And Mr. Ian Cameron.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I will say, and you know.

The Chairman: I knew who he was.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: All right. But he is a super popular guy. Can't make kites though.

The Chairman: Yes, so now we are on Head 101, which is . . .

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Privacy Commissioner.

The Chairman: The Privacy Commissioner.
Are you allowed to talk about that?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Yes. It's public today.

The Chairman: Please proceed.

HEAD 101—PRIVACY COMMISSIONER

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to present the final head of this debate, of these 52 [sic] hours, of these 52 [sic] hours that we have spent up here, for Head 101, the Office of the—56 hours of debate—

The Chairman: Well, 54 so far.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Office of the Privacy Commissioner for Bermuda, found on pages B-34 through B-37 of the Budget Book.

Mission and Mandate

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The mandate of the Office of the Privacy Commissioner for Bermuda, Mr. Chairman, for your edification. The mission of the Privacy Commissioner is, To protect the rights of individuals in relation to their personal information.

The mandate of the Privacy Commissioner is, To take responsibility for monitoring how the Personal Information Protection Act 2016 is administered to ensure its purposes are achieved. The Commissioner is empowered to regulate the use of personal information by organisations so that such use is in a manner that recognises both the need to protect the rights of individuals in relation to their personal information and the need for organisations to use personal information for legitimate purposes.

Mr. Chairman, the Personal Information Protection Act 2016 (PIPA) establishes the legal foundation for the Office of the Privacy Commissioner and sets out its powers, duties and independence. The Act was assented on 27 July 2016 where provisions for establishing the Office and appointing the Commissioner were enacted in December 2016, the remaining sections of the Act came into full effect on 1 January 2025, marking a significant milestone in Bermuda's data protection framework.

PIPA applies to all organisations in Bermuda that use personal information as part of a structured filing system, whether manual or automated. The Office of the Privacy Commissioner operates as an independent non-ministry entity. It is not subject to direction or control by any person or authority in carrying out its functions, must submit an annual report to both Houses of the Legislature by 30 June each year, undergoes an independent annual audit by the Auditor General outside of the Consolidated Fund. These legislative requirements ensure operational independence and public accountability for the Office, reinforcing its role as a neutral protector of personal information rights.

Mr. Chairman, the Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA) empowers individuals to control how their personal information is used, offering protection for themselves and their families while strengthening Bermuda's position as a trusted and modern digital jurisdiction.

PIPA supports Bermuda's reputation as a regulatory safe harbour aligned with international standards, encouraging innovation and investment in digital commerce. In preparation for the full implementation of the Act on 1 July 2025, the Privacy Commissioner led a year-long "Road to PIPA" campaign, featured a target Data Privacy Week in January [2024], provided practical tools and guidance for businesses (especially small organisations), published accessible resources such as "Guide to PIPA" templates and checklist at www.privacy.bm. (Is it priv-acy or pri-vacy?)

[Laughter]

The Chairman: Is it tom-AY-to or to-MAH-to?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Internationally, the Commissioner has engaged with global data protection peers, ensured Bermuda's policies aligned with international best practices, positioned Bermuda as a regulatory leader within the global Caribbean region among finance centres and on the global stage. These efforts have advanced both public understanding of data rights and Bermuda's global influence, all while strengthening protections for people of Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, as shown on page B-35 for the 2025/26 fiscal year, the Office of the Privacy Commissioner has shown an allocated budget of $2,420,000, representing a net increase of $112,000 from last year. This increase reflects the completion of staff recruitment with remaining open positions expected to be filled this year. To accommodate this, funds have been reallocated from other line items to support salary needs.

Office Accommodations

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Following the expiry of the fixed lease in January 2025, the office has moved to a month-to-month arrangement while awaiting new lease arrangements by the Department of Public Works. The rental estimate of $155,000 has been included in the 2025/26 [financial year] based on projected market rates.

ITC Infrastructure

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, $119,000 has been allocated for Information and Communication Technology. This marks the decrease of $95,000 from the previous year as major ITC upgrades were completed during 2024/25. This budget supports the continued development of the office's operational capacity while responsibly managing costs and preparing for full implementation of the Personal Information Protection Act.

Human Resources

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The Office of the Privacy Commissioner has an approved staff complement of 14 FTE positions, as shown on page B-35 of the Budget Book, consistent with the previous fiscal year. The total salary allocation of $1,803,000 shows a $226,000 increase over the 2024/25 estimate. This increase supports the full-year funding for positions that were previously filled on a staggered basis as the office continues to build capacity. Key senior roles established in 2025/26 include privacy commissioner, deputy commissioner, legal counsel assistant commissioner for operations, policy innovation and investigations.

The Commissioner will continue to assess how best to allocate staff resources to meet the office's growing mandate and service responsibilities with the full implementation of the PIPA Act.

The office may also engage external legal and technical expertise as needed to support its work.

Subjective Analysis

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Of the Office's total $2,242,000 budget allocation for 2025/26, as shown on page B-35, Mr. Chairman, $165,000 have been designated for operational activities. These operational funds will be strategically focused on public engagement, skills development, and rights education. Including:

1. Supporting organisations and public authorities:
 - The Commissioner will continue to assist businesses and government entities especially small- and medium-sized enterprises by developing a practical resource such as policy guidance, codes of practice templates, and hosting educational forums.
2. Empowering Bermudians through skills training:
 - In partnership with schools and community groups, the Office will support individuals seeking to enter the privacy field by promoting career pathways as privacy officers, enhancing job readiness, and meeting private sector needs.
3. Educating individuals on privacy rights:
 - The Office will help individuals understand their privacy rights as a human right including responding to public inquiries, conducting investigations into complaints [and] issuing official guidance and directions where appropriate. While the operational budget has been adjusted to reflect broader fiscal planning, the Office remains fully committed to delivering meaningful community engagement and ensuring that the privacy protections are clearly understood, accessible and actively supported in Bermuda.

Mr. Chairman, I will take a point of privilege to let the listening public know, as well as Members within, that there is a forum on forum.gov.bm that if you go and fill out, and you want to know anything about PIPA, they will contact you and arrange to have a meeting with your group or give you a presentation. But you can go on to government forums and actually sign up and have that sorted out for you.

Mr. Chairman, the operational expenses total $165,000. These include

- $10,000 for staff training, professional fees development and certifications;
- $25,000 for travel expenses to attend such training professional conferences and staff secondments with fellow privacy regulators;
- $27,000 for telecommunication services;
- $34,000 for repairs and maintenance;
- $12,000 for education for energy needs;
- $10,000 for materials and supplies; and
- $34,000 for equipment.

The Privacy Commissioner is committed to responsible use of public funds throughout the fiscal year 2025/26. The Commissioner will assess the needs of the Office and make any additional funds request to the Minister of Finance to ensure that the mandate of the Office is met.

Capital Expenditures

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the capital expenditure allocation for the Office is found on page C-9 of the Budget Book and is $18,000 for the fiscal period 2025/26. These funds have been allocated to purchase office and technological equipment for staff.

Revenue Overview

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the Office of the Privacy Commissioner is reported [as] $161,000 in Revenue for fiscal year 2023/24 as shown on page B-35 of the Budget Book. This revenue . . . I'm not sure if that's a typo. If that should say 2025/26. This revenue was generated through registration fees and sponsorship—Ah! No. That is right, [it is] 2023/24. I remember reading this now.

This revenue was generated through registration fees and sponsorship for the Global Privacy Assembly (GPA) which Bermuda hosted in October 2023. The GPA brought together regulatory leaders and technology executives, over 130 countries, showcasing Bermuda as a global hub for digital innovation and human rights protection. The Office successfully organised and supported the event without drawing on public funds, relying instead on local and international sponsorships. The only public resource used was staff time.

The remaining $661,000 in surplus funds has been placed in a dedicated account to support future participation in the GPA and to cover membership dues and travel costs related to ongoing regulatory cooperation. This approach assures transparency and accountability as the funds are clearly earmarked for international engagement purposes. The Office does not anticipate revenue collection in 2025/26 but may do so in future years as permitted under the Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA).

Performance Measures

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Chairman, the performance measures for the Office of the Privacy

Commissioner are found in the Budget Book on pages B-36 through B-37. In 2025/26, the Privacy Commissioner will engage in monitoring how the Act is administered to ensure its purposes are achieved. The Office's operations business unit will undertake initiatives to develop the operational maturity of the Office, enhancing compliance, function and processes concerning various statutory requirements related to finances, annual reports, access to information, and other business operations. This unit will establish a mediation, an alternative dispute resolution process, for addressing both formal and informal issues linked to complaints and potential violations of the Act.

In 2024/25, the Office reorganised to incorporate communication functions within the operations business unit, which will also undertake initiatives related to community awareness and education, conduct workshops and events, and manage publications.

Mr. Chairman, the Office's Policy and Innovation Unit will undertake initiatives related to creating technical guidance on compliance with the Act. The public will be given specific guidance on how to implement various sections of the Act. The Office's Policy and Innovation Unit will continue to work on the privacy, innovation and knowledge-sharing (or Pink Sandbox) to support businesses engaging in innovative uses of data and personal information.

The Office's Investigations Unit will engage in initiatives related to constructive, proactive regulation. This unit will continue to respond to individual complaints, generate own-initiative actions, draft compliance orders, and undertake sectorial and industry surveys.

Mr. Chairman, the Government is proud to have brought the Personal Information Protection Act 2016 into operation on 1 January 2025. The Act is of vital importance to protecting Bermuda and her people from a variety of online, financial and even physical harm. In addition, for a country to promote technological innovation we need forward-thinking rules and regulators. I commend the work of the Privacy Commissioner in shepherding this Act into force and guiding the community to comply with it. The Commissioner will continue to advise Government on the Act and provide recommendations regarding the exercise of provisions now that it is operational.

Mr. Chairman, it has been a long road to PIPA since 2016. With the Act coming into effect, it would be easy to say that we have reached our destination; however, compliance is a journey, not a destination. Even while the Act is now in effect, it will be a continuous process to protect the digital rights of individuals. Organisations should continue to ask themselves, What data are we storing? For what purpose is the data being used for? Do we even need the information we hold to accomplish our business purposes? By understanding their data assets, they can determine what policies and procedures would best reduce the risk of harm to individuals.

Mr. Chairman, I encourage any organisation that needs a better understanding of the Act and compliance, to visit the website of the Privacy Commissioner, www.privacy.bm.

Mr. Chairman, this now concludes my presentation for the budget of Head 101, Office of the Privacy Commissioner. It also concludes the tenth head that I have read today.

[Laughter]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I wish to commend the Privacy Commissioner, Mr. Alex White, and his team for the commitment to excellence this past year. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister, and your team for such succinct and brief briefs.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

The Chairman: For the benefit of the listening public and the Honourable Members, we are now in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. Today, this last brief we are debating is the Ministry of Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation . . . that was done earlier.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: Please let the Chair . . . have you seen Captain Philips?

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: Okay. All right.

Earlier the Ministry of Cabinet Office and Digital [Innovation] was done. And now . . . starting at 2:57 pm, the Non-ministries were done. And now the Opposition has approximately one hour and 40 minutes to ask their succinct and non-accusatory questions.

[Laughter]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: I can make no guarantees, Mr. Chairman.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I thank the Honourable Minister and his colleagues for very thorough briefs. Even though there were quite a few of them, they were detailed enough that we could proceed to this stage of scrutinising the Budget Book.

With that being said, Mr. Chairman, I am going all the way back to Head 2, which we started two hours ago. Just to keep it in order.

I want to start my contribution, or evaluation, by . . . where the Minister finished, which was thanking the staff. We are currently doing Head 2, the Legislature, which includes some $5.8 million in spending. Mr.

Chairman, when in church council you talk about the pastor's salary, you normally ask him to leave, him or her. I don't think we can ask these guys to leave though, so you guys will have to be here through the full presentation. I want to make it very, very clear that absolutely none of my questions mean that I do not appreciate and value the work of the staff here at the Legislature, at the House.

[Desk thumping]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: They are an incredible group of people who work incredibly hard. And most especially I want to point out that even though this Legislature has a Head 2, it infers that this is one of many. It is not.

The Legislature is the beginning of all things in Bermuda as it relates to the formality of Government. It is the place where law is made. It is the place where truly hard things are done. It is the place where buildings are permitted to take place. It is the place where social programmes are created and . . . well, I will give it to the Minister for action. But this is so, so key because I don't think a lot of times the public are aware of just how vital it is. So, starting there.

I will start my address by speaking to [business unit] 1000 [sic] on page B-10. Sorry. That is [business] unit 12000 on page B-10. I noted that we see an increase of 5 per cent in the administration budget. And I wanted to get a little bit more information on that. I understand it being salary increase but were there any performance [measures] associated with those increases?

I have a very blunt question relating to Schedule 3, on page B-11, which is dealing . . . oh, sorry. It is on Schedule 3 as well as page B-11, which is dealing with the Sessions House. And the question that I have, and it is a straight-up question requiring only a straight-up answer is, When will the Legislature return to Sessions House? Even though we spoke about it, or we certainly spoke to it in the brief a little bit, what we did not speak to was a finite date for our return to Sessions House. We are currently in rented accommodations, and I believe that we are capable of doing our job better in purpose-built facilities.

A further question to that, Mr. Chairman, I note that we have had some discussions in passing about some changes that might be taking place to Veritas House while we are here. So, my question . . . I didn't see where that was coming out of our Head 2, Legislature budget. I am aware that the House and Grounds Committee is busy and meeting and dealing with a number of issues, and I would like to know what, if any, changes we are anticipating to the rented properties and which head, or which business unit that will be getting paid from. Thank you.

Also, what is the current explanation for the significant increase in energy as well as other expenses?

Mr. Chairman, these rising administrative costs are a point of interest to the general public. They certainly speak to if we are in fact going to increase the cost on this that we should definitely see an increase in performance.

Mr. Chairman, moving on to my second set of questions relating to Hansard streaming and the legislative accessibility. Mr. Chairman, I note that the Minister or the Premier . . . is it the Premier who brought this? I think it was the Premier. [He] did not speak to the voice transcription service that we had previously entertained on our other budgets. And this I will speak to page B-10 under, Department Objectives, which is "Advancing the digital transformation of the presentation and tabling of legislation papers and reports in the Legislature. The recording of Parliamentary proceedings and the safe storage of Parliamentary records and information."

We had previously stated that voice transcriptions would be of use. Now, why would that be of use? Mr. Chairman, right now it takes quite some time for the Hansard to be turned around. Hansard is the written record of our proceedings. As it stands, it is quite vital, not only in the reflection process but for us to evaluate what is taking place and interrogate that information, correlate it and then put proper questions to power. In the absence of the Hansard, we often have to rely only on our own recollections and notes. So, to that end, a voice transcription service would modernise the House and provide us in here the opportunity to actually undertake the work with a lot more professionalism and detail. To that end my question is, what happened to the voice transcription project?

Further to that point, Mr. Chairman, going on to objective number six, still speaking to advancing the digital transformation of the House of Assembly. I wanted to speak to . . . is there a timeline target for turn-arounds on Hansard transcriptions? Which I do not see under performance measures. Again, I have spoken to the value of the Hansard, but I wanted to make it clear that it is actually, they can be quite dated sometimes. For example, the most recent Hansard that is available is currently dated 26 March 2025. And we are on 29 . . . sorry, we are on 28 May. And so obviously that would be incredibly helpful in undertaking our jobs. So, my question to the Premier would be, Is there a timeline target for releasing Hansard transcriptions? And are we going to expand into voice recording transcription service?

Further to that point, Mr. Chairman, under objective number four, for Head 2, the objective is that the Legislature will be customer-centric and improving public knowledge and understanding of the importance and leading role of the Legislature in the governance of Bermuda. I think this is absolutely critical, Mr. Chairman. I don't think anyone of us can . . . doesn't have a story where we have been approached by a member of the public who wants us to do certain things but clearly does not understand the nature and structure of the Houses of Parliament as well as the rules that govern our conduct. So it is very important that we let them know. One of the areas that we could let them know is by livestreaming access to committees. So my question would be, Has the Government or anyone else considered expanding livestreaming access to committees. Mindful—don't need a point of order—that that might need to go to the Rules and Privileges Committee. But it is a point of curiosity since it is outlined, and we are funding at $5.8 million.

With that being said, Mr. Chairman, this goes back to the voice transcription services, or the voice recording service. I want to bring that up because we shifted back to manual transcriptions for Hansard, it is under professional services, but I did not see a commensurate reduction in professional services costs. Or an increase. In fact, I can't quite make sense of how . . . what impact, if any, it had to our budget. So if someone could explain what impact the failure of the ASR project has had. Are we saving money? Losing money? Obviously, my earlier question is, Are we still proceeding with it at all?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: ASR, it was called.

Mr. Chairman, that would be my questions under the theme of Hansard streaming and legislative accessibility.

My next set of questions relate to public and youth engagement, which comes under business unit 12002, under Youth Parliament. And especially, obviously, under the education part of our honourable assembly. Now I noticed that the Youth Parliament participation rate . . . now, by the way, I genuinely did not know as much about the Youth Parliament until the sad events that the Lister family had experienced. And having now spent some time looking into it, it is actually quite key. A number of our social commentators in Bermuda right now have come through the Youth Parliament process and so it is key that in order to engage the youth and make sure that we increase youth participation in our electoral process that those mechanisms are reinforced and published as much as possible.

Now, the reason I bring all that up is because this Budget Book, again, $5.8 million, a portion of it which is allocated to the Youth Parliament under business unit 12002. And I noted that a number of Youth Parliamentarians participating in each legislative session, we anticipated 20 and it went down to 12—anticipating 18. The only sort of recollection I have of Youth Parliamentarians participating in our assemblies is really relating to us during the opening of Parliament when they typically have a role there. It would be good to get them more involved. So to that end, what is being done to recruit more students into the Youth Parliament? Will their debates and forums be broadcast or held more visibly this year? Right now there is only one a year that is held via CI . . . or held upon . . . sorry . . .

broadcast by a CITV. And it is clear that the more people we get involved again, the better we get for youth participation. So, are we going to see more of that? And is $6,000 going to be enough to cover for the Youth Parliament's engagement objectives?

Moving on to Legislative Output and Committee Oversight. This one will be speaking to business unit 12010. I had already spoken to the House and Grounds Committee's meeting. And I would be interested to know what are, again, those plans that we are looking at in Veritas Place? There is an overlap there.

And that takes me on to the Sessions House restoration which we spoke to a little bit about before. To that end, would the Honourable Minister or Premier be able to state the judicial relocation that is required to start the renovation on Sessions House? During his brief he said it would take place in early 2025. But we are in May 2025. So, we are already almost half-way through the year. And I am not sure if they are actually going to move out.

When I was on the House and Grounds [Committee] it was quite clear that there was quite a lot to do insofar as moving the courts out of Sessions House and into their Dame Lois Browne-Evans Building. And so it is no easy thing. I would ask the Honourable Premier if he could specify instead of saying early 2025 because again, we are past early 2025.

I note that the 2024 budget allocation was for $250,000 for phase 1 of the restoring of Sessions House. In other words, putting us back in Sessions House. We seem to be running into more and more delays. This year's Budget Book has $900,000 set aside. If you just bear with me . . . or you could just believe me. Here it is. On page C-4, $900,000, has been allocated to the Parliament building refurbishment. That is under business unit 75230. So there are a couple of questions here. What does $900,000 get us in terms of how far? Especially given that under that same heading, business unit, we are estimating a $20 million refurbishment and so far, as I said, last year's fiscal budget we allocated $250,000. This year $900,000.

So, at this burn rate, at $20 million we are not going to get into the Parliamentary building for a while. So, my question is, What are we going to get for that $900,000 in this fiscal year? My question is . . . also, further on, 75230, there is an original estimate of that $250,000 I had raised earlier, Mr. Chairman, but the revised estimate shows $419,000 was spent.

Now, well knowing that full renovations, for that to take place requires the judiciary to move. The judiciary has not yet moved. What did we spend . . . how did we exceed a budget given that the conditions were not yet met for us to spend up to $250,000. So some clarification would be an assistance. In other words, what did we spend that extra money on as it relates to getting us back into Sessions House?

I also want to make very, very clear, we are going to have to reiterate this. In the last three budgets, we have discussed when we are going to get back into the Sessions House. I think it is time that someone comes up with a deadline to get back into Sessions House. And most especially my question will be, Given that we are now spending $900,000 and the Honourable Premier did make a point in saying that there will be a full review of the work that it will entail for us to get back into Sessions House, my question is, Will he table the Master Plan or refurbishment timeline before the end of the fiscal year? Alternatively, will the House and Grounds Committee be able . . . be given that specific duty?

The question also, from the brief, again regarding the $900,000. I noted that the Premier said why . . . that we are going to take time to review, once the judiciary is out of Sessions House. My question is, What does that review entail? We have been monitoring the development of this project for some time, especially in House and Grounds. I know that plans were sent at one point. The Honourable Minister Colonel Burch in fact had quite a plan. I remember us meeting and discussing it at one point. So, it is clear that a lot of work has already been done. My question is, Given that that much work has been done, given that we are now allocating $900,000 and that we overspent last year on the renovation and again, we are not there, and we do not even know when we will get there, could someone please explain what is the plan to get back into Sessions House?

My next question, Mr. Chairman, relates to the committees of this Honourable House. Most of which are outlined under Head 2, under page B-13. Specifically, under performance measures, business unit 12010, Ministers and Members.

Now, Mr. Chairman, one of the areas that we have been examining here is these committees. I mentioned House and Grounds more than a few times. We have the Audit Office which the Honourable Premier had mentioned, or the Audit Office Committee which the Honourable Premier had mentioned is a mechanism by which to fund the Office of the Auditor General, Private Bills Committee, Standing Orders and Privileges [Committee] and obviously Joint Select Committees. The one we have not mentioned which is outlined here is the Public Accounts Committee.

Again, on page B-13, referring to business unit 12010. The Public Accounts Committee plays a key role, as you are well aware, but certainly all of us are very, very well aware in facilitating what we do in this House, most especially holding the Government to account. But it has not been with committed secretarial research facilities. In fact, I just want to point this out. We have some seven staff allocated to the administration of the entirety of the House of Legislature—the entire Parliament—which oversees (I want to say) a $6 billion economy, which oversees $1.2 billion in Government spending. I mean, we have huge responsibilities and seven people administer that. And that is why I thank them so much. Because it is an incredible, incredible task. One of the primary mechanisms though is that they are all not going to be able to—actually, may I read for a second from something? The Commonwealth Parliamentary Association speaks to a Public Accounts Committee utility. I just want to mention this.

The Chairman: Please go ahead.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Thank you.

The quotation is from Recommended Benchmark for Democratic Legislatures. It is dated 2018. Specifically benchmark 2.1.5 where it reads, “The Public Accounts Committee shall be adequately resourced and empowered to conduct effective oversight of public expenditure.” Now in similar jurisdictions, which I am pretty sure the Premier actually mentioned in his brief, we see dedicated researchers, report writers, and financial analysts. That is the kind of resourcing the Public Accounts Committee is going to need. And it is going to need that no matter who is in Government.

And so to that end, I think that until we have a committed secretariat who has that source of investigative and analytical resources, the Public Accounts Committee will be entirely reliant—again, speaking to business unit 12010 on the availability of its members to undertake analytical, investigative and report-writing work and researching work. So, I definitely, strongly, advocate that we increase the funding to the House of Assembly, especially under administration. That being business unit 12000 to provide for the staffing to the Public Accounts Committee to undertake its role.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: So, Honourable Opposition Leader, for clarity for the Minister, are you advocating for the Government to increase staff?

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Yes.

The Chairman: And increase expenditure?

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Yes.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: For the Public Accounts Committee, absolutely.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Twice on Sunday.

The Chairman: All right. Just be careful.

[Laughter]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Thank you. Okay. Thank you so much.

Whilst we are there, let's go through Head 2. I noted that the Premier's brief had spoken to Communications. So we are under Head 2, object and code description, this is subjective analysis at current account expenditures. Under Communications, we see some resources that are in use. For example, right now we are all issued tablets. Those tablets come with cell phone numbers or data lines. I could not tell you the last time I saw one of those kicking around here. So, I think it is quite key that where possible that we are able to redirect those resources. Again, there are better places to put it, such as the Public Accounts Committee.

So, one of the questions I do have is, and I asked it earlier, I spoke about the jump in energy costs. Again, under subjective analysis of current account expenditures, as well as other expenses.

As it relates to the vacancy, under employee numbers, full-time equivalents, page B-11, the assistant clerk position is vacant. My question to the Honourable Premier, Do we have any understanding of what may take place given that that position is vacant? Right now we have the incredible Ms. Beale as our Deputy. But she was previously Assistant Clerk. Is she wearing two hats? How much work is she doing? What changes, especially what adverse changes could we see to our support structure? And if none, or at the very least, when are we anticipating hiring an assistant clerk? Again, these guys work incredibly hard, and I would hate for them to be working even harder.

And I note that in the Premier's brief he had mentioned that we are going to consider how AI can be applied. That is, artificial intelligence. Mr. Chairman, as someone who is now working in that space where we are using more and more artificial intelligence in the public sector, it would go a long way to our objective number six. That is, Advancing the digital transformation of the presentation. If we were able to get access to artificial intelligence. I know the Honourable Minister for Cabinet Office mentioned that Government will be trialling and in a Ministerial Statement probably a month or two ago that we will be trialling artificial intelligence use in Government. I would advocate that that trial be extended to this Honourable House because that would go a long way to providing both report writing, researchers and investigators. And to that end, I would ask that question of the Premier. When would he consider expanding that trial of artificial intelligence to the House, to the Legislature? Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Moving on, Mr. Chairman, to Head 5.

The Chairman: For the benefit of the listening audience, we are in Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. The Honourable Opposition Leader, Honourable Jarion Richardson, is asking very clinical questions on non-ministries.

You may proceed, Opposition Leader.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

For the Office of Auditor General, Head 5, I would again start where the Honourable Premier finished by thanking the team at the Office of Auditor General, the OAG, for their incredible work. And the importance of their work should be stated as vital. Absolutely vital. Again, it always baffles me when we talk about non-ministries. It sounds like an afterthought when it is in fact the most central part of our entire governing system. So the Office of the Auditor General has my thanks.

Starting off we'll talk about the financial statement backlog and systemic audit gaps, that the Auditor General has been reporting on for some time. Most specifically, we are talking about, under general summary, on page B-14 under business unit 15000, which would be the same as the Auditor General's performance measurements. Similarly, under business unit 15000. Now the Auditor General has asked for an allocation, or rather the Government is likely to give an allocation of $4.397 million. The Honourable Premier did specify that a different number was sent to the Audit Committee of the House, and he explained how he arrived at this number. As well as his flexibility on a going-forward basis. Which I'll bring up at another point in question.

My question is the Auditor General is generating a number of products as it stands right now and one of my questions under performance measures is she generated a number of reports saying that entities remain in arrears with their financial statements. And I don't see that as a performance measure. My concern, the reason I'm raising this, is because I'm not sure if we are encouraging . . . do we have a dog that can't bite? Or in this case, bark. If we have so many outstanding audits and we're not tracking them in our performance measures when we're allocating $4.397 million, then I have a question about, Well, what value are we getting here for that for $4.4 . . . Let's just say $4.4 million. So my question is, How many entities remain in arrears? How many financial statements have been submitted for audit but are not yet completed? What is the current number? Oh, and do we have a remediation plan? Does the Ministry of Finance or the Auditor General have a remediation plan to clear up of these backlogs? Again, I don't see this in the performance measures, but I would argue that anyone who's about to receive $4.4 million we would want to get to grips with that problem.

Mr. Chairman, following on from that . . . and in going under performance measures, I don't see any targets relating to closing open recommendations from audits or any departments or boards facing consequences for audits or any selected audits being implemented. In fact, what I do see and let me just read it out. Just to be clear because it's not as if there is nothing there. It just doesn't seem—

The Chairman: To be clear, where are you reading from?

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Sure. Sorry. My apologies, Mr. Chairman. I'm on page B-16, reading under Head 5, performance measures for business unit 15000.

The Chairman: Not that we don't trust you but, you know, people want reference points.

[Laughter]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Sir, absolutely, I'm very mindful that people are listening right now and don't have . . . we don't have the TV staring with the presentations like the US Congress does.

To that end, the business unit has some measurables including a number of financial statement audits completed. A number of financial statement reviews completed. A number of non-financial audits completed. Annual report, percentage of team members who met minimum CPD requirements. Percentage of audit staff time allocated to the annual consolidated fund and percentage of audit staff time allocated to the other audits. And these are good. But I would argue that, again, when we give $4.4 million, what we want to know is how effective $4.4 million is. I don't see that. So, my question is as outlined, and I know persons are taking notes for the Honourable Premier.

Further, we have a question or rather relating to the resourcing recruitment and capacity constraints. Now the Honourable Premier made the point that there's been . . . and in fact over the years a number of people have made the point that it's quite difficult to staff the Auditor General's department because of the competition in the private sector. So to that end, would the Honourable Premier be able to answer if the Auditor General's Office is currently fully staffed to its authorised full-time equivalents? And that information is on page B-15. So, I'm asking if the information on page B-15, specifically, business unit 15000. I see that we have 28 in the 2024/25 full-time equivalents. I see that in the 2024/25 revised it says 25. And then in the estimate it says 28 again. So, the question is, Do we have those bodies yet? And if not, what is the plan to get those persons? Granted it might be incredibly difficult to recruit but nonetheless we still need a plan for such a vital department. Thank you.

Also, a question relating to the Honourable Premier and undoubtedly the support team listening in, Has the 2023/24 annual report from the Office of the Auditor General been published on time and tabled in the House? I'm afraid that I've not been able to find that information. The last one I found was from 2019 with some audited financial statements. And I'm just wondering, Are we looking in different places? I'm very mindful that the House does an incredible job on digitising the information that we received on our Share-Point site, but that doesn't always mean that it is the easiest thing to do. Which again, I sort of lean on my honourable colleague, the Minister for Cabinet Office to give us access to artificial intelligence which would increase our ability to undertake research.

Okay. Moving on. I am in general very pleased to see a $4.4 million allocation to the Auditor General. I am very mindful that the 2023/24 allocation was—sorry. That's on page B-14, under 15000. It was $3.6 [million] and then in 2024/25 the original allocation was $4.1 [million] and then only wound up being spent, it looks like $3.7 million. So, to see $4.3 million is great. And that's a fantastic thing. The Minister did explain how that budgeting process works. My question though is, he's explained that the additional funds, if needed, the Ministry commits to providing them. And yet in the same brief when the Honourable Premier was speaking to capital acquisitions, he mentioned that the Auditor General needed some new computers. But [they] didn't get everything they wanted. Now, I do see some allocations here. I want to say $21,000. And this is on page C-9 under capital acquisitions, which is Schedule C dealing with business unit 76605.

So, the Auditor General is getting $21,000 but the Honourable Premier said that that's not enough. So he said that the Ministry will look at that. So it seems like this number is a bit fluid. So, my question is, What is the criteria that the Premier is deciding when addressing the needs of the Auditor General's department given the fluidity that is currently in evidence by his ministerial brief?

Moving on, still on page B-15. I noticed that the professional services area, under page B-15, under subjective analysis of current account expenditures, we're seeing an allocation of some $364,000. This was originally allocated last fiscal period at $330,000 and revised to the actual spend of being or anticipated spend being $201,000 so we're now allocating $368,000. That is on page B-15 under subjective analysis of current account expenditures.

My question is that we have spoken quite a number of times about outstanding audits and how the Office of the Auditor General will hire additional staff, additional professional staff, under this line item within the budget to cover for that. So, if the Honourable Premier would be able to just specify, Why is it that we have this line item and this activity where we do hire additional people to go through them, to go through these accounts, but we still have outstanding accounts? And then further to that, Why are we also providing legislative options for persons to effectively opt-out or . . . sorry, select a different auditor if we have a mechanism to make sure that we catch up with their audits? And the last time this happened the Honourable Minister, the then Minister of Education, had brought legislation to the effect facilitating that process for another body. So, my question is, Why do we have that option if we're able to hire staff? I'm happy to take a point—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Point of clarification.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Absolutely.

The Chairman: Proceed Minister.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you for mentioning that. This may affect the question, but the reason that legislation was brought forth for the Bermuda College is [because] part of their accreditation required that they show they have complete control over their financial matters. And so it required for them to be able to select their own auditor to do their audits for them. Not that we didn't want the Auditor General to do it.

The Chairman: Please proceed.
You got your clarity?

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Oh, absolutely.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: That was that was borderline effective. I like when we do effective up here.

[Laughter]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: So that's a great point.

But that also . . . I'll leave that question there for the Honourable Premier because the Honourable former Minister of Education made the point that that was due to an accreditation. But there are obviously others who would have similar interests, so my question would still apply to everybody else. Which was, How do you . . . given that where you have a mechanism by which to compensate for outdated reports, why do we have outdated reports, effectively?

And performance . . . That's . . . that's my questions. Commissions . . . Ah yes. I have some questions on page B-16 for the Office of Auditor General, Mr. Chairman.

Under performance measures, again going back to 15000, Number of financial statement audits completed. And I've looked through a number of reports from the Auditor General and it's been mentioned that sometimes this process has been hampered by no submissions, or problems getting submissions from other parties. And I believe the Honourable Premier did mention that in his brief. So I would ask the question, How many, if any, are these financial statement audits being hampered by either a lack of submissions, submissions which are not substantive enough? And are we tracking? Who's doing that? Why? So that we can remediate out of that circumstance.

That's my questions under Head 5, Office of Auditor General, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Do you wish to continue or do you want the answers?

Hon. Jarion Richardson: I'll just keep on going.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: I'm following the Minister who went for like two hours. I got to . . . if I take a break I might get in trouble.

The Chairman: I think he went longer but, you know . . .

[Laughter]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: So the next set of questions is under Head 56, the Human Rights Commission. And to that end . . . I'm on page B-17 and dealing with . . . well, I'll get into the questions to deal with. My question relates to the complaint caseload and investigation timelines, or timeliness, as it were, relating to business unit 66040 of the Tribunal as facilitated or administered by [business unit] 66020, the Office of the Commission. And my question relates to the performance, as it were. The performance standards of the Human Rights Commission are outlined on page B-19 under business unit 66020. And the Human Rights Commission, again, under the number 66040. And what I don't see here, but I do see in their annual reports, is reporting on their activities such as how many complaints remained open at the start of 2025/26 and timely resolutions.

So, my question relates more so to the Minister on the . . . overseeing this area, or responsible for administering this area, I should say. Why isn't that information included in the performance measures? That being the complaints that have been tabled. And times to resolutions and things like that. My question, it really does relate because performance tracking for resolving discrimination complaints, which are in line with section 14 of the Human Rights Act, are very important.

I actually skipped ahead and I apologise to the Human Rights Commission, its team, staff and Minister. I did mean to say first, thank you for their considerable service. The Human Rights Commission does a job which is absolutely key in modern law and modern life in Bermuda and is often quietly going about their jobs. But they are critical to making life sustainable, civil in Bermuda. So I wanted to mention that point.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Point of order, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: What is your point of order, Minister?

POINT OF ORDER

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Honourable Member did maybe a five-minute ramble without asking a single question. I believe that the Member is supposed to ask questions which are in alignment with the Budget Book. And I have not heard a question in that last five-minute period.

The Chairman: Just for your clarity and the clarity of the listening public, the Chairman of Committees had a meeting and there's some levity allowed for creative discussion. That can always be counteracted with factual answers. Thank you, Minister.

Please proceed, Opposition Leader.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Yes, I thank the Honourable Minister for bringing up the fact that, yes, there were some constraints before in this process. I'm glad those constraints have been lifted.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I'm at five minutes . . . my clock shows five minutes and 51 . . . five o'clock and 51 minutes. And I have a point there. The Honourable Minister said five minutes, I'm pretty sure within the five-minute period I asked a question about page B-19, 66040.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: So, my question to somebody is, really anybody, didn't that constitute a question? That question?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: But anyway, let's get back to the work of the people.

And especially . . . by the way and the reason why, Mr. Chairman, that I'm actually adding my thanks and specifying the importance of these roles is because the Minister's briefs all include that portion and what I would hate to happen is for someone to think that because I'm scrutinising their conduct, their allocations, their funds, or their output in any way means that I am not thankful for their contribution to the state of this country. And so, I just wanted to make that point.

Moving on back to Head 56, the Human Rights Commissions on page B-17. I had asked the question relating to the tracking mechanisms relating to discrimination complaints. A further question to the Honourable Minister would be on allocations on page B-17 relating to business unit 66020, Office of the Commission. My question would be, Of that allocation, which I'm looking at $1.331 million in the 2025/26 estimate, how much of that supports investigations? My understanding is part of this process, part of the complaints process, is an investigation part. And I'm not quite sure I know how much, or I can see how much funding goes towards investigating these complaints. I am making this point because timely handling of discrimination complaints is crucial and there is a rising caseload, so we just want to make sure that we are getting an understanding here as we are allocating $1,434,000 under Head 56, that it is being properly dealt with.

Relating to education and public engagement, which is coming under department objectives, most especially department objective 4, to educate the community on the principles of human rights inclusion and equality. I do have some questions here. We have three business units: business unit 66020, business unit 66030, and business unit 66040. But we also have an objective to educate the community under objective 4. And my question is, What share of the operational budget is devoted to the public education media outreach and or training piece? I believe the Honourable Minister did speak to that, but I wasn't sure if I got a specification as to how much of that funding goes towards that process? I am mindful but—

The Chairman: Please hold there, Opposition Leader.

For the listening public, we are now in the Committee of Supply for further consideration of the Estimates or Revenue and Expenditure for the year 2025/26. This debate began on non-ministries at 2:57 pm and it ends at 6:57 pm which by my calculations, Berkeley maths, means we have one hour left. So, if the Opposition continues to ask non-succinct questions, they may not get any answers.

Please continue, Mr. Opposition Leader.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Chairman for your evaluation of my sequence of questioning.

I would note . . . Oh, that's it. What performance measures exist to track education delivery or outcomes beyond media appearances and consultations? That's specifically relating to page B-19 either under business unit 66020, which is I think that's where it will be tracked. Because it is an advertising and promotion line item under subjective analysis of current account expenditures. But that looks like advertising and promotion and I'm not entirely sure that I'm capturing the full education delivery or outcome purposes.

Okay. Obviously, a great part of making sure that we don't increase our caseload which is what we're seeing right now, is the education piece. So my question relates to the education piece. A further question relating to the performance measures under 66020, relating to the strategic plan. I don't see it mentioned under performance measures, but the Human Rights Commission was applauded when they released their 2023-2025 Strategic Plan. And it would be interesting to know if any portion of the current projected allocation of $1,434,000 would go towards a new strategic plan.

Moving on. Independence and oversight and now moving on to Head 56, number 9, To act independently in accordance within the Commission's statutory duties and to continue to strengthen the Commissions ability to function with such independence. Which portion . . . I have some questions relating to the role, to the process, of the allocation process right now because I see that we have $1,434,000 and I know that the Commission is supposed to act independently of the Government and I wasn't sure, did the Cabinet amend the request? We saw a similar circumstance in the Office of the Auditor General where the Auditor General put forward a number to the committee, Audit Committee of the House. That number was then sent to the Finance Minister and that number was amended. Is there a similar such arrangement relating to the Commission?

Further on, going back to page B-17, specifically, objective B, Mr. Chairman. To inform the Government of human rights matters inclusive of those that require the development of policies designed to strengthen protections. With 46 per cent of complaints this year . . . this year? Yes, last year . . . tied to employment, has the Human Rights Commission consulted with the Government in drafting workplace discrimination, immigration or wage enforcement policies?

Further on to objective 6. I note the Honourable Minister had mentioned adopting disability as needed across Government. In her brief, which was, a report will be commissioned. I'm not sure if I caught all of it either. It is being commissioned, has been commissioned but it's supposed to go to Cabinet. And at that point it's supposed to be used as part of the wider consultation on every Government policy. I was hoping the Honourable Minister could speak to how that process would work because for those of us who work in compliance, we're well aware that if you send the policy to too a high level, it just gets put on a shelf and then collects dust. So, I'm wondering how that's going to work out.

Certainly, the Human Rights Commission is an early warning system, and it tells us what's going wrong or what needs to be addressed within our community. And so, I'm pleased to hear about the Human Rights Commission's work, and I'm interested to know how it's informing Government policy.

Moving on to the Human Rights Tribunal effectiveness. I am now referring to Head 56, page B-19, business unit 66040 Human Rights Tribunal where the two performance measurements are decisions issued within 30 days of the conclusion of a hearing being 100 per cent for the targeted outcome of this year and tribunal decisions registered in Supreme Court being 12.

One of the questions I have is . . . I'm not sure and maybe I might have missed this, is the total number of complaints being received and I'd be pleased to be corrected if I just missed that in the Minister's brief. Again this goes towards the effectiveness of the tribunals because I'm not sure how much how much work is being sent to them. They are being allocated right now $81,000. Speaking of that, there's a great question to the Honourable Minister. She had mentioned that under professional services, so 466040, under Professional Services which is the subjective analysis of current account estimates on page B-18 that tribunal—some members of the tribunal are being compensated under the Professional Services line item. And I had a question, Why is that if there is its own business unit under 66040 under tribunals?

The problem I see with that, Mr. Chairman, is that I'm not . . . it seems like one of many line items that get stuffed into Professional Services and given that we're seeing a 44 per cent increase in expenditure for that one line item, there's some curiosity around what's going in there. And further if I could ask the Honourable Minister as it relates to the subjective analysis of current account expenditures, specifically on page B-18 and I think this was under Professional Services as well going to my earlier point. She had mentioned that director and officer insurance had been obtained for the members of the tribunal and so my question is . . . and I think she said that price point was $4,000. So what about the statutory protections was not enough that required additional insurance coverage? I am just mindful of the precedent it sets relating to all the tribunals in government.

And I'll take us past Head 56 on the Human Rights Commission, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to move on to Head 63, the Parliamentary Registrar, with your permission.

The Chairman: Yes, please do, Honourable Opposition Leader. Get in all your questions. You have all of 50 minutes to go.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Yes, I think I'll probably take a break so I can get some answers back because I do have some supplementals. I am sure that excited a lot of people.

The Chairman: What did you say earlier? You said your statement was already written.

[Laughter]

The Chairman: Would you like—

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Foregone conclusion.

The Chairman: When would you like to get your answers?

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Well I can sit down right now and get some answers. I would love to.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Yes, definitely. Thank you.

The Chairman: While the . . . Minister Jason Haywood wishes to speak to some of the questions—

Hon. Jason Hayward: No—I will speak to the heads. Head 56—

The Chairman: Speak to Head 56, please.

Hon. Jason Hayward: —outlined in the Budget Book. I also laud the efforts of the Human Rights Commission and the departmental objectives. I think it plays a fundamentally important role in ensuring that we have an inclusive society, one that's based off of principles of social justice. One where we can embrace equity and equality.

Our department which is designed to understand by nature of us being human beings that we have biases—whether conscious biases or unconscious biases which lead to decision-making which may negatively impact individuals. And as a result of that we want to ensure that we respect persons at their most basic level and that is simply for being a human being. Persons should not be treated different based off of race, gender, nationality . . . we have ageism as well, which is a factor. And we count on and rely on persons to do the right thing within our society, but they simply don't. And there needs to be appropriate protections in place so we can continue to protect those individuals.

The department objectives of Head 56 to inquire into and investigate human rights related complaints of discrimination and harassment is needed. You would note that what I would have done in the Ministry of Economy and Labour would have been to place within the Employment Act the provision that every employer must have a policy in place against workplace bullying and harassment. What we found is that when we looked at the Human Rights Act, it was a very difficult hurdle for employees to climb to prove that they are being harassed or bullied based off of discriminatory grounds.

So, we put a policy statement in place to say simply it should not happen, whether it's based off of discriminatory grounds or not. But what we also found is that underneath what we consider to be discrimination and harassment is this layer of behaviour that we consider to be incivility. And that incivility in the workplace also impacts persons on many levels and I find that there is a gap in the human rights legislation as it pertains to incivility. We are going to discuss further with the Human Rights Commission as it pertains to employment equity in the workplace and how we can strengthen those provisions.

You would note that employment equity is found in the Human Rights Act and there are strong provisions in place to ensure that there is equality of opportunities in the workplace and that persons are not being discriminated and passed over. Something that exists within our community. Many complain about it and this Government will be on the forefront of addressing it. That was found in our [Retaining] the Local Workforce [Position] Paper, where we identified in order for Bermudians to feel comfortable in their places of employment, they needed to . . . we need to ensure that the environment is one that is conducive to them being productive and progressing.

We also support the efforts of the department to resolve human rights complaints through mediation. Mediation is an excellent tool to ensure that we have appropriate barometer checks of behaviour. Not all the time do complaints have to go through a tribunal and there is punitive measure. Sometimes mediation can lead to correctional behaviour, but acknowledgement that the behaviour actually exists as well.

It is important that the Human Rights Tribunal have the effective support. It is important that we continue to look to revise the Human Rights Act. It is also important to inform Government policymaking—where the complaints lie, who was still . . . which demographic group within our society are being negatively impacted? In which areas does the discrimination actually exist? All of these things are fundamentally important to ensure that we have a society that works for all. The society that appreciates persons' basic human rights but also a society where we afford everyone the same level of opportunity and we extend the quality of rights of that . . . that person's desire. Where persons can work in or live in some sort of dignity.

We see worldwide where atrocities are taking place based off of nationality and race and tribal wars and things of that nature. And it is these sorts of bodies—the Human Rights Commission and the international institutions in which the Human Rights Commission aligns itself with that actually provides us with stabilising mechanisms that mitigate against some of the negative impacts of that behaviour within our society.

When we look at the budget allocation, we continue to ensure that we increase the budget allocation of the Human Rights Commission's office. We do appreciate the role that they actually play within our society and we want to ensure that they achieve the targeted outcomes which are set up on page B-119, under Head 56, Human Rights Commission.

In particular, when we look at ensuring that officers are trained on legislative amendments, ensuring that we keep a track of the number of complaints and the complaints are appropriately adjudicated, another important thing and we see an expansion of the targeted outcomes is where we have community education and public resources. I think that is a critical area. We have to continue to inform persons of the standards in which we expect and desire within our society—whether it be in the workplace.

There is now discrimination that is taking place as it pertains to housing. We are having challenges with housing and part of the challenges we are having with housing is because persons are being discriminated against. Certain individuals—whether it be their family size, whether it be their racial background—do not have access to housing opportunities that others have. We certainly see it in the workplace. We see it in our financial institutions as well, where persons who achieve a certain age . . . there are barriers to them accessing capital from our financial institutions and utilising our financial institutions for investments and levels of empowerment. And so, it is something that we have to keep a watchful eye on, and we will keep track of the reports as to understanding where the complaints actually lie and also get a sound understanding of the areas that need actual addressing.

As it pertains to Head 5, which is the Office of the Auditor General, a lot of work is done in that area but it is important that we understand that the department's objectives are to strengthen the accountability, transparency and integrity of the Government of Bermuda and the public sector and just the delivery of assurance services and sound guidance of the highest quality. I think that the work that has been done over the years in this particular space has allowed us to strengthen our good governance mechanisms. Year after year, reports are written. Year after year, recommendations are made. And year after year, the Government makes improvements—whether it be to the evolution of financial instructions but also leading to how we can ensure that we exude good governance more of the time.

We do not run from the reports of the Auditor General. We welcome the reports. The reports are independent, critical of Government at times, but it's for us to ensure that we are always operating at the highest standard. And this Government certainly . . . strives to ensure that we operate with a sense of excellence and of highest quality. You see, it ties right in with what we're trying to do as it pertains to economic development. You simply can't have an economy which is a blue-chip business jurisdiction and a government that does not live up to the same values as our reputation from a business community standpoint.

And so the same strong regulations and the legal framework that we appreciate in our business ecosystem is the hallmarks of what we carry over into the government as well. Those were my interventions, Mr. Chairman. I'll lean on the Minister responsible for the Human Rights Commission to answer some of the questions the Opposition may have asked . . . and I know that other Ministers are now prepared to answer questions which were asked. But those were my brief interventions.

The Chairman: Thank you for your very brief intervention, Minister Jason P. Haywood

We now have . . . the Chair now recognises Honourable Tinee Furbert.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I will take the opportunity to reiterate some of the brief that I spoke about earlier to answer the questions. Actually, I couldn't quite follow the questions, Mr. Chairman. It was very difficult to follow the questions but I'll try my best because there was a lot of ad-libbing in between the questions. But I will try my best to interpret what the questions were.

Mr. Chairman, as far as the tribunals are concerned and the budget monies allocated for those units, you would note on page B-17 . . . [where] it speaks of the general amount that is allocated for the tribunals being $81,000. And then when you review page B-18 which gives the actual breakdown of those business units, which gives us the total of the $1.434 million, the tribunal costs in general come out of professional services. So, it is just enclosed . . . when we pay our tribunal members for their services, it is actually enclosed in the professional services area.

There was a question—and please forgive me because I'm going to probably answer these out of order. There was a question in regard to the education, number four of the department's objectives to educate the community on the principles of the human rights inclusion and equality. And I did speak about this, particularly on the area of advertisement and promotion, that the Human Rights Commission has worked very diligently this year. And actually, I had tasked them with making sure that they were communicating their role and what they do and what they offer our community.

You will see that they have done that—particularly with the increase in their spend for advertising and promotion, where they have done branding design support, visual communication strategies [which] has increased to $35,000 this particular year. Where if you look in the Budget Book you will see that that amount has been in the region of $12,000 to $27,000 and so they have actually worked hard to increase their education and public engagement and their visual identity in the community.

Mr. Speaker there was . . . I'm sorry, Mr. Chairman, there was a question around the insurance for the tribunal members. We must understand that the Human Rights Commission is an independent body and so if there was someone in the community who wants to press charges against our tribunal members that our judiciary . . . I'm sorry our Chambers do not fully cover that and that they would have to have representation.

And they can choose to have representation from other outside bodies to be able to protect them throughout tribunal proceedings, if someone decides to take them or want to take them to court. And so, we found it very prudent, and the Ministry supported that, that recommendation for them to have liability insurance. And it provides an extra layer of protection for our tribunal members in making a decision to want to be a part of the actual tribunal and they felt a little bit more secure having this insurance in place.

I'm just wanting to skip quickly because I know you have other questions for the other Minister. In regard to the . . . in regard also I had spoke about educational outreach. The Commission facilitated 63 engagements which is 33 more than they had done in the previous year. So that education continues to go strong for the Human Rights Commission, which I'm very proud that they continue to go with . . . let's see . . . sorry—

The disability report, Mr. Chairman. It's been an initiative of the Human Rights Commission where they wanted to do research around the areas in which our country may be deficient in disability rights. I'm still waiting for that report. They will present it to the Ministry first and our country should know that we are doing research right now as it relates to Bermuda's own Disability Act and so this report will actually be very helpful, as information gathered from an independent body to help us to formulate the . . . or to cement the direction that we're wanting to go particularly with disability legislation. So it doesn't go to Cabinet right away; it goes to the Ministry for the Ministry to use as information to proceed with . . . as information for us to have for disability legislation.

I will sit right there. I'm still . . . I'm still waiting for some answers to come in, but I'll let my colleague answer some of the questions that were ahead of me.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Minister Tinee Furbert.

The Chair now recognises Honourable Minister Diallo Rabain.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Why, thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I will handle answering questions from Head 2, which is the Legislature. The Honourable Member did have quite a few questions . . . the Honourable Member did have quite a few questions on Head 2 and so I will attempt to answer them.

Mr. Chairman, speaking on page B-10, business unit 12000, the Honourable Member asked about the increase in 5 per cent in the admin budget. There were not any performances related to those increases. Answer is (and which was in the brief) is those increases are salary uplifts and so I guess the answer is: no performance measures to those particular increases.

Page B-11—and there was quite a bit of conversation about Sessions House and when would our legislature return to Sessions House and talked about things going on in Veritas Place. And so the answer that we have here is there's . . . unfortunately there isn't a definitive answer that can be given. I know in the brief it did say that now once Courts have moved out, the Public Works would be required to go in there and do a comprehensive inspection and they are working with the House and Grounds Committee.

I do know that there are Members Opposite that sit on that House and Grounds Committee, as the Opposition Whip sits on that Committee. So I'm sure any information on what's being discussed between them and Public Works certainly could be ascertained by the Opposition Leader from the Whip. And speaking of such . . .

[Laughter]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: And so projections on costs and project timelines are still to be finished.

I believe he mentioned the sum of $20 million and I want to say that did come from the Capital Acquisitions page where it talked about TAF. I'm assuming that's what you were referring to the TAF—so those out there that are listening the TAF, total allocated funding, doesn't mean it's been allocated but that's what you estimate you're going to spend and that actually, from my experience in government, that's not tied to a time frame either.

It's always, Hey we're going to fix it. This is what we think the total amount is going to be, and so the project will progress. Being someone who's kind of familiar with renovations it could very quickly, you know, ramp up once you get in there and find out what needs to be done or. . . but it could be a kind of a slow little creep until you get to that point where construction can just ramp up and get going.

Again, on page B-11, what attributed to the significant increase in utilities? We have heard the increase was budgeted as energy costs for Session Hall, previously shared with the Courts, was expected to fall slowly to Legislature after the Courts left. I guess what we're trying to say there is because the Courts were in there, they were paying some of the bill and now that they're gone . . . now that they're gone, and even though buildings are not utilised there's still some on-going energy costs that go with that.

The Hansard—next question here talks about the Hansard. I didn't . . . you said the Premier, but it was I that gave the brief. I didn't speak to voice transcription services previously discussed. The idea was that the recordings would be subject to abuse. A voice transcript service would then benefit Members of the House. It says here that VRS was trialled and found to be wanting. The Parliament Information Officer advised ASR software had repeated difficulty differentiating Bermudian vernacular dialect. Also, not good at formatting and abiding by Hansard style guidelines. And I do understand the Hansard. I use them quite extensively as well and find them very, very useful to go online and find out what had happened previously.

Digital transformation. Is there a timeline for implementation of Hansard? The Parliament Information Officer is the only editor, and it takes five to seven days for Members' proofs to be completed. This is very contingent on the length of the House and Senate meetings. The editor has to go through the recording and transcript very carefully. Complete editing of Hansard requires at least another week when the House is meeting on usual bi-weekly basis. This process is naturally a lot longer following budget debate meetings. I hope that answers that question.

Parliament informing the public through live streaming committees. This would be only considered for public meetings of a committee. However, cost would be prohibitive. Public meetings would be open to the press and the general public. Again, you're talking about voice [transcription] services, and I already spoke about it being trialled and found to be wanting.

Interesting question you had here about Youth Parliament and said from 20 to 12 and what is being done to encourage active participation. I do know in the in the [Budget] Book it says the outcome sought for this upcoming fiscal year is 18—so it is going up. I do know . . . I was kind of shocked to hear when you said you didn't really know anything about Youth Parliament until the unfortunate passing of the Speaker's wife.

I know I've been involved in Youth Parliament. I never was a Youth Parliamentarian, but I've been involved with Youth Parliament as I progressed in my venture into the political realm. And I've witnessed their debates. It was a lot easier when it was in the Parliament House, but they really have really robust debates and I've actually been a judge in a couple of their debates.

Interestingly they meet every Wednesday, and they were meeting today while you were speaking. They meet on the fifth floor of this building, and they actually just completed their meeting like around 5:30-ish and left. So, if you want to come down here on a Wednesday you can come down and actually see them because they meet every Wednesday. But you would reach out to young Lister, Mr. Russell Lister, and he'd be able to organise something for you on that.

What does the $900,000 get us? Again, this is something Public Works will answer. They are the ones that's responsible for the refurbishment of the building. But the portion of those funds, as I did mention in the brief, covered a rental cost of Veritas Place and the energy cost of this building as well.

And so, this goes into when you were talking about the $20 million, this was budgeted . . . the $900,000 was budgeted by Public Works for the 2025/26 spend for the work that they need to do up there once the Courts have rolled out.

You have here Ministers and Members Public Accounts Committee—international comparison support and need for invested secretariat. It says that funding and resources for PAC committees generally come out of the Boards and Committees Fees budget of $100,000 and from the Professional Services funding. We have no dedicated committee secretariat. Clerks and staff are assigned to serve the committees. If appropriate, temporary workers may be assigned to work with committees. And I can say . . . I know I've been on the Joint Select Committee and we've had external support to try to transcribe and all of that stuff, so I do know it's something that does happen.

The vacant post as you would have . . . you spoke about the vacant post that's the assistant clerk—not the assistant clerk. Is it assistant clerk? The assistant clerk . . . but I did say in the brief that they plan to recruit in this fiscal year to fill that post. I do remember saying that.

We have here performance measures reports indicate that a number of entities are not in compliance with audit requirements. How many entities are in arrears? Oh . . . that goes into auditor. Sorry, I don't want to answer that one.

[Laughter]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Advancing digital transformation trial use in government . . . that trial is to be extended.

I did want to say when . . . because you referred to a Ministerial Statement that I gave and the Ministerial Statement spoke to the AI policy that government was to adapt. That when AI was being utilised throughout government services, these were the rules and regulations that went behind it. I think what . . . listening to you, what it sounds like you're speaking about is the use of a chat box that could be added to the website that you will be able to put in a question and go and search the website and find the information that you need. And that's something that I can encourage the Parliament's Clerk to reach out so we can have that conversation with the Digital Innovation team to see if that's something that we could actually all put together for that.

I believe that covers most of the questions. Oh we have here communications, antiquated electronic resources in use. Can these costs be reallocated for better use? I think that question you were talking about the tablets that virtually no one uses. Some people use them, though I do see a few of them here. And it says here procurement of more advanced technology can be considered for funding in future budgets.

And so, with that—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Yes. And I will say it is non-ministry, so a lot of the stuff falls on the under the Speaker . . . and I believe there was something else that you spoke to that I do want to say: there is some legislation that the Parliament is pushing through to revamp some of the ways they do things around here. And so where . . . that's in the hands of the Clerk and the Speaker and the rest of them so we're still waiting for that to move forward. You probably would have been aware of the report that was done on modernising Parliament. Cole Simons was the Chair of the Joint Select Committee. It was it was done forever ago. Okay? But thank you.

That's the questions that I have here, and I'll just leave it to the Premier to answer questions on audit.

The Chairman: Thank you, Honourable Minister Diallo Rabain. And now Honourable Premier and Finance Minister shall give his succinct answers to his Member Opposite.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I will try to answer as many questions as I can on Head 5. There was a question that said on page B-14, performance measurements, reports indicate that a number of entities are not in compliance with audit requirements. How many entities in arrears and do we have a remediation plan to cure the backlog?

Response from the Auditor General's office is entities in arrears amount to 176 financial statement accounts. The remediation plan varies. The office is currently working with the Ministry of Finance on roughly 67 fund financial accounts that are in arrears and expect to address many of the dated accounts within the current financial year—which is something I spoke to inside of my Finance brief which is work that is taking place on that side.

A question said, What are the recommendations related to financial statement audits, $4.4 million? What are the outcomes and measures warranting this expenditure? The Office of the Auditor General performs follow-on on the recommendations annually and the last follow-up report dated November 2024 is available on the Office of the Auditor General's website.

The question asked, Is the Auditor General's office fully staffed? If not, what is the plan to staff its entity? I did think I answered that question inside of the budget statement, but I will provide the response the Opposition Leader from the Auditor General. The Office of the Auditor General is not currently fully staffed (which I said in my brief). They are currently recruiting for open posts as noted in the brief; 70 per cent of the staff and 90 per cent of the qualified staff are work permit holders or contract workers. As such the office is constantly recruiting. And I did say in the brief—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Sorry? I'm not following . . .

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Okay. Has the 2023/24 Auditor General's report been drafted? If so, where is it located? And the response from the Office of the Auditor General is the 2023/24 report on the office operations are to be laid in Quarter 3 along with the 2024/25 compilation.

This question is a strange one, but it says the Premier stated that additional funds would be provided to the office as needed and that it is noted that there is a need for computers. What is the Premier's position with regard to the additional funding for the Auditor General's office and I stated to—

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Point of information.

The Chairman: Please give the point of information. What is your point of information?

POINT OF INFORMATION

Hon. Jarion Richardson: The question was relating to how does the Honourable Premier decide when to authorise additional spends, given that he said he'd support a $60,000 or $80,000 increase or . . . but I see there are computers needed so I may . . . so my question was, How do you decide what to permit? How do you allow that to happen? How do you decide when to expand that budget? Blah, blah, blah.

The Chairman: Thank you for that point of information. Premier?

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you. Budgets cannot be expanded because budgets are approved by this Honourable House. And so, the budgets cannot be expanded. The Minister of Finance does not have that power or discretion.

In speaking of the particular point to which he was raising, what I had stated on a—

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Point of clarification

Hon. E. David Burt: I will yield.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Yes, he had said he would find the money somehow, I believe that was the statement. So, it was clear that there's some flexibility I'm just trying to figure out how the flexibility gets decided.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Do you want me to answer the question? It's the same clarification. I got your question, mate. If I need the clarification, I would have said—

The Chairman: Honourable Member.

Hon. E. David Burt: Honourable Member—

The Chairman: Honourable Mate. Honourable Member.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: I will start again. We cannot create additional funding because funding is approved by this Honourable Chamber.

The way that process works is, number one, if there is a surplus and additional computers that are purchased (as I explained during my brief in that time when I was discussing that), there are significant numbers of funds that we have used to purchase computers for the government. Computers are relatively standardised. If there are additional ones, those could be supplied to them.

The other options are . . . because the Office of Auditor General never spends all of their funds, as we've seen, because their office is not fully staffed and so there could be provision for those monies to be vired. Or the third thing is if there are additional capital funds which are not spent (as we do know that capital funds which are appropriated and allocated by this House are rarely if ever completely spent), then we do an authorisation for virement and that comes in the form of a supplement to the estimate. So that is the way under the Public Treasury Administration Payments Act and the rules of the House—which I would of course assume that the Honourable Member does know.

He said we have spoken about hiring additional staff under line item for professional services. What about overdue audits and addressing those? And I'll read the answer from the Auditor General. There has to be a shift in mind-set. If there is an agreed upon plan with the Auditor General, her office can work with the auditee to address. The Auditor General does not have the power to compel entities to produce and remit their accounts to audit.

Another question was asked, page B-15. It says mechanisms for entities to opt out of audit requirements, not using Auditor General, but using their own. Why do we have that option if we are . . . why do we have that option if we are able to hire staff. There is—and from the Auditor General—as the Audit Act would state there are no government entity or quango that can opt out of a financial statement audit. The only independent audit report that is laid in the House of Assembly is that signed [by] the Auditor General. With the entity that appoints the auditor, they must work with her office, and it is her office that reviews their working papers, and it is her office's independent report that is laid in the House of Assembly. And so, you cannot opt out of that particular requirement.

The question that says, Why do we have outdated reports? And the response is there are several reasons why there are accounts in arrears. The two main reasons include a lack of resources of the auditees to prepare the financial accounts and competing priorities of the entity's information in some cases not available due to hurricanes, water damage, et cetera.

And the final question under the Auditor General which says 15,000 number of financial statements completed—Oh, 15000 is the [business unit]—number of financial statements completed. It was reported that there was an issue receiving submissions from entities. How many statements are being hampered by missing data? And the response from the Office of the Auditor General is missing data cannot be evaluated until the accounts are obtained.

And I do not believe there are any questions for the Office of Internal Audit, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you for your succinct answers.

Opposition Leader, you wish anymore questions? You have had enough?

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Never, Mr. Chairman. Never. They did not send me here to sit back when I had the opportunity. Let me . . . Mr. Chairman, thank you so much for this further opportunity to further scrutinise the Estimates for Revenue and Expenditure.

To that end, may I continue on Head 63?

The Chairman: You may continue. You have 15 minutes.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Thank you. Thank you very much, sir.

Mr. Chairman, thank you. The Registrar . . . again, I will start where the Honourable Minister finished by thanking the Parliamentary Registrar for her considerable work and the work of the staff in executing the general election most especially recently. I don't have a lot of time but I would want to say her work is incredibly important and at no point would anything I say now [impute] a motive or anything like that. I know there was some media pieces that . . . that because I had raised questions about processes that in some way, shape or fashion I was being untoward and that would be 110 per cent wrong.

The Chairman: So, do you want to clarify that you were not attacking the Parliamentary Registrar?

Hon. Jarion Richardson: I would never do that. I think highly of her; and she has a very, very important and key role in our country.

The Chairman: All right. Thank you.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: To that end under Head 63, I do have some questions relating to voter register maintenance and accuracy.

Under Head 63, most especially under object . . . sorry, on page B-20 under objective two . . . the Parliamentary Registrar has an objective to maintain a complete, accurate and up-to-date register for voters. And so, I have some questions relating to [business] unit 73000 which I believe houses all of the staff under employment numbers, full-time equivalence under page B-21. And my questions relate to updates to the register, as it says maintain a complete accurate and up-to-date register of voters.

My question is, How frequently are updates received from other government departments that would have information relating to voter eligibility such as the Department of Immigration, Courts and the Register General? That information includes register addresses and deceased voters. My further question is, as it relates to . . . and this can also be added to the performance measures under 73000 Administration. I see that the performance measures are voter registrations updated per population, number of online registrations increased over the previous year and stakeholder engagements conducted to increase the awareness of voter registration. My question does relate to that process which is, How many voters were removed from or added to the register in the past year? This especially relates to objective two, obviously.

And a further question to the Honourable Minister would be, What performance measures (that would be on page B-22) exist to track the timeliness and accuracy of updates to the Parliamentary Registrar? It's obviously key that our elections . . . the accuracy of the Registrar lends credibility to our elections and so it's quite key, that objective. And again, I commend the Registrar for working towards that.

My next set of questions relate to the advanced and special procedures under which absentee voting falls, which the Honourable Minister did speak to the policy work. Now this relates to page B-22 under [business] unit 73017, Election Reform Research, which has an allocation which isn't funded this year—which the Honourable Minister spoke to and said that that project (that being absentee voting) as well as other electoral reforms will be undertaken under his Ministry, which would be the Ministry for Cabinet [Office].

So, to that end, would the Honourable Minister be able to . . . outline if any funding has been shifted from this head to pay for that research into absentee voting? As well as give an update as to how far that progress has gone before it was handed over to the Ministry for Cabinet Office. This most especially relates to the earlier work done on absentee voting under the second Progressive Labour Party Premier, the Honourable Alex Scott. So clearly this ball has been under consideration for some time and so I would like to see where we're at . . . at the point at which that it left this Head 63 for the Parliamentary Registrar.

Further and then I'll . . . last question so that I can get . . . see if we can get the answer on the absentee voting. The next question will be as it relates to public awareness and education or electoral or voter education, I'm sorry, which comes under objective . . . I don't see . . . I actually don't see it. And perhaps this question is . . . this is the question . . . I had an understanding from the ministerial brief that there were a number of public awareness campaigns or media appearances and education as it relates to voting rights.

There was a group, I want to say Bermuda Connect or Youth Connect, who [had] recently done some fantastic work on voter education and registration just before the last election. So, my question would be, Does this Head 63 Parliamentary Registrar have a role to play in the education process, educating voters on voter rights? And further, my question relates to electoral systems modernisation which I believe falls under 73000—this is on page B-22, sorry, Mr. Chairman. [Business unit] 73000 . . . it might have been under business unit 73017 under Election Reform Research—but it certainly goes towards digitising the entire process. There's been some considerable progress made by the Parliamentary Registrar which obviously made life a lot easier and that's depicted on business unit 73000 relating to number of online registrations. Would the Honourable Minister be able to advise on future projects relating to modernising our electoral systems?

With that said, Mr. Chairman, I do have plenty more questions, but I'll take a seat to get the answers to those questions.

The Chairman: The Chair recognises Minister Honourable Tinee Furbert.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I do want to take the opportunity to answer some of the questions that came in earlier, if you oblige me, as the team has just returned them back to me and I'm sure they would want their work to be recognised.

There was a question about tracking mechanisms for intakes. The Commission uses a complaints management system to track all intakes which are comprised of complaints and queries from the public. I also want to take this opportunity to remind Members of this House as well as our listening audience that the Human Rights Commission publishes an annual report that they put out every year. And it is a very thorough and succinct report that spells out all of the statistical analysis as it relates to the complaints management statistics. I encourage our colleagues to take a look at that that which is located on their website humanrights.bm and particularly pages 9 and onwards which speaks to all of the numbers and statistics as it relates to the tracking of reports to the Human Rights Commission. But it also comprises of many other details as it relates to types of complaints as well. And that information is out there in the public domain for anyone to take a look at, at any time.

There was a question around costs allocated to investigations. There is under salaries for investigators there were two full-time investigation officers which total $201,000, to answer that question. And then there was a question around the strategic planning update. The Strategic Plan was implemented during the previous fiscal year with noticeable commitments met, including the drafting of the operational policies and procedures and the increase in education activities including a human rights conference, a public consultation on disability inclusion, and 19 radio and podcast interviews.

There was a question around whether the members of the tribunal are being compensated through professional services. I did speak to this a little bit prior but also, it's important to note that the board and committee fees also fall under professional services for the Government of Bermuda's chart of accounts, which is the reason why the compensation of tribunal members is under professional services. Looking under page B-21, professional services would best describe the nature of services offered by tribunal members.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

Honourable Opposition Leader . . . [do] you have any more questions? You have four minutes.

Hon. Jarion Richardson: Yes, just waiting on the answers for Head 63 relating to the Parliamentary Registrar, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Okay. Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Hello, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, let's see now. There's a question here about voter maintenance and accuracy. How often are registers updated from government departments for voter information? Immigration is backed up every other day and share deaths, and registry general sent once a month and land valuation backed up every night and shared.

Still waiting for the answer to how many voters were removed from the registry in the previous year.

You have a question here about public awareness and voter education. Does this head have a role to play in voter education processes? I go back to the brief where we spoke about advertising and promotion and . . . in this fiscal year $79,000 has been allocated. These funds are primarily allocated across the Constituency Boundaries Commission by general bye-elections and municipalities cost centres with the main focus on voter information and public awareness campaigns. It's also . . . they are also telling me here, yes, in the past they do engage high-school-age students and children turning 18. And so I do know that they do come out and do the voter education stuff as well.

Absentee voting, election reform research: Can the Minister advise of the reallocation of funding to support electoral reforms specifically related to absentee voting? This budget was completed just before the general election which is when the issue became pertinent, and it was discussed again. At the time of completion we were focused on the election preparation and therefore that's why no funds were allocated to alternative voting research. However, I can say that I have met with the part . . . one of the first things that I did on becoming Minister is meet with Ms. [Tenia] Woolridge and we discussed absentee balloting. She has a wealth of information that has previously been researched. That's why we said we are just now. . . [we have] to collate this information.

You did mention people like Youth Connect and then there's Bermuda [is] Love as well who did come out with this vote campaign. They have already been contacted by my office to say, you know, we want to have these discussions about how we move forward. So, it is something that is on our radar. It just needs to be executed. And as I said earlier on, when I spoke to the brief, we fully expect by September 2026 that that legislation will be passed, and we will have absentee balloting active in Bermuda.

The Chairman: Okay. The time now is 6:57 pm which means that the time for questions has expired.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, very much, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I move that Heads 2, 5, 56, 63, 85, 92, 98, and 101 be approved as printed.

The Chairman: It has been moved that Heads 2, 5, 56, 63, 85, 92, 98 and 101 be approved.

Is there any objection to that motion?

No objection.

Agreed to.

[Motion carried: Non-Ministries Heads 2, 5, 56, 63, 85, 92, 98 and 101 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for 2025/26.]

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, very much, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I move the following heads be approved as printed: Non-Ministry departments, Head 1, Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation Heads 51 and 61, Ministry of Finance Head 49 and Ministry of National Security Head 45.

The Chairman: It has been moved that Heads . . . Non-Min— Heads 1, 51 and 61, 49 and 45 be approved.

Any objections?

No objections.

They have been approved.

[Motion carried: Non-Ministry Head 1, Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation Heads 51 and 61; Ministry of Finance Head 49; and Ministry of National Security Head 45 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for 2025/26.]

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, very much, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I move that the current account estimates, the capital development estimates and the capital acquisition estimates be approved

The Chairman: Any objections?

It has been moved that the current account estimates, capital development estimates and the capital acquisitions estimates have been approved.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I move that the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for fiscal year 2025/26 be approved.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the Estimates of Revenue be approved . . . sorry, it has been moved that the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the financial year 2025/26 be approved.

Any objections?

Anything from the Opposition?

Nothing?

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of clarification.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Mr. Scott Pearman: Sorry, I believe the Premier moved some heads in relation to the Ministry of Finance in his first part of the speech and that those weren't repeated and approved.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Scott Pearman: After you moved the Non-Ministries, you moved some of the Ministry of Finance and those were not repeated and approved by the House. Just for good order—

Hon. E. David Burt: What do you mean? Repeat it here, now?

Mr. Scott Pearman: Right.

When you started reading, you read the Non-Ministries that had not been debated, and then you hit the ones that were Ministry of Finance. Those were not approved by the House because they weren't repeated by the Chair.

The Chairman: Okay.

Hon. E. David Burt: You think he didn't repeat them. I thought he read them all, but let me . . . I will try one more time just for good order if [you] don't mind. Because the Clerk was there. She would correct you, but I don't know—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: So, let me not get out of good order.

The Chairman: Maybe he needs AI or something, because . . .

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: I remember you reading Non-Ministry 1, 51, 61, 49, 45. I heard you say those.

The Chairman: Okay, so—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: No, no. It was just 49. That is Ministry of Finance.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Yes, but I did it here. That is what I just said.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Chairman: It has been moved that Non-Ministry Head 1, Head 51, Head 61, Head 49 and Head 45 be approved—again. Twice on Hansard.

An Hon. Member: Any objections?

The Chairman: Any objections?
Mr. Premier.

[Motion carried: Non-Ministry Head 1, Cabinet Office Heads 51 and 61; Ministry of Finance Head 49; and Ministry of National Security Head 45 were approved and stand part of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for 2025/26.]

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, having been moved and approved, the current account estimates, the capital development estimates and the capital acquisition estimates having been approved that the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for financial year 2025/26 be approved. I now move that the approval of the Estimates [of Revenue and Expenditure] be reported to the House.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the financial year [2025/26] be reported to the House.

Any objections?

None. It will be reported.

[Motion carried: The Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the financial year 2025/26 were considered by a Committee of the whole House and passed.]

The Chairman: Mr. Speaker.

House resumed at 07:02 pm

[Hon. Dennis P. Lister, Jr., Speaker, in the Chair]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

ESTIMATES OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 2025/26

The Speaker: Good evening, Members.

Are there any objections to the Estimate of Revenue [and Expenditures] for the year 2025/26 being reported to the House as approved in the Committee?

Any objections?

There are none.

It has been reported to the House.

Premier.

BILL

FIRST READING

APPROPRIATION ACT 2025

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I am introducing a Bill entitled the Appropriation Act 2025 for its first reading with the Governor's recommendation signified.

The Speaker: Any objections?

There are none. Continue, Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move in accordance with Standing Order 28(5)(1) that under the provisions of Standing Orders 41, 12 and 42 the remaining stages of the Bill entitled the Appropriation Act 2025 be taken forthwith.

The Speaker: Thank you. The matter has been brought and will be taken forthwith.

No objections to that? No.

BILL

SECOND READING

APPROPRIATION ACT 2025

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the Bill entitled the Appropriation Act 2025 be now read for the second time in the House.

The Speaker: Are there any objections?

There are none.

Continue, Premier.

[Motion carried: the Appropriation Act 2025 was read a second time.]

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move clauses 1 through 6, inclusive, together with Schedules A, B and C as printed.

The Speaker: Any objections?

There are none.

[Motion carried: Clauses 1 through 6 together with Schedules A, B and C passed.]

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the preamble be approved.

The Speaker: Are there any objections to the preamble being approved?

There are none.

Continue, Premier.

BILL

THIRD READING

APPROPRIATION ACT 2025

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the Bill entitled the Appropriation Act 2025 be now read the third time by its title only.

The Speaker: Are there any objections to the matter being read a third time by title only?

There are none.

Continue, Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, very much, Mr. Speaker.

It is a great honour for me to move that the Bill that will produce the second-in-a-row budget surplus for the country be moved and do now pass.

[Desk thumping]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker!

The Speaker: Thank you.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order.

The Speaker: I don't think you are serious on your point of order, are you?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order. The Premier is perhaps mistakenly misleading the House, Mr. Speaker. There was not a budget surplus in the prior financial year, Mr. Speaker.

Thank you.

[Desk thumping and laughter]

The Speaker: Mr. Premier . . . it has been read. Okay.

Hon. E. David Burt: Sorry?

The Speaker: Continue.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, very much, Mr. Speaker.

I move that the budget . . . that the Appropriation Act which will contain the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for this year passed out of the Committee with a record investment in capital investment—

An Hon. Member: Aah!

Hon. E. David Burt: —with more money, a record expansion of health care—

[Desk thumping]

Hon. E. David Burt: —inside of this country and the work that is being done with a $43 million projected surplus . . . I move that that budget and Bill do now pass.

An Hon. Member: Yes!

The Speaker: Premier. The Bill has been read and considered passed.

[Motion carried: The Appropriation Act 2025 was read a third time and passed.]

The Speaker: Thank you.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the following message be sent to the Senate:

MESSAGE TO THE SENATE

APPROPRIATION ACT 2025

Hon. E. David Burt: To the Honourable President and Members of the Senate: The House of Assembly has the honour to forward herewith the undernoted Bill for the concurrence of your House: The Appropriation Act 2025. Copies of the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for 2025/26 are also forwarded for the information of your House.

The Speaker: Thank you, Mr. Premier.

Members, that brings the matter of the annual budget debate for this period to a conclusion.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: We will now move on, Mr. Premier. Are there any other matters of the day or would you like to bring the House to a close?

[Laughter]

Hon. E. David Burt: No, sir. Mr. Speaker, I do believe that we are taking up two particular matters and the first item is just another one of the many tax cuts that was in the budget of which we just passed. As this Government cuts taxes instead of increases them. And so, I will defer, if you will, Mr. Speaker, to the Junior Minister of Finance.

The Speaker: Junior Minister of Finance.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I move that consideration be given to the draft Regulations entitled the Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, proposed to be made by the Minister of Finance, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Government Fees Act 1965.

The Speaker: Are there any objections to that?

None.

Continue, Junior Minister.

DRAFT REGULATIONS

GOVERNMENT FEES AMENDMENT REGULATIONS 2025

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, in the Pre-Budget Report tabled in this Honourable House in December, the Minister of Finance outlined a number of tax reductions that were under consideration to ease the tax burdens faced by residents and businesses. This Government has a history of ensuring that better fiscal performance results in a meaningful relief for taxpayers.

Mr. Speaker, I now bring to this Honourable House one of the fees reductions promised within the Pre-Budget Report and the 2025/26 Budget Statement.

Mr. Speaker, as stated in the 2025/26 Budget Statement, access to communication is essential for work, for education, for staying connected with loved ones. To ease the financial burden of mobile services, the Government will reduce the monthly fee on mobile phones by a whopping 50 per cent, Mr. Speaker, from $12 to $6. This measure will result in immediate savings for every mobile customer as a part of our commitment to lowering the cost of essential services. This tax reduction will take effect from 1 July 2025 and is expected to reduce the tax revenue by $2 million.

Mr. Speaker, the following fee within these regulations will be amended within the existing head in the revised 2025 fee schedule as follows:

- Head 76 (Telecommunications Act 1986), provisions section 1(e)(iv).

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Junior Minister.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

Shadow Minister of Finance, you have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Good evening, Mr. Speaker. Pleasure to speak with you again.

Tax cuts, whopping tax cuts. I'm sure somebody out there, Mr. Speaker, must have spat out their supper.

I did a little research to see what I could do with $6. It's unfortunate the Minister of Home Affairs is not here because I perhaps could have helped her with her survey, but $6.99 for a dozen of Dunkley's eggs at Marketplace. Those are imported.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Mr. Speaker, $7.69, that's local eggs at Windybank [Farm] if you can get them. White or wheat loaf of bread from Crow Lane Bakery, Mr. Speaker, $6.95.

The Speaker: Mm-hmm.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: MarketPlace house brand, $6.20. And if you want a basic sandwich, $7.99 and up. I recommend you don't ask for the avocado on top, Mr. Speaker.

Look, I'll take a $6.00 cut. I'll take it. We're not going to say no. No, you know, we support this.

Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo: Spread the wealth.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: But let's be honest, Mr. Speaker. Let's be honest. And we can acknowledge that communications is a lifeline, that it would perhaps be one of the basic needs of people in this modern age. So, we could support making sure that everybody in Bermuda has access to this fundamental communication.

Okay—$6 a month. I looked up a couple plans on Digicel, like the most basic prepaid, not prepaid plan, postpaid plan where they send you a bill, $120. Roughly the equivalent one for prepaid for the same amount of usage in days, about $100. And I note that often people are going around with $1,000, $750 phones in their pockets. So, I'm just trying to put this $6 in context, Mr. Speaker.

I also note that this is one of the headline initiatives from the Government in its budget, this whopping $6 cut.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Well, let me turn . . . so we support this. But I would suggest—

An Hon. Member: Are you sure?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I would suggest, well, I would hope, Mr. Speaker, that the Government could have some better ideas on how to support the people in this country with real need to get the basic telecommunication services that is becoming a human right for somebody.

So, what I would have suggested is, for example, perhaps the Government could have worked with the providers to provide a very low-cost basic plan for people who need basic telecommunication services. It would have been a little more work, but it probably could have saved people more money—and the people who need it. Because, for example, is this $6 cut going to apply to all the corporate workers who have their corporate cell phone? Is it going to apply to people who are in the upper tax bands who aren't even going to notice it? They pay more for their coffee every day, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

An Hon. Member: Yourself.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: In fact, in fact, Mr. Speaker, it is indeed myself. I do not need a $6 cut. I'm not lying.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: In fact, Mr. Speaker, I would put to you, with the recent pay rises, nobody in this Chamber needs a $6 cut.

[Inaudible interjections and general uproar]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Nobody in this Chamber needs a $6 cut!

[Desk thumping]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: So, while we support this . . . while we support this, frankly,—

[General uproar]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto:—frankly, Mr. Speaker, I am disappointed!

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Point of order, point of order.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: We have a point of order—MP—

POINT OF ORDER

[Imputing improper motives and misleading]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: The Honourable Member is imputing improper motive and misleading the House. He says that nobody in this Chamber needs a $6 cut. We are not speaking for ourselves. We're speaking for the people that we represent. And the people that we represent—and I'm speaking for the people in constituency 24—may not have the same disposable income as those who they represent on that side.

The Speaker: Thank you. Continue, Minister.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Mr. Speaker, the salaries of the Members of this House are above the median salary of the people in Bermuda—

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —above the median salary.

In fact, the Honourable Member has made my point for me, because I outlined some of the costs, Mr. Speaker, that it takes to get basic telecommunication services in this country. And that $6 is a very small dent in that cost.

What I would have liked to see, because as you know, Mr. Speaker, one of our themes over here from the Opposition is we support these types of cuts in general. But we are hoping to see targeted initiatives from the Government that help the people who need it the most—not just the quick gimmicks to put out in the budget. Not just the gimmicks.

So, for example, and I'll repeat it because I wasn't sure that they heard it appropriately in the Government—heard it fully. For example, they could have worked with the telecommunication providers to provide a kind of basic, low-cost package that could have cost people who need that and have trouble affording it a lot less—a lot less—than it would cost them today. A lot less.

So let me wrap up with a few closing comments, Mr. Speaker. Actually, and I will commend the Government. I do have one example where they have provided a very good example of a targeted relief, and that is the child day care, where the amount that you get is connected to your payroll tax band. That's the kind of thinking we would like to see more of over here.

So, of course, Mr. Speaker, no one's going to say no to an extra $6 a month in their pocket. I've got to look under the couch so I can go get my sandwich, right?

An Hon. Member: Wow.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: But, frankly, if this is the best that they can come up with from the Government side, it's going to be a tough year for the people of Bermuda.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

The Speaker: Deputy Premier.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I find it very, very rich for that Honourable Member to stand up in this House and diss the people of this country that could use a $6 break per month in their bill. I find that rather rich.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: He is misleading the House. I did not diss the people that could use the $6. In fact, I exhorted the Government to do something better!

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

An Hon. Member: There we are!

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

The Speaker: Member.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Mr. Speaker, I repeat. I repeat. And we'll let the people of the country judge what the Honourable Member said when he said it.

And one thing is it's on Hansard. And if anybody wants to get a little creative, take that and put it out in the social media and see what kind of response you get.

Now, the interesting thing is that Members opposite will chastise this increase. Some of them might have been around when I was Health Minister and I increased FutureCare by $5.

An Hon. Member: Increase? It's a decrease; not an increase.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No, increased it. See, that's it. See, some of these Members weren't even around. So, they don't know what I'm talking about.

But I increased FutureCare by $5. And guess what? They banged the tables and said, the people of this country, $5, that's way too much money. You shouldn't be doing that to the people of this country. But yet here today—

An Hon. Member: No one said that.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Here today, here today . . . and you know what? We've heard it. We've heard it several times in my 20 years. Where minimum things that we do are cheap.

But you can tell seniors that money don't grow on trees.

An Hon. Member: Ooh!

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Let's talk about that.

An Hon. Member: Let's talk about that!

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Ask the seniors, who you told money don't grow on trees, what they think about $72 per year. Because they'll get up in the future and they'll tell you, Look, you guys got to do something. Because our seniors are trying to make a decision between buying drugs and buying groceries. Well, what do you think $72 would do?

An Hon. Member: What?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: That's right. That's what they do.

Now, Mr. Speaker, let me say this. I've done a quick look up. And a roll of masking tape can cost $6, too. I suggest the Honourable Members opposite buy some for MP DeCouto.

The Speaker: Now, now, now Members. Now, Members. Let's keep it above board, Members.

Minister, were you going to speak or not? You're on your feet now . . . well, . . . let's go.

When they decide who's going to speak—

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker: Yes—speak to the Chair.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: What we were subjected to by the Member opposite actually makes me feel dirty. It actually makes me feel so insulted that I sit opposite that Member. I feel completely embarrassed to have to listen to that tirade just now, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I have not felt that way since I graduated from Saltus Grammar School in 1988. When I left and I attended a HBCU for university, and you know what, Mr. Speaker? One thing that I was educated on was the institutionalised racism that is so politely exercised by Members like that.

[General uproar]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker: Wait, wait, wait—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, point of order!

[General uproar]

The Speaker: Wait, wait, wait. Hold on, hold on!

Hold up, hold up, hold up, hold up. I was listening very carefully to see where he was leading on that.

Hold on, just take a seat a minute. Take your seat. No, no, take a seat. I was listening very careful.

And you were swaying, but you hadn't crossed the line until you got to your last word, the last point. And I'm going to ask you to be clever enough not to cross the line. If you're going to be clever enough, don't cross the line.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I will endeavour and be guided, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, when persons don't understand that what they say is hurtful, it is unfortunate that they just cannot see it. But, Mr. Speaker . . . Mr. Speaker, when you grow up with the UBP handbook next to your cradle, that is the attitude you carry for the rest of your life. No matter what—

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Point of order, point of order.

[Inaudible interjections]

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Mr. Speaker, the Honourable Member is misleading the House. He's going down the wrong path. Once again, insinuating DNA.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: If we want to go down the DNA road, we can certainly go down the DNA road here.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Members—

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Lost my book? And that's a particular Honourable Member that shouldn't go down the DNA road.

The Speaker: I heard your point. Members.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: The greatest slave owners in this country who moved slaves back and forth were the Portuguese.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Take your seat back. You're your seat back.

Members, from what I understand, today has been a decent day. You ended your debates earlier.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: And I would like to think we could conclude this debate, this day, in the manner and tone that we had in the early debates.

So, I'm going to ask all Members to be more guided in your comments, more structured in your comments as we go forward from here. We ended the debates on a good foot. Let's end this part of the debate today on a decent foot.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again, I will be guided. That wasn't a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

I'm speaking . . . one thing that I cannot be challenged on is the facts that I speak of right now. And when you have a certain type of personality ingrained in you since birth, you will always display that.

The Speaker: Be careful now, be careful now.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: You always display it, no matter who you affiliate with.

Mr. Speaker, this Government is fighting tooth and nail to create savings where we can. Now, I understand what that speaker is trying to say. But I don't believe he understands how insulting he sounds when he says it.

Mr. Speaker, $6 here, $2 here, 50 cents here, $10 here, it all adds up in the end. This is one of the initiatives that we are putting forth to save our people money. The taxes that are inflicted on our people today have been the lowest in the history of this country, the lowest they have ever been.

We will be reducing . . . we talk about things that people have a right to have. People love to drive their cars. They will have a reduction in licensing their cars, more savings, Mr. Speaker. They'll have a reduction in getting their cell phones, more savings, Mr. Speaker. That Member had the audacity to speak to the child care allowance that was reduced to unsustainable levels under that Government.

An Hon. Member: Say it again!

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Reduced. Less people qualified for child care allowance under that Government than ever in the history of this country. But he has the audacity to sit here and say that maybe you should do something like that. More people now qualify for child care subsidy under this Government than ever before.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker, it all adds up. But if you cannot, because of just your makeup, see that—

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER
(Standing Order 19(11)(f))

Mr. Scott Pearman: This is the third occasion on which the Honourable Member has trespassed against Standing Order 19(11)(f), which is that this House is not to impute improper motives or indulge in personalities.

He's been directed already, and I would invite him to withdraw the remark.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Member, I've asked that we try and keep the tone and the level at a higher level. And we get on sticky ground when we try and impede or imply it to a level that it directs to an individual.

Member, if you can take a road that doesn't direct it to an individual, Member, you're on safer ground.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again, I'm guided . . . and thank you for your wisdom. I think the point has been made.

The public will judge the comments that have been made up here tonight. And history will reflect that despite the efforts of this Government to reduce the tax burdens on our people, there are Members within here that do not have the wherewithal to see that these are good things, Mr. Speaker. Thank you.

The Speaker: Does any other Member . . . MP Darrell, are you speaking now, or are you jumping up again? You've been up three times, and then—

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Speaker, I'm still new, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Let's go.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Wow, you liked those Gombey's, didn't you? Let me tell you a little bit about Gombey's and what they can do with a $6 savings. Whoo! Here we go. All right.

Mr. Speaker, good evening, and good evening to the Members of this House, Honourable Members of the House. And I just want to rise today in support of this Government legislation to reduce mobile phone fees.

And, Mr. Speaker, this measure of which we talk about today speaks both to the character of this administration, Mr. Speaker, and the values that we, the Progressive Labour Party, will bring to how we govern in this Island, which we call Bermuda.

See, Mr. Speaker, I know that the Honourable Member from the other side, who comes from constituency 25—

The Speaker: Remember the caution I gave—

Hon. Owen Darrell: —and he represents an area up the road, may not see savings the way that people in Pembroke East see savings, Mr. Speaker.

See, the people which he represents, Mr. Speaker, while they are important Bermudians, they may not appreciate a $6 savings that goes across 12 months and on multiple years and what they can do. And I just find it rich at best that—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of information, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of information.
[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Speaker, if I may get into the meat of my comments. Thank you.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mm-hmm.

See, Mr. Speaker, again, this is not just a technical adjustment, Mr. Speaker. This is strategic intervention. And this comes from the slogan of which you saw, and everyone saw, and everyone voted for on February of 2024 [sic], that fairness is not just a slogan, Mr. Speaker.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order.

An Hon. Member: You have an objection to the election?

The Speaker: Point of order?

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Honourable Member is misleading the House, because not everybody voted for the slogans to which he is referring. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections]

An Hon. Member: Everyone had an opportunity to vote.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Twenty-five, thank you.

The Speaker: And if you're referring to the recent election, I believe it was in 2025.

Hon. Owen Darrell: I'm sorry, February of 2025.

And while the Honourable Member will, from the other side, who is the Shadow Minister, I remind him, of Finance, I want to remind him that that fairness word is not just a slogan, Mr. Speaker. See, fairness is a duty to the people of this country. The affordability to live in this country is not just a charity, Mr. Speaker.

As the Honourable Tinee Furbert will tell you, that affordability is a justice. And that's the leadership. That's the leadership that this budget that we've just gone through shows. This budget, our first since receiving this fresh mandate of February 2025, sends a clear message that progress must be felt, Mr. Speaker. It must be. Not just promised.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Scott Pearman: I respectfully remind the Honourable Member who's new to this House and from another place that we do not read speeches in this House.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Aha. Well done.

The Speaker: Member that is a ruling in this House.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Speaker, if the Honourable Member would like to come sit next to me, he can see that nothing here is verbatim of what I am saying.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Well, well, well, well—

Hon. Owen Darrell: And while, Mr. Speaker, while—

The Speaker: Minister, Minister, if that's the case, look at me more.

[Laughter]

The Speaker: Because you have not been looking at me the entire time. You've been looking down.

[Desk thumping]

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

The Speaker: You've been looking down the entire time. Look at me.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
See—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: It is . . . it is important for the Members from the other side to understand that the actions of which we take on this side of the aisle are deliberate actions to bring fairness to the people of this country.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: And see, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to remind the Honourable Members from the other side of all of the things that we have done previous to this point to bring affordability back to Bermudians.

And I can tell you because I don't know how much canvassing the Honourable Member from constituency 22 needed to do come February and if he would have spent some time canvassing with more of his colleagues, they may have more than the 10 that they have. However—

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Scott Pearman: Again, we are indulging in personalities. And for the benefit of the Honourable Member speaking, I believe I did increase my vote to 74 per cent. Thank you.

The Speaker: Continue, Member.

Hon. Owen Darrell: See, as I was saying, Mr. Speaker, that if the Honourable Member from the other side, constituency 22, would have actually hit the doorstep and taken some time to talk to the people that vote in this country,—

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Speaker, he would—

POINT OF ORDER [Imputing improper motive]

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

And now I'm afraid the Honourable Member is imputing improper motive, suggesting that I didn't canvass to achieve that 74 per cent, which I did.

And I was, in fact, commended by one of his honourable colleagues because I managed to raise the vote count from a mere 54 before. Thank you.

The Speaker: Thank you.
Member, don't get sidetracked.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: No, no. Mr. Speaker, thank you for the advice. And I just remember that . . . I will remind the Honourable Member that I am a history teacher by trade. And history will show that he never has gotten the number of votes that the Honourable Grant Gibbons got when he ran in that seat.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: So maybe he can sit down and—

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: Never!
POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order. I'm afraid the Honourable Member is, again, misleading the House. I greatly respect the Honourable Member, Grant Gibbons, who held the seat before I did. But in fact, I did top his percentage on this occasion.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Minister, Minister, I am suggesting you don't get caught in that sidetrack.

Hon. Owen Darrell: No, no, no. Mr. Speaker, thank you. Thank you.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

The Speaker: Don't get caught up in it.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: And see . . . see, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Don't get caught up.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Yeah, yeah. Mr. Speaker, see, while we fail to realise that too often when we talk about the benefits of recovery, they get stuck at the top. We get stuck at the top and, you know, the Honourable Member and his friends on the other side may be complaining about the millions that they would like to save and earn more of.

But what we fail to realise is the compression that happens, Mr. Speaker, at the bottom. And I'm sorry, Mr. Speaker, but when I walk the hills of Glebe Road and when I walk the hills of Long Ridge Pass, I can tell you that those individuals are happy. Those individuals are proud to support a Government that looks out for their interests at the bottom and not just the people walking and flying at the top.

So, when the Honourable Shadow Minister got up this morning, Mr. Speaker—and I hope I'm looking at you enough—

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —but I hope when the Honourable Member got up this morning earlier today and he decided to flaunt and talk about Dunkley's eggs and talk about what is $6 going to be, Mr. Speaker, I hope he can go out into his constituency this Saturday and look those voters in the eye and say, I am sorry for disrespecting the savings that this Government is trying to bring on the table.

[Inaudible interjections and desk thumping]

Hon. Owen Darrell: So, Mr. Honourable Speaker, I would say this, that this Government cannot solve the cost-of-living crisis alone. And this Government will continue to do all that it can to help the people of this country. While if they want to sit over, the Honourable Members on the other side and poke shots about what we're not doing enough and what we're doing, I can tell you when they sat in this place as the Government, they were increasing taxes.

Several Hon. Members: Yes!

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: They were telling people what they could not do and what I'm going to tell you is $6, as I said the other day, is a lot more than zero.

So, as the Honourable Member from the other side, constituency 8, will remind him that dark clouds, Mr. Speaker, cannot rain on my parade and while they want to sit over there and continue to talk about the doom and gloom and what the PLP should be doing more, I would ask them that they should have done something, anything to help the people of this country.

So, while I got that out of the way, Mr. Speaker, and I hope that I addressed you directly and appropriately for the Honourable Member from constituency 22, I will remind this House that this Government stands today undaunted by the global headwinds, unshaken by—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —unshaken by the criticism and unafraid to make the bold decisions—I hope they're listening—the bold decisions in the interest of the people of this country.

So, Mr. Speaker, I think what I did hear quietly amongst all the chirping here and there was that the One Bermuda Alliance led by the Shadow Minister of Finance—yes, you heard me, led by the Shadow Minister of Finance—came to this House and I think he whispered that he is in support of this Bill. So, I say thank you, sir.

Thank you for understanding that this Progressive Labour Government has continued to help the people of this country—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —and we will continue to do so.

So, as I started, as I started, Mr. Speaker, $6 is not just $6. Six dollars goes into multiple dollars when you count up families, multiple families, and you've got the parents who have multiple children who are worried about the whereabouts of their children and if they're going to get home in time or if they're waiting somewhere, waiting to get picked up.

So, that $6, Mr. Speaker, for families who are struggling, families that the Honourable Shadow Minister may not know anything about because he's never met them, Mr. Speaker—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: —but I will tell you this, that that $6 goes a long way.

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Hon. Owen Darrell: I'm sure if the Honourable Member from the other side would poll his friends in international business and the amount of money that they have floating around with cell phone costs and they add up all those $6—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: I'm sure, Mr. Speaker, that he will see that this savings is significant.

An Hon. Member: It is $6.

Hon. Owen Darrell: It is $6. Absolutely.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: See, this is where, Mr. Speaker, I hate to say it, but some Members of the other side are disconnected.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: And let me just finish here, Mr. Speaker, and this will be very serious and very heart-felt.

You will note that every time I get on my feet in this House, it is for one reason and one reason only, and it is because I remember the people of whom I serve. Okay? And although the Honourable Member from constituency 10 over there has a very nonchalant attitude towards what service may look like.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Service may—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. I'm afraid that that is, again, diving into personalities. It is diving into personalities.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Scott Pearman: Contrary to the Standing Order I cited last time, we heard comments from the bench.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Just remember, we all come here to serve. Some of us have different approaches on how we serve.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Let me make this a little clearer.

The Speaker: All have the best interests of their service.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you. Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I hope I'm on the right side of the line on this comment. And I do apologise that I singled out the Honourable Member from constituency 10. I do apologise.

So, I'll make it a blanket statement. The Honourable Members, the collective Members of the Opposition, in my opinion, Mr. Speaker, do not value as much as the Progressive Labour Party—

POINT OF ORDER

[Imputing improper motives]

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. We are now imputing improper motives.

The Speaker: I was trying to let him finish. He hadn't finished.

That didn't value what?

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Yes, you didn't value what? I want to hear you finish [your] words. What's your finish?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: In my opinion, Mr. Speaker, and the opinion of the voters that went to the polls in February of 2025—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: You are on a good line. You are on a good line. Finish up.

Hon. Owen Darrell: By the way . . . through the mandate that they have given this party, the Progressive Labour Party—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Don't get distracted. Stay on the line.

Hon. Owen Darrell: I am confident, Mr. Speaker, that the voters of this country—

An Hon. Member: The ones that are left.

Hon. Owen Darrell: —are supportive and will continue to be supportive of this Government, of the Minister of Finance, supported by the Junior Minister of Finance, and all of the Government, the Honourable Minister of Home Affairs, that we will stop at nothing when it comes to making this country more affordable for those who live in it.

And I would go as far as to say that this $6 reduction—yes, I said it, $6 reduction—will help those whom I serve more than it hurts.

And I would remind the Opposition that the reason we come to this place, and the reason why we walk those hills, and the reason why we touch the community, is so that we can hear directly from the voters who put their trust in us. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Desk thumping]

The Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member want to . . . MP Swan?

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I'd like to thank our Government for bringing forward something that would separate us from them. And I say that in that in this budget, which today we come with some legislation that is reducing the burden on persons, and we have heard my colleagues on this side articulate the difference in representing working-class persons and being a representative that might not knock on that many doors just by design of the country. And that's a fact.

This country's origin still has, and I'm on the Boundaries Commission with others, been geographically divided up, where if you're representing someone in Pembroke, in the densely populated areas of Pembroke, you're more likely to find someone when you knock on a door that appreciates a $6 savings far greater than if you went on the other side of the railroad track. And I say that respectfully.

And that's the reality of this country. But I just want to point out, ever so briefly if I can, Mr. Speaker, the difference in the ethos of $6, the difference in the mind-set of $6. We have an Opposition with a track record that came in decrying the debt in 2012—decrying the debt. But raised the debt by over a billion dollars in their tenure.

We had an Opposition that when they were Government cut scholarships for persons who were dependent on those scholarships from the Education Ministry's prior to be able to further educate themselves. That speaks to a difference in ethos. And I heard an interpolation from someone that there was no money. That was said to many people: Money doesn't grow on trees. But we found money to build Cross Island. Right? They found money to have America's Cup.

On the eve of not being Government anymore for a long, long time, they left us with a quarter of a billion-dollar responsibility at Morgan's Point.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: And when we talk about the difference of an ethos, this ethos, yes, thank you for that, I appreciate that. We have a significant difference because when they had the opportunity to represent the people of this country, they did not think it necessary to increase seniors' pensions incrementally each year.

They told persons that money . . . and what happened, and I declare my interest, Mr. Speaker. I'm a senior today and I understand what an incremental increase means. I understand what $6 means and I understand why . . . while their mind-set will keep them in Opposition for a long, long, long time.

An Hon. Member: Long time!

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Because the cost-of-living increases that get afforded to seniors, they have said the same thing about that, what we have done since we've been the Government since 2017, and did it incrementally every year, thanks to the Finance Ministers past and present, that they didn't do.

And when they didn't do it, the pensions regressed, and it's significant. Six dollars means a lot, not so much of the total sum. It means a lot in the difference in the way they see life and the way we see life. The way they see life would see nothing wrong with sacrificing—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER [Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Member is misleading the House because he's implying that there is this group of people, "they" . . . perhaps he could explain, but I'm going to read into what I think he's saying, who all think the same.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Oh, that's not a point of order.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: And in fact, that is not correct. So, he is wrong.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: We have a diversity of views over here, Mr. Speaker. Thank you.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: We have a diversity of views, and I agree on that 100 per cent. But we have a debt and poverty line of people who make it very difficult for many persons to afford Bermuda. We understand that.

And that's the difference between point of ordering when a person really is on a good wicket, just to maybe take up some of that time.

And I'm here to say, Mr. Speaker, that Morgan's Point, cutting scholarships, not raising pensions, having Cross Island as a burden to a future government, and many other things that they did separate them, which makes them, you want to use anything to belittle us. But you know, we're a caring Government, and the good Lord doesn't sleep. Because if the good Lord knew that a pandemic was coming on this Island . . . and thank God, he put the PLP in power. Because the Government prior that said money doesn't go on trees would have let people suffer. But our Finance Minister—

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Yes.

POINT OF ORDER [Imputing improper motive]

Mr. Scott Pearman: That's imputing improper motive if I have ever heard.

The Speaker: You heard me responding to him beforehand.

Member, I've guided other Members this evening to try and keep on the line where we stay above certain levels. I'm going to suggest you do the same.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Okay, Mr. Speaker, I'll say this much. And I appreciate the sensitivities that would force the Member to come there. And I accept the point of order. And I appreciate your guidance.

But I'll just say, let the record speak for itself. I got that from David Gibbons. You don't have to point to . . . said let the record speak for themselves. The PLP have done a lot to help working-class people.

The Government prior to 2017 did a lot that caused working-class people to live with great angst. And as a consequence, we have a mind-set that will come here and make a big hay about $6 against $6 but not represent the fact that this Government incrementally is going out of its way to try to reduce the burden on working families. And that's significant. And that's why they are there, and we are here. Because we care. Not to say they don't care. But their actions in Government have caused them to be where they are today. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Does any other Member wish to make a contribution?

MP Robinson.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And good evening to the listening audience. And I just wanted to jump up and give a bit of a juxtaposition to the amount of rhetoric that we're currently being buried under.

I'd like to cut to the chase here and say this: to translate, first of all, the One Bermuda Alliance, as stated by my colleague previously, is in support of this cut. And I would like to repeat that. In support of this cut.

And after listening to the speeches from Members opposite, you would think that the One Bermuda Alliance advocated for a cut only to go to insurance or the most wealthy. In fact, that Member, my colleague, stood up and advocated for more targeted cuts to those who need it.

An Hon. Member: Hear, hear!

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: And the thing that I wanted to push back on, because I don't want to—

[Desk thumping]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Thank you.

I don't want to let the night go away with some things that I've heard as far as challenging the validity of voters on this side and voters who have voted for Members on this side. And I find that that assertion, that members of the public and the electorate who are equal when they cast their one vote, that's something we all agree on, for some reason would not understand or appreciate a $6 cut because they voted for the One Bermuda Alliance.

And I reject that. I reject it completely. And I think that a lot of Members opposite forget that my colleague represents Warwick. I think that folks forget that. They are speaking like he represents a constituency that is very affluent. And I think that at the end of the day, you know, at the end of the day, Mr. Speaker, I am sitting here as a newly elected Member. And I know that there are members in our community who are listening in, who would like to hear debate about this particular thing. And the fact that their elected Members are here to represent their best interests and not to chastise and do personal attacks, especially when it comes to somebody who's only offering up a difference of opinion. When it comes to how the taxes should be applied, not necessarily what the tax is. Right?

And I just wanted to really get specific on that because I feel like a lot of these speeches that we probably will hear continuing on will go down a vein that portrayed it as though One Bermuda Alliance has not supported this tax cut and that we made a mockery of it, because that's not the truth.

I will say that my colleague, the Shadow Minister of Finance, likes to be a bit jovial with his approach. And I think that a lot of people would have heard that.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: But I think that at the end of the day—

[Laughter]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: No, no. But at the end of the day there's—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: A lot of folks understand, right? The message that was being said was that a lot of our constituents and the constituents of those opposite are in need of a lot more relief than $6.

An Hon. Member: Hear, hear!

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Now, this is not to diminish it.

As I said, another Member said, you know, $6 is better than zero. I agree. I absolutely agree. But what I don't want it to be is a political tool used in a way in which tries to divide the electorate, divide those who vote.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: And it's . . . and the thing is, what we have to remember is that when we come into this Chamber we are not the OBA representative of constituency 25. We are just representatives of each constituency.

An Hon. Member: True.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: And at the end of the day, that is what the electorate said to us loud and clear during the election. And usually after the PLP—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: —usually after the PLP wins an election, they tend to forget the messages that the electorate have said to them. But one of the main messages that I will remind the Progressive Labour Party is collaboration. Collaboration and the respect and decorum within this House. And as soon as a Member opposite got up, it was about his background.

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: It was about where that particular Honourable Member came from and nothing to do with his comments that were made.

And I find that level of debate to be disingenuous because there are Members on the Progressive Labour Party side that make a lot more than me, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: There are Members in this House that have varying levels of earning and that shouldn't be . . . I don't . . . I don't need that. I don't even want to—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Because if I . . . if I turn around, Mr. Speaker, if I turn around, Mr. Speaker—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Talk to the Chair. Talk to the Chair.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Mr. Speaker, if I turn around, I have to remind a Member that they are senior and should show some sort of decorum in this House.

Personally, Mr. Speaker, and I would love to see that because I know a lot of the electorate would like to see that.

But as we go along, I'd like to reiterate. We support the cut. Okay? And, Mr. Speaker, I want to also reiterate that I respect the opinion of every Member of this House, regardless of their background, their earning or where they represent, because somebody elected them to be here. Right?

[Desk thumping]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: So, if we're going to have a debate, let's just debate ideology, right? Both parties support the cut.

Hon. E. David Burt: No, they don't.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: So, well, the Honourable Premier says they don't.

I heard and maybe . . . we were talking about the Hansard and digital innovation earlier. I think the Premier needs to check the Hansard because our Shadow Finance [Minister] said succinctly, We agree with the cut.

An Hon. Member: Here we go.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: So, with that, I would like to just caution Honourable Members, as I am new in this House and I respect the seniority of many, that if we're going to have a debate on this, let's keep on the wicket of comments made in the House and not personal attacks. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Desk thumping]

The Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Does any other member wish to speak? Minister Furbert.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I stand to my feet today because . . . first, I want to say that I do support this tax cut because that's what it is. And that's what we do as Government officials. There are things that we can control and there are some things that we cannot control. And one of those things, Mr. Speaker, is cuts, tax cuts. Right? Or tax increases. And so, this is an example of a reduction in tax.

Whether it's described as small or not so big, Mr. Speaker, it does make a difference for many people. And I have the opportunity to speak to seniors every month. And I spoke to them recently about the changes with the budget and how it will impact them. And one of the impacts was this cut, Mr. Speaker. And they were happy about this cut, Mr. Speaker, whether somebody wants to describe it as small or not. They were definitely happy to receive this tax cut from their cell phones or their Internet service providers . . . their cell phones, sorry.

And so, it is important that we recognise that no cut is too small, Mr. Speaker. I want to also take the opportunity because if we evaluated all of the cost-savings, because what we will see over the next couple of months is Government bringing forth legislation to encourage some more areas of cuts in . . . or putting money back into the pockets of our people.

So, we want to say watch this space. Right? Because we will be bringing more legislation for more opportunities to put money back into the pockets of our people. If anyone is in the finance area, they would know about a snowball effect. And a snowball effect means that your small savings, right, if you put it all together, can be huge savings, Mr. Speaker. Little becomes much.

I want to talk about what this Government has done over the past three years, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The Government has reduced payroll taxes for 86 per cent of the workforce, Mr. Speaker. The Government has increased pensions at the rate of inflation every year for our seniors, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, this Government has eliminated customs duty on the essential goods.

An Hon. Member: Talk about it.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Speaker, this Government has 60 per cent reduction on our energy taxes, as well as 40 per cent reduction in our payroll taxes for taxi operators. We've reduced private car licensing fees by 10 per cent.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Tinee Furbert: We eliminated land tax for registered charities and nursing homes.

An Hon. Member: Talk about it.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: We eliminated customs duties on materials for capital projects for community clubs, Mr. Speaker.

An Hon. Member: Ooh!

Hon. Tinee Furbert: We froze local fuel prices at the pumps.

An Hon. Member: Yes!

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Mr. Premier, I think what we have not done, Mr. Premier, is probably shared what these snowball cost effects look like.

Hon. E. David Burt: I'm coming.

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Okay, you're coming. Because we cannot talk about—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Tinee Furbert: We cannot not acknowledge, Mr. Speaker, the cost-savings that we have provided for our people. And I think we have to be deliberate in sharing this information to our people. Because if we continue to allow narratives like what is being said from the other side, Mr. Speaker, then our people will not know.

And so, it is our duty, Mr. Speaker, to inform our people of the cuts and the cost-savings that we are providing for them. Now, it is up to them to decide how they're going to use those cost-savings. And I encourage them to use it wisely. But no amount, Mr. Speaker, is small. There is something that this Government does every year, Mr. Speaker, and that is the Pre-Budget Report. There are no secrets really in regard to what we are looking to progress. This tax was put as a suggestion in our Pre-Budget Report.

And I want to go even so much further as to say that many of the suggestions that we put in our Pre-Budget Report, Mr. Speaker, come from our people. They come from our people as suggestions. And so, if the other side is going to say that there is dis-appreciation for a $6 cut, people, we want you to know that there is an example of some people who are not appreciating their thoughts, their ideas, that are being put forward.

Mr. Speaker, I . . . You know this is just one measure I spoke about. The fact [is] that we will be bringing more. I want to also remind . . .

I am going to end here, Mr. Speaker, because the $6 will have a whopping effect in my household every month—

[Desk thumping]

Hon. Tinee Furbert: —and many women's households, particularly women of childbearing age who have to buy pads every month.

[Inaudible interjections and desk thumping]

Hon. Tinee Furbert: No, that may. That is not a small gesture, Mr. Speaker. There are people out there who cannot afford to have sanitary napkins—cannot afford. I have seen people do fundraising to assist charities for that particular aspect. So, we cannot minimise. We cannot minimise the reduction of our taxes particularly on our cell phone bills, Mr. Speaker.

I am glad it was minimised because it was talked about. [It was] said, Oh, a whopping amount! Mr. Speaker. Yes. It will have an impact in many households if people use that savings correctly, Mr. Speaker. Right?

And so, I just want to acknowledge again that I support this Bill. All right? I support this Bill. The whole country should support this Bill (I am sure) because it came from the people. And it is a huge benefit, Mr. Speaker. And we are a government—

An Hon. Member: Correct!

Hon. Tinee Furbert: We are a government that is encouraged in wanting to support our people no matter how big or how small, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much.

The Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

None?

Minister, . . . Junior—Oh.

Premier?

Hon. E. David Burt: I see, Mr. Speaker, they are getting ready to point-of-order, but they had better get ready because there will be a whole lot.

The Speaker: Premier, I am going to take the assumption that you are just using that for statistics that you want to relate to and not a speech.

An Hon. Member: Yes. Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, let me start by saying that I am actually surprised that we are still here.

The Speaker: Well, I agree. I agree with you.

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: I am surprised that we are still here because of the thought . . . the thought, the thought that the Government would bring the first Bill today of a significant amount of tax cuts in this budget that will benefit people across this country—first Bill, first out of many. There will be more on Friday—doing more in the future. But the first Bill, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker: Mm-hmm.

Hon. E. David Burt: And then to hear the Shadow Minister of Finance get up and say, Oh, we support it, but.

An Hon. Member: But!

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: So, here we go. Now, Mr. Speaker, the last Member from that side to speak, you know, tried to play kumbaya—

[Inaudible interjection and laughter]

Hon. E. David Burt: —and everything else, saying he is a new Member and he cannot believe—

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.
The Honourable Member is misleading the House, and he should be sitting down right now.

The Speaker: Yes.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: He is the Premier. He knows the rules. He is misleading the House. And the intent . . . it was a very sincere message that the Honourable Member gave. And for him to shed light on that Honourable Member in that aspect is certainly not premier-ship, not at all, not leadership at all.

[Crosstalk]

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: He was very . . . He was very . . . He was very earnest about what he had to say.

An Hon. Member: Hear, hear!

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: And here we go again. We just talked about the DNA of certain people. Right—

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: —in this Honourable House. He needs to apply the take that he talks about. So, you know, everyone is keeping quiet here, letting the Premier say what he has to say, but to go down that vein of road is misguided.

[Crosstalk]

The Speaker: Premier, I know things have got a little heated today, so you need not . . . This evening. I should not even say today. Just this evening. So, we do not need to turn the flame up a little up.

Hon. E. David Burt: Oh, Mr. Speaker, I did not turn the flame up. That Honourable Member took it the wrong way because the reality is, Mr. Speaker, you and I—

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. E. David Burt: What is the point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: He is misleading the House again. I was earnest about what I said. How could I be misleading the House?

[Crosstalk]

The Speaker: All right. We can move forward.

[Crosstalk]

The Speaker: Move forward.

Hon. E. David Burt: And Mr. Speaker, as we speak about the rights and privileges of Parliament—

The Speaker: Mm-hmm.

Hon. E. David Burt: —I do believe that the last Honourable Member from that side said that everyone in this House was elected to represent and serve, and I am going to speak on behalf of my Members in this House. And he can point-of-order me for the next 30 minutes if he wants, but I promise you, Mr. Speaker, I will make my point. I will make my point.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the Honourable Member for constituency 30 got up and tried to play kumbaya and said, Oh my goodness—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

We just went through that. I am sure that AI is not helping him out well at all right now. We already made the point. For him to get up again is disrespectful to this House after we established the fact that the Honourable Member was not trying . . . He was earnest in what he had to say.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: The wording or the attempt at wording what the Member is trying to do is to bring some peace back to the conversation. My words. My words.

Hon. E. David Burt: I am fine—

The Speaker: What the Member was saying was trying to bring some peace back to the conversation.

Hon. E. David Burt: And that is perfectly fine. And guess what my definition of peace is, Mr. Speaker—kumbaya. All right?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: There you go. There you go.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: So, now Mr. Speaker . . . So, the Honourable—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: —So, the Honourable Member, the last Member who spoke on that side, Mr. Speaker, tried to get up and, you know, play kumbaya and say, I cannot believe. I cannot believe that we are having all this excitement from the other side. And it is incredible that he does not even understand the base of this because as I started my comments, Mr. Speaker—

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.
The Premier is misleading the House again. For him to suggest that the Honourable Member did not understand is way out in left field.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: You don't understand the rules of the House. Sit down!

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Sit down. I'm talking to you.

The Speaker: Members, Members, wait a minute.

[Crosstalk]

The Speaker: Wait a minute. Members, Members. Members!

[Gavel]

The Speaker: Deputy! Deputy!

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Did you hear what I said?

The Speaker: Deputy. Deputy. I am trying to get quiet so your Member can finish talking. Thank you.

Members, this matter when it started, I think we all expected that it would not be going this long. I mean, no one here expected we would be here all this time because I believe there is still another matter to be done.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, there is.

The Speaker: And we would all like to get on with the night so we can get all matters done. So let us tone down the tone that is unfortunately raised and let us get this matter done so we can move on to the next matter. Because I think everyone—both sides of this House—and everyone is agreed that [they are] in favour of the matter, in favour of the cut being . . . that is on the table. They are supportive of it. So we are fighting . . . no, wrong word. We are encouraging an argument to go on and on over a matter that everybody agrees on. Can we wrap this up? Thank you.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, I appreciate your exhortations to wrap this up, but Mr. Speaker, I must apologise because I am going to take my time today.

The Speaker: I meant let us wrap it up in a way that would bring it back to—

Hon. E. David Burt: —Oh, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker: —and do not turn the heat up any higher. I didn't intend for you to cut yourself short—

Hon. E. David Burt: —Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker, just so we are clear—

The Speaker: Let's keep it so that tone stays level.

Hon. E. David Burt: That is clear. The only voices that have been raised in my time speaking are the Honourable Members over there who before I even stood up said, Point-of-order him the entire way through—

The Speaker: Let's move on—

Hon. E. David Burt: That is fine. Let's trust and believe I will make it through my remarks—

The Speaker: Just continue through.

Hon. E. David Burt: And so here we go, Mr. Speaker. Back to it again.

The Honourable Member who, you know, took his seat from the other side, the last one to speak on that side, you know, tried to come with the peace-making and surprise at the reaction of which was coming from the Honourable Member who said he supported this Bill but.

Now here is the thing, Mr. Speaker. Let's be clear and remember what the Honourable Member Shadow Minister said. [He] talked about demeaning the impact of this cut and what it would mean. I want that to sink in for the persons listening because it is important—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Imputing improper motives and misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: He is imputing improper motive and misleading the House because I did not demean anything, Mr. Speaker. I provided facts. I provided alternate ideas. I provided a policy that the Government could have spoken to, but no one on that side has spoken to any of the factual points that I raised. They have gone off on a history lesson, which is not even 100 per cent correct. And I would love to hear if the Premier could address some of the actual ideas that we have given them in a spirit of collaboration.

Thank you.

[Crosstalk]

The Speaker: Just . . . Just . . . Just try to keep this balanced here. The points that were raised were that, one, you agreed with the cut; and two, that you just could have gone further.

[Inaudible interjection]

The Speaker: And so, I think that is what is being addressed, responded to. Did I miss any point?

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, if I may. Number one, we all know that was not a point of order. That is the first thing because you have not asked me to withdraw any words. So that is the first thing. And that is their tactic: point of order, point of order, point of order. I am there.

But number two, I will help the Honourable Member from constituency 25 if he will remain in his seat and listen like we did when he spoke. Then you might actually hear a few things.

[General uproar]

An Hon. Member: Now you are really mistaken.

Hon. E. David Burt: Now you might hear a few things.

But, Mr. Speaker, I will go back to my remarks because I want the people who are listening to hear and understand. The Honourable Member from that side got up and said, We agree, but, and made the implication that this cut will not mean much to people, started rattling off prices of this and prices of that, and saying that it is $6.00, and saying that does not mean this, and all the rest, Mr. Speaker. That is what he said.

Now here is the reality. That of course would—as he well knew—get a reaction from those persons who have continuously been fighting to make sure that we can make this country more affordable. And here is the reality. Every single bit counts.

One of my colleagues said gaslighting. That is it. But here is the thing, when we are talking about gaslighting—because I am going back to the Honourable Member from constituency 30. It is as though, Mr. Speaker, he did not see his colleague come into the room, just throw the fire in the middle, the flame erupted. And then being surprised and trying to take out their budget replies and fan the flame and say, Oh, we did not mean that. We did not mean that. We did not mean that. A nonsense, Mr. Speaker. A nonsense.

An Hon. Member: That is right!

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: So now, let me go because here is the thing. There are . . . We talk about the personal attacks, that is what was said, and all the rest. This goes back to philosophy. And here is the reality, Mr. Speaker. The reality is that they have not changed.

And we heard the message from the Member from constituency 30. It was incredible. He said, The Government has not learned the lessons from the election. And he went on to say that if there was anything, the people wanted collaboration. I would ask that Honourable Member who took his seat what part of collaboration did he find from the method and delivery and the message that came from his Honourable Shadow Minister who led from that side, Mr. Speaker? Because I will tell you what I heard. I will tell you what I heard. I will tell you that I heard—coded things and dog whistles that were basically saying that this ain't going to help you much.

And we heard Members from this side speak and discuss, discuss, speak and discuss around, around (key point now) the impact of which that will have. But remember, I said, I said (important, important, important) they said that this would not mean anything.

Remember when I said that they have not changed, Mr. Speaker. Let me, if you will allow me, Mr. Speaker, go back to the 2021 Budget Reply. Because you know what that side said? Same as today. [They] criticised the Progressive Labour Party tax cuts as being minimal. And they stated, as I quote: "Bermudians will note that the Premier's tax breaks are miniscule.

These cuts are not even drops in the bucket for most Bermudians.” That is what they said in 2021.

Let’s go on to 2022. “These tax cuts will do little to ease the hardship faced by Bermudians.” And here is the important point, Mr. Speaker. In 2022, they voted against those tax cuts. But here is what is important to note, Mr. Speaker, because we heard Members from this side say that every little thing adds up. Let me give the combined results of the tax cuts that they called minimal, Mr. Speaker. Important, important, important.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: For persons who are on the average (important point) [making] the median income in the country, the miniscule tax cuts of which they spoke have saved persons $5,280 a year. I want to say that again.

So, let’s remember this, Mr. Speaker. These add up. This package of tax cuts announced in this budget will save the average family $1,000 a year. This is the first Bill of many Bills that are going to come.

But here is the thing, Mr. Speaker. It is important for us to remember. And it is important for the public to hear and understand that the One Bermuda Alliance has not changed because when the Progressive Labour Party brings forward relief, the only response that they have is that it is not enough. However, Mr. Speaker, the people of this country remember that it was them who raised taxes on workers to the highest level in history. It was that party. It was that party, Mr. Speaker, that cut benefits, cut scholarships, cut investments in education. It was that party, Mr. Speaker. So, when they get up and say we need to do more where they do more for persons who need help and assistance, there is only one Government, one party—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. The Premier—

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: He is misleading. It was the One Bermuda Alliance that put in place for the first time ever the progressive payroll tax system.

[In] years and years of the Progressive Labour Party government, they did not see fit to create the system whereby the higher earners paid a higher percentage. That was put in place by the One Bermuda Alliance Government. And the Progressive Labour Party has had very few new ideas since then. All they have continued is to tweak that structure put in place by the One Bermuda Alliance Government.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Crosstalk]

The Speaker: All right. Go ahead.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, that is not a point of order. He had his opportunity to debate, but he does not like the response that is coming because he understands the fire of which he has lit, and now he is there trying to clean it up.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: But let me go back to the history. It was that One Bermuda Alliance that raised taxes on workers to the highest level in history. I remember when I was a Shadow Minister, I even pointed it out. And I remember the Minister of that time looking at that [other] Minister and all the rest and saying: Is that true? Is that true? And they had to look back. Those are the facts.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Those are the facts.

Now here we go, Mr. Speaker, see? Because they do not like the fact that we point out the record. They do not like the fact that when we put relief upon relief upon relief upon relief—it adds up. Every single budget session we have come here, we have reduced taxes for workers in this country. And the one time that we said, Those who earn more should pay more, they oppose it.

So, it is interesting to see the Honourable Member get up and say that the One Bermuda Alliance put the progressive tax system in place, and when we went ahead and increased taxes on the highest earners in this country, they said No. They opposed the tax cut for 86 per cent of workers in this country that are saving money. They opposed the changes of which we have made. And guess what, Mr. Speaker. The voters rendered their verdict at the polls.

Here is the reality, Mr. Speaker. This is the first Bill of many, and we will continue to cut taxes. I sincerely hope that the Shadow Minister will find a different way to support. Because it is interesting, Mr. Speaker—interesting, interesting, interesting—that they go back to the same playbook every time. The same playbook every single time.

We have seen what they said in 2021. We saw what they said in 2022. We passed those tax cuts anyways over their objections, over their comments of, It’s not big enough, because we take the responsibility of the finances of this country seriously.

It is this Government, Mr. Speaker, that has delivered a balanced budget. It is this Government, Mr. Speaker, that is cutting taxes for workers. It is this Government, Mr. Speaker, that is going to bring the largest package of tax cuts that we have seen in this Honourable House since any of us can remember. The only person in Parliament who might remember is you, Mr. Speaker. And that is just the reality.

And so, Mr. Speaker, this is the first of many. But I will go back to what was said in the Budget Statement, a total of $46 million of tax reductions. Can more be done? Absolutely. But here is the thing. Will more be done? Absolutely! And who will be doing the more? This Progressive Labour Party Government. Thank you.

[Inaudible interjections and desk thumping]

The Speaker: Thank you, Premier.
Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I believe enough has been said. The Government has clearly—

[Laughter]

The Speaker: Yes, go on and leave it on that.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: —defended its position. And we all know that at the end of the day, the public will support what we are doing.

So, Mr. Speaker, I move that the said draft Regulation be approved, that a suitable message be sent to His Excellency the Governor.

The Speaker: Are there any objections to it being approved?

There are none. The matter has been approved, and the appropriate letter will be sent.

[Motion carried: The Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025 were approved.]

The Speaker: Thank you, Members, for your participation.

Now I understand that there is another matter for us to move on to. And I would like to move on to the next item on the Order Paper

And MP Lawrence Scott, you have the motion that you would like to do this evening. Is that correct?

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: yes. So put your motion.

MOTION

CYBERATTACK ON GOVERNMENT IT SYSTEMS IN SEPTEMBER 2023, ESTABLISHMENT OF A PARLIAMENTARY JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now take under consideration the following motion, notice of which was given on the 28 March 2025:

WHEREAS the Government had previously established “a Joint Select Committee of both Houses to inquire into and make recommendations arising from September’s cyberattack”, prior to the dissolution of the Legislature in January;

AND WHEREAS the Government now desires to establish a new Joint Select Committee to resume the inquiry into this September 2023 cyberattack:

BE IT RESOLVED, pursuant to [the provisions of] Part IV of the Parliamentary Act 1957, that this Honourable House approves the establishment of a Parliamentary Joint Select Committee to examine and review matters surrounding the cyberattack on Government IT systems in September 2023, and to report to this House its findings and recommendations in due course.

The Speaker: Are there any objections to the matter proceeding at this time?

There are none.

MP?

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Yes, Mr. Speaker

Basically this . . . I am not going to talk long. Basically that this is just what I am suggesting is that we reintroduce the Joint Select Committee. We know that in September 2023 Bermuda was one of many nations that was the receiver of a cyberattack. The other nations would be the United States, the UK, Australia, Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago, [and] Barbados that also were attacked in similar fashion in the similar time frame.

In response to those attacks, those jurisdictions have taken steps such as strengthening their defence, establishing cybersecurity agencies and enhancing legislation. This Motion is our response, meaning that the creation of a Joint Select Committee, is one of our responses to that attack to be able to mitigate the liability of future attacks and to learn what happened with the original one. And this was only dissolved because of the election that was called.

The Speaker: Yes. Correct. The House was in agreement with it beforehand, and you just want to reintroduce it.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Correct. Correct, Mr. Speaker, that since the House was in favour of it beforehand, I just wanted to bring that back so we can start back up and get swinging on that again.

The Speaker: Yes.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: That is it, Mr. Speaker, for me.

The Speaker: Are there any other Members who would like to make a contribution at this time?

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Good afternoon, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: MP Robinson, you have the floor.

[Crosstalk and laughter]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Yes. Thank you. Yes.

Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the Member who just took his seat that I want to assure [the Honourable Member], Mr. Speaker, that my comments are not in any disrespect towards that Member as I believe that he led the Joint Select Committee with bipartisanship and transparency. And this not to speak out against any Members who sat on that Committee—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: I associate my colleague from constituency 10. And I just wanted to rise today to offer maybe an alternative because I feel as though when we . . . I did not want to oppose because I want something to happen, but when we first constituted this, it was a while after the actual cyberattack, and now that we have had an election and we are reconstituting, I wonder if this method may be too slow to get the answers to the Bermudian public when they need it. Right?

And so far, a lot of our constituents have come up and said that they are concerned whether their data was compromised. I feel as though the Joint Select Committee before December of 2024 was a suitable method, but I do wonder now if it may be well to take advantage of the Government's touted stronger fiscal position and potentially pay to have an expedited and independent overlook of this particular attack and get it to the people as quickly as possible. Because the issue is that when we get together, we have had it carried over a few times. I think that now, at the end of the day, the people want to know whether or not a ransom was paid, whether or not their data has been compromised, and I think we need to go to a method that is a lot quicker and expert-led.

And so, I put that to the Chairman to consider—not to stall any movement on it. I would rather have movement than none. But I do want to raise the fact that we are going into almost two years now. And the people are questioning the [desire] to be transparent, to bring forth the answers necessary. So, [I] just want to say if we want the people who put us here to be, you know, safe, secure, and feel as though we are putting forth something that is transparent, I think it is time now that we pick a method that picks up the pace a bit. So, with that, I just wanted to put that suggestion forward, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

None?

MP DeCouto.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: You know, my colleague put it quite well. I think he was talking about the time frame and what I would classify as a sense of urgency. And, Mr. Speaker, to be honest, the ship has sailed in my personal view.

[Inaudible interjection]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I am going to give an example—the British Library. Some of you may have been there. I do not know. They had a hack at around the same time, the same time period. Probably I think it was within a few weeks. And you know, here we are (what are we?) 18 months, 20 months since the original hack happened, Mr. Speaker—so quite a long period of time. And to basic . . . I am supporting my colleague to say, Look just publish the reports that we have got. Get it out there. And I referred to the British Library hack happening at the same time frame. Its report was published in March 2024. It is easy to find online. Just google it. It is 18 pages. It is very comprehensive and provides a lot of recommendations. I would hope that we . . . I mean, we understand we are in possession of a report, and I hope that our report also would have a lot of recommendations that we should just put to the public.

I did a little extra research, Mr. Speaker, with respect to responding to cyberattacks. It is a tricky thing, but it is relatively well understood. And there are a lot of good resources that you can go to, for example, the UK National Cyber Security Centre. And if you do not mind, I might just provide a few points that I learned from there that I think would be instrumental for the Government to consider with respect to this area.

The first point is they say it is important that you communicate clearly, Mr. Speaker, and that you are transparent because transparency builds trust and credibility. And I think that my colleague was alluding to that perhaps in different words.

It is also important, Mr. Speaker, that you provide accurate information, that you avoid saying anything that might have to be retracted, and that you provide regular updates especially on the impact assessment.

It is important to maintain open communication with the media to counter negative publicity and misinformation. And again, I think my colleague was referring to the fact that, within the public's mind, there are more questions than answers. And they would probably benefit from getting the report that exists out there today.

And importantly, to share insights and lessons learned because transparency will improve collective resilience. So, we can think to the resilience of the Government but also of many other organisations on the Island. So, I would refer the Government to that report and just give you a quick outline of headings in that report:

- How It Happened;
- What Was the Impact of the Attack?
- What Were the Response and Recover Efforts?
- An Overview of the Technology Infrastructure, (for example of our Government and the impacts on the hack);
- A Future Risk Assessment;
- Lessons Learned

And I would imagine, Mr. Speaker, that the report that the Government has in its hands today, which we know they do, which I understand was prepared by professionals, would in fact have some kind of similar coverage.

And that is why I think really this Joint Select Committee . . . With the greatest respect of this institution and the power and importance of these committees, we could get to where we need to get simply by the Government releasing the report that it already has.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

MP Cannonier.

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, I would like to sing kumbaya—

[Laughter]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: —especially to my half-blooded colleague sitting next to you.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes. Yes.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Mr. Speaker, at first let me just say that when I read the Motion, I was not in support of it. And the reason I was not in support of it at the time when I read it was because I was trying to understand really what we are attempting to do. If I read out, if you will, this Motion, it says at the end of it “the parliamentary Joint Select Committee to examine, review matters surrounding the cyberattack on government IT systems in September of 2023 and to report to the House its findings and recommendations in due course.”

I could understand if Government at the time, even a year after, was unwilling to do that, but I do understand that the Government also brought in expertise to help them also understand the complexity of what took place. (Maybe even how. I am not sure.) But really fulfilling what it said here, to review matters surrounding the attack so that we could be better prepared. So, I am trying to . . . And as colleagues were asking me about it, I was saying, Well, listen, we are two years down the road now. Just put the report out, as my honourable colleague just before me spoke.

So let me say this. I gave it some thought, and as of yesterday, speaking to my colleagues, I am in support of it. What I would like to see for this [Joint] Select Committee is to have a time frame. Two years have gone by now. We have had experts come in to speak to us about the matter—and probably several different types of experts coming in to give us things that we should be doing.

We have already seen from the Budget Book that a lot more money has been put into establishing new protocols and the like. And we heard answers even earlier today about how that is going to be affected. My concern . . . And I am hoping that . . . so that it does not sound negative here. I am hoping that the Committee has a time frame through which it can come back. Certainly, a year is too long. The report has already been done, Lord knows how long ago. Maybe the honourable colleague could tell us how long ago the report has been done, but it has been done for a while now.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: And so, I am in support if it means that we . . . It does not seem like we are going to get the report if we do not have the [Joint] Select Committee based on the Government's direction and pathway that it has taken. So, if that is not possible, we need to hear about a time frame that is realistic that the committee can sit down . . . these are smart people.

I was not sure if this committee is going to be reappointed by different individuals or not, as well, based on the Motion here. So, I am hoping we get some clarity on that. Are we going to be looking for a new establishment of people, or is it going to be the same that were there before prior to Christmas . . . December time?

But we do need to get to [it] and put this to rest. So, if it is going to help put it to rest, let's give it a time frame. I think that three months is certainly enough time for a group to sit down [and] go through the report if it is not 1,000 pages. I understand that it is not. It is a fairly short report that we can go through. So hopefully we can come to some conclusion very quickly.

I do not feel like it is fair to the public for us to continue to go on and speculate as to was did [or] did not happen and the like. We feel for the Government in this particular instance of a cyberattack. I think there has been back and forth about it as to whether or not enough information was forthcoming.

I know that some of those were security protocols that we were putting in place, but as my honourable colleague said, we can take a look at other similar situations where the cyberattacks took place and far more transparency was added to it. We know exactly. The public from another jurisdiction outside of Bermuda, we know all about what took place.

And so, I am hoping that the committee can get going on with its business and we can come to some conclusion. And I am hoping to hear a time frame. In my opinion, a year is well too late. Three months, maybe even stretch around a month from there, but we should be going into our break for Cup Match, potentially, having had this committee meet and get it out there, certainly not going into a new parliamentary session for this.

So, I want to thank the Honourable Member for bringing this forward. It has caused some thought, a lot of thought, as to whether or not this is good. So, I am happy to say that yes, Premier, I am supporting this here. And it is important that if we do not see any progress soon, if this committee takes too long to get going, we will be saying something about it.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution.

None other?

[Inaudible interjection]

The Speaker: Oh. Yes.

Mr. Robert King: No, no. It is okay. I will be brief.
Good evening, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker: Good evening.

Mr. Robert King: —and Members of this Honourable House.

Regarding the Joint Select Committee, I do not believe that there is going to be any merit in having it reconvened. We already have the subject matter experts' information digital technology, an audit. The persons who are currently working within that area know what happened. They have all the information, and basically what they are going to be doing is informing the persons who would be sitting on that committee who are not subject-matter experts of what happened and what measures are being put in place. So—

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Robert King: Yes, I was, but I am not going to do it again. But the point is, the mechanisms are already in place to have a report written by the person who are already doing the work and protecting this Island. So, we do not need to waste time; we can just have the report published.

Thank you.

The Speaker: Does any other Member wish to make a contribution?

Premier?

Hon. E. David Burt: Yes, sir, Speaker.

It clearly goes without saying that the Government supports the establishment of this committee and the re-establishment. The only reason why this committee was not able to complete its work is because we had a general election and the Legislature was dissolved. And therefore, when the Legislature is dissolved, committees are dissolved. And then once you go back into Parliament—

[Crosstalk]

Hon. E. David Burt: —if there were things that were not done before, you have to go ahead and do it and continue it, which I think you explained.

But, Mr. Speaker, it is a challenge. And I am going to explain why it is a challenge. Because hearing Members opposite (my opinion) . . . I know they will give a point of order, but I am going to say it. And they will point of order, and I will get them up—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: —and keep saying it again.

Hearing Members opposite, you would think that the only time that Members of the House of Assembly are supposed to work is when we show up on Fridays. The reality is that as I have stated on many and numerous occasions (and we have had those conversations before), we need to make sure that we have more committees of Parliament, that they are active committees in Parliament, and that they can go through the work that is being done. But here is what is also important, Mr. Speaker, and especially for the Honourable Member who just took his seat—

Mr. Jarion Richardson: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

[Inaudible interjection]

The Speaker: He was sitting in the House. He was sitting right there.

An Hon. Member: He was in the House.

The Speaker: He was in the House.

An Hon. Member: Okay. I apologise.

[Crosstalk]

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Mr. Jarion Richardson: Yes, earlier we were debating the relevant heads and the Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure where we made it quite clear that we believe in the work of the . . . The Honourable Premier is misleading the House. We made it quite clear that we believe that this work should take place not just during a sitting of the House but in fact during numerous committee events including espousing increasing in funding and resources for those committees.

Thank you.

[Desk thumping]

Hon. E. David Burt: Yes, Mr. Speaker. So, we go back to it again—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: The Opposition Leader says one thing, and his Members say something else. So, the Opposition Leader believes we should have more committees and active committees, and their Members believe that we should not have a committee to look into this.

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Point of order.

The Speaker: Point of order. What is the point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: The Premier is misleading the House. Nothing of the sort was said as to the Premier's last comment. Nothing. Everyone who spoke has said they—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: —support it. Every single Member that spoke to this Bill from the OBA supported it.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. E. David Burt: That is false!

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: That is not false.

The Speaker: Let me help you out.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Let me help you out. There was a Member who indicated he thought the committee should not continue—

Mr. L. Craig Cannonier: That does not mean that he did not support it.

The Speaker: There was one of your Members. One of your Members thought that the report—

[Crosstalk]

Mr. Robert King: I might be able to assist, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: —constituted.

An Hon. Member: Oh, no, no, no.

The Speaker: Okay?

Hon. E. David Burt: I shall continue, Mr. Speaker.

So, the Opposition Leader says that we should have more active committees and more should be done by committees. The Honourable Opposition Whip says he supports this. The Honourable Members who spoke before—unequivocal. The first one said the support is there. Another one said no we do not support. The other one said, I am not trying to have anything negative—

Mr. Jarion Richardson: Point of order.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Jarion Richardson: I believe the Honourable Member was referring to this specific committee. I did not say I support every possible committee under the sun that could ever exist.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order.

[Laughter]

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Mr. Scott Pearman: The Honourable Premier is misleading the House. The statement he made to this House was that we over on this side do not support working in this Parliament other than on Fridays. That statement was not only rude, it is wrong, and it is misleading.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, the last—

The Speaker: Keep it to where we are—

Hon. E. David Burt: That is fine, Mr. Speaker. But I will continue to say it because I find it laughable that this side wants to throw but the minute that they get a little bit of, you know, return they are like, Oh my gosh! Don't! Don't! Don't! Don't! But here is the thing. Here is the thing.

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: That is all right. You can point-of-order again. But here is the thing, Mr. Speaker. Here is the thing. The reason why it is important is because . . . and the Honourable Member who just took his seat may be upset about what I said, but that is what I took from their statements. If you do not like what I took, then that is fine, but that is what I took from their statements.

Here is why committees are important, Mr. Speaker. Yes, absolutely, Mr. Speaker, someone can do a report. Sure! Absolutely. Here is the reality. We in this House scrutinise the work of the executive. We in this House need to find ways to learn, to improve, to understand more deeply. We in this House, I believe Honourable Members, especially when going into a space where cyber issues are going to be more prevalent, need to have an understanding, need to have the opportunity to sit, to question, to ask, to understand so they can deepen their responsibilities. Because a Member on this side who is on the committee or a Member on that side who is on the committee may be in a position at one point in time—whether the Minister is responsible, the policy officer is responsible—and the lessons that have been learned from the interactions will benefit the country and our democracy.

That, Mr. Speaker, is the reason why we have a committee. It is not just to publish the report because the Motion says to learn lessons and make recommendations going forward. And the persons who are part of that will have a deeper and better understanding of the work that takes place around it. That, Mr. Speaker, is why this Government put forward. That is the same rational when this Motion was originally passed, and it is the same rational today.

So yes, I understand that certain Members may not want to be on a committee and have told you, Mr. Speaker, and I understand the Opposition Whip is saying, We are looking for a timeline, and Who is going to be appointed? [and] all the rest. Those are things which are underneath your gift, Mr. Speaker.

But what I will say is that it is important to remember and recognise that work in committees that takes place benefits the Members of the committees to enhance their knowledge, their understanding, and to be able to serve the country better especially in something that is going to be more and more important as we go forward.

So that, Mr. Speaker, is my contribution. And I sincerely hope that Members on that side will follow their Whip and support this Motion.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Does any other Member wish to make a contribution?

Does any other Member?

None. Member.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I find it interesting some of the comments from the other side, and I feel as though I should share some data on this topic.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: In 2023, multiple nations were the victim of cyberattacks. And the cyberattacks I am talking about now are the government-focused cyberattacks. The Honourable Members on the other side have spoken to one report that has come out. And, Mr. Speaker, as you notice, I am not using my tablet or my phone for this presentation.

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: But what I want to say is from the notes that I have done and the time that I have spent—

An Hon. Member: Yes.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: In 2023, around the same time that Bermuda suffered a cyberattack, how many other countries and how many other attacks (let's put it that way) do you think happened? It is estimated hundreds of thousands of cyberattacks were either attempted or successful on government systems in 2023.

How many of them have transitioned into concrete resolutions? Dozens to hundreds. So, that suggests that the majority of the cyberattacks that have happened to the United States, to the United Kingdom, to Australia, to Jamaica, to Barbados, to Trinidad and Tobago have gone unresolved. And Mr. Speaker, if you look at how long it takes for full implementation of a report to be done, an investigation to be done, and the mitigating factors, it takes one to three years. And this is from nations that arguably have more resources and more capabilities than we do here in Bermuda.

An Hon. Member: We could be on schedule.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: And so, Mr. Speaker, I would love to caution this House that we can either do this quickly or we could do this correctly.

An Hon. Member: Yes!

Another Hon. Member: That is right!

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: And Mr. Speaker—

An Hon. Member: That is right.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Mr. Speaker, I was raised in a household that said, Haste makes waste.

An Hon. Member: There you go.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: I understand because I came into politics when we were the Opposition. It is easy on the other side to say what sounds good—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: —and not have to back it up. On this side, when we say we are going to do something, we have to do it—and not just do it to do it but do it to do it correctly.

And so, Mr. Speaker, we already have or at least the Secretary for the committee has multiple reports from multiple jurisdictions that we can look into. This is not about pointing the finger. This is not about a singular event. This is about looking into . . . And it is not just about the Government. This about looking into our infrastructure for electricity, our health care, our international business, other jurisdictions internationally, how they have done it because what the world has learned is that cybersecurity is not an individual's responsibility; it is a global one.

An Hon. Member: True. True.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Therefore, we must be working together with others. And the best place that I believe and the Government believes to start is with the House of Representatives leading the way and having those conversations on your behalf, Mr. Speaker.

Because this is a Joint Select Committee, you are the one that would determine who sits on the committee. And Mr. Speaker, from what I am hearing, it seems as though we have to have a very stringent vetting process so that those who already have an opinion on the matter do not bring an opinion already created to the committee. And allow the committee to go through the data and let the data lead them to a conclusion.

And so, Mr. Speaker, I understand that there are those in this community, as there are those in this Chamber, that feel as though we have taken too long. I understand that there are those in society, as are those in this House who feel as though we should do more. But Mr. Speaker, I do not agree that we should put this into the private sector's hands because, Mr. Speaker, the one thing that we all share in this Chamber is the trust of the people who elected us. Therefore, when a Joint Select Committee of this House comes out with a report and recommendations, it is one that the people and the country can trust and stand behind.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: And, Mr. Speaker, even Members on the other side said that as we were making progress the Joint Select Committee was moving forward with transparency and that everybody was treated equally. And I will now go and embellish a bit that this was more parliamentary than it was party. We represent you, Mr. Speaker, when we reach out for evidence. We represent you, Mr. Speaker, when we call witnesses to help explain to us what the data means and what the terminology is in the reports that we are reading—

An Hon. Member: And it is good governance.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: And, Mr. Speaker, as my colleague to my left that is lucky enough to share one of my names—

[Laughter]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: —has said, it is good governance.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

An Hon. Member: No one is spared.

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: And so, Mr. Speaker, on that note, I move that we do move forward with the Motion, and be it resolved.

The Speaker: Are there any objections to the Motion?

An Hon. Member: No objections.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: All right. I was just asking is there were any objections at this time. If there are no objections, are we going to need to take a vote on it.

No? Okay, that is where the ayes and the nays would have come in—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: —but it seems there were no objections and they were in favour. So, I would accept that it has been done.

Just for . . . And I am doing this piece for the edification of those in the listening audience. The committees that are formed by this House are formed as a nonpartisan committee to look at issues that are important to not just this House but to the country.

I recently just came back, as you know, from being overseas and [in] meetings, and the cyber issue was in both the sets of meetings that I sat in. We had experts come in and talk to us about the cyberattacks on our countries and how our Parliaments need to be concerned about those things. So, it is fitting that we have this discussion.

Yes, time has passed us because of an election. But because an election came does not mean we do not come to a conclusion. And the committee is being reinstituted so we can come to a conclusion. My desire would have been seeing the Members who served on it prior serve again because they already have some information—

An Hon. Member: Continuity.

The Speaker: —and [for] the continuity of it. Thank you.

We had expected the continuity to have carried forward so that we can bring it to a conclusion without having to back and start over at the beginning with fresh Members.

So, with that said, the matter has been approved this evening, and it now brings us to . . . There are no third readings tonight, so it now brings us to a conclusion, Mr. Premier, for the evening.

ADJOURNMENT

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that this Honourable House now adjourn until Friday, 30 May.

I am informed that one of my Members wishes to speak to the motion.

The Speaker: Does any Member wish to speak to that?

Mr. Christopher Famous: Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Okay. The clock is on. You have your 20 minutes.

Mr. Christopher Famous: Mr. Speaker, welcome back. I must say that your Deputy handled the—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Christopher Famous: I was just about to give a compliment.

[Laughter]

The Speaker: He reeled you in real quick, eh?

Mr. Christopher Famous: I must say, Mr. Speaker, but I shall not be deterred.

[Laughter]

Mr. Christopher Famous: Your Deputy handled the Budget Debates, the briefs, just the way you would, Mr. Speaker. And you know it is unfortunate that today was, you know, kind of your welcome back, [and it] kind of got, you know—

The Speaker: [It's] Part of the process.

Mr. Christopher Famous: Anyway, Mr. Speaker—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Christopher Famous: I will be very brief, Mr. Speaker, because the Deputy Speaker is giving me a look that—

[Crosstalk]

TRUE LEADERSHIP MEANS YOU HAVE TO TELL PEOPLE WHAT THEY NEED TO HEAR VERSUS WHAT THEY WANT TO HEAR

Mr. Christopher Famous: Mr. Speaker, I think she would appreciate what I am going to say.

Mr. Speaker, some seven years ago you sent me on a CPA course, and that course spoke about the need for more women in political leadership. Earlier today we heard statistics that there were eight women in the Lower House and seven women in the Upper House—still not where we should be, 72 per cent male. And we see when alpha males get at it, it just goes crazy, right?

So, Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to say that in the last few months, there have been some movements in our sister islands. At a recent conference, the Honourable Mia Mottley . . . [Is there] anybody that does not know who she is? The Honourable Mia Motley said she felt very lonely as the only female leader in the Caribbean at the time. And subsequent to that, there have been some elections in some of our sister islands, as you would know, Mr. Speaker, and I would just like to read off some names if you would allow, Mr. Speaker. The Honourable Cora Richardson Hodge has been elected as the Premier of Anguilla—first female leader in Anguilla.

The Honourable Kamla Persad-Bissessar has been re-elected as the Leader of Trinidad and Tobago—first time they had a woman re-elected. Additionally, the Honourable Penelope Beckles[-Robinson] has been selected as the Opposition Leader in the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago—the first female Opposition Leader. So, [in] Trinidad and Tobago, because it is a Republic, the President is Kangaloo (not kangaroo. Kangaroo.) is a female. The Prime Minister is female, and the Opposition Leader is female.

And yesterday, Mr. Speaker, this week in the Republic of Suriname there was an election and the Honourable [Dr.] Jennifer Geerlings-Simons (might be part Bermudian) has been elected as the President of the Republic of Suriname.

So, I say that in the sense that we as men have to accept that we need more women in politics in general. Right? And even if we do not make way, they are going to make their own way. So, gentlemen, I suggest you be on your P's and Q's.

Mr. Speaker, moving on—

Mr. Scott Pearman: Honourable Member, take a point of information.

Mr. Christopher Famous: Anything for Mr. Scott.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Scott Pearman: I have been listening to the Honourable Member speak positively about strides women politicians have been making south of us, and I would merely remind the Honourable Member that the first jurisdiction in the world to have both a leader who was a woman and the leader of the Opposition who was a woman was, in fact, Bermuda.

The Speaker: Yes!

[Desk thumping]

Mr. Christopher Famous: Well, the first party that had an elected female leader was the PLP.

The Speaker: Yes.

Mr. Christopher Famous: Mr. Speaker, to the west of us is a country that is called United States of America, and the present leader is, well, you know the name.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Christopher Famous: That leader is Donald Trump. Trump 1.0 made a statement, and I will not say some words because I know the Sergeant-at-Arms will take me out.

The Speaker: Yes.

Mr. Christopher Famous: Well, escort me out, I mean. He said he did not want people from certain blank-blank-blank countries. He did not want people from Central and South America. And he did not want people from Africa. He wanted people from Norway. So, you can read into that what he wanted. Trump 2.0 has (I do not know) gone all out in trying to deport, escort, people of colour out of his country. But funnily enough, he gave refugee status to some folks from another country and that happens to be in Africa. So, he said, Well, didn't you say you did not want Africans in this country? Then you look and you say, Oh, you only want certain types of Africans here.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Christopher Famous: Right. What is the relevance, Mr. Speaker? We have someone . . . I am not going to call any names, but you all can figure it out. We have someone who has for years been advocating in this country that we have population increase. Now some of their argument has merit. We have a growing greying population. We have a declining birthrate. So yeah, okay it makes sense somewhere. And every time they get a chance, they keep saying: We need more population. We need more population.

They have gone so far as to say population increase would decrease the cost of living. Actually, it will not because you are going to increase the cost of housing, and so even if you decrease the cost of groceries, your housing price is going up. But anyway, Mr. Speaker . . .

Anyway, Mr. Speaker, that same individual in a Trump-like manner has gone on record numerous times inferring negatively that this Government is attempting to open the floodgates for people from a certain region. So, on one hand he is advocating for population increase, but on the other hand, he is saying, Oh my God. Look at what they are doing. They are trying to sneak in people from this region. kind of Trump-like. It sounds as if he—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: He is both a . . . the Member—

[Inaudible interjections]

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I am pretty . . . The Member I believe is alluding to another Member, and he is both mischaracterising and misrepresenting the Member's remarks. So, he is misleading the House of Assembly, and he is also imputing improper motive. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: I—

Mr. Christopher Famous: Mr. Speaker, I would—

The Speaker: I am not sure who he is leading to. That one has going past me. And I have been making sure that he did not go personal in any direct way because I did not know who he was leading to.

Mr. Christopher Famous: Mr. Speaker, thank you very much for your ruling. And I will say again, if the fish did not open their mouth, they would not get caught.

[Laughter]

Mr. Christopher Famous: Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker: All right. Okay, Member.

[Crosstalk]

Mr. Christopher Famous: Mr. Speaker, my point being, one cannot advocate for population increase, rightfully or wrongfully, and then always take an opportunity to slyly disparage people from a certain region. It is Trump-like. Trump wants people out of his country, but he wants to bring in certain people. It is Trump-like, Mr. Speaker. But let me move on before another attempt at a point of order.

Mr. Speaker, housing. I will not go into a debate that was had earlier this week. All I would say, Mr. Speaker, [is] the facts are there is no simple way to get more housing in this country. The price of land is constantly going up. The cost of materials is going up (due to Trump). And the cost of labour is going up. So, it is somewhat like a moving goalpost for many Bermudians who did not get a start.

The reality is, Mr. Speaker, true leadership means you have to tell people what they need to hear versus what they want to hear. True leadership tells people that the odds of the percentage of your downpayment going down or you qualifying for a certain bank, hmm, maybe not. It's a possibility but maybe not. The reality is, Mr. Speaker, that the percentage we pay on our mortgage maybe one thing today [and] could be something else tomorrow. [It] all depends on what goes on in someplace else. We do not control our mortgage rates. All right?

Mr. Speaker, again, not speaking to a specific debate, but it is easy for any government anywhere in the world to say, Hey, we are cutting the taxes. But if other things are going up, the tax cuts are kind of negated. That is the word I want to use. But as leaders, what we have to tell our people, Mr. Speaker, is, Save your money. You want to own a house? Save your money for a downpayment. You want to have a good retirement? Save your money. Put it in a decent pension fund.

Mr. Speaker, we have a holiday just gone by. We have a holiday that is coming up. National Heroes Day, Heroes Weekend, whatever they call it. There are going to be a lot of parties going on, and we are going to find a lot of our fellow Bermudians wearing wristbands showing that they went to this party or that party. And we are going to find of those same people getting on social media complaining about the price of bread. Well, how did you afford to go to all these parties, and you complain about the price of bread or the price of watermelon?

[Crosstalk]

Mr. Christopher Famous: So, I say this, Mr. Speaker: leadership. Yes, it is nice in here to come in and crack jokes between each other, you know, trade little barbs here and there—barb, b-a-r-b-s. But true leadership, Mr. Speaker, is telling people what they need to hear. And we are at a point in this country where no matter which government it is, the cost of living is not going down significantly. I am not saying it is not going down, but not significant enough. If people want housing, they have to save. Stop spending frivolously. [If] people want to have a retirement, a decent retirement, save their money.

So, I will end on that note, Mr. Speaker. And welcome back. And I see that King Charles finally met royalty. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Laughter and desk thumping]

The Speaker: On that note, I take it that we are closing out for the evening. There are no further speakers?

No further speakers.

Thank you, Members, for your contribution today and throughout this Budget Debate. I am sure all Members are pleased that we finally finished the Budget Debate.

With that said, Premier, we are out until Friday at 10:00 am. Members, enjoy your, well, one day between. I almost said weekend. Enjoy your day in between and we will see you again on Friday morning at 10:00 am.

[Gavel]

The Speaker: The House stands adjourned.

[At 9:08 pm, the House stood adjourned until 10:00 am, Friday, 30 May 2025.]

[This page intentionally left blank.]

BERMUDA HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY
OFFICIAL HANSARD REPORT
30 MAY 2025
10:01 AM

Sitting Number 13 of the 2025/2026 Session

[Hon. Dennis P. Lister, Jr., Speaker, in the Chair]

The Speaker: Good morning, Members.
The Clerk will lead us in prayer.

PRAYERS

[Prayers read by Mr. Clark Somner, Clerk]

The Speaker: Good morning, Members.

[Gavel]

The Speaker: The House is now in session.

CONFIRMATION OF MINUTES

[Minutes of 28 May 2025]

The Speaker: Members, the confirmation of the Minutes from the 28th of May have been circulated.
Are there any amendments?
No amendments. The Minutes will be printed as confirmed.

[Minutes of 28 May 2025 confirmed]

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Speaker: There are none.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SPEAKER OR MEMBER PRESIDING

APOLOGIES

The Speaker: We have two Members who have indicated their absence today and that would be Minister Adams and MP Lister.

PAPERS AND OTHER
COMMUNICATIONS TO THE HOUSE

The Speaker: Premier, there is one paper this morning.

Hon. E. David Burt: Good morning to you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Good morning.

BERMUDA MONETARY AUTHORITY
ANNUAL REPORT 2024

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, I have the honour to attach and submit for the information of the Honourable House of Assembly the Bermuda Monetary Authority Annual Report 2024.

The Speaker: Thank you.

PETITIONS

The Speaker: There are none.

STATEMENTS BY MINISTERS AND JUNIOR MINISTERS

The Speaker: We have six Statements this morning.
The first is in the name of the Premier and Minister of Finance. Would you like to present your Statement?

Hon. E. David Burt: Sure, Mr. Speaker.

BERMUDA MONETARY AUTHORITY
ANNUAL REPORT 2024

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, in accordance with section 28 of the Bermuda Monetary Authority Act 1969, earlier today in this Honourable House I tabled the 2024 Annual Report of the Bermuda Monetary Authority.

Mr. Speaker, Bermuda's financial services sector is subject to the regulation and supervision of the Bermuda Monetary Authority. The Authority operates pursuant to the Bermuda Monetary Authority Act 1969 (the "Act"), which provides it with a number of principal objects, including the supervision, regulation and inspection of financial institutions operating in or from within Bermuda, together with the promotion of financial stability and soundness of financial institutions.

Mr. Speaker, Honourable Members would be aware that the Authority has specific licensing and supervisory responsibilities under the following regulatory statutes: the Banks and Deposit Companies Act; Corporate Service Provider Business Act; the Digital Asset Business Act; the Insurance Act; the Investment Business Act; the Investment Funds Act; Money Service Business Act; the Fund Administration Provider Business Act; the Trusts (Regulation of Trust Business) Act, together with other statutes. The Authority also regulates the Bermuda Stock Exchange.

The Authority's mission is to contribute to Bermuda's financial stability, protect customers of financial services and protect Bermuda's currency through maintaining effective and proactive regulatory frameworks through its highly skilled and engaged workforce; delivering efficient operations and sustainable business practices; and supporting responsible innovation locally and in global markets.

International Recognition

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, the Authority has received international recognition for its regulatory excellence, being one of only seven jurisdictions with US National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) "qualified jurisdiction" status, one of three with NAIC "reciprocal jurisdiction" status, and one of just two jurisdictions in the world to be granted full Solvency II equivalence by the European Union.

Mr. Speaker, the Authority is an active and respected participant in key international regulatory bodies, fostering strong global relationships. The Authority's Managing Director of Supervision serves on the International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS) Executive Committee, with BMA staff leading or contributing to numerous IAIS committees, including those on macroprudential policy, development, and financial crime. The Authority also engages with the Financial Stability Board, the Bank for International Settlements, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development's Insurance and Private Pensions Committee. The Authority is also a coordination group member of the Global Financial Innovation Network, a group of regulators committed to supporting financial innovation in the best interests of consumers.

Legislation

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, the Authority is authorised to advise the Minister of Finance on policy matters relating to financial institutions and may propose legislation consistent with its responsibilities under the Bermuda Monetary Authority Act 1969. Amongst the legislative proposals advanced in 2024 were those which bolstered the regime under which recognised investment exchanges and clearing houses are supervised and regulated; a Ministerial Order for the minimum initial net assets required of Restricted Banks at the time of licensing and expanded the classes of persons to whom such banks may provide services; and measures to amend the fees payable by entities operating within the Authority's innovation hub.

Additionally, rules were passed regarding the requirements for insurers to create a recovery plan, the contents of such plans, and the matters which the Authority shall consider when determining which insurers need to prepare a recovery plan. Regulations were also issued to enable the Authority to refresh the form and design of coins to feature the image of His Majesty King Charles III.

Financial Sector Highlights

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, Members' attention is drawn to the following key highlights for the various sectors supervised by the Authority:

Banking Sector

Hon. E. David Burt: With regard to the banking sector, consolidated assets remained unchanged at $23.7 billion in 2024. Investments retained the largest share of total assets at 53 per cent, followed by loans at 33 per cent, and cash and deposits at 11 per cent. Net interest income continued to be the largest component of the banking sector's income at $755 million down from $790 million in 2023.

Insurance Sector

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, moving to the insurance sector, 1,239 insurers were registered as of 31 December 2024 compared to 1,213 in 2023. According to 2023 year-end information, total capital and surplus was $404 billion in 2023 an increase of $57 billion from the $347 billion recorded in 2022. Gross written premiums were $316 billion in 2023 an increase of $39 billion from the $277 billion recorded in 2022. This increase is attributed to the growth in business written by large, commercial, general business and long-term insurers. Total assets were $1.87 trillion in 2023 an increase of $217 billion from the $1.65 trillion recorded in 2022. This increase was largely due to increased business written by a specific group of insurers.

Investment Sector

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, moving to the investment sector, there were 52 licensed investment business providers, an increase of 5 from 47 in 2023; and 56 registered investment business providers operating in Bermuda during 2024. The aggregate total assets under management (AUM) reported by licensed investment providers were $231 billion compared to $225 billion AUM in 2023. Total assets under administration (AUA) for [2024] were $25.4 billion, compared to $28.1 billion reported for 2023.

Mr. Speaker, in 2024, there were 784 investment funds on the Investment Funds Act register, a decrease of 20 compared to 804 in 2023. Of these funds, 129 overseas funds being promoted in Bermuda and 655 Bermuda funds. This is contrasted against 2023, whereby 146 overseas funds were promoted in Bermuda and Bermuda funds totalled 658, with a net asset value reported in relation to Bermuda funds of $295 billion an increase from $281 billion in 2023. At the end of 2024, Mr. Speaker, 24 fund administrator licences were in issue, unchanged from the prior year, with $195.6 billion in assets under administration.

Digital Asset Business Sector

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, 2024 was a significant year of growth for the digital asset business sector which ended the year with 36 digital asset business providers operating in Bermuda, a 50 per cent increase from the 24 recorded in 2023. This sector is continuing to demonstrate strong growth and is expected to become the third largest revenue earner for the Authority in the upcoming year. This growth is a testament to this Government's foresight in ensuring that Bermuda established a credible regime for this emerging sector, which has been in place since 2018.

Mr. Speaker, the total equity market capitalisation for the Bermuda Stock Exchange stood at $217.6 billion at the end of 2024 as compared with $191.7 billion at the end of 2023. A total of 156 new insurance-linked securities were added to the BSX in 2024 a reduction from 195 new issues recorded in 2023. Domestic trading volume totalled 11.3 million shares in 2024 up significantly from 2.3 million in 2023; with the value of shares traded increasing 5-fold from the prior year, totalling $105.8 million compared to $20.4 million in 2023.

BMA 2024 Financial Highlights

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, Honourable Members' attention is drawn to the following highlights set out in the Statement of Accounts Report:

- Net income for the Authority was $17.93 million up from a net loss of $3.53 million in the previous year.
- Total revenue increased by 50 per cent up to $129.8 million, up from $86.7 million in the year prior. The increase is mainly due to a $40 million increase in revenue from supervisory and licensing fees.
- Expenses increased by 24 per cent to $111.9 million. The increase was mainly due to the $15.5 million in increased salaries and benefits.
- Licensing fees were $114.5 million, compared to $74.4 million from the prior year, of which $103 million was paid by the insurance sector.
- The receipt of funds from fines and penalties increased by $2.554 million from the previous year.
- The Authority had 302 full-time permanent employees, an increase from 273 in 2023.
- Board Members are paid an annual fee of $50,000 an increase from $26,000 in 2023; Board Sub Committee Chairs are paid an annual fee of $58,000 to $63,000, up from $33,000 in the year prior. The Chairman of the Board receives an annual fee of $125,000, an increase from $96,000 in 2023.

- The CEO's salary is set at $550,000 up from $500,000 in 2023, and he is eligible for a performance-based bonus of up to 50 per cent of base salary. The salaries of the other 20 members of the executive team range from $275,000 to $500,000, with a performance-based bonus of up to 37 per cent of salary.

Mr. Speaker, upon reviewing the Authority's 2024 financial statements, the Auditor General has issued a clean audit opinion.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the Government, I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the Authority's Board, chaired by former Cabinet Secretary Mr. Donald Scott. I also wish to extend special thanks to the executive team and dedicated staff of the Bermuda Monetary Authority, under the leadership of Chief Executive Officer Mr. Craig Swan. The Board and executive team deserve Honourable Members' congratulations for their sound stewardship and the excellent financial results achieved in 2024. As Minister of Finance, I am especially grateful for the continued partnership and collaboration with the Authority's leadership, as this Government remains focused on expanding and strengthening Bermuda's financial services sector in a globally competitive environment.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Mr. Premier.

Members, the next Statement this morning is in the name of the Minister of National Security.

Minister.

HURRICANE PREPAREDNESS

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Good morning, Mr. Speaker, colleagues and the listening public.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to inform this Honourable House and the people of Bermuda about our preparedness for the 2025 Atlantic hurricane season, which officially commences this Sunday, 1 June and concludes on 30 November.

Mr. Speaker, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) has forecasted an above-normal hurricane season for 2025, predicting 13 to 19 named storms, with 6 to 10 becoming hurricanes, and 3 to 5 reaching major hurricane status (Category 3 or higher). This outlook is driven by record warm sea surface temperatures in the Atlantic and the continued transition to neutral El Niño–Southern Oscillation (ENSO) conditions, both of which create favourable conditions for storm development.

Mr. Speaker, AccuWeather's forecast aligns closely with NOAA's, anticipating 13 to 18 named storms, including 7 to 10 hurricanes and 3 to 5 major hurricanes. These forecasts underscore the importance of early preparedness, particularly as warmer waters can contribute to rapid storm intensification, leaving less time to react once a system is formed.

Mr. Speaker, as Honourable Members will be aware, June is recognised as Hurricane Preparedness Month. On Tuesday, 11 June, I will convene the executive of the Emergency Measures Organisation (EMO) for its annual hurricane readiness meeting. This session will serve to assess Government's state of preparedness and ensure that all relevant agencies are coordinated and ready to act if and when a storm approaches. Additionally, a tabletop exercise for relevant agencies is scheduled for 18 June. This exercise will bring together stakeholders from across the public sector, utilities, and critical services to simulate emergency scenarios and test our national response protocols.

Mr. Speaker, throughout the month of June, the Disaster Risk Reduction and Mitigation (DRRM) Team within the Ministry of National Security will lead various preparedness activities. These include training sessions, equipment and connectivity testing for the Emergency Broadcast Facility, and refresher briefings for EMO Operations Centre staff.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to use this opportunity to once again encourage all residents to take personal responsibility for hurricane readiness. Now is the time to review and update your household hurricane plans, incorporating any lessons learned from previous seasons. Please ensure that your property insurance is up to date and provides adequate coverage.

Mr. Speaker, each household should assemble a comprehensive hurricane supplies kit. This should include a two-week supply of any necessary medications, along with at least three days' worth of nonperishable food and water. Flashlights, spare batteries, and a portable radio are essential items to remain informed and safe during a storm. It is also helpful to include books, games, or other small activities that can help keep children occupied and reduce stress in the event of power outages or prolonged periods indoors. In true Bermudian spirit, I encourage all residents to check in on our elderly or disabled neighbours who may need assistance with their preparations, ensuring that no one is left behind.

Mr. Speaker, in times of emergency, accurate and timely information can save lives. I urge all residents to ensure they are receiving updates from credible and official sources. The Emergency Broadcast Station at 100.1 FM is live and remains a reliable source for Government messaging, especially if the power goes out. I encourage residents to tune in now and become familiar with the station's format and content. Other trusted sources include the Government of Bermuda and the Bermuda Weather Service's Facebook pages, in addition to reputable local radio and television stations.

Mr. Speaker, I must stress the importance of verifying any information received through social media. Not all platforms share accurate or timely information, and misinformation during a storm can cause unnecessary panic or dangerous delays. When official advisories are issued, whether to prepare, shelter in place, or evacuate, it is vital that the public acts on this advice immediately. Timely action preserves life, supports emergency services, and strengthens our collective response.

Mr. Speaker, Bermuda has weathered many active hurricane seasons with resilience and unity. However, this success should not engender complacency. It only takes one storm to cause significant disruption or damage to our normal lives. With early preparation, community cooperation, and a commitment to following official guidance, I am confident that Bermuda and her people will safely navigate the 2025 hurricane season.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Members, the next Statement this morning is in the name of the Minister of Tourism, Transport, and Culture.

Minister.

BERMUDA DAY 2025: THE FUTURE IS NOW

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, it is with immense pride and gratitude that I rise today—the day before the end of Heritage Month—to reflect on the unforgettable celebration that was the 2025 Bermuda Day Parade. Though set against unpredictable weather, this year's parade captured the power of community, the richness of our culture, and the bold promise of our future. With "The Future is Now" as our theme, Bermudians rose to the occasion and turned imagination into reality.

Mr. Speaker, the streets of Hamilton came alive with the sounds, colours, and creativity of our people. This year's parade saw remarkable participation, and the route was lined with families, friends, and visitors all soaking up the experience. From the very first beat to the last Gombey step, the 2025 Bermuda Day Parade delivered something special—an honest and joyful collision of heritage as well as innovation.

Mr. Speaker, this year we witnessed the resurgence of one of Bermuda's most beloved parade traditions: the majorette. Leading the charge were the PHC Majorettes and Drum Corps, long-standing bearers of the tradition, joined by a strong showing of new and returning troupes: Warwick United Majorettes and Drum Corps (celebrating their 50th anniversary, Mr. Speaker), the Ex-Artillery Elite Majorettes, the Devonshire Ultimate "STAR" Twirlers and Drum Corp Band, Hamilton Parish Community Hot Peppers, and the St. George's Original Dancerettes—a proud programme of the Office of Youth Affairs. Their energy, precision, and presence were unmatched.

Mr. Speaker, the performances did not stop there. We were thrilled to welcome back United Dance Productions, who continue to raise the bar with their choreographic brilliance. We thank groups like Sui Generis for persevering in participation, even when odds were against them in the preparation stages. Rated E brought their trademark energy and youthful spirit, and there were many other dance groups and participants worth celebrating.

Mr. Speaker, this year's floats captured the theme with bold imagination. From the futuristic [to the fantastical,] they were shining examples of what happens when community pride meets creative daring. The Association of Filipinos in Bermuda stunned spectators with intricate, hand-crafted costumes designed by their president, Ryan de Jesus. The Department of Culture, in collaboration with Bermudian artisan Ian Tucker, featured a striking futuristic Gombey—his vision of what cultural continuity might look like.

Mr. Speaker, CedarBridge Academy once again impressed with an ambitious and visually captivating float that even featured a Macy's Day Parade style blimp. It was a technical feat and a crowd favourite, showcasing the innovation and talent of our youth in real time.

Mr. Speaker, no parade would be complete without the many walking groups that bring stories, identity, and legacy to the road. This year we saw groups celebrating milestone anniversaries—like Bermuda College—as well as proud organisations like the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated, who marched alongside their award-winning float with joy and intention. As Minister with responsibility for Sport, I was especially pleased to see Department of Sport and Recreation, Western Stars, and the Endeavour Programme take part—demonstrating how sport and culture complement each other beautifully in the public space.

Mr. Speaker, the Bermuda Day Fund once again made meaningful participation possible for many of this year's entries. A total of 20 entries were supported through this fund, allowing organisations across the island to bring their ideas to life. This vital resource continues to break down barriers and ensure our parade is as inclusive and dynamic as our people.

Mr. Speaker, this year's Grand Marshals represented the spectrum of Bermudian excellence—visionaries in media, culture, youth leadership, financial literacy, and technology:

- Glenn Jones: A distinguished career in communication and influence.
- Eugene O'Connor: Bermuda's esteemed kite master and cultural guardian.
- McKenzie-Kohl Tuckett: Championing change and empowering the next generation.
- Seldon Woolridge: Fusing arts, culture, and financial acumen.
- Coral Wells: Pioneering the future of tech in Bermuda.

Each of them exemplifies what "The Future is Now" looks like in action.

Mr. Speaker, our Gombey tradition continues to evolve in exciting ways. This year, some troupes joined the festivities along the route, adding vibrant bursts of culture throughout the day. As is tradition, the Gombey brought the parade to its official close with unmatched passion and pageantry. Their rhythmic beats echoed through the streets, a powerful reminder that even as we look ahead, our cultural roots remain deeply grounded.

Mr. Speaker, while that marked the end of the official parade, the celebrations didn't stop there. Thanks to a partnership between D'General, the Department of Culture, and One Communications, an incredible after-party truck kept the energy high and the music pumping—providing the perfect close to a phenomenal Bermuda Day. It was a finale that reflected exactly what this year's theme stood for: where we've been, and where we're going.

Mr. Speaker, I extend sincere thanks to the team behind the scenes at the Department of Culture, led this year by Acting Director Ms. Carlita Lodge. I also offer deep appreciation to the Department's Temporary Relief Cultural Programme Manager—a former student of mine, a former Head Boy of The Berkeley Institute, Mr. Aden Peets, who stepped in and stepped up—bringing the heart of an artist to the planning and delivery of an outstanding Bermuda Day celebration.

Mr. Speaker, Bermuda Day 2025 has set a new standard—not just in creativity or execution, but in how we honour the past while stepping fully into the future. I thank every participant, organiser, and supporter who helped make this year's event so meaningful. Here's to the continued celebration of our culture, our resilience, and our endless potential. Bermuda, the future is now.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Members, the next Statement this morning is from the Minister of Economy and Labour.

Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Good morning, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Good morning.

YOUTH EMPLOYMENT STRATEGY PROGRESS

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr Speaker, I rise today to update this Honourable House on the tangible progress made under the Government's National Youth Employment Strategy—an initiative launched to empower Bermuda's young people through meaningful training, employment pathways, and long-term career support.

Since the introduction of the Youth Employment Strategy in 2022, we have made steady and measurable strides in reducing youth unemployment in Bermuda, demonstrating the impact of our targeted interventions and whole-of-government approach.

The Strategy was designed with clear goals: to increase training opportunities, expand apprenticeships, promote access to labour market information, and provide holistic support for vulnerable youth. I am pleased to report that we are delivering on those commitments.

Mr. Speaker, this past quarter, several key initiatives were successfully executed.

The “Learning Through Experience” Hospitality Programme provided seven young Bermudians with hands-on experience in the tourism sector. Of the four participants within the 18 to 26 age group, three gained full-time employment. This outcome not only speaks to the quality of the training but affirms the potential of experiential learning to open doors for our youth.

Through our partnership with the Gang Violence Reduction Team, two young men received structured, one-on-one support. One is now employed with Marine and Ports and on the path to becoming a ferry pilot; the other is preparing for entry into the Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning industry.

We also completed Phase 1 of our expanded Apprenticeship Programme. Twelve active participants now advancing in masonry, carpentry, and plumbing—fields critical to Bermuda’s infrastructure and sustainability.

Mr. Speaker, these achievements are not without challenges. We acknowledge that maintaining youth engagement post-programme, ensuring placements in emerging industries, and addressing emotional and logistical barriers for vulnerable clients require sustained attention.

To this end, the department is developing post-programme engagement tools, expanding industry partnerships, and scaling wraparound support services.

Looking ahead, Mr. Speaker, our plans are equally ambitious. In the coming quarter, we will

- launch and promote the new Bermuda Job Connect platform to enhance visibility of local employment opportunities;
- deliver orientation sessions in our public senior schools to prepare graduating students for workforce entry; and,
- roll out the “Bridge to Work” Programme to assist justice-involved and vulnerable youth with re-entry into training and employment.

Mr. Speaker, our young people are not statistics. They are our future homeowners, innovators, and community leaders. Through this Strategy, we affirm this Government’s commitment to ensuring that every young Bermudian has a pathway to sustainable employment and economic independence.

In closing, I commend the Department of Workforce Development and our community partners for their unwavering dedication and support. Let us remain committed in our efforts to build a Bermuda where our youth are not left behind but are given every opportunity to thrive.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Members, the Minister has a second Statement.

Would you like to do your second Statement, Minister?

TRADE MARKS AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to introduce in this Honourable House the Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025. This Bill relates to the Trade Marks Act 2023 and supporting legislation.

Mr. Speaker, the Government is continuing its work on updating the legislation governing intellectual property. This effort includes modernising the laws governing trade marks, patents and registered designs, and making certain updates to the copyright legislation. The modernisation effort also aims for compliance with key international treaties which the UK may then extend to Bermuda. It is anticipated that updating these laws will make Bermuda more attractive for registration of intellectual property rights.

Mr. Speaker, the Trade Marks Act 2023 was enacted in the fall of 2023 as part of this initiative along with the Government Fees (Trade Marks) Regulations 2023. The Trade Marks Regulations 2023 were also laid in this Honourable House in December that year.

Since then, Mr. Speaker, the Registry General’s Department has taken various steps to prepare for the commencement of that legislation. This includes completing two rounds of training for the staff—the first of which was facilitated online by representatives from the United Kingdom’s Intellectual Property Office. That training was spread out over approximately six months. The second round of training was attended in person by the staff and was facilitated through intergovernmental cooperation between the Bermuda Government and the Government of Trinidad and Tobago.

Mr. Speaker, during the debate of the Trade Marks Act 2023, it was recognised that the new legislation places more administrative requirements on the Registry General. The Government committed to supporting the department’s efforts to update its ageing technology and that commitment is being honoured. The Registry General’s Department has been allocated the necessary funding; and the department is in the process of updating its software to assist departmental staff in meeting the responsibilities under the new Act.

Mr. Speaker, during the last year, the Registry General’s Department has taken several opportunities to engage further with members of the private sector about the new legislation (in addition to the consultations undertaken during the original drafting process). The purpose was to identify any gaps or additional changes needed. Today’s Bill is a result of this further consultation and consideration by the Registry General’s Department.

Mr. Speaker, there are only a few amendments being made to the Trade Marks Act 2023 at this time, but this Bill also includes a Schedule which contains an updated set of fee regulations. These fee regulations will replace the prior Government Fees (Trade Marks) Regulations 2023.

Since the 2023 fee regulations have not yet been brought into force, the required amendments have been incorporated into the schedule of fees and the entire set of regulations [reintroduced] as a Schedule to this Bill as a matter of efficiency.

Mr. Speaker, while the vast majority of fees have remained the same in this 2025 set of fees as compared with the 2023 fees, there are approximately eight additional fees included in this updated set. The 2025 fee regulations also include minor corrections to a few of the prior fee descriptions to ensure correct application of the fees.

Mr. Speaker, we know that industry representatives are looking forward to commencement of the legislation, and we can say that commencement is certainly imminent. In fact, the new framework, supported by the approval of this Bill, will commence on 1 July 2025.

Mr. Speaker, to complete the modernisation of trade marks legislation in Bermuda, we anticipate amendments to the Trade Marks Regulations 2023 and the introduction of the Trade Marks (Customs) Regulations 2025 to be laid in this House in the coming weeks.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank industry representatives for the time they have taken to review the various components of the trade marks legislative framework and the valuable input they have provided thus far. We look forward to continuing to work with industry representatives on upcoming legislation governing intellectual property rights.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Members, the next Statement this morning is in the name of the Minister of Cabinet.

Minister.

DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING UPDATES ON STREAMLINING MEASURES

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Good morning, Mr. Speaker. Good morning, colleagues, and good morning listening audience.

Mr. Speaker, today I rise to address a matter that affects the lives and livelihoods of many in our community: the time taken to navigate our planning system, particularly regarding building permits. From homeowners seeking renovations to small businesses aiming to expand and developers envisioning their next opportunity, the message remains consistent: the process can feel too slow, overly rigid, and at times unclear. We understand the public's frustrations with the planning system, whether perceived or real, as these frustrations are genuine.

Mr. Speaker, I have heard these concerns first hand, and as Minister, I take them seriously. However, I also want to speak plainly to say this: I believe in the professionalism and dedication of the team at the Department of Planning. They are not the enemy in this story; they are central to the solution. Like all of us, they are navigating the pressures of high demand, limited resources, and an evolving public expectation for service delivery.

Understanding the Root of the Delays

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker, as of today, 372 building permit [applications] remain open, with an average age of 165 days. Some are much newer, some are significantly older.

We have found that the main pinch point is not the planning approvals process itself, but the building permit process, where technical details, inter-agency coordination, and inspections come into play.

However, let's also be honest about this: a significant number of delays stem from incomplete applications submitted by agents, as well as the time required to obtain follow-up information. Currently, 59 of these applications are effectively awaiting responses from agents with an average age of 170 days. The youngest of these being 20 [days old], the oldest being 481 days old.

Mr. Speaker, this is not about assigning blame; rather, it is to highlight the importance of shared responsibility. We cannot build an efficient system if applications arrive incomplete and, despite requests for the missing information, remain unchanged for weeks or even months. This situation adversely affects everyone, particularly those whose files are ready to proceed but are delayed because of these incomplete applications.

That is why I have asked the department to explore ways to separate complete application submissions from those awaiting information, so we can keep the queue moving forward for those who have met the requirements. I also lay this marker down here: I fully support the rejection of incomplete submissions that have awaited a specified timeframe with no response. This would mean that those applications would need to be resubmitted and started over.

Since my appointment as Minister responsible for the Department of Planning, I have devoted countless hours to reviewing data, reading policy statements, listening to public feedback, and drawing upon my own experience as a former agent who submitted plans to Planning before entering full-time politics. Numerous ideas have been promoted and discussed over the past few weeks. I would now like to address some of the ideas that we plan to explore and aim to implement as swiftly as possible.

Clarifying the Director's Role in Approvals

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker, I need to address a public misconception. Some have questioned how certain applications are approved, especially when the name of the director appears on the approval letter.

Let me be clear: except in exceptional cases, typically when the director is acting as a plans examiner, the Director of Planning does not personally see or vet applications. Planning approvals are granted by the Development Applications Board or by delegated planning officials in the case of Permitted Development applications, commonly referred to as one-day permits.

To avoid this confusion and to protect the integrity of the department, we have instructed that approval letters indicate that decisions are made “by the department” or “by the Development Application Board” rather than being attributed solely to the director. This is a matter of public clarity and institutional accountability.

Key Reforms Underway

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Now, Mr. Speaker, let me outline key improvements the Ministry are exploring, together with the department, to modernise and streamline the system:

1. Boosting Permit Processing [Capacity] and Internal Reorganisation. With only one full-time permit processor and one supervisor, the team was overwhelmed. The director has brought in two experienced consultants, one working full-time and another part-time, with a third looking to be added if necessary. This immediately expands the building permit review bandwidth and is already reducing the backlog. The department is currently implementing its internal reorganisation and actively driving recruitment. In recent months, as mentioned a few days ago in the budget debate, five new staff members have been onboarded.
2. Competent Persons Scheme (CPS). Legislative amendments are in progress to permit the introduction of regulations for the CPS. This scheme will initially enable certified solar installers to carry out installations without traditional inspections, supplemented by casual visits by Planning inspectors to ensure compliance. Other trades will be incorporated after the concept is tested, and capacity within each industry is expanded and confirmed.
3. Exploring a Revised Building Permit Review System. We are actively exploring a new review model that matches scrutiny with risk:
 - Track 1: Certified Fast-Tracking. Applications endorsed by registered engineers (structural, electrical, mechanical) can be fast-tracked with minimal [internal] review. This empowers professionals and streamlines project approvals with expert oversight. Although this is typical of commercial applications, extending to residential applications could allow building permits for residential developments to be processed more quickly.
 - Track 2: DIY and Minor Works. Homeowners undertaking small projects, such as fences or sheds, could use a simplified form and a checklist-based process.
4. Expanding Self-Inspection on Residential Projects. Self-inspections—already a standard practice with commercial projects—allow qualified engineers to inspect their own projects and subsequently submit signed documentation. We are seeking to extend this practice to residential projects on an opt-in basis. This decreases the reliance on our limited pool of government inspectors and assists in keeping construction on schedule.
5. The “One-Day Permit” Review System. Small-scale works should not be delayed for months. We are considering reinstating dedicated review days, during which all relevant agencies—Planning, Health, and Building—collaborate to assess minor [permits] in real time. We are also evaluating the General Development Order (GDO) to expand what types of projects qualify for this fast-track treatment.
6. Smarter Vetting Through AI Technology. According to data from the Department of Planning, a significant percentage of applications submitted are initially incomplete. This results in prolonged, frustrating cycles of back-and-forth conversations between agents and the department. To break this cycle, we are considering the introduction of AI tools that screen applications on the front end, identifying missing data before it enters the review pipeline.
7. “Soft Refusal” Reform. Allowing common sense to prevail with applications. Too often, worthy applications are rejected due to minor conflicts with the Bermuda Plan, only to be approved on appeal at a later date. A policy to address this is being advanced through the introduction of a new tool: Ministerial Waivers. In straightforward cases, where the merits of the proposal are clear but minor conflicts with the Bermuda Plan arise, upon request from the Department of Planning or the agent, the Minister will be able to issue a targeted policy waiver that permits the application to proceed as usual to the Development Applications Board for their review and approval. This reform will save time, reduce paperwork, and avoid unnecessary appeals.
8. Better Communication and Service Access. To address public frustrations about unanswered emails, delays in callbacks, and clarity on file status, we will look on how we can introduce

- dedicated office hours for in-person consultations;
- using Smart Online Query Forms to get inquiries to the right people; and
- tracking response timelines to improve service.

This isn't about building permits—it's about rebuilding trust.

Closing: Everyone Has a Role to Play

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker, we are not just improving a process—we are restoring confidence in a public service function that is vital to our economy.

I would like to again thank the Director of Planning and her team for their ongoing partnership, professionalism, and willingness to evolve. I also extend my gratitude to the many architects, contractors, engineers, and homeowners who continue to work with us—and challenge us—to do better.

These reforms are just the beginning. Our goal is simple: a planning system that is clear, fair, timely, and responsive to everyone.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Ministers.

Members, that brings us to the conclusion of the Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers for this morning. We will now move on.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

The Speaker: There are none.

QUESTION PERIOD

The Speaker: That takes us to the Question Period for today, and we will start with responses to written questions that require an oral response, and then we'll move on to the questions from Statements that were given this morning.

The questions this morning, a written question this morning, is from MP DeCouto to the Minister of Finance/Premier.

Would you like to put your question?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, good morning, and thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Good morning.

QUESTION 1: BERMUDA HOSPITALS BOARD, GOVERNMENT FINANCING TERMS

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Will the Honourable Premier and Minister of Finance please provide information for this Honourable House on the outstanding principal, the interest rate, and the remaining term of the financing guaranteed by the Government of Bermuda for the Bermuda Hospitals Board?

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, as noted in the financial statements and Budget Book, as of 31 March 2025, the total financial obligation stands at $690 million. This includes scheduled debt payments of $246 million and interest expenses amounting to $141 million. Additionally, life-cycle, equity and maintenance-related expenditures total $303 million.

These figures are presented in nominal terms prior to adjustment for inflation or exchange rate fluctuations, and the applicable interest rate is 6.6 per cent, with the obligation maturing in 2044.

The Speaker: Thank you. Supplementary?

SUPPLEMENTARY

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Could the Honourable Premier please provide some examples of the . . . I believe it was the life-cycle maintenance obligations?

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. E. David Burt: I'm not sure what he's asking me to answer.

The Speaker: Could you provide some clarity to what you're seeking?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, the Premier identified an amount that was due for, I believe it was like, I believe it was . . . he was speaking quickly, so I did try to write it down, $303 million for those life-cycle maintenance obligations. Perhaps I misheard, and if I have misheard, then I apologise. I was seeking a concrete example of what might be included in that, Mr. Speaker. Thank you.

The Speaker: For my clarity, the Premier gave a dollar value to life-cycles. That's what you're asking?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Are you trying to figure out what are examples of how that dollar is spent on a life-cycle?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. E. David Burt: I'm not sure if it was life-cycle, but I'll try to read the answer again. I would advise the Honourable Member, if he's asking questions of figures, it might be easier for him to ask for written [answers].

Nonetheless, as of 31 March 2025, the total financial obligation stands at $690 million. This includes scheduled debt payments of $246 million and interest expenses amounting to $141 million. Additionally, life-cycle, equity, and maintenance-related expenditures total to $303 million. These figures are presented in nominal terms prior to adjustments for inflation or exchange rate fluctuations.

The applicable interest rate is 6.6 per cent, with the obligation maturing in 2044. This is a PPP project that was done, designed, billed, maintained, and, therefore, maintenance expenses are included inside of the entire project in and of itself, which I'm sure the Honourable Member knows and understands.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Second question, Mr. Speaker?

The Speaker: Second question.

QUESTION 2: CORPORATE INCOME TAX—TOP PAYERS

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you kindly.

Will the Honourable Premier and Minister of Finance please provide for this Honourable House the fractions of the total estimated Corporate Income Tax (CIT) to be paid in fiscal year 2025/26 that are expected to come from the top 10 largest and the top 25 largest CIT payers? Thank you.

The Speaker: Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, in accordance with Standing Order 17(5)(h) which prohibits questions that solicit speculation or hypothetical projections, I will decline to answer this question as it requires speculation on matters which are, at present, unknowable.

As indicated during the Budget Debate, filing . . . Bermuda constituent entities have until 10 days before the initial payment to register. At this point in time, we are not able to provide information, and that information will be provided once the Government does receive it.

The Speaker: Supplementary?

SUPPLEMENTARIES

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I understand the Government has quite a lot of confidence in its CIT projections. Perhaps the question could be answered—

The Speaker: You can put your question. You can put your question.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, yes.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Put the question.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Based on the Government's CIT projections as used in the budget that have already been computed, what would be the top 10 or top 25 payers according to that modelling?

Thank you, Mr. Premier . . . I mean, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Mm-hmm.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, I will refer to the answer which I gave, but the Honourable Member is barking up the wrong tree.

Projections have not been done on an individual basis by individual companies. The projections which were arrived at were a broad scale at which I have stated before. Data has been received from the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development, which collects country-by-country reporting data on an anonymised basis. That is the basis by which the Government can understand the quantum of how much is expected. We make adjustments from there and have projected out. And we have used the conservative estimate which has been in place since 2024 of $750 million on average any given year.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Would you like to put your third question or supplementary to that?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I have a second supplemental, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Okay. What is your supplemental?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: And it is probably to clarify my understanding. So, my understanding is that the Government does not know who the material taxpayers for the CIT will be or the amounts that they will pay.

Could the Honourable Premier confirm if that is indeed the case or if I am incorrect? Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, I want to stop the Honourable Member because his habit is to try to ask questions to then go and engage in speculation, go to the press and say how can the Government say this and the Government doesn't know. So let me try to clarify for him, Honourable Members and the listening public.

Clearly, we will not know how much is to be paid by entities until they file and tell us how much that is to be paid. That is the first instance. The second instance is, as I referred to previously, the Government's projections are based upon information that has been received by the OECD, which is the only entity that would have the complete information of Bermuda constituent entities. Modelling which could be done by local firms can only be done on publicly available information, but the scope of taxpayers is not just publicly held companies because there are also a large number of privately held companies in Bermuda.

I understand where the Honourable Member is trying to go because it is the speculation of which others have had. But what I must remind you, Mr. Speaker, and the Honourable Member opposite, is that this Government has an excellent track record of laying out projections and exceeding those expectations budget after budget after budget. These are conservative estimates which have been laid out. The $750 million estimation which has been in place since 2024, as I have stated on numerous occasions, is expected to be achieved. We cannot say how much individual companies are going to pay until they tell us how much actual income they have had. I'm sure the Honourable Member understands that.

The Speaker: You've had your two supplementaries. Would you like to do your third question?

QUESTION 3: CORPORATE INCOME TAX: CRITERIA AND METHODOLOGIES

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

My third question is, Will the Honourable Premier and Minister of Finance please provide for this Honourable House a description of the criteria and methodologies to be used to determine how Corporate Income Tax receipts will be allocated between the Tax Reserve Fund and the Consolidated Fund, and what role the Corporate Income Tax Agency has had in determining those criteria and methodologies?

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, there's a note in the question. It notes the Tax Reserve Fund. A Tax Reserve Fund does not yet exist. There will be legislation that will be brought to this House to establish a Tax Reserve Fund and those other matters. And I think that those questions and debate would be appropriately reserved for that time.

The Speaker: Supplementary?

SUPPLEMENTARIES

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Tax Reserve Fund is, in fact, explicitly called out in the Corporate Income Tax legislation. So, the question is . . . we have estimates in the Budget Book of money that will be going into the budget. We clearly must have Corporate Income Tax receipts. So the question is: What policies, criteria, and methodologies were used by the Government in setting the budget to allocate funds into the Consolidated Fund, as presented in the Budget Book or otherwise, to be held back now or in the future or into a future Tax Reserve Fund, which by legislation will be set up, which we know?

Thank you.

The Speaker: Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, as stated in the budget statement last year, this year's allocation is a quarter of the estimated amount that is to be received on an annual basis to the Consolidated Fund for Corporate Income Tax. Mr. Speaker, $750 million divided by four equals $187.5 million, which is the figure that has been placed inside of the budget for this year—which has been answered on numerous occasions and I've answered again today.

The Speaker: Second supplementary?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm actually going to restate the question because he didn't answer it.

What was the criteria and methodology used to arrive at that allocation, which I appreciate the answer is one quarter. We would like to understand how the Government has arrived at one quarter.

So, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. E. David Burt: We've arrived at one quarter, Mr. Speaker.

An Hon. Member: How?

The Speaker: And that's both of your supplementaries used on your questions. You've had all three questions put. So, Members, that brings us to an end of the written question period.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

HOUSE VISITOR

The Speaker: We will now move on to questions from Statements given this morning. But before I do that, I'd just like to acknowledge in the Gallery a former member of this House, Mark Pettingill. Welcome to the Chambers.

[Desk thumping]

[Question Period, continuing]

The Speaker: The first question this morning from statements is for the Premier, the first question for your first Statement, Premier. The Shadow Minister of Finance would like to put a question to you.

MP DeCouto, in reference to that first Statement.

QUESTION 1: BERMUDA MONETARY AUTHORITY ANNUAL REPORT 2024

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

And we were grateful for the Statement around the BMA annual report. They are a very important part of our economy and what we do here. And my question is around the staffing. I believe the number was 302 permanent FTEs. We know that, and especially for an agency like the Bermuda Monetary Authority, which requires a large amount of specialised expertise in this industry, there can be a lot of recruitment challenges.

Approximately how many of those staff are employed on Island versus remotely? And do they have a pay differential based on their location of employment?

The Speaker: The question is, how many are actually on Island and the pay differential?

The Speaker: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I'll refer to Standing Order 17(9)(a)(vi), and we'll ask the Honourable Member to submit that question in writing so an accurate answer can be provided by the BMA.

The Speaker: Because the information isn't contained in the Statement that was given, if you feel the answer, if you can provide the answer . . . it's better to seek that question in writing so you can get the full answer. Okay?

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: A supplementary?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: No, thank you, very much, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Premier, that's the end of questions for that Statement.

The next Statement that has questions this morning is from the Statement by the Minister of National Security.

Minister, the Opposition Whip has questions for you.

QUESTION 1: HURRICANE PREPAREDNESS

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker. My apologies. Just a quick question then.

Considering we're going into (I believe it was page 2) meetings on preparedness for a hurricane . . .

first, let me say the Minister has always done a great job at informing Bermuda on things to look out for and what we should be doing. I was just curious, because hurricane season starts in June, I was just thinking that maybe if the Minister could, when he gets into his meetings later on in June, maybe we should be looking at preparedness maybe a month or so ahead of the actual preparedness time.

And the reason I'm saying that is I am one of those weather junkies who sits up late at night looking at the weather and what's happening around the world and how it might affect us, even if it's something in the Pacific Ocean. And if we look at what's happening in the Pacific Ocean right now, there are literally dozens and dozens of volcanoes underwater that are erupting and causing of some strange weather patterns in the Pacific.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

The Speaker: I got your . . . I got your first question—Your first question was can they do their meetings earlier?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, my apologies.

The Speaker: But where are you going now?

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: I guess what I'm getting at is that it is difficult to predict. But we know that we're looking at warmer waters in the Atlantic Ocean and how things that may be beyond us will affect us . . . if whether or not maybe we should consider . . . and he could take a question to the group meeting maybe in April or May prior to the actual June hurricane season.

So, we're a bit ahead of time. Just something that could be taken under consideration, that's all, nothing—

The Speaker: So, can you start meeting earlier, sooner?

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Speaker, thank you.

We will try to accommodate the Honourable Member about the volcanoes and whatnot. But when it comes to the hurricane season, the various teams that comprise the EMO, the emergency organisation, are doing stuff all year. So, what we're doing is just a formality of us getting together to formalise what we've naturally been doing all year.

The Speaker: Thank you. Supplementary?

[Laughter and inaudible interjection]

The Speaker: All right. Minister, that's the end of questions for your Statement.

We'll move on to the next Statement. The next Statement that has questions this morning is the Statement from the Minister of Economy and Labour on your his Statement in reference to the youth employment strategy. MP Campbell would like to put a question to you.

MP [Campbell].

QUESTION 1: YOUTH EMPLOYMENT STRATEGY PROGRESS

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I just want to ask the Minister a quick question on the average length of the training programmes. I think that's . . . I didn't hear that in the Statement, but I feel it may encourage, if it's between two or three months, that's not that long to equip yourself for either a change of career or to improve your job prospects.

I just wanted to know if the Honourable Minister had that information available.

The Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: The programmes vary based off of the skill sets that are being developed. The apprenticeship programmes that I discussed for the construction trades, whether it be plumbing, masonry, dry welding, electricians, those are two-year programmes. And so, there's a full-fledged apprenticeship programme where those persons develop their skill sets while on the job while also taking part in vocational training.

The graduate training programme that we provide for apprentices, those programmes are around 10 weeks in duration where we place various individuals in the workplace. And then you have hospitality programmes with on-the-job training. That's about 10 weeks as well.

And so, it all depends. Sometimes when you are issuing certificates, the certificates have a requirement in terms of the modules being able to complete to obtain the certification. So, it varies. But they are comprehensive in terms of ensuring that the skill set is adequately developed so we can position our young people to take advantage of job opportunities.

The Speaker: Supplementary?

Mr. Vance Campbell: A new question.

The Speaker: A new question.

QUESTION 2: YOUTH EMPLOYMENT STRATEGY PROGRESS

Mr. Vance Campbell: I thank the Minister for that answer. Another thing, I didn't quite understand, or I may have misheard. The Minister was talking about the Learn Through Experience programme. He said seven individuals had taken advantage of that. And then he went on to say that three out of four individuals that were . . . were they of age to work? I didn't quite get that part. And they were able to gain full-time employment. So, can I, first of all, get an answer to that? Thank you.

The Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: So overall there were seven participants in the programme. Of the seven participants, four were in the age group of 18 to 26, which we would consider to be youth. As a result of those four persons embarking on that programme, three of those persons obtained full-time employment.

The Speaker: Supplementary?

SUPPLEMENTARY

Mr. Vance Campbell: Yes, Mr. Speaker. The remaining three, were they younger or older? Or people younger than 18 cannot enter these programmes? Just out of curiosity.

Hon. Jason Hayward: The persons that fell outside of the category of 18 to 26 were older.

The Speaker: Supplementary or a new question?

Mr. Vance Campbell: No. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, Minister.

The Speaker: No problem.

Minister, you also have a question for your next Statement, and that's from MP Pearman.

MP Pearman, I put your question to the Minister.

QUESTION 1: TRADE MARKS AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Good morning to the listening public, and thank you, Minister, for the very helpful Statement this morning on the Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025 and the Bill that will be tabled in this Honourable House later today, as I understand it.

Just one question, and you referenced in your Statement industry feedback. I declare my interest. I am, as a lawyer, likely to be within the industry that provided feedback, although I did not specifically provide feedback.

Just a high-level question. In your Statement, you referenced updating technology, increasing staff, and increasing (potentially) fees in relation to that department. But I was just curious, what sort of industry feedback was there? What was the topic of the industry feedback or the suggestion that might now be meriting this further Bill? Thank you.

The Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Jason Hayward: The amendments to the Amendment Act . . . so, just to give a scope of the process, there was original feedback to get the 2023 Act to Parliament. Subsequent to that, that Act was never enacted, or it never commenced, which gave us an opportunity to review the entirety of that Act while we were developing regulations along with industry.

As a result of that exercise, there were additional suggestions made by industry, which will be contained in the Amendment Act, which clarifies a few things, and also clarifies some of the descriptions of fees within the Schedule. I do not have a comprehensive list of the stakeholders, but I'll endeavour to provide that. There is an opportunity for me to provide more clarity when I give the brief to the Bill.

So, I welcome the questions, and I'll ensure that if I can't provide the answers at this point in time, I'll ensure that they're incorporated in the brief so that the Member can get the clarity that he requires.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate that very helpful answer. I have no supplementaries.

The Speaker: Thank you. Minister, that's the end of questions for your Statement. The next statement was from the Minister of Cabinet.

Minister, you have Members who want to put questions to you as well. The first is from MP King.

MP King.

QUESTION 1: DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING UPDATES ON STREAMLINING MEASURES

Mr. Robert King: Good morning, Mr. Speaker, Members of this Honourable House and community.

Regarding the Department of Planning, absolutely, we commend the works and efforts of the persons who work there to ensure that buildings are built in a timely and efficient manner because it promotes jobs.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Robert King: Yes, just setting the table. Don't worry, I'm getting there. Okay, fair enough. There have been delays that have been identified. It's 372 permits open, 165 days average age, 59 applications awaiting response, average age 170 days, youngest 20 days, oldest 481 days. When were the delays first flagged as being problematic? Because this has taken some time to get to that amount.

The Speaker: The question is, how long does it sit before it realises there's a problem with it, I guess?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for that clarity.

I would say you really can't tell how long because the planning application, or in this case what we're referring to are building permit applications, could be reviewed and then you get 50 per cent through and then you see there's an issue and you reach out to the agent. They could get 10 per cent through and you realise there is an issue. I would have to ask the Department of Planning to see how they could actually look at that, but it is something that we are trying to see.

When we talked about having AI complement that . . . to actually look through them in their entirety to try and find missing things up front and then we can address them, the department can address those more holistically.

Currently, how the vetting process goes is you start, and you look, and you look and when you come across problems, you reach out. Sometimes the answer to those problems creates additional problems or they may solve things that you hadn't even noticed before. It's not an exact science and that's why I made great pains to talk about the respect that we have for the persons who are up there actually doing the work because it's not entirely their fault that there happens to be projects that are delayed 160 days versus some delayed 20 days.

When I say delay, I think "delay" is the wrong term here. We're saying they're just that old, meaning they've submitted, and six months have passed by and they still haven't been approved. Where some come, they get approved within a few days, some for whatever reason, there are things lagging that require it to stay up there a little bit longer. But we are looking to see how we can streamline all of those services and bring them together and get the projects out much quicker than what has been happening in the past.

The Speaker: Supplementary?

SUPPLEMENTARIES

Mr. Robert King: For clarification, Mr. Speaker, the word "delays" was actually used in the Ministerial Statement, so if that was not the appropriate term, maybe something else should have been used.

Regardless, what are the performance measures? What is the intended target for response time to the applications to reduce the delay time? There must be a target to be achieved if we accept that the delays are unacceptable. Thank you.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Again, Mr. Speaker, it's an impossible question to [answer] because not every application is the same. And what you're looking to do is have all of the applications then and compiled at the same [time] so they can get vetted and moved out versus the rest of it. We'll continuously monitor what's going on up there and we'll continually make those tweaks as they need to be made.

But as I know, as an agent, it's no straightforward answer to say why one application takes two days and one application takes five days because in any other type of scenario, those type of applications, it could be five days over here and two days over here. But they'll continue to monitor, tweak, and try to do things differently so we can get projects out of the Department of Planning faster.

The Speaker: Second supplementary or new question?

Mr. Robert King: Second supplementary.

The Speaker: Go ahead.

Mr. Robert King: Fifty-nine applications awaiting response from agents, 170 days. Youngest, 20 days. Oldest, 481 [days]. So, what we're talking about is awaiting a response, not a decision that is being made. So, I'm wondering what the performance measure is for response.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: The department is waiting for agents to respond. If they take 20 days, they take 20 days; if they take 100 days, they take 100 days. What I did mention is that what we're looking to do is look at . . . if he's asking for a performance measure, to look at a certain number of days and say, Hey, if you haven't responded, we're going to push this to the side and take it out of the queue and work on other things, and you'll have to come back and resubmit. So once . . . and as I said, these are mitigations that we are looking to implement. So, when we come and decide on a day, that'll be something that we announce to, obviously, the public so they know. If you don't respond in 30 days, your project gets taken out of the queue. If you don't respond in 60, it gets taken out of the queue.

It's just something that we need to have, you know, to really work on what that final timeline will be for that process.

The Speaker: New question?

Mr. Robert King: New question, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Yes.

QUESTION 2: DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING UPDATES ON STREAMLINING MEASURES

Mr. Robert King: How many Bermudians applied for the supervisor's position? Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker: Is that in the Statement?

Mr. Robert King: Sorry?

The Speaker: Is that in the Statement?

Mr. Robert King: Yes, it is. In terms of two new experienced consultants and a supervisor, that was in your Statement. So, the question is, is how many Bermudians applied for those positions? Thank you.

The Speaker: I'm not sure if that was part of the context of the Statement, though. The Statement was . . . and I'm trying to put it in the context of what was said. I think the reference to the supervisor was just the fact that there was a new supervisor.

But the Statement itself was about the procedures of the Ministry, right?

[Crosstalk]

The Speaker: The Statement was about procedures of that they are trying to clean up for how functionality in reference to applications, and it didn't necessarily address the process for the replacement of supervisors. It just mentioned that there was a new supervisor.

So it may be out of the context of the question of the Statement . . . your question is out of the context of what the Statement was.

Mr. Robert King: May I ask a question, Mr. Speaker?

The Speaker: You're seeking clarity?

Mr. Robert King: Seeking clarification, yes.

The Speaker: Okay.

Mr. Robert King: I was speaking to boosting capacity when it was stated that a permit processing person . . . two experienced consultants had been hired to fulfil the role of permit processor and supervisor. So, my question is in relation to the hiring of consultants, and my question was, How many Bermudians applied for those specific positions?

The Speaker: So, the Statement did make reference to the fact that two persons had now been employed to assist (my words). So, he is asking now, how did those two persons . . . what was the process for those two persons?

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER (Standing Order 17(5)(g)(xi))

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker. I will refer to Standing Order 17(5)(g)(xi), which speaks to the fact that the Minister cannot answer questions that he is not accountable for to the Parliament.

I think that it is important, the Honourable Member, for his particular information. As he would know, the Minister, of course, would have no information on that, as Ministers of the Government are not involved in public sector hiring.

And as a former public officer, I am certain that the Honourable Member is aware of that.

The Speaker: I was trying to find how it related. And the point that the Premier has made reference to is a valid point here in that the employment of the public sector employees is outside of the remit of the Minister.

So, the Minister didn't include that in the Statement and wouldn't be able to give you an answer to it right now. Okay?

Mr. Robert King: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Okay. Do you have a . . . that was your second question. Do you have a third question you may put or are you done on that?

Mr. Robert King: That will be it for my submissions. Thank you.

The Speaker: Okay. Thank you.

Minister, you also have questions from other Members, MP Pearman. Would you still like to put your question?

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I thought the Whip was ahead of me in the queue, but I will go as you have directed me.

QUESTION 1: DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING UPDATES ON STREAMLINING MEASURES

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you, Honourable Minister, for that helpful Statement. And I certainly commend the fact that the Government is looking at this. And I agree with you that this is a very frustrating area for planning, being a very frustrating area for people. It's something we hear a lot of.

My question is in relation to your point seven in your Statement where you discuss the Ministerial Waiver. And I was just wondering if you could perhaps give us a little bit more clarity on how that will work as a process. Thank you.

The Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you for the question because it is quite topical.

Many of us would remember the . . . we would all remember the recent appeal process for the seniors' home in St. David's. The seniors' home was not, could not be approved because it ran afoul of a policy within the Bermuda Plan. However, it was approved on appeal upon recommendation of everyone involved, including the Department of Planning and the Development Application Board, that if we could waive that, we would have approved it. And so, it comes to the Minister as an appeal.

So, what I have done is sought how we could fast-track that process. And the process is that if there is something within the Bermuda Plan that is minor, but we all agree that if we were able to look past that, it would be a good project, then the Minister is then allowed to provide a letter that says you can waive that for this application only. It's a very targeted waiver. It's only for that. It would only be for that specific case.

That does not mean the project doesn't still go through the regular vetting process. It could still even be rejected by the Development Applications Board. If it comes down to that, it could still be objected to by the people who object as well. But it does allow a project to be approved if it . . . if all of the other merits are good, except for just that one piece within the Bermuda Plan that everybody actually agrees that if we could, if that wasn't there, we would just approve it anyway.

The Speaker: Supplementary?

SUPPLEMENTARIES

Mr. Scott Pearman: Yes, supplementary. Thank you, Honourable Minister, for that detailed answer.

Just in terms again of the waiver, how does the Minister anticipate that the request for the waiver would get to the Minister? Would that be by the applicant or by the officer or by the board or all three?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you for that. And as we develop this, what we've come up with is the opportunity for the department to apply for the waiver, opportunity for the agent to apply for the waiver. In an ideal case, both of them would send the same document, but we recognise there may be cases where the agent thinks there's merit to a waiver and where the department may think there's merit to the waiver.

There's also . . . we also intend for this policy to be recorded and published on a quarterly or bi-, or once or twice a year basis of how many waivers have been issued and what projects they applied to as well.

The Speaker: Second supplementary?

Mr. Scott Pearman: Yes, second supplementary. Thank you again, Minister, for that detailed answer.

In terms of the waiver and the scope of it, would it just be curtailed to breaches of the Bermuda Plan or might it be more broad in your thinking?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I'm actually not sure what else it could cover. Development applications are by the Bermuda Plan, period, and nothing else. But you do have the City of Hamilton Plan. You do have the North Hamilton Plan. And as you would know, the North Hamilton Plan and the City of Hamilton Plan that we just passed here provides that leeway to the agents of planning now and the next Bermuda Plan, we're looking to incorporate that as well so that there is more flexibility for them to say, Hey, in this case, we can look past that.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Second question.

The Speaker: Second question, yes.

QUESTION 2: DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING UPDATES ON STREAMLINING MEASURES

Mr. Scott Pearman: Yes, thank you.

Following on again, still in the same topic of the waivers. In terms . . . you just indicated to this Honourable House that what you would do is probably publish twice a year a list of waivers that had occurred. If a member of the public, i.e., not someone who's in favour of the waiver potentially, wanted to challenge it, how would they know or how might they know? Is that something that you've given consideration to?

The Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: If there is an objection to a planning application that comes during the vetting process, and they . . . if someone is that keen, they will be following it. And normally the persons who do make objections are following the plan. All of these records would be our public records. You can go on the planning.gov.bm website, do a search for the address you're looking for. And all of this documentation would be there for you to look at, download at your leisure.

The Speaker: Supplementary?

Mr. Scott Pearman: It's actually third question.

The Speaker: Third question.

QUESTION 3: DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING UPDATES ON STREAMLINING MEASURES

Mr. Scott Pearman: Still the same topic. Final question. I'll just wait while the discussion is being had between the Premier and Minister. Thank you, Minister.

Just in terms again of the challenge, presumably the waiver would also be open to challenge in the usual way that any other element of the application would be open to challenge. Is that correct?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Absolutely.

The Speaker: Okay.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, Minister.

The Speaker: Opposition Whip. [Would] you still like to put your questions?

QUESTION 1: DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING UPDATES ON STREAMLINING MEASURES

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes. And thank you.

The Minister has given some great detail, so most of my questions were already answered. Just one last question.

On page six of seven, the Honourable Minister talks about better communication and service access. And one of the . . . in relation to callbacks and the like, and one of the dotted items there and solution is dedicated office hours for in-person consultation. So, I'm assuming this has to do mostly with applications that probably have already come in.

There's been a lot of talk also in the past about pre-consultation as well, before we even get to that point. So, I was wondering how the Minister has been making out. And when he says these hours, does that involve pre-consultation as well and informing people how to get their applications right in the first place?

The Speaker: Minister.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker, pre-consultation still takes place. I know I might have been reading fast during the budget, but we did talk about pre-consultation in the budget and how they still do that. The idea of the dedicated office hours is what the department is finding out, as people come there whenever. And when someone is reviewing a planning permit, and then they got to leave and go talk to someone, and a five-minute conversation turns into two hours, that's two hours of vetting that has not happened.

And we also, they're so . . . they're very . . . they understand the frustration. So, when they receive an email, they're leaving what they're doing to respond to this email, and sometimes it becomes a back and forth. And so, the suggestion that I had when we were sitting was like, well, why not dedicate specific times for that? And so, you know, Thursdays . . . if you want to come and talk to someone, this is the day to make an appointment, versus how it is now where people just come in whenever they feel like it and expect . . . and they get the service of people leaving what they're doing to come and actually talk to them. And I think it would . . . I believe it would lead to less frustrations if it was just a regulated thing.

But pre-consultation before you begin on a project is something that is always asked for, and if you . . . when we talked about the Bermuda, the City of Hamilton plan, the pre-consultation was a big part of my presentation to say, hey, we encourage you to come, we encourage you to be there, we encourage you to come and talk to the Department of Planning first before you begin, because that also leads to less frustration of putting something in, and then the back and forth of finding out that it's not going to work, or you're going to have to curtail it more so than you originally had thought.

The Speaker: Thank you. Supplementary? No?

You're good? Okay.

Members, that brings us to a conclusion of the question-and-answer period for this morning.

We will now move on.

CONGRATULATORY AND/OR OBITUARY SPEECHES

The Speaker: Would any Member like to make a contribution at this time?

Minister, you have your three minutes.

Hon. Alexa Lightbourne: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
Good morning.

The Speaker: Good morning.

Hon. Alexa Lightbourne: I rise this morning to offer congratulatory remarks to the Devonshire Recreational Club on the . . . sure. And I will associate honourable colleague in contingency 15 with these remarks, and the Premier as well.

The Speaker: Mm-hmm.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Hon. Alexa Lightbourne: And in celebration of their contribution, not only to our community, being a beacon, not only of hope during times when in our history, there was nowhere else for our community to gather. And so, I recognise their 80th anniversary, and the contribution of the eight entrepreneurs, the eight Black men who saw fit to purchase that Frog Lane premises. Recognising also their contribution to sport, namely football and cricket in our community, as well as the Diamondettes who are a part of the history as well, and the legacy that the Devonshire Recreational Club has for our community. And specifically, as the Devonshire North West representative, I'm honoured also to represent them and their voice in this Honourable House. I look forward to joining them on Sunday among celebration of this history, this legacy, that they will continue to do for our community. Thank you.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution? Mr. Tyrrell—

[Inaudible interjection and laughter]

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: Good morning, Mr. Speaker and colleagues. Thank you very much.

Mr. Speaker, I rose to my feet on Monday in this House to bring congratulations to four senior members in my Warwick area, just to express that the elderly are living longer, but today I have to add to that list that I brought on Monday of a person who is celebrating their birthday today. This person has much connection in this House in the likes of being the aunt to one of my Ministers here, Minister Weeks. She also lives in the constituency of either the Premier or Minister Jache Adams, so I'm going to associate them as well, but I want to bring happy birthday wishes to my mother-in-law—

An Hon. Member: Associate me, too.

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: Valeria Duffy Dill Butterfield who was married to the famous [Clarence] "Bussie" Butterfield. Today she's celebrating her 96th birthday. She's as sprightly as ever. She even promised to probably kick me if I did announce her name today and her age, but I have to do it because I love her so much. I want to wish her a happy day, and as I said, I'm associating the Minister and the Premier and Minister Adams as well.

So, thank you, very much, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Minister Weeks, would you like your three minutes?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes, Mr. Speaker.

I'd like to start off my remarks with being associated with the last speaker, acknowledging his mother-in-law, who is one of my aunties, my Aunt Duffy up there. She's from St. Monica's, but she now lives in constituency 18. So, happy birthday, Auntie.

Mr. Speaker, as the school year winds down, and when we recognise the greatness again, it's that time of year, Mr. Speaker, Harrington Sound Primary School—

An Hon. Member: Yay!

[Desk thumping]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: And as I get started, I'm reminded every year that I should declare my interest. I kind of know the administrator of the school, and so I would like to associate the MP from constituency 15, Minister Darrell. I think his son also goes to Harrington Sound, and is an alum, but Mr. Speaker, in my three minutes, I just want to roll off some accomplishments that they have done.

The champions again in the primary school, interschool sports, the first in the Bermuda Day Parade Primary School Float category—

An Hon. Member: Yay!

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: They had a strong showing in the Bermuda Day Children's Marathon Race. They won the Boys Super 8 Cricket Tournament just this week, Mr. Speaker. Their students were on the winning team for the Education Minister's Debate Challenge. Top five in the Bermuda National Spelling Bee. Awesome work in the Primary School Art Show, and they brought down the house, Mr. Speaker,—

An Hon. Member: Who wrote that for you?

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: —at the Primary School Spring—

[Laughter]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Al.

[Laughter]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Yes, yes—

[Laughter]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: He should know. And just think—

[Laughter]

Hon. Michael A. Weeks: Mr. Speaker, while I have got my one minute left. There have been many individual student firsts in many categories. So, congratulations to the Harrington Sound School for another outstanding year under the leadership, Mr. Speaker, of their dedicated and amazing principal, Mrs. C. L. Weeks. Thank you.

[Laughter and desk thumping]

The Speaker: Minister, Minister, Minister, you forgot to mention that they even had the Speaker come and address the class on a mock programme that they were doing . . . But go ahead.

Any other Member? Minister Darrell.

Hon. Owen Darrell: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and good morning to you and the listening audience.

First of all, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to take this morning to recognise a couple of creatives in our midst, in our community, and the first is actually a young dedicated public servant who is a creative outside of her work hours, and that is Ms. Aalai Wolffe on the launch of her new song, which is called Dum Da Da. Like I said, she's a public servant, and we wish her much success in her continued singing career. I also associate the Honourable Deputy Speaker of this House, as she says that she is her constituent.

Also, I would like to congratulate one of . . . more popular footballers on this Island, Mr. Tre Ming, as some would have caught that he not only competed in the Bermuda Day half marathon, but he had an interesting event take place towards the end, and that was a marriage proposal. So, we want to say congratulations to him on his double victory that day, on finishing the track from St. George's, as well as proposing, and I believe she said yes.

Also, congratulations in the local footballing scene to Mr. Jarreau Hayward, who recently has been appointed as the new head coach of the Dandy Town Hornets . . . associating MP from constituency 2, I think also associating with . . . former executive at the Western Stars Club, Mr. MP Michael Weeks. I will associate them.

Also, I'd like to congratulate Bermudian midfielder, Mr. Willie Clemons, for his recent signing for the Southern League Premier Division Central side Leiston. So, I want to congratulate him. He is one of many Bermudians that although may not be at the levels of one Mr. Nahki Wells, but they are professional athletes nonetheless over there in England, and are continuing to fly the flag for Bermuda. So, congratulations to him.

And as you will get used to this one, another congratulations to RTwoG2, as well as Fire Wayne, on the launch of their new song, which is called The Weekender. It was very catchy. I think many of the Bermuda Day videos that have been taken by the creatives are attaching this song with it. It talks about it being a Friday, and with Bermuda Day being on a Friday, it was very fitting, and he did—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Owen Darrell: You'd have to come down to Devil's Hole Club later this evening, MP Campbell, to hear me sing it. But I just want to congratulate him because they continue to do good work, and again, put Bermuda on the map.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Timer chimes]

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution? MP Smith.

Mr. Ben Smith: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I'd like to have a message of condolences be sent to the family of Edric White from Beaming Hill. He's been my neighbour for my entire life, a plumber from Wilfred White and Sons Plumbing. He is the father of my best friend. I know that his entire family was devastated with his loss. As somebody who . . . that pool that is at his house is where I learned how to swim. He's been an important part of my family, and I want to make sure that condolences are sent to their entire family at this time. Thank you.

The Speaker: Any other Member wish to make a contribution?

MP Swan, back of the room there.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to be associated with condolences that were already expressed in a previous session to Ms. Peggy Delpeche of the Paynter family from St. George's, whose family I know very, very well. Her husband I knew extremely well, and her brothers and her siblings as well. I just feel for them at this particular time.

I would like to have congratulations expressed to two Bermudians doing well in a community I have adopted called Bristol. My daughter lives in Weston-super-Mare and attended university in Bristol. So, Nahki Wells was honoured for his community service, and I can tell you in the school that my daughter teaches at while she's still doing her master's work—his name was mentioned. She mentioned his name, to a problematic student, eyes lit up, and where other teachers couldn't communicate with him, she had a natural in. He is an iconic figure amongst the young people of greater Bristol.

And now St. George's rooted Dage Minors is training there, living there, and winning there—won the Bristol 10k, which is an outstanding feat as he continues to go on to strength to strength.

And I would like to say thank you to Principal Shanda Simmons from Dalton E. Tucker Primary School, my alma mater from that greater White Hill, Death Valley, Rose Hill community who welcomed me to teach a few of their children. I have had the honour on two occasions over the last couple of Thursdays to take six well-behaved, very enthusiastic youngsters with the blessing of the chairman of government golf courses up to Port Royal, and with the likes of Dwayne Pearman, and Camiko Smith, and Cornel Bean, and Glenn Simmons, and Darren Woods, and myself, and many others coming out of that school, I see the future bright, and I see future Bermuda championship golfers coming out of Dalton E. Tucker just through this programme, just lighting a spark as the late, no not the late, but the great Lionel Turner did with many of us.

And I'd like to be associated with the 80th celebration . . . years of celebration for Devonshire Rec because Mr. Joe Christopher and Herman Basden certainly did a lot of work and shared that with me. Thank you.

[Timer chimes]

The Speaker: Thank you, MP Swan. Does any other member—the MP Reverend Dill.

Rev. Dr. Emilygail A. Dill: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and good morning colleagues and listening audience.

It is with a heavy heart today that I offer condolences to the family of the late Dr. Melvyn Bassett.

The Speaker: Yes.

Rev. Dr. Emilygail A. Dill: He was an outstanding educator—

[Inaudible interjections]

Rev. Dr. Emilygail A. Dill: —and we associate the entire House—

The Speaker: Yes.

Rev. Dr. Emilygail A. Dill: —with these condolences.

He was an outstanding educator and community leader. He was my deputy principal and has been an inspiration and mentor over the years, and he will certainly be deeply missed. In particular, his work in later years with the reintroduction of the Child Evangelism Fellowship here on the Island of Bermuda. So, we ask that condolences be sent to his family.

Also, I'd like to offer condolences to the family of Mr. Alfred Ambrose Scott. He was a member . . . and I associate several members, the Premier. And okay, I understand that that has been shared already, so I certainly offer my condolences to his family.

On a more positive note, I'd like to offer congratulations to the [College of Natural Health Sciences Bermuda] at their recent graduation, and I'd like to commend them on the work that they are doing in this community to develop natural health practitioners, and I also like to congratulate the individuals. They also, at their graduation, offered honorary doctorates to three outstanding athletes in our community who are Mr. Raymond Swan, Mr. Albert J. Donawa, and Mr. Kevin Smith, and we certainly congratulate them on this accomplishment, and we commend the [College of Natural Health Sciences Bermuda] on acknowledging their contribution to the community. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

MP Fahy.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Good morning, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Good morning.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Mr. Speaker, I think this is the first time in this Honourable House I will offer congratulations. I've done an obituary.

It's with great pleasure that I offer congratulations to the Warwick Academy Class of 2025 . . . and I declare my interest because that is the one with my son in it. So, I will do that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Okay, any other Member?

MP DeCouto.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I would like to associate with the condolences to the family of Mr. White, and I'll just add a quick anecdote. I had the pleasure as a teenager to sail with him and his family members as part of the Knight-White Syndicate. It is an actual name of a family member before people next door get fed up—

[Laughter]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —where they resurrected one of Bermuda's traditional fitted dinghies and built a programme from scratch, which is a bit of an act of madness if you think about it, and those who observed that programme will know it was a testament to Mr. White's intensity and passion and purpose, and my condolences go out to his whole family, most especially Jonathan.

I also send condolences to Mr. Phil Heaney and his family, and he was a well-regarded rugby player in his time, and he was noted for his sharp-witted personality, and having canvassed him a few times, I can attest to that as well, Mr. Speaker. He was not a gentleman to take for granted, and you had to earn it every time.

I also congratulate Ms. Jessica Lewis, as you know, one of Bermuda's outstanding athletes, recently at the World Para Athletics Grand Prix in Switzerland. She has won yet another gold medal in the 200-metres—

[Desk thumping]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —and a bronze medal in the 100-metre and 400-metre events, and as you know, she's a frequent occurrence in these congratulatory sessions, Mr. Speaker.

And another person who appears frequently in these sessions is also Mr. Kaden Hopkins, one of Bermuda's international cyclists. He had recently won the Grand Prix Jack Auto race in Guadeloupe, and again, also just came fifth in the opening stages of the Grand Prix USL race there, also recently, and I have no doubt we'll hear many more things about his successes in cycling. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to make—MP Pearman.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, last night I had the pleasure of attending the Spring into Arts Festival arranged by the Department of Education up at CedarBridge [Academy], and I see the Premier, who I was about to acknowledge, no doubt will join me in commending it because he was there as well. I believe maybe one or both of his children were on stage. It was excellent.

There were six or seven schools involved. I declare my own as one of my children was on stage as well.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Scott Pearman: It was excellent. There were six or seven schools there, but what I would like to do is give a shout-out not to my son's school or indeed to the Premier's son's school, but to the school that I thought just blew the doors off, and that was West Pembroke, and Mr. Robinson, who is their conductor. Their performance clearly, clearly took a lot of hard effort and time, and I think the audience was immensely impressed given the young age of those children and what they pulled off last night. That might have been before you were there, but it was excellent.

So, thank you, Mr. Speaker, and my commendations to all of those involved in putting on that effort. It was truly a great showcase of young Bermuda talent. Thank you.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to—Opposition Whip.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, thank you very much. Again, good morning colleagues and listening Bermuda.

I just want to send my condolences as well and be associated with Mr. White's untimely passing just out of the blue, seen him two hours before and then gone. So I would like to be associated with this, but I want to just, in honour to him as a father . . . not many may know, but Mr. White is the father of Johnny "Boops", as we call him, White, the owner of ESC, one of the well-known members up at Warwick Workmen's Club, always up there. So in honour to his father, just passing, to bring up his son in the likes of Johnny, who thought nothing of being a member of, all of us probably know who he is, a member of Warwick Workmen's Club, speaks to the fact that there are many of us in Bermuda who believe that we should be working with one another regardless of race. And so, to have a loss like this here is pretty devastating for Mr. White to have passed away and I know that his son, a very, very close friend of mine, Johnny, it's tough for him and the family. So, our condolences go out to the White family.

The Speaker: Any other Member wish to make a contribution? Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, although I've already been associated with the remarks, the whole House has been associated, I would like to add my comments, certainly, to the Honourable Member from constituency 36 on the passing, the untimely passing of Dr. Melvyn Bassett.

In addition to that, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to associate myself with the remarks on behalf of the Honourable Minister of Education, who sits in another place, that were offered by the Shadow Attorney General, the Member for constituency 22, on last evening's Spring into the Arts show. He rightly recognised that both of my children were in the Northlands Primary School Choir, but there were certainly excellent performances that were from all the schools, and it is an important event that is put on every year by the Ministry of Education. And so, I would like to certainly commend not only all of the schools, but all the teachers, all the persons behind the scenes, and certainly the officials in the Department of Education, who make sure that our arts continue to be recognised and cherished in our schools.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, I wish to also extend and be associated with the congratulations offered by the Minister, who represents constituency 14, Honourable Minister Alexa Lightbourne, on the congratulations to the Devonshire Recreation Club on their 80th anniversary, which they have been celebrating all week, Mr. Speaker.

The Honourable Minister rightly stated the history of this club. As you know, Mr. Speaker, I am well associated with the Devonshire Recreation Club, but they continue to go from strength to strength, wanting to do their best to serve the community, want to do their best, and they put on a series of events that is taking place this week, and I would encourage Honourable Members on both sides of the House to support those events if possible. If we get out early today, there is a fair on their field, and on Sunday, as was mentioned, there is the gala, which I will be attending along with other Ministers on that evening to acknowledge the 80th anniversary of this historic community club.

It is a club without question that has certainly resonance and links with Bermuda Progressive Layer Party, as you'd be well aware, but it is not a partisan affair. This is a club that has had a strong, proud, and rich history, and it is something that we should celebrate the achievements, especially 80 years on, from the founding of this incredible, incredible community organisation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you. Is there any other Member? No—MP King.

Mr. Robert King: Yes, good day, Mr. Speaker. I attended yesterday the Long Service Awards at Pier Six. The Honourable Premier and Minister of National Security were there for the uniformed services who received commendations for their years of service to this community. Thank you—hats off to all of them. Thank you.

The Speaker: Thank you. Any other Member? MP Campbell.

Mr. Vance Campbell: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I'd like to encourage everyone to come up to the National Sports Centre on Wednesday night to encourage our Gombey Warriors, our senior men's national team, who take on the Cayman Islands. They then follow that up days later in Cuba against Cuba. They are still . . . I'm congratulating them in advance and trying to get our people out there to support them to victory. If they win these two matches, they are in with a very good chance of progressing to the next phase. So, encourage all. Tickets are available on GPass. There's no tickets available at the gate. Thank you.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Okay. Any other Member? No other Member?

Before we move on, I'd just like to be associated with the condolences that are expressed to the family of Dr. Melvyn Bassett and, of course, it goes without saying, a Somerset fellow as I am, I've had a long history of relationship with Mr. Bassett going back to my early years and then later when my wife and I came back to Bermuda. She was . . . and she taught at Sandys for a lot of years. I can't remember the number of years, but Mr. Bassett was there the entire time, starting as a deputy and then as a principal when she left. But our relationship continued right up until very recent years and projects that we've done with Mr. Bassett in the community. So, we feel his loss as the community feels his loss.

With that said, we will now move on.

MATTERS OF PRIVILEGE

The Speaker: There are none.

PERSONAL EXPLANATIONS

The Speaker: There are none.

NOTICE OF MOTIONS FOR THE ADJOURNMENT OF THE HOUSE ON MATTERS OF URGENT PUBLIC IMPORTANCE

The Speaker: There are none.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

GOVERNMENT BILLS

The Speaker: There's one Government Bill to be introduced by the Minister of Economy and Labour.
Minister.

BILLFIRST READING*TRADE MARKS AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Speaker, I am introducing the following Bill for its first reading so that it may be placed on the Order Paper for the next day of meeting. The Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025.

The Speaker: Thank you.

NOTICE OF MOTIONS

The Speaker: There are none.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Speaker: That brings us to the business of the day, the Orders of today and the first item today is the Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025 in the name of the Premier and Minister of Finance. But I think it's going to be led by the Junior Minister. Am I correct?

Junior Minister, you have the floor.

BILLSECOND READING*CUSTOMS TARIFF AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, with the Governor's recommendation, I move that the Bill entitled the Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025 be now read the second time.

The Speaker: Are there any objections?

There are none. Continue, Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, as requested now to give the considerations of the Bill entitled Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025, the Bill proposes to amend the Customs Tariff Act 1970, the principal Act, with measures . . . that lower the duty rate on building materials and supplies, eliminate custom duties on all motor vehicle parts, lower the duty rates on air conditioning units and parts, increase the duty exemption for returning residents, provide the continuing duty relief available to the Bermuda Hospital's Board for the hospital's operation supplies, and lower the rate of duty for diesels and fuel oils used by BELCO for the production of electricity.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Yes, it's more than $6. As we said the other day, Mr. Speaker, this is just the beginning.

The measure of the Bill affects both the First Schedule and the Fifth Schedule to the principal Act. Mr. Speaker, let me just say that it is this Government's goal to lower the cost of living for Bermuda. In doing so, we are confident that we will not only ease the daily burden of making ends meet but also offer new opportunities for our economic development. One of the major tools that we have at our disposal in achieving this aim is reducing the cost of selected imported goods by lowering rates of custom duties.

The Bill proposes to repeal and replace the First Schedule to the principal Act in order to lower the duty rates on building materials and supplies, and air conditioning units and parts, eliminate custom duties on motor vehicles parts, and increase the duty exemption for returning residents.

Mr. Speaker, the Bill provides wide range duty relief on a selected building materials, prefabricated supplies, and raw materials for both interior and exterior work. This includes, but it's not limited to block, stones, glass, plastic, fabric, wood, metal, chemicals, including glues, resins, and paint. The duty rates associated with 481 tariff codes will be lowered as follows: 429 tariff codes will be lowered from 25 per cent to 10 per cent, providing cost reduction of an estimated $4.9 million; 8 tariff codes will be lowered from 15 per cent to 10 per cent, providing cost reduction of an estimate $293,000; and 44 tariff codes will be lowered from 12.5 per cent to 10 per cent, providing cost reduction of an estimated $325,000. It is estimated based on our prior year's data that these amendments will reduce the cost of construction and building repairs for revenue by $5.5 million.

Mr. Speaker, the Bill will provide duty relief on air conditioning units and parts. The duty rates associated with 6 tariff codes will be lowered from 35 per cent to 10 per cent. It is estimated based on prior year's data that these amendments will reduce the cost on these items by over $1.8 million.

Mr. Speaker, the Bill provides wide-ranging duty relief on parts and supplies for motor vehicle repairs, such as I said, shafts, engine transmissions, electrical, glass, belts, tubing, and interior furnishing. The duty rates associated with 65 tariff codes will be eliminated as follows: 45 tariff codes will go to zero per cent from 35 per cent, providing cost reduction of an estimated full revenue, $2.5 million; 22 tariff codes will go from 25 per cent to zero per cent, providing cost reductions of an estimate $217,000. It is estimated based on prior year's data that these amendments will reduce the cost of repairing Bermuda motor vehicles by a total of $2.7 million.

Mr. Speaker, in order to effect the over 500 duty rate amendments necessary to lower the duty rates on building materials and supplies, air conditioning units and parts, and motor vehicle parts, a number of consequential amendments to the First Schedule of the principal Act were needed in order to maintain the structure of the Bermuda nomenclature. This necessitated the proposed introduction of 26 new tariff codes, the deletion of one tariff code, and the amendment of 12 tariff codes. Further, while conducting the review of the First Schedule to the principal Act, a further 12 textual inconsistencies were identified, which did not impact on any rates of duty in our proposed for amendment.

Mr. Speaker, the Bill next provides for an increase in duty exemption from $200 per person to $300 per person, an increase of 50 per cent. This rate allowance was last changed in 2012. Based on prior year's travel, this is expected to ease the collective tax burden on returning travellers by an estimated $2 million.

Mr. Speaker, I now turn to the measures of the Bill affecting the Fifth Schedule to the principal Act. The Bill proposes to repeal and replace End-Use CPC 4240 so as to remove the existing end-use condition limiting the period of duty relief for imported hospital operating supplies to 1 April 2022 through 31 March 2024 only. Honourable Members will recall that CPC 4240 was amended in July of 2023 after being introduced in April of 2022, to extend the duty period relief within which qualified goods must be imported to Bermuda to 31 March 2024 from 30 September 2023.

Mr. Speaker, after further consideration, the Minister of Finance, in keeping with the commitment of Government to ensure that our hospitals have adequate resources, considered it expedient to remove the end use condition requiring that hospital operating supplies be imported with a fixed time period. This amendment is intended to provide continued duty relief to hospital administered by the Bermuda Hospitals Board by offsetting operating expenses.

The Bill next proposes to amend the End-Use CPC 4703 and CPC 4705 for the purpose of lowering the rate of duty for diesel and fuel oils used by BELCO for production of electricity. In the 2025/26 Budget Statement in support of the Estimate of Revenue and Expenditure, the Government acknowledged the frustration many feel when they open their BELCO bill. While the Government cannot control the cost of fuel on global markets, we're doing everything within the power to lower the underlying costs that contribute to those rates.

Mr. Speaker, in 2023 the duty on fuel used to generate electricity stood at 20 cents per litre, put up by the One Bermuda Alliance in 2018. Honourable Members will recall that in July of 2024 this Government reduced the tax by 60 per cent to 8 [cents] per litre. This Bill proposes to reduce the tax further to just 4 cents per litre. The combined effect of these changes will result in an 80 per cent reduction in this tax since 2023.

Mr. Speaker, this measure demonstrates the Government's commitment to delivering sustained relief on energy costs. While there is more work to be done across the energy sector, this initiative ensures that the tax policy supports lower electricity costs for every household and business in Bermuda. It is estimated based on prior years' data that this will cut Bermuda's electricity bill by $1.7 million in addition to concessions introduced during 2024/25.

Mr. Speaker, this further reduction in the duty paid on fuel is expected to reduce custom duty revenue by $4.2 million. I will comment further on the measure of the Bill in Committee.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Junior Minister.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

Shadow Minister DeCouto, you have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Good morning, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, and thank you to the Junior Minister for the brief.

I know that the Government can get quite anxious to know if we will support a Bill or not, so let me just start off with that, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: We will as a whole . . . we do support this. There are some reservations, and let me talk about that, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: As you know, this Bill was tabled on Monday—

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —and I need to say, because, Mr. Speaker, we have a duty as we are MPs, Members, to come in here to have adequately reviewed and assessed and taken a decision for ourselves what we view as to a particular legislation. And I know you appreciate the seriousness of that, Mr. Speaker. And I know that the Standing Orders and so forth, they make provisions, allowances, so that we have the appropriate time to consider those details.

The Minister made reference to 481 classifications of duty, and for those who are listening, the actual Schedule that's being amended is 461 pages.

We did reach out on Monday to the relevant people to get information to help us understand that better, because, of course, we need to assess and build our own understanding as to what we are agreeing to when we come into this Honourable House, Mr. Speaker. And I do want to commend the public servants who put the work in to provide us a breakdown of the actual changes in this Tariffs Act. And I know, Mr. Speaker, that breakdown in itself is over 50 pages.

I would say, unfortunately, we've only received that this morning, so while we are grateful for the work, you can appreciate, Mr. Speaker . . . and while we are going to agree with this Bill, it is with some measure of goodwill and taking certain things at face value that, frankly, is not how this process is supposed to work.

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Hon. E. David Burt: The Honourable Member is misleading the House. The Bill was tabled under the requirements inside of the House of Assembly. In addition to that, the Bill has been tabled with the time. The Customs Tariff Annex is always that long whenever it's amended. It is repealed and replaced. It is the same thing that happened when they were in Government and we were in Opposition.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: That is the exact same thing. It is the Customs Tariff. The Bill, in and of itself, is not 400 pages.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Of course, Mr. Speaker, you can appreciate if we agree to a Bill that says the Schedule is to incorporate the customs tariff, we are there, of course, agreeing to the customs tariff, which I've already stated we are going to agree to.

So . . . and I also stated we are grateful for the efforts applied.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: But I hope you can understand, Mr. Speaker, we have to put a qualification. We have not had the time to fully investigate all of the things on the paper in black and white.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: So, we will take the Government's statement at face value and in good faith and in the spirit of collaboration. And we are also grateful for the work, as I mentioned—and I'd like to repeat it for the public servants—to break that information down for us.

I also know, Mr. Speaker, that the Premier and his Government have been quite clear about how they want to increase transparency and increase efficiency. So, I hope that going forward they can keep those principles in mind when they bring legislation to this House so that those of us who are tasked with this very serious . . . this very serious mandate to agree or disagree on legislation are provided with all the appropriate information. And I also know that they are talking about government modernisation. I can only presume, and I hope that the public officers in the Customs Department have been provided with the appropriate tools and technologies to do this in an efficient and modern way.

So, moving on from there, Mr. Speaker. Like I said, generally speaking, we agree with the construction materials cuts. As you know, we like that. We do have a question, if perhaps the Government could consider further cuts, perhaps down to zero per cent duty for appropriate projects such as those perhaps to create units that would be under rent control. That would be one way to do it. And that would be consistent with our philosophy over here. How can we provide cuts that are targeted, Mr. Speaker? And that seems like that would be a great way to target cuts.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The hospital supplies, again, Mr. Speaker, that is an also excellent example of providing targeted relief to an area where we know the costs are becoming prohibitive and burdensome to those in Bermuda. [We] support the other cuts as well.

On the duty allowance exemption, to be honest, I wonder if the Government considered perhaps not doing that. We appreciate that inflation costs go up, and you could make the case that that allowance should go up with inflation. But perhaps those of us who have the wherewithal to travel on a plane ticket of over $500 most likely are hired, typically take taxis, buy hotel rooms. Perhaps we don't need to save another $25 on buying materials that are overseas and competing further with Bermuda's retail sector which employs Bermudians and pays taxes, Mr. Speaker. So that's something that we would like to see there.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: That is a question. That is a question. And yes, those are my questions on that, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

MP Fahy.

Hon. Michael Fahy: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I do join my colleague in the point about the duty relief at the airport. It does not add up in terms of the message from the Government about supporting the retail sector at all. And I'm curious as to why we feel that that's a necessary amendment. Again, it's buried within the rest of these rates, so we have to go along with it. I do not support that.

The second piece I query, and I did laugh a little bit during the budget when we talked about reducing duty on car parts. Good. But is it a tacit recognition of the poor roads, which is perhaps why we need to make sure that people can repair their cars for a cheaper price because of the poor roads that we currently have? Yes, a bit of a churlish comment, but I think that's on most people's minds. Other than that, we have to go along.

Construction costs—again, the Shadow Minister has made remarks about the construction material duty relief. Again, it makes sense, but there are other ways that you can achieve the same goal by reducing to zero, as the Shadow Minister has said, in relation to particular projects, especially when we have the housing crisis that we do. There's a recognition by the Government of that by reducing those duties. I accept that. But we can go further, as we have said in this debate already in this House when we debated the budget line items.

In relation to energy, again, as part of the Shadow portfolio, certainly support continued duty relief in relation to fuel, and we will look to see again how that translates into people's bills on an ongoing basis. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

Government Whip, MP Tyrrell.

Mr. Neville S. Tyrrell: Mr. Speaker, thank you very much for recognising me. I would like to speak very briefly on the Customs Tariffs Amendment Act.

This is not my subject of expertise, of course, but I do help the CEO of my house to run the household account, so I know how it will hit my pockets in terms of these reductions, and I want to commend the Minister for looking at these wide-ranging reductions, especially the one on returning residents, which my friend over there appears not to want to agree to, but I don't want it to go unnoticed. There's going to be a lot of joy there.

So, I certainly, again, support the Bill in total, especially as it lowers duty rates on things, and the new tariff codes, I certainly recognise them as well. So, I just wanted to support the Minister on this Bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Whip.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution? There are none? Oh, Premier—I was going to call you Junior Minister. Okay, Premier.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, of course, this Bill is a culmination of the things which were set out, or one part of the things which were set out in the Budget Statement, which, of course, started this budget session on 2 May. And, of course, Mr. Speaker, I will not reflect on the debate which took place on Wednesday, but it must be reminded that this is one of a number of Bills to accomplish the reduction in taxes that is in excess of $45 million that this Government is putting in place for the people of Bermuda. I want to repeat that again, Mr. Speaker, part of a package of tax cuts that is in the area of $45 million estimated to benefit the people of Bermuda.

This Government is cutting taxes that will benefit every single person in Bermuda. And it is important because . . . because . . . this is important because we hear, my opinion, Mr. Speaker, pretty soundbites from the other side, but completely impractical.

And I have experience in this, Mr. Speaker, because I understand the desire to try to target tax cuts. The honourable . . . officer from the Department of Customs is here. He knows of the difficulty of which we've had on some of these measures. I recall that during 2022, when we tried to do targeted tax cuts and targeted relief and the amount of administrative burden and the difficulty of doing it outweighs the challenge of getting it done.

Now, here's the thing, Mr. Speaker, if Bermuda had personal income tax, then these things would be far easier to administer because in other jurisdictions, they are able to target relief based on person's income.

Now, what I will state is it is also important to note that when related to matters of labour income, this Government has reduced taxes on workers and increased taxes on higher earners, which allows us to make sure that we have the budget capacity to continue cutting these taxes.

Let me just go to a particular suggestion that came from the Shadow Minister of Finance. He spoke about that we should cut building materials, not for all, not for the construction projects, not for the private sector, not for all the rest of things.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Premier is misleading the House. In fact, I said perhaps they would additionally consider cutting to zero for targeted things such as construction to provide units underneath the rent control threshold. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. E. David Burt: I am so happy that he reiterated that point.

I am so happy he reiterated that point because I'm going to go back again. Nice sounding soundbites, completely impractical in reality.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Here is the reason why, Mr. Speaker. You do not know if something falls under rent control until after it is constructed and assessed.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: So again, Mr. Speaker, it sounds nice.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of information, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. E. David Burt: I do not yield. It sounds nice.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: It sounds nice. But again, it is impractical.

But here is what we have done, Mr. Speaker. We do provide customs duty relief to projects that are with the Bermuda Housing Corporation to construct affordable housing, and those are at a zero per cent duty.

We have end-use reliefs inside of the customs tariff. [They] don't need to be added as new because they are already there. That is important.

And the only changes to the end-use relief schedule are in the actual Bill. So, the Honourable Member does not need to say . . . does not need to say, Oh, I could not read through the 400-something pages of the custom tariff in and of itself because the changes to the customs tariff codes are the ones in which were outlined in the Budget Statement.

So again, what are we cutting?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Premier, the Honourable Premier is perhaps misleading the House—

Hon. E. David Burt: Perhaps?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —because of course we're not here to vote on the Budget Statement. We're here to vote on this particular piece of legislation that was tabled without the full information that we knew in black and white was being associated with that legislation. Not prior statements. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, that Honourable Member just has misled the House because it was tabled with the full and complete information as is in the Standing Orders of the House.

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Mr. Speaker, the Premier is misleading the House.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Bill referred to a Schedule. The Bill's Schedule referred to an online Schedule. The online Schedule is the prior customs tariff, not the tariff we were being asked to agree.

Now I am grateful to the Premier and the public servants for when we followed up on asking—

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Thank you.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: The Honourable Member is misleading this House. The Honourable Member is acting as though his Whip did not agree to move forward with the Bill that we are discussing right now.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. W. Lawrence Scott: And so, therefore, we are discussing what this whole House has agreed to.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, I will continue. But at some point in time, Mr. Speaker, I would ask that we convene a Committee of Standing Orders so that both sides can be educated on what actually constitutes a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

Several Hon. Members: Ooh!

Hon. E. David Burt: Because this is actually getting slightly ridiculous.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: This is actually getting slightly ridiculous. So now, Mr. Speaker, allow me to continue. Because I will take my time and start again.

This Bill is a culmination of the effect of the tax cuts that were previewed in the Pre-Budget Report, contained in a Progressive Labour Party Election Manifesto which returned this party to Government with 25 seats, and, Mr. Speaker, outlined inside of the Budget Statement. And so, yes, it reduces the duty rate on building materials and supplies.

And why? Because affordable housing is a major issue in this country. And we have to go ahead and understand how do we address those issues, Mr. Speaker. And it was the determination of the Government that to make sure that we are not only supporting the private sector in creating additional supply in whichever way that supply is created. Because as we understand from economics, additional supply is what is needed.

So, whether or not that is in things that are in rent control, items that are not in rent control, whatever it is, more supply is better for the economy to deal with the matters related to house prices. And as stated in the budget, and as stated in the Junior Minister's brief, it's important to note that all matters will be reduced to 10 per cent. These are for things such as air conditioners, which were at 35 per cent. There are matters related to doors, and windows, and steel, and aluminium, and rods, and furniture, and fixtures, and tubs, and toilets. All of those particular items, Mr. Speaker, which are subject to significant custom duties are going to be reduced.

And I heard that on the other side they support this, but I know who does support this, Mr. Speaker. The building contractors, those who are looking to provide housing, those who are looking to build companies, et cetera, because it is good and positive for the economy.

Now let us move on to the next item, which was stated by the Honourable Junior Minister, and this is the elimination of customs duty on all motor vehicle parts. It is interesting that the Honourable Member from constituency 20, who used to sit in another place, called his own comment as churlish. That's not my word. That's his word that he used. But I would, if you would allow me to, Mr. Speaker, refer to the Budget Statement on page 13. And it says, and I quote, "Mr Speaker, recognising the strain vehicle repair costs can place on families and businesses, customs duty will be eliminated on all motor vehicle parts imported into Bermuda. Whether it is keeping a family car on the road or a company's fleet operating, this measure is aimed at lowering maintenance and repair costs while the Government works to repave Bermuda's roads."

An Hon. Member: Say it again!

Hon. E. David Burt: So, here's the thing, Mr. Speaker, that is not the first time that was said. That was said inside the Pre-Budget Report. That was said when we tabled the Pre-Budget Report here. That was stated when we debated this. It is here inside the Budget Statement, and it is just a clear—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Speak—

[Laughter]

The Speaker: We need to hear, we need to hear the one Member who's on his feet.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, the man will have as much . . . the Honourable Member will have as much sound authority as he wants, but he had the opportunity to speak, and I am now responding. So, they can't have both ways.

They can't say you don't respond to the questions, and when you respond to the questions, they don't like it. But here's the reality, Mr. Speaker. The reality, Mr. Speaker, is that tax policy and economic policy has to—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: —be in line with the things which are necessary and required. This budget, as you know, contains a significant investment in road paving. We just saw an announcement from the Honourable Minister of Public Works and Environment that the new road paving equipment has arrived on Island to even speed up further—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: —the work of which we are doing. And we know that road repaving works are taking place.

Mr. Speaker, can you call for order?

The Speaker: The speaker's on his feet. We're trying to hear what he has to say.

Member, continue so we can hear what you're saying.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate that call for order.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: You can call for order, too, if you wish. I just know the rules of the House, see?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: And now, Mr. Speaker, moving on.

The next item that is covered inside of this particular Bill is the increase in the amount of duty-free allowance for returning residents, which has not been increased since 2012. It is right, it is proper, it is good, and I'm sorry that Honourable Members opposite do not support it.

But here's the thing, Mr. Speaker, they talk about local retail, they talk about all the things. Let us not forget what this Government has done for local retail. Expansion of tax credits that we've done, reduction of duty rates, sorry, and payroll tax rates for that particular industry inside of a Bill, Mr. Speaker, that it should be reminded in 2023 that they did not support.

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: Important to note, when we change all of the taxes, increase taxes on high earners, reduce taxes on most workers of this country, reduce tax for every single local business in the country. Because we were raising taxes on high earners, they did not support the legislation.

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: Understand, but we reduce those taxes for retailers, Mr. Speaker. This is important to recognise and understand. So, it is a broad base of the work of which we are doing.

In addition, Mr. Speaker, this particular Bill provides continuing duty relief available to the Bermuda Hospitals Board for hospital operating supplies. This is something that is important, it is something that is contained. It is the continued expansion of this particular duty relief, which has been in place because we want to make sure we do everything to support our hospital. And I think that we can all agree that I do not think that a public hospital should be paying duty to the major government on the supplies which they operate. So, they can save that fund, those monies to make sure they can provide better services for the persons that are there. Combined with the increased funding that this Government has given to the Bermuda Hospitals Board contained inside of this budget, supported, Mr. Speaker, by the sound management of the economy underneath this Progressive Labour Party Government which has led us to record the second projected Consolidated Fund surplus in a row.

Let us move on, Mr. Speaker, to the final point.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: And the final point, Mr. Speaker, is lowering the rate of duty for diesel and fuel oils for BELCO for the production of electricity.

Some history, Mr. Speaker, as I am certain that you do know. In 2012, when the Progressive Labour Party left Government, the—

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. E. David Burt: Absolutely another history lesson for you, Honourable Member Fahy, because it may not just be for you. It may be for the people who are listening, because they deserve to know the difference.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: The difference is . . . the difference is in 2012, customs duty taxes on fuel were 10 cents per litre. In 2014, the party opposite increased them to 15 cents per litre.

Some Hon. Members: No!

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: In 2016, they increased it again to 20 cents per litre.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: They doubled the taxes on gasoline in this country, increasing costs to residents of this country.

But what, Mr. Speaker, has this Government done? In 2022, when gas prices were going up across the world, hitting record highs, we froze the price of the pump, saving consumers money throughout. Saving money for consumers throughout the country. And here's what's interesting.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: What is interesting is, they recommended that we freeze the funds, but they said the Government should reduce the cost, but they don't have the money to reduce the cost. Funny, we did have the money, and we reduced the cost.

Second, Mr. Speaker, what did we do? Last year, the fuel was at the tax, which was doubled under them, was up to 20 cents a litre. We cut that to 8 cents per litre. This year, we are cutting it in half again, a total reduction over in a year of 80 per cent on fuel costs.

Now here's the thing, Mr. Speaker, and I will quote for the members who are listening in the public, if you will allow me.

The Speaker: Go ahead.

Hon. E. David Burt: "To date, government fuel due to relief has reduced average monthly electricity rates by approximately 6%. The additional reduction," (that we are doing today, Mr. Speaker,) "will bring the total relief to 8%, saving the average customer $300 per year. This estimate is based on average residential usage, and the actual savings will vary depending on consumption."

So here we are, Mr. Speaker. All of these matters will benefit Bermudians, will benefit Bermudian businesses, will benefit Bermuda's households, seniors, and working families, Mr. Speaker. That is the record of this Progressive Labour Party Government. And of course, Mr. Speaker, I support the legislation in my name. Thank you.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Premier, it's now that time. I was hoping we would have gone to Committee beforehand, but—

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: You wouldn't want to move us into Committee beforehand, would you?

Hon. E. David Burt: No, I would not, sir. I know there are more persons to speak.

The Speaker: Okay.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the Honourable House do now adjourn for lunch to return at 2:00 pm.

The Speaker: Are there any objections to that?

There are none. The House now stands adjourned for lunch until 2:00 pm.

[Gavel]

Proceedings suspended at 12:31 pm

Proceedings resumed at 2:00 pm

[Hon. Dennis P. Lister, Jr., Speaker, in the Chair]

The Speaker: Good afternoon, Members. I trust everyone had a good break.

[Gavel]

The Speaker: The House is now back in session.

When we broke for the lunch period, we were still in the House on the Customs Tariff Amendment. Is there any other Member who wishes to speak to that in the House, or are we going to the Committee?

Minister Hayward.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Good afternoon, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I wholeheartedly support the Bill, the motive behind the Bill, the features contained in the Bill, and I am pleased with the impact that these changes would have on our community. The positive impact.

Bermuda is one of the countries in the world that maintains a high cost of living. As a result, there is pressure on both businesses and residents to continue to operate in an environment where both are finding their purchasing power diminished by the high cost of living. It is the Government's responsibility to understand what some of those pressures are which are leading to the stresses and put appropriate policy solutions in place that benefit, yes, our business community, but also the residents of Bermuda.

In order for the Government to exercise fiscal policy, it needs to be in a position to do so. So, what is being lost is that the Government now finds itself in a position where it has the fiscal capacity to make the necessary adjustments which are required so that we can provide greater levels of relief to businesses and the residents of Bermuda. These measures should be fully supported. It is a balance between providing relief to residents and providing relief to our business community.

The measures that are contained within the Customs Tariff [Act] 1970 (which we are changing), to be clear, fall into six categories. We are lowering the duty rate on building materials and supplies. I first ask, who benefits from that change? The answer to the question is the entire community. Investors who are looking to develop, persons who are looking to renovate their properties, persons looking to acquire properties which may now be affordable because the construction costs will be lower. Those segments of our community benefit from this particular change. And so, this change should be well supported.

We complain that we have a housing crisis. We complain that we have reduction in inventory. And so, when we do things that are deliberately designed to support investment and development in a space where we have a need, it should be commended. If the Government has done an analysis and says that we can't go all the way to zero because that's currently not what our fiscal capacity allows, then it should be at least acknowledged that we are making a meaningful step in the right direction. It should be meaningfully acknowledged that we have consulted with the business community who have requested these changes, and we have acquiesced to those requests by facilitating the change through changing our legislation and rates.

The second would be elimination of duty on all motor vehicle parts. We ask ourselves, whom does that benefit? It benefits the residents who are required to make maintenance and repairs on their vehicles, who will now make lower payments.

I heard the chirping by the Honourable Member Fahy, who said because of our bad roads. However, maintenance and repair on vehicles transcends any challenges we may be having with our roads. And if you find yourself in the unfortunate position where you get in an accident that has absolutely nothing to do with our roads, this change still supports you. And so, what we do is we take into consideration what the community is saying, and we adjust to it.

Just like when there was a removal of a ferry route. I then saw the Honourable Member Fahy in the newspaper applauding the Government for restoration of that very same ferry. Do you know why? Because the residents complained and we responded.

So, we have a track record of understanding where there are pain points and adequately responding. That is what this Government is expected to do. And so, we are making those adjustments. We are also lowering the duty rate on air conditioning units and parts. A lot of us can empathise with coming up in an environment where we didn't have air conditioners in our homes. I had two misfortunes. You see, when you stay across the street from the dump, you don't have the luxury—

[Laughter]

Hon. Jason Hayward: I hear the Honourable Member DeCouto laughing because I stayed across the street from the dump.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Honourable Minister is misleading the House. He doesn't know what I was laughing about and there was some sidebar conversation on an unrelated topic.

I know he's the speaker, but not everything is revolving around him today, Mr. Speaker. Thank you.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Speaker, it may be misplaced laughter, I'll accept that. But for the residents who lived on Parsons Road, like I lived on Parsons Road, this is not a laughing matter. Because not only did we have the dump, but there was a stream at the bottom of the dump called the pond. And on a hot summer day, the pond emitted an odour that if your windows were left open in your house during a hot summer day, you entered your house and you thought that a rodent had died and decayed in your house. So, our windows were closed on hot summer days without the luxury of central air conditioning.

Now we advanced from that particular space where we did get window units. And unfortunately, because I had a window unit on a ground level, I learned the hard way of having a window unit on a ground level of Parsons Road, where somebody kicked in my window unit, got into my house, took all my valuables and walked right back out of that window. So, this is the reality.

But had the duty rates been lower on air conditioning units and air conditioning parts, we may have been able to get central air conditioning, which didn't require a window unit, which would have allowed us to keep our windows closed to protect us from the stench of the pond, but also keep our houses safe from persons who are prepared to kick in our window units.

I then later learned that those window units are more expensive when it comes to your electricity rates. And so, I am pleased now when I see that when Government is reducing the duty on the fuel associated with our electricity, it also provides relief to those individuals. But I ask, who benefits from these changes? And I'm left with the only conclusion, and that is the people of Bermuda benefit from these changes. And we don't discriminate whom those people actually are.

When I look at the next measure, when we're providing duty relief to the hospital, we have a mantra that we want to see accessible and affordable hospitals and health care for all. This takes us a step further in that direction. The hospital caters to almost the entire residential population. It also caters to the visitors to our shores. The entire country collectively benefits from us easing some of the financial pressures on the hospital.

The Premier indicated that altogether the relief that we're providing to the citizens of Bermuda equates to more than $45 million . . . $45 million. It has to be viewed from a lens where the Government has positioned itself to be able to provide relief to the residents of Bermuda. And while the Honourable Members on the other side may oppose extending the duty relief at the airport—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order.

The Speaker: What is your point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Minister is misleading the House. We did not say we oppose. In fact, I started my response in this debate specifically saying we support this Bill.

An Hon. Member: But . . .

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: But we did suggest that they could have considered a different approach.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: His point was, he said that persons opposite may oppose the duty relief rate, not the Bill. He meant something specific.

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Honourable Member Fahy stood to his feet and opposed the relief to the residents of the people of Bermuda. And—

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: What? No, he did not.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

POINT OF ORDER

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I literally stood to my feet and said we support it.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Wait, wait, wait. You made reference to, not yourself, to the other Member. The other Member said he supported the Bill, but he was opposed to a particular piece of the Bill.

An Hon. Member: He said it too!

The Speaker: That's what he made reference to. He pointed out the piece that you made reference to, that you were opposed to.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Jason Hayward: We have to operate with some level of integrity in this House, Mr. Speaker.

You cannot stand to your feet, oppose something, and then when somebody highlights that you've opposed relief to the residents of Bermuda, you're trying to draw back from that. The reality is we have a different point of view on that particular piece.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. Jason Hayward: I know that my residents, my constituents, will be happy to take advantage of greater relief when travelling back from abroad. Sometimes, persons travel abroad to get goods because there is a lack of availability of those goods on the Island. This is not necessarily to reduce the successfulness of our retail sector because we've put other measures in place that actually support our retail sector.

It is this Government's desire for a vibrant retail sector. So much so that we're focused on embarking on putting a framework in place which we will consider to be our national entrepreneurship strategy, which promotes small and medium-sized enterprises in Bermuda. But we have given relief where relief has been requested from our retailers. And so, when you look at this entirety as a package, you have to say that this Government has taken practical steps to reduce the cost of living.

And then you say, how are they able to do that? They are able to do that because they have created a level of fiscal capacity.

What is actually heartwarming to me about this relief that we're providing now, it's on top of relief that we have provided over the last seven years while in Government.

So, the Premier highlighted, and it was also highlighted last time he was in this Honourable House, in terms of what we've done for the workers in terms of reduction of payroll tax for those who are working. How we've increased the minimum wage for those who are working. Two measures that benefit the workers of this country directly. And if you're unfortunate enough to be unemployed and you need assistance, we have also increased the eligibility and benefits that one can receive through financial assistance. I don't know how the actions of this Government cannot be viewed as ones which are human-centred and in the best interest of the residents of Bermuda.

As I move on, this is not the first time we've amended duty rates. We highlighted essential food items, and we've reduced the cost and the duty associated with those essential food items. Whom does that change benefit? It benefits the residents of Bermuda. It benefits the families of Bermuda. It benefits mothers of Bermuda who are trying to feed their kids. This Government has been responsive. We have done a lot, and we have a lot more to do.

I think that when we come here, we have a responsibility to the constituents who elected us here to make the argument as it pertains to whether or not the changes benefit those constituents or not. And I'll challenge any Member of the Opposition to stand up and say, I oppose these changes because they do not benefit the constituents who elected me to this House. I can support that argument if they have come to the conclusion that this does not support their constituents. But they can't.

So, when persons oppose, I ask, on what basis? If they're here to represent their constituents and their constituents will benefit from the change, on what basis is the Opposition coming from? It is not based on the sound principles of good governance.

I spoke about the minimum wage. And we will come back to this House, like with other tax changes, to progress the minimum wage even further. I did a national economic update, and I highlighted that in every industrial sector in Bermuda, employment income was up. I continue to hear things surrounding a stagnant economy, but that's far from the reality of our economic situation. And so, our economy is growing, government finances are stable.

Don't take my word for it, Mr. Speaker. Standard & Poor's recently released a report as it pertains to their independent assessment of where we are as a country. I did not hear the negativity that is spewed and the rhetoric in that report that is spewed when I come to this House and the Opposition paints the picture of where we are. I saw sound and stable government policies. I saw words as such as responsive. I saw our rating and our outlook remain stable with no grave area of concern. [Do] you know why? Because we are on the right track.

Bermuda continues to be a high-performance jurisdiction. We continue to punch above our weight level in a number of areas. I, for one, Mr. Speaker, am proud to be a Bermudian. I am proud to be a member of the Progressive Labour Party and I'm proud of the work that we are doing to support the residents of Bermuda.

And as a result of that, I wholeheartedly support the changes which are in front of this Honourable House today. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Desk thumping]

The Speaker: Thank you, Minister.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution? MP Pearman.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

It is interesting that this debate and the other one on Wednesday over tax issues have become rather fractious. So, I'm going to try and just take the heat out of this a little bit and be a little bit more measured. And you will be delighted to hear as well, Mr. Speaker, that I intend to be brief.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Yes, I am delighted about that.

Mr. Scott Pearman: I just have two points of principle that I wish to make. The second one, rising perhaps unwisely to the hook that the Honourable Minister put in the water, but he's asked for an answer, and I'll give him one. And that's my second point but let me deal with the first.

Mr. Speaker, this is not a Bill of staggering complexity. It's a Bill about tariffs, and that is duty relief, and that is taxes. Right? So that is what we are talking about here. We are talking about taxes. And the first point of principle I want to make, because it got lost, I think, in the shuffle a little bit earlier before lunch, was the very valid point that was made about transparency and good governance.

When we come up here, all of us, to look at tax legislation and to impose taxes upon our fellow citizens and upon ourselves, we must be transparent about what we're doing. And therefore, when there is a Schedule to a Bill that is less than transparent, it is perfectly proper for anyone in this House to say, Hang on a second, I can't tell what's going on from this Schedule. And it's perfectly proper for anyone in this House to invite the Government—because they're the Government, we're just the Opposition—to do better.

Now one of the speakers earlier said, Well, that is how we've always done it. And doubtless, that speaker was right. And that speaker said, Well, that is how the OBA used to do it too. And again, doubtless, that speaker is right. I was not around then. But the fact that it has always been done like that does not mean that that is how we have to always do it.

Let's dare to be better. Let's dare to pass legislation that when an ordinary member of the public wants to see if his or her tariff duty on the item that is trying to support their retail shop is going up or going down, they can tell. Now that is not actually hard to achieve. You put one extra column in that Schedule saying what the duty is, and the column saying what the duty is going to be.

Now I can understand why some governments might not want that. If the duty is going up, they may not want to be attacked for the duty going up. But if the duty is going down, they may wish to be praised for the duty going down. And so that is why I make the point of principle about transparency. If you can tell . . . you should not have to be a lawyer to look at a law that we pass to understand it.

So, it is fair to all Bermudians to know, is the tariff on this item going up? Is the tariff on this item going down? And so, I would invite whoever is in charge of these things, be it the Government, be it the civil service, be it this particular department or Ministry, to just bear that in mind. And next time, let us try and have a Schedule where we see what it was and what it becomes. So that's the first point of two points of principle. And I would respectfully say that it's a point that should echo with this Government, because of course this Government has been talking about fairness. And what could be more fair than being transparent to the people so they can understand the legislation we are passing?

The second and final point of principle, Mr. Speaker, is about the idea of passing on tax relief. Because there was a big debate, and I appreciate that there are differences of philosophy, and there are differences in policy, but it is a point of principle. If you are going to grant relief, you can do it in one of two ways. You can grant relief across the board. Everybody gets a tax cut. Or you can be targeted in your relief. You can ask yourself, Who really needs this tax cut, and how can we make sure that the person who really needs it is getting this benefit? So those are two philosophically different approaches to taxes.

And on this side, we are saying that where this Government . . . and we are not the government, probably won't be for a while.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: You got that right.

Mr. Scott Pearman: But where this Government . . . and I hear from the Honourable future Premier, Zane De Silva. Got that right, he said.

[Laughter]

Mr. Scott Pearman: So where this Government decides to give greater relief to Bermudians, and where this Government has the benefit of the support of the Opposition, as it has had over this Bill and the last one, to give relief, it is not criticism, or unwarranted criticism, or unreasonable criticism, for the Opposition to point out that perhaps the tax relief, when given and supported by us, should be more focused, should be more targeted. Why? Because if you target relief to those who need it most, you can give them more relief.

And that is the point, with respect, that MP DeCouto was making. That there are people on our Island who do not need certain tax breaks. And there are people on our Island who absolutely need those tax breaks.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Scott Pearman: And I have just been asked by the Honourable Minister, Jason Hayward, "who determines that?" And the answer is the Government.

The answer is the Government, right?

So, the old saying, the Government . . . you know, Opposition gets its say, the Government gets its way.

Listen, the Honourable Minister, MP Jason Hayward, who spoke before me, invited us to respond as a point of principle, and I am doing that. And if he wishes to disagree with me, that is fine. If he wishes to say, No, no, all cuts should be across the board, because we should treat everybody equally, and everyone should get a cut, that is fine, if that is his point of principle. But I'm respectfully disagreeing with that argument.

My argument is that you focus on the people who need the help most, and if you only focus on them, you can give them more help. You can expand the amount of help being given to those who need it, rather than taking some of that money away and giving it to people who really do not need it. That is the philosophical argument, and I think, I hope—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Scott Pearman: No, no, I know. I know that the Honourable Minister understands that argument. I know that the Honourable Minister understands that argument. And so when we come again, and I am sure this Government has said they're going to come again and give more tax cuts. Great, and you will get our support if it is well intentioned. But let's try to target those who need it most, and ensure that they get more benefit, because we do not need to be giving tax cuts to the very wealthy on this Island, frankly. We do not.

One last point before I take my seat, and it's still on the second point of principle. One of the discussions being had here is around the retail sector, and the Honourable Minister is not taking the time to listen to the point I am making, and I would invite him to do so, respectfully, since he asked me to answer the question. And since I have answered it, he might want to just at least consider what I am saying.

So, the retail sector, they need help. They need a lot of help. I do not know what sort of consultation was done with the retail sector, but I would imagine that most people in the retail sector of Bermuda are not delighted that we can go and shop overseas, and bring more things in, and get greater customs duty relief.

And when I say we, I mean everybody. So, everybody now is going to get a bigger break at the airport, and I really doubt very much that the retail sector of Bermuda is going to have said, That's a great idea. I have a feeling they would have said, Well actually, do we have to do that? Couldn't we do this in some other way? Couldn't we give us a bigger break on imports of the particular things that these Bermudian businesses, these Bermudian small retail businesses, medium-sized retail businesses, are bringing in?

So again, it's a point of principle, it's a point of political philosophy. We may not agree, the Minister may not agree with me. But we believe that we need to help. We just think let's be targeted, let's help those who need the help the most, and let's give them more.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Desk thumping]

The Speaker: Deputy Premier, would you like to add a few comments?

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I would, Mr. Speaker, thank you very much.

The Honourable Member who just took a seat, I believe he just said, Let's try to help those who need it most.

Did I get that right?

Mr. Scott Pearman: You did.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: He's shaking his head and saying yes.

Mr. Scott Pearman: I'm nodding. Nodding.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yeah, you're right. Those who need it, let's see that those who need it most get it.

Let me remind the Honourable Member, in 2012, when they came into power, the first thing they did in the House, the first session, Mr. Speaker, was change the staggered FutureCare premiums that we had in place so that those that could least afford it paid the less. They changed it so that everyone in the country were going to pay the same amount.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Now these are the same people who are now saying to do just the opposite. You see?

[Inaudible interjections and crosstalk]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: So, you see—

[Inaudible interjections and crosstalk]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: So, you see, Mr. Speaker, what this tells me is . . . an old saying comes to mind and it's called grandstanding.

Hon. E. David Burt: Oh, that is what it is!

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: It's grandstanding.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Imputing improper motive]

Mr. Scott Pearman: The Honourable Member, who was referring to me and precisely what I said, has now just imputed an improper motive.

An Hon. Member: What?

Mr. Scott Pearman: Well, perhaps he would care to clarify who he meant was grandstanding.

An Hon. Member: Not a problem.

[Inaudible interjections and crosstalk]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Mr. Speaker, certainly you have been here long enough to know when someone's grandstanding. And I'll tell you what, from where we sit, it's a lot of grandstanding that's been taking place in the last 24 hours.

So, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections and crosstalk]

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order. Point of order.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER
[Imputing improper motive]

Mr. Scott Pearman: Thank you. The Member has now clarified that he was referring to us and was referring to me in the last 24 hours and he's imputing an improper motive, which he should not do.

The Speaker: Member, when you speak, just remember the Member is entitled to his opinion.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes.

The Speaker: On different viewpoints.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes.

The Speaker: And that viewpoint . . . that view may differ from your view of the matter, but it doesn't necessarily mean it's a negative.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, Mr. Speaker. Well, let me clarify that. My view is that some of the Members opposite use this House on many occasions to grandstand. And I'm going to leave it right there.

An Hon. Member: No point of order?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Now, Mr. Speaker, I find it rather rich.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: I find it rather rich when I hear Members opposite say some of the things they say. In particular, the Member that just took his seat.

An Hon. Member: In particular.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Because, Mr. Speaker, we had a long debate last session that should have been five minutes, about $6. For the Honourable Members next door, on the other side, to talk about helping those who need it most, and we should be doing this, we should be doing that. Imagine what we could do for the people of this country with $250 million we have spent, and are still spending at Morgan's Point.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Mr. Speaker, $250 million and counting.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: And the Honourable Member Craig Cannonier should be the last person to mention anything to do with airports.

An Hon. Member: Or music studios.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Or music studios, too, because I think he had his hand in that.

An Hon. Member: Ooh!

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: So, the fact of the matter is, Mr. Speaker, is that—

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjections]

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Did I hear the Honourable Member just say that I was involved in the music studio?

An Hon. Member: I think he did.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: I just want to make sure I'm hearing correctly. This point of order, he's completely misguiding the House. I was nowhere near it.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Point of order, Mr. Speaker, I never said that.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes! You just said it! You did say that.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No, I did not say it.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: That is exactly what you said.

The Speaker: Members . . . wait, wait, wait.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No, I did not say that.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No, I did not.

The Speaker: Look, look, look. Members, we're fresh in the afternoon. Let's keep it at a tone where we don't get out of hand.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Hey—

The Speaker: We had a—Aah, aah, aah, I am still talking.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Oh, okay, sorry.

The Speaker: We had a reasonable morning. Let's have a reasonable afternoon. You got some points to make on the topic of the Bill? Speak to the topic of the Bill and leave the others out.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will gladly do that.

Mr. Speaker, but I think it is important that the people of this country never forget—

An Hon. Member: —Never.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: —never forget—

An Hon. Member: —Never.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: When we are talking about helping the vulnerable, helping those who need it in this country, the $250 million and counting of the very same taxpayers of which we speak about today are paying. Here as we sit, the clock is ticking. The clock is ticking. In fact, before today is over, I am going to work out what it is per minute that we pay because it's substantial, Mr. Speaker. It's substantial.

So, with that said, Mr. Speaker, let me emphasise the point. The points which were made earlier from this side of the House are that these tax reductions . . . I am looking forward to them driving this economy and helping the people of this country. And it may start from $6, but it could end up at $600, and that could be per month. It could be $6,000 for a month, Mr. Speaker, depending on what we use these additional tax cuts for.

So, as the Premier is going to continue to bring these deductions, as he did in the pre-budget, bring them to this House for passage, look forward to us helping the people who need it most in this country.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member . . . MP Cannonier.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker, and to my colleagues, good afternoon, and to the listening public. Let me be as balanced as I should be.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: As I should be. The interpolating has already started.

Certainly, I do support this. But what I will do is clarify that in some of the comments that have been made in who this invariably is helping, I will say that my constituents probably are some of those who spend a lot of money importing goods from above . . . across the ocean, I should say, not above, but across the ocean. So, any kind of relief in that matter, they would welcome.

As I said, they probably spend more time flying than many of us who on average fly, maybe once or twice. So, they certainly will take advantage of the opportunity, and I think the whole idea of maybe a targeted approach does not fall by the wayside on anyone. There is opportunity.

Now, the Government has decided that this is the first tier of opportunity that they would like to take, and I take note of that. But I also take note of the fact that reducing diesel prices is not certainly going to fix the soot that's on people's roofs. So, we have got some big problems here that we need to resolve.

And I also recognise that when I hear the comments about small businesses, I have said it many times in this House, you know. We may be reducing tariffs and duty, but the biggest problem that small and medium-sized businesses have at the end of the day is cash flow. And so, we need to be looking at the opportunities to relieve that, because if we don't fix the cash flow for them to survive, which they are already in debt, those who have been able to survive up until now, they have no real way of being able to pay their debt back. And the relief may be one way of approaching it, but one of the other ways that we need to approach this situation is we need to improve the economy so that it is growing at a faster rate than our debt is for people and businesses. They've got to pay back—

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. I hate to interrupt the Honourable Member, as you know, he and I have a good relationship. But what he just said was that we need to ensure the economy is growing faster than the debt. And guess what, that is exactly what is taking place in Bermuda.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Thank you, thank you.

[Inaudible interjections]

An Hon. Member: The business's debt, not yours.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: So, so . . . yes, yes, yes, that is what I am talking about.

So that is exactly . . . I prefaced it all by small to medium-sized business. So, my challenge is this, is that they are in debt—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: —and they are unable to get to a point where they are at zero.

I did say, and I qualified my statement, these tariffs will help. But the cash flow problem is where they will go out of business. And unless we fix that problem, we are going to continue to have to go to an almost point of zero tariffs, zero duty on things, because we are trying to help people rather than getting the economy and whatever it takes to boost the economy at a rate that can keep them surviving and keep cash flow growing.

And so, the Premier has stood up, and he says, you know, we have a good relationship. I know and understand what it means to be a small and a medium-sized business owner. Certainly not a large business owner, but I know what it's like to have to meet the payroll when that time comes, and things are tough. And despite the fact that we have reduced tariffs, the challenge is that we still cannot keep up, and that's today's reality.

So, on the one hand, this is one part of the relief. But on the other hand, I believe that we can do more to grow the economy. Am I saying to the Government that they are not (under the numbers that they have presented) that we are not looking better? Certainly. But I do recall a time coming along when I was a student, I could pay for my tuition school fees because I was getting paid well to mow grass for people in the summertime, and pay for my sister's school fees. We are not at that point anymore right now.

And so, what we want to do is we want to be able to have a position whereby the private businesses, which is what these tariffs are for, essentially, outside of the hospital, are to help. But what we need to do is find a way to get more money into small to medium-sized businesses, which invariably means more money into the private citizens' pockets, and we will have a much more healthier position.

So, what I would like to hear more about is rather than getting . . . you know, we are talking about fuel and diesels and these kinds of things. And I wanted to say about the fuel thing, you know, the Premier brought up the issue of the fuel. But when the fuel concessions came first to Bermuda when we were going through COVID-19 and the fuel companies decided to collectively say, Okay, we are going to offer relief.

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Sorry?

[Inaudible interjection]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: So the fuel company offered to Government relief. It was to hold the price of fuel.

Hon. E. David Burt: When?

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: The Premier made a statement about it. I was a part of it, so I know what I am talking about. Maybe the Premier is not sure.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: But we, when the prices went up . . . when the prices were about to go up, the . . . I can't remember the exact year now. I will have to look at it. The insurance [sic] companies sat down with the Minister and said, okay, well, we can put some relief in place. You know, we'll give a—

The Speaker: The fuel company. Fuel company.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Sorry, fuel company. Yes, fuel company. We can put some relief in place. But that relief had to be paid back. So, you might have gotten a relief for two to three months. The public might have gotten a relief for two to three months on their fuel. But that relief, the public still had to pay back.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, point of order. Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Hon. E. David Burt: I sincerely hate to interrupt this, but he is completely misleading the House and completely misrepresenting what took place. In 2022, upon my return to the Ministry of Finance, I found that fuel prices went up on something under the authorisation of the Minister of Finance without coming across my desk.

I went to the technical officers, and I said there will be no more fuel increases. And we came up with a fuel pricing mechanism which reduced the taxes on gasoline fuel that was imported into the country and no one has had to pay that back. That has come out of our customs tariff revenue. So, the Honourable Member should withdraw that statement. It is factually incorrect. I'm not sure what he's talking about, but it cannot be for fuel at the pump. That was not a discussion with the fuel companies.

We said, this is the action which we are taking and we said we are going to reduce the taxes, and we are not going to move the cap. It is going to go down. That is what happened. There were no funds that needed to be paid back.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Mr. Speaker, I will provide you with that letter with the relevant Government Ministers on it. For sure.

The Speaker: All right.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: For sure.

The Speaker: We will leave it there until we get it.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Oh, yeah. For sure.

The Speaker: Yes.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: For sure. We will call that out for sure. I was in that meeting.

The Speaker: Okay.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: So, then we started talking. I heard some comments being made about the roads as well and the relief for parts, for cars and the like and rightfully so. I think that we should be implementing some kind of tariff relief when it comes to cars, especially with the situation that we are right now with the roads. On 24 May, as I watched TNN on their bike the whole way up from St. George's, it was visual. You could actually see the challenges with the roads as the runners were going up and the cyclists and the like.

Then the Premier talked about the amount of money that was being put aside for roadworks. Well, I must say that the amount of money that was put aside for roadworks is really no different than what was put aside the previous year. And in the previous year, Mr. Speaker, we only spent half of that money on the roads. So, if we are going to put $5 million to roadworks, we want to spend that money.

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Hon. E. David Burt: I accept where the Honourable Member is coming from, but I think that it's important that people would hear that only $2.5 million—

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Is that a point of order?

Hon. E. David Burt: It is. Misleading the House. That $2.5 million—

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: That is a point of information. I did not accept a point of information.

Hon. E. David Burt: No, no, misleading the House, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: I did not . . . No, I am not.

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. The Honourable Member is misleading the House.

The Speaker: State your point of order now.

Hon. E. David Burt: He is misleading the House. Persons who would have heard what the Honourable Member said would have heard that we have not spent $5 million in roadworks. That is not correct. The fact is that because the roadworks are done and because there are reimbursements that happen, the total value of work that was done last year is far in excess of the $5 million that is recorded in the budget.

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

As I looked at the Budget Book, we can certainly go and take a look at the line item for roadworks. Five million dollars was allotted for roadworks and $2-point-something million was spent. The actual number there. So, the Premier can say what he wants, but the Budget Book does stipulate that. He is trying to bring in invoices coming in for all of these other things. The [Budget] Book specifically states that we are going to put another $5 million to the roadworks.

Quite frankly, for the next year, I am not sure we will be able to reach the level that the Government is saying. I hope that people . . . quite frankly, with the challenges that we are having, the businesses take advantage of this relief on the parts. But at the same time, I am not sure the private sector at the end of the day, with the way that the situation is, is going to benefit a whole lot at the end of the year, because of this here.

Parts are already here. You know how long it takes to get parts in Bermuda. You have to sit here and wait for Lord knows how many months just to get something here. We might appreciate the fact that the relief is being put here, but for the next fiscal year, let's just be clear, we will be talking about this next year and how much the roads haven't gotten done. I mean, we are still waiting for the asphalt plant to get up. It won't be here until 2026, and we are hoping that it is here in the first quarter. But that deadline keeps changing and changing and changing.

So, if I go off of the record as some of our Government says, on how they are doing so wonderful, if I go off of the record of just roadworks alone, that thing is not coming any time soon because it keeps getting changed.

I appreciate this Bill and the attempt that it is doing. Hopefully, the relief that gets to people will reach them in a feasible time. We are already at May. We are already almost a quarter behind time. Let's see what happens. But what I can guarantee is this: Unless we start growing the economy so that people can get out of debt and these businesses in particular who are trying to make ends meet, if this economy does not improve at a faster rate, we're still going to be giving more and more and more relief.

Now, to anyone who would be interested in the Island and investing in the Island when it comes to the local economy, the local economy is struggling. It is struggling. And we see a lot of relief going into place. I have been saying year after year after year, the challenge is cash flow. And we haven't fixed it. We still haven't fixed it. I see it first hand. It hasn't been fixed. It's getting worse. And the banks are not friendly. It takes you . . . my goodness, you've got the money, some people. It takes you more than . . . almost a year just to get a mortgage sorted out. So, we are in some serious, serious challenges here going forward.

And so, I'm praying that people can make it throughout this next year with these reliefs. I know it sounds good when we list off all of these wonderful things for relief and especially in the construction industry. Yes, we can put all these things in. But guess what, Mr. Speaker? We just heard how many days it's taking for applications. So, this year might not even . . . this stuff might not even come to fruition for those who are putting in an application to build a house because it's going to take that long.

So, I am identifying that you are doing one part, yes, but there's a whole other part of it that is connected. And I am just asking the Government, as it moves along, there is another part here, which is what some of my colleagues are saying, we need to move with some more pace on helping relieve Bermuda by improving the economy because that way . . . now when I say . . . let me qualify that when I say improve the economy—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: —by speeding up the pace of the improvement of this economy so that people can pay their salaries. Right?

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. L. Craig Cannonier: So that people can . . . Listen, Mr. Speaker, Bermuda wants to pay its way. The only reason they are looking for relief is because they are struggling. So that is an admittance, if the Government is having to do this, that people are struggling. That is the reality.

I'm not knocking the Government because of this here. It is a reality. If we were doing wonderful, I am not sure all of these reliefs will be coming in place. My assessment and my opinion is that we are seeing these reliefs because they are hearing from the people, as we heard from Government already. They are doing this because our people are struggling. They are hurting, so they have got to do some stuff. That is what they are saying.

So, we still got issues to solve. And I tell you what, the best social programme I heard from an Honourable Minister who used to be in the House is a job. And a well-paying job. So that is the other part of this equation.

I support this Bill. I believe that this relief is needed, and I believe this relief is needed because people are struggling. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

HOUSE VISITOR

The Speaker: Thank you, MP Cannonier.

Before I call on anyone else, I would just like to acknowledge in the Gallery the former Member of this House, former Opposition Leader, Mr. Cole Simons. Welcome to the Chamber this afternoon.

[Desk thumping]

[Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025, second reading debate continuing]

The Speaker: [Would] any other Member like to make a contribution at this time?

None other? Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I am convinced whatever this Government does will never satisfy the Opposition. Never satisfy the Opposition.

A Government from 2012 to 2017, they talked about we listen and we heard and we are doing something about it. They heard the same voices, Mr. Speaker, the whole five years and never did anything about it but increased taxes year after year after year. We are here, we have heard the cry and we're doing something about it. That's the difference. And that's the difference.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: That's why you're sitting on that side and we're sitting on this side because we're listening and making things happen.

Mr. Speaker, for those individuals, just to give you a few different points. Mr. Speaker, slate will go from 25 per cent down to 10 per cent. Paint will go down from 15 per cent down to 10 per cent. Don't you think people want to hear that? Sinks, you buy a sink, it will go from 25 per cent down to 10 per cent. Wash basin, 25 per cent down to 10 per cent. Doors, 25 per cent down to 10 per cent. There is a decrease and it's affecting the individuals who are going to do constructions. These are great benefits.

So, we spent so much time trying to convince a party on that side who seemed . . . they complain about the $6, but we're giving more and they're still complaining. I don't understand it. Where are you satisfied?

Mr. Speaker, this Government will continue to listen and will continue to make decisions. We will continue to deliver real results for the people of Bermuda.

So, Mr. Speaker, I move that the Bill be committed.

The Speaker: Thank you, Junior Minister.

Deputy Speaker, would you like to take the Chair?

House in Committee at 2:55 pm

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Chairman]

COMMITTEE ON BILL

CUSTOMS TARIFF AMENDMENT ACT 2025

The Chairman: It has been moved that the Bill entitled the Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025 be committed.

Is that approved? Yes.

I call on the Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

I move that all clauses be moved.

The Chairman: It has been moved that we consider all clauses together.

Any objections?

There are none. Continue, Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

This Bill seeks to [repeal and replace] the First and [amend the] Fifth Schedule to the Customs Tariff Act 1970, ("the principal Act).

Clause 1 provides the citation for the Bill.

Clause 2 repeals and replaces the First Schedule to the Customs Tariff Act 1970 by the contents of the Schedule to this Bill. The First Schedule is published on the Bermuda Government Portal at the following [web address]: www.gov.bm/schedules-customs-tariff-act-1970.

Clause 3 amends the [Fifth] Schedule to the Customs [Tariff] Act 1970 by repealing and replacing CPC 4240 (Hospital operating supplies) and by amending CPC 4703 (Goods of tariff code 2710.192 (Diesel)) and CPC 4705 (Goods of tariff code 2710.194 (Fuel oil)).

Clause 4 provides for commencement of the Bill.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the clauses?

I recognise the Member from constituency 25. Member, you have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Madam Chairman. Regarding clauses 3(3) and 3(4), the diesel and fuel oils, was there any consideration to do a graduated or a progressive way of looking at this tax that could have been adjusted . . . so that this duty relief could have been adjusted according to usage? Thank you.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Junior Minister, is a point of clarification needed?

Hon. E. David Burt: There is, yes.

The Chairman: I recognise the Premier from constituency 18.

Member, could you clarify your question so that it can be answered?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, referring to the Bill, Madam Chairman, the clauses I referenced adjust the tariff code on diesel and fuel oil usage respectively down from $0.08 per litre to $0.04 per litre.

My understanding of this, of course, flows through into your BELCO bill fuel adjustment rate and it is much touted by the Government as a tax saving to the end-user of electricity on this Island.

It is also well understood that those who have the privilege and the luck to have the larger, more expensive houses and run a lot of air conditioners and use a lot of electricity will have the same duty break, the same rate change from $0.08 down to $0.04 per litre will flow through into their bill, which will by a necessity be much larger than someone who perhaps makes less money and is in a smaller house and uses less electricity.

My question is, did the Government consider a mechanism by which those who use the most electricity might perhaps not get the same reduction as those who use the least electricity and perhaps struggled the most to pay their electric bill?

Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

I recognise the Premier from constituency 18. Premier?

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

Madam Chairman, I tried to explain this in the full House. I'll try to explain it to the Honourable Member again, but I know the Honourable Member is, you know, trying to play to the media and trying to say X, Y, and Z. So let me help him out.

Number one, the way that these taxes are done is a question of imports. What he is suggesting is an entire remake of a tax importation system, which will not make sense, number one.

Number two, the reason why custom tariffs are amazing is because they are simple and easy to collect. We have one person versus the other mechanism to which he's speaking about. The second thing, which I am certain the Honourable Member is aware of, is that when it comes to retail tariffs for residential customers, those who use less actually pay less, not just because they consume less, because under 700 kilowatt per hours, it is a lower rate, and then it goes up, and then it goes up to those persons who need more.

So that is being done. And the Honourable Minister of Home Affairs, who is responsible where we saw matters, has written to the Regulatory Authority for further matters to look at how we can better address it.

So, I understand what the Honourable Member is saying. But people listening to him would think that the Government . . . everyone is paying the same. That is not correct. The retail tariff methodology means that persons who consume less do pay less. And as they do more the kilowatt hour charge on those rates goes higher and higher and higher. So, in fact, the persons who—

The Chairman: It's bands.

Hon. E. David Burt: Exactly. There are bands. The people who are large consumers of electricity are paying more.

So, the truth is that the overall reduction affects and impacts those at the lower level to a higher extent than it does to those in the upper level. What he's asking to be achieved is actually achieved through the mechanisms that exist.

The Chairman: Thank you, Minister.

I recognise the member from constituency 25. You have the floor.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I actually did not ask for any particular thing to be achieved. I asked if the Government had considered that. I believe the answer is no, they did not, because it is complicated.

That's my takeaway. Thank you, Madam Chairman.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

I recognise the Member from constituency 18. Mr. Premier, you have the floor.

Hon. E. David Burt: Madam Chairman, I would sincerely hope that this Honourable Member would come up with new tactics, because his tactics are very predictable. The reality is that the reason why he's posing "consider" is because I think he already knows the answer. And it goes back to what the Honourable Member said, that sometimes the speeches which are made are for the effect outside rather than actually dealing with the policy here. Because if the Honourable Member—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: If the Honourable Member was serious about the policy here, he would note and understand what I said. Because during the general debate they said to ensure that those persons who may be able to afford less are able to benefit from this relief. And the explanation that I just gave with the way that retail tariffs are done on electricity means that the impact will be greater for those at the lower level.

But it is across the board on the fuel adjustment rate. So, it also affects the small businesses, the same ones that the Honourable Member from constituency 12 was talking about in regard to cash flow. It applies across the board.

It is important when we're talking about electricity rates. But the retail tariff methodology does have lower rates for those persons with lower consumption, to encourage lower consumption as well.

The Chairman: Yes. Thank you, Premier.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the clauses?

There being none, I call on the Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

I move that the preamble be approved.

The Chairman: Yes.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I move the clauses.

The Chairman: You moved them for consideration.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Yes, I move all clauses be passed.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the clauses be approved.

Are there any objections? There are none.
So approved. Continue.

[Motion carried: Clauses 1 through 4 passed.]

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I move the preamble be approved.

The Chairman: The Schedules . . . you are moving the Schedules? We will do the preamble but we also need to do the Schedule.

It has been moved that the preamble be approved.

Are there any objections? There are none.
Continue, Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I will move the Schedules also.

The Chairman: Yes. It has been moved that the Schedules be approved.

Are there any objections? There are none. So approved.

[Motion carried: Schedules passed.]

The Chairman: One more—you move that the—

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Be reported to the House as printed.

The Chairman: Thank you.

It has been moved that the Bill be reported to the House as printed.

Are there any objections to that?
There are none. So approved.

[Gavel]

[Motion carried: The Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025 was considered by a Committee of the whole House and passed without amendment.]

House resumed at 3:04 pm

[Hon. Dennis P. Lister, Jr., Speaker, in the Chair]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

CUSTOMS TARIFF AMENDMENT ACT 2025

The Speaker: Members, are there any objections to the Bill entitled the Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025 being reported to the House as printed?

There are none. The matter has been reported as printed.

Thank you, Members, for your participation in that matter.

We will now move on to the second item to debate this afternoon, which is the second reading of the Land Tax Amendment Act 2025 in the name of the Premier.

Is the Premier or Junior Minister doing it?

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I will do it.

The Speaker: The Junior Minister is carrying this one as well?

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Okay, Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, with the Governor's recommendation, I move that the Bill entitled the Land Tax Amendment Act 2025 be now read the second time.

The Speaker: Any objections?
None. Continue.

BILL

SECOND READING

LAND TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, today I am presenting to this Honourable House the Land Tax Amendment Act 2025. This Bill will amend the Land Tax Act 1967 by decreasing the base rate tax for residential units, another tax reduction.

Mr. Speaker, as the Minister of Finance stated in the budget speech, Bermuda's land tax is a significant revenue earner for the Government, but it also represents a burden for homeowners and renters alike. In 2019, a new base rate was introduced and set at $300 a year. Given the Island's fiscal progress, more tax relief can be provided. The Government will reduce the base rate of land tax from $300 per year to $150. This reduction will apply to all homeowners and renters who pay land tax.

Mr. Speaker, as Honourable Members are aware, annual land tax is managed in two periods, from 1 July to 31 December, and 1 January to 30 June each year. The proposed change to the land tax base rate will go into effect as of 1 January 2026. This ensures that the Office of the Tax Commissioner has sufficient time to make the necessary adjustments to billing amounts and notices to be provided to impacted homeowners.

Mr. Speaker, we hear the cries from our people who are finding it difficult to navigate our economic landscape and offer assistance as we can. Once again, listening to the people, Mr. Speaker. This reduction will assist all homeowners and renters.

I also add, Mr. Speaker, that the majority of the workforce, which we can safely assume also includes a number of homeowners, have seen their taxes decrease in prior fiscal years. Having done this and achieved balance, we believe this is the right time to provide further relief. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Junior Minister.

Does any other Member . . . the Shadow Minister of Finance.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I believe it was stated by the Premier that they know what questions I am going to ask—

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: So, I would have hoped they perhaps could address them in the brief so we could just get through all this.

But listen, we support this.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Don't give me the "but" now.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: We support this, Mr. Speaker, but I want to talk about this: the base rate. And I guess the question is, or the suggestion to the Government is, why is everybody getting this break on the base rate? Again, it's the same principle which we discussed of targeting the relief to those who need it most.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I was able to get a copy of the valuation list that's publicly available. Perhaps I had an out-of-date copy, I don't know. But by my assessment, about 55 per cent of the residential ARVs (Annual Rental Values) fall underneath the rent control threshold. Also, based on the number of units in the valuation list, again, my estimate of what this tax relief is costing the Government is about $9 million to $10 million.

Perhaps the Government could clarify what that cost is. But if you think about that, Mr. Speaker, that means about half of that $9 million to $10 million, that break is being given to people above the rent control ARV threshold. Now, we could have a spirited debate about, if you didn't want to give everybody this $150 a year break, where would you draw the line? And that would be an interesting debate.

But I would submit to you, Mr. Speaker, and to the Government, that there is probably a line of ARVs where this break will not impact people that much. Whereas underneath that line, the people impacted could have enjoyed and benefited in a much more meaningful way, a larger break.

Now, I won't get into it anymore because, of course, I think we've all fully discussed the principles behind that, Mr. Speaker. So, I look forward to the Government's response. But as I said, we do support, and I did think I had one or two questions in there as well.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Minister for Cabinet, would you like to make a contribution?

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I know my colleague next to me referenced grandstanding, Mr. Speaker.

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: I think for the listening public, I think the definition of grandstanding is important here.

The definition, according to Cambridge, is acting or speaking in a way intended to attract the good opinion of others who may be watching. And we definitely get to see this on a regular basis, Mr. Speaker. I do know that that Member has not been a Member of this House for that long. I do know that he prides himself in being the intellectual financial guru that all of us wish we could be, Mr. Speaker.

I am old enough around here, Mr. Speaker, to understand when we first brought the changes to land tax, and I'm sure my Honourable Member who introduced this Bill will be able to talk to this when he does reply, that when we did bring this, we heard the same argument.

But, Mr. Speaker, the changes that we made then greatly affect the persons at the higher end of the ARV listing than the people at the lower end. This was put in place to in fact give relief, back then when it was dropped to $300, the base rate, to give relief to almost . . . and I want to say, if my memory serves me correctly, almost 70 per cent. Seventy per cent to 80 per cent of the people paid less than what they had ever paid before, while the people at the upper end paid almost double of what they were paying before.

An Hon. Member: That's right.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: So, Mr. Speaker, doing this creates even more relief for those persons at the lower end, unfortunately. And so, I would ask that Member to go back—and I know that he's really good at looking at Hansard—to go back when we first debated this, because this brings relief to almost the vast majority of persons that pay. Not, as he said, 50 per cent are under the threshold and 50 per cent above. It doesn't actually work that way, because if you look at the bands, it works on bands. And so, there are persons now who pay $600 a year, will now pay $300. That's $300 more that they did not have. And that's all they will pay.

But the bands above that are not affected, and the way they are staggered is they increase exponentially as you go up. So, the people at the top of the list still pay a heck of a lot more than the people at the bottom of the list, Mr. Speaker.

And so, I'm actually . . . and I mentioned the grandstanding because we spent a lot of time in the last debate, and I am not reflecting on that debate, but the Member from [constituency] 25 was speaking about, you know, why don't we do the tax relief on persons who fall under the rent control? We didn't hear that argument now, because everybody under rent control will see a $300 difference this year. Everyone. And they will not pay a dime more.

An Hon. Member: That's significant.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Everybody above the rent control ARV, will still pay more. So, I don't know if it was good enough to mention before, but it's not good enough to mention . . . to argue now. Again, I'm assuming that's where my learned, my friend next to me gets the term grandstanding from, because it sounds like grandstanding.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I do believe the Honourable Minister may be a little confused, because my understanding is this Bill impacts the base rate, and that base rate applies to all land taxpayers. So, in fact, even at the higher bands, the discount in this Bill would be received, is my understanding. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Okay.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for that non-point of order, because I did say that it affects everybody when I was speaking.

The Speaker: Well, he was just clarifying. But go ahead.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker, but this, once again, is tax relief that people will greatly appreciate. And especially, I know when I go out and canvass, Mr. Speaker, because I have a lot of . . . in my little constituency, in [constituency] 13 we have a lot of landowners, and we have persons who rent, and we have a lot of units that are under that threshold ARV. So, they will greatly accept that they're going to pay $300 less per [year].

This puts more money in our renters' pockets to go out and spend in the economy, because they're not paying that. Some people do charge the tenants the land tax. The persons who do not charge, the persons who are living in their own home, that's $300 more that they have. And I do believe that when we look at this from its entirety, I mean, we went from a previous debate arguing that, you know, $6, and we said it all adds up. Now we're up to, according to this, we're now up to $306, $372 per year. And as we continue to have these discussions, we will find that even more tax relief is coming to our constituents, Mr. Speaker.

But I thank you for allowing me that time, Mr. Speaker. I look forward to . . . I wholeheartedly support this, and I'm glad that we did bring this. And thank you, Junior Minister, for bringing it forward. And I hope we don't have any more discussion on this, Mr. Speaker, so we can just move on.

The Speaker: Everybody's entitled to add their comments to it.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Everyone's entitled. Yes.

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

My colleague already stated that we support this, but I just wanted to bring something forward from my time in canvassing that I've noticed a lot of seniors over the age of 65 who qualify for an exemption underneath the current legislation are not truly aware, and I've walked through this process with a lot of them. And I just wanted to bring that up because since this relief is coming in, it's going to mean a lot to seniors who fall under that $45,000 ARV.

And I just wanted to know whether or not—

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Dwayne Robinson: I just wanted to inquire and bring this forward to the Government as to whether or not they've considered making this exemption automatic for our seniors who qualify for it. Because what I've heard from constituents on the doorstep with mobility issues or all manner of things that prevents them from potentially getting this in or having to call in a younger member, I think that it would make a huge difference if we're talking about relief. I've met seniors who are 75 years old and older who haven't been getting their exemption at this time. And we have to fill it out for them and sort that out.

So, I just thought it would be a great suggestion to look into a way to make sure that that's automatic for seniors who qualify. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you.

[Would] anyone else like to make a contribution? Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, this particular Bill—

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: This particular Bill I am well aware of. The biggest challenge that we have when it comes to a person automatically at 40, 60, 65 getting an exemption is because there are individuals that own

10 houses in their name. So, it's the main residence. So primary residence, absolutely right. So, can you imagine what that would be? And I'm sure that Mr. DeCouto would be on his feet talking about that if he gave everybody who owns like 10 houses or 20 houses. So that's where you've got to own it. And if there are individuals, we would thank you for that. But there are people who actually do it.

Mr. Speaker, I can say without a shadow of a doubt that during the time of the OBA Government from 2012 to 2017, they had two major increases in land tax and affected every single one during that time. Every single one. Where the Progressive Labour Party has been more progressive in ensuring that those individuals, like some of you guys in this room, who have ARVs over $120,000, be charged a significant amount more. Trust me, I felt the pain myself. And so, the increase went from 14 per cent over $120,000 ARV to 25 per cent. Trust me. It was huge. Absolutely right. So, it was huge.

So, the Government has done progressive things over the years to ensure that individuals who have these higher ARVs pay more. So that benefited Bermudans overall. And I said for $120,000, and then of course, what my honourable colleague said, are bands.

And so right now the base will be $300 . . . sorry, $150 per year. So, it would be $75 per every six months. There will be a bill to these individuals. And you can work out that $150 divided by 12, how much a person is paying. So, we've helped out a significant amount of people who fall within that bracket. And I mean significant.

Also, not only the owner, but mainly a lot of landlords pass on the land tax to the individuals who rent their property. So, this is a great move by the Government. And the reason why we are able to do these types of things, Mr. Speaker, is because as the economy improves and the Government gets more revenue, we are able to ease up the burden for individuals who pay tax. And that's the purpose. Once again, we are listening and making things happen.

I'll tell you what we did do, Mr. Speaker. In 2021, commercial properties were being charged 7.0 per cent by the One Bermuda Alliance. Their commercial friends had properties 7.0 per cent. This Government increased it to 9.5 per cent. So of course, at the end of the day, we were ensuring that those individuals who have property . . . and I am going to tell you right now, I met with them. I was very much involved in those days in meeting with individuals. And we were able to come to the agreement of 9.5 per cent.

So once again, Mr. Speaker, this Government has been progressive. We recognise the burden that falls on our people. So, we started with the $6, as the Honourable Member complained about $6. But as you can see that we've continuously . . . and I've still got one more to go, and there are more to come, that we continue to give tax breaks to the people of Bermuda. I'm sure that they appreciate it.

So, Mr. Speaker, with those few further remarks, I move that the Bill be committed.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Deputy [Speaker].

House in Committee at 3:21 pm

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Chairman]

COMMITTEE ON BILL

LAND TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

The Chairman: Members, it has been moved that the Bill entitled Land Tax Amendment Act 2025 be committed.

Are there any objections to that? So approved. I call on the Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam Chairman, if everyone agrees, I will move all clauses.

The Chairman: It has been moved that all clauses be dealt with at the same time.

Are there any objections to that? There are none.

Continue, [Junior] Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam Chairman. The primary purpose . . . hold on.

This Bill seeks to amend the base rate for residence units under the Land Tax Act 1967.

Clause 1 provides the title of the Bill.

Clause 2 amends section 2 of the Land Tax Act 1967 by decreasing the base rate of land tax payable in respect of rental units within all annual rental value bands. It also amends a reference to the Schedule to the Land Tax Act 1967 to the correct column containing the rates for each of the annual rental value bands.

Clause 3 provides that the Bill come into operation on January 2025 [sic].

The Chairman: Six.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Six . . . sorry.

The Chairman: Yes. Thank you.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to the clauses?

There are no other Members who wish to speak to the clauses?

Yes, there's one other Member who wishes to speak to the clauses and that's the Member from constituency 18, the Premier. You have the floor.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Madam Chairman.

I do note on these particular clauses, and I certainly wanted to provide for full clarity to the Honourable House, as I know the Junior Minister stated about the base rates. Certainly, these rates were increased in 2018 or 2019. They were one of the changes where we did an across-the-board change and this is around bringing further relief. It is a simple Bill. It is a nice Bill, but it will cut everyone's land tax bill in this country.

The Chairman: Thank you, Member.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak to clauses 1, 2 and 3?

There being none, Junior Minister, you have the floor.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I move that the Bill be . . . clauses, sorry, be moved.

The Chairman: He has moved that clauses 1, 2 and 3 be approved.

Any objections to that?

There are none. So approved.

[Motion carried: Clauses 1 through 3 passed.]

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I move that the preamble be approved.

The Chairman: He's moved that the preamble be approved.

Any objections to that? So approved.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I move that the Bill be reported to the House as printed.

The Chairman: He has moved that the Bill be reported to the House as printed.

Any objections?

There are none. So approved.

[Motion carried: The Land Tax Amendment Act 2025 was considered by a Committee of the whole House and passed without amendment.]

House resumed at 3:24 pm

[Hon. Dennis P. Lister, Jr., Speaker, in the Chair]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

LAND TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

The Speaker: Members, are there any objections to the Bill entitled the Land Tax Amendment Act 2025 being reported to the House as printed?

There are none. The Bill has been reported as printed.

The Speaker: Premier—Junior—

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: We're doing a third reading?

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Yes—

The Speaker: Oh, you're doing another Bill?

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: No, one more Bill, Mr. Speaker. This is Payroll Tax.

The Speaker: Okay, so for the listening audience, we're doing the second reading of the Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025, and the Junior Minister will lead us in that.

SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDER 29(1)

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, again, I move that Standing Order 29(1) be suspended to enable the House to proceed with the second reading of the Bill entitled Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025.

The Speaker: Are there any objections?
Continue, Junior Minister.

[Motion carried: Standing Order 29(1) suspended.]

BILL

SECOND READING

PAYROLL TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, with the Government's recommendation, I move that the Bill entitled the Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025 be now read the second time.

The Speaker: Yes.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to present to this Honourable House the Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025. This Bill will make amendments to both the Payroll Tax [Act] 1995 and the Payroll Tax Rates Act 1995.

Mr. Speaker, and Honourable Members, the effect of this amendment is to exempt the employee portion of the payroll tax on payments made to employees on account of redundancy or otherwise in connection with the permanent termination of employment.

Mr. Speaker, this Bill represents our commitment to supporting employees during the uncertainty that comes with job loss. By providing payroll tax relief on redundancy and like payments, it ensures that more money stays in the hands of those affected. This Government, once again, is committed to providing a relief and assistance to the people who need it most.

Mr. Speaker, the first amendment will establish a special provision in the Payroll Tax [Act] 1995 for remuneration paid to an employee in connection with the permanent termination of employment on account of redundancy or otherwise. Under the current legislation, such payments will be subject to payroll tax on both the employer and employee portions for up to three years following termination. This amendment will now exempt those payments from the employee standard rate bands thereby providing meaningful relief to the employee during a crucial period of transition . . . critical period of transition, I should say.

Mr. Speaker, the second amendment pertains to the Payroll Tax Rates [Act] 1995, which currently outlines tax based on employee rate bands. This amendment introduced a significant change by prescribing a zero per cent rate on the employee portion of payroll tax for remuneration paid in connection with the permanent termination of employment.

Mr. Speaker, in conclusion, I wish to reaffirm that this Government remains steadfast in its commitment to listening to the people. We continue to act with fiscal responsibility and sound governance while delivering meaningful relief where it is most needed.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Would any other . . . Shadow Minister.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm almost afraid to stand up and voice my opinion that some people in the Government seem to think we're not allowed to express opinions up here.

[Inaudible interjections]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: We definitely support this Bill.

An Hon. Member: Yes, but . . .

Some Hon. Members: But.

[Inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: Let him speak. Let him speak.

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Mr. Speaker, we definitely support this Bill and—

Several Hon. Members: Ooh!

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: —and we would like to congratulate the Government on bringing such a well-targeted piece of legislation.

Several Hon. Members: Ooh!

[Desk thumping]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: You like that?

[Inaudible interjections and laughter]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: And while they are looking at payroll tax legislation, Mr. Speaker, I would make a gentle suggestion. Perhaps they could look at how things like health insurance impact people's . . . rises in health insurance are impacting people's payroll tax amounts paid or the setting of the payroll tax bands in relation to inflation and how salaries in some industries are hopefully connected with that.

But, of course, we support this well-targeted piece of legislation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

[Laughter]

An Hon. Member: All right!

The Speaker: Does any other Member—

An Hon. Member: Lightning and thunder outside.

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

The Speaker: MP Ming—

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Come on, Ming!

Mrs. Renee Ming: Yes, good afternoon, Mr. Speaker, and listening audience. I am . . . I actually am really glad to hear that the Opposition have supported this piece of legislation. Each and every one of us who sits in this space probably knows someone who has lost their job through redundancy.

And besides the financial impact that it has had, it's also what it does to our mental psyche to know that there is no further pay cheque coming at this time.

So, this Bill is, I'm going to say timely, but maybe overdue as well. But it's okay because we are now doing it and I think that those persons who have felt this will be pleased because there is nothing worse than if you are kicking a horse when it is already down and they can know that there's some savings that's coming to them during the time of redundancy.

So, I just want to say thank you to the Minister for bringing it. I know he's probably tired of hearing my mouth on it. I'll find something else to lend my voice to soon. But I think that in terms of our people and the impact that redundancy can have, like I said, not just financial but also on our psyche, this is good work, and I am sure that it will be appreciated.

And I just, like I said, thank the people on my side as well as the Opposition because most of you have heard from me on this and I appreciate the support, and I appreciate the Government for bringing it at this time.

Thank you.

The Speaker: Any other? The Minister for Cabinet.

Hon. Diallo V. S. Rabain: Mr. Speaker, I will not be long. I just wanted to lend my support.

Thank you. And I know this is something that MP Ming has advocated for and I'm so happy to see it finally come to fruition.

It is an especially poignant moment for me is because today at lunch I ran into someone, and she gleefully said she had found a job and she started this week. The irony of this is I do not know who this person was when I ran into her a month . . . or about six weeks ago. I do know she stays in your constituency, Mr. Speaker. I just don't know who . . . and she said, Hey, I just got made redundant. I heard that there is supposed to be some sort of relief for having to pay payroll tax and can you look into it?

And that's when I realised we had not . . . I know it had been discussed, but we had not passed it yet. And so, I saw first hand, MP Ming, someone who said, you know, I'm being made redundant. And when I got my redundancy check, $8,000 was taken out for payroll tax and it's just completely unfair.

And I just happened to run into this young lady today while we were buying lunch and I told her, hey, that, you know, that thing we talked about is getting passed today. And she was just absolutely ecstatic for persons to come after her. So, with that . . . that very real example of making a difference, it feels so much better when you actually know that someone was looking out for that and they noticed there.

Mr Speaker, I just want to say thank you for bringing this. Thank you, Junior Minister for shepherding this through. Thank you, MP Ming for your advocacy and thank you Opposition for your 1,000 per cent support along with the "ands."

The Speaker: Any other . . . Minister Hayward, Minister of Economy and Labour.

[Crosstalk]

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Speaker, thank you. I support this Bill wholeheartedly. This is part of a government framework to increase both labour and social protections.

When we looked at what is required to ensure that we provide the proper social safety nets for our residents, we provide the necessary labour protections. This is one change that is in alignment with that philosophy that we want to increase the level of social protections available to the residents of Bermuda. This change goes in alignment with the change that was made recently to increase the maximum redundancy or severance payout according to law. And so now the amount of money one can receive in terms of the benefit that they are due will increase for some who have been long-serving employees and the amount that they retain as pertains to the take home pay would increase.

This has to be viewed by all in a very positive light. The situation surrounding redundancy is very precarious. We have tried to strengthen our law as it pertains to redundancy in terms of putting consultation periods in place so that we can better equip persons for the path to redundancy. We want to ensure that all options are exhausted as best as we possibly can. I think the legislation is written in a stronger manner than is actually practiced.

And so, these consultation periods which is supposed to lead to positive outcomes are not necessarily always meaningful consultations. They sometimes are used as a means to justify an end, which is redundancy. Notwithstanding, there could be other options worked out between the employer and the employee so that that person does not find themselves in a period of redundancy.

This has also got to be viewed in the light of what we have done in terms of the sudden hardship benefit that we have extended for financial assistance for a three-month period. If somebody's income or persons find themselves in a precarious situation, if the home breadwinner has lost their job, how do we ensure that they receive some level of support during this period of transition? And the period of transition can be rough for some persons, and it can be a period where you never fully rebound because you can get in debt in that particular period.

And missing your rent for a few months can be very detrimental to a number . . . you know, the impact can be felt in a number of years of your life moving forward. Not just the financial hardship it brings, but the social and emotional hardship and stress that it brings when people do find themselves in precarious situations.

So, I don't want this Bill just to be viewed from a tax standpoint. This Bill is part of a holistic set . . . a suite of policy measures to better support our residents and the people of Bermuda. Being the Minister responsible for Economy and Labour and having control over the Department of Labour, I have certainly not been immune to the horror stories. Being a former president of a union where you're sitting at a table and somebody's fate is at your hands and hearing an employer telling an employee that this is their last day of work and that employer leaves the room and the employee looks to you as the union rep and says, What next? And you don't have an answer for him. You provide a little bit of confident words, and you give them a process in terms of what they can engage, how they can engage in moving forward. But the real question is never answered as it pertains to what next and how that person moves on.

Now those persons who were in my position have a better story to tell in terms of the level of protection that they can provide. So, you can say, Okay we can see if you qualify for the financial assistance short-term benefit. We know that based off of your length of service you may get a higher payout now.

We also know that based off of the changes that were made today that there should not be any deductions as it pertains to tax to that particular payout. And so, the story is becoming better as you can explain to employees what now. There still needs to be a better method of how persons are treated during redundancy and we are looking at that as well.

I have been told a person comes to work, gets called into a room, gets told that they have been made redundant and do not even have the courtesy . . . don't even [get] the courtesy to go back to the desk and collect the stuff. They have somebody else . . . security collecting their stuff. Their swipe cards are gone. They do not [receive] the courtesy to even log out of their computer. And so, the way in which persons are treated, I continuously, when I meet with employers, explain that we must have a human-centred approach to our processes.

If you plan on making somebody redundancy, can you also provide wraparound services? Can you provide the necessary employment engagement services that may be required? You do not know if that person may have some social-emotional impact. Can you even give them, ensure that they have Employee Assistance Programme (EAP) assistance? It is very hard for somebody to hear who's going through a medical emergency that their health insurance, their major medical, will be cut off immediately as well. How do we transition to ensuring that this person at least have health insurance for a period of time?

All of these things are things that we are looking into. And so, I do not want persons view this in isolation. I think everyone who has advocated for progress in this particular space, because it does impact the lives, and not just segments of Bermudians. Bermudians at any stratum and tier within our society. So, I thank the Honourable Junior Minister for bringing this Bill, and I wholeheartedly support it.

The Speaker: Thank you.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution?

There are none. Premier?

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to make sure that no one else wanted to speak before I got up, so that the Junior Minister can close out.

Mr. Speaker, the Bill before us today is what responsive and responsible government looks like. Because, Mr. Speaker, this is not something that was inside of the Government's 2017 or 2020 Election Manifesto, but it is something that was raised from a constituent to one of our political colleagues, the Honourable Member for constituency 1, who spoke in support of this earlier. And it is something of which we have added into our programme of work, something that was in our election manifesto, and something that we are delivering today.

It is important because in the exact same way that others have told the stories, Mr. Speaker, I too have a story, but mine is a little bit more recent. Mine was just from a week ago, out on the parade route at Bermuda Day, where someone had said to me, Why are you charging me payroll tax on my redundancy pay?

And I was able to say, unfortunately, it will not help you if you've already been made redundant. But when we go to the House next week, we are going to pass that change so that redundancy pay is not subject to payroll tax going forward. Again, what responsible and what responsive government looks like.

We are, Mr. Speaker, a labour party. We are a labour government. You've heard from the Minister of Economy and Labour, who just took his seat, of the various measures of which we are taking inside of this area. And this is just one more step that this Government is doing to ensure that Bermuda is made more fair. And so, I welcome the support of the party opposite. The party opposite had said that they support this. And I think it was an "and" and I don't remember specifically what the "and" was. Maybe it was around going further, or more targeted, or more relief, or other ways. But I think it provides an opportunity for those persons listening to reflect on the fairness that this Government has brought to the payroll tax system.

Because though, Mr. Speaker, many of us may not recognise and understand, we have many constituents . . . those persons who may be labourers on construction sites, who may be cashiers at our various grocery stores, who are making $23 an hour. And I say $23 an hour, Mr. Speaker, because it's important. Because I want to highlight, as we are talking about the general principles of this Bill, and we are talking about the Payroll Tax Act, what this Government has done insofar as making sure that we are targeted and help those persons who need the help most.

So, here's the thing, Mr. Speaker. If you are making $23 an hour, in 2018, we reduced your annual tax bill by $360. In 2020, we reduced that tax bill by a further $960. In 2022, again, making $23 an hour, we reduced your tax bill by another $240. And in 2023, we reduced your tax bill by a further $480. That's someone making $23 an hour. And I'm sure, Mr. Speaker, many of us know people who are making $23 an hour—whether you're a student, whether you're someone in . . . whether you are in hospitality, whether you are somewhere else. And of course, we understand about payroll taxes on tips. I guess the gentlemen overseas may have taken that from the Progressive Labour Party Government. Yet I digress, Mr. Speaker.

So, the total annual reduction in taxes paid by someone making $23 an hour, Mr. Speaker, is $2,040 a year. That is real and meaningful relief. And that person, of course, they have a cell phone, will pay $72 less a year as well. So we're adding on to that as well.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. E. David Burt: And if that person has a land tax bill where they're paying, they're going to be paying, and that's going to be added on that as well, Mr. Speaker.

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: Yes, and if that person has a BELCO bill, that BELCO bill is going to be cut because we're adding on to that as well, Mr. Speaker. Relief across the board.

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, the cumulative savings for that individual making $23 an hour since this party was returned to Government is $9,480.

An Hon. Member: Wow.

Hon. E. David Burt: Mr. Speaker, $9,480.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No point of order on that is there?

Hon. E. David Burt: That, Mr. Speaker, is what fair, responsive, targeted towards those who need it most government looks like. That is the record of this Progressive Labour Party Government, Mr. Speaker. For those persons who need the relief, we make sure that we deliver that relief. And how was it paid for, Mr. Speaker? It was paid for by increasing taxes on those making over $200,000 a year.

And it is important to note, Mr. Speaker, because I will continue to repeat it as long as I have a place in this Honourable House, that those changes to reduce taxes on 86 per cent of workers in this country and increase it on the high earners was opposed by the One Bermuda Alliance.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes. Yes, it was.

Hon. E. David Burt: So that $9,480 of cumulative savings for that cashier at MarketPlace, that labourer on the job site, that person who's working in our hospitality industry otherwise was opposed by the party opposite but supported and delivered by this Progressive Labour Party Government.

Our labour roots run deep, and we will continue to deliver the relief across the board while also making sure that we deliver the targeted relief, because you can walk and chew gum at the same time.

And that, Mr. Speaker, is the record of this Government. Thank you.

An Hon. Member: Hear, hear!

[Desk thumping]

The Speaker: Any other Member? Junior Minister?

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
With all Members supporting this Bill, I move that the Bill be moved to Committee.

The Speaker: Okay. Deputy.

House in Committee at 3:48 pm

[Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo, Chairman]

COMMITTEE ON BILL

PAYROLL TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

The Chairman: Members, it has been moved that the Bill entitled the Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025 be committed.

Any objections? There are none.
Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam Chairman, I move that all clauses be moved.

The Chairman: It has been moved that all clauses be approved.

Are there any objections?
There are none. Approved.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam Chairman, this Bill seeks to amend the Payroll Tax [Act] 1995 and the Payroll Tax Rates Act 1995, the "Rates Act," to reduce to zero an employee's liability to pay payroll tax on remuneration given in connection with the permanent termination of employment.

Clause 1 provides the title of the Bill.

Clause 2 inserts new Section 9E into the Payroll Tax [Act] 1995. This provides that an employee is not liable to pay payroll tax at the employee's standard rate, bans in relation to any remuneration falling within Section 7(1)(c) of the Act (payments made or things or value given in connection with the permanent termination of employment on account of redundancy or otherwise), but instead at the rate prescribed by the Rates Act. The employer's liability to payroll tax on such payment is not changed.

Clause 3 inserts new section 4D into the Rates Act which prescribes zero per cent as the rate of payroll tax chargeable to an employee for such remuneration.

Clause 4 provides for commencement on 1 July 2025 and confirms that the rate change will apply in relation to remuneration given to an employee or former employee on or after that date in connection with the permanent termination of employment, regardless of the date of termination.

The Chairman: Thank you.

Are there any other Members who wish to speak in consideration of the clauses?

There being none, Junior Minister.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam Chairman, I move that all clauses be approved.

The Chairman: It has been moved that all clauses be approved.

Any objections? There are none.

All clauses are approved. Junior Minister.

[Motion carried: Clauses 1 through 4 passed.]

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam Chairman, I move that the preamble be approved.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the preamble be approved.

Any objections? There are none.

Approved.

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Madam Chairman, I move that the Bill be reported to the House as printed.

The Chairman: It has been moved that the Bill be reported to the House as printed.

Are there any objections? There are none.

So approved.

[Motion carried: The Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025 was considered by a Committee of the whole House and passed without amendment.]

House resumed at 3:51 pm

[Hon. Dennis P. Lister, Jr., Speaker, in the Chair]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

PAYROLL TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

The Speaker: Members, are there any objections to the Bill entitled Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025 being reported to the House as printed?

There are no objections. The Bill has been reported as printed.

The Speaker: Now, we will do our third readings. Junior Minister.

SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDER 21

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that Standing Order 21 be suspended to enable me to move the Bill entitled Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025 be now read a third time by its title only.

The Speaker: Okay. Any objections?

[Motion carried: Standing Order 21 suspended.]

BILL

THIRD READING

CUSTOMS TARIFF AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I move that the Bill be now read a third time by its title [only] and passed.

The Speaker: The Bill has been read a third time by its title only and is now passed.

[Motion carried: The Customs Tariff Amendment Act 2025 was read a third time and passed.]

The Speaker: Do your next item.

SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDER 21

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, I move that Standing Order 21 be suspended to enable me to move the Bill entitled Land Tax Amendment Act 2025 be now read a third time by its title only.

The Speaker: Continue.

[Motion carried: Standing Order 21 suspended.]

BILL

THIRD READING

LAND TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I move that the Bill be now read a third time by its title only and passed.

The Speaker: The Bill has been read a third time by its title only and is now passed.

[Motion carried: The Land Tax Amendment Act 2025 was read a third time and passed.]

SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDER 21

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: Mr. Speaker, I move that Standing Order 21 be suspended to enable me to move the Bill entitled Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025 be now read a third time by its title only.

The Speaker: Any objections? None.
Continue.

[Motion carried: Standing Order 21 suspended.]

BILL

THIRD READING

PAYROLL TAX AMENDMENT ACT 2025

Hon. Wayne L. Furbert: I move that the Bill be now read a third time by its title only and passed.

The Speaker: The Bill has been read a third time by its title only and is now passed. Thank you.

[Motion carried: The Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025 was read a third time and passed.]

The Speaker: Premier.

ADJOURNMENT

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the Honourable House do now adjourn until 13 June 2025, and I have been informed that there will be Members speaking to the motion to adjourn, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Does any Member wish to make a contribution at this time?

Minister Hayward.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Good afternoon, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Good afternoon.

GOVERNMENT'S STEADFAST COMMITMENT IN DEVELOPMENT OF DOMESTIC INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS COMMUNITY

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Speaker, since I took on the role as the Minister of Economy and Labour, part of my remit is to ensure that we have robust and sustainable economic growth and development.

When I took on this portfolio, the first step that I wanted to make was to ensure that we have a robust strategy. So, we went out to develop economic development strategies that would guide the vast majority of our strategic focus and priorities as it pertains to economic growth and development in this country.

Part of that is ensuring that we have more inward investment and we expand our business sector in Bermuda. We encourage more companies to domicile in Bermuda, and we assist those companies that are currently here to expand their business activities in Bermuda. Oftentimes I have the pleasure to meet with CEOs of local companies both in the international business community and in the small and medium-sized businesses which fall in part of the other sectors in our community. And I am able to directly get a first-hand understanding of the trajectory of where those businesses are going, as well as explain to them some of the policy measures that we are putting in place.

Oftentimes when I'm on the road internationally and I'm meeting with persons who are determining where to domicile, I have to explain Bermuda's value proposition because it's not readily understood by all worldwide what Bermuda has to offer. They have heard of Bermuda in some way or another but from a business standpoint and a business ecosystem standpoint, there are certainly knowledge gaps. From an economic standpoint, they don't fully understand what's the drivers of our economy and the type of sophisticated business environment that we have. I think collectively we can all take credit for the current business environment that we have. That business environment allows us to champion Bermuda in a way which is deemed to be attractive to international business.

When we look at the economy, there is certainly a positive story that I'm able to tell those particular companies. I am able to tell a story that since the pandemic we have had strong and robust economic growth. I am able to explain that in 2021, our economy in real terms grew by 5.8 per cent. That's followed by a whopping 8.0 per cent in 2022, followed by strong growth in 2023 of 4.9 per cent. The real growth in 2022 was 6.5 per cent and we are projecting to have at least 6.5 per cent growth in 2024.

When that is viewed comparatively worldwide, we are exceeding growth of the majority of advanced economies in the world. That is viewed positive by potential investors. I then go into and break down the significance of our international business sector, how that represents roughly around 29 per cent of all economic activity in Bermuda. But then I am able to go into something that many would not appreciate. And that is we had a business sector who had employment of Bermudians [that had] less than 10 per cent in the 1990s to one that is at its highest level now of over 5,047 employees. That over 50 per cent of those employees are Bermudian.

It speaks to how we have invested collectively in the development of our human capital to power a thriving business community. Oftentimes, you hear individuals try to create this segregation between international business and our domestic economy, but there is a direct connection. The direct connection is the Bermudian talent that is actually powering that sector. And the Bermudian talent that continues to filter in that sector.

The opportunities now for young persons in Bermuda are greater than they have ever been before. Our young people now are taking their skill sets, going globally, applying their trade, and coming back to that same community. That is one of the stronger areas of value proposition when we are selling Bermuda as a jurisdiction.

We are able to promote the way in which we invest in human capital and the talent that is actually available on our Island to support companies when domiciling in Bermuda. We are also able to promote and highlight our regulatory environment. The Minister of Finance laid [on the Table] today the Bermuda Monetary Authorities 2024 Annual Report, which highlights the significant body of work.

Hon. E. David Burt: Yes.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Oftentimes, in each and every one of those reports, it's a segment within those reports that outlines legislative changes on an annual basis. Those legislative changes come to this House of Assembly and are approved by this body. We are often asked or told, or this notion is raised, that the Government has nothing to do with the success of our international business community. But you cannot say that, if we create the regulatory framework that is appreciated, that enables business and attracts businesses into our environment. You cannot say that when we are investing in the human capital that that is actually empowering that particular sector. We have a large role to play in the success of that sector, and we have a large role to play in the success of Bermuda as a whole. You cannot detach the two.

We are experiencing some of the lowest unemployment rates that we have ever had, Mr. Speaker. There are a number of factors for that, but the reality is that the persons who have remained on Island are generally working.

We now have a greater imbalance as it pertains to the supply and demand of labour than we have had in previous years. And with the imminent opening of Fairmount Southampton in 2026 that problem is going to get worse. So, the Department of Workforce Development will be working in overdrive on training programmes, apprenticeship programmes, to ensure that we prepare persons for the opportunities that exist in our economy.

We will continue to work with our schools to prepare persons for the future and current world of work in Bermuda. I think the work that we have done thus far needs to be highlighted because we have done a fundamental job in terms of creating bridges to employment. More work needs to be done, but we have worked extremely hard in that particular area.

In the coming weeks I will be issuing the latest labour force survey. Many will be stunned by the result of that survey as they see the ongoing trend as it pertains to the number of Bermudians and unemployment decreasing. You heard the Minister responsible for Youth, Social Development and Seniors, when she tabled the annual report for financial assistance, regarding [how] the number of able-bodied persons on financial assistance decreased dramatically. All of that is trending in the right direction. When I looked at employment income by industry, in every industrial category employment income was up. It signals for us two things: It signifies an expansion of employment, and it also signifies wages progressing.

When we paint the picture of Bermuda, we need to paint an accurate picture. We need to tell the truth as it pertains to where we sit, where we lie, and where we currently are. Having an honest conversation, though, to get from where we are and where we desire to be is, I believe, critical, because it allows us to make the policy adjustments to close those gaps. Let's not just paint a picture of doom and gloom, and Bermuda somehow falling into the cracks, because that is not our reality.

And the success of our young people is something that actually needs to be celebrated. We have young people now in Bermuda who make more than their parents ever made. We have a record number of young persons in international business but also servicing other areas of our community as well.

The number of young persons who go away and get a secondary education is also increasing in Bermuda. The access to scholarship funding, the access to internships when they return home, all of that is increasing. That is a positive outlook for young persons who are looking to progress careers in Bermuda. This is part of a positive success story. We are creating opportunities for our young people, but Bermuda still remains a desirable place for workers throughout the world.

And as the Minister responsible for Immigration, I continue to ensure that I strike that balance, that I preserve and protect the opportunities for Bermudians as best I possibly can, while identifying gaps, ensuring that companies get the labour that they require. I think that approach is measured. I think that approach is reasonable. And I think that approach is actually appreciated by the community as a whole.

We will embark on a census in 2026 that will give us some better information on our population numbers, but also our demographic numbers. But there is always one correlation that remains evident in our census data, that is that individuals who have progressed levels of education have a higher economic outcome. That means, notwithstanding where persons are at their current stage, that we need to ensure that all boats are rising.

So, in my last meeting with my team in the Ministry of Economy and Labour, the message was that we have done well to have economic growth. But our main focus now is inclusive economic growth, ensuring that everybody else, or the entire country, feels the success of our economic prosperity. This is why we are going back to the drawing board as it pertains to how we better support small businesses and entrepreneurs by putting a national entrepreneurship strategy in place. This is why we are revisiting cooperative legislation. As an additional measure of economic diversification, having the legislative framework in place for when that option comes to fruition, persons can exercise their right to form or be part of a cooperative or invest in a cooperative.

We are going to make it easier for our small business owners to register their businesses. We are trying to streamline the government as best we possibly can. We will be embarking on a full Digital Economy Strategy. That Digital Economy Strategy will have four major pillars, Mr. Speaker. We will focus on ensuring that we provide enhanced digitized, automated government services. We will ensure that there is better digital access for private sector establishments, that there is better digital interaction between those establishments and our community.

I want to ensure that we increase our e-Commerce footprint. We want to ensure that we invest in human capital so that our people are moving forward with the technology that we are implementing. And we need to ensure that we have the infrastructure, whether that be a legal and regulatory environment, or putting physical infrastructure in place that supports innovation within our society.

Mr. Speaker, next week I will be off to the Global Entrepreneurship Congress. I will be engaging in a ministerial where I will understand how other countries are putting policy measures in place to support small and medium-size businesses. I will engage in a number of bilateral [meetings] with other countries as well. You know that we have set up memoranda of understanding for economic cooperation. We have set up one with Ghana. We are seeking to execute one with Nigeria as well. We have set up the Economic Cooperation Committees. And that is so that we can leverage the skills, the capacity that they have and the capacity that we have to ensure that their economy and our economy can benefit off of the knowledge.

Often, when I speak to the business community they are very much pleased with our financial and professional services that they can obtain, the level of legal representation that they can receive on Island, the level of legal precedent that exists within our community. They are also pleased with the level of accounting services they can find. They are pleased with the level of accommodation that they can get as it pertains to office space as well.

We do not want the city just as a place where people can work. We also want to transition the city into a place where people live, work and play. And we will be taking active steps to progress in that particular direction.

What I have embarked on is setting out a holistic plan as to how we move this economy forward. Anybody who says that we do not have a plan is either being naïve, manipulative or has not sought to understand the clarity of what we are actually doing. You just do not get continued economic growth by resting on your laurels and sitting on your hands and doing nothing. It takes active intervention into the markets to ensure that the engine continues to run.

No, we cannot take credit for everything. But we have to give credit where credit is due. We do have a long list of professionals who work on an ongoing basis. We now have industry on board as ambassadors for Bermuda who actually share Bermuda's value proposition as well.

I am impressed by the increase of small businesses. If you have listened to what I articulated regarding the BEDC [Bermuda Economic Development Corporation] during the Budget Debate you would understand that over 600 businesses engage with the BEDC. We are increasing the capacity in terms of incubators and accelerators. We are doing what is required to ensure that we continue to create opportunities that benefit the people of Bermuda. The Government is laser-focused in ensuring that we have sustainable economic growth and development. And the Ministry of Economy and Labour sits at the forefront of that.

I view the Ministry of Economy and Labour as one that is transformative, one that is focused on the future, one that is focused on change and one that is driving how we actually get there, and how we bring our people along on that particular journey. I think from the purest standpoint, if we take a snapshot of where we are from an economic standpoint, we should be pleased. That's not to say that we should not recognise that more progress needs to be made in a number of areas. We are committed to making that progress.

But, Mr. Speaker, this Government has had a steadfast commitment in the development of our domestic international business community, and in our steadfast commitment as it pertains to our investment in people. The budget process highlighted the millions of dollars that we are putting in this particular space and we will continue to do so because that is in the best interest of the residents of Bermuda.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Minister Hayward.

MP King, would you like your 20 minutes?

Mr. Robert King: Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Go right ahead.

NEED FOR HOLISTIC APPROACH TO CREATE OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUTH IN BERMUDA

Mr. Robert King: It is not all doom and gloom.

I appreciate the comments and the statements made by Minister Hayward as it relates to improving the circumstances of young Bermudians with apprenticeship programmes, providing a means for them to achieve financial independence in agency and to become contributing members of the society, many of whom have come from difficult circumstances. And we know that education is the great equaliser.

Another thing that Minister Hayward said that struck a note with me is that it is important that the truth of where we are and where we need to go . . . we need to be transparent and accountable, recognising what the problems are, what the issues are and providing a clear path forward so that we can address the needs of the community in a meaningful way.

Minister Hayward also spoke about international business and what a profound impact it has had on this country and how through international business we are able to create opportunities. And we appreciate the efforts and their contributions.

It is also important, Minister Hayward said, that we support local businesses and the local community. And the statement was also referring to the fact that unemployment is going down, this is the trend, and when the next labour force survey comes out this will be shown. However, there is another truth to this as well. Another thing that needs to be considered. Which is the fact that financial assistance, the number of persons who are on financial assistance, is currently over 2,000. And we also have approximately 1,000 people who are homeless or who are sleeping rough in unstable—

Hon. Jason Hayward: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order?

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Hon. Jason Hayward: The Honourable Member is misleading the House.

What I referred to was the decline in able-bodied persons on financial assistance. I never mentioned the total population of financial assistance in my remarks.

The Speaker: Thank you.

The Minister has clarified his comments for you.

Mr. Robert King: I am not sure why there was a point of order on that because what I was speaking to was the context of unemployment in relation to the number of persons who were receiving financial assistance. Not—

Hon. Tinee Furbert: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order?

POINT OF ORDER
[Misleading]

Hon. Tinee Furbert: The Honourable Member is misleading the House. The majority of persons on financial assistance, Mr. Speaker, are seniors, people who are not employed.

The Speaker: Have both helped? Were the comments . . . have the comments been helpful?

Mr. Robert King: The point is, Mr. Speaker, that persons who are receiving financial assistance are receiving financial assistance due to the fact of their economic circumstances. Were it not for the fact that they require public assistance to pay their bills they would not be on there regardless of age. That is the point. So, I will move on.

The homeless population is approximately 1,000. When we are looking at unemployment, yes, the trend is down. However, for the specific subset of 16 to 24 there is an over representation of young, Black Bermudian males, in particular. When you are looking at arrest rates from the police crime statistics recent and past there is an over representation of that particular age group as well, which needs to be addressed. How do we address that? We address that with apprenticeship programmes, educational programmes, attending to adverse childhood experiences. As the Minister stated, we need a holistic approach, absolutely.

The Minister will also remember that back in 2014 we sat down and had a conversation about a proposal that I had, Success through Academic and Vocational Education. What it sought to do was provide a clear path for at-risk persons to receive necessary skills and training and that jobs would be . . . there would be a clearing house for employment through a central hub so that persons would not be applying for jobs which existed, but all work permit category, persons would apply for that and be trained so that they could take their rightful place in the community.

The other thing that was mentioned in the proposal too was working with the Department of Corrections to ensure that incarcerated persons had access to a full-curriculum apprenticeship and otherwise with regularly staffed workshops so that persons who are incarcerated would be able to support themselves when they re-enter the community. As the system currently operates, the only requirement for persons to receive parole is that they have employment for three months, as opposed to persons who have served a long period of incarceration or to have the opportunity to engage in regular education and vocational programmes. At present, that does not exist. Efforts are being made to ensure that that does.

And we also understand the profound impact that will be had if persons can leave the correctional system as qualified masons, mechanics, carpenters, electricians, plumbers, et cetera, they will be able to support themselves and their families.

Many statements have been made about the intention, the vision and mission to have an empowered workforce. The One Bermuda Alliance, as Opposition, wholeheartedly supports the mission and vision. The concern that we raise is that there is no clear strategic plan with performance measures that will ensure the accountability so that these objectives can be achieved. We already know through the budget process and debate—

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Hon. E. David Burt: The Honourable Member is misleading the House.

We have an Economic Recovery Plan that has come here. We have had an Economic Development Strategy that has come here. The Minister has laid out those points, expanded on those points, has gone further into his comments today, has stated those, those matters were reported. He stated how they were reported.

The Honourable Member is misleading the House when he says there are no performance metrics. He has stated different things, youth unemployment down, from the Youth Employment Strategy. It is not correct for him to say there are no metrics. He can say they want more, but it is not correct for him to say there are none.

The Speaker: You get his point?

Mr. Robert King: Mr. Speaker, when I was talking about youth unemployment, I was speaking to the Labour Force Survey which spoke specifically to that age group, 16 to 24. Those statistics come directly out of that document. I am not speaking outside of the 16 to 24.

The statistics regarding crime came out of the Crime Statistics provided by the Bermuda Police Service. So, the point is, we have a convergence of that age group and an over representation in the criminal justice system and unemployment and that is where the focus needs to be.

We also know that that age group is over represented in terms of murders, violent offences, et cetera, and a comprehensive strategy with a holistic approach—as the Minister has suggested, and rightly so—needs to be resourced appropriately so that we can make meaningful changes and bring the trend down for the number of murders and violent deaths in this community.

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Hon. E. David Burt: We debated a Violence Reduction Strategy in this House. The Minister has shared the implementation plan for that strategy. During the Budget Debate it was talked about, the resources, the increased resources that have been given for the execution of that strategy, the intervention into challenges with families that was done by the Honourable Minister responsible for Youth, Social Development and Seniors. The Minister of National Security spoke during the Budget Debate about the increased funding that is going towards that. The Junior Minister of Justice, who sits in this House, spoke about the increased funding going towards corrections and rehabilitation and implementation of programmes. It is not correct for the Honourable Member to say that we need to put more funds there. We just passed the budget that increased the investment in all of the things that he is mentioning.

The Speaker: Thank you.

You got the point of what was said?

Mr. Robert King: Mr. Speaker, the Honourable Member is taking out of context what I said.

Yes, Mr. Premier, I was not talking about funding at all. What I was talking about was a strategic plan with specific measurables to ensure that what we are trying to achieve, the goals and objectives clearly stated, are achieved. We have already during the Budget Debate—

Hon. E. David Burt: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Point of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Hon. E. David Burt: We tabled and debated in this House a Violence Reduction Strategy that contained specific metrics. The Minister has also offered to make sure for implementation plans, et cetera. There are specific metrics which have been laid out. He keeps on saying . . . first it was resources, that he said I took it out of context. We spoke about resources. Now he's talking about specific metrics and a strategic plan. We have one. We tabled it. We debated it in this House.

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Speaker, I just rise on a point of clarification.

The Speaker: Yes.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Hon. Jason Hayward: Mr. Speaker, I just want to clarify.

The Member raised that he met with me in 2014 to present a report as it pertains to how we can integrate persons within our workplace. I just want to make it abundantly clear that I was not a Member of the Government in 2014. The One Bermuda Alliance was actually the Government at the time. So, I had no authority or power to implement any suggestion or recommendation which was made by that Honourable Member.

Mr. Robert King: Thank you for the clarification.

I am aware of that. I was speaking to the Honourable Member, Minister at the time, in his capacity as—

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Robert King: Yes. In the union, in the other place, and in terms of his influence and capacity to make great changes with that population.

So, it was in the context of that, that we had a conversation. He is correct. He was not in the Government at the time. And at the same time, I know Minister Hayward was very passionate about improving the circumstances of the underserved, especially as it relates to employment. So, that has not changed.

What I am speaking to, though, is an actual strategy on how to achieve the vision and mission. I know that we have a gang czar, a gang coordinator, sorry, Pastor Doctor Leroy Bean, [MP], who sits in this House as well. But we have never actually heard statistics and outcomes in terms of what specifically is working, how many people have graduated from the programme, how many lives were saved, recidivism rates reduced specifically as a direct result of being involved in the programme. We have not heard that.

What we also know is that there is an over representation of persons who are under the age of 30 at Westgate Correctional Facility. We also know that there is an over representation of young, Black Bermudian males who are being arrested—three times the rate of persons of other colour. We know the statistics—the Government-produced statistics—tell us that this is so. This tells us that we need to, besides providing funding which is necessary, have a comprehensive and holistic approach, as was stated by the Minister, and we have to have a clear, strategic plan with specific performance measurables based on best practice and data that will ensure that we reduce the number of deaths, antisocial behaviour, and at the same time create opportunities for the youth in this community to live a peaceful and just life.

Those are my submissions. Thank you.

The Speaker: Thank you, Member.

Does any other Member wish to make a contribution?

Deputy Premier.

SENTIMENTS OF THANKS TO CIVIL SERVANTS

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to thank all of the civil servants for their work over the last few weeks, and over the last few months. I do not recall us ever really thanking those who do a lot of the work for us Ministers in this House.

You will know, Mr. Speaker, you have been around long enough, that the budget process starts many months before budget day. And I am not so sure that we give enough highlights to the work that our civil servants do. And you will know, Mr. Speaker, that there are many in the community who give our civil servants a lot of flak. I just thought that, today, at the end of the session, that it would be good for all of us to echo sentiments of thanks to our civil servants.

Mr. Speaker, not only the civil servants who work throughout all of the ministries in the government, but in your place, Mr. Speaker, from where you sit, your team that you have that supports you over this period deserves a lot of thanks. And everyone, from the Sergeant-at-Arms, to the ladies up top, to long-serving members like Mr. Scott who just happens to be sitting in the chair today, Mr. Randolph Scott, that is.

You will know, Mr. Speaker, I have seen during budget times where we come out of this House sometimes and the sun is coming up. And whilst we all go through the process, the civil servants—your team, who have to endure those long hours . . . and, yes, everybody gets paid for what they do. But, the families have to sacrifice not having their family members around.

So, I take my hat off and give thanks to all of the civil servants throughout the government, and those who are in this House.

While I am on my feet, Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the Opposition Member, one of the newest Members in this House, Mr. Dwayne Robinson—

Hon. E. David Burt: Don't thank him too much.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No, I won't thank him too much. I don't want to spoil him.

But I would like to thank him and my fellow colleague, MP Famous, for inviting me to their . . . I think it is a weekly show that they have, last night, to talk about housing issues in the country. And I thank them for that. I think the more that we can lay out some of the initiatives that we will be pressing forward with from our side . . . and as I said last night, when these initiatives start coming to this House, I am looking forward to the Opposition participating in those debates. And I expect that when those things come to this House, we will get words of support without the [word] "but" added to it.

I think that I am excited about it, Mr. Speaker. I spent 12 weeks checking the lay of the land, talking to many of the boards and committees throughout government, especially under my Ministry.

ENCOURAGING YOUNG PEOPLE TO WORK HARD, SAVE AND SACRIFICE FOR HOMEOWNERSHIP

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: And whilst I am thanking people, I would also like to thank the people of the country who have an interest in housing in the country, both affordable and otherwise, for reaching out to me over the last 12 weeks. I have made a lot of notes. My PS is probably getting a little bit tired of getting all sorts of WhatsApps and emails from me at all hours of the night, all hours over the weekend, because as I get ideas that are put to me, I immediately put them in writing. And I would just like to thank all of the people who have suggested, and I know there will be more, their ideas and views about how we tackle affordable housing in the country.

So, I would like to say thank you to everyone for their hard work and for their input.

And the last thing that I wanted to talk about, Mr. Speaker, because as Members Robinson and Famous will tell you, last night we had touched on because (what is the radio hostess' name? LA is it? DJ LA?)

An Hon. Member: Yes.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: DJ LA asked a question, As a young person how am I ever going to get a house in this country? And the only thing that I could tell her at this time, that I thought last night could hit home was my experience. And I will repeat that tonight because I think it is important in case there is anyone out there listening who is wondering how they can get my house, how can I get my piece of the rock.

Mr. Speaker, when I started working and started paying rent and had to go to Hitching Post to buy a loaf of bread and a bottle of mayonnaise for the week, I understood what it was like not to have. I understood what it was like to get my pay cheque and not have enough to pay rent. I knew what it felt like to have to work two and three jobs day and night in order to survive. And when I heard that young lady who was in her early 30s say, How could she do it?

My advice to her and my advice to any young person is, especially in this day and age when education is so much more important, first of all try to educate yourself as best you can. But, if not, put your head down, sacrifice and save. It is easy to go out there and work and find a job and when you get that pay cheque go out and try to compete with your friends who have the nice clothes, who have the cars, who have the bikes, who go out to dinner, who take trips. But if you really want to be serious about owning a piece of the rock, you must save and sacrifice.

And that is the experience that I had, and that is how I made it, by buying that first house up Broom Street, next to Amstel Brangman, as I said last night. And that was just a little shack. The windows were plywooded up, no water pipes, had to sleep on the floor because we didn't have furniture. My son who was born at the time, his crib was in the kitchen.

Mr. Speaker, if our people want to own they have to sacrifice and they have to save. And as I told my wife, I said, Listen, if you want a house, there is no hair, there's no nails, there's no dresses, there's no new clothes. If we're going out to dinner, it's peanut sandwiches at Whale Bay Fort to watch the sun go down. That was it. But in order for us to get to that stage that is what we did. And I would tell all of our young people in the country that there is hope, that there is a way for you to do it, especially today. Financing . . . and if we have anything on this side of the House to do with it, we will press the financial institutions of this country to start looking favourably at how we can give our young people opportunities to own a piece of the rock.

Hon. E. David Burt: We have the mortgage guarantee programme.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, we do. And we have the mortgage guarantee programme going on. We have another two as I said in my speech on Monday. We have another two coming on. That is 32 young people who have gotten into their homes, now approaching 70-odd. I think it's 78. So, we are doing what we can.

But I implore our people, if you want to get a piece of the rock, save and sacrifice. Save and sacrifice. That is the way to do it. If you do not have a mother or father, or an aunt or uncle to say, Look, here you go; here's a little starter home, you can do it on your own. You have to put your shoulder to the wheel and you have to maybe do some jobs that you didn't want to do.

I washed dishes. I waited on tables. I swept floors. I painted roofs out in that hot sun. And the Honourable Member Craig Cannonier talked about how he used to mow grass. That's how I paid for school. I started going around Somerset knocking on peoples' doors too, Can I mow your grass? At the time it was five shillings.

[Inaudible interjections]

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Yes, I did. I mowed that grass for five shillings. Yes. I would get three or four of those in a day and I was smiling. Trust me. I was smiling.

So, I would just encourage our young people to work hard, save and sacrifice. Look at what this Government is doing in terms of assisting and you can do it.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, Deputy [Premier].

MP DeCouto, would you like to make a contribution at this time?

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Go right ahead.

SENTIMENTS OF THANKS TO CIVIL SERVANTS

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: I think the MP De Silva made a very good point. And I know that my colleagues, I am sure, would like to join me in expressing our sincere thanks to the public officers who participated in this budget process.

[Desk thumping]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Who prepared the budget.

Mr. Speaker, you probably no doubt consider that I am quite a student of the numbers since I spent a lot of time with the details of the Budget Book and the underlying materials. I have developed a great respect for those. I know the Premier has called the various names of the public officers involved with it, so I will not do that [again] because I will probably leave somebody out. But we certainly appreciate, I know everyone in this Chamber appreciates the time and effort that gets put into that, and the amount of information out there that is available to the public.

As you also know, Mr. Speaker, we are also quite interested in the ways that we can make this process a more fruitful and efficient process for all involved, not least the public officers, and we certainly look forward to engaging with you, the Government and the public service on anything in that direction. And we are also grateful to the Ministers who I would say worked with us to provide an opportunity for a good and frank and fair debate which allowed them to put their messages out, allowed us to ask questions and elicit information on behalf of the people. So, thank you to them as well.

Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: Thank you, MP.

MP Swan, would you like a contribution at this time?

MPs ABSENT FROM CHAMBER

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate what Deputy Premier Zane De Silva had to say. I've often said in the House of Assembly I'm just a country boy from White Hill and I know he's a country boy from White Hill too. We both were goalkeepers for Somerset Eagles. And we both come from that community. And the people who showed us . . . we were raised in that community, I salute them, and I salute the people in the community that I live in now who have embraced me.

I might not be that popular with what I am going to start off with. But, Mr. Speaker, in 1973 when Lance- lot Swan was the Minister responsible for Youth and Sport, and Dame Lois Browne-Evans was the Opposition Leader, it was the first time I ever met those two at Youth Parliament. But I will reflect on a debate that touched on Youth Parliament. It touched me because I know the contribution that was made by your family, your late wife. And your son continues that legacy. And I am mindful of that contribution.

I represented Warwick Sec after I had left Berkeley and they saw something in me that I didn't see in myself, notwithstanding all the family members who represented both sides of the House and sat in another place as well. I waited 25 years since first running in 1983 to come to this Honourable House . . . well, come to another place to serve nine years. I waited 25 years in between when I first ran to be able to sit in this House. And I get here early because I appreciate being in this Honourable House, notwithstanding I look forward to the day when young Members who sit in this House can know what it feels like to sit opposite and sit behind the front benches and sit in those rightful places and sit where persons have sat for centuries in the oldest Parliament in the west, outside of Great Britain.

I don't think I will be popular because it bothered me this Budget Debate. And I will tell you what bothered me about this Budget Debate. I come at 8:45, 9:30. If I have to go to work first, sometimes 9:45. And I stay until the bitter end. And it bothers me that I don't see these chairs filled. And that is not a fault of . . . the fault falls with my colleagues. And I am old enough and I have been around long enough that I am going to call him out.

You need to be here!

You didn't get elected not to be here.

People think that being a parliamentarian is all about just, you know, being somewhere else. You are elected to be here. You are elected to represent how your constituents feel.

When we talk about the ethos . . . we talked about the ethos. I took that seriously because you get the ethos from the people whose doors you knock on and then you have a responsibility to learn how the workability of that legislation impacts your people.

I listened to the Minister responsible for Labour and Economy. Yes. And a Member opposite made mention of going to him in 2014 in his capacity. He brings that capacity here. The Member that mentioned him brings his working capacity to this House. We all bring something. People always make fun that I bring golf here. Yes, I do. That's my trade. It taught me honesty. It taught me how to judge things. And things are not done by a cookie cutter. You can practice one way and then the wind is blowing a certain way, and the rain is coming down and someone is trying to put you off and you got to stay focused. So, I am encouraging persons who got elected that you should be in this House.

And I often speak about the benchmarks because the benchmarks cover employers. Employers should make a way for persons and ensure that they're here. I heard a young Member say, or someone say on behalf of another Member, that they had to be at work. And I understand that. He has to put food on his table. Those employers out there need to recognise that just like the military service, that is a responsibility that is held over a centrist to less than 1 per cent of the population.

And you do not get elected because you are bright. You get elected because some people trust you to carry their vote forward. Those persons might be businesspeople in greater numbers. They might be working-class people in numbers, but they put you there to carry them. If you are not here, you cannot represent them.

And I tell you what. I do not like coming here making sure running down here this week working at six o'clock in the morning, doing another appointment at eight o'clock, getting changed and running from where my car is parked to be here at ten o'clock and see that others do not hold that important.

Well, you said you know what, Swannie? You have been around here long enough to know that it is time that you tell them what time it is. All right?

And I quote sometimes speeches from other persons. Some of them I read at the library when we had a library. Some of those speeches that you would know, Mr. Speaker, from Dame Lois and Eugene Cox and others, L. Frederick Wade, because I read them. But many times, I was here to hear them as well.

And I said this when we first came back that there was a time when these benches were there so that people held you accountable. I know it is a lot more appealing when you are up on the hill. So, I hold out that it needs to be a matter of urgency that we go back up there too. We need to find the money. And I am saying that from the fact of being, and respecting being, in this Honourable House.

I was moved to say that because that wasn't what I had written down.

We need inward investment in this country to grow.

An Hon. Member: Hear, hear!

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: And where is the growth going to come [from]? Well, I am spending far more time because I am going up to Dalton E. Tucker to try to find the next Dwayne Pearman and the next golfers that can play in the Bermuda Championships. So, I am going to where they come from, that community. But right next door is property that my family and other families, the Beads and the like were part of, Morgan's Point. And the Premier would say that we have been saddled with $250 million and a responsibility to find what is right and how that is going to work to the benefit of this country.

And I honestly believe that from the western side of Pompano on the water's edge, which leads out right out to the ocean, out to the great blue sea with only about a five-minute leave from a dock, right along to the port there that was finished, is the opportunity for us with inward investment from overseas. And you are going to only find that through relationships.

In tourism, where I speak, where I've been involved with all my life, it has been built on relationships. When I grew up, the relationships that I formed caddying for people, even up in Southampton, although I came to Tucker's Town afterwards, were persons who were the movers and shakers of the entire world. Mr. Juan Trippe was one of the families that sponsored me in Europe. Well, they owned Pan Am and they owned Tucker's Point and many other things as well. So, when Pan Am had that flight leaving Bermuda at seven o'clock and US Customs had to be there, the Government didn't have to make that call. No! No, no, no, my bye!

If one of his executives was staying up Knapton Hill, it only took a few people to call a congressman who may have been on that board or whatever the case may be to move that needle. That's where you have relationships at the top end.

I talk about history and Bermuda's connection with golf and tennis and the like. When the United States Golf Association was founded in 1895, one of its founders was the person that built Mid-Ocean. He had a house that was just sold recently called Old Battery. His name was Charles Blair MacDonald from the United Kingdom. And it was an Act of Parliament. I had the book (it's somewhere around here) that has the Act that made it possible for his children, his grandchildren to be able to have that property at some point.

I am here to say this, that Mr. Charles Blair MacDonald used to hang in Bermuda in 1895. Woodrow Wilson, William Taft in 1912. We had shakers and movers hanging around here. You have to make friends with people who can make decisions. Otherwise, you're at middle management trying to move things and you can spin your wheels. We need some serious dollars.

And I have a vision just like my uncle Herman. They talk about, Oh, you only talk about . . . Herman had a vision in the 1930s when he taught golf at Whale Bay, where the Honourable Member lives. The Bascome family, with the young lady . . . the young Member from . . . the young Member from constituency 36, her family owned all that property over there, the Bascome family. They had a lot of girls, so the family now . . . a lot of names have . . . but they come from Gyro Bascome's family. Right to Whale Bay Fort.

And I'm here to tell you that when I talked about developing forts, it was that everybody doesn't have to be crowded and on top of each other at one beach. We need to diversify too. The Whale Bay Fort was upgraded and cleaned up for the Bermuda Championship because at a time when I had some oversight in that area, that vision prevailed. But once it was stopped . . . and I had the former chairman of the parks come up there, the young Junior Minister who sits right here, come up there and look. And we talked about the fact that why, just like Windsor Castle and visiting those places, you know, the forts as well, modernised, offices. Why couldn't Whale Bay Battery and other forts like the, Friends of St. George's are doing down there, clearing out, couldn't do what we did up at Whale Bay, because the showcase was on us, so that people who might be coming up there to golf or tennis or pickleball, could go down to that beach down there at Whale Bay and come up to that fort.

And when we had home porting, the vision for home porting during COVID-19 was an initiative I advanced publicly. I talked about it, wrote about it. And thanked former Minister Lawrence Scott for acting on it with Viking.

Morgan's Point could very well be a home porting base, purposely built for them to base there and with those properties there. If they are coming to build a dock . . . Let me tell you, when I was a little boy watching Paul Leseur water ski on a Sunday afternoon, many a Sunday afternoon, I was watching seaplanes land out there too. And many a Sunday, with the base personnel who were living near and around us, we might even get taken onboard a destroyer or something like that. Or we might see some large ship out in Grassy Bay, out there.

We have the capacity. In fact, when they were building out at Morgan's Point, they were bringing their own ships right in port and offloading their materials. So, it is not like you need any dredging to do it. You know, Port Royal doesn't get its name from the Queen or the King visiting Bermuda. It gets its name from Port Royal harbour, which is right around Five Star Island. It was a commercial port going back centuries ago.

I declare my interest. I'm a country boy from Southampton. My families are the Halls and Burrowes and the Hughes and all those folks right around that way. And I am here to tell you, Mr. Speaker, that the opportunity to get inward investment is to get the right people here. And we have a very dynamic Minister of Economic Development. Come, let me take you all on a nice tour of that area and show you what the opportunities are. And then let me introduce you to some of those persons that I happen to know around the world, and others in this country know as well.

That's why I keep saying that the Opposition have a responsibility as well, because they may know one or two more billionaires than me. They just might.

And do not let your legacy be the legacy of "no." If you . . . but let it be this "know." If you know somebody, convince somebody to invest in Bermuda during this Government's time. It would benefit all of us, that boat will raise everybody.

And listen, we have talked about taxes and tariffs and the like. When that tide rises in this country, the folks that are my family and cousins do not benefit like my friends that I know who are in a higher economic bracket.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Let me tell you this, I didn't like spending hundreds of millions [of dollars] on something that could have cost ten [dollars].

That's the answer. I didn't like spending $40 million on something that was unnecessary.

I didn't like Minister Fahy.

I didn't like you telling seniors money doesn't grow on trees.

[Inaudible interjections]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: We descended on that just because I'm trying to be constructive and point out where they could be constructive. But if you are just intent on being destructive every week to find ways to hinder this Government, let me encourage the Opposition to do this.

Unfortunately, we don't have a library. But it would be nice, and I know the Honourable Member DeCouto does research. He is one of the most research-orientated persons in this country for a long time. He has a website, and he has a lot of things on there. And I would go there for years and find the Pit Report, Tumin Report, you want a report. Put up some of those speeches from Dame Lois, L. Frederick Wade and Eugene Cox as well, so that persons in the Opposition, and even some Members in my party, can see what a real Opposition did for 30 years—came with solutions!

Came with solutions. That a Government did take too.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: No, I'm not angry. No, I am not angry. I am just passionate. That's what we say. And I am loud, but Moses was loud. And I am here to tell you, what I speak of, I believe in. When I talk about volunteerism, I lead by example. And what I am here to say is this. We collectively can do more when we all tell persons out there that Bermuda is a great place to invest [in].

[Desk thumping]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: And let me tell you, and I heard a little thumping. I want to say this, because many times when persons come to this House and look to find ways of criticising . . . let me say this: And you cannot argue with this one. The chance of what you say going on the front page is increased tenfold than what we say.

[Inaudible interjection]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: That is correct.

If you get up and say something, it's far more likely that what you say is tidied up to mean what The Royal Gazette might want it to mean. And what we say is more than likely to be taken out of context, if anything.

POINT OF ORDER

[Imputing improper motive]

Mr. Scott Simmons: Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to rise primarily for this reason: The Honourable Member, in previous statements that he made, is imputing [improper motive to] his fellow Members and colleagues in this House.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: You weren't in the audience.

Mr. Scott Simmons: No, I am here now.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: You weren't in the audience.

Mr. Scott Simmons: I'm here now.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: You weren't in the audience.

Mr. Scott Simmons: And Mr. Speaker, with the greatest of respect to my colleague, who I have a lot of respect for, I'm asking the Honourable Member to withdraw his comment as it relates to his colleagues. He is imputing improper motive. He does not know why his colleagues are not in this House at this particular time.

It is a known fact that Members of this House have responsibilities. But I'm more than happy, Mr. Speaker, not on this particular point of order . . . I am prepared to take my seat after the Honourable Member. But I ask him to withdraw, and I ask him to take that statement back. He has merit to a degree, but to impute improper motives to his own colleagues in this House—on both sides of this floor—is absolutely abhorrent and unnecessary and is requiring a withdrawal.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Mr. Speaker, the Member was not here to hear when I said that . . . in fact, I referred to the benchmarks to say that persons need to be protected because there are persons who can't be here. And I made reference to a Member who was sitting right there, sitting right here at the time, who I understood why he couldn't be here. And I understand Members on this side can't be here because they have to be in their place of employment.

So, I accept what the Member has expressed.

Mr. Scott Pearman: Point of order.

Will the Honourable Member take a point of clarification or information? I'm very grateful.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Mr. Scott Pearman: The Honourable Member may not be aware, but I know that there is a funeral this afternoon. I know a number of Members from both sides of the aisle are present at that funeral.

[Timer chimes]

Mr. Scott Pearman: Okay, well I'm just . . . the listening audience doesn't always necessarily understand what is going on. They do not know how many people are sitting in the Chamber this afternoon. It is fewer than normal, and I wouldn't want any comment unintentionally to be taken in the wrong way.

And I'm grateful for the intervention of the other Honourable Member. Thank you.

And thank you for allowing me to speak.

The Speaker: Unfortunately, your clock ran out while you were sitting there just now.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Okay.

[Crosstalk]

The Speaker: Okay. Mr. Simmons, would you like your 20 minutes?

MPs ABSENT FROM CHAMBER

Mr. Scott Simmons: Mr. Speaker, I'm not going to speak for 20 minutes. I'm not even going to keep the Honourable Members in this House who have gone through an entire Budget Debate, who have spent the time in this House.

Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to offer clarification on this particular point. Primarily because, like many of our colleagues who are not in this House, or during any particular sitting of this House, we are listening carefully on the radio. We are listening on our phones. And we are following our honourable colleagues on both sides of this House who are doing the bidding of the people of Bermuda.

The reason I rose before, and I want to make this clear so that no one is under the impression. I have a tremendous respect for the Honourable Member. He represents in the East, a constituency that he literally owns. He has done his job. He has done his homework. And he—

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Point of order.

Mr. Scott Simmons: I take that back, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: Point of order.

Mr. Scott Simmons: Okay, he doesn't own it. I will take that back.

The Speaker: Yes.

[Laughter and inaudible interjections]

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Mr. Hubert (Kim) E. Swan: I think the Honourable Member is unintentionally misleading the House. There's no one in this House, and least of all of me, who owns any constituency in here.

And I took his point that he made, and he may not have heard everything that I said when I referred to absenteeism not being supported by employers. And I made the point that it is covered in benchmarks. And maybe, Mr. Speaker, I will run a motion on benchmarks, if the Premier permits me, so that we can delve deeper into that matter.

And it wasn't particular to this particular debate, Mr. Speaker, it was across the board I was talking about. And I do respect the clarification by Member Pearman.

Mr. Scott Simmons: Mr. Speaker, I take the Honourable Member's point of information as well as his point of order.

Mr. Speaker, as far as I am concerned, and I want to make sure that this is clear and I appreciate his clarification and the clarification of the Learned Member. The one thing that I want to be clear on, because I did not want this evening for individuals out in the public to feel as though there are elements of neglect by your colleagues. Whether it be the Frontbench or whether it be the Backbench. Members of this House have a responsibility inside of this House and outside of this House. We do not take any of that lightly and we govern ourselves accordingly.

There are those of our colleagues who are in this House that do have an opportunity during these times to be able sit in this House and to be able to stay from start to finish. When the business of this House is being discussed we are here, we are represented. And when a Minister travels and a Minister is not here, his portfolio and the issues for which he represents are ably handled in this House by those who are present.

I recognise that there is a protocol and there are procedures that are clear over at our party headquarters as articulated by the Whip. And the Whip has made it crystal clear, and he has re-emphasised it. I got it.

But, Mr. Speaker, beyond the . . . there are no illusions, I do not want the public to feel this. We in this House cannot continue with the narrative that presents the impression . . . the Honourable Member has risen to say that it is not his intention; I will take it on board. I will say this. We have to recognise that all of us have responsibilities that we cannot ignore. And we must in this House also state and defend when we, for other reasons, are not here.

So, Mr. Speaker, I just want to make it clear today that as it relates to responsibilities, as it relates to what we are doing in this House, we just went through three days (by way of explanation) and three days and more of a Budget Debate. If responsibilities pull us in this House on the Monday and the Tuesday, then on the Friday, we have to . . . if we have responsibilities to another employer outside of this House, then we make it up during that time.

Mr. Speaker, I find I cannot agree with having to stand up in this House and explain to honourable colleagues, and to make honourable colleagues aware, who, in my humble opinion, understood what it feels like to be, first of all, elected to this House. And to realise that that one . . . and I say this with the greatest of respect to the Government and to the people of Bermuda and to those who represent everybody here. A salary that, if you added it up, could not and would not—and as a matter of fact, Members of this Honourable House have articulated that already—and does not cover. And so, if you are not with the opportunity of being a Frontbencher, as a Backbencher then you must take on . . . and I am not saying that all Bermudians should take on the national past-time which is to moonlight and to have all kinds of other opportunities. But until such time, until we have the discussion on full-time salaries in this House, so that each and every Member can pay all that they must do, and are able to sit in this House and be able to say, We take on nothing else on board, there will always be a responsibility to someone else in the private sector to whom which we assign proper time. We all know time management and we are all in this House very good at multi-tasking.

Mr. Speaker, all I am saying is that we have responsibilities. We accept that. And we need to also understand that we must live as well. What has occurred in this House most recently as it relates to getting an increase and as it relates to receiving further compensation, I thank those who debated it. I thank those who deliberated on it, and I thank those who were for and against. But at the end of the day Bermuda is not getting any cheaper. I recognise, as the Honourable Member highlighted, that there are responsibilities attached to that. If we have not conformed to the CPA [Commonwealth Parliamentary Association], or to whatever else there is out there that dictates that we should not be out then we need—

Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo: Recommends instead of dictates.

Mr. Scott Simmons: I apologise, recommends.

Then we have a responsibility to look at that.

And also, Mr. Speaker, I want to allay the concerns of those in the public who feel as though, when pictures were taken of individuals falling asleep in the other House, that there are individuals who are not doing their job. And they may feel that their MP, or that the individuals who represent them in this House are not doing their responsibilities. Mr. Speaker, I can attest to the fact that Honourable Members on both sides of this House take their responsibilities seriously. Some of us attach different styles to the way that we canvass, different styles to the way that we deal with our constituencies. And that is because we become seasoned, and we know how it is and what it is that our electorate require of us.

But it should never, never be assigned to the fact that because I pay you and because of that you feel as though we in this House are shirking those responsibilities, because, we absolutely are not.

I hope, Mr. Speaker, that we do not have to rise in this House and have a discussion on this again. I would hope . . . and I hope that we can get past the fact that there will be Honourable Members in this House who, because of academic standing and because of requirements on the outside and because financial requirements, find themselves under the banner of another employer—a part-time employer.

I do not see that there is any indignity in it. And I think all Members in this House benefit from employers in this country who recognise that if they are employing us, any Member of Parliament, that they give us sufficient time to serve, to do,—

Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo: Our civic duty.

Mr. Scott Simmons: —As the Honourable Deputy Speaker stated, our civic duty, and that we need not displace the dignity of that by making statements that can be misinterpreted and that may create the feeling that they are not getting bang for buck.

I believe we have demonstrated that in the last Budget Debate. I believe the new Members who continue to contribute and will be contributing and all of us in this House, the Frontbenchers and Backbenchers, I believe we have represented the country well. And we should not, we should not feel and leave this place this evening feeling as though we have not served.

We continue to serve. We take our call from the electorate. I spoke on it before; I am not going to get into it tonight again. That is a subject we have dealt with. But they have spoken to us, and this Parliament takes our responsibilities seriously. You make a demand, Mr. Speaker, that we act, that we are right and that we do the things for this country. And you make certain in this House that we represent the people of Bermuda in a way that they would be proud of.

We realise that they do not get to see everything that we do. And oftentimes we feel under appreciated. But, Mr. Speaker, we realise that they cannot see all and so we continue to work and do and be according to what they instruct of us.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate you giving me this time. I wish to formally, if I may, if the Member will be happy to take it, I was a bit agitated earlier. That agitation has somewhat lifted. And as a result of that, I want to let my honourable colleague from the east know, as with every colleague in this House—

An Hon. Member: We had a healthy debate.

Mr. Scott Simmons: —with every person in this House, is that we may disagree and that we may rise to our feet. But, Mr. Speaker, in this House we will represent the views of our people. We will admit if we are wrong. We will admit if we are incorrect. But we expect that individuals will themselves rise up and say: What is right is right and what is wrong is wrong.

Mr. Speaker, enjoy the rest of your weekend. Thank you.

The Speaker: Thank you, Honourable Member.

[Desk thumping]

The Speaker: Premier, would you like to add to this debate at this time?

Hon. E. David Burt: I am not sure if it is “add,” Mr. Speaker, I think it is “close.”

The Speaker: Oh. Well, you can close the debate.

Ms. Lovitta F. Foggo: You are using up your time.

PLP— A GOVERNMENT THAT CONTINUES TO FIGHT TO BUILD A FAIR BERMUDA FOR ALL

Hon. E. David Burt: It's all right. I can assure you I will not do 20 minutes, [Madam] Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, to commence my remarks today, I want to echo the thanks in the comments that were given by the Honourable Deputy Premier to the staff, not only of this Honourable Chamber, as you know it has been full throttle from Throne Speech to Budget Session, et cetera, all the rest, and also to all of the technical officers who do the work to prepare the briefs, to be here to answer the questions, and to make sure that Ministers are prepared so that the debate can happen. And so, from that perspective, Mr. Speaker, I just want to make sure I echo that thanks.

I am, of course, in the Ministry of Finance taking the budget team out for lunch when the budget director returns. But it certainly is a lot of work. And the challenge which we have for them, as they reminded me with a late budget, is that they have about one month off before the budget cycle for next year begins again. And despite the fact, Mr. Speaker, that we have been, you know, and sometimes you will say, testy between myself as the Minister of Finance and the Shadow Minister of Finance, it is my hope that in the future that we can improve the quality of the exchange of which we have. Because I remember the first time I was Shadow Minister, you know, it got better with time and able to make sure that we can develop a better working relationship so that we can actually have the level of debate and examination which is necessary in this Honourable Chamber.

Mr. Speaker, I am going to cover a few topics today. As we close out the budget session before we, you know, go back to the rest of the year where we will be meeting every other week and dealing with other pieces of legislation.

But I will say this from the perspective, Mr. Speaker, that there are some who will get the impression, due to comments which may come from the Honourable Opposition, that the Government believes that everything is perfect. That is not the case. I remember listening to, you know, commentary around that while it says clearly inside of our Budget Statements, inside of our Throne Speech, inside of our public comments, inside of everything else, that we recognise that things are not perfect and we are working to make sure they are better.

And so, the summary of my comments, Mr. Speaker, is that we are not where we want to be yet. But there is no question that we are on the right path, Mr. Speaker. And as we all know, no government is perfect anywhere. No country is without challenges. But I think it is also important that you judge the work that is taking place compared to what is taking place in other jurisdictions, because we do not exist in isolation in Bermuda. We are part of a wider and broader global economy.

And what matters most, Mr. Speaker, of course, is whether or not you are standing still. But under this Government, Mr. Speaker, we are unquestionably making progress. And that progress, Mr. Speaker, does not have to come from myself. That message does not have to come from myself. The Honourable Minister of Economy and Labour gave a brilliant contribution speaking of the items which are taking place. [He] mentioned the fact that those persons who are able-bodied, unemployed on financial assistance are falling. [He] mentioned the fact that he is going to be coming out with statistics next week talking about the reduction in the level of persons who are unemployed in the country, the fact that our ratings continue to be confirmed. The fact that we continue to exceed our expectations. The fact that we are delivering the second consolidated budget fund surplus this year is evidence that we are making progress and moving in the right direction.

And so here is the thing, Mr. Speaker, we know that we are challenged with the cost of living. I think the entire world recognises that. We know it is an issue in the United Kingdom. We know it is an issue in Europe. We know it is an issue in Australia. We know it is an issue in Canada. We know that it is an issue everywhere. It is a question of how do you respond? What does a government do?

And what this Government has done, Mr. Speaker, is that we have taken action. Not with talk but with actual results. Because we know that we have cut taxes for most workers in every local business. And in this session, Mr. Speaker, we have built on that by reducing land taxes, reducing energy taxes, mobile phone taxes, and yes, Mr. Speaker, also customs duty. And we spoke about the combined value of what these will bring, $1,000 extra for a family this year in addition to what we have done previously, Mr. Speaker. That means something.

The Honourable Minister responsible for Housing is sitting next to me, the Deputy Premier. Record investments in affordable housing. Progress which is taking place. When speaking about home ownership our Mortgage Guarantee Programme, Mr. Speaker, 70 Bermudians on the way to the housing ladder, 50 of those already in their new homes, others approved for them, Mr. Speaker. That is the record of this Government. That is the progress of which we are putting forward. And we speak to this budget. It is the expansion of health care, investing more in the vulnerable, expanding prescription drug coverage, access to preventative care and expanding home health care options which have been called for inside of the community, Mr. Speaker. That is what this parliamentary session is about. That is the work of which this Government has committed to, Mr. Speaker.

So, these, Mr. Speaker, are not just promises. We have delivered already on the pledges that we made in February, and we will continue to do so throughout this particular session, Mr. Speaker. And this budget is proof that progress is happening. So again, Mr. Speaker, it is not a choice between perfect and imperfect. It is about a government that continues to fight to build a fair Bermuda for all.

And the importance of our time debating here, Mr. Speaker . . . and you can hear me get up often on points of order, because I understand what it is like to be a new Member of the House of Assembly. I was new once. But the reality is that the better and higher quality of debate that we have in this House is the better and higher quality level of decision-making governance that we can give. And it is important and vital that we are there dealing with the facts.

But here is what I will say, Mr. Speaker, we are not done. In this term, as you know, we are just getting started. Moving in the right direction.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: That's right.

Hon. E. David Burt: Now Mr. Speaker, we know that there have been, you know, comments, and I am not going to reflect [on that] because I have a particular point that I wish to tackle today. We are not going to reflect on the conversation, discussions of which have been had. Because I think that we have been able to aptly state the fact that we are not dealing with matters that are across-the-board reductions. We have target items, but we have broader items, and this is wide relief across this country. And this Government has a track record of continually fighting for workers, continually fighting and making investments.

I remember the Honourable Whip got up on the other side, the Opposition Whip got up and was talking about how when he was younger, you know, he was able to mow lawns, and you know pay for university. And I asked a question you know; Where was that?

Because here is the thing, Mr. Speaker, Bermudians who cannot afford Bermuda College don't have to pay for it underneath this Government.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: What?

Hon. E. David Burt: It is an issue of upward mobility, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: No point of order on that.

Hon. E. David Burt: A pledge that we made. I remember, 2007, I was Chairman of the Party.

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: Oh yeah.

Hon. E. David Burt: Made Bermuda College free. And the party opposite removed that.

An Hon. Member: Ah.

Hon. E. David Burt: We put it back in the First 100 Days. And this is around opportunity. This is how you build that opportunity economy that the Opposition spoke about. But we, Mr. Speaker, are actually delivering.

Now we know what we have done in this session. I am not going to cover that again. But there is something that is important. It is important, Mr. Speaker, because oftentimes, and this is the (I call it) curse of being a Member of the Bermuda Progressive Labor Party [PLP].

[Inaudible interjections]

An Hon. Member: Oh-oh!

Hon. E. David Burt: And that is whenever you speak about economics and finance, the automatic assumption is that you do not know what you are talking about, that you cannot be trusted to run the country, that you do not understand the funds. How dare you state this, how dare you state that. Well, you do not know what you are saying. Why would you mention these things?

Mr. Speaker, despite the fact that this Government has maintained its ratings, despite the fact that we have beat our targets, despite the fact that, as the Honourable Minister of Economy and Labour has stated, we have the best performing economy in the Americas—North and South American region combined, Mr. Speaker—we are still subjected to, Oh, they don't know what they are doing. It happens all the time, Mr. Speaker. And it is not just from Members opposite, Mr. Speaker. It is not just from Members opposite. It is from the public, from the media, from spaces and places, and I am going to quote specific facts.

I am going to call someone who has been a regular detractor. It was Mr. Peter Everson, I thought he disappeared, but he came back all of a sudden, jumping on the Opposition's bandwagon on a particular point. And this came to my mind because I was in an interview that I did when I stepped out earlier, and I was asked a question. And I reminded people where this particular matter came from, Mr. Speaker.

So, now I am going to get there. Because in our Budget Debate, in our Throne Speech, even, Throne Speech items, things that were laid out, there was one particular mention, Mr. Speaker. And that was the reality that this Government believes that with the advent of corporate income tax, that it is entirely reasonable to expect that we can eliminate our debt and build a sovereign wealth fund within 10 years. Those are the facts.

Now here is what is interesting, Mr. Speaker; the chorus of disapproval was quick and loud. You know why the chorus of disapproval was quick and loud, Mr. Speaker? Because it was David Burt and the PLP saying it. That is the reason why the chorus of disapproval was loud.

But here is the thing, Mr. Speaker, here is the thing. Do you know, Mr. Speaker, when the first mention of a sovereign wealth fund was made?

You cannot answer me, Mr. Speaker, but I am going to share.

The first mention of a sovereign wealth fund for Bermuda did not come from David Burt as Minister of Finance, or the Bermuda Progressive Labor Party, or the Progressive Labor Party Government.

An Hon. Member: Oh-oh.

Hon. E. David Burt: It came from a document that was tabled in this Honourable House in December 2023 called the Bermuda Fiscal Responsibility Panel Annual Assessment. From the Fiscal Responsibility Panel, a body that the Opposition loves to quote. A body that they set up. [A body] that we have continued, Mr. Speaker.

I am going to quote from that document, if I could, Mr. Speaker. On page 27 it says: "It would be consistent with reducing net debt to hold at least some additional revenues in a 'stabilisation fund'; this would help insure against the risk of having to borrow at high interest rates on the open market if volatility was such that revenues fell below base budget needs in any year, or if Bermuda were hit by an adverse economic shock. Beyond eliminating net debt, and accumulating liquid assets in the stabilisation fund, in time Bermuda should use excess revenues to build fiscal reserves in the form of a sovereign wealth fund."

Now that was in December 2023, Mr. Speaker. No comments from the media. No comments from Peter Everson. No comments from the Opposition. No comments from . . . No comments from anyone who finds a way to criticise the Progressive Labour Party's management of the economy.

But let the Minister of Finance and the PLP Government put it inside of a Throne Speech and watch the course of criticism erupt. Silence, when it comes to the Fiscal Responsibility Panel, made up of persons from the United Kingdom, the United States Government and others—

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: Point of order.

Hon. E. David Burt: —coming in to give us advice.

POINT OF ORDER

[Misleading]

Dr. Douglas DeCouto: The Premier is misleading the House because he is implying something about our view [of] the Fiscal Responsibility Panel. But of course, this venue is not a place for us to come and present that view. This is where we come to present our view on the Government's plans and policies. So, the Premier is implying our view of various components of the Fiscal Responsibility Panel that we have perhaps not publicly discussed. So, he is basically misinforming people what our view of components of that are.

Thank you.

Hon. E. David Burt: That's not a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

[Inaudible interjection]

The Speaker: I tried to follow—

Hon. E. David Burt: May I continue?

The Speaker: Let me follow on and see what it's saying.

Hon. E. David Burt: I got you Mr. Speaker.

So, here is the thing. See, you know you are getting close to it now because he has got it up. I do not need to say what his views of the Fiscal Responsibility Panel are. That is not what I am saying. I am saying this idea first came from the Fiscal Responsibility Panel. That is where it came up. Because governments take on advice. So, when that recommendation came, we said, let us ask our advisors what they think of this recommendation. It is not like I was just sitting in my house one day and saying, Let's have a sovereign wealth fund!

Hon. Zane J. S. De Silva: You did not just dream it up.

Hon. E. David Burt: Thank you! It came from the advisors. The same people who the public says we should be taking advice from.

So, now let us go because the Honourable Member everyone can read what he said about the sovereign wealth fund in his Budget Reply. I am not going to take my time to go over his comments. What I am going to read, Mr. Speaker, is a document from the Ministry of Finance, which came to us in 2024, following the report of the Fiscal Responsibility Panel combined with the estimate for the revenue that would come from the corporate income tax to advise the Ministry of Finance on the approach of which they should take.

I will read it, and, for your benefit Mr. Speaker, I will table it.

Some Hon. Members: Oh!

Hon. E. David Burt: It says, and I quote: "A growth and stability fund can secure Bermuda's economic future for generations." (It goes on to say.) "Setting up a sovereign wealth fund entails a rigorous process but the tax revenues from Pillar Two can be an unprecedented opportunity for Bermuda to transform its economy and achieve multiple, long-term prosperity. Multiple funds with different objectives can be set up to realise different benefits."

This, Mr. Speaker, is coming from some of the best accounting firms in the world.

So, here is the thing. We get the chorus of criticism from the Opposition. We get the chorus of criticism from the persons in the private sector who will find a way to criticise the PLP. But when the PLP is doing what they say we should do—listening to the experts who clearly know more than us—the criticism comes.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I am going to go ahead and read what this says. From the accounting firms. "The fund could become one of the largest in the region. In our example the fund may reach $8.5 billion dollars in assets under management under certain assumptions and under these assumptions become the thirty-third largest in the world. Surpassing the Mexico and Trinidad and Tobago sovereign wealth funds."

Not from me, Mr. Speaker. Not from me. From the Fiscal Responsibility Panel and our accounting firms.

So, I will close by saying this, Mr. Speaker, and it is important that the persons listening understand. There will be many things that are said about the Progressive Labour Party in Government. But the facts are, as we close out this budget session, that we have proven that we can manage this country through a crisis. We have proven that we can manage transition. We have proven that we can deliver relief and make investments in this country. And we have proven that we can listen to advice and make the plans for the future that this country needs.

Mr. Speaker, I will see you in two weeks. Thank you.

[Desk thumping]

The Speaker: Thank you, Members for your contributions today. And we will have a two-week period before we return here. I trust you will all come back well rested for the session of the summer.

With that the House now stands adjourned.

[Gavel]

*[At 5:30 pm, the House stood adjourned until 10:00 am
Friday, 13 June 2025.]*

BERMUDA HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY 2025/26 SESSION

OFFICIAL HANSARD REPORT INDEX

May 2025

This Index is arranged alphabetically with “Order of Business” headings and Senators’ names in bold. “Bills” are arranged both alphabetically and procedurally (i.e., First Reading, Second Reading, Third Reading).

A

Adams, Hon. Jache

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Public Works and Environment

Head 36-Ministry Headquarters, 460–467

Head 68-Department of Parks, 467–472

Head 79-Department of Environment and Natural Resources, 472–483

Head 81-Department of Public Lands and Buildings, 483–488

Head 82-Department of Works and Engineering, 488–492, 499

Road Safety, Infrastructure and Community Improvements: Paving way forward, 287–289

Adjournment, motions thereon

Bermuda Day

Honouring our heritage

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 839

Smith, Mr. Ben, 838

Public safety, Shared responsibility for

Weeks, Hon. Michael A., 835–836

Simmons, Mr. Jamahl S., 739–740

From the streets to the soul, why Bermuda Day matters

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 836–838

Bermudians, doing more for in a meaningful way

King, Mr. Robert, 655–658

Civil servants, sentiments of thanks to

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1096–1097

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 1095

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches

Famous, Mr. Christopher, 371

Simmons, Mr. Jamahl S., 370–371

Domestic international business community, Government's steadfast commitment to development of

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 1090–1091

Homeownership, young people encouraged to work hard, save and sacrifice for

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 1096–1097

Housing, affordable housing crisis in Bermuda

Famous, Mr. Christopher, 371–372

Leadership, true leadership means telling people what they need to hear versus what they want to hear

Famous, Mr. Christopher, 1035–1037

Adjournment, motions thereon (continued)

MPs absent from Chamber

Simmons, Mr. Scott, 1100–1102

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 1097–1100

PLP Government, continuing to fight to build a fairer Bermuda for all

Burt, Hon. E. David, 1102–1105

Population size

Famous, Mr. Christopher, 651–652

Tourism opportunities for Bermuda

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 652–655

Volunteerism, spirit of

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 922–924

Youth opportunities in Bermuda, need for holistic approach to create

King, Mr. Robert, 1092–1095

Appropriation Act 2025 (See Bills)

B

Banking and mortgage transfers (See Premier's Question Period)

Bermuda Day (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Bermuda Day 2025: The Future is Now (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Bermuda Hospitals Board, Government financing terms (See Question Period)

Bermuda Housing

Corporation, properties owned or under control of (See Question Period)

Trust Audited Financial Statements 2024 (See Papers and Other Communications to House) and current challenges (See Question Period; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Bermuda Land Development Company/Bermuda Land Management Corporation, properties owned or under control of (See Question Period)

Bermuda Land Management Corporation update 2025 (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Bermuda Monetary Authority Annual Report 2024 (See Papers and Other Communications to House; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Bermudians, doing more for in a meaningful way (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Bills

Appropriation Act 2025

First Reading, 1010

Second Reading

Burt, Hon. E. David, 1010

Third Reading, 1010

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025

First Reading, 853

Second Reading

Burt, Hon. E. David, 1064–1067

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 1074–1077

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1062–1063

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 1072–1074

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 1063–1064

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 1061–1062, 1077–1078

Bills (continued)

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025 (continued)

Second Reading (continued)

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 1068–1070

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 1070–1072

Tyrrell, Mr. Neville S., 1064

Committee, 1078–1080

Report, 1080

Third Reading, 1089

Department of Labour Act 2025

First Reading, 323

Second Reading

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 735

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 735, 736/737

Committee, 737–738

Report, 738

Third Reading, 739

Explosive Substances Amendment Act 2025

First Reading, 279

Second Reading

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 635

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 635–636

King, Mr. Robert, 634–635

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 635

Weeks, Hon. Michael A., 634, 636

Committee, 636–637

Report, 637

Third Reading, 650

Insurance Amendment Act 2025

First Reading, 547

Land Tax Amendment Act 2025

First Reading, 853

Second Reading

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1081

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 1080–1081, 1082–1083

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 1081–1082

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 1082

Committee, 1083–1084

Report, 1084

Third Reading, 1089

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025

First Reading, 926

Second Reading

Burt, Hon. E. David, 1087–1088

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1085

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 1084–1085, 1088

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 1086–1087

Ming, Mrs. Renee, 1085

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 1086

Committee, 1088–1089

Report, 1089

Bills (continued)

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025 (continued)

Third Reading, 1090

Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025

First Reading, 1061

BudgetDebate on the Budget Statement and Reply

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 364–369

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 336–350

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 350–356

Smith, Mr. Ben, 356–363

Opposition's Reply to the Budget Statement 2025-26

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 323–325

Statement in Support of Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025-26

Burt, Hon. E. David, 260–279

Bulk Generation Sole Use Installation (BGSUI) Licence, update (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Burt, Hon. E. David

Adjournment, motions thereon

PLP Government, continuing to fight to build a fairer Bermuda for all, 1102–1105

Appropriation Act 2025, 1010

Bermuda Monetary Authority Annual Report 2024, 1039–1041

Budget Statement in Support of Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025-26, 260–279

Condolences to Hon. Speaker (on loss of his wife), 260

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 315–316, 853, 1059–1060

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1064–1067

Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a Parliamentary Joint Select Committee, 1031–1033

Double Murder in Bermuda, 260

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation

Head 09-Cabinet Office, 927–936, 963–966

Ministry of Finance

Head 10-Ministry Headquarters, 588–602, 628–630

Head 12-Bermuda Customs, 630–631

Head 28-Department of Social Insurance, 606–609, 630

Head 38-Office of the Tax Commissioner, 631–632, 633

Head 39-Registrar of Companies Department, 611–616, 628, 632

Head 58-Interest on Debt and Guarantee Management, 616–617, 628

Motion to accept, 323

Non-Ministry Heads

Head 05-Office of the Auditor General, 972–976, 1004–1006

Head 92-Department of Internal Audit, 981–982

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 1023–1028

National Economic Report of Bermuda 2024, 259

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1087–1088

Tourism Investment

(Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025, 649

(Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025, 642–643

C

Camp Connect Season 2: Summer Day Camp Registration (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Campbell, Mr. Vance

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 546

Department of Labour Act 2025, 735

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Economy and Labour

Head 14-Department of Statistics, 691–693, 694

Head 27-Immigration, 694

Head 44-Ministry Headquarters, 687–688, 691

Head 60-Workforce Development, 695

Head 94-Economic Development Department, 695

Ministry of Housing and Municipalities

Head 53-Bermuda Housing Corporation, 913

Question Period

Bermuda Housing Trust audited financial statements and current challenges, 305

Enterprise Bermuda Incubator Programme, Empowering Entrepreneurs Through, 848, 849

Youth Employment Strategy Progress, 1051

Tourism Investment

(Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025, 649

(Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025, 641

Cannonier, Hon. L. Craig

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 546, 852–853, 1059

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1074–1077

Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a Parliamentary Joint Select Committee, 1030–1031

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation

Head 43-Department of Information and Digital Technologies, 954–956

Ministry of National Security

Head 83-Ministry Headquarters, 893–894

Ministry of Public Works and Environment

Head 36-Ministry Headquarters, 492–498

Head 81-Department of Public Lands and Buildings, 498–499, 500

Head 82-Department of Works and Engineering, 499

Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport

Head 20-Department of Sport and Recreation, 803

Explosive Substances Amendment Act 2025, 635

Question Period

Department of Planning Streamlining Measures update, 1055

Hurricane Preparedness, 1050

Ministry of Public Works and Environment, properties owned or under the control of Government of Bermuda, 302 (answered in writing)

Road Safety, Infrastructure and Community Improvements: Paving the way forward, 312–313

ShoreLink: Real-time Information, launch of phase 2, 847, 848

Tourism Investment (Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025, 641–642

Caribbean Renewable Energy Forum 2025: Bermuda's participation (See Question Period; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

City of Hamilton Plan 2025 (See Motions; Papers and Other Communications to House; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Civil servants, sentiments of thanks to (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Condolences to Hon. Speaker (on loss of his wife) (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Confirmation of Minutes

28 March 2025, 259

02 May 2025, 281

09 May 2025, 373, 541

12, 14 May 2025, 541

16, 19 May 2025, 741

21 May 2025, 841

26 May 2025, 925

28 May 2025, 1039

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches (See also Adjournment, motions thereon)

Burt, Hon. E. David, 315–316, 853, 1059–1060

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 546

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 546, 852–853, 1059

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 317, 375–376, 457–458, 545–546, 660–661, 742, 849–850, 1057

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 320, 543, 660, 852, 1059

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 317–318, 741–742, 852

Dill, Rev. Dr. Emilygail A., 320–321, 458, 851–852, 1058

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 544, 1058

Famous, Mr. Christopher, 371, 662

Foggo, Ms. Lovitta F., 316, 745

Furbert, Hon. Tinee, 321, 459, 544, 661, 743

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 316

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 317

King, Mr. Robert, 661, 925, 1060

Lightbourne, Hon. Alexa, 1056

Lister, Mr. Dennis III, 321–322, 376, 742–743

Ming, Mrs. Renee, 375, 926

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 545, 1059

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 458, 543–544, 659–660

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 316

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 320, 744–745

Scott, Mr. W. Lawrence, 744

Simmons, Mr. Jamahl S., 370–371, 660, 850

Simmons, Mr. Scott, 318–319, 743–744

Smith, Mr. Ben, 1057

Smith, Ms. Linda, 744

The Speaker, 322–323, 1060

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 319, 374–375, 545, 661–662, 850–851, 1058

Tucker, Ms. Robin, 319–320, 744, 851

Tyrrell, Mr. Neville S., 318, 458, 662, 742, 851, 926, 1056

Weeks, Hon. Michael A., 850, 1056–1057

Wilmot, Mr. Paul, 662

Corporate Income Tax

criteria and methodologies (See Question Period) legislation (See Premier's Question Period)

top payers (See Question Period)

Corporate Income Tax Agency
current and planned staff (See Question Period)
Customs
Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025 (See Bills)
Duty relief increase (See Premier's Question Period)
Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a Parliamentary Joint Select Committee (See Motions)

D

Darrell, Hon. Owen

Adjournment, motions thereon
Bermuda Day, From the streets to the soul, why Bermuda Day matters, 836–838
Bermuda Day 2025: The Future is Now, 1042–1043
Camp Connect Season 2: Summer Day Camp Registration, 290–291
Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 317, 375–376, 457–458, 545–546, 660–661,
742, 849–850, 1057
Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26
Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport
Head 20-Department of Sport and Recreation, 784–788, 806–819
Head 30-Marine and Ports, 505–507, 536–538
Head 34-Transport Control Department, 507–509, 530–536
Head 35-Department of Public Transportation, 509–512
Head 48-Former Ministry of Transport Headquarters, 504–505
Head 52-Department of Culture, 788–794, 806
Head 71-Ministry Headquarters, 501–504, 526–530
Explosive Substances Amendment Act 2025, 635–636
Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 1015–1019
ShoreLink: Real-time Information, launch of phase 2, 843
Tourism Investment, 843–845
(Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025, 259, 645, 650
(Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025, 259, 637–638, 643–644

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas

Adjournment, motions thereon
Civil servants, sentiments of thanks to, 1096–1097
Budget
Opposition's Reply to the Budget Statement 2025-26, 323–325
City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 829–830
Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 320, 543, 660, 852, 1059
Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1062–1063
Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a
Parliamentary Joint Select Committee, 1029–1030
Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26
Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation
Head 09-Cabinet Office, 953–954
Head 13-Bermuda Post Office, 958
Head 18-Department of Libraries and Archives, 960–961
Head 43-Department of Information and Digital Technologies, 961–963
Ministry of Education
Head 17-Department of Education, 581–582

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas (continued)

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26 (continued)

Ministry of Finance

Head 10-Ministry Headquarters, 618–621

Head 11-Accountant General, 622–623

Head 12-Bermuda Customs, 623

Head 28-Department of Social Insurance, 623–624

Head 38-Office of the Tax Commissioner, 624–626, 633

Head 39-Registrar of Companies Department, 626–628

Head 58-Interest on Debt and Guarantee Management, 618

Ministry of Home Affairs

Head 89-Department of Energy, 446

Ministry of National Security

Head 06-Department of Defence, 889

Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport

Head 20-Department of Sport and Recreation, 806

Head 71-Ministry Headquarters, 522

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 1011–1013

Land Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1081

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1085

Premier's Question Period

Corporate Income Tax legislation, 295–296

Question Period

Bermuda Hospitals Board, Government financing terms, 1047

Bermuda Monetary Authority Annual Report 2024, 1050

Corporate Income Tax

criteria and methodologies, 1049

top payers, 1048

Corporate Income Tax Agency, current and planned staff, 298–299

Government employees, pay schedule for back pay and pay rises, 299–300

Government estimated cash flows 2025, 301

Department of Labour Act 2025 (See Bills; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Department of Planning Streamlining Measures update (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S.

Adjournment, motions thereon

Bermuda Day, honouring our heritage, 839

Homeownership, young people encouraged to work hard, save, sacrifice, 1096–1097

Bermuda Housing Trust Audited Financial Statements 2024, 281

and current challenges, 282–283

Bermuda Land Management Corporation update 2025, 841–842

Budget

Debate on the Budget Statement and Reply, 364–369

City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 827–829

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 317–318, 741–742, 852

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1072–1074

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Housing and Municipalities

Head 53-Bermuda Housing Corporation, 898–903, 913–920, 921–922

Head 90-Ministry Headquarters, 894–898, 913

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 1013–1014

Dill, Rev. Dr. Emilygail A.

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 320–321, 458, 851–852, 1058

Premier's Question Period

Banking and mortgage transfers, 294–295

Domestic international business community, Government's steadfast commitment to development of (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Double Murder in Bermuda (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Duty relief increase (See Premier's Question Period)

E

Enterprise Bermuda Incubator Programme, Empowering Entrepreneurs Through (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Committee of Supply

Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation

Head 09-Cabinet Office

Burt, Hon. E. David, 927–936, 963–966

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 953–954

King, Mr. Robert, 945–953

Head 13-Bermuda Post Office

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 958

King, Mr. Robert, 957–958

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 936–937, 966–967

Head 18-Department of Libraries and Archives

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 960–961

King, Mr. Robert, 958–960

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 937–938, 967

Head 32-Department of Planning

King, Mr. Robert, 961

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 938–940

Head 43-Department of Information and Digital Technologies

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 954–956

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 961–963

King, Mr. Robert, 962

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 940–943, 966

Head 80-Office of Project Management and Procurement

King, Mr. Robert, 963

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 943–945, 967

Ministry of Economy and Labour

Head 14-Department of Statistics

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 691–693, 694

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 665–668, 693–694

Head 27-Immigration

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 694

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 668–671, 694–695

Head 29-Registry General

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 671–673

Head 44-Ministry Headquarters

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 687–688, 691

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 664–665, 689–691

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26 (continued)

Committee of Supply (continued)

Ministry of Economy and Labour (continued)

Head 60-Workforce Development

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 695

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 673–677, 695

Head 94-Economic Development Department

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 695

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 677–684

Head 99-Labour

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 684–686

Ministry of Education

Head 16-Ministry Headquarters

King, Mr. Robert, 579–580

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 547–551, 575

Smith, Mr. Ben, 564–566, 584–585

Head 17-Department of Education

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 581–582

King, Mr. Robert, 581, 585

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 551–563, 576–579, 582–584, 586–587

Smith, Mr. Ben, 566–574, 580–581, 582, 585–586

Head 41-Bermuda College

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 563–564, 579

Smith, Mr. Ben, 574–575

Ministry of Finance

Head 10-Ministry Headquarters

Burt, Hon. E. David, 588–602, 628–630

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 618–621

Head 11-Accountant General

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 622–623

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 602–604

Head 12-Bermuda Customs

Burt, Hon. E. David, 630–631

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 623

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 605–606

Head 28-Department of Social Insurance

Burt, Hon. E. David, 606–609, 630

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 623–624

Head 38-Office of the Tax Commissioner

Burt, Hon. E. David, 631–632, 633

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 624–626, 633

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 609–611

Head 39-Registrar of Companies Department

Burt, Hon. E. David, 611–616, 628, 632

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 626–628

Head 58-Interest on Debt and Guarantee Management

Burt, Hon. E. David, 616–617, 628

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 618

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26 (continued)

Committee of Supply (continued)

Ministry of Health

Head 21-Ministry Headquarters

Wilson, Hon. Kim N., 696–707

Head 22-Department of Health

Wilson, Hon. Kim N., 707–725

Head 24-Hospitals

Tucker, Ms. Robin, 730–732, 733

Wilson, Hon. Kim N., 725–728, 732–734

Head 91-Health Insurance

Wilson, Hon. Kim N., 728–730

Ministry of Home Affairs

Head 89-Department of Energy

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 446

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 443–446, 447, 450

Lightbourne, Hon. Alexa, 430–435, 448–449, 450–451

Head 93-Ministry of Home Affairs Headquarters

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 438–441, 442–443

Lightbourne, Hon. Alexa, 424–429, 441–442

Head 97-Land Title and Registration Department

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 447–448

Lightbourne, Hon. Alexa, 435–438, 449–450

Ministry of Housing and Municipalities

Head 53-Bermuda Housing Corporation

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 913

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 898–903, 913–920, 921–922

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 903–912, 920–921

Head 90-Ministry Headquarters

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 894–898, 913

Ming, Mrs. Renee, 912

Ministry of Justice

Head 03-Judicial Department

Lister, Mr. Dennis III, 385–390, 416–417

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 414–416, 417, 423

Head 04-Attorney General's Chambers

Lister, Mr. Dennis III, 390–393, 418, 420

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 417–418, 419

Smith, Ms. Linda, 418

Head 25-Department of Corrections

Lister, Mr. Dennis III, 402–408

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 422–423

Head 74-Department of Court Services

King, Mr. Robert, 420

Lister, Mr. Dennis III, 394–399, 420–421, 423

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 419

Head 75-Department of Public Prosecutions

Lister, Mr. Dennis III, 399–402, 422

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 421

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26 (continued)

Committee of Supply (continued)

Ministry of Justice (continued)

Head 87-Ministry of Justice Headquarters

Lister, Mr. Dennis III, 377–385, 413, 423

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 408–412, 413

Ministry of National Security

Head 06-Department of Defence

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 889

Weeks, Hon. Michael A., 861–867, 891

Head 07-Bermuda Police Service

King, Mr. Robert, 887–888

Pearman, Mr. Scott, 890

Weeks, Hon. Michael A., 867–872, 890

Head 12-Customs Department

King, Mr. Robert, 888

Weeks, Hon. Michael A., 872–877, 891

Head 83-Ministry Headquarters

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 893–894

King, Mr. Robert, 885

Smith, Ms. Linda, 889

Weeks, Hon. Michael A., 854–861, 890, 892–893, 894

Head 88-National Drug Control

King, Mr. Robert, 886–887, 889

Weeks, Hon. Michael A., 877–885

Ministry of Public Works and Environment

Head 36-Ministry Headquarters

Adams, Mr. Jache, 460–467

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 492–498

Head 68-Department of Parks

Adams, Mr. Jache, 467–472

Head 79-Department of Environment and Natural Resources

Adams, Mr. Jache, 472–483

Head 81-Department of Public Lands and Buildings

Adams, Mr. Jache, 483–488

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 498–499, 500

Head 82-Department of Works and Engineering

Adams, Mr. Jache, 488–492

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 499

Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport

Head 20-Department of Sport and Recreation

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 803

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 784–788, 806–819

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 806

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 803–805

Smith, Mr. Ben, 794–803, 805

Head 30-Marine and Ports

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 505–507, 536–538

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 522–523, 524

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 521–522

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26 (continued)

Committee of Supply (continued)

Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport (continued)

Head 34-Transport Control Department

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 507–509, 530–536

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 515–518

Head 35-Department of Public Transportation

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 509–512

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 523–524

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 518–521

Smith, Mr. Ben, 525

Head 48-Former Ministry of Transport Headquarters

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 504–505

Head 52-Department of Culture

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 788–794, 806

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 803–805

Head 71-Ministry Headquarters

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 501–504, 526–530

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 522

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 512–515, 525–526

Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors

Head 23-Department of Child and Family Services

Furbert, Hon. Tinee, 760–775, 783

King, Mr. Robert, 782

Smith, Ms. Linda, 781–782

Head 55-Department of Financial Assistance

Furbert, Hon. Tinee, 775–780

Smith, Ms. Linda, 782

Head 86-Ministry Headquarters

Furbert, Hon. Tinee, 745–759, 782–783

Smith, Ms. Linda, 780–781

Non-Ministry Heads

Head 02-Legislature

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 968–972, 1003–1004, 1008

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 992–996

Head 05-Office of the Auditor General

Burt, Hon. E. David, 972–976, 1004–1006

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 996–998

Head 56-Human Rights Commission

Furbert, Hon. Tinee, 976–980, 1002–1003, 1007

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 1000–1002

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 998–1000

Head 63-Parliamentary Registrar

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 982–984, 1006

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 1006–1007

Head 85-Office of the Ombudsman

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 984–985

Head 92-Department of Internal Audit

Burt, Hon. E. David, 981–982

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26 (continued)

Committee of Supply (continued)

Non-Ministry Heads (continued)

Head 98-Information Commissioner's Office

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 985–989

Head 101-Privacy Commissioner

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 989–992

Report, 451, 538, 633, 734, 819, 922, 1009

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26, Motion that they be accepted (See Motions)

Explosive Substances Amendment Act 2025 (See Bills)

F

Fahy, Hon. Michael

Adjournment, motions thereon

Civil servants, sentiments of thanks to, 1095

City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 823–827

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 544, 1058

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1063–1064

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Home Affairs

Head 89-Department of Energy, 443–446, 447, 450

Head 93-Ministry of Home Affairs Headquarters, 438–441, 442–443

Head 97-Land Title and Registration Department, 447–448

Ministry of Housing and Municipalities

Head 53-Bermuda Housing Corporation, 903–912, 920–921

Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport

Head 30-Marine and Ports, 522–523, 524

Head 35-Department of Public Transportation, 523–524

Question Period

Bermuda Housing Corporation, properties owned or under control of, 301 (answered in writing)

Bermuda Housing Trust Audited Financial Statements and current challenges, 303–304

Bermuda Land Development Company/Bermuda Land Management Corporation, properties owned or under control of, 301 (answered in writing)

Bermuda Land Management Corporation update 2025, 846, 847

Caribbean Renewable Energy Forum 2025: Bermuda's participation, 314–315

West End Development Corporation/Bermuda Land Management Corporation, properties owned or under control of, 301 (answered in writing)

Famous, Mr. Christopher

Adjournment, motions thereon

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speech, 371

Housing, affordable housing crisis in Bermuda, 371–372

Leadership, true leadership means telling people what they need to hear versus what they want to hear, 1035–1037

Population size, 651–652

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 371, 662

Financial Action Task Force Assessment, preparation for (See Premier's Question Period)

Foggo, Ms. Lovitta F.

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 316, 745

Foster Care Month - May (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Furbert, Hon. Tinee

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 321, 459, 544, 661, 743

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors

Head 23-Department of Child and Family Services, 760–775, 783

Head 55-Department of Financial Assistance, 775–780

Head 86-Ministry Headquarters, 745–759, 782–783

Non-Ministry Heads

Head 56-Human Rights Commission, 976–980, 1002–1003, 1007

Foster Care Month - May, 286–287

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 1022–1023

Out of School Programme, Adventure Daze! 2025, 542–543

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L.

Budget

Debate on the Budget Statement and Reply, 336–350

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 316

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1061–1062, 1077–1078

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Finance

Head 11-Accountant General, 602–604

Head 12-Bermuda Customs, 605–606

Head 38-Office of the Tax Commissioner, 609–611

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 739, 1011, 1028

Land Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1080–1081, 1082–1083

Ministers and Members of the Legislature Pension Fund 2020 Actuarial Reviews, 281, 284

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1084–1085, 1088

Public Service Superannuation Fund 2020 Actuarial Reviews, 281, 283–284

G

Government

cash flows estimated 2025 (See Question Period)

Civil servants, sentiments of thanks to (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a

Parliamentary Joint Select Committee (See Motions)

employees, pay schedule for back pay and pay rises (See Question Period)

Fees Amendment Regulations 2025 (See Papers and Other Communications to House; Regulations)

PLP Government, continuing to fight to build a fairer Bermuda for all (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Public Service Superannuation Fund Actuarial Valuation 31 March 2020 (See Papers and Other Communications to House)

Grotto Bay Resort and Spa

Tourism Investment (Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025 (See Orders)

H

Hayward, Hon. Jason

Adjournment, motions thereon

Domestic international business community, Government's steadfast commitment to development of, 1090–1091

City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 821–823

Hayward, Hon. Jason (continued)

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 317

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1068–1070

Department of Labour Act 2025, 284–285, 735, 736/737

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Economy and Labour

Head 14-Department of Statistics, 665–668, 693–694

Head 27-Immigration, 668–671, 694–695

Head 29-Registry General, 671–673

Head 44-Ministry Headquarters, 664–665, 689–691

Head 60-Workforce Development, 673–677, 695

Head 94-Economic Development Department, 677–684

Head 99-Labour, 684–686

Non-Ministry Heads

Head 56-Human Rights Commission, 1000–1002

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26, That they be accepted, 323

Incubator Programme, Empowering Entrepreneurs through, 845–846

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1086–1087

Registry General Annual Report 2023, 285–286

Births, Marriages, Domestic Partnerships and Deaths, 282

Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025, 1044–1045

Youth Employment Strategy Progress, 1043–1044

Hillcrest Boutique Hotel

Tourism Investment (Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025 (See Orders)

Homeownership, young people encouraged to work hard, save and sacrifice for (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Housing

Affordable housing crisis in Bermuda (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Banking and mortgage transfers (See Premier's Question Period)

Bermuda Housing Corporation, properties owned or under control of (See Question Period)

Bermuda Housing Trust Audited Financial Statements 2024 (See Papers and Other Communications to House) and current challenges (See Question Period)

Homeownership, young people encouraged to work hard, save and sacrifice for (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Ministry of Public Works and Environment, properties owned or under the control of Government of Bermuda

Mortgage guarantee programme update (See Premier's Question Period)

Population size (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

West End Development Corporation/Bermuda Land Management Corporation, properties owned or under control of (See Question Period)

Hurricane Preparedness (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

I

Immigration

Population size (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Information Technology Development Apprenticeship Programme (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Insurance Amendment Act 2025 (See Bills)

International Women's Leadership Conference in Dubai, total cost of travel (See Question Period)

K

King, Mr. Robert

Adjournment, motions thereon

Bermudians, doing more for in a meaningful way, 655–658

Youth opportunities in Bermuda, need for holistic approach to create, 1092–1095

City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 820–821

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 661, 925, 1060

Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a

Parliamentary Joint Select Committee, 1031

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation

Head 09-Cabinet Office, 945–953

Head 13-Bermuda Post Office, 957–958

Head 18-Department of Libraries and Archives, 958–960

Head 32-Department of Planning, 961

Head 43-Department of Information and Digital Technologies, 962

Head 80-Office of Project Management and Procurement, 963

Ministry of Education

Head 16-Ministry Headquarters, 579–580

Head 17-Department of Education, 581, 585

Ministry of Justice

Head 74-Department of Court Services, 420

Ministry of National Security

Head 07-Bermuda Police Service, 887–888

Head 12-Customs Department, 888

Head 83-Ministry Headquarters, 885

Head 88-National Drug Control, 886–887, 889

Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors

Head 23-Department of Child and Family Services, 782

Explosive Substances Amendment Act 2025, 634–635

Question Period

Department of Planning Streamlining Measures update, 1052, 1053

Registry General 2023 Annual Report, 311–312

Stand Up, Speak Up, Save Lives, 455–457

L

Land Tax Amendment Act 2025 (See Bills)

Leadership, true leadership means telling people what they need to hear versus what they want to hear (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Lightbourne, Hon. Alexa

Bulk Generation Sole Use Installation (BGSUI) Licence, update, 290

Caribbean Renewable Energy Forum 2025: Bermuda's participation, 289

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 1056

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Home Affairs

Head 89-Department of Energy, 430–435, 448–449, 450–451

Head 93-Ministry of Home Affairs Headquarters, 424–429, 441–442

Head 97-Land Title and Registration Department, 435–438, 449–450

Lister, Mr. Dennis III

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 321–322, 376, 742–743

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Justice

Head 03-Judicial Department, 385–390, 416–417

Head 04-Attorney General's Chambers, 390–393, 418, 420

Head 25-Department of Corrections, 402–408

Head 74-Department of Court Services, 394–399, 420–421, 423

Head 75-Department of Public Prosecutions, 399–402, 422

Head 87-Ministry of Justice Headquarters, 377–385, 413, 423

M

Message to Senate

Appropriation Act 2025, 1011

Ming, Mrs. Renee

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 375, 926

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Housing and Municipalities

Head 90-Ministry Headquarters, 912

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1085

Ministers and Members of the Legislature Pension Fund 2020 Actuarial Reviews (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Ministry of Public Works and Environment, properties owned or under the control of Government of Bermuda (See Question Period)

Mortgages (See also Housing)

Banking and mortgage transfers (See Premier's Question Period)

Mortgage guarantee programme update (See Premier's Question Period)

Motions

City of Hamilton Plan 2025

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 829–830

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 827–829

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 823–827

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 821–823

King, Mr. Robert, 820–821

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 451 (Notice), 819–820, 833–835

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 830–833

Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a Parliamentary Joint Select Committee

Burt, Hon. E. David, 1031–1033

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 1030–1031

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1029–1030

King, Mr. Robert, 1031

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 1028–1029

Scott, Mr. W. Lawrence, 1028, 1033–1034

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26, Motion that they be accepted

Burt, Hon. E. David, 323

Hayward, Hon. Jason, 323

MPs absent from Chamber (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

N

National Economic Report of Bermuda 2024 (See Papers and Other Communications to House)

O

Orders

Tourism Investment (Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025

Burt, Hon. E. David, 649

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 649

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 645, 650

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 645–646

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 646–648

Tourism Investment (Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025

Burt, Hon. E. David, 642–643

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 641

Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 641–642

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 637–638, 643–644

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 638

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 638–640

Out of School Programme, Adventure Daze! 2025 (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

P

Papers and Other Communications to House

Bermuda Housing Trust Audited Financial Statements 2024, 281

Bermuda Monetary Authority Annual Report 2024, 1039

City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 373

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 739 (See also Regulations)

Ministers and Members of the Legislature Pension Fund Actuarial Valuation 31 March 2020, for funding purposes, 281

National Economic Report of Bermuda 2024, 259

Public Service Superannuation Fund Actuarial Valuation 31 March 2020, 281

Registry General Annual Report 2023, Births, Marriages, Domestic Partnerships and Deaths, 282

Tourism Investment

(Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025, 259 (See also Orders)

(Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025, 259 (See also Orders)

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025 (See Bills)

Pearman, Mr. Scott

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 545, 1059

Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1070–1072

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Justice

Head 03-Judicial Department, 414–416, 417, 423

Head 04-Attorney General's Chambers, 417–418, 419

Head 25-Department of Corrections, 422–423

Head 74-Department of Court Services, 419

Head 75-Department of Public Prosecutions, 421

Head 87-Ministry of Justice Headquarters, 408–412, 413

Pearman, Mr. Scott (continued)

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26 (continued)

Ministry of National Security

Head 07-Bermuda Police Service, 890

Explosive Substances Amendment Act 2025, 635

Question Period

Department of Planning Streamlining Measures update, 1054, 1055

Registry General 2023 Annual Report, 308–310

Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025, 1051

PLP Government, continuing to fight to build a fairer Bermuda for all (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Population size (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Premier's Question Period (See also Question Period)

Banking and mortgage transfers

Dill, Rev. Dr. Emilygail A., 294–295

Corporate Income Tax legislation

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 295–296

Duty relief increase

Smith, Mr. Ben, 297–298

Financial Action Task Force Assessment, preparation for

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 293–294

Mortgage guarantee programme update

Wilmot, Mr. Paul, 296–297

Road maintenance delays

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 291–292

Violent crimes, action plans to halt increase of

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 292

Public Service Superannuation Fund 2020 Actuarial Reviews (See Papers and Other Communications to House; Question Period; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

QQuestion Period (See also Premier's Question Period)

Bermuda Hospitals Board, Government financing terms

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1047

Bermuda Housing Corporation, properties owned or under control of Fahy, Hon. Michael, 301 (answered in writing)

Bermuda Housing Trust audited financial statements and current challenges

Campbell, Mr. Vance, 305

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 303–304

Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 304–305

Bermuda Land Development Company/Bermuda Land Management Corporation, properties owned or under control of

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 301 (answered in writing)

Bermuda Land Management Corporation update 2025

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 846, 847

Bermuda Monetary Authority Annual Report 2024

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1050

Caribbean Renewable Energy Forum 2025: Bermuda's participation

Fahy, Hon. Michael, 314–315

Question Period (continued)

- Corporate Income Tax Agency, current and planned staff
DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 298–299
- Corporate Income Tax, criteria and methodologies
DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1049
- Corporate Income Tax, top payers
DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1048
- Department of Labour Act 2025
Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 306–307
- Department of Planning Streamlining Measures update
Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 1055
King, Mr. Robert, 1052, 1053
Pearman, Mr. Scott, 1054, 1055
- Enterprise Bermuda Incubator Programme, Empowering Entrepreneurs Through
Campbell, Mr. Vance, 848, 849
- Government employees, pay schedule for back pay and pay rises
DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 299–300
- Government estimated cash flows 2025
DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 301
- Hurricane Preparedness
Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 1050
- International Women's Leadership Conference in Dubai, total cost of travel
Smith, Ms. Linda, 302
- Ministry of Public Works and Environment, properties owned or under the control of Government of Bermuda
Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 302 (answered in writing)
- Public Service Superannuation Fund 2020 Actuarial Reviews
Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 305–306
- Registry General Annual Report 2023
King, Mr. Robert, 311–312
Pearman, Mr. Scott, 308–310
Richardson, Hon. Jarion, 307–308
- Road Safety, Infrastructure and Community Improvements: Paving the way forward
Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 312–313
- ShoreLink: Real-time Information, launch of phase 2
Cannonier, Mr. L. Craig, 847, 848
- Stand Up, Speak Up, Save Lives
King, Mr. Robert, 455–457
- Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025
Pearman, Mr. Scott, 1051
- West End Development Corporation/Bermuda Land Management Corporation, properties owned or under control of Fahy, Hon. Michael, 301 (answered in writing)
- Youth Employment Strategy Progress
Campbell, Mr. Vance, 1051

R

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V.S.

City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 373–374, 819–820, 833–835
Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 458, 543–544, 659–660
Department of Planning Streamlining Measures update, 1045–1047
Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26
Cabinet Office and Digital Innovation
Head 13-Bermuda Post Office, 936–937, 966–967
Head 18-Department of Libraries and Archives, 937–938, 967
Head 32-Department of Planning, 938–940
Head 43-Department of Information and Digital Technologies, 940–943, 966
Head 80-Office of Project Management and Procurement, 943–945, 967
Ministry of Education
Head 16-Ministry Headquarters, 547–551, 575
Head 17-Department of Education, 551–563, 576–579, 582–584, 586–587
Head 41-Bermuda College, 563–564, 579
Non-Ministry Heads
Head 02-Legislature, 968–972, 1003–1004, 1008
Head 63-Parliamentary Registrar, 982–984, 1006
Head 85-Office of the Ombudsman, 984–985
Head 98-Information Commissioner's Office, 985–989
Head 101-Privacy Commissioner, 989–992

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 1014–1015

Information Technology Development Apprenticeship Programme, 541–542

Land Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1081–1082

Payroll Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1086

Registry General Annual Report 2023 (See Question Period; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Births, Marriages, Domestic Partnerships and Deaths (See Papers and Other Communications to House)

Regulations

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025

Burt, Hon. E. David, 1023–1028

Darrell, Hon. Owen, 1015–1019

DeCouto, Dr. Douglas, 1011–1013

DeSilva, Hon. Zane J. S., 1013–1014

Furbert, Hon. Tinee, 1022–1023

Furbert, Hon. Wayne L., 1011, 1028

Rabain, Hon. Diallo V. S., 1014–1015

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne, 1021–1022

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E., 1019–1020

Richardson, Hon. Jarion

Budget

Debate on the Budget Statement and Reply, 350–356

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 316

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Non-Ministry Heads

Head 02-Legislature, 992–996

Head 05-Office of the Auditor General, 996–998

Head 56-Human Rights Commission, 998–1000

Head 63-Parliamentary Registrar, 1006–1007

Richardson, Hon. Jarion (continued)

Premier's Question Period

Financial Action Task Force Assessment, preparation for, 293–294

Road maintenance delays, 291–292

Violent crimes, action plans to halt increase of, 292

Question Period

Bermuda Housing Trust audited financial statements and current challenges, 304–305

Department of Labour Act 2025, 306–307

Public Service Superannuation Fund 2020 Actuarial Reviews, 305–306

Registry General Annual Report 2023, 307–308

Road maintenance delays (See Premier's Question Period)

Road Safety, Infrastructure and Community Improvements: Paving the way forward (See Question Period; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Robinson, Mr. Dwayne

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 320, 744–745

Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a Parliamentary Joint Select Committee, 1028–1029

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport

Head 20-Department of Sport and Recreation, 803–805

Head 34-Transport Control Department, 515–518

Head 35-Department of Public Transportation, 518–521

Head 52-Department of Culture, 803–805

Head 71-Ministry Headquarters, 512–515, 525–526

Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 1021–1022

Land Tax Amendment Act 2025, 1082

Tourism Investment

(Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025, 645–646

(Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025, 638

SScott, Mr. W. Lawrence

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 744

Cyberattack on Government IT Systems in September 2023, Establishment of a Parliamentary Joint Select Committee, 1028, 1033–1034

ShoreLink: Real-time Information, launch of phase 2 (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Simmons, Mr. Jamahl S.

Adjournment, motions thereon

Bermuda Day, 739–740

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speech, 370–371

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 370–371, 660, 850

Simmons, Mr. Scott

Adjournment, motions thereon

MPs absent from Chamber, 1100–1102

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 318–319, 743–744

Smith, Mr. Ben

Adjournment, motions thereon

Bermuda Day Honouring our heritage, 838

Smith, Mr. Ben (continued)

Budget

Debate on the Budget Statement and Reply, 356–363

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 1057

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Education

Head 16-Ministry Headquarters, 564–566, 584–585

Head 17-Department of Education, 566–574, 580–581, 582, 585–586

Head 41-Bermuda College, 574–575

Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport

Head 20-Department of Sport and Recreation, 794–803, 805

Head 35-Department of Public Transportation, 525

Premier's Question Period

Duty relief increase, 297–298

Smith, Ms. Linda

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 744

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Justice

Head 04-Attorney General's Chambers, 418

Ministry of National Security

Head 83-Ministry Headquarters, 889

Ministry of Youth, Social Development and Seniors

Head 23-Department of Child and Family Services, 781–782

Head 55-Department of Financial Assistance, 782

Head 86-Ministry Headquarters, 780–781

Question Period

International Women's Leadership Conference in Dubai, total cost of travel, 302

Speaker of the House of Assembly

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches The, 322–323, 1060

Stand Up, Speak Up, Save Lives (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers

Bermuda Day 2025: The Future is Now, 1042–1043

Bermuda Housing Trust Audited Financial Statements and current challenges, 282–283
(See also Question Period)

Bermuda Land Management Corporation update 2025, 841–842 (See also Question Period)

Bermuda Monetary Authority Annual Report 2024, 1039–1041 (See also Question Period)

Bulk Generation Sole Use Installation (BGSUI) Licence, update, 290

Camp Connect Season 2: Summer Day Camp Registration, 290–291

Caribbean Renewable Energy Forum 2025: Bermuda's participation, 289 (See also Question Period)

City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 373–374

Condolences to Hon. Speaker (on loss of his wife), 260

Department of Labour Act 2025, 284–285 (See also Question Period)

Department of Planning Streamlining Measures update, 1045–1047 (See also Question Period)

Double Murder in Bermuda, 260

Enterprise Bermuda Incubator Programme, Empowering Entrepreneurs Through, 845–846
(See also Question Period)

Foster Care Month - May, 286–287

Hurricane Preparedness, 1041–1042 (See also Question Period)

Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers (continued)

Information Technology Development Apprenticeship Programme, 541–542
Ministers and Members of the Legislature Pension Fund 2020 Actuarial Reviews, 284
Out of School Programme, Adventure Daze! 2025, 542–543
Public Service Superannuation Fund 2020 Actuarial Reviews, 283–284 (See also Question Period)
Registry General Annual Report 2023, 285–286 (See also Question Period)
Road Safety, Infrastructure and Community Improvements: Paving the way forward, 287–289 (See also Question Period)
ShoreLink: Real-time Information, launch of phase 2, 843 (See also Question Period)
Stand Up, Speak Up, Save Lives, 453–455 (See also Question Period)
Tourism Investment, 843–845
Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025, 1044–1045 (See also Question Period)
Youth Employment Strategy Progress, 1043–1044 (See also Question Period)

Swan, Mr. Hubert (Kim) E.

Adjournment, motions thereon
MPs absent from Chamber, 1097–1100
Tourism opportunities for Bermuda, 652–655
Volunteerism, spirit of, 922–924
City of Hamilton Plan 2025, 830–833
Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 319, 374–375, 545, 661–662, 850–851, 1058
Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26
Ministry of Tourism and Transport, Culture and Sport
Head 30-Marine and Ports, 521–522
Government Fees Amendment Regulations 2025, 1019–1020
Tourism Investment
(Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025, 646–648
(Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025, 638–640

T

Tourism Investment (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)
(Grotto Bay Resort and Spa) Order 2025 (See Orders; Papers and Other Communications to House)
(Hillcrest Boutique Hotel) Order 2025 (See Orders; Papers and Other Communications to House)
Tourism opportunities for Bermuda (See Adjournment, motions thereon)
Trade Marks Amendment Act 2025 (See Bills; Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Tucker, Ms. Robin

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 319–320, 744, 851
Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26
Ministry of Health
Head 24-Hospitals, 730–732, 733

Tyrrell, Mr. Neville S.

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 318, 458, 662, 742, 851, 926, 1056
Custom Tariff Amendment Act 2025, 1064

V

Violence

Double Murder in Bermuda (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)
Stand Up, Speak Up, Save Lives (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Violent crimes, action plans to halt increase of (See Premier's Question Period)
Volunteerism, spirit of (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

W

Weeks, Hon. Michael A.

Adjournment, motions thereon

Bermuda Day Shared responsibility for public safety, 835–836

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 850, 1056–1057

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of National Security

Head 06-Department of Defence, 861–867, 891

Head 07-Bermuda Police Service, 867–872, 890

Head 12-Customs Department, 872–877, 891

Head 83-Ministry Headquarters, 854–861, 890, 892–893, 894

Head 88-National Drug Control, 877–885

Explosive Substances Amendment Act 2025, 634, 636

Hurricane Preparedness, 1041–1042

Stand Up, Speak Up, Save Lives, 453–455

West End Development Corporation/Bermuda Land Management Corporation, properties owned or under control of (See Question Period)

Wilmot, Mr. Paul

Congratulatory and/or Obituary Speeches, 662

Premier's Question Period

Mortgage guarantee programme update, 296–297

Wilson, Hon. Kim N.

Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure 2025/26

Ministry of Health

Head 21-Ministry Headquarters, 696–707

Head 22-Department of Health, 707–725

Head 24-Hospitals, 725–728, 732–734

Head 91-Health Insurance, 728–730

Y

Youth Employment Strategy Progress (See Statements by Ministers and Junior Ministers)

Youth opportunities in Bermuda, need for holistic approach to create (See Adjournment, motions thereon)

Dates of Sittings 4–13:

Pages in Hansard:

2 May 2025	259–280
9 May 2025	281–372
12 May 2025	373–452
14 May 2025	453–540
16 May 2025	541–658
19 May 2025	659–740
21 May 2025	741–840
26 May 2025	841–924
28 May 2025	925–1038
30 May 2025	1039–1106